Members of the Financial Board, namely John Gibson, Ruffer Johnson, Mrs. M. Lawson, Mrs. Mary Luke, entered the drive at the Sunday morning service, with Rev. Mattie Murphy as the speaker. It was a high spiritual service and a succes. This drive is for the purpose of establishing a church, namely, the Temple of Holy Light, with a recreation center for the public. This church is located at 2626 South San Pedro street. All churches and well-wishers are asked to help in this drive. We thank you in advance for your contributions. The Trustee Board and Pastor's Aid Board wish to thank the churches and friends for their cooperation in making our Aster Tea a success on Sunday, October 29, at the home of Mrs. M. Lawson, 1155 East 24th street.

Sunday, November 5, at 8 p. m., the Silver Tone Gospel Singers are asking the public to worship with them at the Temple of Holy Light, 2626 South San Pedro street. The building fund is for $4700. Rev. Charles Burke; pastor.

IN MEMORIAM

Alex S. LaVigne

In loving memory of my dear husband, Alex S. La Vigne, who departed this life Nov. 5, 1941.

The golden sun is shining upon my husband's grave
The one I loved so dearly and tried so hard to save.
'Neath my eyes he faded slowly,
Growing day by day more frail;
Bearing sweetly all his suffering,
Without a murmur or a wail.
I have lost a life companion—
A life lengthened with my own,
And every day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone.

Sadly missed by wife

Second Baptist Plans Unusual Day

Members and friends of Second Baptist Church are planning to throng that great church on Sunday morning. In order to prevent the services of worship from being too lengthy, the regular order will not be followed. The services will open with a selection by the choir, "Wade in the Water." That will be followed by prayer and baptising. There are five candidates to be baptised. One is Miss Vaino Hassan, realtor. Baptism will be at 11 a. m. and the doors will remain closed during that period.

A highlight in the program will be the presentation of a Steinway grand piano to the church, costing $1900, by the Usher Board, Mr. Lloyd Johnson, president.

Music will be furnished by the choir under Mrs. Anna Morrow and the Booster Quartette under Mrs. Geneva Moore. Mrs. Nash will preside at the organ.

The Rev. Dr. Henderson will deliver a brief sermon on "An Invitation to Try God," and pledges will be received from the membership for tithing.

At the conclusion of the worship service, beautiful Harriette Patterson will be joined in holy wedlock to Lawrence Johnson by the minister.

We shall be happy to see you Sunday, but do come before 11 a. m.

New Light Missionary Baptist Church

At New Light Missionary Baptist Church, 624 E. 22nd St., Rev. N. M. Small, pastor, a high time was had by all Sunday, Oct. 22. Sunday School was at 10 a.m. The morning service was at the usual hour with the pastor bringing the message which was highly enjoyed.

The Lord blessed us to raise $825.00 in morning service fo rthe purchase of our church building. The evening service will be at 7 p.m. Members and friends are urged to attend the Bible class held every Thursday night.

Vote YES on 3

MAKE THE LAW UNIFORM

Vote YES on PROPOSITION No. 3. The people's representatives should have the right to fix the salaries of all public officials. They already have that right with reference to most officials so why not make the law uniform? Salaries should not be frozen in the State Constitution and remain unchangeable. Both the State Senate and Assembly have recommended this proposition to the voters. They should assume their responsibility in the matter by voting YES on PROPOSITION No. 3.

DON'T BLAME GOD!
Are personal or family problems worrying you? Are you in debt? Do you need money? If these problems, or any like them, are worrying you, then here is glorious news of help for you!
This astounding message will be on its way to you just as soon as we hear from you. Just your name and address to NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP, Box D-1429, Hollywood, California. Be sure to print or write plainly.

PRECIOUS—THO' UNLIMITED

The chief beauty about the constant supply of that element called Time, is that you cannot waste it in advance. The next year, month, week, day or hour, are lying ready for you as perfect and unspoiled as if you had never wasted or misapplied a single moment in all your career.

This fact is very gratifying and reassuring. One can turn over a new leaf every hour if they choose. Therefore no object is served in waiting till next year, or even until tomorrow in taking advantage of present day opportunities.

Dear Prof. Herman: I am so worried about various things in my home, until I just feel that there is no use trying to establish peace and happiness. Everything I do only seems to make things worse, can you help us? You are always helping others to solve their problems that is why I am coming to you.

Ans. There are many undercurrents in your home that are causing the misunderstanding and heartaches. I feel that I may be able to help you, and suggest you write in for a private reply at your earliest convenience.

C. S. Will I get my three wishes and be happy?

Ans. After giving your question careful thought, I find that your luck is going to change for the better and you will be more successful in your endeavors. Perhaps your wishes will also come true in due time, continue to have faith in your ability to succeed.

D. F. I am very unhappy, would you please tell me what is wrong?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Giulding Planet indicates a change, for your friends are the cause of your unhappiness. They are not sympathic nor interested in your welfare, only in what they can use you for. When you find these kind of people, you must drop them, and try to find others that are more sincere.

B. E. F. Was the fire an accident?

Ans. It appears to me that the fire was an accident. But the house was an old one and that is why it burnt down, your sister should be able to collect damages and insurance.

A. L. H. Dear Sir: I am writing you this letter to tell you that you have made a new man out of me. I'm really proud of your works. I used the oil and many other fine products you recommended, and they have brought me everything I longed for. Thanks again for your help.

B. H. I have a divorced girl rooming at my house. Do you think I did the right thing to take her in?

Ans. The fact that the girl is divorced has nothing to do with her character, and should have no bearing on her living at your home. If she conducts herself as a lady should and is a respectful person, complying with the rules governing your home... her personal affairs should have no bearing what-so-ever on her rooming at your home.

A. M. C. What should I do?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question, I find that your age is causing you great worry. But you should not become upset, because you are 82 years old and not married. The war is causing many young ladies to wait and a lot of them will be much older than they intended to be when they marry.

E. M. What made him say the things he said when he left for camp?

Ans. It seems to me that you are too young to be taking this young man seriously. And because he realized this, he told you he might not write to you when he returned to camp. He only thinks of you as a friend, and you should feel the same about him, wait until you are at least 18 years old to become serious over any young mn, and you will not regret it.

first result. Where most of Europe and Asia went down to defeat because unity was made impossible by the old class hatred, by the old-red baiting at home and the old Communist-baiting against Russia—now victory will come to us through unity in the world and unity at home for the war and post-war reconstruction.

We, the Communists, subscribe to no political party, but regard this election as a part of our nation's mobilization of its whole strength to win the war in Europe and Asia. There is no doubt in our minds that the whole course of the United States, its cooperation with its friends in the world, its prosperity peace and welfare, as against isolation and economic stagnation, is being settled in this election. It is the struggle over the question of whether or not the full victory won by military arms without negotiating a compromise with Nazism, is to become the sacred trust of the nation, for the happiness and security of the people.

Against the President's and nation's policy of uniting the American people at home and our country with its allies abroad, the isolationists have raised the banner of disunity, labor-baiting—partisanship and division in the midst of war.

This election is not a struggle between capital and labor. The thriteen and a half million members of organized labor are supporting the President as the only course consistent with their policy of national unity and along with the majority of all the other classes of the farm and of business.

We believe that the majority of the business interests of the United States are on the side of President Roosevelt and the course that he has charted to victory and peace.

We, the Communist Political Association, do not regard this as a matter of party division. We offer no candidates, but defer to the unity of our country for the victory and a peaceful, prosperous America.

Rev. Russell At Zion Community Church Sunday

Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock Rev. Clayton Russell, pastor of the Independent Community Church, will speak at the new location of the Zion Community Church, 27th and Paloma streets.

Rev. Mansfield Collins, minister of the Neighborhood Community Church at Watts; Rev. Spears, minister of the New Era Community Church, will also participate at the union service held at the new location of the Zion Community Church.

The Zion Community Church was organized some weeks ago and Rev. Mr. Paul M. Marshall, former minister of the First A.M.E. Zion Church, Pico and Paloma, was called to head this new organization.

Rev. Russell will deliver the union message. His choirs will accompany him. Also, the congregations of the ministers stated above will join in the union communion services. Rev. Mansfield Collins will be master of ceremonies.

The Zion Community Church offers a full Christian educational program for the entire family. It was organized by a group of people desiring to render Christian service at its best, by a centralized and inclusive local effort, offer the finest privileges and the fullest possible opportunities to the whole community for the religious, the social, the educational and recreational good of all.

It is the objective of this organization to interpret the life of Christ in a broad, unselfish, Christ-like manner. A democratic religious way of life (no man down—all men up) offering its fullest and best fellowship unstintingly to all, regardless of race, or creed.

We welcome all to sit in the inspiring and momentous relationship of oneness in Christ Jesus. "God, our Father; Christ, our Redeemer; man, our brother," comprehends quite fully its creedal statements and foundation of faith, which is certainly fully evangelical.

With this in mind, we are certain to be able to offer a complete, Christian educational program.

Rev. Marshall will speak Sunday morning from the subject, "As the Rushing of a Mighty Wind." This will mark the beginning of an extended revival, which will be held each Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. and each Wednesday evening.

The church that serves and welcomes you. The Zion Community Church, 27th and Paloma Streets. Paul M. Marshall, minister.

DR. N. HOWARD
"The World Wide Messenger"

Will present the message, his subject: "The Midnight Earthquake." Truly he is a man of God and you will miss a great message if you fail to come out and hear him.

Dr. Howard has traveled far and near, all over the country, preaching the Gospel of God. He will render a gigantic affair at the Third Paptist Church, 1201 E. 41st St., Friday at 8:00 p.m.

Rev. G. E. Anderson, pastor.

36th St. P. T. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the v6th Street school P.T.A. will be held Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 2 p.m. in the school auditorium with the president, Mrs. Ernest Shelby presiding.

The theme of the meeting, as arranged by the program chairman, Mrs. Otis Rene, will be "War Activity in Our Town." The speaker will be Ben Ellison, director of the Avalon U.S.O.

Included in the program will be a demonstration by the children of Miss Wilson's A5, B6 class.

WANTED—An apartment for young married couple. Will pay $35 reward. Adams 14072.

DAY NURSERY—The Adams Boulevard Day Nursery is taking registration for children from the ages of 3 to 6 years. Richmond 8521. Bernice Smith.

Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower
Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower has been on the market for years. It is a wonderful preparation. It stops harsh and brittle hair from breaking and falling. It corrects itching scalp, ring worms, tetter and eczema, and keeps your scalp in a very healthy condition. It is not a gummy or stick grower. It leaves the hair natural and soft and the hair grows rapidly.
You can get the grower at the following places:
Dorothy's Beauty Salon, 1821 Imperial Highway, Watts.
Ethical Drug Store, 1490 West Jefferson Boulevard.
Mrs. Fannie Williams, 1749 S. New Hampshire.

A FAIR QUESTION

HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

Give This Some Thought, My Good Friends

Yes—I insure homes too, at the same rate. You can't but agree with me! Then, Call Me

LOOK AT THE RECORD

In the official bulletin of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, TWO out of a total of 96 members of the United States Senate are given a PERFECT VOTING RECORD, and one of these is Senator Sheridan Downey, of California. He is recorded as voting RIGHT on such important legislation as the Langer Amendment to the Federal Aid to Education Bill; to Sustain Barkley Amendment to House Soldier Vote Bill; to Provide Additional Sums for Subsidies; to Uphold Buck Amendment Protecting FEPC; Cloture on Anti-Poll Tax Bill; Shelving of Anti-Poll Tax Bill.

Roosevelt-Truman Leadership Strengthened By Local Victory

President Roosevelt and his running mate, Senator Harry Truman have been designated by the American people to guide the nation through the final phrases of the war and into what is hoped will be an era of unprecedented peace and prosperity. The program of Governor Dewey and the Republican party stands repudiated with returns indicating at press time that the Roosevelt ticket is leading in over thirty-five states with a total of over 400 electoral votes.

Climaxing one of the bitterest campaigns in history, with attacks against the CIO and labor in general, being the strongest ammunition used by Republican leaders, the voters turned out in record numbers to indicate clearly their confidence in the present Commander-in-Chief.

With this, his fourth victory at the polls, Franklin Delano Roosevelt becomes the first president to have been re-elected twice after having served the traditional two terms.

Throughout the nation, returns indicate that both a Democratic House and Senate will be seated to serve with the President in the crucial period ahead. The 79th Congress will convene without the presence of Hamilton Fish, New York Republican who was defeated after 24 years in the House. Clara Boothe Luce of Conneticut managed to hold her Republican house seat by a narrow margin.

In California, sweeping Democratic victories are indicated with Senator Sheridan Downey leading his opponent by a comfortable margin. In the 14th Congressional District the election of Helen Gahagan Douglas seems assured despite the closeness of the race.

I HAVE no desire to bitterly denounce anyone, but here and now I am going to make a statement that I am sure will not add to my list of friends, but, in my thinking, the time has come when I must do or die.

In order to become a truly respected segment of the American family, the Negro people must select, rather than accept their leaders. A close-up study of written, but mostly unwritten, history reveals that carpetbagging was a lucrative profession in the early history of this nation. The first carpetbaggers were northern whites. The only tools necessary for their profession were a briefcase, a long tail coat, and a good religious line.

Void of true leadership which they craved, the Negro people readily accepted a self-appointed leadership fashioned after the white carpetbaggers. After more than eighty years this early seed sown in a soil fertilized by ignorance, is still producing even unto the present generation.

However, this 1944 presidential election speaks fair for a change in the Negro's attitude towards his leadership. Once a docile hero worshipper, he is beginning to question the motives of those who seek to lead him. He knows now that his struggle for freedom has been hampered by two types of leadership, one of which sells him down the river to the highest bidder, and the other which keeps him drunk on the doctrine of a seperate everything for Negroes, These two elements have kept the body politic divided and weak.

The Negro people seemed to realize that not only the future of the nation, but of the world, depended upon the outcome of this election, and they question the sincerity of purpose of those leaders who attempted to turn them away from President Roosevelt as the Commander-in-Chief of the Army, the Navy, and the Nation.

The outcome of this election has drawn a chalk line, has shaped the future course for the American people, white and Negro alike. The course was

Negro Soldiers Guard 6,500 Nazi Supermen Prisoners of War In French Prison Camp

By JOHN S. KINLOCH
(California Eagle War Correspondent)

A PRISONER-OF-WAR CAMP IN FRANCE—Memories of the Germans' Jim-Crowized Paris still crackling in their minds, a battalion of Negro prisoner guards vigilantly watches over this immense enclosure of 6,500 caught and caged supermen.

John S. Kinloch

Swept up from the gutters of the Greater Re ich and sent swirling over Europe for 10 years, the master race today is pouring steadily into the barbed wire receptacles that Uncle Sam is stringing together for it all over France.

This one is a sprawling network of 15-foot wire fences, covering several square miles, with 25-foot guard posts towering at all intersections, like lighthouses in a sea of barbed wire.

Within this vast cage, the Germans live in groups of 500, in United States Army two-man pup tents. The roads that girdle these enclosures are a knee-deep mud soup in which vehicles snort, claw and thrash and men slowly plot their way, step by muddy step.

Soldiers of the crack Negro battalion on guard here are serious about this job. Their charges, they know, are the men who destroyed the black French Army of 1,000,000 Senegalese troops and sent murder goose-stepping over the world.

The prisoners, barring officers, must work—but strictly in accordance with articles of the Geneva Convention. They handle rations, clothing, coal, and some engineering supplies, but no material of a direct military nature.

Overseers of the prisoner labor gangs are Negro soldiers, the bulk of whom were born in the deep South. They know how to exact a full day's work.

Labor details churn out of the camp in big truck convoys 24 hours a day, though no prisoner works longer than a 12-hour shift.

The standard ratio of guards to prisoners is 1 to 10. The usual work day, for guards and prisoners alike, begins at 6:15 a. m., ends at 6:30 p. m. Night

TO SPEAK—Dr. Adam Clayton Powell, Jr., New York's first Negro Congressman and pastor of the world's largest Protestant Church, Abyssinia Baptist, will deliver the keynote address at the NAACP Youth Conference opening mass meeting on Friday night, November 17. Response will be made by Mrs. Ruby Hurley, magnetic young youth secretary. The meeting will be held at Virginia Union University at Richmond, Va.

Indict 6 Whites In Slaying of Negro Preacher

NEW YORK (WDL)—The indictments of six men by the Amite County, Mississippi, Grand Jury for the slaying of the Negro preacher, Isaac Simmons, was hailed by Morris Milgram, national secretary, Workers Defense League, whose efforts aroused local white residents in the Mississippi Interracial Council to demand justice from the county officials.

Milgram's statement followed the announcement by Amite county officials that the trial of Noble Ryder, one of the six white men charged with the brutal murder of the 65-year old preacher, began November 2nd with the selection of a jury from among the white citizens of Amite

Restrictive Covenant Hearing Continues In Superior Court

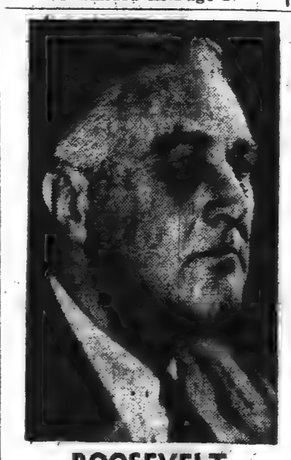
Restrictive Covenants, the opening wedge in the attempt to pry open the unity that has been welded in this community as a necessary circumstance to winning the war and establishing a lasting peace, are being aired before Judge Scott in department 10 of the Superior Court.

With Attorney Loren Miller fighting uphill against the money and prejudices of a reactionary racist property owner in the Charles Victor Hall Tract, the cases of Hester vs. Morrison, Hester vs. Thompson, and Hester vs. Barbe are being argued as the California Eagle goes to press. Hester is seeking to invoke the covenants on the tract which forbid residence therein by persons who are not of the Caucasian race.

The trial has been a drawn out affair with the case of the plaintiff scheduled to end sometime Wednesday after which Attorney Miller will begin his defense. Miller is outstanding in this field and it is expected that his arguments will beat heavily against the wall of restrictions that are threatening to force Negro residents into a crowded ghetto.

The Charles Victor Hall tract is bounded by Western, Adams, Jefferson and LaSale, and is the same property on which the Alpha Bowling Club is located. Many Negroes have purchased homes in that area, and the outcome of the present trials will seriously affect them. Property owners are joining together in attempt to protect their rights as American citizens to live wherever they please without being discriminated against because of their race. It is expected that a decision in the case will be handed down this week or early next week.

HOME OWNERS ASS'N TO CONVENE FRIDAY



Taxpayers, renters, property holders and the general public are cordially invited to attend a meeting Friday, Nov. 10th, at 8 p.m. of the Home Owners Protective Association to be held in the California Eagle building at 4075 S. Central avenue. Ministers of the community are especially invited to attend.

Man Cleared In Rape Case

Fate was kind to Jesse Lee Gray in Dept. 46 of the Superior Court last Thursday afternoon, in one of the strangest of the strangest twists of circumstances seen in a local court in a long time. Gray, who had been arrested on August 3 on a charge of statutory rape preferred by 14-year-old Sandy Mae Gill of 10009 Croesus Avenue, was on trial before Judge Walter S. Gates and defended by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor.

During a recess the girl is said to have changed her story and declared that the charges were false and that she had been persuaded to sign a complaint.

When Judge Gates called the case for further proceedings the district attorney dismissed the case on the statement of the girl and Gray walked from the courtroom a free man without a single witness having taken the stand against him.

To Start Training Negro Women Recruits for WAVES January First

The President on October 19, 1944, approved a plan submitted by the Navy Department providing for the acceptance of Negro women in the Women's Reserve of the Navy. The plan calls for the immediate commissioning of a limited number of especially qualified Negro women to serve as administrative oficers. They will assist in the subsequent planning and supervision of the program for Negro women which will be administered as an integral part of the Women's Reserve.

Enlistment of Negro women will be undertaken as soon as these plans have been completed and it is presently indicated that the first Negro recruits will enter training shortly after January 1. Officer candidates and enlisted women will be trained at existing schools for the training of WAVES. The number to be enlisted will be determined by the needs of the service.

Applications are now being accepted at the Procurement Office, 411 W. 5th Street, in downtown Los Angeles, and at Navy Recruiting Stations in other communities.

Southern Negro Youth Congress Will Hear Mary McLeod Bethune

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—Esther V. Cooper, Executive Secretary of the Southern Negro Youth Congress, announced this week that Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, founder and President of the National Council of Negro Women, will be keynote speaker at the opening public rally of the 6th Conference to be held by the organization on November 30, December 1, 2 and 3.

The Conference which has as its theme; "Democracy, the Challenge of Victory" will convene in Atlanta, Georgia. Mrs. Bethune will speak on Friday night, December 1.

In announcing Mrs. Bethune's acceptance of the invitation to speak, Miss Cooper said, "We are very happy to have Mrs. Bethune as our principal speaker for we feel that she has been the chief spokesman for the rights of Negro youth for many years.

Her association with young people at Bethune-Cookman and as director of colored division of the National Youth Administration has made her very much aware of the special problems of Negro youth of the South. As a leader in government and public life, Mrs. Bethune has contributed much to the advancement of her people and gained much experience to share with the youth who will attend the Conference as delegates."

NEGRO WOMEN'S ARMY BAND

The 404th Army Service Forces Band, 1738 Service Unit, of the First WAC Training Center, Fort Des Moines, is the only Negro Women's Army Band in existence.

Kinloch On Overseas News Bureau Staff

Eight newspapers printed an ANP story stating that Major Kenneth E. Campbell, former field artillery officer with the 596th outfit of the 92nd Division, will head a staff of public relations officers who will facilitate news collection for the Negro press in the European Theater of Operations. It was reported that Major Campbell's office will be with that of the theater commander in Paris and that working with him will be Sergeant Trezzvant Anderson, ANP; Sergeant Peyton Gray, AFRO American; Private John S. Kinlock, Los Angeles CALIFORNIA EAGLE and Private Charles P. Howard, Des Moines IOWA BYSTANDER. A photographer, Sergeant Earl W. Tibbs, formerly with a lithographic company in Pittsburgh, has been assigned to the unit, it was said.

Pastor Wins Ouster Suit

Before a courtroom packed with opposing factions of Big Bethel Baptist Church, Rev. H. D. Dempsey, pastor, of 10951 Wilmington Avenue, was victorious in the battle to oust him from the pulpit and parsonage which was fought against him by a church faction headed by Mrs. Eugenia Smith, who in the legal action styled herself a trustee of the church. The fight began, according to the Rev. Dempsey, on October 3 when the faction of the church headed by Mrs. Smith held a meeting at the home of one of the members and voted the pastorate vacant, and served a notice upon Rev. Dempsey to move from the parsonage which is the property of the church.

clearly enunciated in the final speech of President Roosevelt just before the election, and I quote:

"Enable us to guard for the least among us the freedom we covet for ourselves; make us ill content with the inequalities of opportunity which still prevail among us. Preserve our union against all the divisions of race and class which threaten it.

"And now may the blessings of God Almighty rest upon this whole land; may He give us light to guide us, courage to support us, charity to unite us, now and forevermore."

We, the people, all of us, united to re-elect President Roosevelt. We, the people, shall unite to continue building the better world already started under his leadership. Our joint support of our Commander-in-Chief repudiated the doctrine of States' rights which encourages the Poll-Tax, rejected the Soldiers' Vote Bill, denied the Negro the right to vote in certain states, and tries to keep the poor black and white worker separated by a bridge of hate. Since Roosevelt has been in office that bridge of hate has been weakening, and we shall soon view its ruins as prejudice against a man because of color is forever wiped from the face of the earth. Our children shall grow up in a world where race hatred will be only a historical disgrace. The fact that the path for a true understanding of ourselves as one people in this great nation is being mapped out by this war and its conduct is evidenced in the simple language of a son to his parents from "somewhere in India" in the following letter:

"Somewhere in India"
Dear Mom and Dad:

In answer to your letter I received yesterday, you asked me about the American Negro over here and how they were being treated. You say you were informed they were apart from us and there was a sort of class hatred between the whites and the blacks; I don't know who ever started that rumor, but all I can say, it's a damn lie. The colored soldier is treated the same way as the rest of us, and as a matter of fact comes to our house and sits right with us. We, in turn, may be walking down the road and a colored fellow driving a truck will pick us up and give us a lift. All in all, we get along swell, and if worse comes to worse, I know you will see him just like the rest, fighting right up there side by side. No, dad, you have been misinformed. They don't class anyone by race, color or creed over here. They are all just damn good Americans over here.

Your loving son.

This is the path which we have laid out for ourselves, the only path to complete and LASTING victory. We can only travel this road to freedom united; we cannot have for ourselves what we would deny to others. We will not be misguided; we have chosen our leadership not in blind faith but by true measure of accomplishment in the darkest days of our lives. Bigotry, race prejudice, hatred, and false pride cannot travel freedom's road. Only the truth shall set us free.

That the little republic had granted this government the right to do this was revealed by the State Department here Monday. The agreement was negotiated December 31, 1943, and permits the installations "for the strategic interests of the United States in the South Atlantic," and was sponsored by he Foreign Economic Administration.

The U. S. Government pledges to respect, in the future, as in the past, the territorial integrity, sovereignty and political independence of Liberia.

by the Hollywood Democratic Committee in mid-campaign, is indicated to be the losing candidate.

Judge Stanley Mosk, seeking re-election, was returned to the bench with incomplete reports showing over 100,000 votes having been cast for him.

Proposition No. 12, a notorious bill designed to smash organized labor was defeated by a three to one vote, as was Proposition No. 11, the 60 at 60 amendment which proved unpopular because of the burdensome taxing provisions it carried.

Throughout the Los Angeles area most of the democratic, labor supported candidates were elected, the reports with almost complete returns available showing that Ned Healy had won in the 13th, Clyde Doyle in the 18th Ellis Patterson in the 16th, Cecil King in the 17th and Chet Holifield in the 19th, all Congressional candidates.

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, B. Rey Schauer and Presiding Justices, Minor Moore and Walter Desmond were returned to office without opposition.

Mutual Benefit Association to Convert to Insurance Company

NEW YORK, N. Y.—At a special meeting of the General Assembly of the United Mutual Benefit Association held at the home office of the Association, 360 West 125th Street, New York City, last week, a plan for the conversion of the Association to a mutual life insurance company was presented by the Board of Directors for the approval of the delegates to the General Assembly, and was enthusiastically accepted.

HIGHEST TYPE

When the plan is approved by the New York State Department of Insurance, it will be the first time that a Negro fraternal association has met the stringent requirements of the Insurance Law of the State of New York for transforming itself into the highest type of insurance company, with authority to underwrite policies of unlimited amounts.

The United Mutual Benefit Association was the first insurance organization managed, operated and controlled by Negroes to be chartered in New York State. A comparatively young institution, it was granted its charter from the state on April 12, 1933.

In the eleven years of its existence the total insurance has been increased in force to over $11,000,000 which represents a total membership of 37,000 active policy holders. As of December 31, 1943, its assets amounted to $561,501.31. On July 24, 1944, its surplus was listed as $239,329.60.

Under the proposed new charter the company would be conducted on a broader scale with prospects of doing business in the various states and would provide additional security for its policy holders, all of whom would be entitled to share in any dividends declared.

The present officers of the United Mutual Benefit Association will continue in office until the meeting of the board following the annual meeting of the new company, to be held on the second Friday in May 1946, when new officers will be elected.

★ LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

There is not and should not be any feeling of jubilation over the victory of President Roosevelt and supporting candidates at the polls this week. There is room in America for a difference of opinion, and while the cleavage was sharp and many times disturbing, we are a better people today because we disagreed at the polls last Tuesday. The people won, there can be no mistake about that, and the CIO has had its position in American political life clearly established, and if that be necessary, vindicated. Much of the Republican attack was unfairly directed against Sidney Hillman, who as head of CIO political action was responsible to a great degree for the fact that this election was decided by the best-informed electorate in the history of the republic. Regrettably some of the attacks made on Hillman will be long remembered by many persons whose minds are not flexible, and whose temperaments are not broad and tolerant.

John M. Lee

It is the responsibility of the CIO in every corner of America to remove these scars. Hillman's leadership is too important to this nation to sacrifice it to the hate of a rabid minority. The issues for which the CIO was fighting in this campaign are live issues, vital in the future of all of us. They will not of necessity be assured to us because the people have won the election. They will have to be fought for again and again.

There can be no better argument for the continuance of the CIO PAC organizations than the attacks made against Hillman. Some suspicion was directed against PAC because it came into being during an election. That suspicion can be allayed if the CIO maintains its interest in political events as a permanent continuing policy.

During the next period of our development there will be many measures coming before the House and the Senate that will need organized people's support. The CIO should be in a position to supply the information and leadership necessary to complete the crusade which began 12 years ago. Political action should become important business on the agenda of the CIO.

THE FIRST ALERT

Proposition No. 12 was defeated by what is reported to be a three to one majority. Despite the evident case with which this vicious, anti-labor measure was put down, it was not an easy task. The backers of the proposition are determined people who have great amounts of money at their disposal, and an undying hatred of organized labor. Already reliable information has been received that the proposition boys have a bill that will effect the same purpose as would have No. 12, which they plan to introduce in the next session of the Legislature. It is not too early to check and defeat this attempt to thwart the will of the people.

Under pressure of precinct work, we overlooked an appointment last Saturday to make a regular donation to the Blood Bank. Unkept appointments cause a lot of extra work, and we're sorry. However, we will promise to take two others with us when we do keep the appointment this week. In the meantime, keep your appointment, they need every donation they can get.

MR. DAVID A. FINLEY, JR., above, is a former law student of Denver U. and president of the Finley Realty Corp. of Denver, resident of Denver, Colorado, for 10 years, connected with the Los Angeles County for 13 years, veteran of World War 1, and active member of Ben Bowie Post 228.

Mr. Finley has been a resident here for the past 16 years. He is now opening the American Bail Bond Agency, 1362 Newton, opposite Newton Street Police Station.

Workers Still Needed By LARY

Personally pleased that the War Labor Board has granted a bonus increase of wages for all Los Angeles Railway employees, retroactive to May 1, L. A. Reeves, director of the Bureau of Public Service of the gigantic transportation system, this week called attention to its dire need for workers in all departments.

"The officials of the company are as delighted as its lowliest laborer over the wage increases granted by the War Labor Board," said Reeves.

"We have nothing to hide from the public relative to our working conditions," continued Reeves, "and particularly do we want it known that the company needs men and women workers in every department. We have rolling stock out of use because we are unable to man the cars and coaches and we have other facilities temporarily idle because we can get neither men nor material to make necessary repairs or operators for their maintenance.

Black Amerian Salvage Plans For Fuller Community Service

With our Nation going forward to victory, the Black American Salvage Company, 2700 Compton Avenue, is serving the community through the conservation of many vital materials needed for the continuation of industry and the sale to retail consumers of many articles which are no longer being produced. The community can help to make this service a competent and growing one both by contributing salvage and by purchasing these much needed articles.

With the opportunity of the Negro people to progress and develop secured for another four-year period through the election of President Roosevelt, the Black American Salvage Company, through the able leadership of Mr. H. A. Reeves bids fair to become one of the outstanding community ventures in Los Angeles. Mr. Reeves has had much business experience and has shown the ability and versatility

The war is not yet won, al-

The war is not yet wou although we are daily making progress toward victory. Attics and basements still contain many valuable articles, the materials of which are needed for production. Through the Black American Salvage Company this material can be placed where it is most needed, and the community as a whole can benefit from its activity. The community is growing with its community enterprises, and the Black American Salvage Company with church and civic support can develop into an Eastside Goodwill Center to serve the needs of Los Angeles' ever growing population.

count. The other five indicted are Marper Dawson, Roger and Man Dawson, John Brown and Narvel Ryder, all of Liberty, Miss.

District Attorney Joseph E. Brown, who is required by Mississippi law to try the men separately, has promised to avoid delay in the prosecution. "This is not a case of mob violence or lynching," he said. "It was murder of the most brutal and revolting type." He has fixed bond at $3,000 each.

Ever Brewer Hudson Pleases Audience In Philharomnic Bow

In spite of the rainstorm Sunday afternoon, more than 800 people gathered at the Philaharmonic Auditorium to hear Ever Brewer Hudson and the Sally Martin Gospel Singers in concert. Miss Hudson, scheduled to sing four numbers, contributed six selections by special request of the audience, who thrilled by her rich mezzo-soprano voice in the rendition of the group of spirituals including "Hold On," "Roll Jordan, Roll," and "Balm in Gilead," and "Birth of Morn" by Franco Leoni, insisted on the singing of "Vissi D'Arte Vissi D'armore" by G. Puccini and "Coppelia Waltz" by L. DeLibes.

Miss Hudson, attired in pale yellow chiffon with an orchid in her hair, rendered the numbers with a poise and accomplishment resulting both from her own natural talent and her six years of study with Mme. Adelina Dossena Formosoa. An appointment has been arranged for Miss Hudson with Mr. Behymer, manager of the Philaharmonic, as a result of the concert. Miss Hudson was accompanied by Miss Juanita Terry.

Sunday's concert was under the sponsorship of the Non Nobis Goodwill Workers who are raising funds for the erection of a day nursery for the children of working mothers living on the Eastside of Los Angeles. Besides Miss Hudson and the Sally Martin Gospel Singers, the choir of Phillip's Temple C. M. E. Church was also heard in two numbers opening and closing the program.

PLANNING FOR THE NEXT AKA RUSH—Taking time out from busy "Rush" affairs, committee members of Sigma and Alpha Gamma chapters of the AKA Sorority, make final plans for their coming Scholarship Benefit being staged on the 17th of November at the Club Plantation. Tickets are now on sale by the members of the two undergraduate chapters of the sorority. November 17th will be a big night on the social calendar. Joe Morris will be host and the music will be by Erskine Hawkins and Orchestra. From left to right members include Helen Maupin, Josephine Spearman, Josephine Marshall, Josephine Jordan, Benzell Graham, Sarah Jones, Jessie Mae Milhouse, Jessie Mae Brown, Ella Louise Cook and Jacquline Wilson.

Charlotta Bass To Speak on New Negro Film Dec. 29

"Why, How and Whom We Fight" is the title of a series of 10 consecutive Friday nights at 8 o'clock, starting November 10 at the Berendo Junior High School, Berendo and W. Twelfth Sts., under the sponsorship of the Pico Heights Community and Wilshire District Clubs of the Communist Political Association of Los Angeles. "Our Negro Soldied" is the film scheduled for December 29. The whole series of War Department film showings follow:

Nov. 10 — "Divide and Conquer."
Nov. 17—"The Nazis Strike."
Nov. 24—"Battle of Britain."
Dec. 1—"Battle of Russia."
Dec. 8—"Desert Victory."
Dec. 15 — "Our Enemies, the Japanese; Know Your Enemy—Japan."
Dec. 22 — "Here Is China," "Western Front."
Jan. 5 — "Arm Behind the Army," "Suggestion Box," Army, "Suggestion Box," "Tanks."
Jan. 12 — "They Deliver the Goods," "Target—Berlin."

Charlotta A. Bass, editor-publisher of THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE, will comment on "Our Negro Soldier" December 29.

Stag Honors Lodge Man

The brothers and fellows of Angel City Lodge No. 18, F. and A. M., entertained Brother William Faulkner with a swanky stag honoring his 14 years as secretary of the lodge, in the palatial playroom of the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Williams at 2056 West 29th street. Many amusements prevailed during the night with billiards one of the most outstanding. At the appointed time the master of ceremonies interrupted the fellows to introduce Brother L. M. Blodgett who, with befitting remarks, presented the secretary with a beautiful pen and pencil set. Brother Faulkner was highly eulogized by all present, among them Brother James Finis, Worshipful Master, Holland Lodge No. 26; Brother F. S. Stanley, Past Master Douglas Lodge No. 33; Brother A. C. Arnold, Past Master Angel City Lodge No. 18; Brother Arthur Moulton, Worshipful Master Angel City Lodge No. 18. A delicious baked ham dinner was served.

Dual Birthdays Observed With A Formal Dinner Party for 52

The spacious and beautiful home of Dr. and Mrs. M. C. Cooley in West 21st St. was the setting for a formal dinner party on Friday evening, Oct. 27th, honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Florence Robinson and Mrs. Susie Cooley who were co-hostesses.

Preceding the dinner, the guests enjoyed cocktails and several games of pool in the rumpus room. At the appointed hour in the shaded glow of pink candles, 52 guests, men in their tuxedos and women in their evenig dresses foud their places at beautifully appointed tables where a profusion of Cecile Brunner roses combined with ferns, provided colorful centerpieces.

This gala event of the season was in charge of Mrs. Mary Luster, popular caterer of the city. After dinner, music was enjoyed informally.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Yes, Dewey's words were chosen well,
His eloquence was great;
But quality will always tell,
And wise men bow to fate:
For Roosevelt, and Liberty,
Are quite synonymous, you see!

Yes, the people went to the polls again and proved that they know what they want. They proved that they know a good thing, when they have it. Long live our esteemed and beloved President, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, whom we, the people, have re-elected for a fourth term. Let's not forget—he cannot do the job alone; we all must get together and support him in his fight to establish a real democracy here in America.

SATURDAY NITERS ENTERTAIN

The smartly dressed, charming and gracious ladies of the West Side Saturday Niters' Club entertained 133 guests with a brunch at the Villa Arlington Club last week. Bridge and Pokeno were the diversions of the evening, with prizes being won as follows: First bridge prize, Mrs. Bessie Gant; second prize, Mrs. Rosetta Cooper; third prize, Mrs. Rita Smith; fourth prize, Mrs. St. Bratten; fifth prize, Mrs. Maude Bird; sixth prize, Mrs. Addie Holloway; seventh prize, Mrs. Irene Beize; eighth prize, Mrs. Amanda Asbury. Pokeno prizes were awarded as follows: First prize, to Mrs. Emma Adams; second, Mrs. Georgia Tymony; third, Mrs. Louise Conrad; fourth, Mrs. Sadie Selby. If you would like to know what Los Angeles' smart set is wearing, let me give you a peek at the breath-taking costumes which were seen at the aforementioned soiree. The president, Mrs. Fannie Casmon, was attired in a soft violet two-piece crepe dress, topped with a wild grape-colored hat, wearing black accessories. Mrs. Mandell Winfrey, the secretary, wore a two-piece black crepe dress, with a beautiful front of fuschia, topped by a black and fuschia trimmed hat, with black accessories. Mrs. Capitola Green, treasurer, was attired in a two-piece black suit, with a green and gold trimmed top. She wore a hat of her own creation, black plush with willow plumes, complimented with black accessories. Mrs. Edna Smith wore a black and Chinese blue one-piece combination crepe dress, with matching black and Chinese blue hat and black accessories. Mrs. Gladyce Lewis was striking in a two-piece soft blue crepe dress with matching hat, and black accessories. Mrs. Hazel Allen was garbed in a soft two-piece violet colored wool suit, topped with a black hat, trimmed in fuschia, and wearing black accessories. Mrs. Lovey Towns wore a soft two-piece black crepe dress, gold trimmed, with matching hat trimmed in gold, and black accessories. Mrs. Connie Steward was charming in a one-piece fuschia crepe dress, and a black hat trimmed with fuschia colored plumes, and black accessories. Mrs. Bessie Shaw was extremely becoming in a one-piece all black crepe dress, with matching black picture hat, and black accessories. All of these charming hostesses, who stood in the receiving line to greet their guests, wore white gardenia corsages. Need we say more about this lovely affair?

BIG DOINGS AGAIN ON KNOB HILL

We understand that bids are out for the beautiful dinner party which the Rev. George Garner and Dr. C. W. Hill are hosting in honor of the eminent surgeon, Dr. W. A. Gordon, and Mrs. Gordon, of Washington, D. C. The affair will be held on Saturday night in the well appointed Garner manse atop Knob Hill on Westmoreland avenue.

HERE AND THERE...

From all we can hear, the West Coast is due to be graced with the lovely Marva Louis in the near future.

Everyone is going to the benefit party being sponsored by the National Lawyers Guild at the Plantation Club on November 24. If you haven't secured your ticket, you may do so by contacting Atty. Vince Monroe Townsend, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Letters from LaVaughn Marfin, now visiting in Oklahoma, seem to indicate that she is enjoying herself. This is the first time LaVaughn has had a chance to meet her three uncles, and many other relatives in Oklahoma.

Have you seen the beautiful church edifice at 48th and McKinley? It is the Victory Baptist Church, pastored by the energetic minister and gospel singer, Rev. Arthur Peters.

And, since churches seem to be taking the limelight at this moment—we have another new organization, the Carver Memorial Community Church, of which the Rev. Paul M. Marshall is pastor.

For one of the nicest chicken dinners you ever ate, in the most quaint surroundings — I highly recommend Woodson's Chicken and Steak House on West Jefferson boulevard.

The column grows lengthy again, so I'll say, until next week —'bye.

HAPPY ORCHIDS—When so many lovely ladies take time out from their numerous duties these busy war days to make plans, you are inclined to believe that whatever they are getting their heads together on is due to be a huge success, and these members of the "Orchids" are smiling happily over the progress of advance ticket sales for the mammoth benefit cabaret dance scheduled for Sunday afternoon, November 26th, at the Plantation Club.

The Orchids were organized during the early depression years by their founder-president, Laura Slayton, with the specific purpose of aiding underprivileged eastside youth, and as the group nears its fourteenth year as an organization they observe the problem facing these same youth, some who were babes in arms fourteen years ago are now in their early teens, and even those of recent years who have yet to reach the teen age are in need of guidance and a chance. So, the Orchids have grasped the opportunity and chance to become a part along with several other of the city's leading charitable organizations to combat your delinquency. Club members appearing in above picture reading from left to right: Ellen Smith, Winona Martin, Juanita Mars, Marian Booker, Laura Slayton, Virginia White, Laverne Hall, Edythe Slayton, Ramelle Bagnerise.

Mrs. Alberta Moore Entertains Friends

Mrs. Alberta Moore, charming matron, was the hostess at an Election Returns party to which she invited a few friends for highballs and sandwiches Tuesday night at her home in 33rd street on the Eastside.

The guests sipped cooling drinks and munched on sandwiches as they listened to the returns of the election. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Mason Spencer, Mrs. Geraldine Francois, an attractive visitor from New Orleans, La., Miss Willie Mae Battle, and Seamen Mannis and Edward Dowden, Messrs. Eddie Burbridge, John Lee and Jack Morton. Everyone expressed themselves as having had an enjoyable evening.

Orchid Club Has A Charity Review

One of the most outstanding events of the season was held at 1219 E. Adams Boulevard on Sunday, October 29th, 1944, when the Orchid Charity Club presented its mid-season fashion revue and Contest Tea.

The conference room was beautifully decorated in orchid and white flowers. The refreshments consisted of dainty sandwiches, coffee, tea, fancy cookies and nuts, all made by members of the club. The war bond was won by Mrs. Lovella True.

The following ladies were given cash prizes: Miss Willie Mae Moore, Miss Myrtle R. Goin and Mrs. Ruth Williams. A very fine musical program and some beautiful models wearing the latest styles in evening and street clothes were presented by Miss Rosa Cooper. Mrs. Anna Livingston is chairman of the publicity committee.

Here's an honest statement of true facts. They say an open confession is good for the soul. We have over 4,000 100% wool, finely tailored BRONSON suits, but none of the trousers have pleats. As you know, during the war period we weren't permitted to put pleats in the trousers. Now we understand from good authority that this restriction may soon be lifted. We also know that there are thousands of men in all walks of life who don't mind conservative trousers. In order to dispose of these suits as quickly as possible, we have decided with the BRONSON factories to try to dispose of them within a short space of time. In order to make this possible, and until we reduce this stock to half, we will give you a $20 reduction on each and every one of these garments. You may have as many as you like. In other words, you may have a $50 suit for $30. If you are smart, you will buy several of these suits tomorrow. We prefer that you pay cash for these fine suits styled by BRONSON. A tip to the wise is sufficient. Out of these 4,000 suits, we want to sell 2,000 immediately. And I'm sure that all the wise men of Southern California will gobble them up fast. The VICTOR CLOTHING COMPANY has been in the same spot for over 24 years, catering to good people in all walks of life. Suits in all styles, all sizes, all colors. None restricted, none reserved, all on sale. No limit... you can buy as many as you want.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

Way out in front in their respective fields, is Jessie Mae Milhouse, recent Sociology grad from UCLA, and Josephine Spearman, who is a Physical major, and of practice teachers at UCLA. Jessie, who is taking a slight vacation from studies before beginning work on her master's degree, is diligently working with the rehabilitation of mental cases, on a voluntary basis, at Sawtelle Soldier Hospital. She is finding the work very interesting, and like many others, feels that more and more race women should volunteer their services to the Red Cross.

Jo Spearman, on the other hand, has brought the highlights of physical education to the YMCA in Monday night classes. Body conditioning, relaxation, reducing and individual postural analysis make up the program. Jo, who is quite accomplished in this field is expecting a large turnout of Angel City lovelies who are interested in gaining added poise.

WEEK-ENDING

So much goes on during the closing weeks of the fall season with opening of the colleges and all, it's hard to jot down the most important events. . . . However, the masses turned out to the Les Charmantes affair that Joe Morris staged at the Plantation Club, the main stomping ground. Erskine Hawkins' band played the latest in jump tunes, and the place jumped with the high spirited, on the beam setters, who took the place over. A bit novel and adding to the affair was a raffling of a bottle of aged champagne. So happens that Erskine Hawkins drew the name of a very lucky local deb, Sarah Lumpkin, club prexy, and the full membership was introduced. "Don't Cry, Baby" and the rest of Hawkins' Tuxedo Junction ditties made this a grand affair.

ON THE CAMPUS

The large enrollment of tantoned lads and lassies on the Bruin and Trojan campi broke all past school semesters. S.C. boasts enrollment of several Eastern gents working for degrees, plus the return of all old students and oodles of new. Out in Westwood, there is almost a 100 percent return of old students plus a still larger turnout of new students. This increase of the student body caused the local chapters of the AKA's Deltas, Zetas, Sigmas to fall in a high spirited mood for rushing good sorority material. Must say a definite feeling of real college spirit is alive since there are more than small numbers of students to work with. The AKA's held their rush affair Saturday night at the "Hilltop" home of Doctor Vade Summervill. The Deltas are scheduled to carry on the spirit of rushing comes Friday night. All this adds to college life. . . . It's rumored that this semester will find a Greek letter council formed. . . . Buzzy chatter is still going on as the year slowly ends, as to whether the Kappas will hold that famed Black and White formal or not. Fingers crossed, debs who have already planned just what they were going to wear, may have to change their plans for from all indications, the Black and White is off the record unless held the latter part of November or during the month of December. . . . So don't make your plans too definite, girlies. . . . The marriage of Hariette Patterson and Lawrence Johnson was a definite highlight for the past Sabbath. The "setters" were definitely on hand to witness the solemnizing. Took special note of Orchid Oliver, full of smiles and congrats. Grace Davis and Ysabel Gray, taking it all in. Ethyl Boykin, more and more and then some. . . .

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Catherine and "Wimp" Stanaslaus were blessed with a bouncing baby boy last Sunday morn. Wherever the proud father is stationed, I know he is passing the cigars. . . . None other than Yoeman Joe Sapuldine, sailor suit and all, made his entrance in the fair city last week. Looking tip-top and all the rest, the once wolf No. 1 of the C. C. campus is spending a 10-day furlough greeting his many deb friends. Understand that Joe has plans for taking up V-12 work at UCLA. . . . May be a fairly good addition to the campus. . . . By the way, Sammie Graveley is scheduled to return to L. A. a full-fledged ensign at the end of the month. . . . Bill Johnson, that is, Lieut. Bill Johnson of the Army Air Corps, is definitely enjoying his furlough 'round town, taking in the clubs and other bright spots.

Lilly Bell Alex is Mrs. Bill Gordan, and has been for two months. Lil, who wears that cheerful smile at all times, says that her better half has been called by Uncle Sam. However, he is stationed in nearby San Diego. . . . Congrats and then some, kids. . . . More congratulations fall in line for Euvolda and Joe Morris, who celebrated their fifth anniversary last week. Their exchange of gifts was most elaborate. . . . Hariette Kelly, new UCLA co-ed, celebrated her birthday Wednesday. . . . Again being a little different, Blanche Groggs, who vacationed recently from Red Cross activities, flew back to the city from Las Vegas, Nev., after missing her train. . . .

Dance-minded Hariette Williams has big ideas for starting a cooperative dance group at Music Town Auditorium. Hope they materialize. . . . Sarah Jones has given up her post office job and is back at S.C. taking up library science. . . . That just about knocks it out. Francis W. Patterson and Muriel Spaulding entertain with cocktails Sunday between 5 and 8 o'clock. . . . 'Til next week.

Patterson-Johnson Wedding Is Brilliant Social Event

Large numbers witnessed the socially important marriage of Miss Hariette Jane Patterson, daughter of Mr. Mrs. Harrie Calvin Patterson, to Lawrence Joseph Johnsnn of the United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson. The couple were united in holy matrimony at one o'clock Sunday afternoon, November fifth, at Second Baptist Church, with Reverend J. Raymond Henderson officiating.

Marking one of the most colorful events of the season, the bride wore an elaborate gown of traditional white satin with insets of seed pearl, and a billowy hooped skirt. Her trailing veil was trimmed in delicate lace, and her head dress was a "queens crown" of seed pearl. She carried a tiney bible, ladened with "Lilly of the Valley" and lavendar orchids. Pale blue was the choosen color for the ceremony. Mrs. Gloria Walton served as matron of honor and Miss Wenifred Jones as maid of honor. The four brides maides were Misses Jessel Reid, Catherine Randolph, Gloria Hawkins, and Eunice Gross. All were gowned in blue marquisette, with matching gloves and dainty caps. They carried coloniel bouquets of tiny rose buds and blue flowers. Ursula Hirchswitz and Hariette Flowers were candle girls. Little Paula Jean Mitchell was flower girl.

Sgt. Charles Duncan, who accompanied Lawrence from Tuskegee, served as best man. Ushers included: Percy Johnson, brother of the bridegroom, Henry Williams, William Clements, and William Brooks.

Immediately following the ceremony, the setting of Casa Rafael 453 East Adams Blvd., was aranged for the Patterson, Johnson wedding reception. White Chrysanthanums and chains of Southern Smilax, decorated the reception room. At an apointed table, centered with a pale blue and white wedding cake, hostesses: Connie Smart and Alphonsine Paltrone, Edna Rafeal, Lila Welsh and Mrs. Willa Smallwood served the many guests.

Receiving were the brides mother, Mrs. H. C. Patterson in a turquoise blue dress and orchid corsage, and Mrs. J. Johnson, the grooms mother, in dark blue with corsage of orchids.

Following the reception, the couple was feted with a bridal Buffet supper at the South Hobart Street home of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Flowers. The bridal party and close friends of the family were in evidence at the affair.

The bride is a graduate of Belmont High School, and an English major, at USC, where she is pledging to the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority. Lawrence is a graduate of Jefferson High school, and is at present serving in the United States army, stationed at Tuskegee. He returns to his post on the tenth of November. Hariette plans to join him in December and will remain until March, returning to Los Angeles to enter the next session at USC.

FINE RECORD

Churches of the community were informed this week that nearly 233,000 people, including children, adults and youth, were served throughout the Los Angeles area last year through the united efforts of 29 Protestant welfare agencies which are coordinating their services through the Church Federation Welfare Bureau.

Entertained at Villa Arlington

Miss Dorothy Price of 1148½ East 43rd street entertained at the beautiful Villa Arlington last Thursday evening. Cocktails were enjoyed by all, followed by a delicious turkey dinner. Bridge was played later in the evening. Among those present were: Emma Kate McKinny, Verna Bean, Elsie Archer, Beula Wyndon, Mrs. Neal, Sadie Le Sene, Della McDonald, Margaret Clay, Beatrice DeVaughn, Pinkie Taylor, Rozella Fernandez of Paducah, Ky., Dorothy Howard, Marjorie Bailey, Louise Clark, Mrs. Anderson of Arizona, Gertrude Goode, Ora Solomon, Lobelu Dingee, Sarah Griffin, and Tommie Lee Clarrett.

A finer service people talk about

Friends, relatives attending services, bereaved families—even ministers officiating at the memorial—frequently comment on the beauty and quiet dignity of an Angelus service. No family in this community, by reason of creed or circumstances, need ever feel that they are denied this finer funeral service.

We Shall Run and Not Be Weary

This editorial was written Monday evening, even before the election was held.

President Roosevelt is re-elected, he is again our great leader, our commander-in-chief. He was re-elected not by the big shots of the country, but by the little people, you and me and those of us who have faith in ourselves and in our government.

Not all the "polls" in the country could predict such a victory as we have achieved. Why were all of them so far wrong in their predictions? Because they sent their questionnaires, they asked their questions of those persons in the "upper class," or perhaps the upper strata of the "middle class." They did not bother to ask the Negro, the Mexican, the poor people whose names are not listed in "Who's Who," and most of them not even in a telephone book.

But it was those of us in the minority groups, the Negroes, the Jews, the Mexicans, the "foreigners"—if there can be any foreigners who are American citizens—who understood the real issues and who refused to be befuddled or to be turned aside by malicious lies and mud-slinging, and who voted for our friend the greatest leader in the world today—Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

This election, the most crucial election ever held in this country, has pointed the finger of warning in no uncertain terms at our false leaders.

We, the people of the United States, have refused to believe the lies, the half-truths—more malicious than real lies—that they have told about our candidates. We have laughed to scorn the charges of Ku Klux Klanism on the one hand and of Communism on the other. We have walked down the straight road without any shadow of turning, to the promise of a greater democracy, to a brighter democaracy than we have ever enjoyed before.

And what is this democracy which the future holds for us?

President Roosevelt has conducted this war to the satisfaction of the majority of our people. We shall and will defeat Germany and Japan soon, and then we shall bring our boys home to a better world, a world for which our boys have been fighting for abroad and we on the home-front have been fighting for too just as vigorously, just as courageously.

President Roosevelt's sons and ours are on the battle-fields fighting "For an America where all persons regardless of race, color, creed, or place of birth, can live in honor and dignity—free to speak, free to pray, as they wish—free from want, free from fear."

This is the goal we seek. This is the meaning of the election which has placed our friend, President Roosevelt, again at the helm. We shall win that America. Praise God, we shall win. We have already surmounted the most difficult hurdle, and now we shall run and not walk with the wings of victory lifting our feet.

Race Bigotry On Trial

One of Los Angeles' courtrooms this week was the setting for a dramatic scene from a play in race intolerance. In this drama there was a star and a chorus. The star was a little wrinkled shriveled man. This little man occupied the seat in the court used by all those who testify after they have raised their right hand and solemly sworn "to tell the truth and nothing but the truth, so help me, God." The chorus was composed of those who sat in the courtroom with fixed eyes on the little man who told his and their story to the judge.

The story was about residential covenant restrictions. The group had come to tell the judge that Negroes were beginning to invade their neighborhood and they, the white people, were not going to stand for it. The little man's description of the Negroes who had percolated through the stream of in-migration into his "district" approximated that used in describing animals of a lower order.

This little man and his race hating neighbors admitted that the only new home erected in his neighborhood in the past fifteen years had been built by a Negro family. The Negroes apparently had not molested him in any way except by their presence in the district which had declared in its restrictive clause that nothing but Caucasians could dwell therein.

It was brought out that there was a German church in the community and that Japanese had lived there prior to the evacaution. The scene and the language furnished by the little man and the chorus was maddening to one envisioning what is now going on on German and Japanese soil where the sons of these who are told by the little man, "You cannot live here because you are not the right color," fight side by side for freedom with the sons of those people who can live there.

Germany let the war flame spread to all corners of the world on this same sort of race hatred against the Jewish people. We here in the United States have the example of Germany staring us in the face. We know this plan of "divide and rule" destroys democratic rule. We have seen it tried in all the Fascist countries—and we see it failing.

"GIVE FREELY-TO THE NATIONAL WAR FUND!"

Premier Josef Stalin Speaks Out

Nazi propaganda during the life of this war has waged a desperate battle to create suspicion against Premier Josef Stalin and the Soviet Union's relationship with Japan.

On numerous occasions it was hinted that Russia's absence at some of the Churchill-Roosevelt conferences was due to the fact that Russia was not at war with Japan. Stressed also, by many, was the danger of any alliance with Russia by the United States because neither Russia's social or political programs conformed to anything American.

In the 1944 presidential campaign, which as of today becomes history, the "red" scare was one of the main campaign issues, especially in the Negro district. Never was there any adequate reasoning why or how Russia or communism would damage the Negro or any other citizen. It was always, "that terrible communism which Russia is trying to develop in the United States."

Now, the United States Nazi element and Adolf himself are turning on their heels, whispering in the dark, "What shall we say next?"

Stalin, comparing Japan's attack on the United States at Pearl Harbor to Hitler's attack on Russia, linked Japan with Germany as an aggressor nation and said that after the war agressors must be completely disarmed. In this pronouncement Premier Josef Stalin has shown not only a desire for peace but a close comradship with the other allied nations to the end that "united we stand; divided we fall."

"MAIL CHRISTMAS GIFTS BEFORE DEC. 1st"

W. J. Wheaton Says . . .

AS WE WRITE THIS COLUMN: The electorate of the United States are preparing to cast their votes to determine which of the two proponents of subjects vital to the nation's progress, in the post-war period, shall be at the helm to guide the Ship of State. The campaign has been the most bitter since that of Lincoln and Douglass in the days prior to the Civil War. The candidate of the Republican party has left nothing undone to place their cause before the electorate in the most favorable light. On the other hand the candidate of the Democrat party has relied on the past record of that party and its achievements in the conduct of the nation's affairs for retention in office. It is to be seen if the electorate will pit its judgment on results or on promises.

Let us rather discuss the propositions set forth for the preservation of peace in the post-war period as set forth in the Dunbarton conference. There is one point of view, as set forth in one phase of the discussions, which will have great bearing as to whether or not the formula for a lasting peace will prove successful. And that is: Should either of the permanent powers —Great Britain, Russia, United States, China—if proven an aggressor, or should we say, accused as an aggressor, set in as a participant in the discussions. There is quite a difference of opinion in that matter and one upon which rests, possibly, and hinges, probably, one the success or failure of the proposed structure. There are many who believe that the policing power of the nations should be more fully clarified. Again: There are others who are in doubt as to whether or not the induction of this nation should be a treaty or agreement. In a treaty a vote of two-thirds of the United States Senate would be required for ratification. It is well known that, in spite of public opinion, there are isolationists of both political parties who would place every obstacle available to obstruct its passage, or ratification. Thus it would delay, if not defeat entirely, the objective. Again: There is dispute as to whether or not the delegate representing the United States should be given plenary power in deciding the vote of the nation or report to the congress for his instructions. Well: As we are fully aware, but the time that congress ceased voting and debating on the merits of the case the aggressor or the aggressors would have accomplished their design and possibly set the stage for war III. Had the League of Nations stopped Japan when that government raped Manchuria; had they halted Mussolini when he essayed the conquest of Abysinia; turned Hitler back at the Ruhr and told him "hands off" at Czechoslovakia, in all probability there would have been no war II. But there was too much debate and while the League was debating both Hitler and Mussolini proceeded with despoiling of these nations. Will the United States take warning?

San Francisco has a visitor in the person of Mrs. P. A. Aiken, who is the house guest of the J. B. Shaws, 1913 Broderick St. Mrs. Aiken, a native of the West Indies, and a resident of Kingston, Jamaica, has a very interesting background, and that is what we tried to uncover. It was a rather hard job, but after considerable maneuvering finally succeeded in inducing the lady to talk a bit about her homeland and incidentally about her activities in the solution of problems confronting the peoples in the islands of the Caribbean. We knew that they had problems, some akin to those affecting groups in the United States. It was at a reception given by the Shaws that we had a chance for an interview with their guest. And, by the way, nearly 50 of San Francisco's citizens, prominent in the civic and religious activities of the community, were present to greet the visitor.

In the gathering we noticed that Miss Marion Holly, lecturer and exponent of the Baha'i Faith; Mrs. Shirley Ward, noted writer and radio favorite; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Icas, teacher and lecturer; Mrs. Cooper, philanthropist and world traveler; T. D. and Mrs. Groger; Mrs. Groger, secretary of the Baha'i assembly; Mary Gordon, San Francisco's favorite songstress; the Cranshaws, and so many other notables that it would take up all available space to make mention.

But back to Mrs. Aiken. We found that the lady came to the United States for a definite purpose. She described the thrill her plane trip across the Caribbean to this country and California. It was one of unfolding interest and charm. But what we wondered was: "What are the problems with which the peoples of the Indies are perplexed?" First, is it the problem of self-government. The residents of the islands want a bigger, a more potent part in the selection of their executive government. Second: The standards of living, economic conditions and educational facilities must be enhanced. She cited that the influx of Chinese and their intermarriage with native women might create a racial problem, though it was not so noticeable at present. We succeeded in worming from Mrs. Aiken that she is one of the vice-presidents of various civic and social activities. Please place the emphasis on the "one of the." Children's Fund; member of the People's National Party, and president of the Beauticians' League.

But the prime interest in Mrs. Aiken's visit to the States is to find out what are the American methods taken to solve the various group questions that arise to perplex our civilization. Legislation can only alleviate the conditions. It is only the spiritual, the moral and spiritual change of heart, that will eventually bring about that harmony for which the world now craves. That applies to the world at large. In a reply to many of the greetings extended Mrs. Aiken she gave a graphic description of the heroic status of Christopher Columbus, erected at Port of San Domingo. "His raised sword pointed to the north bids us go hence in freedom's name."

DOWN AT OLD 928

Some place down in the South
Pacific there's found
A tropical island floating around.
Because of restrictions its name
I cannot state
But, to us guys, its known as

928 is a world of its own
Where foxholes and tents are used as a home
The language that's spoken is sweet to the ear
But it wouldn't look nice written down here.

Life on this island I'd say it is rough
To live and survive you've got to be tough
It's a place where the sun and tropical rain
Beat down on a man till he's almost insane.

928 is a rat's paradise
They're as thick as the coconut flies
We have lizards and spiders as big as your fist
And all oother bugs that are known to exist.

The mosquitoes we have here on 928
Have more sting in their nose
than a P-38
And back in the jungle there are larger ones seen
That are mistaken for B-17's.

After doing a hitch on 928
An Alcatraz sentence, to us, would be great
For a view from the rocks, at least you can see Something besides these damn coconut trees.

On Sunday all dressed in our herringbone twill
We go to the chapel on San Juan Hill
Don't know why we go for we know darn well Prayers are no good when they're said down in hell.

There are nights when it rains and leaks through your tent
And Golden Gate fever has you down with all vitality spent
And you roll in your bunk and of home you dream
While up in the trees the monkey bats scream.

In reading this story don't think we complain
For the reason w're here to us is quite plain
And we'll stay and sweat in the tropical sun
Till our job is complete and Victory is won.

When Victory is ours and the day will be soon
And Tojo and Hitler must go to their doom
If I had my way, for their sentence I'd make
Them both do life down on 928.

Berkeley Soldier 3 Years In Army

AT AN ISLAND AIR SERVICE BASE IN THE MEDITERRANEAN the son of Mrs. Mattie L. Johnson, 1326 66 Street, Berkeley, California, has completed 3 years service in the Army including 19 months overseas.

During this time he has served as a platoon sergeant. A baseball player, he is rated as one of the best on his team.

✦ AS I SEE IT! ✦

By Jeanette Cohen

I saw the best satire on Thomas E. Dewey. It was absolutely the most humorous thing I have ever seen. Bernie Hern, comedian par excellence, did a take-off on the "great" man at the People's Bandwagon show last Monday evening at Manhattan Center in New York City.

The People's Bandwagon — a group of stage and radio stars who banded together to help reelect Roosevelt — traveled all through the East, South and Midwest with a snappy, live anti-Dewey show.

When Bernie Hern appeared on the stage, dressed in a Little Lord Fauntleroy suit, carrying a large red lollypop, with his face adorned with that unforgettable mustache — I couldn't help but think that "pip-squeak" is a very suitable name for William Randolph Hearst's puppet.

Hern jumped up and down, pulling at his falling stockings and acting like a spoiled child while he sang a parody on "I Can't Say No (to Hearst, Bricker and Hoover)." The song was very funny—the audience roared with laughter—but on their way out turned from laughter to the serious thought that if Dewey is elected, it won't be so funny to have a President taking his orders from that trio — Hearst, Bricker and Hoover.

On the program were outstanding artists like Mary Lou Williams, boogie woogie queen; Will Geer, who played Jeeter Lester in "Tobacco Road" for years, and singer of American folklore; Laura Duncan, Negro singer with the voice that sends you; Jack de Merchant, baritone; Tamiris, modern dancer; and others who made up a program that kept audiences in 24 states on the edge of their seats.

After the show, the entire audience was invited backstage to meet and talk to the performers and hear of their many experiences on the road. I caught Mary Lou Williams just as she was rushing out to keep another engagement. She didn't have time to tell me of her experiences on the trip, except that she "would like to make more such trips with the Bandwagon after the elections. The troupe was the swellest bunch of people I have ever played with. I guess because we were such a unified bunch—all out for F. D. R." Why is Miss Williams voting for FDR?. "Because he has done so much for my race. Anybody would be foolish not to vote for him."

I pushed my way through the crowd and managed to get within hearing distance of Laura Duncan, who was surrounded by grateful admirers. "How was the trip?" I asked her. "Oh gee, I'm too excited to give all the details. All I can say is that in St. Louis, Mo., there were more Negroes in the audience than anywhere else."

As I turned from Miss Duncan I ran smack into Will Geer talking to some Naval Officers and Merchant Mariners. "In many towns," said Mr. Geer, "the audiences for the first time were made up of Negro and white. It took some time for them to get used to it — but they did after awhile. I'm voting for Roosevelt because I think the most important issue of our lives is to win the peace. It has not been done before. We have to do it this time. And we certainly won't do it with Dewey."

The crowd was growing larger and larger backstage and I decided to call it quits when I saw Jack de Merchant standing in the doorway. "That was a swell job you and Miss Duncan did on that wonderful ballad, "What Is America to Me? (The House I Live In)." Tell me, did you do it together in St. Louis, too?" "Of course we did," said Jack, "the fact that Miss Duncan is Negro and I am white is all the more reason for singing together a song depicting democracy. It was in the South that many people came to us with tears in their eyes and thanked us."

The People's Bandwagon did a terrific job barnstorming the country. When this column is printed it will be two or three days after the election. I hope my welcome mat for Franklin Delano Roosevelt is still in order.

Eastside War Chest Appeal Is Running Behind Other Areas

Over-all progress of the Eastside War Chest appeal for $10,072 is slowing down in the united campaign now going on all over Los Angeles for $7,613,579, with which to aid our Allies, back up our own fighting forces with "entertainment from home" and keep up a strong home front of health, welfare and child care, while action is stepping up to a faster pace in all other residential neighborhoods.

In announcing the compilation of division and battalion figures last week end, Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw, district chairman, expressed the regret that the number of divisions over the top still stands at two, and that the increase in battalions that have passed their 100 per cent goal, also was only two since the second all-Los Angeles report meeting a week ago today.

Battalions over the top last Monday (Nov. 6), and their majors were: Division 80, Battalion C, Mrs. A. R. Mosely, 447 per cent; D-Mrs. Irene Forsythe, 489 per cent, and A-headed by the colonel, Mrs. Jessie C. Grayson, 530 per cent. Battalion B, division 81, Mrs. Ruby Woods, major, 399 per cent, is the only battalion over in this division, led by Mrs. Irene Beize as colonel. The two battalions over the top in division 82, under the colonelcy of Mrs. R. H. Hicks, are B, John E. Rector, 137 per cent, and Mrs. Wilma Windsor, 725 per cent.

The first divisions over the top are 83, now under the leadership of William E. Jones, and 84, Mrs. J. S. Peach. Battalions who have passed the 100 per cent mark in 83 are A, with the colonel as major, assisted by J. D. Johnson, 324 per cent; B, Orville Franklin, 382 per cent; C-, Mrs. E. M. Arcenaux, 101.9 per cent; D-, Mrs. Mary E. Reed, 306.6 per cent, and special gifts, 246.1 per cent. Over the top battalions in 84 are A-Mrs. Alma D. Johnson, 132.5 per cent; D-Mrs. Lillie B. R. Baker, 148 per cent, and special gifts, 464 per cent.

Price Regulation Study at Wiley

Marshall, Tex.—An Institute on EDUCATION FOR VICTORY sponsored by the Regional OPA Office, and directed by Ernest E. Neal was held on the campus of Wiley College recently. Members of the Wiley staff participating on the program or otherwise contributing to its promotion were Dr. Kelso B. Morris, Prof. A. P. Watson and Mrs. H. L. Bradford. The purpose of this institute was to arouse the consciousness of the public to the dangers of inflation in a wartime economy; to stimulate on part of civilians interest to help facilitate the government's control and regulation of wartime prices on consumer goods.

Mrs. C. Bass,
California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.
Dear Madam:

I am a regular reader of the "California Eagle." I enjoy it very much. I have been unusually impressed with the liberal actions the Eagle has taken in stamping out racial differences. I do believe, Mrs. Bass, that your paper is one of the greatest assets that our race has on the Pacific Coast. In order to continue receiving the Eagle, I would like to give you my new address, which is William T. Phillips S 2/c School of Military Proficiency, 16th Reg. U.S.N.T.C. Great Lakes, Ill. Please notify me when my subscription expires in order that I may renew it.

Yours truly,
William T. Phillips S2/c

P.S.—I took advantage of my absentee ballot and voted. It was the first time I have ever voted. I am a progressive Democrat; therefore I am for Roosevelt.

ARMISTICE DAY, 1944

By A. E. Housman from
"EPITAH OF THE FALLEN"

"Here lie we dead because we did not choose
To shame the land from which we sprung.
Life is perhaps no great thing to lose,
But young men think it is,
And we are young."

Rev. Albert Walker Will Preach Sunday At Pilgrim Baptist

Sunday will be a big day at our church. Rev. Albert Walker, acting pastor, will bring the message Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service. Subject: "I Have Finished My Course." Text found in 2nd Timothy, 6th verse. B.T.U. at 5:15 p.m. All members please be present. At 7 o'clock the Gospel Choir will have their regular program. This will be cut short, giving way to Rev. C. W. Clark, of Bessemer, who has been in the city for 4 weeks and will preach his farewell sermon. He is a great preacher.

Henry P. Markham is back after a visit to his mother, and many other places in the east.

Our pastor, who is still on his vacation, took time out to visit us last Sunday in both services. Rev. C. W. Nunn delivered last Sunday morning's message. Seven were added to our church. You are invited to all of our services. Rev. B. W. Wade, and Sister Lucile Graham, reporter.

Permanent Name Is Selected For New Community Church

The members and trustees of the newly organized community church, under the leadership of the Rev. Paul M. Marshall, the former minister of the First A. M. E. Zion Church, met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Elmore, and decided on a permanent name for the new community church, which has been tentatively caled the Zion Community Church.

The new name is The Carver Memorial Community Church, and it is located at 27th and Paloma Streets. The name was selected in the honor and memory of the late George Washington Carver, eminent scientist, sociologist, botanist and philanthropist, and an extraordinary Christian gentleman.

The officers and members of the new community church feel that no greater name could be chosen for a church which is destined to serve the people, because George Washington Carver was a man of implicit faith in good; a lover of flowers and plants, and all the creations of God in nature; a man who saw in every living thing, the beauty and power of the great Creator. This name was selected by the chairman of the trustes board, Mr. H. J. Elmore and excepted by vote.

We believe that the names of those who have contributed most to the advancement of the people of the world should forever be a beacon light to the youth of our generation and those who shall come after them. The objective of the church is to point youth toward the higher things in life as they have been scaled by those who wer the farthest down; who have pulled themselves up by their own bootstraps, and now their names live on forever.

Mrs. Mary Coggs is church clerk; Rev. Paul M. Marshall, minister.

Words are not always the auxiliaries of Truth. The spirit, and not the letter, performs the vital functions of Truth and Love. —Mary Baker Eddy will begin a revival at Emmanuel A. M. E. Church, 52nd & Compton Ave., Nov. 7th, and this meeting will continue until Friday Nov. 17th.

REVIVAL

Don't fail to hear this wonderful speaker as he is rated to be one of the best preachers in the A. M. E. Church. There is a Gospel Singer now traveling with him who will assist in the meeting.

The wonderful Choir of Ward Chapel under direction of Madame Woods will also assist in this meeting.

Women's Day At Universal

The second annual Women's Day Service will begin at 11:00 o'clock Sunday, November 12, at the Universal Evangelical Church 2503 South Central Avenue. Bishop M. R. Williams will bring the message. A splendid musical program is arranged.

REV. A. L. EDMONDS

At 3 p.m. Rev. Mrs. L. Beard of Kansas City, Mo., A.M.E. Zion Evangelist, will be guest speaker. Rev. Edmonds, the pastor of this church traveled with Sister Beard in many parts of the country. Hear them sing together. They make a real gospel team.

Highlight of the afternoon service will be Mrs. Mary Woolford, soloist, who took the part of a mother in the late picture "The Negro Soldier." She will sing request numbers for the pastor.

Sunday evening at 7:45 p.m., Rev. E. Matthews, associate pastor of the Independent Church of Christ, will speak with Miss Charlie Mae Lomax as guest soloist. You will miss a treat if you miss this. Women, let us help this young woman have the biggest day of her life. She has helped every church in this city have their Women's Day.

IN MEMORIAM

MAMIE V. WHITE

MOTHER DEAR

I cannot say, and I will not say
That you are dead—you are just away!
With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand,
You have wandered into an unknown land,
And left me dreaming how very fair
It must be, since you linger there.
And you—O! you who the wildest yearn
For the old time step and the glad return—
Think of her living on, as dear
In the love of There as the love of Here.
Think of her still as the same, I say;
You are not dead, you are just away!

To Speak On Women's Day at Bowen Methodist

This Sunday, November 12th, the Women of Bowen Memorial Methodist Church, East 36th and Trinity, will observe Women's Day. This marks the first observance in the short history of Bowen Church. The women under the leadership of Mrs. Myra Rhetta, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service, are determined to defeat the Bowen men who observed Men's day in a big way last Sunday. Supported by an inspired and active group of women in the church their threat is quite evident to win over the men.

Mrs. Vivian Osborne Marsh, Grand Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star has been engaged to deliver the address for the 11:00 a.m. worship service. She is the former Grand President of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. At present Mrs. Marsh is, besides being the Grand Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star, the State President of the Women's Federated Clubs. Supporting such an able speaker will be the Bowen forty voice women's choir under the direction of Mrs. Pauline Evans and accompanied by Mrs. Anna Scott, Bowen organist.

Sunday night, the 8:00 service will continue the precedent of the morning service in presenting to the members and friends of Bowen, a Women's Day observance that will long be remembered in services of its kind in Los Angeles church circles.

An invitation is cordially extended to the public and civic and religious organizations to attend and enjoy this first observance of Women's Day in the Bowen Memorial Methodist Church.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mortals and Immortals" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from I Corinthians: "As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly."

John's Gospel relates that a "nobleman, whose son was sick at Capernaum," came to Jesus, and said, "Sir, come down ere my child die. Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way." Later when the father enquired of his servants "the hour when he began to amend . . . , the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Jesus beheld in Science the perfect man, who appeared to him where sinning mortal man appears to mortals. In this perfect man the Saviour saw God's own likeness, and this correct view of man healed the sick."

Evangelist Preaches Here

Evangelist Ruth Hinkle, of South West Missouri AME Conference is here from St. Louis, Mo. to preach for revivals. Beginning November 5, she will conduct a two weeks revival at St. John's AME Church, 4903 Long Beach.

Services begin each night at 7:30 p.m. Come and refresh your soul. There will be good music each night. The Rev. Meldrid Carter is the pastor.

To Lecture at Sunday Eve Forum

Known as "apostle to the ignorant," Dr. Frank C. Laubach will tell his story of 100 million illiterates in a lecture before the Sunday Evening Club forum on November 12 at 8:15 p.m. The talk will be held in the First Congregational Church, Sixth and Commonwealth streets, and is open to the public free.

Addresses Group At White Church

Price Cobbs, the younger son of Dr. and Mrs. P. Price Cobbs, was chosen to deliver an address to the young people of Claremont Community Church, white, Sunday, Nov. 5. He was asked to speak on the subject, Justice For All. So well was his address received at the morning services that he was asked to repeat it in the evening. Young Cobbs is a BII student at Thomas Jefferson High School. He was sent as a representative of the Pilgrim Fellowship Group, a Non-sectarian religious organization for young people, sponsored by Mrs. Clara Scruggs. While in Claremont, he was the house guest of Mrs. Mary Cummings. He is a member of Phillips Temple C.M.E. Church.

'New Tasks On The Horizon'

"NEW TASKS ON THE HORIZON" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Dr. Stephen C. Tornay at public meeting of the Baha'is of Los Angeles, in the Halliburton Building, 1709 W. 8th Street, Sunday, November 12, 3 p.m.

Dr. Tornay will assign to individuals a definite responsibility in the period we are approaching, in line with the board outlines of the Baha'i Teachings for a unified world, as set down by the Founder of the Baha'i World Faith, Baha'u'llah, as the inevitable outcome of this age. All are welcome—there are no admission fees or collections.

Negro Soldiers

shifts fill in the rest of the 24 hours.

When the jeep that brought in Army pictorial photographer and myself to the camp today had finally lurched and snatched its way to the Battalion Headquarters, a big prisoner truck formation was slogging out of the camp. Five 2½-ton open trucks, jammed with Germans, hinged by, followed by one bearing 30 guards, whose carbine rifles bristled from a dozen different angles, the whole lumbering vehicle looking like a huge mechanized porcupine.

We presented our Army Public Relations credentials to the commanding officer and were directed, by our request, to the cage wardens' hut.

The administration of the camp is skillfully organized, and cage wardens are the heartbeat of its machinery.

There are two assigned to an enclosure, each commanding a German company of 250 men. They bear responsibilities entirely similar to that of a company commander. They are held to account for absolute discipline in their units. They are also charged with maintaining sanitation in the cage area, and they inspect food and clothing conditions among the prisoners, who are permitted to conduct their own mess. Numbers of the Nazis still wear their German uniforms, while others sport United States Army fatigues.

In the cage wardens' hut, a small wooden structure heated by an old-fashioned wood stove, we met several guards, cage wardens and checkers. The photographer, a Jewish-American soldier, collared one of the cage wardens and began asking questions that would help him in pictorial coverage of the camp. I talked with Sergeant Ralph Thomas, chief warden, 24, 228 West 149th Street, New York, N. Y.

"The prisoners," he told me, "are for the most part orderly, glad to get out of the war. Most of them wouldn't escape if they could. A couple of times a few have been left out on various jobs. All of them found their way back to the camp of their own will."

Just then a tall, blonde prisoner came into the hut carrying an arm full of wood. Promptly, he began poking at the fire, raking out ashes, piling up fresh fuel.

Sgt. Thomas called him.

The German spoke perfect English.

"Klaus," Sgt. Thomas said, "the reporter would like to know how long you have been in the German army and where you came from."

Klaus turned blue eyes on me, smiled. "I was born in Konogsburg," he confided, "I have been in the German army since the war started."

"Where have you served?" I asked.

"Mostly in Russia."

"Do you think the Germans can win?"

"Oh, no." With gestures, Klaus gave me to understand that such an idea was ridiculous.

"How do you feel about Jews?"

"Jews are like everybody else," he responded sweetly. "There is room in the world for everyone."

"What about Hitler's Jewish policy?"

"It was," Klaus looked for a word, found it—"a mistake."

"What do you think about Negroes?"

I was really pitching up his alley that trip.

"We like Negroes!" Klaus proclaimed, glancing benighly about his sepia audience.

"How many Germans here in camp believe as you do?" I wanted to know.

"Oh," Klaus considered, "about 80 per cent. The rest,"—he made a face—"are Nazis."

This shocking disclosure he followed up with a wise wagging of the head.

I thought the sweetness and light pretty gooey.

"How long," I asked, "did you serve on the Russian front?"

Klaus clammered up. "Two years," he said.

"Where?

"Near Smolensk." Dead serious now.

"What of the German murder of the civilians of Smolensk during the occupation?"

"I heard of it. I never saw anything like that," Klaus answered.

I could see that pretty soon now Klaus wouldn't be able to understand a word of English.

"What do you think of the Russians?"

"The Russians," — hate was snapping in those blue eyes now —"the Russians are terrible. They shot many prisoners. They are very bad. Americans and Germans are alike, but not Russians. They are very bad."

Klaus thought it was important to convince me on this point. He wanted to go on.

I cut him off, thanked him.

He went back to the stove, finished his job. Then he jumped to attention, clicked his heels and saluted before he left the room.

Sgt. Russell L. Copeland, 23, 1235 South Hobart Blvd., Los Angeles, a checker, responsible for keeping an accurate count of prisoners coming in and out of the camp on labor detail, put what I was thinking into words.

"The Germans," he said, "are plenty smart. They try to pretend they were never Nazis, never against Jews, never against Negroes, never wanted anybody else's country. Then they try to turn us against the Russians, so that we'll forget all about watching them."

I wished some of the peace-planners could have heard the sergeant.

Accompanied by Private Timothy H. Richardson, 31, 1047 East 47th Street, and James Thomas, 1857 East Vernon Avenue, Los Angeles, we left the hut to take our pictures.

One was a beautiful angle shot of a tall, black Negro soldier on his post 25 feet up a guard mount overlooking the cages.

Next we formed a sorry detail of German prisoners, gave them shovels and picks, placed a couple of Negro guards over them and flash-bulbed the whole crew. As the formation broke up, one wizened little Kraut looked at me, winked, and murmured, "Das goot propaganda."

Following that, a shot of prisoners getting their candy rations at their own post exchange. Then we headed for the afternoon's real event.

We were led to the special cage reserved for SS men.

No sooner than we entered than our man was spotted. One of the prisoners was the Hitler Jungen incarnate.

Tall, blonde, pink-skinned, blue-eyed, he was dressed in the striking powder blue of the German Air Corps, and an Iron Cross hung proudly from his chest.

When he saw us approach, he ducked into his pup tent. Only a poke with the muzzle-end of a carbine brought him out.

He was ordered to do some little police-up task in the enclosure under guard. The camera shutter blinked. The stuff was on film.

Our Nazi, his little yellow goatie, flashing blue eyes and all, returned stiffly to his tent, disappeared.

It had been a pretty tough session for him, I guess—caged in an American prison camp, photographed by a Jew, poked in the ribs by a gun in the hands of a Negro.

RETURNED TO HIS POST—Sgt. Douglas Van Vactor, recently home on furlough, is again at his post in Boston, Mass. A letter from him states he has been busy conducting German prisoners to prison camps and going to New Jersey for AWOL cases. Prior to his furlough, Sgt. Van Vactor completed the training of 40 MPs. While here, Sgt. Van Vactor was the recipient of many social courtesies, among them a party given by the Second Baptist BTU at the home of the president, Mrs. Margaret Moore. Mrs. Ella Van Vactor, a city teacher, is his mother.

Robt. Stevens Passes Here

Robert L. Stevens of 1214 E. 21st Street, Los Angeles, passed away November 7th at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Ora Jones Samuels.

He is survived by his widow, Lillie Bailey Stevens, and the above named sister. Funeral services will be held Monday at 1 p.m. from the James Mortuary, Pasadena, with Rev. S. M. Beane officiating.

KINLOCH'S CORNER

By John S. Kinloch

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE.—Men who have worked calmly unloading high explosives while anti-aircraft batteries sent up showers of flak all around them and tracer bullets pencilled deadly yellow streaks across the sky are the Negro soldiers of a Port Company here whose job of "passing the ammunition" has mounted into an important part of the biggest supply achievement in military history. Fourteen of them are from California, 12 from Los Angeles.

The Los Angeles men are:

Sgt. Newton B. Burton, 1572 East 32nd Street.

Cpl. Milton A. Edmonds, 1400 East 55th Street.

Pvt. John W. Lester, 1646 East 32nd Street.

Cpl. Lonnie Pitts, 1670 East 45th Street.

Cpl. Philip H. Smith, 2829½ Council Street.

Pvt. First Class John D. Bruce, 1149 East 49th Street.

Pvt. First Class Clifton Cutliff, 4058½ S. San Pedro Street.

Pvt. First Class George O. Wilson, 1476½ East 23rd Street.

Pvt. Whitfield W. Allen, 880 East 47th Street.

Pvt. Ramon M. Harris, 5030 Holmes Ave.

Pvt. Frank Martin, 1329 East 45th Street.

Cpl. Luther B. Moore, 1727 E. 40th Place.

Cpl. Harvey Tribble hails from Indio, and Pvt. George Mack Jr., once lived at 219 Evans Street, San Diego.

Hitting the beachhead in northern France shortly after D-day, men of the outfit have maintained a gruelling pace of round-the-clock labor, quietly smashing tonnage records day after day.

They have seen our Army hurl back the front line from a point scarcely forty miles away from their unloading bases to the Siegfried fortifications 400 miles distant. The supplies they have piled up in the communications zone here are the blood and sinew of the drive that tore the Germans from their stolen empire and sent them sprawling back to the Reich—or into our prison camps.

Because of the shortage of port facilities throughout the length of the invasion coast, 60% of all supplies have been landed on the beach by "ducks," the Army's sea-going trucks that haul cargo from the sides of merchant vessels to transfer points well up on the beach.

Frequently rough Channel weather makes this operation extremely dangerous for port company soldiers. Winch operators, carefully trained in one of the most technical of cargo handling tasks, must accurately gauge distance in depositing huge netfulls of supplies into the bobbing "ducks."

"We know that this stuff is what makes our offensives possible," said Sergeant Newton B. Burton of Los Angeles in accounting for the performance of his outfit.

"It was pretty hard to keep right on doing the job," chimed in Corporal Milton A. Edmonds, 1400 E. 55th Street, "when Eleven O'clock Charlie showed up." That was one of the names men on the beachhead bestowed upon a Nazi plane that came over each night regularly at that hour, drawing the frantic fire of ack-ack batteries up and down the coast.

Port company soldiers have mastered skills that are highly-paid jobs in civilian life. Crane operators, winchmen, soldiers who have learned the intricate science of cargo stacking will hold down important posts in their trade after the war.

"Proper loading and unloading of merchant ships by Army port company soldiers have been one of the real reasons for the supply miracle on the beachhead," pointed out First Lieutenant Edward T. McGowan, Jr., of Marysville, California, company commander.

As winter months approach, soldiers of this unit are determined to build a backlog of supplies to reinforce the round-house wallop that will send Hitler's armies scrambling back to Berlin.

FORT BELVOIR, Va.—Pvt. Calvin L. Winston, 1208 W. 36th Place, Los Angeles, Calif., has cocpleted a 3 months course in Engineer Drafting. He is the son of Mrs. Helen Winston of Los Angeles. Pvt. Winston attended Manual Arts High School and Santa Monica Junior College in California.

New St. John Baptist Church Opens Doors to L. A. Populace

On last Sunday morning the new St. John Baptist Church, under the leadership of the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, opened her magnificent portals to the populace of Los Angeles.

At 2727 E. First Street stands one of the most beautiful church sites of this city. The grounds and buildings are conspicious by their neat simplicity and quiet grandeur.

The initial Sunday praise and thanksgiving service was indeed a memorable one. Despite inclement weather an enthusiastic crowd of worshippers thronged the temple.

DIES—The Rev. Edward Thomas Hubbard died last Sunday, November 5, 1944, after a protracted illness.

The Rev. Hubbard was born in Stockton, Calif., Jan. 7, 1867. He was the son of a minister, James Hubbard. Being a minister's family, they traveled a great deal. He spent his early boyhood in Denver, Colorado. He finished his high school in Denver, and later attended Wilberforce University to complete his education.

He spent several years in the Midwest, then returned to California. After preaching for several years, he married. He had nine children, four of whom preceded him in death. He leaves a wife, four sons, a daughter, nine grandchildren, a sister and nephew, and two brothers-in-law.

At the request of St. Johns pastor, the Rev. H. A. Peterson, pastor of the First Baptist Church at Okmulgee, Oklahoma, journeyed here to preach the dedicational sermon. Profoundity and high spirituality were the keynotes of this unforgettable sermon. All who heard him declared him to be one of the nation's greatest. The Rev. W. A. Peterson will be conducting inspirational services throughout the week.

God hath done great things for us whereof we are glad. He has led us to a place where peace, harmony and love reign supreme.

The church program that has been handed down to us by our far-sighted leader is one that is destined to bless to a far reaching degree. Every St. Johnite is behind his pastor and program one hundred per cent.

On next Sunday morning, Nov. 12th at 11 a.m., the Rev. J. H. Branham, Jr., of Chicago will be preaching for us. Come early and secure a seat.

Come and see how the Lord has blessed us. Come and enjoy the friendliest church in this city. Come and hear our magnetic pastor, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, preach as he has never preached before.

A warming atmosphere of southern hospitality awaits you here. There is a place for you in the great St. John Baptist Church.

Take P car to Mott Street. Walk 1 block east to 2727 East First Street. Every sinner come and be saved; every backslider come and be reclaimed; every Christian come and renew your strength.

RECEIVED DEGREE IN SOCIOLOGY — Pictured above in graduation cap and gown, is Miss Jacqueline Wilson, popular young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson, who received her degree of B. A. in Sociology, at the University of Southern California last month. Miss Wilson received her entire education in Los Angeles, having come from Chicago to California with her parents at the age of four. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority and Graminateus of Sigma Chapter. For the past three years she has been very active in YWCA work, serving as advisor for the Manuel Arts Tri-Y, and taking part in Y-work at USC. Miss Wilson is the fiancee of Maxwell Minnis of New York City. He is at present stationed in England with the E. T. O. Miss Wilson plans to continue her studies at Columbia University in the near future.

Shepp's New Show Solidly Sends Eagle Scribes

J. T. GIPSON'S

★★ CANDID COMMENTS ★★

ALEXANDER DUMAS WATSON, HEAVYWEIGHT CHAMPION OF MEXICO!

And there I sat, in his cozy apartment room on Naomi street, in wide-eyed open-mouthed amazement hardly believing my eyes, as I saw the heavyweight champion of Mexico drinking MILK! Ordinarily, Eddie Burbridge (the poor man's Grantland Rice) handles the sports articles for this sheet. But this isn't an "ordinary" sports article. This rather hard-to-believe story of a Milk Drinking Champ is one for the books. And most of the "books" on Central will bet you anything from marbles to chalk that it isn't true. I'd bet against it too, if I hadn't seen it with my own eyes. And all because the Heavyweight Champion of Mexico is the one, the only, the Unpredictable Watson Jones! Yes, the same Watson Jones who knocked the rough and tough Fitzie Fitzpatrick into oblivion a couple of weeks ago at the Olympic auditorium to cop the Light-Heavyweight crown.

His real nom de plume is Alexander Dumas Watson. How he acquired the "Jones" moniker will take but a paragraph, so we may as well tell you. Gorilla Jones, one time Champion of the Middleweight division, was (and still is) Wallopin' Watson's idol. He taught the "reformed" playboy of the ring how to throw thrills with his left hook. In fact, he taught Alexander Dumas Watson just about everything Alexander Dumas Watson knows about boxing. So, idolizing his teacher and idol more than somewhat, he used his name in the fighting rings. Gee, wonder if I'll ever change my name to Winchell? Anyway, on with the story . . .

HARLEM'S ANSWER TO GENE TUNNEY?

"You know, Gip," he said after downing his 2nd glass of milk, "I'm really serious about taking my training seriously." We didn't say anything. "Honest," he said, looking at the glass of milk as the trying to think of a good reason why he shouldn't drink it, "They call me a Playmoy and all that sorta theeng, but you're now looking at a renovated Watson Jones." The word Watson meant in place of 'renovated' is rejuvinated. "Why, lookit Gene Tunney," he continued, "That guy never hung out at the bars, and he was a champion." "Are you gonna stay out of all the bars on the avenue?" we asked. "Dam, Sam!" he exploded "Gimme a chance. Rome wasn't built in a day. Learning how to drink this stuff is bad enough," he said referring to the milk. Had Watson Jones expected our visit, then we would have surmised that his milk-drinking act was but a front to fool a Candid Commentator. But Watson, nor anyone else at the Jones residence, knew of our intended visit. We just casually dropped by to congratulate him on his win over Fitzpatrick. Watson Jones, California's most colorful boxer in and out of the ring, is the hottest fistic attraction in California today. We've followed his career for many a month, and in these pages a few weeks back, we paragraphed that "Watson Jones' toughest assignment won't be with Fitzie Fitzpatrick, it will be (if and when they fight) against a Tiger named Sheppard."

Do I hear someone ask: "Whoz Tiger Sheppard?" Well, for the benefit of the lone unbooted boxing character who isn't up on his boxing, we'll tell you a little about Tiger Sheppard. Losing but three out of ninety-seven bouts, Sheppard fought and beat everything his weight around Houston, Texas (his home town). Running out of worthy opponents, he packed bag and baggage and hied off to the state of Mexico, where he met and beat the Champion of Mexico in a title bout there. The Tiger was sittin' pretty, until Watson and his manager decided to spend their vacation in Mexico. That decision proved the Tiger's downfall. The first thing Watson wanted to know when he arrived in Mexico was, "Who's the Champeon here?" When informed that it was a Tiger named Sheppard, Watson decided then and there that he, Alexander Dumas Watson, wanted to be the Heavyweight Champion of Mexico. And when Alexander Dumas Watson (alias Watson Jones) decides he wants to do something (and puts his heart to doing it), there is no stopping him. And he wanted to be the Heavyweight Champion of Mexico. There was no stopping him. He trained as seriously for that bout as the one with Fitzie Fitzpatrick. It was, as Watson puts it, "one of my hardest fights." But then, that's the type of guy he is. He never takes anything away from a fighter. All of his fights are "one of my hardest fights." Anyway, to make a long story sweller, at the end of fifteen hard-fought rounds, the referee raised Watson Jones' meticulously-manicured hands in a token of victory with the announcement that he, Alexander Dumas Watson Jones, was "The Winner and New Heavyweight Champion of Mexico!" As one sportswriter from Down Mexico way put it: "A champion is supposed to be the boss. Tiger Sheppard either couldn't or wouldn't take charge of the situation last night and as a result he isn't bossing the Heavyweight division any more. The new Champion is a good-looking bronze-skinned Negro from California named Watson Jones. That name you should remember. He someday might beat Choo Louis!" Of course, my contemporary in the field of Journalism meant, with a little more weight added on. On the night of his recent fight with Fitzpatrick, Jones looked as good to me as a new 1944 Cadillac Coupe with pre-war white sidewall tires. Watson had what it took on this occasion, thanks to the good training job of Ripley Roseburrow and Benny Something-or-other. I never could spell Benny's last name correctly, but anyway, he promises your newsboy that Watson will have what it takes on all future occasions! The dapper Mister Jones himself, looking like a carbon copy of Charles Boyer curled up on one of the twin beds in his room with a glass of milk in his hands, assured us of that fact when he stated that he was tired of being referred to as a Playboy, but wanted (in the future) to be known as "The Champ." The Champ, then, he shall be known as. There's irony to every good news story. The irony to this one is that the man who acted as Watson Jones' only sparring partner for his Fitzie Fitzpatrick fite; the man who got Watson into such superb ring shape, was the ex-heavyweight champion of Mexico, Tiger Sheppard! The story on Alexander Dumas Watson (Jones) is nearing its end. Now for the O. Henry climax. As we get up to leave, Watson said "Wait a minute, Gip. Have a drink." He reached under his bed, pulled out a suitcase, brought out a quart of MILK and remarked to his trainer: "Go get us some Ice!"

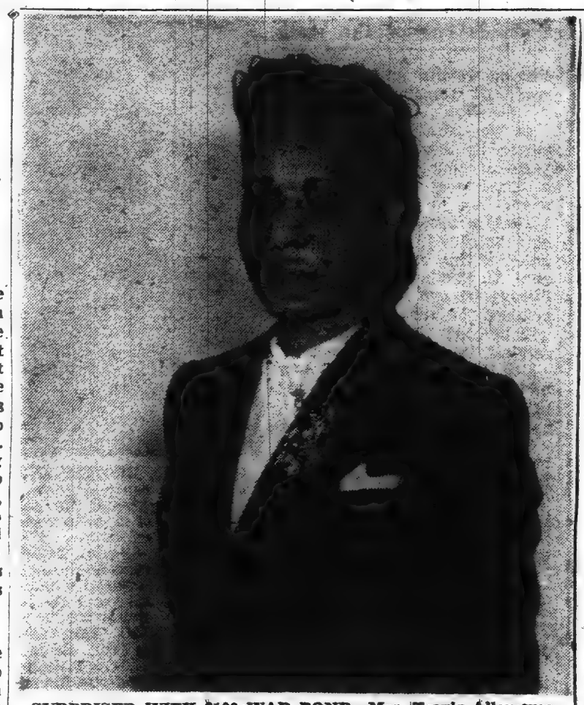
Alexander Dumas Watson, a reformed character.

Leonard Reed Scores Big Hit With 'Ship Ahoy'

By J. T. GIPSON

The other evening while sane people stayed in out of the rain and cold, Sports Editor Eddie Burbridge and your corpulent and collaspible correspondent fought our way through the Central avenue traffic to Shepp's Playhouse, cozy downtown bistro located in the Bronzeville sector. Don't think it wasn't fun wading through puddles of rain just to catch Leonard Reed's new show, because it wasn't. If I had to do it over again, however, I would do it the same way! And all because the current show at Shepp's is worth wading through puddles of rain to see.

EVERY ACT A STAR



Herb Jeffries is billed as the star of the show. And he lives up to his billing all the way. In fact, just about any act in the current production could be billed as "the star." All the acts are crowded with class. The eight beautiful brownskin chorus girls could easily be billed as "stars of the show." They have looks, talent, and are just about the dancingest gals to hit this neck of the woods in ages. Other acts to come in for spotlight honors are Dandridge and Ware, a clever boy-girl dancing dup; Saxie Williams, a newcomer to the nightclub circuit here who can do more with his dancing feet than a monkey can with a cago o' coconuts. An extriordinary clever team of neatly-dressed hoofers who bill themselves as The Two Hot Shots but who, in reality, isn't anyone but Sneeks and Amy, rates terrific applause from the customers on hand. Gal name June Youngaeo (that's the way it's spelled, Mr. Printer) does terrific singing and Leonard Reed is on hand to keep moving along at a lively pace. Gerald Wilson's band is charge de affaires of the music department. And they keep the situation definately in hand!

SURPRISED WITH $100 WAR BOND—Mrs. Travis Allen was surprised last Saturday night when a telephone call informed her that she had been awarded a $100 War Bond as the result of a donation she had made to the 62nd Assembly District fund to help in the election of the Roosevelt-Truman slate. The only member of her race employed as a lead woman at North American plant, she has worked at North American for two years and one month.

Los Angeles Matrons Organize A Robert Folkes Defense Club

On Sunday afternoon, November 5th, a group of prominent Los Angeles Club women met at the residence of Mrs. Julia Richardson, 1165 E. 48th Street, and organized a ROBERT FOLKS DEFENSE CLUB. These gracious ladies have pledged themselves to raise $2,000.00 to carry the Folkes case to the United States Supreme Court. They have secured the Villa Arlington for Sunday, November 19th gor a grand reception. Many celebrities will be there to help such a worthy cause. They have also planned to have Attorney Leroy Lomax, the man who has worked so diligently to keep Robert Folkes from the gas chamber, as the principle speaker of the evening. The ladies present were:

Myrtle V. Jordan, Julie Richardson, Vernal B. Lewis, Della McDonald, Bertha E. Barard, Helen Davis, Feeca Cannon, Juanite Bell, Myrtle C. Bailey, Martha Belle Rutherford, Bessie Garcia, Clara Powell, Vivian Bradley, Katie Fillmore, Cassie Harris, Marjorie Bailey, Migon Braxton, Mary Lou Green, Isabell Fairchild, Dewtrill Fackler, Mae Killer, Sadie Staley, Alma Eaton, Kathryn Johnson, Vera McGuinn, Edna Blouin, Josephine Pollard, Juanita Henderson, Freda Foster, Theresa Edwards, Lyntine King, Irene Bradford, Edna Smith, Hattie Sanders, Helen Lyons, and Allene D. Radford.

Representing the Robert Folkes Defense Fund was Claude McGuinn of the Dining Car Employees.

Any ladies interested may contact Mrs. Allene D. Radford, 4006½ South Central Avenue or call Century 2-2511. The public is invited.

THRILL TO THE RHYTHMS OF THE LEE YOUNG TRIO

Gerald Wilson in 'Solid' Opening

Making their debut in the new Leonard Reed production at Shepp's Playhouse, Gerald Wilson and his newly organized sixteen piece band had the first night crowd stomping, whistling and shouting in approval of the brand of rhythm they dish out. They play far different music than emulates from the horns of most present day bands. They have a smooth distinctive style of toying with a ballad, and they also do justice to a swing arrangement whenever the occasion arises. It isn't "just another band," it's a SWINGSATIONAL band that you'll soon be hearing more about as time goes by.

They have what it takes to sail stratispheric heights in a blaze of glory.

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER'S THE LIONS ROAR

Published in this space every week

The greatest star of the screen!

It's the stirring story of two people in love. Of a guy named "Steve"—who came to this land of opportunity with $4.28 in his pocket, and glory in his heart. And of "Anna"—the red-headed girl he loved!

★ ★ ★ ★

It's M-G-M's "An American Romance" in Technicolor!

Brian Donlevy plays "Steve"—who has a smile no girl could resist. "New Find" Ann Richards is warm, cuddly, and beautiful as the girl who shares his dreams and struggles!

You will thrill to the fight, the love, the surge, the drama of their life together! For their glowing romance is symbolic of all the people, great and small, who helped make our nation the wonder of the whole, wide world!

★ ★ ★ ★

You will never see a greater love or a bigger adventure on the screen!

★ ★ ★ ★

The warmth, the tenderness, the power of this brilliant film is the work, primarily, of Director King Vidor, who has so magnificently captured the greatness of America.

★ ★ ★ ★

The supporting cast—Walter Abel, John Qualen, Horace McNally, to mention a few—is as wonderful as the perfected Technicolor in which "An American Romance" is photographed.

★ ★ ★ ★

When you see it, you will know that something of yourself is surely in it!

Earl Hines Plays Two Dances on Sat.-Sun., Nov. 11-12

Make Rhythms At Musical Feast

New Lincoln Park Auditorium Opens With Top Band

(By Paul McGee for ONAA)

Swing, Boogie - Woogie and sweet tunes will be included in the giant musical feast offered by Earl (Fatha) Hines and his nationally famous orchestra Saturday and Sunday nights, November 11th and 12th, when the swank Lincoln Park Auditorium formally opens its doors to the public. The dance palace is one of the largest and most modern in the country.

The band, fresh from Eastern and local trimuphs, has regularly topped dance attendance records and according to advance ticket sales, Saturday and Sundays performances will also attact capacity attendances. Superb showmanship of as well as their fine musical ability makes the band an enjoyable feature to watch as well as to dance to.

Decorated by Hollywood artists, the auditorium's lavish features includes a 100 ft. bar, mezzanine and lounge conveniences that are equaled no place on the West coast. The sleek dance floor will accomodate more than 5000 dancers comfortably. A modern parking lot is maintained for guests. The auditorium is located opposite Lincoln Park on Mission Road and may be reached by the "O" or "9" car. Advance tickets may be obtained by the Karl Drug Store, 4312 Central Avenue.

KOLAX IN MIDWEST

GARY, Ind.—King Kolax, "The Trumpet Sensation of the nation" brought his great orchestra into Majestic ballroom at Inriana Harbor this week for an Armistice Day dance for the Four Aces Club.

TO SING IN PASADENA AUDITORIUM—Miss Cecil Buchanan will be presented in recital on Thursday, Nov. 30, 1944, at Pasadena Junior College auditorium, under the auspices of the Negro Business and Professional Women's Club; Mrs. Rhoda Calmore Harris and Mrs. Ada Brownlee as sponsors.

Miss Buchanan is a product of the Pasadena schools graduating from P. J. C. in 1936. She studied three years at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Mass. Giving her first concert there and was hailed as a great artist.

Coming back to the coast she was presented in concert in Los Angeles to a record crowd.

She is being tutored by Prof. Ingenuus Bentzar of Hollywood. Mr. Bentzar was at one time coach of the Royal Opera of Denmark and musical director of Metro-Goldwyn Studio. Mr. Bentzar believes Miss Bunchanan has the promise of another Marion Anderson.

Phi Beta Sigma Holds Meeting

The Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, whose membership roll reads like "Who's Who" in Los Angeles, met last Monday night at the imposing "Sheltering Arms," parsonage of the Trinity Baptist Church, 3601 S. Arlington Ave. Brother Jonathan L. Caston, the scholarly and cultured minister of the Trinity Baptist Church and his wife hosted the clan with a complete Thanksgiving Dinner with all the trimmings and graciously welcomed them to their elaborate domicile. The quiet grandeur and sophisticated refinement of this Christian home must be enjoyed as Sigmas enjoyed it to properly appreciate its beauty. Sigmas along with all Los Angeles are proud of the brilliant leadership of this man of the cloth who is always found in the front ranks of every racial movement looking forward to improvement.

Dr. C. W. Hill, president of Phi Beta Sigma, presided over the session with unique dignity and dispatch as many important matters were considered. Two new members, Brother Afue McDowell and Brother Roy Williams were presented their membership certificates and cards by Brother Caston and were given the grip and the right hand of fellowship by Brother Edgar Brown, past president of Sigma.

The George Washington Carver Monthly Awards were presented to Brothers Alfred Maddox, of the Maddox Realty Co., Clarence Muse, actor, who earlier in the evening had added lustre to his name by appearing in a nation-wide broadcast with the President of the United States, William Nickerson Jr. president of the Golden State Mutual Insurance Co., Dee Hodge of the same company and Curtis Taylor, prominent attorney.

Cited this month for the December presentation was Brother Harry Mercer, who has recently opened one of America's finest Recreation Centers and Bowling Alleys in the 4500 block on South Central Avenue.

Plans were laid for a banquet honoring Brother W. A. Goodloe, prominent American Gynecologist and a Sigma from Washington, D.C., at the Villa Arlington. One hundred fifty bids will be sent out with the Zetas joining with the brothers in the most elaborate social affair of the season. Brother Alfred Maddox is general chairman and Clarence Muse will bring the entertainment from Hollywood's best.

Of interest to the entire city is the news that plans are getting under way for the National Conclave of Phi Beta Sigma here next July. A membership drive to increase the membership of the local chapter to one hundred is in full swing. Those present Monday night were: Brothers C. W. Hill, Oscar Stokes, Alfred Maddox, Edgar Brown, Afue McDowell, Granville Norman, Irvin Smith, Frank Zetar, Roy Williams, R. P. Williams, Harry G. Mercer, George Garner, Cecil Davis, Clarence Muse, S. P. Johnson, William Perry, Ben Carter, N. P. Young and J. L. Caston.

APPRECIATION

Mrs. Fay Allen, democratic central committee chairmen and coordinator for the 62nd Assembly district throughout the recent campaign expressed her gatitude to the many workers who gave their time, money and automobiles to assist in the victory at the polls. "The results justify the work we did, and I am grateful to everyone who helped in any way," she said today.

Bob Parrish to Form Swing Orch

Bob Parrish is about to form a swing band! Don't tell anyone you haven't heard of Bob Parrish, or you'll be listed as a boob. The following information is for the "boobs" in the audience. Bob Parrish, whose ginger colored hair is part of his charm, is known along nightclub row as "the Sinatra of the Baritones." Now in his eleventh month at the Hollywood Bar of Music, the dapper Bob is well known in theatrical circles, having starred in "The Mikado," "Sweet 'n Hot," and other musical shows.

Baha'i's To Observe Birth Of Baha'u'llah

Several hundred Baha'is, able to overcome transportation problems, will gather from various cities in the Southland to share with the Los Angeles Baha'is in the celebration of the Birth of Baha'u'llah, to be held at their center, Saturday evening, November 11. There will be outstanding music by well-known Baha'i artists, and films of the recent Centennial Celebration at Wilmette, and of the Holy Land. It is a gathering for Baha'i membership only and the Baha'is of the area are looking forward to this date with eagerness.

Awarded $100 Bond in 62nd District Drive

Mrs. Travis Allen of 1021 E. 53rd St. was resting at home Saturday night when the phone rang. "This is Mrs. Fay Allen, co-ordinator of the 62nd Assembly District Democratic Headquarters," she was informed, "you have just won a one hundred dollar War Bond."

Mrs. Allen expressed her surprise by promptly losing her voice. When she recovered it, she promply told Mrs. Allen how happy she was to have participated in the contributions which were used for the re-election of FDR and the Democratic candidates.

For the last two years and a half, Mrs. Travis Allen has been employed at North American Aviation. How well she performs her duties is attested to by the fact that she is the only leadwoman of her race in the plant. She is the first woman to finish the Supervisorial course at North American.

Working the swing shift has kept Mrs. Allen busy, but she took every opportunity available to root for FDR. Although she is not a member of the union, she says she plans to remedy that condition in the very near future.

The bond awarded at the conclusion of a fund raising drive organized by Mrs. Fay Allen to raise funds for the 62nd campaign costs.

Benjamin Canson Taken By Death

Benjamin James Canson, who died at 2:30 a.m. on October 24, 1944, was born May 14, 1922, in Shreveport, Louisiana. His family moved to Los Angeles when he was at the age of one year and six months. Benjamin was a graduate of the Junior Ruis High School, and had been employed by the United States Air Port.

Benjamin was a devoted son and brother and was very popular among his many friends and associates. He was the oldest of three children, and beloved to the moment that he was deprived of his last fleeting breath. His death came as a complete shock to his many friends and relatives.

The passing of Benjamin James Canson, at 2:30 a.m. on October 24, 1944, was a complete shock to his many friends and relatives.

He was an amiable person, faithful to his friends and never forgot a promise. At the time of his death he was touring, on his way to San Francisco, and involved in a car accident which proved fatal.

Benjamin Canson leaves to mourn him a mother, father, sister and brother, grandmother, several aunties, uncles, cousins, and a host of friends and acquaintances.

Ladies' Social Sewing Club

The Ladies Social Sewing Club met at the home of Mrs. Precious Mills, 1228 East 56th Street, November 1. The club was wonderfully entertained.

Club members are asked to be present and on time, November 15, at the home of Mrs. Bessie Nash, 5440 Holmes St. Otherwise they will be missing something.

Officers are Miss Augustine Parker, president, Mrs. Marie Winfrey, secretary, Mrs. Georgia Robinson, treasurer, and Mrs. W. B. Bennett, reporter.

Birthday Party At Club Alabam

On October 28, 1944, Mr. Claud Devers gave his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Devers, a lovely birthday party at the Club Alabam. The cover was laid for fourteen. Mrs. Dever received many useful gifts. The orchestra played "Happy Birthday To You" for her. Her guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bowie, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Stark, Mrs. Elizabeth Garnett, Mr. Mason and guest.

MRS. CORDELIA P. GIVENS

Mrs. Cornelia Perry Givens, a pioneer resident of Los Angeles, passed recently following a lingering illness. Funeral services were held at the Angelus Funeral Home with the Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, pastor of the 2nd Baptist Church officiating. Vocal selections were rendered by Florence McCleave Cole, Ivan Harold Browning, and Georgina Brown.

Letters of condolence and many floral funeral pieces were received by the family from all over the country. Interment was at Evergreen Cemetery.

Born in Louisville, Kentucky, Feb. 1, 1863, the deceased lived for a time, in Meesho, Missouri where she received much of her primary education. She married Philips Givens whose father is the founder of the First Baptist Church in that city.

Beginning with her residence in California in 1909, the deceased took an active interest in community, civic and church affairs. She was a faithful member of Second Baptist Church.

Surviving are nine children, Mrs. Addie Lawrty, Mrs. Jane Lee, Mrs. Paul R. Williams, Mrs. Charles Satchell Morris, and Nathaniel, Walter, Philip, Gordon and William Givens, and twenty-one grandchildren. She leaves a host of other relatives and friends to mourn their loss.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

NOTE: Having looked at the copy of "CANDID COMMENTS" for this week and noting that the noted JT Gipson had devoted his entire space to sports there is nothing left for me but to devote "LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE" this week to theatricals. Shut up, Gipson and Winchell! Well, here goes:

This scribe hauled his aging carcass into the confines of the Club Alabam for a looksee at the "Drag Ball" not many moons ago and gracious me, but the "boygirls" had taken over completely. After a quick look I beat a hasty retreat. I did see a couple or so stroll across the floor clad in ladies' finery that made a lotta women present green with envy. Gee, but they were glamorous but obvious, if you collar my weak jive. As I made the door I heard one say: "That old wench tried to snatch my hair off." That was enough for me. I hied myself off to the Margol Club up around 52nd and Central where men are men at all times —I hope. No sooner had I deposited my ample frame on a chair before something happened that caused by failing eyes to pop wide open with amazement. Without so much as an announcement a guy walked out into the middle of the room and stood on his head. I gaped, one of the proprietors, Johnny Reeves, gaped. His alert co-partner, Arthur Jarvis, immediately walked over to the patron and said, "We have known that our wine was powerful, Buddy, but this is the first time we've seen it stand a man on his head. What goes?" By twisting my neck almost out of joint I managed to see a sad expression cross the face of the customer as he replied, ::Don't get upset, Brother. For over 40 years I've looked at the world while standing on my feet and tonight I just wanted to see if the damn place looked any better when I stood on my head." He sighed and concluded as he bounced to his feet, "It doesn't." Naturally this experience after that of the Alabam was enough to send he hustling home to look in my mirror to see if any material change had come over me that made me see things that wasn't. . . . Two nights later, having convinced myself that all was well, I sneaked up into an after-hours spot on Jefferson Blvd., where a solid square with beautiful hair gave me a glare and served me a drink at a price that made me ask for a glass of water to keep from choking. Leaving this throwback to the days of the Dalton Boys, who at least used guns to take your gold, I hied myself off to the Cafe Society along San Pedro way. Here a snappy band was busily engaged in beating their brains out while a comfortable supply of patrons were tearing around the floor madly and getting nowhere as far as I could see. However, they seemed satisfied to wear their shoes down to their next ration stamp so it would have been foolish for me to object. . . . From this palace of clattering feet I jumped over to the Club Plantation in my V-2, (it used to be a V-8 but six of 'em were lost somewhere along the way by a previous owner). At the hottest spot in Watts and plenty other United States territory I watched the new show that Joe Morris was presenting and it was a scorcher. Backed by the one and only Erskine Hawkins and his orchestra the show was a fast-moving vehicle featuring Tomago and Queita, the Three Rockets, Ford, Harris and Jones, Effie Smith and Jimmie Mitchell. It was a solid sender for a bender (I coined that last expression myself, JT. It's coprighted, so don't use it). . . . Taking a rocket plane from Joe's I just managed to reach Shepp's Playhouse in time to see Leonard Reed's new show "Ship Ahoy" and listen to Gerald Wilson and his 15-piece band. The show, which starred Herb Jeffries, the Two Hot Shots, Saxie Williams, Dandridge and Ware coupled with the witty quips of Emcee Reed and the shapely legs of the chorus (I didn't see their faces) was really a wow. I did notice Betty Quincey in the chorus line. She's the Chickadee who baked a cake at my mansion (?) last Sunday before an appreciative audience including my brother Nat, he's in the navy (cheers), and Yvonne Mason, a glamorete (that's mine too, JT). Betty doesn't know this but after she left the cake dropped on the kitchen floor and now I have a cellar. Thanks, Kid . . . Well, I'm tired trying to out gyp Gipson and out "Winch" (gosh, that's lousy) Winchell, so I'll close by assuring Eagle readers that they won't have to endure another theatrical column by yours truly for some time, which is probably the best news you've read since you learned that Roosevelt had been re-elected.

Torpedo Reed Defeated By Arturo Barron In 6 Rounds

In a hectic top six-round battle of six bouts of that distance, Tiger Shepard, 192, decisioned Bob Smith, 188, getting the verdict from the referee, Johnny Indrisano, and the judges, at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night.

In another six-rounder Arturo Barron, 138, got a decision over Torpedo Reed, 138, for his ninth straight victory. He slapped Reed down in the third.

Bobby Jackson, 130, t.k.o.'d Bert White, 127, in the third round of the opening bout, and Petey Wheatstraw, 145, t.k.o.'d Charlie Early, 144, in the first round with a flock of right hands to the jaw.

In a torrid six-rounder Don Lee, 147, a brother of Glenn Lee, earned a decision over Mickey Gamiere, 142, in six heats.

Vicent Villavicencio, 156, got the verdict over Bob Ferris, 152.

Manuel Ortiz defends his bantamweight title next Tuesday night in a scrap with Louis Castillo.

Royals Tie Barons, 3-3

Last Wednesday night under lights at Wrigley Field the Kansas City Royals battled the Birmingham Black Barons to a 3-3 tie before 4000 fans. The game was called in the 11th inning because of a time limit.

Batteries for the Barons were McDaniels, Markham, Saylor and Bowden, for the Royals, Brewer, Moreland and Mackie, Bassett.

AGUA CALIENTE, Mex.—One of the smallest crowds that ever witnessed the races at the Caliente was on hand last Sunday to witness the old war horse Bulwark, win the feature event of the day at one-mile and one-sixteenth. Jockey A. Fermin kept Bulwark in front nearly all the way to win by two lengths, paying in the Mutuels $12.00. In the second feature, Ronrico won by eight lengths, his backers receiving $4.60 for two. In the daily double Sir Franklin and Bornallo made up the winning combination paying $53.80 while the Quiniela paid $12.20. Some of the leading Jockeys will make the trip down to the border course for the Sunday races. Generalissimo Eddie Nealis will release his winter stake book very soon.

BOXING BRIEFS

WATSON JONES, who kayoed Fitzy Fitzpatrick in one round last week to grab the light-heavyweight title of California, received a check for $4230 rewarding his efforts. His opponent received the same amount. It took Jones less than 3 minutes to earn the above amount. Watson may meet Fitzpatrick in a rematch at Cleveland, Ohio, in a Xmas Fund show.

OCEAN PARK Arena bouts Monday night found Roy Miller, 161, losing a 10-round decision to Leon Zorrita, 158, in a heated contest and Jack Butler, 170, and Frankie Valdez, fighting a tame draw in the semi-windup.

BALTIMORE — 6000 fans watched Joe Louis drop Charley Crump in the first round and go on to give a pleasing three round exhibition at the Coliseum here Monday night. In the feature bout, Holman Williams, 161, won a unanimous decision over Kid Tunero of Havana in 10-rounds.

AT HOLLYWOOD Legion Stadium last Friday night Enrique Belanes, 125¾, won the nod in ten-rounds over Tony Olivera, 122½. In the semi-windup, Pee Wee Lewis drew with Manuel Zurita, brother of Juan Zurita, the lightweight champion. Zurita was making his United States debut.

PORTLAND (Or.) — Henry Armstrong, 140, Los Angeles, knocked out Mike Belloise, 138, New York City, last Saturday night in the fourth round of their scheduled 10-round main event. 20 seconds after the bell sounded for the fourth Armstrong caught Belloise with a smashing left hook to the chin and the fight was over.

DETROIT—Johnny Denson of Indianapolis was knocked out in the second-round of a scheduled three-round exhibition bout here last Friday night by heavyweight Champion Joe Louis.

Classy Card At Hollywood Track Armistice Day

INGLEWOOD, CAL.—With its most successful opening half week having gone into the records, Hollywood Park embarks on its first week of racing. Its opening day being one in which Southern California sportsmen and sportswomen gave their full approval by a record totalizer wagering mark.

The State of California on Wednesday received as its share the largest share of money from this source since the inception of racing at the popular and easily accessible Inglewood course. It was $54,540.96.

Such mercury footed two-year-olds fillies as Sea Floe, Tica Tica, Roguish Shot, Lady Blenheim, Bar Edyth, Little Nina, Loved, Belito Gold, and a dozen more may go postward. Gold Salute won the opening race on Wednesday in impressive fashion.

All through the entire five days of racing splendid cards are assured as contestants in each event are sprinkled with three and four thousand dollar races in addition to the minimum $2,000 events.

The holiday Saturday, Armistice Day will feature the Will Rogers Handicap at seven furlongs, a race for all ages with a $15,000 emolument as the inducement.

Claim That Slugger White Had Eye Removed In Baltimore, Md.

SACRAMENTO—Declaring no definite information had been obtained from commission officials, Joe Gensles, secretary to the State Boxing Commission, stated last week end unofficial word had come to him that Luther (Slugger) White, Negro boxer, had had a natural eye removed and a glass one put in after his Oct. 23, 1943, fight with Sammy Angott in Los Angeles.

White went back to Baltimore for the operation, according to Genshlea's information.

Leon L. Raines, chairman of the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission, wired Genshlea this morning to ascertain White's true condition. Raines asked in the wire "if it is definite White has a glass eye and how long he has had it."

White could not be located today, Genshlea said, and there is a report he has returned to Baltimore again.

Efforts here to reach Jules Covey, chairman of the Boxing Commission, last Tuesday night were unsuccessful. Inquiries about the removal of White's eye made here earlier brought the answer that the eye had been removed after his bout with Henry Armstrong, which came after the bout with Angott.

Polytechnic's prep cage team in a practice game last Wednesday defeated Dorsey, 44-34.

Frisco Clippers Play L. A. Mustangs Sunday

The second best team in the American League and the circuit's No. 1 individual player will be seen on the Gilmore Stadium gridiron again Sunday afternoon when the San Francisco Clippers and Kenny Washington return to face Big Bill Freelove's Los Angeles Mustangs.

When the teams met recently in San Francisco, the Clippers won by score of 27 to 7. It was one of the most exciting games seen at Kezar Stadium and was highlighted by the antics of the lanky Mustang Negro end, Ezzrett Anderson, whose all-around play and completion of a 55-yard forward pass to Pete Meyers all but stole the show from Kenny Washington.

Beaten twice by the undefeated Hollywood Rangers, the Clippers have defeated every other team in the American League. Washington was handicapped last Sunday by being hurt on the second play of the game. He gritted his teeth and fought on gamely until the end of the half, but unable to return for the second half. He hopes to be in top form Sunday against the Mustangs.

GRID DOPE

KENNY WASHINGTON was injured in the first half of a pro-football game between his team, the San Francisco Clippers and the Hollywood Rang-Stadium. The Rangers won 27-6.

IN SOUTHERN League prep football last weekend Roosevelt beat Jefferson, 6-0, Washington topped Manual Arts, 7-0, and Fremont won over Polytechnic, 19-6.

JACKIE ROBINSON, called the greatest open field runner in U. C. L. A. history, has been signed to play with the Los Angeles Bulldogs of the Pacific Coast Pro Football League, and will start Sunday's game at Wrigley Field against the St. Jose Mustangs. He played as a trial with the Bulldogs against the Frisco Packers last weekend and was a real sensation. Jackie was recently honorably discharged from the Army.

PRESENTIMENTS

Great changes in human associations and experiences are never brought forth without first giving a notification that such a change is approaching. Such notices are given by prophetic revelations, premonitions of the Spirit, or providential manifestations or by all combined.

Various examples are given us in the Bible, of presentiments that occurred before great events were to take place. Example is God's sending Noah to warn the Antediluvians before the flood. And now this generation is universally and profoundly impressed that some great change will soon be experiencew in this world.

This impression is variously interpreted, but there is certainly some reason for this thought. It would be wise to be prepared for whatever comes and let the unsettled stat of society act as a warning.

E.F. Dear Prof. Herman: Your interesting letter was received the other day and found me getting along much better. You were right about my friend. He was unable to write because of certain military reasons which he could not disclose. He is well, however, and that is just what you told me. Thanks again for the information.

R.A.B. Why was the coat there?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that it was left there by mistake. The owner lives near you and will make inquiries soon, so that you may return it.

O.L.M. Will I marry successfully?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you are contemplating marriage to a former sweetheart, who through his actions lost your affections sometime ago. It seems that he is doing much better now and is trying to make a clean start. If you feel that his actions are genuine and sincere, then you might consider his proposal.

Mrs. J.D.E. Will my health improve?

Ans. It seems that you are under the doctor's care now and he advises you to consider an operation. By all means think this over carefully. Remember, he is only advising you as to what he thinks is best for you and will help you. If you are still in doubt, you might consult another specialist, also.

Dear Sir: Have been using your products for years and find my luck is better than it has ever been. I know you and your works are responsible for this and thank you from the bottom of my heart for all you have done. Sincerely yours, R. W.

Mrs. G. A. T. What is wrong with my husband?

Ans. Your husband's actions are due to many things. He is not satisfied with his surroundings and seeks hapinness and pleasure elsewhere. I suggest you have a talk with him and get a thorough understanding, for in order to be happy in your home there must be some changes. I will also be glad to help you if you write in for a private reply.

V. D. How long will it be until I get my heart's desire?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Guilding Planet indicate your finding true love and happiness in the very near future. A change is indicated in your Horoscope which means your life will be much happier. Look forward to this and make the most of the opportunities that will be presented.

D. S. Will I meet him again,

Ans. This young man may remain away from home a long time, but you will see him again. He thinks of you often and wants to return but has a certain goal in mind, and until he has achieved it, will persist in remaining away from home.

BAY REGION NEWS

The state officers of the California Association of Colored Women, this section, were honored at a public reception Sunday, October 29, when local club women were hostesses in the social hall of the South Berkeley Community Church.

Mrs. Chlora Hayes Sledge, past state president, was mistress of ceremonies which included a delightful program featuring local talent.

Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, state president, who was presented a corsage of gardenias, spoke on behalf of the honorees.

Mrs. Marsh was hostess at a dinner party, October 26, honoring the natal days of her husband, Leon F. Marsh, Sr., and Mrs. Mary McAdoo, well-known fraternal Berkeleyan, at the family abode, 2828 Grant street.

Miss Bessie Osborne, sister of Mrs. Marsh, hostessed a Hallowe'en party at the school.

After a delightful month's vacation in metropolitan Oakland, Mrs. Melva McNair of Birmingham, Ala., has returned home. She was the house guest of her daughter, Mrs. Gladys McNair Blevins, and son-in-law.

Mrs. Lena Christian, well known Berkeleyan on Ashby avenue, hostessed a bridge luncheon entertaining 72 guests at Masonic Temple, Oakland, recently.

Mrs. Hazel Gray, New Yorker, house guest of the hostess, Mrs. William Burke of Dallas, Texas, who with her husband, Dr. Burke, was the house guest of the Stuart A. Jordans in Ashby avenue, and Miss Ivie Anderson, popular entertainer of Los Angeles, were the distinguished out-of-towners present. Prize winners in the order named were Mesdames Ann Moore, G. Quinn, Lena Jordan, Geraldine Fields, Ada Gomez and Marion Pankey.

Four hundred guests attended the annual autumn formal when the Seasons of Swing Club held forth at the Oakland Masonic Temple, October 28.

Miss Roxie Fowler, president, is recuperating after an accident.

Among the new-comers in this area is Miss Ollie Lee Nobles of Tucson, Arizona, who has begun her duties as co-director of project services in the Berkeley-Albany Housing Project. Mrs. Ozora Renfro Wysinger of Atlanta, Ga., also employed in the project, is director of recreation. She holds her Master's Degree from Temple U. These two newcomers with Mrs. Lucille Williams Lane, 1610 Ashby avenue, rental clerk, are the only Negroes employed in official capacities.

Miss Lois DeLeon, Oaklander, received the 1944 Golden State Chapter OES Scholarship award to the University of California. She is a niece of Mrs. Woneva Simpson of Oakland.

Miss Jackie LtProtti, graduate nurse, is interning at the Shrine Hospital in San Francisco. Miss LeProtti is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney LeProtti, pioneer Berkeleyans, now residents of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Samantha Lee, Grant street, was hostess at a joint session of Omega Sigma and Kappa chapters of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, October 29. Mrs. Doreen Scott is president of Omega chapter, while Miss Virginia Lewis heads Kappa chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Clay, 701 39th street, Oakland, were among the hosts who feted the popular Miss Ivie Anderson while she was here at the North Pole Club filling a two-week engagement.

The Clays honored Miss Anderson at a dinner party. Cocktails were served and creme de ment in the living room climaxed the evening's social activities. Those sharing in the festivities were Mesdames Don Lee Dean, Sterling A. Williams, and Otis Scruggs, formerly Alberta Williams. Miss Anderson returned to her home in Los Angeles for a few days, after which she will leave for Canada.

Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower

Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower has been on the market for years. It is a wonderful preparation. It stops harsh and brittle hair from breaking and falling. It corrects itching scalp, ring worms, tetter and eczema, and keeps your scalp in a very healthy condition. It is not a gummy or stick grower. It leaves the hair natural and soft and the hair grows rapidly.

You can get the grower at the following places:
Dorothy's Beauty Salon, 1821 Imperial Highway, Watts.
Ethical Drug Store, 1490 West Jefferson Boulevard.
Mrs. Fannie Williams, 1749 S. New Hampshire.
Mrs. Corrine Grayson, 1247 E. 53rd St.

A FAIR QUESTION

HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds."

Give This Some Thought, My Good Friends

Yes—I insure homes too, at the same rate. You can't but agree with me! Then, Call Me

WELL, IT'S ALL OVER
Straighten Up, Fly Right

Well, it's all over. So lick your chops. Arthur McClanahan and I tossed a couple of pennies into a wishing well. No sooner done than out hopped a funny-looking little man. Said this little man, "If wishes were horses, beggars would ride." Well, that's how we got started on a free trip to Chicago. In our minds. Well, as long as you are imagining things—you can have the moon if you want it. So we chartered a plane and hopped to the lovely city by the lake.

I said "we" for along with Mac and I there was G. H. Shepard of the "Playhouse." He wanted to really play in Chi. But he told us he was going because Leonard Reed wanted to scout for talent. Joe Morris of the Plantation didn't want Shep to outdo him, so he came along well heeled after the Lawyer's Lollygag. Otto Johnson went along because he wanted to check Chicago's Little Theatre movement. Bob Hardon went along because he said, "I want to study the "service situation" in the Windy City. At least that is what he told us. But he spent all of his time with Mike Snead, Wendell E. Green, Bill Dawson and other political bigwigs.

But we are getting ahead of our story of the mythical trip. Never mind how we were able to get a hold of a special plane. Remember Arthur McClanahan, Bob Hardon, Otto Johnson, Leonard Reed, Joe Morris and Shep were on the trip and those fellows can do anything. At the airport to see us off, well you would have thought we were somebody. First off, Elmer Fain and George Bailey had a union band to give us a send-off. Then Colonel Moody Staten had an honor escort of State Guard Troops. H. Leonard Richardson ordered out the Ben Bowie Post of the American Legion. Chief Horrall assigned a motorcycle escort and Sheriff Biscailuz's mounted posse palomino-pranced along with us.

Erskine Hawkins band played. Then Noble Sissle's band played. Since it doesn't cost us anything to dream, we had Bardu Ali also. Charlie Davis of the Cobra Room Nat Coled, Lillian Fitzgeral sang, as did Herb Jeffries. Ford, Harris and Jones did their fast patter. Effie Smith sandwiched a performance inbetween doubling at the Orpheum with Tatum and the Plantation. When the mellow Marie Bryant got through—well we were ready for the plane. Al Westerfield and Charles "Chuck" Williams (yep, he's back) were flashing cameras like an immigrant defense worker on his first pay in the long green.

Well, the first thing which struck us was the great crowds. There were so many people in the town—no elbow room. There, you know, they pile apartments on top of each other and the people live up in the air. Well, we had been yelping about "Little Tokyo" or "Bronzeville" being crowded with immigrants. Well, the immigrants poured into that city. Chicago is really stuffy. But they turned on the mild weather to make us feel at home. The first guy we ran into was Bob Harness, old schoolmate of mine. He is now a sergeant of police. Big Six Griffin, the old waiter, is now a pawn shop salesman. Get that.

Ben Tallendar, who used to own the Panama at 58th and Calumet, now has a spot at 51st and Calumet and 61st and Cottage Grove. He is still up to his old tricks. Charlie Glenn is major-dome at the Rhumbugie (that is where Leonard Reed worked 10 years ago when it was Dave's cafe, then Swingland). Waiter "Biscuits" is still a waiter. Minnie Horton runs "Minnie's place on South Vernon. Yep, Nelson Sykes is still around. Vernon Rose has the "Campus Inn" across from the Trianon on Cottage Grove. Bennie Skollar has the "Circle Inn" at 63rd and Cottage Grove. Dan Gaines has a spot on 63rd. Henry Hatcher, the iceman, operates Hatch's place at 63rd and Vernon. Then there is the "Music Box, 411 Club. Illy Kelly is still in that town. Frank "Beans" Young and Fred Elliott, the kitchenette mogul, own the "White City Tavern" at the old White City. We heard that $30,000 was dumped into the Pershing Lounge. It is one of the finest places in these United States.

The Casablanca is owned by Ann Jones with Hank Gilliam as the singing bartender. He sang "Call Me Darling" for us and "Dinner For One." There is a million and one cafes here. They took all the water out of Lake Michigan and whiskey flows into the kitchen sinks.

Bob Harding didn't do the joints with us. He was in high society and was dined by ministers and politicians of the first order. Watch out. Bob, brought home some ideas. Arthur McClanahan missed out on the spots after he ran into Harry Dean. He is now Boss at Wabash Avenue (5th District) police station. Well, they got to spinning police yarns. We picked up Mac on the way home. Otto Johnson was in fast company. Leonard Reed as usual had to run off, to Detroit. We met him again in Reno, Nev.

The plane soared into Burbank. We stretched our legs and came out of our reverie.

This is Earl J. Morris, 5013 Wall Street, L. A. 11, who says, "I can dream, can't I"

McCOY MARCHES ON
Under the Leadership of
REV. E. A. ANDERSON

THE BEAUTIFUL NEW EDIFICE NEARING COMPLETION

We called our Minister on August 22nd, 1943. From that very day, we discovered that our edifice was too small to accommodate the rapid increase of membership, therefore we had to enlarge our building to make it comfortable for the members and the many friends who worship with us each Sunday.

In thirteen months there has been an increase of 570 members with a total of 46 as candidates for baptism. The membership in its entirety has given full support to our pastor in helping him put the program over for God. The pastor states that the Deacon Board and the Trustee Board are made up of the finest group of men in the city.

The Old McCoy Memorial Church

Rev. Anderson has not only built up the membership of McCoy, and added to its physical beauty, but he has strengthened the spiritual wealth of the Church and made it a potent force in the work for the Kingdom of God. His leadership has been a source of inspiration to all of his members and his sincere devotion to his fellows is making him an important force in the community.

PLEDGED TO SERVE THE PEOPLE

Vol. 65—No. 32 Los Angeles, California, Thursday, November 16, 1944 Adams 9770

c.a.b.

"THE AMERICAN people have won a great political battle which will take its place in history with the triumph of Jeffersonian democracy in 1800 and the reelection of Abraham Lincoln in 1864. Indeed, there is no real parallel, for this victory knows no national frontiers. It is a triumph for free men fighting in every land for liberty and democracy."

This paragraph, extracted from an editorial in a liberal newspaper published in New York, is a reminder that we, the people of this country, united, won the first round in the battle against Nazism in our nation. By our votes we have sent Franklin D. Roosevelt back to the national Capitol to finish a job. We are aware of the handicaps suffered by the Commander-in-Chief at the hands of the outgoing Congress. In spite of brilliant campaign speeches and promises, we know all about those coalitions formed to kill the Kilgore Bill, the Anti-Poll Tax Bill, the Anti-Lynch Bill, and the Soldiers Vote Bill. That is why we tried to send to Congress men and women who would lend every support to our president in the making and passing of such legislative measures that will insure freedom and liberty to all the people of our nation.

Yes, the people spoke. Thy sent to Congress Helen Gahagan Douglas, Adam Clayton Powell, J. W. Fulbright, Wayne L. Morse, and others who will support the Administration.

Perhaps one of our first undertakings should be the resurrection of a very simple bill, S. 1227, which makes it a federal offense to assault a member of the Coast Guard and certain other federal officers. S. 1227 will protect Negro soldiers and sailors against assaults and murder in Southern states where Negro bus drivers in the service of Uncle Sam have been assaulted and killed.

We have an opportunity to find out how our representatives vote on such measures. Let's watch their records from the time they go to Congress until they retire.

SHOT BY CALSHIP GUARD—18-year-old Gerald B. Edwards, a laborer at Calship, was fatally wounded by a guard as he sought to leave the yards last week after reporting to get his pay check. A coroner's inquest returned a verdict of justifiable homicide after a hearing this week, and the NAACP is reportedly preparing to ask the District Attorney's office to conduct an investigation into the shooting. The wife and family of the slain youth are reported to be preparing to file a civil suit against the guard and Calship Corporation. (See story on this page.)

West Africans Concerned About The Date of Their Independence

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"The native peoples of West Africa want to know the date when the European powers intend to vacate their land and allow them self-rule," declared Prince A. A. N. Orizu in his lecture, "What West Africa Wants." This was one in the series entitled, "A World View of the Negro Question" which is being presented by the Schomburg Collection of Negro Literature and the General Education Board.

Prince Orizu, who is the author of Without Bitterness, described the current problems and mass movements among the people of West Africa today. He pointed out the goals of the growing educated class and the powerful youth and labor movements which are increasingly insistent upon national self-government.

"What we need is the application in West Africa by the European powers of the formula which the United States has used in dealing with the Philippine Islands. The United States has definitely set the date for complete independence for the Philippines. The same thing should be done for West Africa."

Prince Orizu said that he thought this date should be 1950. Other Africians say the date should be 1960. He emphasized the great need for education and is himself interested in securing scholarships in American universities for African students. Vigorous discussion followed these remarks.

The next lecture in the series will take up the question of land, labor and raw materials in East Africa. These lectures are provided without charge to public officials and heads of public institutions and organizations who are preparing themselves for the post-war period.

Murder Charge For War Worker

Sitting calmly in an automobile near the intersection of Fifth and Town streets last Saturday night, while his alleged victim Lafayette Hannibal lay dying across the street of knife wounds, Willard Hurst, defense worker of 435 Neptune street in the Wilmington defense project, was taken into custody by officers from the Central Homicide detail and lodged in jail on charge of murder. Hurst was arrested as the aftermath of a fight which is said by onlookers to have been a free-for-all fight at the corner of Fifth and Towne in which ten or fifteen young men were engaged.

Hurst went to the rescue of his partner, George Williams, who was down on the sidewalk and being assailed by a number of men who as yet are unidentified. Hurst immediately retained Attorney Curtis C. Taylor to represent him, and claims that as he reached the scene of the altercation he was knocked down by several men who blinded him and that he drew his knife in self-defense in an effort to keep himself from being beaten to death.

NAACP Seeks Investigation In Fatal Shooting of Negro Youth

Following a verdict of justifiable homicide issued by a coroner's jury early this week in the slaying of Gerald B. Edwards, 18, last Friday, by a Calship guard, the NAACP announced that it would ask the District Attorney to launch an investigation into all of the aspects of the case.

Edwards was slain by Harry V. Mason, a guard in the Calship yards at San Pedro, when he sought to leave the yards after having entered to receive his pay check. According to the guard's version of the shooting, Edwards persisted in attempting to leave with some show of resentment at the guard's order.

Mason reported that Edwards advanced toward him menacingly, and he fired a single shot into the ground. When Edwards continued to advance, he fired the shot which resulted in the fatality.

No testimony was introduced at the inquest to substantiate the guard's statement that Edwards approached him in a threatening manner. Claude Van Winkle, Calship employe, who testified for Mason, admitted that the youth stood frozen after the guard had fired the first shot. He said that Edwards did push Mason's hand aside prior to the shooting.

Harry Fyfield, Herald-Express district manager, testified that he had seen the entire episode, and that Edwards was shot when he refused to obey the guard's command not to leave the yard.

Two other guards and several Calship employes testified at the hearing, establishing nothing of a contradictory nature by Edwards except that he insisted upon leaving the yard without halting when commanded.

Attorney Crispus Wright, who represented the family of the slain youth at the inquest, and who appeared in their interest at the manslaughter charge hearing in San Pedro police court Wednesday, has three witnesses who voluntarily came to his offices and gave their version of the shooting, a version that differs from the evidence offered at the inquest. Reportedly, these witnesses were only a few feet away from the scene, and they witnessed the whole affair.

The NAACP interest in the case results from an aroused community feeling that the killing was unwarranted and should be investigated exhaustively in the interest of justice. Possibility of a civil suit by the wife and family of the slain youth was revealed this week when it was reported that Attorney Wright had been instructed to file notice of such a suit.

Edwards, who was employed as a laborer at Calship, was married and lived with his wife, Mary Louise Edwards, and his mother, at 5422 Hooper.

BEREAVED WIFE—Mrs. Mary Louise Edwards, whose recent marriage came to an unhappy end last week when an over-zealous guard at Calship in San Pedro fatally wounded her 18-year-old husband as he sought to leave the yards after reporting to receive his pay-check. Mrs. Edwards was heart-broken over the sudden tragedy which wiped out all of the plans for future happiness which she and her young husband had planned. (See story on this page).

Supreme Court Airs Jim Crow Contracts

The right of trade unions to discriminate against Negroes in collective bargaining contracts with employers is challenged in a brief just filed in the U. S. Supreme Court by the American Civil Liberties Union in a case heard on November 14.

The brief, signed by prominent Southern lawyers as well as counsel for the Union, supports the suit of two Negro firemen, Tom Tunstall and Bester Steele, against the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and two southern railroads to invalidate Jim Crow contracts.

WAR LOAN RALLY

A social gathering of all workers in the 6th War Loan Drive will be held on Sunday, November 19th at the Sojourner Truth Home 1119 East Adams Blvd., from 4 to 6 p.m. All Churches and organizations are invited to send representatives. Individuals are also invited. Kits and identification cards will be given all workers. More volunteers are needed for work in booths and the Bonds For Babies committee.

Awards for the work done in the 5th War Loan Drive will be made. Refreshments will be served. Please be present.

Negro Seabees Show Courage

Veterans of 20 months of jungle warfare in the South Pacific, and bearing a unit citation for many outstanding feats of construction completed under great difficulties, the first battalion of Negro Seabees to go overseas has returned to this country, the Navy Department announced last week.

The unit, the 34th Construction Battalion, indoctrinated at Camp Allen in Virginia, sailed outside the continental limits of the United States on January 7, 1943, and arrived in Noumea, New Caledonia, nineteen days later. Since that date, the unit has suffered casualties of five men killed in action and 35 wounded.

92nd Division Negro Troops Take Over Two Italian Towns

ROME, Italy—Soldiers of the crack 92nd Division, hard-fighting Negro troops carrying the ball on the Italian front, celebrated the period between election day and Armistice Day by capturing the towns of Basati and Fabiano on the Liguarian coast. Both towns lie about four miles southeast of Massa, and their capture represents the most important recent advance made by American and Allied troops in the Italian theater.

Enemy resistance was marked but the determination of the seasoned American Negro troops brought about a glorious triumph. The 92nd has figured in many important advances made on the Italian front where they are carrying a major portion of the campaign.

The Itlaian front reports have been subordinated to the accounts of the great battle for Germany, but the significance of the fighting going on there is recognized as being of equal importance to the final outcome. The prowress of the 92nd recalls the brilliant record of the 99th fighter Squadron which figured urominently in the early battle for Italy.

Pvt. Leonard At Keesler Field

KEESLER FIELD, Biloxi, Miss. Pvt. Harlan Quentin Leonard, Jr., son of Mr., and Mrs. Harlan Leonard, 2076 West 30th street, Los Angeles, California, has reported to Keesler Field to take the Army Air Forces Training Command examinations to determine his qualifications as a preaviation cadet.

Upon successful competion of processing, he will be sent to the proper Army Air Forces Training Command station to begin his training as pilot, bombardier or navigator, depending upon the position for which he has been found best qualified.

Five Negro Seamen Get Hero Medals

Five Negro seamen have been awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Medal for heroic conduct in righting fires on burning ammunition cars after the explosion of the United States Naval Magazine, Port Chicago, California, the Navy Department announced this week.

L. A. Soldier Is Awarded Medal

WITH THE 3528th QUARTERMASTER TRUCK CO. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC — Corporal Louis A. Browne, son of Mrs. M. Browne, 1615 E. 57th St., Los Angeles, has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal for exemplary behavior, efficiency and fidelity in the honorable completion of one year of continuous active Federal military service.

Superior Court Judge Upholds Race Restrictions On West Side

Although he admitted evidence showing that overcrowding is rife in all areas of Negro population in Los Angeles and that such overcrowding is the cause of high juvenile delinquency, crime, disease and death rates, Superior Judge Robert H. Scott Friday upheld a race restriction covenant and ordered issuance of an injunction forbidding five families from occupying homes they own in the area between Normandie and Western avenues and between Jefferson and Adams boulevards.

His decision came after a week long trial in which defense attorney, Loren Miller, assisted by Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, had presented detailed evidence showing that the area in question was surrounded on three sides by neighborhoods populated almost exclusively by Negroes. Witnesses also testified CIVIL LIBERTIES—Chairman Roger N. Baldwin, founder and national director of the American Civil Liberties union, will speak on "What Prospects for Race Equality" on Sunday, November 19, at 4 p. m. at Pilgrim House, 120 North San Pedro Street. The meeting is jointly sponsored by the local NAACP and the Urban League.

HOPA Meets Friday

With an adverse decision having been handed down this week against several Negro property owners, the meeting Friday night of the Home Owners Protective Association in the California Eagle building will be doubly significant. Because of the necessity to appeal lower court decisions, funds will have to be raised and the full mobilization of all Negro rent payers, property owners and taxpayers must be accomplished. If you are interested in your rights as an American, come to this meeting, which will begin at 8 o'clock.

1st Negro Waves Join the Navy

Miss Jane A. Freman, 22, of Roxbury, Mass., is the first Negro woman in the first naval district to complete her application and be sworn into the women's reserve. She was sworn into the service as an enlisted WAVE last Monday at 8 a. m. by Captain L. D. Causey, U.S.N. retired, director of naval officer procurement at Boston.

Two hours later in New York City two other Negro women were sworn into the service as apprentice seamen and officer candidates by Lt. Rosamond D. Selle. They were Miss Harriet Ida Pickens, 35, and Miss Frances Eliza Wills, 28, both of New York City.

Miss Pickens and Miss Wills reported to Smith College on Wednesday. Upon successful completion of their training Miss Pickens will be commissioned lieutenant, and Miss Wills will be commissioned an ensign.

Miss Freman, the first Negro enlisted Wave in the New England area, will be one of the first group of Negro recruits to enter "boot" training at Hunter College, New York City. She will take up her new duties about January 1.

Disabled Vets Aided By New Service

The George Washington Carver Chapter No. 18 of the Disabled American Veterans, has been authorized by the Los Angeles headquarters to appoint a part-time service officer in this community.

This chapter is under the command of Moody Staten, colonel of the late California State Guard.

The purpose of the service officer is to give and assist any honorably discharged veteran the proper procedure in applying for hospitalization, pensions, educational and loan features of past and present approved bills.

Mr. H. F. Boulin, 1123 East 50th street, Los Angeles, phone CE. 2-1949, is the service officer, and will be glad to give these free information and assistance in any perplexing matters that are troubling the veteran or his relatives.

Application forms for loans to purchase homes will be off the press this week and will be available to those who apply at the above address.

The service officer will be on duty at the above temporary address on the following days: Monday through Thursday, 3 to 5 p.m.; Fridays, 12 to 2 p.m.; first and third Sundays in the month, 1 to 3 p.m.

Held In Fatal Auto Accident

Booker T. Deeming, defense worker of 11614 Belhaven street in the Watts defense project, was held to answer on a charge of manslaughter last Monday afternoon at the preliminary hearing in Div. 4 of the municipal court.

Deeming, who was represented by Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, was arrested by traffic officers at the scene of an accident which was near the Plantation Club after a Miss Martha Brown of 981 East 47th street and Christine Trunnel of 1216 Imperial avenue were run down by an automobile driven by Deeming and in which Miss Brown was killed instantly and Miss Trunnel suffered severe injuries.

Deeming, who was driving a car with Robert Tippings and Sesser Durden as passengers, claims that he did not see the Brown girl nor her companion at the time of the fatal crash.

Then, when election time rolls around again, we shall not have to depend on the words of the supporters and opposers of various candidates in order to know which way to cast our vote.

We shall know, for instance, that such organizations as the CIO Political Action Committee, presently under the leadership of Sidney Hillman, has acted for the best interests of the Negro people and the country as a whole, for we know now that under the wise guidance of Hillman, racism is moving out of labor, color prejudice is disappearing, and the truly American way of life is establishing a highway that leads to that democracy that includes within its borders all races of mankind.

The Negro worker has found his way through the labor movement. He has learned that his fight is not a Negro fight, but a people's fight. Now he is learning to reject plums hurled to him by politicians for whom he does not have "a last full measure of devotion." He no longer wants political favors paid for by his votes. He wants, and is getting, an opportunity to measure his physical, mechanical, and intellectual abilities with other men. This opportunity he is geting through the C. I. O. and A. F. of L.

Already the Negro has merited the praise of such writers as Robert Sherrod of "Time Magazine" who described him in battle with these words, "Negro marines, under fire for the first time, have rated a universal 4.0 (the Anapolis mark of perfection)."

The Negro is winning his place in American history in this war, and he will win his place in American life at the end of this war.

FEPC Reports For September

The President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice docketed 283 new cases involving charges of employment discrimination because of race, creed or national origin during the month of September, 1944, and closed 251 cases, Malcolm Ross. FEPC Chariman, announced today.

Alleged discrimination in hiring, dismissal, or refusal to upgrade accounted for 201 of the 283 new cases. Those charging unwarranted dismissal — which are expected to reflect the influence of layoffs and cutbacks on the Committee's work, showed no noticeable increase, however.

As of October 1, 1944 the Committee had 2,176 cases pending, an increase of 41 over the total for September, 1, 1944.

Captain Hall, 99th Fighter Ace, To Address Negro Youth Group

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Captain Charles B. Hall, fighter hero of the 99th Pursuit Squadron, is scheduled to address the delegates to the sixth All-Southern Negro Youth Conference in Atlanta on Friday, December 1. Captain Hall, who is the inspiration of many a young cadet at Tuskegee Air Base, where he is now an instructor, is the winner of the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters for bravery in action.

Captain Hall's talk at the opening meeting of the Youth Conference will bring to the forefront one of the main questions to be discussed during the sessions of the meeting: the problems of service-personnel and vetrans. James C. Evans, Assistant Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, Colonel Campbell C. Johnson, National Headquarters of the Selective Service System, and Hugh Gloster of the United Service Organizations will act as panel consulants for the session on the Armed Services, which will be held on Saturday morning, December 2.

Arrival of fifteen more Negro Red Cross workers in Australia was announced last week by American Red Cross National Headquarters.

To Parade for 6th War Loan

Horse owners and riders from all sections of Southern California have joined enthusiastically in plans to make the 6th War Loan's inaugural "Calvalcade of the West" on Saturday, Nov 18,, the greatest event of its kind ever held in California.

This report comes from the Cavalcade committee, which, together with the Treasury War Finance Committee for Southern California and the Sheriff's Posse, will stage the huge parade in downtown Los Angeles starting at 11 a. m.

Always Ask the Ceiling Price

The public is asked to co-operate with the Price Panel of the Ration Board in putting a stop to Price Violations by stores, markets and restaurants.

The public is waking up to the fact that they can sue anyone overcharging them and get from $25 to $50 on proof that they were charged over the ceiling price WARNING: Do not purchase any article until you have asked the dealer the ceiling price, even if a price is marked on the article.

The Ceiling Panel of Board 82.5.40 is determined to put a stop to merchants and restaurant owners robbing the people of this district. If the customer will co-operate with the board they will be protected. Report at once any case of over charge.

that there were some Negro families living in the community to the east and that children living there attend school at schools in which the majority of pupils are Negroes and at which Negro teachers are assigned.

Boundary streets of the tract, including West Jefferson Blvd. and South Western avenue are also partially used and occupied by Negro business institutions including restaurants, a social club, a beauty parlor and a transfer business as well as by Negro home owners, it was developed in the trial. At least three Negro home owners who have not been sued also live in the interior of the tract, witnesses said.

Testimony as to the presence of and the ill effects of overcrowding in the Negro communities was given by Floyd C. Covington, member of the city Housing Authority and executive director of the Los Angeles Urban League who said that studies made by his organization had shown that only one extensive area had been opened to Negroes since 1940, the so-called Little Tokio section. Other Negroes had found homes in houses vacated by Japanese, he said, or in public housing projects. A witness from the housing authority said that of some 3,500 applications now on file for public housing, more than 1500 are from Negroes.

Also considered by Judge Scott in response to requests from Attorney Miller was the fact that some eight or ten similar suits are now pending in the local superior court declared by Miller to involve "every tract in this city bordering on Negro districts." Census figures referred to in the suit indicated that the Negro population had increased from some 20,000 in 1924, the date of the first recording of the restrictive covenant, to more than 120,000 at the present time.

All available homes in the districts not covered by race restrictions are now being used and occupied by Negroes. Allen C. Woodard 3rd, local real estate broker, testified. He said that he had made an extensive study of such agreements and that in his opinion there were no housing accomodations available to Negroes except in restricted districts.

Although declining to comment on the issues on the ground that they could not do so while a suit is pending. Attorneys Miller and Townsend said that they belived that this is the first time that evidence as to overcrowding and its ill effects had ever been permitted to be shown in a suit of this kind.

During the argument over admission of overcrowding evidence which was bitterly opposed by Ray Eberhard, attorney for the plaintiffs in the case. Miller asserted that the court could weigh it as a factor in view of the concurring opinion by Justice Roger Traynor, in the recent Pasadena case..

In admitting evidence as to the housing shortage for Negroes in the city, Judge Scott said that while he had "actual judicial knowledge" of housing conditions among Negroes and of its ill effects, he felt bound by a long line of court decisions to rule that a race restriction agreement was a contract which was enforceable unless drastic change had taken place in the restricted tract itself. He did refuse to award plantiffs damages which they had sought to recover in the case on technical grounds and also refused a claim for attorney fees sought by plaintiffs.

Probabilities that the case would be appealed and that the state supreme court will be asked to make a direct ruling on the question of whether such a covenant is enforceable under any conditions were seen in statements by defense attorneys that the matter would be referred to community organizations with the recommendation that a higher court be asked to review the matter.

Directly involved in the suits tried before Judge Scott were two families living in one address on Dalton street, one on Brighton avenue, another on Harvard street and another on West 27th street. Other residents living in the tract who were not sued or have not yet been served, will not be directly affected.

LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

All is not disharmony between the CIO and the AFL. There are numerous heartening instances where the two great labor groups have worked together without discord, jealousy and suspicion. The recent election campaign was an encouraging sign. In most cases, there was a solidarity of purpose between both groups as they united behind the people's program, and the result was great strength where great strength was needed. On the other hand, the election also showed how wide the schism has become. It appeared as though both groups wanted to achieve the same ends without yielding a modicum of leadership to the other. It was not a good situation.

John M. Lee

With the elections over, the necessity for unity becomes greater than ever. The immediate responsibility of organized labor is to work with management to assure an increasingly high level of production and employment. Both the CIO and the AFL must recognize that greater than the questions of jurisdiction and dominance, is the single question of expansion for security and peace.

Unless labor can unite and cooperate to build American industry to the level of peace-time development that is equal to our level of production for war, it will have no usefulness in the future scheme of things. Management must not be allowed to retire to normalcy, or the unimaginative pre-war production points.

The elements of unity are many. Not the least of them all are understanding and compromise. On these foundation stones can be built the great structure of a productive, prosperous America in a world at peace. Labor can contribute immeasurably to this program, and by so doing, arrive at a higher point of service.

American workers will not accept make work projects in lieu of a decent job at a living wage, nor will it be possible to explain away the absence of that job with a damning tirade against management. The divisive tactic has been outmoded. It is expected that those who work and those who employ have learned enough from the last depression and through building for the war effort to realize the value of full employment as a national policy. Already there have been indications that both the CIO and the AFL are aware of the importance of planning for post war expansion. That awareness must grow into a unity that will encompass both groups and management, if labor is to keep in step with the tempo of the new age.

SIDELIGHTS

Slim Connelly secretary of the Los Angeles Industrial Council will be on his way east to attend the National CIO Convention when this appears. It is expected that he will return with the welcome information that PAC will be continued as a year 'round activity of the CIO.

Vern Partlow, CIO radio commentator, is a forceful speaker, capable of carrying the point under most circumstances. At last Sunday's Newspaper Guild meeting, he demonstrated that he has the technique to influence the distaff voters.

Jamaican Sculptor Makes Bust of FDR

Alvin T. Marriott, Jamaican sculptor who has been in the United States since April helping to cultivate and harvest important war crops, presented a bust of President Roosevelt which he made during his spare time to Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson who received it for the President at the White House recently.

Presented on behalf of the 19,000 Jamaican farm workers in this country, the bronze finished, over life-sized bust which stands 26 inches was made by Mr. Marriott as a token of his appreciation and that of the other Jamaican farm workers of the opportunity to come to America under arrangements made by the War Food Administration to help cultivate and harvest vital war crops.

N. A. A. C. P. RELEASES

Roger N. Baldwin, founder and national director of the American Civil Liberties Union since its beginning, will speak on "What Prospects for Race Equality?" on Sunday, Nov. 19, at 4 p. m. at Pilgrim House, 120 N. San Pedro street, at a meeting under the joint sponsorship of the local NAACP and the Urban League.

Mr. Baldwin, a graduate of Harvard, has been active in the many sided fight for civil liberty since the outbreak of World War I. He has directed the activities of the American Civil Liberties Union in court cases involving the rights of labor, aliens, Negroes, racial and political minorities, censorship, and academic freedom. He spent considerable time in Europe between 1927 and 1935 in connection with international anti-fascist and anti-imperialistic movements.

The public is invited to hear Mr. Baldwin's timely address.

LIFE MEMBERSHIP IN NAACP TAKEN

W. H. Dorkins, retired citizen of Los Angeles for the past 10 years, purchased a life membership in the NAACP last week through Dr. H. Claude Hudson, one of the vice-presidents and a former president of the local branch.

Mr. Dorkins was a lead and silver miner in Wallace, Idaho, until 1929, when he retired. He served as chief machinist mate in the Navy from 1895 to 1905 and saw action in the Spanish-American War.

For the past 30 years Mr. Dorkins has contributed at least 10 per cent of his earnings to worthy organizations. He has always been an active supporter of the NAACP and feels that the contribution which the organization must make to the post-war world deserves his full support.

Among the other notable contributions which he has made recently are $2,000 to the Westminster Presbyterian Church, $1,000 to the Haynes Foundation, $500 to the War Chest and $500 to the Red Cross.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

The rains came last week-end, and I don't mean heavy California Dew either. However, the silver drops did nothing to dampen the gay spirits of the liesure loving masses, for planned affairs were carried out in the finest of fashion. Trillied over to the "Hill Top" abode of Louise Beavers' Saturday night, to witness the installation of the new Doll League officers. The party which followed the installation was a bit different from the usual with all present enjoying the fun. Topping the affair by adding her personal touch, Louise stepped to the "Baby Grand" and played and sang a few oldies but still goodies, than added one of her original compos with a definite blues swing. Indeed, the affair was tops . . .

The theatrics are somewhat out of my line, but last week's Lionell Hampton show at the Orpheum is worth writing about, for it had that added bit most orchestras lack. The leader of the band had hepped and unhepped youngersetters swinging and swaying to "Hamp's Boogie Woogie," and "Flying Home." as they did a few years back when swing music made its streamlined entry. 'Twas a tip-top performance, in fact, to sit through two shows was anything but ordinary. By the way, the wee hours following Saturday night's performance, Lionell and the Mrs. were honored with a birthday party. The affair was well attended by members of the theatrical and leading night club circles.

CALENDAR HIGHLIGHTS

Looking over invites and scheduled events, see that from now on, through the holiday season, affair after affair will be held. At present, setters are making ready for the AKA's Scholarship Benefit scheduled for Friday night at the Plantation Club. Debs are looking over their wardrobes and picking out the finest garb for that night. Rumor has it that the Benefit would be carried out in semi-formal, however, the short "date dress," has again claimed the limelight. According to ticket sales and town chatter, Friday night is sure to swing and sway as of pre-war days.

Phone call from Clara Fentress wants to be sure all the gang gets in on the candle-light services at Hamilton Church comes Christmas eve. The college club of the church is having complete charge.

SIDE LINE

"Rushing" by sororities 'round the university campus is all over, and the freshmen are nervously awaiting info that will let them know just who has been accepted into the pledge clubs of the different Greek letter orgs. So happens that only certain numbers can be taken in each semester to meet the quota. . . . The Ivy Leaf Pledge Club held election of officers at Sunday's meet. Results have it that Grace Davis is the new prexy and Lola Coleman is vice. Speaking of elections, the University Club will fill its cabinet with new officer come next meeting. Rumors have it that Edgar Bishop, Joe Knight and Arthur Lewis are among those who might receive the chair.

Before settling down to the Thanksgiving feast, members of the Manual Arts Hi and Tri-Y will do a little riding on the bridal path at Griffith park. Understand the group will also breakfast at the park. . . . The new 'teen-agers' program has been launched at the Woodlawn branch of the YWCA, and the canteen, which is to be one of the highlights of the whole program, will have its official opening Friday night from 7 'til 11:30 with the Manual Arts Tri-Y playing hostess.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Mathilda Kenner lets us know that recent rumors concerning her joining the Waves weren't quite on the beam, for though she has discussed the organization, she has taken no steps toward joining up. She is quite busy nowadays working with the YW and taking up studies S.C. . . . Quite sad when you misquote a date. Apologies go out to Muriel Spaulding and Francis Patterson, whose cocktail party is scheduled for this coming Sunday and was not held last. . . . By the way, invites were exclusive to the female portion of the crowd. . . . Most recent penning from Lane Cleaves comes from the deepest, darkest jungles of no man's land, where natives run around in pieces of burlap sack. . . . so reads the letter. Anyway, the jolly gent is as lonesome as can be, not seeing a lovely for months and then some. . . . Can you imagine Cleaves, the A No. 1 wolf of L.A., in that shape. . . . Sends loads of hellos to all the gang, with hopes of seeing you soon. . . . They tell me that the Clarence Williams' youngun is walking and talking. . . . Speedy progress, little one.

Helen Boswell has given up all hopes of learning the post office scheme, and is doing her after school work with the Lockheedites. . . . Wedding bells must be nearing for Puffie Houston, for she's being showered Sunday, over on South Gramercy Place. . . . Erline Hopkins, Santa Barbara's addition to L. A., is going through "Hell Week," before final initiation into the grad chapter of the AKAs. . . . Jean (Weems) Brown was all eyes when she unfolded the huge silk German parachute sent from France by better half Lt. Woody Brown. The gay matron plans to have a pair of lounging PJs made from the yards of precious silk. Sharp souvenir. . . . Looks like it'll be sailing across the blue for George Harpole soon. He is stationed at the port of embarkation up Frisco way. . . . Must be love or something, for the handsome C.B. on Odessa James' mind is sending fluffy white teddy bears, candy, and other love hints to the popular co-ed.

Hope Portor Wooton experiences a quick recovery from recent minor operation. Wifey Dorothy is holding down the home front till he gets back from the hospital. Info has it that a gay time was had by all the other night when Marcella Monroe, Winifred Allen and Corine Jones went dining and dancing out Hollywood way with Bob Edwards, Hugh MacBeth, Jr., and Keith Jones. Keith, a lad from Jamaica, did some "calypso" singing in true West Indian style. This bit of gayety just about makes deadline. So, enjoy the Thanksgiving Day, and be sure to be on hand at the Scholarship Benefit Friday day. Be seeing you there. 'Til next week.

THE CRAVENS-VESSUP WEDDING PARTY

Ellene E. Cravens, prominent Los Angeles beautician, and Seaman Johannes Vessup, formerly of New York City, said their vows, Sunday, November 12, at 3:00 o'clock at the Bishop Douglas Church.

The bride, who wore the traditional white satin, was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. R. G. Glenn. The Matron of Honor, Mrs. Dorothy Woodson, wore a pastel gown as did the other attendants: Mrs. Barrett, Maid of Honor; Alma Martens and Celestine Markham, Maidens of Honor; and Darling Glenn, Flower Girl. The best man was Seaman Albert Grant Washington with Eddie Barrett as Usher.

A lovely reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Glenn, aunt and uncle of the bridegroom.

Brown-Craw Wedding

The wedding of Mrs. Lillian J. Craw, widow of the late J. Logan Craw to Rev. James M. Brown of Pasadena, California took place Saturday, November 11, at 7 p.m. at the home of the bride's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Covington, 3836 Lomitas Drive.

Rev. Brown is one of the outstanding and highly respected ministers of the A. M. E. connection in this part of the country. Mrs. Brown, before her marriage to Rev. Craw and since his death, occupied a high position in the public school system at Topeka, Kansas.

The newlyweds, Rev. and Mrs. Brown will be at home to their legion of friends in Los Angeles and Pasadena at their palatial home, 849 Lincoln Avenue, Pasadena, Sunday afternoon, November 19, from 2:00 o'clock until 5:00 o'clock.

Turkey Dinner At 1943 Level

Thanksgiving day meals in restaurants this year generally will cost the same as in 1943, but in no case may the charge for meals on the holiday exceed by more than 15 per cent the restaurant's regular prices for Sunday dinners of the same class, the Office of Price Administration pointed out today.

All public eating and drinking establishments are now covered by nation-wide ceiling prices as established by the national restaurant price regulation, which went into effect on July 31, 1944.

ATTENTION PIONEERS

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Pioneer Club will be held at the new mansion of the S. P. Johnsons at 3701 West Adams Boulevard. Take the "A" car going west. All Pioneers are invited to come and assist in the house warming.

BRILLIANT CHARITY TEA

Chalk up another success for the Allegria Girls Club. Their First Annual Charity Tea, held in the Masonic Temple on Sunday afternoon, was an overwhelming success, both from the standpoint of attendance and donations. Florence and Willie Covan presented a highly entertaining Kiddie Revue, continuously throughout the afternoon. There were many guest stars present as well. Darryl Hickman, talented boy actor from Hollywood was present and gave a fine exhibition of tap-dancing. The Covanettes, a group of four young ladies, all students of the Covan School of Dancing, were outstanding in their performance. Other guest stars appearing were Mantan Moreland, Ben Carter, Rex Ingram, and the Sepia Steppers.

The club-member hostesses of the afternoon were charming in dinner gowns of the latest fashion. The tea-table was presided over by the president, Mrs. Mamie Anderson. The other officers and members include: Helen Blaine, vice president; Edith Miller, secretary; Virgie Lott, assistant secretary; Melvina Ewing, treasurer; Juanita Friday, business manager; Florence Covan, reporter; and Mildred Bouldin, Irene Lancaster and Odessa Parrish. Mrs. Annie Wiggins is club mother.

WAC CORPORALS FURLOUGH HERE

My cousin, Nicie Mann, and I, had the pleasure of lunching at the Memo Club with WAC Corporals Lucy Owens and Lucy Berry of Fort Knox, Kentucky. These two charming young women are spending their ten-day leave in Los Angeles and have fallen completely under the spell of the Golden State. Each expresses a desire to live here after the war. The girls had many interesting experiences to relate concerning their work in the Women's Army Corps. Said Corporal Owens: "I wouldn't trade this experience for anything in the world. The army has its good points and its bad points, but I think that the good points outweigh the bad." Corporal Owens, who works in special service, is thoroughly equipped to handle the job. It is her duty to see that entertainment is provided for the other members of the unit—that their leisure time is profitably spent. She is just bubbling over with enthusiasm and so I can well imagine that she keeps the ball rolling at her post of duty. As for Corporal Berry, she also knows her job and does it well. According to Corporal Owens, her friend, Corporal Berry, can just about take a motorized army tank apart and put it together again. At least that is a part of her job—to tear them down and put them together again, if need be. The Corporals were guests on the Jubilee Hour over CBS on Monday and thoroughly enjoyed themselves. It turned out that Corporal Owens, and Miss Lena Horne, who was also a guest on the Monday evening program, were old acquaintances—likewise Corporal Berry and comedian Eddie Green, who was also present. So it seemed to the girls that they were among old friends, despite the fact it was their first visit to the Coast. They have been busy, morning, noon and night, since arriving in L. A., and they have only a "grand time" to report. Incidentally, both of the Corporals hail from New York City.

HERE AND THERE...

Lovely Alberta Dawson left the city Monday for Washington, D. C., from whence she will go abroad as secretary with a Red Cross unit. A gala "bon voyage" party was tendered her by Dr. Jerome Hatcher, just before her departure, and we understand that all of the youngersetters, college gals and guys were on hand to make it a "solid sender."

Pernella Smith reports that the regular annual Employes' Party given at Sarnez's in Hollywood, Monday night, was tops. If you didn't know any better, you would have thought that the affair was being given for the elite of Beverly Hills, rather than for the waiters, waitresses, cooks, etc., who serve them every day. This is the sort of gesture that other employers might well emulate.

This columnist had the pleasure of previewing the documentary war film, "Combat America," which was filmed by Major Clark Gable in the European theater of war. This is a wonderful film, from an educational standpoint, and we expect to do a review on it in the near future. My sincere appreciation to my friend, Charles Edwards, well-known youth leader and motion picture projector operator, who so graciously escorted me on this occasion. The preview was held in the Hal Roach Studios on Washington Boulevard.

Don't forget the National Lawyers' Guild Benefit Party at the Plantation on November 24. Until next week, I'll say, 'bye.

Dinner Is Given In Honor of Visiting Pastor From Chicago

Honoring Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Branham with an elaborate turkey dinner, more than 15 guests gathered at the palatial home of Rev. and Mrs. Grant Harris last Sunday evening to attend one of the most charming social affairs of the season. The personification of "southern hospitality" prevailed at this gala affair, and Mrs. Grant Harris, wife of the Zion Hill Baptist church pastor, spared no expense in making the occasion one of the best on the season's social calendar.

Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Branham, vacation-visiting here with their brother and brother-in-law, Rev. John Branham who is assistant pastor of St. Paul Baptist church, will remain in the city for about thirty days.

The guests who were on hand to honor the beloved windy city minister were Rev. and Mrs. R. B. Porter, recently returned from a vacation trip to Kansas City and other points east; Mrs. Sally Ann Jones; Mrs. Tom P. Williams; Mrs. Estelle Lomax and daughter Lillian; Mr. J. C. Ellis and Mr. Kaywood from San Francisco; Rev. and Mrs. John Branham, Mr. and Mrs. JT Gipson and Mrs. Rosa Simmons.

The Future of American Fashions

By

Grace Fisher Atkins

French designers are again affording us their genius in fashions. The Patquian pleats and tucks are welcome. Though the celebrated Adrain and other Hollywood designers have made a terrific sweep it is improbable that our French coutiers will take a back seat.

Undoubtedly the most prolific designer of our day in America is Gilbert Adrain of Hollywood. Perhaps his versatility has more nearly challenged our French artists than any other American.

Outstanding among the contributions of Adrain may be the padded shoulder. The long life of this style may be due to the flattering effect it has for all. If the shoulders are naturally square little padding is needed. If they are of the familiar "bottle shape" excessive padding is required.

Like most field of art, and perhaps science too, much more is required than the talent, training and skills, and personality. The "who you know" and the "how you go," is of equal importance in attaining renoun and recognition for the contribution offered. Real discoveries, however, are recognized at some time even if after the death of the contributor. In fact the majority of our scientific discoveries were known to the world only long after the death of the authorors.

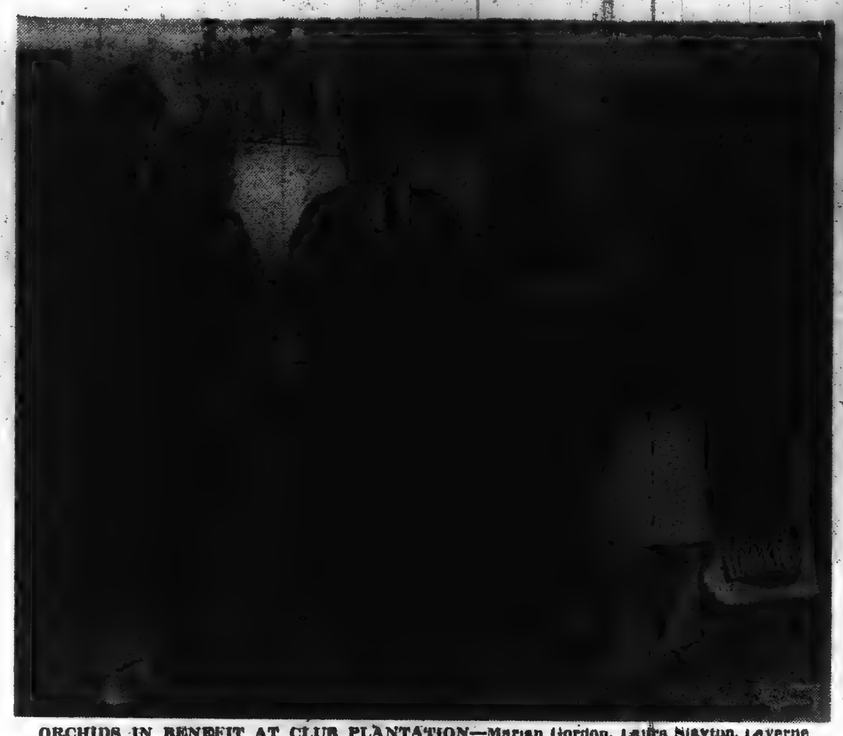
Most talented fashion artists are halted by the dominance and discouragement of existing experts. Unfortunately the "born talent" and bigotry in the area of fashion prevents many promising artists from "making the grade."

A talented local artist who once had the future of a national name was Bernice Wilson. Miss Wilson, a graduate of the Chicago Art Institute, lent much to whirls of Hollywood fashion whims under the titles of known artists. This artist has returned to Seattle where she is now expressing her vivd designs in her home, while rearing her family.

Mildred Blount "tops" the millinery field among local aspirants. Her elaborate millinery collection is the center of her extensive achievements. Miss Blount acquired a Rosenwald fellowship.

Among the numerous migrants of the past few months is Hazel Shumate. Beautiful, talented, intelligent, enthusiastic, and most of all motivated to become a Hollywood fashion artist. Hailing from Washington, D. C. this exceedingly young artist will in all probability weather the Hollywood "storms."

Thanks to the army for the appearance of Mrs. Shumate in the Southwest. Her husband, Major Shumate, surgeon in the Medical Corps, being stationed in neighboring areas, brought her here.



Within the coming five years a desperate struggle will continue and become more elaborate between Hollywood and Paris. In consideration of the cultural status of the two the later has the best chance to win.

The highly emotional nature of Europeans caused by cultural epoces prepared them for more effervescent expressions. The exceedingly great oppression of Western Europe by the Nazis probably bring forth impressions of unparalleled art. History shows that where freedom is denied most, expressions of greatest art have developed.

It is interesting, though, to investigate further to find that these expressions have not come from those suffering the most by the oppression. The art has come from those whose cultural advantages permitted enough physical development and mental morale to motivate expression. Yet the social level which has been called the "middle class" has given us the art and science felt and needed most by the lowest economic stratus. It has been the border line of this "middle class" nearer to the lowest level that have made these contributions. In other words the slightly poor can appreciate and express the feelings of the deprived masses.

In America we have the Negro spirituals as a distinctive contribution to the world of art. The hustle and bustle of American life upon a generally higher standard of living as compared to other countries, has probably lessened major cnotributions to art and science, although America has made numerous contributions to both.

The postwar period has the hope of many developments along numerous avenues. We have a chance in the race for the fashion art too. Our test of democracy will be the percentage of real developments.

ORCHIDS IN BENEFIT AT CLUB PLANTATION—Marian Gordon, Laura Slayton, Laverne Hall and Ramelle Bagneriss, members of the Orchids, presenting Erskine Hawkins with tickets for the gala matinee benefit dance at the Plantation Club Sunday, November 26.

The Twenties Century Gabriel and his band will furnish the fine dance music for this worthy cause with all proceeds going into a fund to help curb youth delinquency. With numerous grand surprises appearing on the program and the social spotlight focused toward this gala affair, you will have missed the event supreme if you fail to attend.

Shop Early For Your GI

"All civilian industry is suffering from the impact of war and resulting manpower shortages. Stores and shopping centers especially are handicapped because of higher priority demands for manpower elsewhere.

"November purchasing and shipping of Christmas gifts by civilians and service people alike will relieve peak holiday demands upon store and transportation services and will assure each Christmas gift purchaser and sender adequate shopping and mailing services.

"This cooperation between the public and merchants of each community will be a notable contribution to effective use of manpower available during the holiday period. WMC strongly urges such cooperation."

Baby Girl Born

A recent day was a red letter date for Mr. and Mrs. Ela Nelson White. On that date they became the proud parents of a darling baby girl, whom they have named Marilyn Elaine.

Very happy over the event are Marilyn's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Johnson and her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. P. White. Also elated are Mrs. Gladyce Morton, aunt for the first time, Mr. Lawrence Johnson, who at last will be called uncle, and Mrs. Medora B. Atlas, R.N., also aunt, and nurse for Dr. S. H. Kaufman, attending physician.

The Live Wire Club of Independent Church had a social meeting and installation of officers at the home of Mrs. Juanita Henderson last Thursday.

Mrs. Nettie Reece installed the officers as follows: Mrs. Helen O'Neil, president; Mrs. N. Bonner, vice president; Mrs. A. Takasaha, secretary, Mrs. Eva Collins, social secretary; D. Ray, treasurer; Mrs. Blackwell, chaplain; Mrs. Gertrude Wharton, reporter. Mrs. O'Neil presented all past officers with a gift. A dainty repast was served by the hostess, Mrs. Henderson.

Newlyweds Are Honored At Wedding Reception

By BERNICE COOK

Culminating one of those story-book romances which began a few months ago, while both were members of the "Showboat" cast, Florence Cadrez, secretary of Musicians' Local 767, and Jo Alvin Brantley, announced their marriage which took place September 24.

A lovely wedding reception honoring the couple was held at the beautifully appointed home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Knox, Harvard Boulevard at Exposition, Sunday, November 12. Some 200 guests were in attendance.

The bride was charming in a pale pink chiffon gown, trimmed with sequins. Something unique in a wedding cake was displayed at the reception; a three-tier forty pound cake to match the bride's dress. The cake was pale pink in color, decorated with white roses and gold leaves.

In the receiving line were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Knox, the groom's mother, Mrs. Lavonia Carter, and the groom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brantley. Assisting hostesses were Gwendolyn Gibbs and Florence Williams, sisters of the groom, and Mesdames Ernestine Wade, Hargret Hairston, Grace Osborne, Ella Mae Crossland.

Master Sergeant Wilbur Brantley, brother of the groom, traveled from his base in New Jersey to attend the affair.

Highlight of the afternoon was a series of motion pictures taken of the reception by Edward Porche.

Muscial selections were rendered by Edith Owens, Marguerite Chapman, Margret Hairston, and Ernestine Wade.

Many exquisite and priceless gifts were received by the bride. One piece of unusual beauty and charm, presented by her godparents, Mr. and Mrs. David Baker, was an imported mahogany tray filled inside with exquisite butterflies of every description, imported from Africa and Brazil.

During the month of August, Miss Cadrez and Mr. Brantley were presented in a highly successful musical concert, which many Angelenos will remember.

Miss Cadrez is also a member of the Executive Board of the Hollywood Canteen. The couple will move into their newly-built home in about two weeks.

National Association Survey On Negro Housing

The National Association of Real Estate Boards said recently that surveys of the Negro housing question by local real estate boards indicated that good housing for Negroes can be carried out as a sound business operation, and that the Negro family that wants good housing is usually a good economic risk.

The study of Negro housing experience was made in 18 representative cities.

Seventeen out of the 18 cities answered "Yes" to the question: "Does the Negro make a good home buyer and carry through his purchase to completion?"

Thirteen answered "Yes" to the question: "Does he take care of his property if it is in good repair when he obtained it?"

Some cities reported payment by Negro home buyers as "better than whites of the same economic status." One declared "Their tenacity and willingness to sacrifice to hold onto their homes far exceeds the whites."

Chicago commented: "So-called 'Negro abuse of property' is a result of giving poor or modest Negro families tremendously old gingerbread homes and expecting them to make successful modern homes out of them."

These reports are given from the point of view of the business man. There is nothing of charity, or humanity, or even of justice mixed with it. From a purely good business standpoint, it pays to rent your house to Negroes, it pays to sell homes to Negroes. Negroes take good care of their homes, Negro tenants care for the homes they rent.

In direct contrast to these statements of business men, how exceedingly bigoted is that of certain whites in the city of Los Angeles; Read the article elsewhere in the Eagle telling of the decision of Judge Scott, forbidding five families to occupy the homes they own in what is called a restricted area.

This sort of thing is what we on the home-front must fight against as tenaciously and as courageously as our boys are fighting Fascism abroad.

We Give Thanks! We Give Thanks!

When we think of the heroic deeds of valor and bravery, of the men who fight for our liberation from Nazi terror and Fascist greed for power over the civilized world, we realize how much more thankful we should be than our frail intellects are capable of comprehending and expanding; we are overwhelmed with a desire to give vent to our pent-up emotions and cry so loud and so long — We give thanks! We give thanks!—until our voices are heard on the other side of the world, that side where conflagration rages.

We will fight for the right to live in a world governed by that democratic rule that ensures peace and happinesss to all mankind.

America herself is blessed. None of the battles have reached our land. Our homes have not been sacrificed by enemy planes. Our schools and churches are operating.

We have seen the allied armies break the yoke of Nazi tyranny in France, Belgium, and the Balkans. The liberation of the Philippines is under way.

In spite of these assurances that make for material prosperity and happiness among our people, we hear rumblings of enemy propaganda seeking to destroy race unity and that peace we are fighting to preserve in the world.

But we have faith in our government and faith in our people that make up the government. In spite of all the rumblings and the propaganda, in spite of every attempt to destroy our unity and our government, we know we will defeat the enemy at home as well as abroad. For this we give thanks.

This Is Our Bond Drive

One boy wrote to his mother saying that he slept in mud every night. Of course he hoped the war would soon be won and he could come home.

We must help this boy and the many others who are fighting on the battle fronts of the world, to realize their hopes. We must provide the best possible equipment for their comfort and for the winning of the war in the shortest possible time.

The Sixth War Loan Drive opens Monday, November 20. California's quota is 836 million dollars. Fourteen billion is the national goal. Individuals are asked to raise $5 billion of it.

Los Angeles has demonstrated its ability to grow faster than any other city in the States, and without any beating of drums it has marched to the front, one of the greatest industrial centers for war production in the nation.

As a leader California, the sun-kissed state—a little wet at this writing—will hold its own in this Sixth War Loan Drive.

The Sixth War Loan is our job. It's yours and mine—California's quota, the Nation's goal, and the individual's share; all these can be reached only as we, the civilians, take up our arms in a campaign to win.

We must buy that tent, and whatever is needed on the fighting front. So be sure you do your part in this Sixth War Loan Drive.

War Dep't Refuses to Backtrack On Labor Stand

There are apparently forces in America which parallel those in France which preferred Hitler to win rather than have a liberal-labor government—the Popular Front — remain in power. The same forces in China would rather fight the "reds" than Japan. In all countries these reactionary forces aid the enemy.

We have information that representatives of these native American fascist forces were considerably upset by In Fact's publication of General Marshall's orders to the Army to hold discussions for the purpose of nailing the lies in the press and radio which have been directed against labor and aimed to cause disunity throughout the country by setting men in uniform against the labor unions.

Reactionary forces tried to intrigue within the Army and the War Department to counteract the effect which the publication of General Marshall's official document has had. (In Fact, claims the credit of discovering and publishing this document. Labor leaders and the labor press gave it circulation in the millions. The Associated Press sent out the story, however, suppressing the name of In Fact.)—From Nov. 13 issue In Fact.

Say Negro Support Helped Largely To Re-Elect F.D.R.

NEW YORK—Negro support contributed largely to President Roosevelt's re-election, statistics compiled by the CIO Political Action Committee revealed this week. The Detroit News attributed the Roosevelt victory to the support of Negroes and other minorities.

In such key Eastern states as New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Maryland, Negro votes proved an important factor. It was in the Industrial centers of these states that Roosevelt, strongly supported by Negro and CIO groups, rolled up the huge majorities that enabled him to carry the states.

Negro districts in New York City gave Roosevelt substantial backing. He carried the 11th and 12th Assembly Districts by 25,131 to 5,450 and 41,418 to 11,619 respectively. The 14th District, which also contains many Negroes, gave Roosevelt a 10-1 majority, the actual popular vote being 20,243 to 2,988. He won the Bronx 5th and Brooklyn 17th Districts, which have large Negro groups gave Roosevelt wide margins. The former gave Roosevelt 27,454 to Dewey's 5,228 and the latter Roosevelt 25,185 to Dewey 12,080.

In upstate New York, where the Republicans are traditionally strong, Negro and CIO groups gave Roosevelt wire margins in Buffalo, Syracuse, Rochester, Albany and other industrial centers. This offset the Republican vote in the small towns and rural areas. The Buffalo 5th ward, key Negro district, went to Roosevelt, 6,557 to 2,964.

Four Philadelphia wards with large or predominating Negro populations gave the President a 2-1 majority over Gov. Dewey. The total vote was Roosevelt, 36,742, Dewey, 18,579. Here, as in New York State, it was the urban vote, sparked by PAC, that made is possible for Roosevelt to carry the state.

All eight Baltimore wards containing large proportions of Negro voters were carried by Roosevelt. The total vote in these wards was 49,789 to 28,006.

The President carried New Jersey mainly on the strength of war ballots and the Negro vote in four large centers, Newark, Trenton, Camden and Atlantic City. The Newark margin of approximately 3-1 included 16,141 votes for Roosevelt in Negro wards against 5,702 for Dewey in these same wards. In three Trenton wards with large Negro populaces. Roosevelt won by 5,100 to Dewey's 1,490. The FDR victories in Camden and Atlantic City Negro district were by votes of 3,675 to 543 and 3,374 to 1,192 respectively.

In St. Louis, key city in the important border state of Missouri, Negro voters also went heavily for Roosevelt. In the five wards with the largest Negro electorates, the aggregate vote for Roosevelt was 29,592, for Dewey, 18,333, or an advantage of better than 3 to 2.

Although the President lost Indiana, he carried by substantial majorities each of the 32 precincts in Indianapolis in which the Negro vote is concentrated.

Mother Pleads for Funds for Appeal in "Lower 13" Case

(Ed Note: The mother of Robert E. Folkes, Mrs. Clara Folkes, pleads to all citizens for the last chance for the life of her son.)

"No doubt many of you recall the case of the Lower Berth 13 Murder of which young Robert Folkes was accused. After his case was tried, he was found guilty and sentenced to death on circumstantial evidence. His lawyer appealed his case to the State Supreme Court of Oregon which rendered a verdict upholding the previous conviction and sentence.

"Now his lawyer is seeking to appeal his case to the United States Supreme Court, but the lack of funds may cause Folkes to lose his life and I am appealing to each and every one to please help us by sending us a contribution of whatever lies in your heart to give.

"Not only I, but many other clear-thinking people, feel that a great injustice has been done to my boy. His last chance for freedom and life is that enough money be raised to cover costs of taking his case to the Supreme Court of the United States. Who knows but that your donation may save the life of this young man and give him another start in life.

"Won't you mail or bring in your donation to the ROBERT FOLKS DEFENSE COMMITTEE, 4006½ So. Central Avenue, Los Angeles 11?

CHRISTIANITY IS ESSENTIAL

By Erias Doc Williams, Ventura Calif.

Christianity is the greatest educational force the world has ever known. Only by being at peace with your fellowman is any man at peace with his Maker. As Christianity gets hold of a man, his ears are opened to the pleas of justice and the cries of the unfortunate to a degree unheard of before. Renting a pew does not make a man religious. Many a man who is farthest from Christ crowds closest to the altar. A man's Christianity is not measured by what he professes one day a week, but by what he performs seven days a week.

He serves himself best who serves others best. Talent must be applied to be proven. No Bible life is burdened with a better sermon than "Love thy neighbor asthyself." The numbed and stunted soul who does his level best with the powers at hand may be, in the eyes of the All-Seeing, living a far more perfect life than one who drifts on prosperity's wave, though the world does not see his efforts but applauds the effortless philanthropies of the drifter.

The Christ Himself came upon this earth to serve. May we, His children, have eyes that are open to see all the honor marks of His service and hearts that are ready to yield homage to all.

"We study that which we do not know, that we may become masters of those things which in our ignorance are masters of us."

"As long as the people of Negro blood are deprived of their essential wants, cheated of their birthrights, and justice, there can be no permanent peace."

READY

It takes a long time for some of us to wake up to find out that we are not ready. Sometimes, we wait until it is too late, then we make a death-bed confession. Often we slip and slide, and run, but can't hide. Why?—because we're not ready.

We try to put the blame on the other fellow to hide our own guilt, thinking we can get by the easy way—taking advantage of a dubious situation over someone who can't protect himself. When we do this, we are poisoning our own souls; decking out merciless misery for ourselves.

When you take the easy way, you are gambling against great odds. You can't win; the cards are stacked against you. You become known as a hypocrite in the church, in the Lodge, and in your home. You are fighting against yourself, because you are not ready. You think you are putting one over on the other fellow when you are driving another nail in your own coffin. Think this over.

THE PULPIT VOICE
By Rev. Hamilton Boswell

NEWCOMERS SWAMP COLLEGES

A few moons ago much was mentioned in print and public gossip concerning the problem of educating newcomers to the customers and attitudes of their new environment. Taking isolated cases of rowdyism and misconduct, and magnifying the like as being something totally foreign, and attributing them exclusively as actions of any and all newcomers, to be a newcomer was to have in your face the long finger of public scorn. It appeared through the "newcomer scare," espoused by the vigilance of misinformed older residents, that to be a newcomer was synonymous with ignorance, backwardness, rowdyism and lawlessness. It was entirely forgotten that lawlessness and misconduct existed in Los Angeles long before the recent influx of Southerners. To be sure, the congested conditions of a war industrialized center provoked much unpleasant conduct, and mostly on the part of newcomers, not because of lawlessness and evil ignorance, but because they are the less secure in our midst.

HIGHER EDUCATION AND THE NEWCOMERS

One condition in which older residents have not expressed themselves so vociferously as in the former, is the failure of native youth to avail themselves of the tremendous advantages for higher education which are so many in this "Athens" of the West. It has long been disturbing to know that despite the close proximity of two nationally famous universities in Los Angeles that very few Negroes in proportion to population have availed themselves of such opportunity. The very fact that the University of Southern California is within walking distance from Central avenue, and that its Negro enrollment has been less than one per cent of the total Negroes graduating from local high schools in any past year, is in itself loud evidence of educational famine. Today, however, thanks to the ambition of the newcomers, there is an all-time high of registration of Negroes in various colleges throughout the city. To pass through the campus of U.S.C., especially, is to think for a moment that you are on the campus of Howard, Fisk, Tuskegee or Wiley, so numerous are the Negro students. Where are the majority from? The answers are: Texas, Georgia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and other Southern states. Perhaps you are thinking that they are here because they cannot obtain higher education in the South, but despite that, the fact still remains that the ambitions of the newcomers have been a God-sent blessing to our city. Then, too, although education is limited in the South, most of our college graduates are from Southern colleges. This in no way infers a boost for segregated schools or colleges, it is a recognition that even with the monstrous handicap of segregation, that they have done more with limitations than we are doing with advantages.

EDUCATION NEEDED

Either the newcomers have been so harassed by the accusations hurled against them that some have taken the accusers literally and retreated into the citadels of education, or they are dtermined to point out who actually needs education. From all indications theirs is the latter as evidenced by the heavy enrollment of Southern Youth in local colleges and universities. Although the emphasis of higher education is shifting from liberal arts to industrialization, still, or more urgently is education needed as the Negro has definitely entered industry to stay. It is suggsted for the future advocates of education for the newcomers to our customs and attitudes, that in the aspect of higher education and college preparation that they allow the newcomers to educate us, and seek to inspire our youth to prepare for the higher pursuits in the great business of American society.

✦ AS I SEE IT! ✦

By Jeanette Cohen

No matter how hard they tried, the reactionary Republicans could never stop the nation from expressing their unbounding faith in our heroic Commander-in-Chief. And please believe me, they resorted to everything. In spite of them, Franklin Delano Roosevelt continues to lead America and the United Nations to Victory.

I am writing this column on November 8th—in New York—one day after the historic elections. With the suspense and hard work of the last two weeks of campaigning in back of us, New York is rejoicing—especially Harlem is saying: "There was no suspense for us. As far as we were concerned, we knew who our next President was going to be."

The Deweyites knew which way Harlem would go! They were scared, too! At 6 a.m. when the polls opened, the people of Harlem stood in large queus, collars turned up for protection against the frost that settled on the city, determined to cast their vote before reporting on their jobs.

At five minutes past six, the three telephones in the offices of the Negro Labor Victory Committee (headquarters for dispatching Poll Watchers in cooperation with the American Labor Party) began to ring. For several hours reports came in that voting machines in most every polling place were jammed —the people could not vote until the machines were repaired.

Harlem was angry! Dozens of people streamed in to our headquarters asking "could they help." People who had never before taken part in elections went out as watchers for the American Labor Party and took care of the Polls like veterans.

There have been occasions in past elections where a machine here and there was out of order, but it was inconceivable for 15 or 20 machines in one A.D. to go haywire at the same time. At one place the election board and the policeman sat idly by while more than 300 people waited until 2:30 p.m. before they could vote. It was only when Councilman Benj. J. Davis, Jr., Charles Collins, executive secretary of the NLVC, together with Ben Zelman, attorney, threatened to arrest the board if they did not produce paper ballots (required by law if the machine is broken for an unreasonable length of time) that the machine was repaired in five minutes.

One of the other tricks used in New York, especially in Harlem affected hundreds of first voters. At the time of Registration in October, the Election Districts had been changed, consequently so were the Polls. After passing their literacy tests, many people registered in the wrong place. WITHOUT BEING TOLD it was the wrong place. Surely the election board knew the boundaries of their districts.

Mrs. Ella McCarthy of 20 West 129th street, New York, rushed in to our headquarters to advise us: "They won't let me vote. I know it's a trick and I'm going to vote no matter what happens. I'm working in a War Plant on West 47th street and it's because of Roosevelt I'm there. We Negroes are not going to let Dewey come in and shove us out. He may fool some people, but not us." Mrs. McCarthy's affidavit, prepared by an ALP lawyer (free of charge) and signed by Supreme Court Judge William C. Hecht, was not recognized by the chairman of the board nor by Sgt. Moore, policeman on duty, because they "couldn't read the judge's signature," although 12 other such affidavits had been accepted during the day in the same community.

Yes, they were panicky! They did everything to get their little stooge into the White House—they even refused to give a blind woman aid in voting. They pulled every rabbit out of the hat, but the American people took the same hat and pulled it down over their ears.

As I listen to the radio reports, I hear that some of those reactionary seatwarmers in Congress have gotten the boot, too. Those of us in Harlem know one Congressman who is going down to Washington to lick the daylights out of those still left in the reactionary camp — that's Rev. Adam Clayton Powell—a dynamic supporter of a dynamic President.

The servicemen and women on far-off battlefields put down their guns long enough to mark their little cross or check next to "F.D.R." The soldiers on the home front in overalls and ginghams chalked up their choice. Together, we elected Franklin D. Roosevelt AGAIN, because we NEED him and WANT him.

ALL HAIL TO OUR COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF!

Letters to the Editor

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass,
4075 South Central Avenue,
Los Angeles 11, California.

Dear Madam:

On behalf of the members of the Citizens' Committee against Proposition No. 12, we wish to extend our deep appreciation for your cooperation in our endeavor to defeat Proposition No. 12.

With the satisfaction of knowing that Proposition No. 12 has been defeated, we as citizens of the State of California can move forward to better progress and prosperity for the State and Nation with the assurance that Labor and Management Relations have been stabilized.

Fraternally,
Flenoid Cunningham,
Chairman,
Citizens' Committee Against Proposition No. 12.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

My subscription is long overdue, and you have been kind enough to continue sending it to me, and I would be an ingrate not to acknowledge your kindness.

Your paper is always so full of news that it is a joy to read it, then too, I occasionally see the names of some of my very personal friends, which in a way keeps me in touch with them.

Again thanking you for your patience, and wishing you continued success, I am,

Very sincerely yours,
NELLIE R. McCULLOUGH.

Somewhere in France
September 19, 1944

The California Eagle:

I am somewhere in France. I am a graduate of the Thomas Jefferson High School of the Great Defenders' Class of '42. While at Jefferson, I played for three years and ran the 2:20 for two years. I was born in Los Angeles and lived at 442 E. 30th Street.

During the last four months, I have seen England and also Paris, which is a very nice place; but after all, good old Los Angeles is the best place in the world, and I am looking forward to being home soon. So, until I can come home, I wil say "S. Long." Wish me luck.

Pvt. John V. Amack

Dear Mrs. Bass:—

As a civilian I reside at 155 E. 54th St., in Los Angeles. Being in the employment of the U. S. Army at present, my home is now A.P.O. 928 on the tropical island of New Guinea.

Being an ardent reader of your paper, the CALIFORNIA EAGLE, naturally I'm interested in its contents. I am sending you a poem which we fellows in headquarters concocted relating to our life on this base. This poem depicts a true to life picture of our experiences here on 928. I hope that it proves worthy of publication. Naturally we fellows, especially of California, would enjoy seeing our poem on one of the pages of your newspaper.

This is the seventh day of continuous rain here. A break in the weather would be appreciated very much. Summer is supposed to be breaking through but it doesn't seem like it.

Well, as I sign off, I'm thanking you for the time you have given me.

Respctfully,
Cpl. John W. Sealey

VICTORY

Brave, heroic, loyal loved ones,
We are with you, do not fear.
Like a guardian angel o'er you,
We will keep an eye, an ear.

We have a duty, and we'll do it—
Yes, with loving hearts and hands—
One in purpose, one in spirit,
Trusting Him who understands.

Just keep cheery and be heartened,
And no matter where you be,
Know our prayers and thoughts are with you
As you strive for Victory!

Eva Carter Buckner.

DR. KIT LEUNG

Doctor Kit Leung was born in Canton, China, January 29, 1903. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Kim Leung. He spent his childhood in China, coming to America in 1920. He began his doctorate as a herbalist in 1922.

Dr. Leung was highly trained and outstanding as an herbalist. He received a certificate of honor from the United States Government Department of Botanicak Research for being so thorough in his field of endeavor in 1924. He practised his profession until a few months ago. He departed this life on Monday evening, November 6.

Dr. Leung was established in the Watts community for the past eight years. He leaves a wife, Mrs. Rita Leung, and three children, Aney Leung, age 7, Me-Ling Leung, age 4, and Yen-Yen, age 2; two cousins in the city of Los Angeles, and a host of friends to mourn his passing.

The deceased was of a benevolent nature, and he was highly esteemed by all who knew him. The community joins his widow in her sorrowing, and commend her and his spirit to God for his blessing, knowing that there is no sorrow that God cannot heal.

Every trait of beauty may be referred to some virtue, as innocence, candor, generosity, modesty, or heroism.—St. Pierre

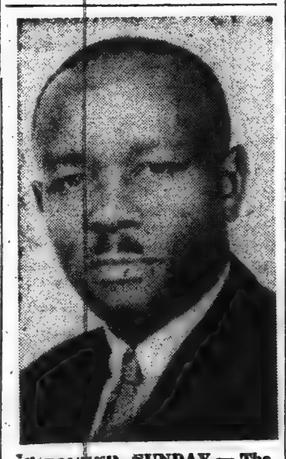
Dr. Dames of Fla. At St. Stephen's

Dr. R. H. Dames, pastor of St. Stephens's A. M. E. Church, Leesburg, Fla., and father of Rev. Jonathan A. Dames of the First A. M. E. Church, Pasadena, was the guest preacher at Eighth and Towne last Sunday morning. His subject was "The Holy Spirit." At the close of his fervent impassioned appear Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, the minister, received four persons into the church.



Two of the major organizations of the church observed their Anniversaries. The Crusaders Club, Mr. E. E. Franklin, president is composed of twenty-five men of the church. It celebrated its Eleventh Anniversary at 3:00 o'clock with a program by the Sallie Martin Singers followed by a Coffee Hour at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kyle, Mr. Floyd Covington, Executive Secretary of the Los Angeles Urban League, was the guest speaker for the Here Am I Club in their evening program celebrating their Sixteenth Birthday. Mr. Covington brought a most thought-provoking message full of valuable suggestions to his hearers. He strongly urged the recognition of the validity of the philosophy of integration for any democratic society.

HOME COMING SUNDAY

The annual observance of Home Coming Day will be marked this Sunday by a numberof special features. For the past several weeks splendid messages have been brought by a series of guest preachers. The pastor will deliver the Home Coming Sermon this Sunday. The guest soloist will be Mr. George Bryant, and special music will be rendered by the two choirs of the church under the efficient direction of Miss Robert V. Edwards and Mr. W. C. Daniel. The Decorateur Club will serve a delicious Turkey Dinner. At 4:00 p.m. a program will be rendered featuring an address by Mrs. Susie Meek Frazier who spent twenty-five years as a Missionary in India. She will appear in costume.

The day's activities will close with a Sound Motion Picture presented under the auspices of the Church School at 7:15. The film is entitled "The Man Who Forgot God." It is based upon a moving story professionally produced. The film has been highly commended by reviewers for its technical excellence as well as its religious values.

Who walks with Beauty has no need of fear;
The sun and moon and stars keep pace with him,
Invisible hands restore the ruined year,
And time, itself, grows beautifully dim. —Robert Nelson

PREACHED SUNDAY — The Rev. Chas. M. Toney, the Field Secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention, preached at the 11:00 a. m. and the 7:30 p. m. services at the Calvary Baptist Church, 1031 East 52nd Place, the Rev. F. K. Leath, pastor. His scripture for the morning service was from St. John 11:16 and St. John 3:16, the subject, "The Christian Security." The 7:30 p. m. scripture was 1st Corinthians 10:4, the subject, "Drinking of the rock, Christ Jesus." Rev. Toney also reviewed the Sunday School lesson, visiting a class where questions were asked, and where a boy and a girl were used to demonstrate the lesson. The subject was, "The Church During War and Peace." The Golden Text was: "Blessed Are the Peacemakers, for They Shall Be called the Children of God," Matt. 5:9. Rev. Toney rendered a great joy to his listeners.

McCoy Memorial Baptist Church Had Dedication Day Sunday

"The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad." Thus did the membership of McCoy Memorial Baptist Church feel throughout the day Sunday, as the dedicatory services progressed.

The services which began at 11:00 a.m. with Dr. Ralph Mayberry delivering the message, continued through the evening. At 3:30 p.m. the Providence Baptist Church furnished the services with Rev. Cayton, Minister, officiating. At the evening service, Dr. A. Wendell Ross preached the sermon which was highlighted by the singing of the two choirs which accompanied him. Five candidates were baptised in the newly built pool. The Rev. A. E. Anderson is pastor of the church.

The members of McCoy Memorial Church wish to thank Rev. Peterson and the St. John Baptist Church, Rev. A. A. Peters and the Victory Baptist Church, and Rev. J. Lyle Caston and the Trinity Baptist Church for the part they played in helping to make their dedicatorial effort a success. The church also wishes to express its appreciation to the following organizations for the cooperative spirit shown: The Sunday School, Mrs. L. F. Moore, the B.T.U., Brother Thompson, the Usher Board, Brother W. M. Moore; the Pastor's Aid and Bible Study, Sister M. Jones and Leola Douglas, the Missionary Society; the Gospel and Senior Choirs, Sisters Marie Anderson, Louise F. Moore, C. A. McMullen, Minnie Wilder, and Brother Robert Dingee.

The community is cordially invited to worship with the membership on Sunday, November 19, when the minister will preach from the subjects, "The Church Celebrating Her Incredible Return out of Captivity," and "The Vanity of Human Endeavors Without Jesus" at the morning and evening services, 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. respectively. At the morning service the Deacons and Deaconees will sing their theme song, "I Am Marching On," and the two choirs will march to the altar for prayer at 10:50 a.m.

Rev. A. E. Anderson

McCoy Memorial Baptist Church is located at 802 E. 46th Street, two blocks south of McKinley and Vernon.

Baha'i Subject

Mrs. Virginia Camelon Foster, whose talk last month upon the responsibility of the individual in a changing world occasioned so much interest and discussion, will speak Sunday, November 19, 3 p.m., at the Baha'i Center, 1709 W. 8th Street, on "The Individual and World Peace."

At a time when attention is focussed on this objective, it is felt that the Baha'i approach, as set down in their teaching over a period of one hundred years, but oriented to today's need, is well worthy the attention of all people who cherish the ideal of a unified world and a lasting peace. All are welcome—there are no charges or collections.

Mt. Siani Baptist Church Services

Mt. Sinai Baptist Church opens its doors to its new church home under the leadership of their progressive pastor, Rev. S. D. Anderson, 27th and Western. The pastor mentioned to his congregation "Let us go just a Stone Throw farther." Our service will be every Sunday at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The building on this beautiful corner lot is very attractive. We are inviting you to come and worship with us at the hour mentioned above. Rev. S. D. Anderson, pastor. For information call CE. 20249.

The recipe for beauty is to have less illusion and more Soul to retreat from the relief of pain or pleasure in the body into the unchanging calm and glorious freedom of spiritual harmony. —Mary Baker Eddy

THE POWER OF GIANTS . . . is needed by the men who build modern ships for war. America's shipbuilders have power in abundance—electric power. With its aid, a single man lifts and carries huge assemblies weighing many tons . . . cuts through heavy armor-plate . . . fuses tough metals and swiftly drives rivets. And always, electricity provides light wherever it is needed . . . turns night into day so that work can continue uninterrupted around the clock. This drive is for the purpose of establishing a church, namely, The Temple of Holy Light with a recreation center for the public.

Rev. C. Burke

This church is located at 2626 So. San Pedro St. The drive begins November 27th, 1944, and lasts until Dec. 11th, 1944. Services will be every night. There will be eloquent speakers, Gospel singers and divine spiritual lecturers. With 13 churches taking part in this great drive, it is being sponsored by the financial board, Rev. M. Murphy, John Gibson, Rev. R. Johnson, Mrs. M. Lawson, and Mrs. Mary Luke. We wish to thank our many friends for their cooperation in this good cause. Sunday, Nov. 12 was a very high spiritual service throughout the day.

Rev. Charles Burke, pastor, Rev. M. Murphy, assistant.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God." This declaration of the Psalmist will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "Soul and Body" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

According to the book of Daniel, Shadrach, Meshach and Abed-nego, who refused to serve the gods set up by Nebuchadnezzar, "were bound in their coats, . . . and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace. . . . Then Nebuchadnezzar . . . rose up in haste, . . . and said . . . Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? . . . Lo, I see four men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like the Son of God. . . . Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, came forth of the midst of the fire . . . and the king's counsellors, . . . saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, . . . nor the smell of fire had passed on them."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy says, "The understanding of his spiritual individuality makes man more real, more formidable in truth, and enables him to conquer sin, disease, and death."

SALLIE MARTIN SINGERS—The above talented group from Chicago, pictured above, will appear as guest artists on the dedication programs of Victory Baptist Church of which Rev. Arthur Peters is pastor, this Sunday morning. The church is proud to have this brilliant group on its program. They are Dorothy Simons, Elenora Moore, Sallie Martin, Cora Brewer and Julia Smith.

New St. John Baptist Church Holds Services

Sunday marked the second service of the new St. John Baptist Church.

The eminent young pastor, the Rev. J. H. Branham Jr., of Chicago, filled the pulpit both morning and evening. The popular Mrs. Charlie Mae Lomax gave a rendition of "Jesus I Love You." Guests for the day were: the Rev. and Mrs. Horace N. Mays, Mrs. J. H. Branham Jr., and the great revivalist and pastor, Rev. W. A. Peterson.

During the remaining weeks in this year, our Pastor, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, will occupy the pulpit. St. John is proud of her leader, and is anxiously awaiting his powerful messages.

On the fourth Sunday afternoon, a group of well known pastors will comprise a recognition council, and will meet with the St. John Baptist Church at 3:00 p.m.

Rev. Marion On Coast To Pastor First A. M. E. Zion

The Reverend Shepard H. Marion, one of the most outstanding pastors of the A. M. E. Zion connection will preach his sermon, as pastor of historic First Church on Sunday, Nov 19th.

Rev. Marion's pastural record includes that of leading charges in Indianapolis, Ind., Knoxville, Tenn., and Alabama. He comes to the Southern Rocky Mountain Conference having rounded out six highly-successful years in the pulpit of Old Ship A. M. E. Zion Church in Montgomery, Ala. He leaves his former charge with a long-standing mortgage liquidated, and the entire church plant beautifully and completely renovated. Every connectional claim met, and the membership asking for his return.

Reverend Marion received the degree of Bachelor of Sacred Literature from Butler University, and has rightfully earned the name of a real church builder. The members of First Church have not remained idle in the meantime. This loyal congregation has carried on. A successful rally was brought to a close with over $1,500 raised over and above regular offerings. With the coming of Rev. Marion to Zion's First Church, the outlook for this conference year is one of assured success.

Women's Day at Progerssive Baptist Church Sunday

Fifth Annual Women's Day Services at the Progressive Baptist Church, 1201 East Vernon Avenue, Rev. R. B. Porter, Pastor, Sunday, November 19, 1944. Theme for the day—"Courage." Rev. Joseph T. Thomas, Pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Long Beach, California, will be the speaker at the 11:00 o'clock hour.

At 3 p.m. Mrs. M. A. B. Fuller, President of the Women's Auxiliary of the National Baptist Convention, will be the guest speaker at a mass meeting of the Pacific Baptist Association.

At 6 p.m. Evening Services with the Young Women in charge there will be a special program with music by the Youung Women's Chorus. Mrs. Ursula Priutt Adams, a teacher in the Grape Street Elementary School, South Los Angeles, will be the principal speaker.

Rev. Marshall Begins Sermon Series Sunday

The Rev. Paul M. Marshall, minister of the newly organized Independent Church at 27th and Paloma Streets, will begin a series or sermons on the general theme "Meeting Life's Situations."

The first in this series will be preached at the 11:00 a.m. service, Sunday, on the subject "Building A Bigger Life."

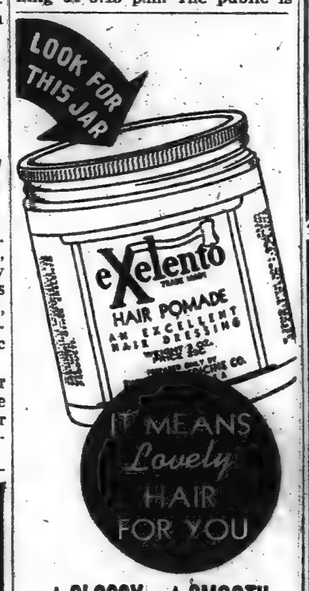
Vesper Services will be held at 6:30 p.m.

A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to hear these sermons dealing with life's situations. Special music will be furnished by the Carver Memorial Choir. Mary Coggs is Church Clerk.

Ada H. Palmer Passed Recently

News of the passing of Mrs. Ada Hackley Palmer, Saturday, November 11, reached the city Tuesday evening. Mrs. Palmer's late home was 531 Chester St., Oakland where she was prominent in church, social and civic life.

Mrs. Renee Peoples, daughter of Mrs. Palmer, announced the funeral for Thursday, November 16, at Parks Temple with Reverend Arthur Johnson presiding.



Lecture Series Given at Pasadena

Unusual public interest is being shown in the illustrated lecture and program series conducted by Rev. Owen A. Troy and his associates on Sunday and Wednesday evenings at the Sunset Avenue Church, corner Sunset and Pepper, Pasadena.

Dr. B. A. T. Bowlin, well-known Pasadena physician, will give the preliminary health talk Sunday evening. Music will be furnished by the Sweet Chariot Hour Ladies Trio and Male Quintet.

"Wheels Across India," one of the most thrilling sound moving pictures will be shown as a preliminary feature at 7:20 p.m. Rev. Troy's illustrated lecture will be: "The great Day of Judgment—How Near Are We to It?" On Wednesday evening the lecture will be: "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse."

The Sweet Chariot Hour Vespers will be held Saturday evening at 6:15 p.m. The public is invited to witness the broadcast of the Sweet Chariot Hour by remote control from the Sunset Avenue Church, Saturday evening, 6:30 to 7:00, over station KPAS (1110 kc.)

Victory Baptist Church To Be Dedicated Sunday

Rev. Floyd B. Boice, D. D., famed archaeologist and psychologist, and president of the Los Angeles Baptist Theological Seminary, will be the guest speaker at the dedication services of the Victory Baptist Church, 48th and McKinley, on Sunday morning, November 19, 1944. He will speak on the theme, "The Thing That Counts Most," from the gospel of Luke, chapters 9 and 10.

Rev. A. Peters

Dr. Boice comes to us with a great love for our Lord and for His work. He is especially concerned for the ongoing of the cause of Christ as it pertains to the training of young men and women for the world-wide proclamation of the gospel. His warm sympathy for and interest in all good works, such as the establishment and dedication of Victory Baptist Church, is well known. He harbors a deep concern for the blessing of the Lord upon the enterprising pastor of Victory Baptist Church, the Rev. Arthur Peters, Th.B., who is a graduate of the Los Angeles Baptist Theological Seminary of which Dr. Boice is president.

Guest artists appearing on the program will be the famous Sallie Martin Singers of Chicago, who have endeared themselves to thousands of music lovers throughout Southern California, and Mr. Earl Pleasant, talented gospel soloist. The public is cordially invited, and you are urged to come early in order to secure a seat.

PROGRESS OF CHURCH

Since its organization, the Victory Baptist Church has made great strides. It had its beginning on April 4, 1943, at 941 E. 42nd street (at Wadsworth), under the leadership of Rev. A. A. Peters. The beginning was very small, but with God's help and the faith of the membership, it has come a long way. The membership has grown to 250. It is a well-organized and departmentalized church. The deacon board, trustee board, missionary society, Sunday school, pastor's aid, choir, usher board and prayer band all work for the glory of God and for the growth and progress of the church. The church is responsible for the training of its pastor, Reverend Peters, whose ministerial education it sponsored through the Los Angeles Baptist Seminary, from which school he received the Bachelor of Theology Degree.

The present site of Victory Baptist Church is at 48th and McKinley, a very beautiful and desirable location, easily reached by way of the "U," "V" and "S" cars. The building is estimated to cost above $10,000, with all modern conveniences.

The church now sponsors a weekday church school for young people, each Tuesday, and the present enrollment is 150.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

At 4 p. m. there will be a special concert featuring the Three Ds, unusually talented children from New York City. This promises to be a rare treat and all parents should bring their children out to hear these gifted youngsters.

At 6:30 p. m. the B.T.U. is sponsoring a "Singspiration" service.

Mr. Earl Pleasant, Rev. Arthur Peters and Mr. R. L. Hatter will present a "Gospel in Song" service at the 8 o'clock worship hour. Eveyone is cordially invited.

Chemists Needed

The Los Angeles City Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for chemists to work in the Department of Water and Power.

Applications must be filed by 5 p. m. Thursday, December 28, in Room 11, Los Angeles City Hall.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new Introductory Course of 24 lessons, divided into two sections of 12 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

I read these days about the alarming increase in crime throughout the country, particularly among our young people. What are some of the causes of this condition? We lay most everything on the war. Doesn't the Bible give us some information along these lines?—Miss J. C., Sacramento, Calif.

You have raised questions that are troubling most thinking people these days. And while we can not give final answers to these questions, there are several causes which we can't fail to see and which the Bible gives help on.

One juvenile authority in a Southern California city said that 95% of the cases which had come to his attention were the result of parents' failure to exercise proper care and control of their offspring.

Too many parents are not "training up a child in the way he should go." as the Bible admonishes. In fact, many parents have left God and the principles of religion out of their own lives. How, then, can they instill these principles in their children if they do not practice them as parents?

Possibly the best explanation of this widespread lawlessness is found in the Bible. In 2 Timothy 3:1 we read: "this know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come."

What are some of the causes of these perilous or dangerous times?

The God of the universe, in His great wisdom, has given mankind an inward conception of right and wrong. Also he has given a standard of conduct, a rule of action—the law of God, the Ten Commandments. The violation of this law constitutes transgression, or sin. "Sin is the transgression of the law." 1 John 3:4.

When Jesus was asked by a lawyer as to which commandment is the greatest one of the law, He said: "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy herat, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

Summed up, the Ten Commandments teach love to God and love to man.

Too many peole these days have turned their backs to God by disregarding His law. Since they have no respect or regard for God's law, they have none for the laws of our government. If we respect God's law and obey its principles, we will show reverence for God and the eternal principles of righteousness. And if we obey God's law, we will have respect for each other and for the laws of our country.

What Bible reasons are there for not getting drunk to drown out your sorrows?—E. F., San Diego.

In I Corinthians 6:10 we read that no drunkard shall inherit the kingdom of God. Proverbs 23:29-32: "Who hath woe? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling: who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine: they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. In the Bible times there were no distilled liquors. The alcoholic content of the fermented drinks was considerably less than the distilled beverages of our modern times. Modern beverages contain from thirty to seventy-five per cent alcohol.

There are several feasts mentioned in the New Testament which Jesus attended. Did these feasts have any meaning?—L. M., Los Angeles.

Those are the feasts which were observed in Jesus' day and which, no doubt, he attended regularly: The Feast of Passover, the Feast of Pentecost, the Feast of Tabernacles, the Feast of Purim.

The feast of Passover was observed in April and commemorated the exodus from Egypt 1400 years before. The Feast of Pentecost was held in June, 50 days after the Feast of Passover. Originally was instituted to celebrate the giving of the law at Mount Sinai.

The Feast of Tabernacles was celebrated in October. It was a harvest-time celebration. It was a period of rejoicing because of the ingathering of the harvests. The Jews also observed the Feast of Purim. No mention of it is made in the Gospels. This feast was celebrated shortly before the Passover.

Also there was the feast of Dedication called "Lights." This was instituted by Judas Maccabaeus in the period just prior to the birth of Christ.

Rev. Toney Preaches At Calvary Baptist

Rev. Chas. M. Toney, Field secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention preached at the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services at Calvary Baptist Church, 1031 E. 52nd Street, last Sunday. Rev. F. K. Heath, pastor. His subject in the morning was "The Christian Security" and in the evening "Drinking Of The Rock Christ Jesus."

Rev. Toney also reviewed the Sunday School lesson while attending the classes. He answered questions asked him. His presence Sunday and the services he rendered were greatly appreciated by the church.

Negro Marines Kill Seven Japs

By Sgt. Harold A. Bread.

SOMEWHERE IN THE PACIFIC.—(Delayed).—When the Japs forced their way into the division hospital area early in the battle of Guam, the 16 Negroes attached to headquarters of the Third Marine Division were called upon to do what all Marines are trained to do—fight.

Taking the assignment in stride, as members of mopping-up patrols, they killed seven Japs without suffering a casualty.

Mrs. Mollie Moore Dies in Pasadena

Mrs. Mollie C. H. Moore, wife of the late Prof. James C. Moore, pioneer mother and resident of Pasadena for 45 years, passed Saturday morning, October 28, at her home at 186 South Sierra Bonita in Pasadena, after an illness of four weeks with a heart ailment.

Two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Smith and Mrs. Miriam Hardena Diggs of Chicago, are en route home, and will arrive Tuesday morning; a son, Prof. Paul Moore of Institute, West Virginia, is arriving by plane. The other daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, Attorney Zephyr Ramsey, and a son, Mr. James C. Moore, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Marzella Johnson, were at her bedside when the end came.

KINLOCH'S CORNER

By John S. Kinloch

J. S. Kinloch

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE.—Out here where German 88's chew up the adjacent scenery and mortar fire sets your bridgework tingling, just about the only literature available to the doughfoot soldiers is the United States Army's battlefield daily, "The Stars and Stripes."

The circulation department of this popular journal works about the toughest route on record, making deliveries in some spots straight through enemy lines to forward patrols of American soldiers.

One of the most progressive facts about our liberation army has been the consistent policy of racial good-will exhibited by the Stars and Stripes. The Paris edition of the paper, different from the larger one printed in London, is the real battle-line publication, printed for and distributed directly to the foxhole occupants at the front. It is this edition of the S&S which has carried on a daily campaign of racial understanding.

In addition, the paper strikes a clear anti-fascist tone in its discussions of the post-war world, and regularly pokes round-house blows in the face of American isolationism.

Typical of S&S editorial material is a recent Question and Answer session the editorial staff conducted with a 17-year-old Nazi prisoner. Part of the Q and A article ran:

Q: Do you think the Germans are the master race?

A: If the Fuehrer says so, it is true.

Q: Where would you like to be sent?

A: To the United States.

Q: The U.S. has many kinds of people — Czechs, Poles, Negroes, Democrats, Jews.

A: After the war, it will be otherwise in the United States.

Q: There won't be those people any more?

A: They will disappear.

Stars and Stripes concluded: "What do you do with a kid like that? Anybody got any ideas?"

By far the most popular of the paper's features is its B-Bag column, where the average GI is welcome to "blow it out." The column is an amazingly accurate reflection of the American soldier's thought on most issues with which he is confronted here. A recent B-Bag column was devoted entirely to a discussion of Negro troops. It follows:

(The column for the day was headed, "Like Humans Should."

"I'm in a hospital in the European theater of operations. . . . There are only three colored boys in this ward and we get along like humans should. We are treated well regardless of race, creed, or color. That is the post-war pattern!—A Regular Army G.I., Franklin Latham Jr., First Sergeant.

"'Let's Set the Post-War Pattern' in one of your recent issues (an editorial urging racial unity—Ed.) cracked a door that we dared not open, lest we face bare facts.

"Well, fellow Americans, we had the guts to face Hitler's 88's at St. Lo, and the courage to cling to every tomorrow at the Anzio beachhead. Let's ignore society and face the Negro problem. Let's make sure that this comrade who shared the foxholes with us in France—mingled his blood in death with ours on the immortal shores of Normandy — shares the freedom he died for.—One who believes in the Four Freedoms.

"Our outfit is composed of boys from North and South. We have often fought the Civil War over and over again in friendly arguments, but on one point we are agreed. The Negro soldier in this war is getting more credit than he deserves.

"He is in the majority of cases a rear-echelon cowboy who never saw the front lines. We have been on the front line since shortly after D-Day. Never have we seen a colored soldier on the front lines.

"We, the fighting doughboys, give credit where it is deserved. Even the medics get their share of credit. It makes us mad to see a bunch of rear-echelon cowboys grabbing credit where they have nothing to deserve it. — S/Sgt. H.A.W., Inf.

(The Stars and Stripes sets its foot firmly in the teeth of this argument in its reply, printed immediately following the above letter, to-wit:)

"Prejudice knows no state or national boundaries. Uncle Sam's men in the forces serve and fight where they're told to:

"The activity of Negro troops in this war includes landing with the first U. S. assault forces to hit the Normandy beaches on D-Day. Barrage-balloon men, port battalions, Duck companies and quartermaster truck units were in on the landings.

"Two of these units were commended by General Eisenhower. One Negro infantry division, the 93rd, is at present in action on Bougainville in the South Pacific. The second Negro infantry division to see action in this war, the 92nd, is in there fighting right now in north Italy. Negro airmen have made a notable record in Italy (as well as in North Africa and Sicily), where the 99th Pursuit Squadron and Col. Benjamin Davis' fighter group have been flying combat missions with the 15th Air Force.—Ed." (.. And that "Ed" was the S&S one, not the Eagle's!)

"I read 'Let's Set the Post-War Pattern' and if S&S will print the enclosed clipping from Time magazine, I'm sure it will give a lot of other white guys the same surprise—pleasant—that it gave this one.

"The colored troops are in there pitching with us now. How about us pitching in to see that they get a fair deal in the 'Post-War World'—at least in the good old U.S.A.?—Georgia Jonny, Inf."

BURNING THE MORTGAGE AND LAYING THE CORNERSTONE—At Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church, 4415 Hooper Ave. Organized in a dwelling house on the Westside, December 1, 1912, Rev. J. D. Pettigrew gave to the Far West its first Congregational Church whose founders were Negroes. The founders were H. L. Garrott, F. W. Stewart, Mrs. E. J. Moore, Mrs. John Shankle, Mrs. Cora Dennis, Mrs. Hattie Pillows, Mrs. Laura Colbert, and others such as the late Mrs. Ida Long, Mr. and Mrs. George Baker and Mr. S. Shankle. The late Rev. Ernest Lightner took charge October 6, 1915 and served 26 years. Outstanding participants in the service were Mrs. E. B. Porter and her Choir from the Progressive Baptist Church, Mr. Norman Houston of the Golden State Life Insurance, Rev. Harold Kingsley of Pilgrim House and Dr. James Hutchins of the Lake Ave. Congregational Church of Pasadena who was the principle speaker.

CANTEEN OPENED

A canteen for teen-agers sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. will be opened each Friday evening from 7 to 11 p.m. at the Woodlawn branch Y.W.C.A., 4260 Woodlawn.

Group of club members and advisers talk over plans for the opening on Friday evening, November 17.

Manual Td-Y Club will serve as hostesses for the initial meeting. This group is under the leadership of Miss Jacqueline Wilson.

Carl J. Gross, Civic Leader, Gets New Post

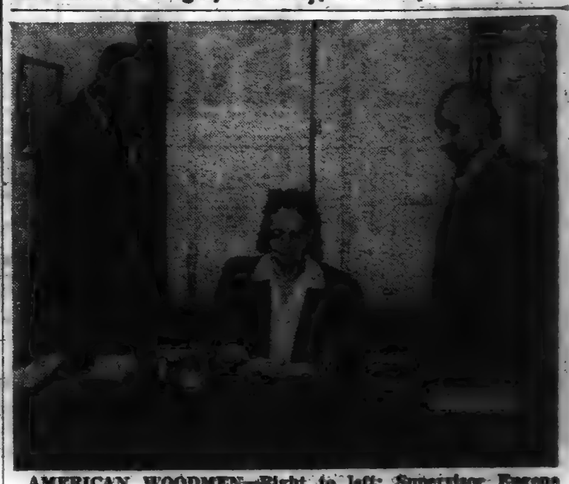
Long associated with the City government of Los Angeles as a playground director, Carl J. Gross has just joined the staff of Leeman Furniture Company as Director of Public Relations for the Southeast district of the city. Mr. Gross brings to his new post a wealth of experience in public life, both as a former newspaper man and civic worker, and the appointment will be of interest to many hundreds of his friends throughout Los Angeles.

Gross has been a resident of Los Angeles for 22 years; is a member of the East Side Chamber of Commerce, and is chairman of Group 129 of the Boy Scout organization. He is an active member of the Masonic Order and for years has played an important role in civic affairs.

His son, Carl Gross Jr., is Army Captain now assigned to Camp Lee, Va.

Leeman's, where Mr. Gross has just taken up his new duties, isn't a large store, but its stock is so varied you can find even those "hard to find" pieces for any room in the home. They make a specialty of Fireside chairs and even have a good selection of Period furniture.

Leeman's store is located on the furniture "strip" at 1411 W. Washington Boulevard. If daytime shopping is not convenient, they are open evenings except Tuesday and Thursday. And if you just can't get away at any time during the week, then you may do your shopping in unhurried comfort on Sundays till 5 p.m.



Completes Radio Course

Harold Lee Ferguson has completed the 12 weeks' course as radio operator at the Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Va. He is a private in the Corps of Engineers. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Ferguson, of 10602 Grape St., Los Angeles.

Ferguson attended the David Starr Jordan High School and the Compton Junior College. He is married to the former Annabelle Thompson. Their home is at 1561 East 110th St.

Before entering the service last June, Ferguson was a welder in the California shipyards.

Howard Disking Watts, 1629 Russell st., is home after a pleasant visit with his mother in Jackson Miss., and with friends in Beloit, Wisconsin.

AMERICAN WOODMEN—Right to left: Supervisor Eugene Robinson, Clerk Pauline Jones of Los Angeles Camp No. 1 American Woodmen and Supreme Commander L. H. Lightner. As a result of the resourcefulness and aggressive leadership of supervisor Robinson and the active Co-operation of the local officers and members of Los Angeles Camps, American Woodmen, the records show a gain of fifty percent in membership. Supervisor Robinson has organized two new camps, one in Los Angeles and one in San Francisco. Accompanied by Supervisor Robinson the Supreme Commander recently visited the Woodmen Camps in Oakland, San Francisco, Los Angeles, and San Diego. The Supreme Commander expressed himself as being pleased with the progress the Woodmen are making in the Pacific Coast State and commends Supervisor Robinson for his outstanding accomplishments.

FARMERS ORGANIZE TO HELP VETERANS

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK

It's being widely cocktailroomered in the sin spots of Harlem that Hazel Scott will be the next Mrs. Rev. Adam Clayton Powell. . . . Overheard in the NBC Building: "Marva Louis carries a tune as though it were a ton!" . . . The rumor that Lena Horne was secretly sealed to Charlie Barnet was just that. . . . Earl Dancer, the "genius" who discovered and later married Ethel Waters, Scotch and soda-ing at the Downbeat the other evening and trying to make some of us believe "Lena Horne can outsing Ella Fitzgerald."

Someone already called the man in the White Jacket! . . . Lillian L. (for lovely) Lomax, the cute clerk at Carver Jr. High School, being oogled at by the student wolves. Her shapely anatomy makes 'em forget what they came in the office for. . . . The Richard Cooks will give their business to the Calif. divorce courts. She's the little doll named Cleo Herndon. . . . The elevator operator (about 70 years old) complained of having a backache to a few of us riding down from Lionel Hampton's undressing room the other sundown. "Best remedy I know for a backache," teased Hamp's mgr., Joe Glaser, "is to reconstrue on the sanisfran with swamproot from the harpischord."

The grand old man who's been elevator-operating at the Orpheum for years, nearly blew his top trying to savvy the double-talk. The Heavyweight Champion of the World is fighting to earn enough coin to help pay his income tax. That's what Winchell said. And Walter never tells a lie. (Well, hardly ever) . . The pretty Mexicutie clerks at the Downtown Grand Central Market. Some of them oughta be in pickchas. . . . Newest avenoo Hit Parade fave is a torchant titled "Into Each Life Some Rain Must Fall." It's a favorite over at our house, too. . . . As if being the mother of what I hope will be a boy isn't enough to keep her busy, Gertrude Lomax Gipson contemplates colyuming a sasiety page for a national sheet.

A well-known man-about-town was trying unsuccessfully to date a glam gal the other two in the morning. "Ah, come on," he begged, "I won't kiss and tell." "I know you won't," was the retort, "'cause it'll cost you a mink coat. And you ain't gonna tell on YOURSELF!" . . .

LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL?

An on-sale beer license at 2711 S. San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, was denied by the State Board of Equalization on September 14 because of proximity to a school. That address is a club known as the Cafe Society. It is one of the most well-managed and attractive clubs on the eastside. Where you wouldn't be ashamed to take your mother. Which is more than you can say about most of the clubs given licenses by the State Board of Equalization. That isn't our argument. This is: Cafe Society was denied its license, yet there is one on-sale licensed premises nearer the school property than this cafe! Of course, it is owned by a white man! Now let's review THIS case. In the closing paragraph of the copy of the "findings and recommendation after hearing," is this line, signed by Franklin J. Cole, representative of the State Board of Equalization: "I find that the issuance of this license would be contrary to public welfare and morals, and therefore it is denied." That statement, ladies and gentleman, makes about as much sense as President Roosevelt trying to cross Lake Erie in a hollow tooth.

They politely refuse Negro patronage in the first-class night clubs of Hollywood, etc. Therefore we are restricted to amusement on Our Side of the Tracks. If we are denied night club privileges in Hollywood, and the State Board of Equalization denies us those same privileges on our own side of town, what then is there left for us to do—sit around for the next four years and elect those same people to office who haven't even heard of equal rights, liberty and justice for all, etc? The Cafe Society is operated by members of the Van Courtlandt Social club.

And you know the reputation of that organization. Organized in 1930, it has served its purpose well. And its purpose has been to help those unfortunate. On Christmas of every year, donations are taken among the members of the club and pooled to purchase baskets for the needy. It is more of a progressive club than just a group gotten together to hold and have social functions. The reputations and character of all members of the Van Courtlandt Social Club is unquestioned. The money of the dues the club members paid to their treasury went to build the Cafe Society. And the Cafe Society is my idea of how a first-class night club should be operated. There is never any rough stuff of any kind. It is where the elite meet to eat. It is one of the very few clubs where you would take your mother. The club was denied a beer license merely because "it is near a school."

The Cafe Society opens at 7:30 in the evening. School is out at 3 in the afternoon. As for being refused a beer license, what is so morally wrong with drinking beer? I drink it with my meals. Which is the way the Cafe Society wanted to sell theirs. If representatives of the State Board of Equalization would take an afternoon off, at our own expense, we would personally drive them to various streets in Hollywood (and other white districts of the town) and point out to them clubs, cocktail lounges, etc., far nearer to schools than the Cafe Society.

I have heretofore sincerely believed in the fairness of the State Board of Equalization. But now they have either resorted to unfair prejudices, or they're still too happily excited over Roosevelt's re-election (or Dewey's defeat, take your pick) to give a damb what's going on on Our Side of Town. Pardon me for pointing, but didn't a one-time politician approach one of the members of the Cafe Society with the statement that "I can get your beer license for you if you pay $500?" I have the answer to that question on file in my office, Mr. District Attorney!

ADDED NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S FILE

Her many well-wishers will be happy to learn that Ethel Barrymore's condition has reached the "satisfactory" stage. . . . Cee Pee Johnson, the bandsman, had a recent run-in with the gendarmes up Frisco way. A narcotics charge. . . . Lena Horne's superb acting on last wk's "Suspense" show rates a salute from the fans. . . . Ansel Hill's ork ("The greatest white band since Bennie Goodman!") returns to the Alabam four wks. from today. . . . Bill Graham, Harlem and Broadway publicist, is in Movieland guiding the career of Marva Louis. She's the Champ's wife. Opens at the Troc the 17th. . . . The principals in that hair-pulling contest the other evening in the foyer of one of the avenoo moom pickcha houses, were married matrons from the Westside of town. Slugging it out over the affections of a swish. . . . If Jimmie Fidler will contact the col'm, we'll tell him the name of a bronze beauty who thinks he's the next best thing to Red Beans and Rice! . . . The defunct "Ken" magazine predicted ninety-ninth per cent correctly all the history-making events happening now. Even John Lee's divorce from the lovely Kay!

Is Known As "Sweetest Swing Band In U. S."

Ernie Fields and his orchestra will move into the new club Alabam for a four week engagement starting Friday, November 17th. Fields has a line-up of stars that would be an asset to any band. Hailing from Oklahoma territory, the band is familarily known as "America's Sweetest Swing Band." Don't be fooled by that billing, tho, they dish it out hot as well as sweet. They have played in all the leading spots in the Southwest, and main standby in the group is California's own arranging-Trombone-playing son, Parker Berry, whose solid swing arrangements skyrocketed the Les Hite band to the top of the musical heap.

HOUR OF PARTING

The band can best be indentified as being the one who made the tune, "The Hour of Parting Is Here" famous. They do justice to any sweet tune, But they play it in a sweet swing manner. Outfit has just finished twe years at the Mayo Hotel in Tulsa, and they're plenty popular with the hepcats and hepchicks who like their swing dished out in a melodious vein. They have variety in their repertoire. Playing is smooth, with a polished finish that makes for effective listening. Playing is yyyyyaaa listening. Customers along nightclub row here will like Ernie Fields' brand of swing.

Continuing his policy of bringing to the Alabam patrons the best in big time entertainment, Curtis Mosby has added a contortionist known simply as "The Bender," and who is just that. It's hard to describe his act. You'll have to see it to appreciate it, anyway. Of course, the Archie Savage Dancers, who scored such a hit their initial appearance there, will be held over along with the Sweetheart of the Alabam, torchanting Marian Abernathy. At press time, Curtis Mosby was waiting for a wire from blues singing Wynonne Harris, who was expected to open in the new show.

Orchids In Benefit At Club Plantation

Marian Gordon, Laura Slayton, Laverne Hall and Ramelle Bagnerise, members of the Orchids presenting Erskine Hawkins with tickets for the gala matinee benefit dance at the Plantation Club Sunday, November 26.

The Twentieth Century Gabriel and his band will furnish the fine dance music for this worthy cause with all proceeds going into a fund to help curb youth linquency. With numerous grand delinquency. With numerous grand surprises appearing on the program and the social spotlight focused toward this gala affair, you will have missed the event supreme if you fail to attend.

NAPTOWN BOOGIE JOE

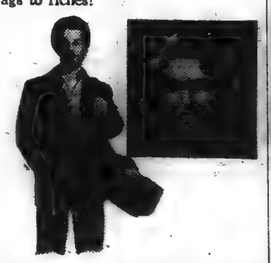
Lena Horne Stars in New Pic Coming to the Lincoln Nov. 24

For one week starting Nov. 24th at the Lincoln Theatre the beautiful Lena Horne will be seen as the sensational star of "The Bronze Venus," a new Toddy musical extravaganza.

The Hollywood sky is full of stars but not one of them gained their glowing brilliance in a more exciting way than lovely Lena Horne, the New York girl who made good... plenty good... out in filmland's capital. Lena Horne, who created a sensation in such thrilling successes as "Cabin in the Sky," "Stormy Weather," and "Thousands Cheer," is currently starred with Ralph Cooper in the "Bronze Venus." If ever a picture title described its star, this new musical surely does for Lena is a Bronze Venus if ever one walked on earth!



Be sure to be one of the first patrons on hand to see Lena Horne in a new and exciting film role with the handsome and debonair Ralph Cooper. Remember "The Bronze Venus" starts Nov. 24th at the Lincoln and will continue for one week.

"Climax" Featured At United Artists

The super-smooth villan Boris Karloff is back on the screen at last in one of the best roles of his long acting career, as Dr. Hohner, in Universal's Teshnicolor musical drama, "The Climax" which is now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles, with Susanna Foster and Turban Bey in co-starring roles. On the same program is "San Diego, I Love You" with Jon Hall and Louise Allbritton.

Miller and Lee Are Top Comics

Twenty years ago the comedy team of... Flourney E. Miller and Aubrey Lyle was one of the most talked about dispensers of humor in the world of entertainment. When "Shuffle Along," the all-Negro muscial show that created a sensation on Broadway in the early 20s, came alone, Miller and Lyle hit the peak.

However, after Lyle died, F. E. Miller tried his luck as a single, dabbling in motion pictures, radio and stage shows. He met with mediocre success.

Then three years ago along came producers who put on another all-colored musical on Broadway called "Cavalcade." Miled was called tin to assist. A comedy team was needed. Johnny Lee, a promising fellow who had made quite a name for himself as Ko-Ko in Bill Robinson's "Hot Mikado," was contacted. So was born the sensational new team of Miller and Lee.

The team has made excellent progress since. The pair went on several USO camp show tours, appeared in "Stormy Weather" and later in "Sweet 'n Hot." They have toured the country several times with white as well as colored acts.

Comes now an interesting angle. The team of Manton Moreland and Ben Carter have been drawing laughs recently with their take-off on Miler's routine of years standing. This involves the "implied subject" routine in which one partner begins a sentence and before he finished it, the other breaks in with his answer as if the latter has already read the former's mind.

Others besides Manton and Ben have borrowed this routine and used it to their advantage.

PORTRAIT OF A NEGRO U.S.O. ENTERTAINER!

Perhaps it's the talented young Miss, the ambitious young man or just the grand-old-timer who is anxious to recapture the atmosphere of past vaudville days and still be patriotic; never-the-less these are the type who immediately rushed to sign up with their local USO office organized to send out Negro Units. Right after Pearl Harbor individuals from all walks of the entertainment world volunteered their services so as to be able to follow the Sepia Boys and keep up THEIR morale through the medium of good entertainment.

The performer whom ever she or he happened to be after signing up was P.D.Q8s, pledged to reaffirm allegiance to this great Democracy and then went on to rehearsing with others assigned to the same Unit to be sent on the trip to our Boys where ever stationed.

Sometimes the Unit was lucky enough to get a Western assignment taking them into the heart of Mexico in the South West or across the skies of Alaska. More often the assignment read SOUTH. This didn't matter though just as long as the performer KNEW that Negro troops in training or in battle would not miss out on seeing their beloved entertainment idols from "back home."

It is the entertainer's trip to southern camps that make the portrait deepen in color, and most interesting. There are days and nights of busy packing, making trains and buses or sometimes bombers, unpacking, dressing, performing, chatting with the soldiers, playing favorite requests or singing favorite songs, and catching trains again; that permeate the entire trip.

All seems well as long as the troupe can stay at Army Posts and enjoy Outfit's hospitality. It's the outside reception and typical "Southern Hospitality" that makes the performer wonder if sheer patriotism is worthy if Democratic ideals are AT ALL attainable and above all HOW the delegates of this Southern "hospitality" can manage to be alive in the world today!

It's the fact of entertaining ON the STAGE TODAY and being told TOMORROW to use the alley entrance marked "Colored Only" when wishing to merely LOOK at a show. It's the fact of playing in camps where white officers SEE to it that Negro soldiers get no higher ratings than Warrant Officer, where white northern soldiers are rebuked severly for not being soldiers the SOUTHERN WAY or for being sympathetic in relation to fellow soldiers who happen to be Negroes, where Negro soldiers are so pent-up and disguested that when learning of over-seas embarkation os their own assignment literally attempt to make up for all the abuses they've suffered at the hands of Southern whites. It's the idea that after traveling the lengthy hours in sometimes the most cramped conditions; of having to be refused a decent meal because: "WE DON'T SERVE COLORED;" which serves as evidence to the Negro USO entertainer that the "morale-building" ideas is a lot of malarkey if examples of TRUE DEMOCRACY is NON-EXISTENT in reality. Yet this same entertainer KNOWS that sometime in his or her lifetime there is the expected occasion of playing the IMPOSSIBLE PERFORMANCE so the best is done to accomplish the TOUGHEST JOB ALL! ! !... That of tryi ing to make a soldier smile, enjoy his Barracks, yes, even laugh at hardships and STILL be serious enough to have courage when at the VERY time he's sitting in a JIM CROW-CAMP, wearing a uniform that Southerners on the whole DO NOT respect on a BLACK MAN. Yes, this is the same guy the entertainer must make laugh who is subject to every imaginable Community prejudice and indignity while ignorant Southern officials locally and even the Congressmen gloat over and watch with apparent pleasure the abuse of Federal property which MOST ASSUREDLY is the authorized militiary soldier in the uniform of the United States Military Service REGARDLESS of RACE, COLOR or CREED.

So in this brief description of what the USO Negro entertainer experiences in doing the huge job of sustaining morale you have a notion of what it is REALLY LIKE. In recognition the NEGRO USO entertiner gets a NINETY-ONE GUN-SALUTE from Yours Truly for the magnificent piece of work he or she still manages to do in spite of handicaps significant of Americanism as far TOO many Negro citizens know it.

With such in mind it perhaps wouldn't be a bad idea if civilians organized units to do a super-job of KEEPING UP THE USO ENTERTAINER'S MORALE. However, if this seems too facitious at LEAST: TAKE A lesson in endurance, take a lesson in REAL morale, take a lesson in watching our SEPIA FOOTLIGHT WARRIORS, do a JOB under the MOST SUBTLE ODDS.

LENA HORNE, above, with Ralph Cooper as co-star, will be seen in "The Bronze Venus" at the Lincoln Theatre starting Nov. 24th and continuing for one week.

Famed Blues Singer to Share Honors With Erskine Hawkins

Friday night, November 17th, will be a red letter day in Los Angeles entertainment history when Joe Morris brings ipto his Plantation Club, 10718 S. Central avenue, the one and only "T-Bone" Walker, blues singer extraordinary, who has created a sensation where ever he has appeared. T-Bone" recently completed an extended tour which earned him new honors as "King of the blues."

One of the reasons for the success of "T-Bone" is the great work he does on his electrical guitar while accompanying himself. You'd better get there early Friday night for his opening because L. A. always turns out enmasse when they hear that "T-Bone" is on the bill. Backing the fine blues singer will be Erskine Hawkins, the 20th Century Gabriel, and his brilliant band, which features Effie Smith and Jimmie Mitchell singing "Don't Cry, Baby." A stellar floor show which is bound to please you will complete one of the finest entertainment bills Joe Morris has presented at the Plantation Club and he has presented some mighty fine ones. Be there, we'll be watching for you.

Harlem Nurse to Serve In Calif.

by Gladys P. Graham

NEW YORK CITY (Calvin's News Service). — Agnes Bailey, an outstanding nurse in the public health field and graduate of the Harlem School of Nurses, was appointed from the civil service list (federal) in which she placed 14 to serve at the Compton Center in Los Angeles, Calif.

The young appointee indicated that she had done post graduate work at Fordham and Columbia Universities in addition to her in-service training courses. A staunch believer in the importance of professional organization for growth and development, she is an active member of both local and national nursing groups.

Miss Bailey says she believes the war will make a great change in the public health field and that persons are becoming more aware of the value of physical fitness and its importance for better civilians as well as service people at home and abroad.

New Synthetic Rubber Soles

Shoes with the new non-marking synthetic rubber soles, and which are expected to appear on the market shortly, must be priced as new items, the Office of Price Administration announced recently. "New items" are priced under the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation which established a emthod for pricing commodities neither the same as nor similar to those delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 by the seller or his competitors.

New maximum prices on these non-marking synthetic rubber soles and heels are expected to be issued shortly by the Office of Price Administration's Rubber Branch.

Men Are Needed To Make Rockets

Faced by an urgent demand from high government officials for a huge increase in the production of war rockets, the project management of the California Institute of Technology today issued a plea for more male workers, particularly warehousemen.

The rocket is America's newest and perhaps deadliest secret weapon and on every fighting front there comes a demand for an increasingly greater supply. The ability to meet this demand might easily speed victory and be the means of saving the lives of countless American fighting men.

The project employment office, located at 1037 East Green St., Pasadena, is open every day from eight in the morning until five in the afternoon, or full details may be obtained from any office of the United States Employment Service.

Radio Operators Needed at Once

The Los Angeles Department of Water and Power needs more Radio-Telegraph operators for the efficient operation of its far-flung water and power system.

If you possess, or expect to obtain soon, a first or second class radio operator's license, file your application by 5 p.m. Friday, November 17, with the Los Angeles City Civil Service Commission, Room 11, City Hall. You may take the examination even though you have not yet obtained the license.

1st Frisco Patrolman

Ist San Francsico Officer—William Glenn of San Francisco is a visitor to his former Los Angeles home this week. Mr. Gleen, said to be the first Negro patrolman attached to the San Francisco Police Department, is a cousin of the late William T. Glenn, Los Angeles' first Negro Police Captain.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Cowans, 1605 East Santa Barbara Avenue.

The other members of the San Francisco Police Department are Harry Ballett, also of Los Angeles and Walter Threadgill. Mr. Glenn told the Editor of the "Eagle" that the increase in San Francisco's Negro population was over 50 per cent.

VISITS U.S.O. CLUB

On Sunday afternoon, November 5, at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Calvin Stalnaker in charge of Negro Services, U.S.O.-Y.M.C.A., was guest speaker on the Twilight Hour Program. Rev. Stalnaker was formerly pastor of the Third Baptist Church of Toledo, Ohio. Shortly after entering U.S.O. he was appointed National Religious Consultant of U.S.O.-Y.M.C.A.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALE

One of the finest musical programs of the year was presented at the Club recently. Setting a terrific pace at the beginning, the Los Alamitos Naval Air Base Quintet; Clarence Mason, S.T.M. 1/c; Floyd Sims, Jr., StM. 1/c; A. C. Darby, STM 2/c; Lucius Howard, CK 2/c, and Kenny Robert Long, StM 1/c, presented two stirring gospel numbers that set the entire audience to rocking. Then followed the Kings of Harmony, the Friendship Male Gospel Quartet, Jordan High School Girls' Quartet, the Smiling Travelers Quartet and a duet by Mrs. Dominguez and Mrs. Manuel. Individual soloists were Pvt. Eldridge Emanuel, 3181 QM, Pfc. Robert Adams, 3180 QB, and Mr. James Miller. Mrs. Irene Prince was accompanist. The audience was literally hypnotized by the intricate rhythms of all these fine singing aggregations and soloists and indicated its enthusiasm by calling each of them back for encores.

Put out that cigarette, don't throw it out, cautions the Automobile Club of Southern California, in warning motorists of the danger of starting forest and grass fires by tossing live cigarettes from moving vehicles.

Antiaircraft Unit Fetes First Year Of Blasting Japs

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA—The first Negro Anti-aircraft Artillery unit to blast Japanese planes from the New Guinea skies celebrated its first year overseas recently.

The unit is made up of men from the Middle Atlantic and Southern states. It has two Negro officers, Chaplain Pliny Jenkins of Thomasville, N. C., and Warrant Officer Bertram Alves of New York City.

Camp Stewart, Ga., was the place of activation and training for the unit.

After a year overseas, morale of the officers and enlisted men of the organization is high. Over 75 per cent of the men have been awarded the Good Conduct Medal. Two have received the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

JOE SILENT ON DIVORCE — Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis, who recently returned to the states from an overseas entertainment tour that covered three-fourths of Europe, refused to discuss the rumors of divorce circulating—that is gaining momentum daily. Marva also was reticent on this issue, and said she would not make a statement concerning divorce proceedings until she had "talked with Joe." Joe wired Marva from New York, where he is staying at the Hotel Theresa, and expressed regret for not being able to attend her opening at the 666 Club in Detroit, but would probably arrive soon to see her and little Jacqueline, his daughter. — (Chicago, DPNS).

TIPS ON GROOMING

By JUNE RAMSEY

You don't need money to make a good appearance and to be known as a girl who is always dressed in good taste. If you are "in the money" there is no excuse for your not being well groomed at all times and this is not written for you.

This is for those of us who cannot afford to make expensive errors in our clothes. All that is necessary is a little ingenuity, the exercise of good taste and a few simple rules to follow.

The first thing in grooming so obvious we need not linger over it, is scrupulous cleanliness.

Try Iced Cologne

Besides knowing that we are fresh and clean it's nice to feel that way, too.

Colognes as a rule are mild enough so you won't be guilty of using too much perfume. The new cream colognes are especially nice to use after bathing.

Watch the rough spots, elbows and knees, cream them regularly. Keep your skin smooth as well as clean. If you go without stockings in the daytime rub them briskly with a rough turkish towel and apply a few drops of cocoanut oil (very inexpensive, very good and colorless) rubbed into the skin. This will give your legs a natural sheen and keep the skin soft and smooth. Watch those heels. The skin there needs special care and if you wear something over the foot to protect your shoes from the acid from your body try dipping them in very strong coffee to give them a darker and more conspicuous color.

Second Negro Manned Vessel Is Soon to Serve On the High Seas

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The second naval vessel to be manned by a predominantly Negro crew, the PC-1264, was placed in commission April 25 at a Navy pier in New York City, and soon will be on the high seas hunting down Axis submarines, the Navy department has announced.

The vessel, a sleek 173-foot sub hunter of a type used largely for escort duty, carries 53 Negroes in her ship's company.

Like the destroyer escort Mason, recently commissioned in Boston with a largely Negro crew, it is officered by whites and the crew includes eight white petty officers classed as instructors.

As soon as Negro sailors qualify through experience and training, they will replace these white petty officers. Negro officers are not yet available, but a number of Negroes have been commissioned in the Navy in recent months.

SEPIA CHARM BUREAU

(Calvin's News Service)

WHAT'S IN A KISS? . . . Besides germs, saliva, and imagination—possibly an unconscious, but very real case of HALITOSIS!—to mention a few things.

A kiss can be the "open Sesame" for a lifetime of bliss—or it can be a sickening disillusionment.

What sort are yours?

Being of African extraction, possibly the curve and expanse of your "kisser" is overly ample. If this is, you'll have to minimize nature's generosity by the skillful use of a lipstick—if you want to be "kissable."

—And what woman doesn't want to be?

In the first place, in this day and age "halitosis" is unforgivable. Any woman who is not sensitive, and sensible enough to realize that it is imperative to keep her mouth "fresh" deserves to be "unkissed"!

Nowadays we females smoke and drink as a matter of course. We never stop to think that the psychological effect of kissing with tainted breath is to a man the same as kissing another man!

Are your lips soft, delicately and artistically colored; your teeth gleaming like sun-drenched pearls? Is your breath clean and wholesome? Then you'll never have to sing, forlornly: "A kiss is but a kiss—a sigh is but a sigh."

—But, if you are like 90 per cent of the average American women, you have the problem of subduing the effect of your habits (smoking and drinking) —as well as a dental and make-up dilemma.

"Seeing your dentist twice a year," and using your favorite dentifrice two or three times daily will safeguard your "wholesomeness" when it comes to the art of "oscillation." But—in order to get your victim to the point of indulging in this national pasttime, your make-up is a major consideration.

If it is smeary and greasy, or the color is wrong for your complexion—or if you apply it too generously (if your mouth is large) — naturally, your potential pertaker will raise his left eyebrow, and indifferently mutter to himself: "What's in a kiss."

Find out yourself, by being truly kissable—and then show him! The Sepia Charm Analysis form below was created by cosmeticians and beauticians who know all your problems — yes, short hair today—it's free.

WITH MEDICAL UNIT

SOMEWHERE ON GUADALCANAL.—Private Ellic Bell, cousin of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Bell of 473 E. 41st Place, Los Angeles, Calif., is a member of a medical sanitary company at this base.

Pvt. Bell entered the service in February, 1941, at Monterey, Calif., and for two years was stationed at Camp San Luis Obispo in the quartermaster corps.

Among hometown friends he has found in his organization, are Pfc. William E. Chiles and Cpl. Melvin R. Collins.

SMOKE SCREEN WORK

HEADQUARTERS, EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS—Eight Negro soldiers, members of a Chemical Smoke Generator Battalion, recently were awarded the Certificate of Merit for their outstanding performance in providing smoke screen protection for the Allied forces at an English invasion port, the War Department reported.

RECEIVE PINS

At the special Harvest Moon Ball given recently twenty-six Junior and Senior Hostesses received their first U.S.O. pins. These pins are indicative of 100 or more hours of service in the U.S.O. Mr. Eddie Green, famous comedian on the Duffy's Tavern radio program, was guest of honor and entertained the audience as only he can with a group of original jokes.

ASKS PARDON FOR GILMORE

ALBANY, N. Y. (WDL).—In a personal interview with Charles D. Breitel, Governor Dewey's secretary, a WDL delegation appealed for the unconditional pardon of Carl Gilmore, Negro member of the Binghamton Teamsters Union, Local 693, AFL, who was sentenced in October 1940 to nine to ten yars in jail, after being convicted of punching a non-union truck driver once during a strike.

REPORTED MISSING IN ACTION

CAPTAIN CHARLES F. GANDY

Daring commander of a company of the 92nd Infantry Division now fighting with the Fifth Army in Italy who was reported missing in action by the War Department on November 3. Captain Gandy, the first officer of the Negro division to be promoted in the field by Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark, won the admiration of his men because he wouldn't ask a soldier to do anything that he wouldn't do." He made his home in Washington, D. C. (U. S. Signal Corps Photo from BPR.)

LARY Mails Xmas Packages to Its Workers Overseas

The workshops of old Kris Kringle, himself, haven't been any busier during recent weeks than the Bureau of Public Service of the Los Angeles Railway, preparing Christmas packages for the company's employees, now the armed service of Uncle Sam.

The packages were mailed with a safe margin under the postal deadline date so that there is no danger of a Los Angeles Railway employee, in the service branches, being neglected or disappointed on Christmas morning, regardless of how distant or how lonely his outpost may be.

Shipment of the hundreds of Christmas boxes is in line with the company's general policy of maintaining the cooperative relations with its employees, whether on active duty or loaned to Uncle Sam for the duration.

COURT ST. USO

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF.

Court Street USO is still holding forth in grand style by presenting only the biggest and best entertainment on the coast. The most recent attraction was two more top ranking stars of radio and movieland fame, Mantan Moreland and Ben Carter. These people graciously consented to come down and entertain the servicemen in the club.

They were very well received from a recent movie, and singly Ben Carter sang and played the piano and Mantan Moreland gave some impersonations and a dance routine for the men.

They were very well receivde and the servicemen are still asking for a return engagement. Court Street USO has been very fortunate in having top-notch entertainment in the club.

They have received only the most excellent cooperation from the entertainment world.

Mr. W. Burdette Hockaday, the director of the club, recently said in a statement, "... We want only the best for our servicemen, and we are heartily thankful to these fine folk who make that possible."

Great opportunities come to all, but many do not know they have met them.—The only preparation to take advantage of them, is simple fidelity to what each day brings.—A. E. Dunning.

A TIMELY MESSAGE

A DIRECT NOTICE TO MOTHERS, WHO EXPECT BABIES SOON

By Dr. Semour H. Kaufman, Emminent Physician and Surgeon of 106 No. San Pedro St. VA. 0211

We observe quite readily that "brother stork" is busy these days—we find that it is necessary for timely discussion on instructions for expectant mothers.

On your first visit to your doctor it will be necessary for the doctor to have a complete record of your previous illnesses in order that he may take precaution against possible complications, so do not be reluctant to give the doctor every bit of information that he desires. If possible, a complete general physical examination will be made at the first visit. Also, it will be necessary to take a blood specimen for a pre-natal examination and a urine specimen. This blood specimen is required by law as a protective measure to enhance protection of the newcomer and protect the mother. It is advisable that you make appointments in advance for subsequent visits to the doctor in order to avoid unnecessary trips in event that the doctor is called away. If at any time you notice any unusual symptoms or you do not feel well no matter how trivial the question is write it down so that you will not forget it. Regular examinations of your urine are exceedingly important for often many disorders which sometimes develop during this period are detected by irregularities in the urine.

If, at any time, the following does occur, report immediately to the doctor:

1—Bleeding. Go to bed at once. Do not take any medicine.

2—Rupture of bag-of-water. This is evidenced by a sudden uncontrollable gush of fluid.

3—Persisting vomiting.

4—Reduction in the amount of urine.

5—Continuous headaches.

6—Unusual swelling of feet, hands and face.

7—Severe abdominal or pelvic cramps.

In our next column we will discuss the general habits and exercise for the expectant mother.

Of all deaths from whooping cough, 92% occur before the age of two years.

THE BISHOP BROADCAST

By Sybil Collins

President and Mrs. Joseph J. Rhoads entertained the college faculty in the recreation room of Marston Hall recently. A refreshing course was served.

The Council of Senior Young Women, a cultural campus club was reorganized during the month of September with Miss Thelma Williams of Marshall as Advisor. The Club is sponsored by Mrs. L. B. Rhoads, Dean of Women.

A scholarship grant of $500 was received last week by President Joseph J. Rhoads from the Women's Missionary Union of the Baptist General Convention, headquarters at the Baptist Building in Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Olivia Davis is the treasurer.

The quarterly stockholders meeting of the Bishop College Cooperative, a campus cafeteria operated by students and faculty members of the college, was held in the Council Room last Tuesday evening. After listening to reports from the officers 6 per cent interest was paid on shares for the fiscal yearending May 31, 1944 and a surplus of $36.00 was prorated among the stockholders. Students in the Department of Economics were authorized to sell $100.00 worth of additional stock to students and faculty members to enable the business to carry a greater variety of processed foods. Mrs. Sammie Edwards was retained as director of the "coop" at a stipulated salary.

As a community service to encourage an appreciation of good music, Miss Augusta McSwain, B. A., B. Mus., Bishop and M. A. Northwestern University, head of the Department of Music, appeared as guest artist during the 13th anniversary of the Junior Choir of the Galilie Baptist Church, last Sunday night, Mrs. Dorothy B. Banks, Class, 1938, Pianist-Director.

The weekly Wednesday evening prayer meetings, which are under the direction of Miss Eunice Chambers and Rev. Charles Riley, Dallas, Texas, for the fall quarter, have offered much variety in its effective program of religious education and inspiration.

Marshall, Bertha D. Montgomery, Marshall, and Erma Selph, Port Arthur. The social was sponsored by the Y.M.and Y.W.C.A.'s in the college gym which was very beautifully and appropiately beautifully and appropiately decorated. About fifty soldiers from Camp Polk were entertained as guests of the college.

The following students have been selected as members of the editorial staff of the Bishop Broadcast: Misses Ernestine Spears, Tulsa; Lois King, Dallas; Erma Bowie, Houston; Pauline Harris, Clarksville; Doris Carroll, Abeline; Messrs. Richard Horton, Marshall, Leonard Pipkins, Texarkana; Mrs. Bertha Mae Bailey, Mrs. Mildred P. McClain, Marshall, and Miss Sybil Collins, Shreveport.

Miss Maurine Taylor, Mr. Lonnie White, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown, Pvt. Matthew Waters, and Mr. Joe Hudson attended the Halloween Social Saturday evening.

The following graduates and former students were campus visitors last week: Mrs. Octura Vivian White Hart, Gaingerfield, Class, 1936, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hawkins and family, Abilene. Mr. Hawkins, Class of 1931. Former student, 1939. Pfc.. Lewis T. Stephens, who is stationed in Orlando, Florida. Rev. Marvin C. Griffin, Bishop Graduate, Class, 1944, enroute to Oberlin, Ohio, where he will do graduate work in Theology.

PUSHKIN'S SHRINE

NEW YORK. — (C) — News is just getting here of how the Nazis looted the estate of Alexander Pushkin, Russia's beloved poet whose father was a Negro. The ruthless Nazis used Pushkin's manuscripts to keep the stove going. Later they burned the town down and the monastery in the estate where the great poet is burned was partly ruined by a bomb.

School of Christ Cooperates With Red Cross Xmas Program

One of the most active groups cooperating with the Los Angeles chapter, American Red Cross, in its annual program of bringing Christmas cheer to hospitalized servicemen in this area is the School of Christ of which Mrs. Ellie H. Matthews is president.

On call at all times, members of this organization stand ready to gather together at a moment's notice to assist in the wrapping of gifts, collection of the many presents needed to fill the military's request or to serve in any way possible.

Upon request of the military and the veterans' administration, the local Red Cross chapter is serving as a "clearing house" for all organizations planning Yuletide programs this year in military hospitals and encampments in the southland this year.

GETS BIG JOB—John P. Bond was appointed last week to the administrative staff of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration. He is now in training as a field welfare officer for the European Mission. Before joining the staff of UNRRA, Bond served for 16 months as a club program director for the American Red Cross in Australia. He is married and the father of two children. His family resides in Washington, D. C.

T B Casualties In Los Angeles Exceed War Dead

A silent, deadly disease—tuberculosis—is today killing more Los Angeles citizens than the city is losing in World War II combat.

In one year, 1943, tuberculosis killed 804 residents of Los Angeles, while up to August 1, 1944, 831 residents had been reported missing or killed in action in combat, since Pearl Harbor.

These facts are reported in a statistical summary released last week by the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association, which also pointed out that Los Angeles—with a death rate of 54.5 per 100,000 population—has more deaths from tuberculosis in proportion to population than the county, state, or nation.

Death rate for the county was 47.3; for California, 49.7; and for the United States, 41.9.

Tuberculosis, like war, takes persons in the prime of life. The disease kills more persons between the ages of 15 and 45 than any other one thing, including motor car accidents.

WILLIE JOYCE BEATS IKE WILLIAMS IN UPSET

Gets Nod In Hard-Fought Ten-Rounder

PHILADELPHIA—Willie Joyce, 136, Los Angeles lightweight, who put on three thrilling fights with Henry Armstrong on the west coast, won a surprise 10-round decision over Ike Williams 134½, Trenton, N. J. lightie, to provide a major upset in the feature bout Monday night at the arena.

A crowd of 8926 fans who paid a gate of $25,756.84 saw the former Gary (Ind.) lightweight take all the harder-hitting Williams had to offer and groggily finish but in front after 10 fast-moving rounds.

Although Williams entered the ring as the favorite after 15 consecutive victories, Joyce, who was given only an outside chance of pulling the upset of the local boxing season, came through to win a shot for the lightweight championship match here with Juan Zurita in January.

ATTENTION CAGE TEAM MANAGERS!

Managers of basketball teams who wish to participate in league play are asked to contact Miss Juiyette Washington, CE. 24496, for girls' teams, or Wilbert Jackson, AD. 3698, for boys' teams. You may also write Mr. Jackson at 1209 E. 34th St., Los Angeles. Service teams are also welcome.

L. A. Bulldogs Play Sunday

Jackie Robinson, fleet and nimble halfback who is ranked as an all-time great gridder at UCLA, will make his first pro football appearance here in three sessions Sunday at Wrigley Field.

Robinson will start at left half for the Los Angeles Bulldogs against the Hollywood Wolves. It will be the second game in the annual series between the two bitter grid foes.

Football history will be written Sunday for it will be the first time that three Negroes will start in the Bulldog backfield. With Jackie Robinson will be Johnny Wynne, ex-Bruin blocker and Billy Mills, sturdy Xavier flash.

Manuel Ortiz Scores TKO Over Luis Castillo To Retain Title

Manuel Ortiz, world's bantamweight champion, showed himself every inch a champ by getting up from a knockdown to score a technical kayo over Luis Castillo in the ninth round of a scheduled 15-round title bout at the Olympic Tuesday night. Referee Benny Whitman stopping the fight when Castillo appeared helpless after being put down in the ninth.

Ortiz fought a grand fight, weathering all the leather the ambitious challenger threw and Castillo threw plenty.

The bout topped a card of six. In the semifinal, Walloping Willie Johnson, 169, won a decision over Herman Graves, 172.

Other results were as follows: Elmer Lewis, 145, decisioned Benny Black, 145, four rounds; Billy Reed, 188½, knocked out Russell Jones, 191, in the second; Alonzo Williams, 152, and Al Williams, 159, drew in four rounds; Buddy DeMille, 157½, decesioned Doll Nelson, 150, four rounds.

TUESDAY'S SHOW

Next Tuesday night, Nov. 21, at the Olympic, Al Hart, the muscular heavyweight who stopped Turkey Thompson in one round, will tangle with Harold Blackshear in the 10-round main event. A large crowd is expected to attend.

BOXING BRIEFS

MATT OGLESBY can't seem to get the number of Mike Delia, who won a decision over Matt last Friday night at Hollywood Legion stadium. A couple of weeks ago the two boys fought a draw.

Cecil Hudson, protege of Henry Armstrong, was introduced before the Ortiz-Castillo fight at the Olympic Tuesday night. Honorably discharged from the Army on Oct. 14th, Hudson will soon be seen in action here.

ROY MILLER, promising Kansas City battler, will be seen soon in a local rings.

NEW YORK—Jimmy McDaniels, Los Angeles welterweight, 144¼, in a close bout last Friday night in Madison Square Garden, won over Sammy Angott, 144½, former world's lightweight king, in 10 rounds before 10,000 fans.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

AUGA CALIENTE, MEXICO—Jockey Hubert Stanley Jones made his appearance at the border course last Sunday winning with Kaweah King in the ninth race which paid $.30 for a two dollar mutuel. It is understood that Jones will ride every Sunday at the Caliente track. Other famous jockeys will also ride during the Hollywood and Santa Anita meeting.

Freak mutuel was noticed in the first race when Flashbox held at 16 to one to win, paid in the mutuel $51.00 to show. Riding honors were split between Jockey Charley Bianco and J. Braddish, each riding two winners. The daily-double paid $72 while the Quinela rewarded its backers $6.40. The winner meeting promisses to be filled with new comers. Generalissimo Eddie Nealls, director of personnel Armando E. Verdugo and ringmaster E. L. Cares are working on one of the best stake books ever released for a winner meeting. The feature will be the $10,000 Caliene handicap at one mile and one quarter. Another twelve race program will be held at the border course this Sunday when new horses will make their start for the first time on Mexican soil. Thanks and so-long—Georgé.

De Castro Promoted In Virgin Islands

Morris F. deCastro, a Virgin Islander and a veteran of a quarter of a century's services with the government there, has been appointed administrative assistant to Governor Charles Howard, Abe Fortas, Acting Secretary of the Interior, announced recently.

Acting Secretary Fortas also announced the appointment of Louis Shulterbrandt, native of the Islands, to succeed Mr. deCastro as commissioner of Finance of the Virgin Islands. Mr. de Castro has been Commissioner of Finance for the last ten years and for extended periods has served as Acting Governor of the islands.

Mr. Shulterbrandt, prior to this promotion, was Assistant Superintendent of Education of the Islands of St. Thomas and St. John. He was graduated from Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., in 1934.

Negro Seabees Return to U. S.

PELELIU, PALAU ISLANDS, (Delayed).—Two hundred Negro Seabees, grimy and weary from two days of unloading ships under enemy fire, were lined up on the beach here.

"I want volunteers for stretcher bearing on the ridge tonight," an officer was telling them.

And 200 Negro Seabees stepped out as one.

The incident is typical of the record chalked up by the Seabee battalion, that landed immediately behind assault waves of Marines here and has been working night and day since. They unload ships, wrestle ammunition and heavy supplies to the beach dumps, carry ammunition to the front lines, and bring back wounded. On occasion they have filled in as front-line troops, and for more than a week they have been going forward to drag in wounded marines.

First Negro Air Lines

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The first company operated by Negroes to engage in commercial aviation is THE UNION AIR LINES, with general offices in Washington, D. C. The company has on file with the CAB, an application (1127) for a certificate of convenience and necessity, and plans to begin charter operations at once, with regular commercial operation right after the war, employing members of the 99th and 332nd Squadrons, All-Negro units in the AAF, who have done such a wonderful job of knocking out Jerrys in this war.

Mike Delia in Close Victory Over Oglesby

In the six-round semiwindup Ralph Lara, 128, nodded Pee Wee Lewis, 124½, after a close bout.

FRIDAY'S CARD

Friday night (tomorrow) two undefeated youngsters, Rene DeLeon from Mexico and Tito Despaigne from Panama, battle in one ten of a double windup. The second ten will bring together Freddy Taylor, lightweight champion of Colorado, and Raoul Zenuit, Mexico's "Henry Armstrong." Several excellent prelims will complete the card.

Corporal Bigom Of L. A. Overseas

WITH U. S. ARMY TROOPS IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC.—Cpl. Lonze Lee Bigom of Shreveport and Los Angeles, and Pvt. Johnnie Neal of Winnsboro, La., have arrived at an overseas camp.

Corporal Bigom is the son of Mrs. Careon Sheppard of 848 East 27th street, Los Angeles, and the husband of Mrs. Willie Mae Bigom of 1025 Common street, Shreveport. Previously he was stationed at Republic Field, Long Island, N. Y.

Ramblers Point For No. Africa Football Title

Sunday, October 29, 1944, in North Africa, the Ramblers won their fourth straight game, 19 to0. Up to now they are untied and unscored on. The coach, Chaplain Chalmers F. Gaithers (Los Angeles, Califronia) has built two teams which can hold their own ground anytime when on the gridiron. The game being only five minutes old, the first touchdown came when Private Howard Broadus, Q.B., who is captain of the team, (ex-Welberforce sensation) raced 15 yards around the right end from the mid-field stripe to the opponents' 33 yard line. Private Broadus then stepped back and shot a beautiful pass over the goal line to Private Ira Longrus, L.E. (high school star from San Francisco, California) the extra point was missed.

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

DID YA KNOW? Kenny Washington materially aided his team, the San Francisco Clippers, in defeating the Los Angeles Mustangs, 21-6, at Gilmore Stadium last Sunday. For one of his team's touchdowns Kenny passed over the goal line from three yards out to Floyd Terry. The former college star played a bang-up game in general to win the plaudits of the crowd . . . Heavyweight Champion Joe Louis knocked out Johnny Davis, 190, of Brooklyn, N. Y. Tuesday night with the first punch he landed, a right delivered after 53 seconds of the first round had elapsed. The bout was staged in Memorial Auditorium before 7107 fans. Davis didn't lay a glove on Louis during the brief bout. . . . A Baltimore bout Tuesday night found Lee Q. Murray, Norwalk heavyweight, kayoing Buddy Walker of Columbus in three rounds. . . . The Los Angeles Bulldogs and the Hollywood Wolves battle it out Sunday at Wrigley Field in the second game of the annual series between the two rival Pacific Coast Pro League elevens. . . . College grid games turned up with the following results last Saturday: Florida A. & M. topped Tuskegee Institute, 14-13, Hampton Institute won over Howard University, 7-0; Virginia State beat Lincoln University, 61-0; Clark College eked out a 7-6 win over Tennessee State College, and Langston turned back Wiley, 9-6, after a hard-fought game. . . . In Southern League prep football Manual Arts and Jefferson High tied, 12-12; Washington defeated Polytechnic, 19-7, and Fremont won over Roosevelt, 20-7. . . . At Ocean Park Arena Monday night Roman Starr, 160, Indian middleweight, in 30 seconds of the first round of the scheduled 10-round main event, knocked out Edgar Robinson, 159, with a right cross.

MORE ABOUT THE GLASS EYE—The mystery of Slugger White's glass eye instead of clearing up at this late date is apparently deepening. So far it has been pretty well established that White wasn't sporting the glass optic when he fought Sammy Angott at Hollywood on October 27, 1943. However, when the Slugger fought Henry Armstrong a draw here last July at Hollywood Legion Stadium it seems possible that he had the artificial peeper then. After that he fought a bout in Baltimore with the glass eye evidently screwed in. Nobody seems to know when the Slugger acquired the glass eye and doctors who examined him before several of his late fights are stumbling over each other passing the buck as to the extent of the examinations, or so it seems to this writer. We hope that the matter clears up shortly so that we can put a lot of people's minds at rest.

Give Thanks

The season that approaches Thanksgiving always brings to our minds the farmer and his contribution to that famous Thanksgiving dinner.

However, many farmers all over the world have little to contribute to such a dinner . . . for some of their lands are in ruins. Their thanks will be offered for the sparing of their lives, and what is left of their families and dwellings.

It would be wise and well for us, who have much to be thankful for and are still living in the land of plenty for all and some to spare, to give thanks, worship and pray for this awful seige to come to an end.

Prof. Herman: Dear Sir: Just a short note to inform you of my good luck. I am now married and living in Dayton, Ohio. My husband is stationed near here and I see him quite often. I only wish to thank you for recommending this marriage which has already brought so much happiness into my life. Sincerely yours, N.W.R.

L.L.W. Will I get a job? Does B.W. love me? Will I get married?

Ans. Only one question is answered in the column due to the limited amount of space, kindly write in for a private reply at your earliest convenience.

D.L.S. Does my friend think enough of me to do as I have asked him to do when he returns?

Ans. It appears to me that your friend loves you dearly and will in all probability carry out the plans you made before he left. Look forward to a very happy future.

M.O. Why can't we move?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that houses are very scarce in your town, and the type of place you wish just hasn't been available. Don't get discouraged. I do vision some interesting news coming to you concerning a suitable dwelling soon.

H.H. Should we quit our jobs?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that you are debating the possibility of quitting your present job and going to another location entirely. At this time, it does not seem to be the best move as I vision a raise in view if you continue to work as you have been doing.

E.H. What became of my ration books?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates your having lost the books while shopping one day. You laid them down in the store and went off and left them. I suggest your contacting the ration board, for they may have information regarding your books by now.

Mrs. M.B. Dear Friend and Advisor: I want to tell you that your Hindu Charm Bag has done wonders for me and I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for recommending it to me. Things have changed for me like magic, for my home was unbearable until I started wearing this wonderful bag. Now I can look forward to the future with hope and peace of mind. Thanks again for everything.

M.A.C. Does the boy I love, love me?

Ans. After giving your question careful thought and consideration I find that this boy is very fond of you. But you are too young to consider anything more than friendship. I suggest you concentrate upon finishing your education and acquire some type of trade that will ensure your future security.

Hold Meets

Recently the Mu-So-Lit Social Club met with the secretary, Mrs. Laura Randall, 4008 Paloma St. The meeting opened by singing the Negro National Anthem. After the business was over, Mrs. Earl Hall, who is an agent for the White House Company demonstrated some of their products. Mrs. Hall also had a Bible quiz. The first prize was won by Mrs. Corrine Thompson. Other winners were Madames Mary Terry, Gladys Allen, and Boone. A delightful evening was enjoyed by all.

On Oct. 26, the Club was the guest of Mrs. Ella Fort, 2106 West 30th St. It was a social meeting. The afternoon was spent discussing current events. Plans were made for their Christmas party. Mrs. Fort served a delicious repast. Mrs. A. Speed was a visitor.

YWCA NEWS

The Industrial Girls Club, a popular club of the Woodlawn Branch, Y.W.C.A., whose membership includes workers in the field of human endeavor, announces this week the launching of a pretentious and dynamic program for the 1944-45 season according to a statement made recently by the president, Miss Hazel White.

"The Kind of World We Want to Live In" is the central theme for the season. An outline of the program is being announced with the hope that more workers might become interested and join forces with this small group in their effort to carry on a program that aims to help individuals how to live better and how to live together, work together, play together and plan together for a better world in which to live.

Portrait of Captain Hall Of the 99th

A portrait of Capt. Charles B. Hall, fighter pilot of the 99th Squadron, now in Italy, is included in a representative list of Army Air Forces personnel paintings now on exhibit in the National Gallery of Art, Washingal Gallery of Art, Washington, D. C. The exhibit will continue through November 12.

Captain Hall, the first American Negro pilot to down a Nazi plane, is from Brazil, Ind., and was a pre-medical student before joining the Army Air Forces at Tuskegee Institute, Ala. He now has three German planes to his credit and wears the Air Medal and two Oak Leaf Clusters for bravery in action.

The painting is by Major Charles Baskerville, a veteran of the last war, who volunteered for service in the present conflict and was given the assignment to paint a gallery of Air Forces personalities. He recently returned from overseas.

All the paintings on exhibit are part of the historical record of the Army Air Forces. Their subject matter range from representative events and characteristic scenes to actual portraits of the men now fighting or directing air battles all over the world.

The collection eventually will be hung permanently in the headquarters of the Army Air Forces in the Pentagon building.

Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower
Fannie Williams Excelsior Guaranteed Hair Grower has been on the market for years. It is a wonderful preparation. It stops harsh and brittle hair from breaking and falling. It corrects itching scalp, ring worms, tetter and eczema, and keeps your scalp in a very healthy condition. It is not a gummy or stick grower. It leaves the hair natural and soft and the hair grows rapidly.
You can get the grower at the following places:
Dorothy's Beauty Salon, 1821 Imperial Highway, Watts.
Ethical Drug Store, 1490 West Jefferson Boulevard.
Mrs. Fannie Williams, 1749 S. New Hampshire.
Mrs. Corrine Grayson, 1247 E. 53rd St.

Newsman In L. A.

Lawrence McCloney, socially prominent representative of the Pittsburgh Courier of Beaumont, Texas, is here for an indefinite time. He has enrolled in the University of California School of Journalism.

Mr. McCloney is a member of one of the Lone Star State's pioneer families and is noted for his writing chiefly his column titled "Clippings From the Oil City."

He was very much feted by friends before leaving for California.

Tribute to Young Americans Is Scheduled for December First

Paying tribute to the "young fighters for democracy in the foxholes, on the assembly lines and on the farms," some one hundred prominent community leaders have formed a "Salute to Young America" Committee in Los Angeles and are making preparations for a dinner at the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, Friday night, December 1.

Plans for the event, which will mark the first anniversary of the American Youth for Democracy, national organization dedicated to the American democratic ideals, were revealed this week by Chairman Reuben Borough, member of the City Board of Public Works, who with Judge John Beardsley, Prof. Frank C. Davis, Willis J. Hill, Dr. Ruth Temple and Dalton Trumbo initiated the Salute to Young America Committee in Los Angeles.

"We are following the lead of other major cities in the United States," Borough explained, "in honoring the young people on whom our future so largely depends.

"Local sponsors can be proud to have their names linked with those of the National Salute to Young America Committee, which includes such distinguished persons as Louis Adamic, Mary McLeod Bethune, Hon. John M. Coffee, Moss Hart, Dmitri Mitropoulos, Bishop Francis J. McConnell, Lillian Hellman and many other representatives of the clergy, the educational field and the professions."

Member of the Los Angeles Committee include Jacob M. Alkow, Mrs. Fay E. Allen, Henry Armstrong, R. S. Avery, Herman Bachrack, Dr. Dorothy W. Baruch, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Judge John Beardsley, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bekessy, Reuben W. Borough, Oliver Boutee, Amerigo Bezzani, George Bradley, Mrs. Harry Braverman, Samuel Bristol, Dr. Ernest Caldecott, Revels Cayton.

Retires After 36 Years of Service

PRESTON COMMINGS, of the general service department of the Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, who recently retired at age 65 from the Baton Rouge Refinery of the Company after 36 years of service. Born at Bayou Sara in September 1879, Mr. Commings joined the company and this refinery, now one of the nation's vital war plants, when it was just a field full of stumps and bushes. He served his years with the company without a single day's work lost by illness. One of his daughters now works in the Baton Rouge Refinery's synthetic rubber plant. He is a deacon of a Baptist Church, in Baton Rouge.

CONCERNING YOUR HEALTH

Perhaps no part of the body has associated with it more groundless fears and bogies than the circulatory system, and one of the greatest worries of most persons is that of high or low blood pressure.

The blood pressure is a measurement of the force that keeps the blood circulating. The amount of pressure is determined both by the drive exerted on the blood when the contracting heart squeezes, or pumps it, and by the resistance offered by the blood vessels.

The level of blood pressure varies in different parts of the circulatory system. It is highest in the heart and arteries, lower in the arterioles and capillaries in the remote parts of the body here the flow is slowest, and still lower in the veins through which the blood returns to the heart.

When the blood pressure within the blood vessels becomes abnormally high, it places additional strain upon the muscles of the heart which have to do the pumping, just as it is more difficult to pump air into a tire with high pressure than it is one which is deflated. If the heart is constantly placed under this additional strain, it compensates for this by adapting itself to the larger job—or, becoming enlarged.

Continued high blood pressue tends to use up the heart reserve causing a condition called hypertensive heart disease. This form of cardiac ailment accounts for a large share of heart disease in middle life and old age.

Any one with high blood pressure should regularly consult his or her physician and follow his advice. In some persons the cause can be definitely determined and the condition controlled. Adequate sleep, intelligently planned diet, emotional control, and other measures may prove beneficial.

Air Wardens Aid War Loan

Los Angeles air raid wardens again are being counted upon to assume a major role in the Sixth War Loan drive opening next Monday, November 20, according to an appeal issued today by Henry S. Eaton, the city's chief air raid warden and director of war services in the City War Council.

The help of these workers again is needed to make the forthcoming drive a success, and wardens are urged to contact their community wardens immediately for assignments in the Sixth War Loan campaign, Chief Air Raid Warden Eaton stated.

STAFF SERGEANT

U.S. ARMY FORCES IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC.—Abel V. Olazabal, son of Mrs. Isabel Olazabal, 2619 Gleason street, Los Angeles, California, has been promoted from sergeant to staff sergeant in an infantry division. He is a former student of Roosevelt high school.

RIGHT WAY TO BURN FAT

What used to be thrown away in the kitchens, now throws back the enemy. Used fat is an essential ingredient in the manufacture of fuel for flame throwers. Turn your used fat over to the meat dealer for cash and extra ration points.

By purifying human thought, this state of mind permeates with increased harmony all the minutiae of human affairs.

A FAIR QUESTION

HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

If we had anything to do with nominating people for the Hall of Fame, we certainly would include the name of Floyd Covington. Covington, a young man, has devoted his life to the service of his fellow man. He is a hard worker. Many are the nights he is in his office until 4 o'clock in the morning. He possesses great stamina and he is dynamic. He ferrets out jobs for members of his race. Then tries to find the ones, who are qualified for the positions. He has a program of integrating Negroes into all vocations. He is an ambassador of his race. He is forever trying to win friends for his group.

Several years ago, he launched a program of "People With Parallel Problems Should Work Harmoniously Together." We do not know whether or not that he is a confessed believer of the Baha'I faith (a religious group), but he has worked zealously in promoting one of their major religious planks.

The Baha'I Movement seeks to bring harmony between all races, colors, nations and creeds. That is exactly what Floyd Covington is doing as an individual. He will attend any meeting, anywhere within a 50-mile radius, if it has anything to do with inter-racial amity.

Then, there is Thomas L. Griffith. He, as prexy of the local N.A.A.C.P., has crossed swords with some of the best fencers in the business. He does not always win, but his adversaries know that he has been in a fight. He, too, is religious when it comes to fighting the battles of the minority group. Remember how he and his organization went to the bat for the loyal Japs recently in aiding the American Civil Liberties Committee? Yep, Tom Griffith's name should go into the Hall of Fame.

Another fellow you do not hear much about is Robert Hardon, the top Negro executive in city, county or state government. He is in charge of the County Elevator and Janitor Service. His hundred or so employes admire, respect and love him. Bob Hardon could be a power in politics. He has won thousands of friends. We mean sincere friends. He, too, tries to win friends for his race among all races, colors and creeds. I would put the name of Robert Hardon on such a list, because he, too, has served his fellow man well.

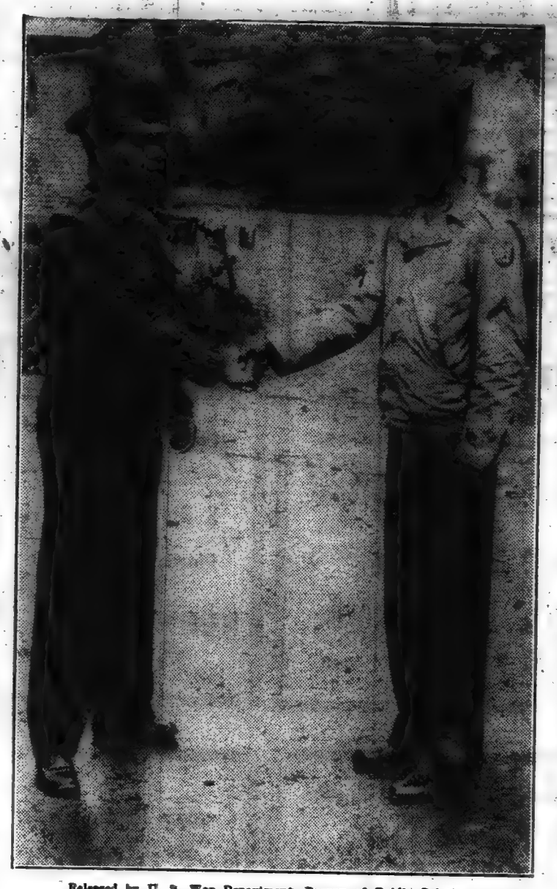
Then there is that dynamic Clayton Russell, a minister, who preaches a living Christianity and lives it. He has helped to lift his people up by winning friends for them, integrating them into "First Positions." He has taught them unity in religion. He believes in the oneness of religions. He teaches unity of races. He invites all races, colors and creeds to membrship. He has taught his flock that there is strength in unity. They have sponsored five big markets financed by all races and colors.

One must have recreation, so we have two young men who have put Los Angeles into the bigtime brackets when it comes to entertainment. These two youngsters have made it possible for all races and colors to see the big-name stars in their night clubs.

Joseph Morris, who grew up in this town, took an abandoned dance hall and turned it into one of the finest establishments in the country. A few years back we lambasted Joe Morris and his Plantation because he didn't (in our opinion) have suitable accommodations for the entertainers. Joe got mad, but he did something about it. Now the Plantation is one of the prides of Los Angeles. He also started the parade of big-name bands and stars coming west. Yep, Joe Morris should get in the Hall of Fame.

Then there is that quiet, unassuming fellow, G. L. Sheppard, owner of the magnificent "Shep's Playhouse" down at First street. He has a big-time show and big-time stars. Although Shep is new in the business, he has added something to the entertainment world by giving it a high class playhouse.

Swiss Laundry And Cleaners Do Quick Work



Under new management is the Swiss Laundry and Cleaners located at 152 East Santa Barbara. The personable and attractive Miss Hera Larrieu and Roy Patterson are the new proprietors. Taking over from the former owner, the new operators have increased the volume of business to a great extent and have already planned to add new equipment to take care of extra work.

Miss Larrieu, who manages the business, gives one week service on laundry and four day cleaning service on men's and women's wearing apparel. Expert alterations are also made. Whenever you need laundry service or cleaning and pressing of your clothing, try this efficient new race enterprise, the Swiss Laundry and Cleaners, 152 E. Santa Barbara. Better get those clothes in now so that you can look sharp on Thanksgiving Day at the Races or other spots of recreation.

Economic Relief Is Good Example

The Economic Relief Association, 27th and Compton, is an example to the community of what can be accomplished by foresight and honest endeavor not only in the conservation of vitally needed materials through their salvage activities, but also by the efficient management of their own property. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves, ardent supporters of the Home Owners Protective Association, maintain their own property in a manner which makes this property an asset to the community and belies the excuses given for restriction agreements.

Mr. and Mrs. Reeves have the interest of the community constantly in mind and sincerely deserve community support in their efforts to extend to the entire locality the benefits of their many years of fruitful endeavor. Besides assisting with the activies of the Economic Relief Association, Mrs. Reeves works side by side with Mr. Reeves in the carrying out of all their many duties.

Eastside Leads City in Report For War Chest Fund Campaign

Eastside residents and volunteer workers in the united appeal for "our boys, our Allies and our homes," put the local War Chest over the top last week ahead of many other residential areas, in time for formal announcement to be made at the third over-all report luncheon of the entire Los Angeles Area War Chest.

In announcing the Eastside campaign as having exceeded its quota, Mrs. Lucien Gray, general residential chairman of the metropolitan division, expressed the appreciation of herself and other top leaders in the over-all campaign, for the splendid participation of this community in the united appeal now being made all over the city, and in 34 associated cities and towns, on behalf of 133 major war and home front services.

Not content with a mere hundred per cent, volunteer workers continued calling on prospective donors, who cooperated enthusiastically in carrying forward the appeal to new heights. At the fourth and final over-all report meeting last Tuesday night, (No. 14) in the Ambassador Hotel, tabulations revealed that in percent of quota attained, Eastside topped all other city residential areas. According to the breakdown on that date, 1162 Eastside contributors had pledged $13,518, which is 134 per cent of the $10,072 goal sought by the community.

"We have gone over the top with glory," Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw, district chairman, says, "but we are not yet finished. Since we got off to a late start, not everyone has been called upon. The appeal is a universal one, and the entire community should have an opportunity to take part in it."

Opportunity Knocks Again

Los Angeles city needs competent architectural draftsmen. Examinations have been announced for architectural assistant and architectural associate. There are no minimum qualifications for filing, but it is desirable that candidates have completed a course in architecture and that candidates for architectural associate have at least four years of experience in the field.

Applications must be filed by 5 p. m. Tuesday, December 5, in Room 11, Los Angeles City Hall.

YOUTH SPEAKS FORUM

Interest among the younger group is registering an all-time high for discussion in anticipating the opening of the Youth Speaks Forum of the Y.W.C.A. which will hold its initial meeting on Sunday afternoon, November 19, from 4 to 6 p. m. Teenagers are invited to attend and participate.

The second division of Jefferson High Tri-Y club will be in charge of the meeting. Miss Sarah Collins is advisor for this club and Sunshine Johnson is president.

Oops... It Slipped!

Two-year-old Judy Stevenson of Chicago isn't interested just now in what the well-dressed woman is wearing. She's concentrating on the window shade that slipped out of her chubby grasp . . . and just when she's trying to do a war job too! The little Miss decided Uncle Sam's messages to draw window shades halfway during the day and to the sills at night meant a war job just within her reach. Her daily window shade duty saves precious fuel . . . and as much as ten per cent on heating bills!

National Negro Insurance Week To Be Held Nov. 16-17

RICHMOND, Va. (Calvin's News Service)—The National Negro Insurance Week Committee of the National Negro Insurance Association is meeting here November 16 and 17 to map out the 1945 Insurance Week program as well as plans for the post-war era. Speaking before the group will be Hon. George A. Bowles, commissioner of insurance for the state of Virginia.

Agency officers from practically every insurance company in the country are expected to attend the conference. Acting hosts to the groups are the Richmond Beneficial Insurance Co., the Southern Aid Society and the Virginian Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co. The sessions are to be presided over by A. Douglass Doss, chairman of the National Negro Insurance Week Committee.

Will Rogers
AIR TRAIL PIONEER

... Will Rogers, beloved actor, humorist, humanitarian and sage gave his life to the advancement of civilization.

... His name and likeness belong in any roster of truly great Americans. His humor will never be forgotten, and history must also honor him as a pioneer in air transportation.

... The men and women of the Los Angeles Railway pay tribute to the trail blazers of the singing rails, of the mighty deep, and of the uncharted skies—trail blazers with the pioneer spirit of Will Rogers who have been responsible for the development of transportation in all its branches.

TWENTIETH CENTURY COMMENTS

By CALVIN JACKSON

I HAPPENED to read the installment of "White Man's Views," by Ted LeBerthon, in "The Pittsburgh Courier." in it he made a statement that smacked of "the future-will-take-care-of-things" boys. "Kindness, forebearance, patience under bitter hardships and indignities and for returning good for evil, and a decent humility are the measure of a Christian, the spiritual standards of worth, an arbitrary superiority assigned to fair skin over dark is a physical evaluation." Don't get me wrong. I am a firm believer in upholding all of the principles of the Church and in taking one tenth of the Bible, the Golden Rule, and using it as a standard for all things.

There are a good many other principles involved besides this. The main one of these, is the fact that the Negro man, as a whole, wishes to be thought of first as a MAN. We are told not to be belligerent, not to be too high-minded concerning better jobs. We are told not to make embarrassing scenes in places of dining, wining, and dancing that refuse to admit us. We are told not to ask reasons why we are restricted from better living sections.

"I think it is high time WE did a little TELLING.

Having not experienced color prejudice at first hand, Mr. LeBerthon cannot possibly know what comes to the mind of even the devotest of Negro men.

I have been cautioned time and time again that these thoughts of mine are very dangerous. Not only that but I've also been told that they would only bring me more and possible physical harm. Can a few bruises hurt this body that has been mentally racked with the excrutiating knowledge of being unqualified, qualified or not? No! What is more, this particular body is itching for contact against the dastardly working of our home-made fascists. Supposing a Ku Klux Klan member met you face to face at say, 36th place and St. Andrews? Would you invite him to tea? I think the road would be closed for repairs. Or is that too mild?

No, Mr. LeBerthon. The Negro Youth of today is asking for pertinent and concrete answers to these questions. They want fair practice and won't rest until they get it. The day of obeisance and serenity is gone. The war itself has proven that. We must not let insults slip by any more. We must become politically cognisant. We are definitely on the side of right and it will not let us down though we die in the undertaking. Therefore with Angels and archangels—"

PEOPLE'S RALLY SUNDAY

c.a.b.

I KNOW of nothing more important to talk about at this writing than to remind you that in the very near future we will again be in the midst of a political campaign. Next time, however, it will be a local affair; and how and for whom Negroes vote is important.

I contend that there is but one avenue of escape from persecution and the denial of civil liberties for the Negro — the proper use of the ballot. Over a long period of years women were denied the right of the ballot. It was not until the Nineteenth Amendment became a part of the Constitution in 1920 that women were given the vote.

Up to a very recent date the American farmer was the victim of the divide-and-rule system which left him open to attack by those who exploited his labor. Now his, the farmer's, understanding with organized labor has united him with the forces of freedom operating in labor against tyranny.

The farmer's position in the body politic is clear. He will no longer be the target for political "greedmongers", but he will be among those who make and regulate the laws under which he works.

As one of the segments that make the whole in our American life, what is true of women and the farmer is true of the Negro. "Be good", said one political group, "and we'll see that you eat while on earth and go to Heaven when you die." From another came this promise: "Come with us and we will fulfill your long promise of security in your persons, houses, papers and effcts."

I remember but a few years ago that Negro votes, improperly used, helped to put into office a Republican governor. Under his administration there was an opening for the appointment of a municipal judge. Negro residents of Los Angeles had long needed representation by a person familiar with the conditions under which we live, for as long as our communities remain segregated along racial lines, true representation can only be had by someone who is of the race making up the majority of the people within the community and living within it.

Prominent Minister Will Speak At B.T.U. Sessions

Dr. Howard Thurman, nationally prominent Minister and Dean of the Chapel at Howard University, Washington, D. C., will be the special guest speaker at the Tenth Annual S. S. and BTU Congress of the Western Baptist State Convention of California convening at the Second Baptist Church, 24th & Griffith, Los Angeles, Friday, November 24 through Sunday the 26th.

Dr. Thurman will speak Friday evening on the subject: "Sources of Power for Christian Action," and Sunday afternoon in a great inter-racial mass meeting he will address the Congress on the subject: "A New Heaven and A New Earth."

Dr. Thurman, long recognized as one of the great speakers of the nation, has lectured at more than 150 colleges and universities in American and Canada, and is much sought after at Youth Conferences and religious conventions.

Dr. Thurman, a native of Florida, has studied also at Rochester Theological Seminary, the Oberlin Divinity School and at Haverford, where as Kent Fellow, he studied with Dr. Rufus Jones. Since 1932 he has been Dean of the Chapel and Profesror of Christian Theology at Howard University. He was twice a lecturer at the Mills Institute of International Relations, and also lectured at Stanford University, San Francisco State College, and at the Asilomar Conferences in California. At present he is on leave of absence from Howard University to serve one year as co-pastor with Dr. Alfred G. Fisk of the newly founded Fellowship Church of San Francisco. (See inside story of Congress and schedule).

SPEAKER—Dr. Howard Thurman, Dean of the Chapel, Howard University, Washington, D. C., will be the special guest speaker on Friday and Sunday at the 10th Annual S. S. and B. T. U. Congress of the Western Baptist State Convention of California which convenes on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 24, 25 and 26 at Second Baptist Church, 2415 Griffith Avenue.

Drive for Action on FEPC Bills

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Recognizing that the 78th Congress remains in session only five weeks longer, the National Negro Congress is conducting a special drive for the enactment of certain vital legislation now pending in the House and Senate.

Dorothy K. Funn, Labor-Legislative Director of the House Labor Committee, urging that the three measures for the establishment of a permanent FEPC be favorably reported out of Committee. "Hearings on these bills should continue only so long as absolutely necessary." Miss Funn suggested, 'to permit sufficient time for enactment of the measure as finally decided upon."

The Congress is calling upon all its councils to urge their Congressmen to sign Discharge Petition No. 21, in order to bring HR2328, the Lynch Bill, to the floor for discussion. This is the bill which would bar from the United States mails literature promoting racial and religious hate.

Farm Residents Show Increase

In January 1944 there were 25,521,000 persons living on farms in the United States, according to the estimates of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. From a level of 30,269,000 in January 1940, the farm population has decreased in the last 4 years by 4,748,000 persons, or 15.7 percent.

An estimate of the number of Negro Americans now living on farms is not available. In 1940 they numbered 4,502,300, or 14.8 per cent of the total farm population.

President Roosevelt Asked to Investigate Mutiny Convictions

An appeal asking a new trail and more exhaustive investigation has been forwarded to President Roosevelt following the conviction of 50 Negro seamen who were pronounced guilty of mutiny after the longest and largest mass trial in Naval history. The appeal was sent by Edgar Brown, director of the National Negro Council who "prayed in the name of justice" that the President would not let "these wholesale convictions stand."

The fifty were on trial on Yerba Buena Island for 33 days before a Naval Board headed by Rear Admiral Hugo Osterhaus. All of them were survivors of the Port Chicago disaster, and while they admitted that they were too frightened to load ammunition, they denied consistently that had ever received a specific order to load explosives, which they had disobeyed.

Ten of the men were sentenced to serve 15 years, twenty-four face 12 year sentences, eleven received 10 year sentences, and five received 8 year terms. All of the sentences are subject to review by the Navy Judge Advocate General, the Navy Bureau of Personnel, and the Secretary of the Navy. The belief is held, however, that none of these sources will order a change in the sentences.

Rear Admiral Carleton H. Wright, commandant of the 12th Naval District exercised his power to review the findings of the Naval Board, and he recommended lighter sentences for forty of the seamen after taking into consideration the youth, previous clear record and short period of service in their cases. All of the convicted men are from the East or the South, and their ratings range up to seaman and fireman first class.

Reduction in rank and dishonorable discharge from the Navy are penalties which the men also face. Lieutenant Commander J. Frank Coakley, former Alamenda County assistant district attorney prosecuted the men.

Negro Insurance Group Pledges Support to OPA

Nineteen members of the National Negro Insurance Association, representing three and a half million policy holders in 26 states, not only pledged continued support to price control, rent control and rationing, but outlined specific steps its Anti-Inflation Committee will take to distribute information on these programs to the public, at a meeting last week with top OPA officials in the agency's Washington headquarters.

One important result of the meeting was that individual letters will be sent from the national OPA in Washington to each of the regional Anti-Inflation Committee chairmen, with copies to regional and district OPA offices, identifying the insurance men as active volunteer participants in the OPA program and asking the OPA offices to aid the insurance committee in every way possible.

Husband Shoots Wife, Kills Self In Domestic Row

Grim tragedy, fired by frustration stalked into the home of Edward Johnson and his wife Lula Mae at 1372 E. 17th Street early this week. When the curtain was lowered, Johnson lay dead and his wife was in the hospital shot through the left breast and arm, fighting for her life.

Disagreement and misunderstanding had slowly hacked away at the Johnson's marriage. Mrs. Johnson decided to take a positive step, and on Monday announced that she was going to move out of their home and get a divorce. She picked up the telephone and called a storage company to come for her furnitpre.

Despite the fact that there was company present, Johnson became enraged, acquired a gun and behaved in a threatening manner. His wife grappled with him and their guests left. As they reached the porch, they heard four shots. Johnson had seriously wounded his wife, and killed himself with a shot over the heart. Hope is held out for Mrs. Johnson's recovery.

Merchants Will Aid Bond Sale

Southern California merchants will compete in a $115,000 window display contest as one promotional phase of the 6th War Loan drive, Franklin Archer, state chairman of the contest announced here.

The competition has been broken down into 11 classes, to include all types of retail stores, and each state has been divided into sections, with sectional, state and national prizes offered. Winners of the local prizes will compete in the national contest, with a $1000 War Bond as the grand prize.

The displays will be judged on the basis of their bond-buying appeal.

Face Job Loss In Post-War Era

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Negro employes would lose far more heavily than whites in case of layoffs and in the transition from war-time to peace-time industry, unless adjustments are made in seniority rules, the National Negro Congress stated last week through its acting secretary, Miss Thelma Dale. The statement was made as the result of a test survey which the Congress has carried on.

GI's Graduate At Truax Field

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 17.—Three Negro soldiers from California, New Jersey and North Carolina, this week were graduated from the AAF Training Command's aircraft radio mechanics school at Truax Field, it was announced today by Brig. Gen. Vincent J. Meloy, post commander.

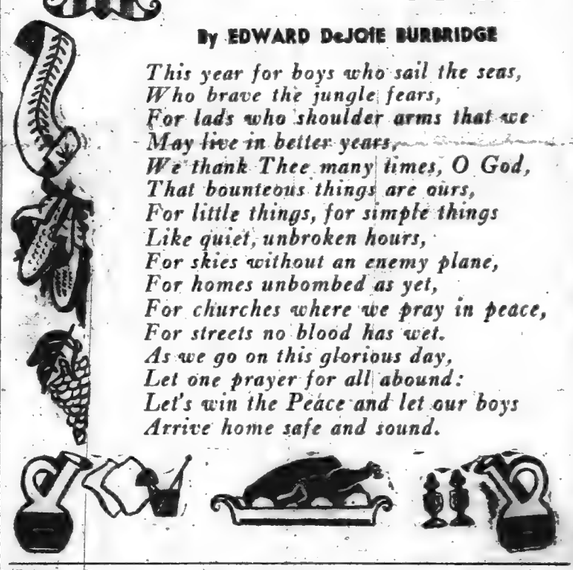
They are Pvt. Edsel V. Dacons, 22, of Rout 1, Hiddenite, N. C.; Pvt. William Greene, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Greene of 30 Somerset St., Newark, N. J., and Pvt. Frank A. Santos, 26, husband of Mrs. Agnes Santos of 204 S. 30th St., San Diego, Calif.

Outstanding Speakers to Use as Theme 'Restrictive Covenants Are Sabotage'

A People's Rally Sunday evening at the Independent Church, 18th & Paloma beginning at 7 p. m., will lay plans to stem the tide of restrictive covenants which are daily growing in number in Los Angeles. The theme of the rally will be "Restrictive Covenants Are Sabotage" and facts will be presented to show that the contribuion of the citizens of Los Angeles and the nation to victory is being hampered by these covenants in that the new workers, so necessary to the war effort, cannot find homes in which to live. In many instances these workers are returning to their former homes and in others they are remaining to work under serious handicaps.

With Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the Independent Church, presiding, outstanding members of this community will contribute to the rally. Among the speakers will be Albee Slade of the C.I.O., John Cohee, popular news analyst and radio commentator, Clem Parsons, James Hickson, Attorney Clarence Hickson, Attorney Clarence Jones, Attorney Loren Miller, Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, and Attorney Ben Margolis.

The Home Owners Protective Association will present its findings on the growth of restrictive covenants, and concrete plans will be made for action.



The relationship of restrictive covenants to such problems facing the community as the recent increase in acts of vandalism, the increased sanitation problem and many others will be discussed, both by the speakers and by the audience.

The community is urged to attend, for the matter of restrictive covenants affects not only the homeowners but everyone who is, or may be, living under crowded conditions today.

Thanksgiving 1944

By EDWARD DeJOIE BURBRIDGE

This year for boys who sail the seas,
Who brave the jungle fears,
For lads who shoulder arms that we
May live in better years,
We thank Thee many times, O God,
That bounteous things are ours,
For little things, for simple things
Like quiet, unbroken hours,
For skies without an enemy plane,
For homes unbombed as yet,
For churches where we pray in peace,
For streets no blood has wet.
As we go on this glorious day,
Let one prayer for all abound:
Let's win the Peace and let our boys
Arrive home safe and sound.

Regional FEPC Report Indicates Gains for Minority Workers

Five hundred and forty-nine complaints of discrimination involving thousands of minority workers in war industry were recevied by the West Coast offices of the President's Committee on Fair Employment Practice during the past nine months, it was announced today by Harry L. Kingman, regional FEPC director.

This was the highest number docketed in any of the agency's twelve regions, the New York region being second with 541. 474 cases were closed during the same nine months period, with the New York region second with 461. FEPC's Region XII includes five western states and has a staff of five examiners.

Among the most successful adjustments obtained during recent weeks were those of several transit companies, including the Los Angeles Railway Company. The Key recently reaffirmed its intention in writing to employ qualified Negro car and bus operators.

One large craft union has just permitted the first Negro to work under its jurisdiction. A San Francisco company last month employed the first Negro worker to be accepted in a highly skilled craft. A shipyard, at the request of the FEPC, has promoted a colored journeyman to a supervisory job in one of its large departments for the first time.

Another large industry recently accepted its first minority employee. Because of FEPC intervention, a leading war industry increased its colored employees from 300 to 1,100 during a four months period, Kingman stated.

Retrial Denied

Flash! The United States Supreme Court has denied the appeal of counsel for Robert Lee Folkes for a new trial. The case taken to the highest court on a writ of certiorari by Folkes' attorney, Leroy Lomax, grew out of the now celebrated "Lower 13" murder early this year. Lomax is in Salem, Oregon, appealing the governor to show clemency by commuting Folkes' sentence to life imprisonment. It is generally believed that only a deluge of telegrams and other communications to the governor will save the youth from paying the death penalty.

Promotion and Romance for Robert Storey

WITH U. S. ARMY FORCES IN THE NEW HEBRIDES.—Robert W. Storey, formerly of Los Angeles, Calif., has been promoted to the grade of Corporal while serving at this island base with a Port Battalion company.

Corporal Story is the son of Mrs. Roberts Storey and the grandson of Mrs. Clara Carter of 1637 South Essex street and 1301 114th street, South Los Angeles, respectively. He is the former employe of the Los Angeles Shipyard and a graduate of the San Pedro High School.

He entered the Army in June, 1943, and served in this outfit the entire length of his military career. He is planning on entering professional business post war, and marrying the charming Miss Viola Foster of 4221 Avalon boulevard, Los Angeles, Calif.

Council Joins Ranks in Community Fight Against Residential Restrictions

The Economic Relief Association under the management of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves are to be commended for their fortitude in using every means at their disposal to comply with the city ordinances for the maintenance of their type of business.

Many improvements have been made, and the Council is setting an example to the rest of the community for the efficient and sanitary management of their salvage distribution and collection. They have met more than their share of opposition but have constructively set about to improve their property and in so doing are an example to other small businesses within this district.

The Economic Relief Association is planning for victory and for peace, and they know that they will have a great part in the development of this community. Already they have joined with the Home Owners Protective Association and the Victory Committee for community progress.

groes appealed to the governor for recognition. No Negro appointment was made. The excuse was that the Negro people could not get together on whom they wanted.

The same opening developed under Democratic Governor Culbert Olson. A young Los Angeles Negro, Attorney Edwin Jefferson, was appointed to office.

Now, due to the fact that Supervisor L. McDonough has been elected to Congress from the Fifteenth District, there is a vacancy in the Second Supervisorial District, and the Negro people feel that a Negro from the District should be Republican Governor Earl Warren's choice.

Prominent among those mentioned, in whom the community is interested are Norman O. Houston and Frederick M. Roberts, as equally well prepared as others to fill the vacancy in the Department. They are highly respected and by background and experience merit the support of this constituency.

We hope that Governor Warren will make an appointment in this case that will serve the best interests of the majority of the people in the district. However, again I say that a similar fight to that made by women in gaining their right to vote and that of the farmers in throwing off their labor bondage must be made by the Negro people.

Manual Arts Hi-Y Program

On Sunday afternoon, November 26, ae 3:30 o'clock at the People's Independent Church of Christ, 1025 E. 18th Street, the Manual Arts Hi-Y is presenting as its recognition service a mammoth program of youth on the march.

This is intended to be only the beginning of a gigantic program of action among youth, looking toward the elmination of youth delinquency in this community.

A Musicale Extraordinary with the best artists in the city and speakers of national renown will be presented. Youth groups are urged to attend as a body by phoning reservations to Prospect 79633 or CEntury 22459.

A partial list of artists and speakers includes: Mr. Hal Slane, Calif. Youth Correction Authority; Judge Edwin L. Jefferson; Miss Josephine Cooper, soloise; Jefferson A Capella Choir; Jimmie Miller; a big name star from Hollywood and many others.

Gilbert W. Lindsay is the sponsor. Everyone is invited and admission is free.

N.A.A.C.P. NEWS

The address of Roger N. Baldwin, national director of the American Civil Liberties Union, at a meeting sponsored by the local N. A. A. C. P. and the Urban League, Sunday, Nov. 19th, was an inspiration to the people who believe in real democracy and are fighting for the rights of minorities.

Said Baldwin: "The struggle for racial equality represents the last of the great democratic urges. Recognition has already been given, and only in recent years, to the democratic rights of organized labor in collective bargaining. Recognition, in principle anyhow, has been given to the equality of women before the law. Racial exclusion, discrimination, and segregation remain as the only formidable obstacles to the full participation of the entire population in our democratic life."

He pointed out that the essential causes of race prejudice lie not in natural antipathy of peoples of different colors but in economic exploitation. As an example he cited the evacuation of the Japanese from the coast as due primarily to economic reasons rather than political expediency.

He stressed the responsibility of the churches in fighting discrimination not only because it is undemocratic but also because it is un-Christian.

He warned that the Axis propagandists have taken full advantage of the fact that Hitler's "master race theory" has been closely patterned after that practiced by America and England and that the "oppressed majority" of the world, the darker peoples, are looking to Amtrica and England to see whether this war will save the world from another and bloodier war. This can be done only if complete racial equality is a part of the peace.

He hailed the current demands of the Negro in America for full recognition and cited the abolition of the white primary in the South through the efforts of the N. A. A. C. P. and the establishment of the F. E. P. C. through the efforts of the March on Washington Movement as examples of gains which have been made. He advised the Negro to continue to push forward unceasingly until he secures his full share in our democracy.

Mr. Baldwin's address was followed by discussion and questions from the audience. Music was furnished by the choir of the Second Baptist Church, under the direction of Anna Griffith Morrow.

FIRST NEGRO WAVE SWORN IN—The first woman to be sworn into the Women's Reserve under the Navy Department plan approved by the President, for the acceptance of Negro Women into the WAVES, was Miss Jean A. Freeman 22, of 164 Walnut Avenue, Roxbury, Mass. She was sworn into the service as an enlisted WAVE at 8 a. m. Monday, November 13, by Captain L. D. Cassey, USN retired, director of the office of Naval Officer Procurement at Boston, Mass.

Post Office Employes Need Help

Postal employes have had no permanent pay increase since 1925—19 years. That's a long time. The postal employe is in a peculiar situation. He isn't under the jurisdiction of the War Labor Board. His only boss is the public, that is, as far as his wages and working conditions are concerned.

He has to appeal to the public when he wants a raise. The Post Office Department is self-sustaining; hence this raise will not involve increased taxation. The public can act only through Congress which makes all laws regulating postal salaries. This is why the postal employe is asking the public to come to his aid.

Now pending in Congress are the Mead-O'Brien bills which will grant a permanent pay increase of $7.66 per week to all postal employes.

Write three short letters or postcards, one to your Congressman and one to each of your two Senators. Insist that they pass the pay raise for postal employes in this present session of Congress.

Mortgage Burning Held At El Centro

At El Centro, California, the Salton Sea Lodge of Elks No. 627 and Phyllis Wheatley Temple No. 526 celebrated the completion of payment on their Elks' Rest with a mortgage burning ceremony, Sunday, November 19.

A large audience witnessed the impressive ceremonies and the congratulations were many and profuse.

W. A. Payne as Master of ceremonies presented representatives of the several fraternal organizations who brought fraternal greetings. The city, county, and state were represented by Councilman R. W. Hatton; Judges Elmer W. Heald and Vaughn Thompson; Supervisor Hugh T. Osborne. All of these officials brought congratulations of warmth and complimented the organizations on their civic and fraternal pride and their loyalty to the city in various matters. W. W. McEuen of the Pioneer Title Insurance and Trust Company and Max Sones of the Sones Lumber Company presented to Exalted Ruler R. J. Burleigh and Daughter Ruler Luvenia Gibson canceled papers showing al debts paid. These were burned with the traditional ceremonies. The program includded splendid musical numbers rendered by leading musicians of the city. Out-of-town guests present included Mr. Andrew Culberson, Santa Barbara; Mr. Clarence of Los Angeles; Rev. and Mrs. Hayes Hayter formerly of this city but now residing in Topeka, Kansas.

Refreshments were served to participants and guests, and a delightful social hour was had.

The building is a beautiful two-story structure at the corner of Second and State Streets. It has recently been redecorated outside and in and represents an outlay of $15,000.

Celebrates 8th Birthday

Last Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock, little Miss Mary McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. McDonald, celebrated her eighth birthday with a delightful birthday party. Twenty little Misses of Mary's age group and Mary's two small brothers, James and Robert Marshall, helped make the afternoon one which will be long remembered by both hostess and her guests. Many beautiful and worthwhile presents were received by Mary, for which she and her parents are sincerely grateful.

College Fund Distributes $3000,000

NEW YORK.—Three hundred thousand dollars was distributed this week to 27 member colleges of the United Negro College Fund, according to an announcement by W. J. Trent, Jr., executive secretary of the fund. This is the second allotment of funds raised in the 1944 campaign. The distribution was authorized at a recent meeting of the board of directors which was held in Atlanta, Georgia.

Money is still coming into headquarters from some campaign cities and the announcement of the total funds raised will be made later by the national chairman, Mr. Walter Hoving. Fund headquarters are located at 38 East 57th Street, New York City.

Plan Clinic On East Side

Based upon a resolution introduced by Councilman Carl C. Rasmussen in the City Council on October 5, 1943, the City Council on November 17, 1944, appropriated the sum of $110,000 for a Health Clinic at 49th street and Avalon boulevard. The Federal Works Agency has granted the sum of $130,000 toward this project which, with the city appropriation, will total almost one-quarter million dollars.

Plans for the building are already under way and will include all phases of public health administration. In fact, this clinic will be one of the finest of its kind in the country.

In the original resolution Councilman Rasmussen pointed out that the greatest needs for public health service exist in the southeast area of the city and it was through his efforts that the present clinic now located at 55th and Central was established.

The new clinic will be a great stride forward in furnishing adequate public health services to the entire southeast area of Los Angeles. It will be located opposite the beautiful Southside Park, the site having been already acquired.

Whatever weighs in the eternal scale of equity and mercy tips the beam on the right side, where the immortal words and deeds of men alone can settle all questions amicably and satisfactorily.—Mary Baker Eddy.

POPULAR — Dorothy Philpot told newsmen this week that servicemen on land, on sea and in the air have swamped her with several hundreds of letters since her photograph appeared on the cover of a popular news magazine. Miss Philpot says she's in a quandry because nearly all of her correspondents have promised to bring home some sort of a foreign souvenir and she would just love to have them all.

Red Cross Director Visits Aunt

Captain Hubert Minort Jackson of New York City, who serves as a field director for the American Red Cross, and who served 18 months overseas in New Guinea and Australia, was in Los Angeles visiting his aunt, Carolyn M. River. He was enroute to national headquarters in Washington, D. C. to attend a meeting to be held this week.

Captain Jackson reports that morale is high among Negro soldiers in the Pacific area; that the yare enjoying good health, and that they ask for more letters and the Califofnia Eagle.

LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Simultaneously with the convening of the CIO convention in Chicago, the AFL opened its annual session in New Orleans. It is not too encouraging to note the sharp contrast in the opening remarks of CIO president Murray with those of AFL president Green. While Murray was calling for unity and cooperation between Labor, goverment and business, Green was playing into the hands of the reactionaries and disrupters by inviting those, "who left the home of Labor to come back home." Before any progressive steps can be taken in the direction of understanding and unity, it must be recognized that the CIO is here to stay. President Green knows that, and he cannot deny that it is to the advantage of the nation and the Labor movement that this is so.

John M. Lee

What the CIO represents on the American scene, is not within province of the AFL. Those of us who recognize that complete solidarity is the key to Labor's success, would happily strive for the ascendancy of the AFL if we had any reason to believe that by so doing we would be choosing the wiser course. The AFL has never been, and it most certainly is not now a people's organization.

It has contributed greatly to the destructive nationalism of the Negro and other minority groups by its continued policy of discrimination and segregation. It has operated with a sort of paternalistic arrogance, and is now, unless it elects to change, a potential transmission belt for the new form of domestic fascism that hovers over our post war unity.

The answer is certainly not the abandonment of the CIO in favor of the AFL. Nor, conversely, is it in the abandonment of the CIO in favor of the AFL. There is work for both great union forces to do in the building of our national production as a means of raising and making secure the level of our national economy. No labor union has the right to exist in this era unless it can be of service to its country and its members.

If the AFL leadership recognizes the sterility of its ideas by the admission that its has no other program than to fight and attempt to destroy the CIO, then every member of an AFL local is being wantonly betrayed. There is a marked similarity between our two party political systems and the situation in the labor field. The rejection at the polls by the American people of the philosophy and platform of the Republican party should serve as a warning to those in the AFL who foster the damaging ideas that have made that organization the heartache of the American worker. The ability to speak out of both sides of the mouth is no longer a guarantee of success with the masses.

The AFL stands indicted through acts committed during the time when the nation was prosecuting a life or death war, of being one of the strongest racists groups in the country. It has spent thousands of dollars to fight in the courts, every attempt to democratize many of its locals. Consequently, it has lost the confidence of millions of workers.

Before calling for a return of those who left, the AFL should give them something to which they can return. A thorough house cleaning of ideas, and perhaps, some of its top leadership, will put the AFL in a position to speak representatively in any representative assembly. Until that time, the Negro minority, for one, will accept the AFL only because it is here and must be supported because it does contribute to the general welfare of labor

BE SUPERIOR

Sometimes, we are stunned by the evidence that some of our closest Caucasian friends are not too sure on this business of superior races. That has been one of the greatest drawbacks in getting Negroes to donate blood to the Blood Bank. However, there is such a thing as superior thinking, and it can be employed best by ignoring every other point except the fact that blood is needed and yours will help. Call RO-0121 and make an appointment today.

Priscilla . . .

Mayflower emigrant, Puritan maid, ancestor of two presidents of the United States — John Adams and John Quincy Adams.

When Captain Miles Standish lacked the courage to press his courtship and delegated the romantic task to John Alden, Priscilla's answer was, "Why don't you speak for yourself, John?" Her name became Priscilla Alden.

Priscilla had a mind of her own.

At this Thanksgiving season, the Los Angeles Railway salutes Priscilla and the Pilgrim Fathers, who pioneered through hardships, continually planning for the future, so that later generations might have greater comforts and more freedom.

Likewise, through present hardships of operation, the Los Angeles Railway plans ahead with hopes of bringing similar extra comforts to its patrons.

Red Cross Aids Returning Vets

Thirteen hundred disabled servicemen discharged from military duties each month are being given assistance and service by the Home Service Department of the Los Angeles chapter, American Red Cross, it was disclosed this week by Miss Catherine O'Connor, department director.

"As part of a program expected to reach heavy proportions in the near future, World War II veterans today are being rendered all possible assistance by Red Cross in an effort to facilitate their return to civilian life," Miss O'Connor announced.

Among the chief services given is financial aid during the temporary period application for government benefits is pending, it was pointed out. This assistance to disabled ex-servicemen involves basic maintenance, hospital or medical care for dependents, as well as other financial needs such as payment of government and other insurance premiums, and furnishing of appropriate clothing for initial employment.

Appointed

Mrs. Vernell Parkerson, R.N., the wife of Elmer D. Parkerson, U.S.A.C., both of Washington, D.C., has recently been appointed to the staff of the Orange County Hospital. This marks the first time in the history of the County of Orange that a Negro nurse has been so employed. Mrs. Parkerson is at present residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burks, 1411 West 5th street in Santa Ana.

For the first time in five months California gasoline tax assessments are more than they were for the corresponding month of 1943.

Beavers Held On Auto Charge

William Beavers, salesman of 5723 Fortuna St., and father of Louise Beavers, famed motion picture actress, was held to answer on a charge of violation of Section 480 of the Vehicle Code involving a hit-and-run case and will stand trial on the charge.

Flanked by his attorney, Curtis C. Taylor, Mr. Beavers stood before Judge Clement D. Dye in Dept. 40 of the Superior Court last Thursday morning and pleaded not guilty to the charge. He is accused by police of running down and injuring a pedestrian on Nov. 16th at Jefferson Blvd. and Hope St., and then refusing to stop and give aid. Beavers stoutly denies the charge and claims that he did stop, and drove a few feet head in order that he might be clear of traffic.

He was told to go ahead by someone whom he thought was an officer, and under the circumstances drove on. He claims he had no knowledge of a violation of the law until apprehended by the officer.

Graduates

GREAT LAKES, Ill. — Ralph Sears, 1665 West 36th street, Los Angeles, is one of 11 men graduated from the Radioman School and advanced from Seaman, Second Class, to Seaman, First Class, in special graduation exercises held in Camp Robert Smalls last week. What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

With Christmas in the offing, Angel City's social and philanthropic clubs are prepared to play a leading role in making it a pleasant one for convalescing service men, and the underpriviledged. This year we find that hospitals and recuperating homes will be highlight settings. As in past years, the Doll League, Orchid Girls, Y.W.C.A. and Von Les Belles will be doing their parts as usual. Les Charmantes and several other newly organized clubs will take a hand in the presentation of gifts and Christmas parties for the honorees.

The success of the AKA's Scholarship Benefit, is main chatter round town this week, for the affair has the promised hilarity and color of past years. From 8 o'clock until two in the morning, more than 800 younger setters danced to the music of Erskin Hawkins' Orchestra, and enjoyed the appointed show with the special attraction of T. Bone Walker's opening night at the Club Plantation.

In evidence on the dance floor and at ring side tables were parts of the gang we haven't seen in ages, as well as the usual crowd. Took note of Melonee Temple in a breath taking black creation, in company of Edwin Sneed for the evening. At same table were Josephine Spearman and Jackie Robinson, (the ex-UCLA football star), Corinne Jones and Jimmy Lewis. Glimpsed Sgt. Don Barksdale and Bessie Renfrew on the dance floor, as well as Ballenger Kemp and Marilyn Williams, Lt. Joel Price and wife Anna (LaCale) chatting with old friends, the Peakes, Alma and Pauline, having a great time with friends at their table. The honeymooners, Lt. Bill Milton and bride Aida, who were married in Texas several days ago. Frank DuPas home on furlough, Evelyn Roberts, Ella Louise Cook, Anna Bell Stewart, Esther Hargroves, Dorothy Pedd, and oodles more home towners.

OUT OF TOWNERS included Sgt. Clarence Wright, Jerry Robinson and Ed Allen, who arrived in L.A. early Friday morning especially to take in the affair. The gents were house guests of Jimmy Robinson during the we Jimmy Robinson during the Marshall, Gloria Ford, and Yours Truly, had a great time, showing them the high lights of the city during their stay. Ed Allen, who, by the way is in Lt. Wesley Russel's company up at Camp Knight, flew back to Oakland Sunday night. Sgt. Clarence Wright, "Camp Knight" news scribe and Cpl. Jerry Robinson departed the city Monday afternoon . . . .

The invitation read "Drop In for Cocktails between hours of 4 till 8.", and that is just what some thirty or forty local lovelies did Sunday evening, when Muriel (Folley) Spaulding and Francis Patterson played hostesses in scintillating black satin Chinese lounging pajamas, with flowers in their hair, accenting the oriental effect. The affair was strictly feminine, so the war widows and dateless debs were right in front when it came to having a good time. The fact that this is definitely a glamour year, was quite in evidence, so couldn't help but take note of the added bits. Juliette Ball was wearing a tri-colored hat, that brought on the second glance, Pauline Evans sported fur coat with matching hat, Helen Jane Stewart in gold, winter wool, was accompanied by two visiting New York debs. Then there was Weni and Marion Allen looking quite 'Miss Vogue,' Helen Maupin was in full garb, Gwendolyn Harris accented her dress with black, Marjoris Scott, looked as stunning as usual, Henriella Kengie in feathered head dress and Odell Moore's lengthy kid gloves were also noted. The affair was tops, with the girls casually greeting each other as they dropped in fashionably late. Kinda think "Hen" parties are on the ball.

DECEMBER BRIDE

The date is set for the wedding so "Puffy" Houston is being feted by her many friends. Pauliette Coleman hostessed a Lingerie Shower for the popular Bride elect Sunday afternoon. The affair was well attended and the popular deb was the recipient of many gorgeous simmering satin gifts. Wedding bells are scheduled to chime in the early part of December, when fiance Lamare Hill furloughs. Puffy is all excited, and can hardly await the date. The wedding will be large with plenty of maids, flowers and the usual finery. . . .

OLSTON FORREST NEW PREXY

Last Saturday evening, the Negro University Club of UCI elected Olston Forrest as president for the year. Olston, who is a Pre-med major, served in past years as Student Body President of Carver Jr. High School, and president of the L.A. High Y. Gloria Ford, a Jr. on Campus, was elected Vice President.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Joe Spauldings furlough has just about come to an end round L.A., for the popular Flight Stewart heads for Oakland, California, comes Friday morning, where he will be considered for the V-12 class on Berkeley Campus. Joe has much interesting chatter on the battles in the South Pacific, where he saw Chuck Boswell, Chester Parks, and other local lads in active duty. Wants all his heart throbs to know that he's glad to be back in the States . . . . Speaking of returning service men, John Thomas is back home after spending more than a year in foreign battle. So happens that he proudly sports the purple heart. John will be round town for several more days . . . . By the way, Jimmey Lyle is also among those returning. He happens to be the number one gent on Ann Cunninghams list, they tell me that wedding bells will ring out for them at the close of the war . . . . Johnnie Weems is back home for Thanksgiving Dinner. Been spending most of his time seeing old pals . . . .

It's definitely Art for Phylippa Jones—the Crown City deb has checked out of the Bruin family out Westwood way, and is studying at an Art School. She is also helping Uncle Sam, by doing her bit at Lockheed Aircraft . . . . When Neal Collins birthdayed last week, his feminine heart throbs showered him with monogramed cigarette cases, etc. Belated greeting, pal still holds his place in the hearts of many a Local deb . . . . Janice Brooks, on leave from Nurses Training at San Francisco hospital is vacationing round town enjoying the different affairs looking quite ultra.

Benzell Graham is quickly recovering from a recent automobile accident. Paulette DeJoie is attending Howard University and enjoying true college life. By the way, received word from Etheline Gray, also a Los Angelesite taking up studies at the famed University. She is staying at Crandall Hall.

Rena Ann Marlowe is doing a bit of extra smiling this week, because the M. P.'s of Camp Shank New York, have voted her their favorite pin up glamour gal. Her sister, Pearl, recently returned from a trip to Yuma. No eloping connected . . . . Just a pleasure jaunt . . . .

In the recent advisors election at the YWCA, Ann Clay Johnson received position of President. The advisors have a very well scheduled program for the present semester . . . . Back in L.A. from Peoria, and looking extra fine is Doris, "Dewey" Booker, and her better half Jimmy, who by the way has been honorably discharged from Uncle's service. Seeing is believing . . . . Those are real silk hose that the Lumpkin sisters are wearing round town, and they hailed directly from the Sunny Lands of Italy, where Theadore Lumpkin is doing his bit for Uncle Sam . . . .

Till Next Week

ORCHIDS TO STAGE BENEFIT DANCE—Attorney Crispus A. Wright smilingly gives these charming young ladies of the "Orchids" his stamp of approval on the benefit to raise funds to help combat youth delinquency by purchasing tickets for the mammoth matinee dance scheduled at the Plantation Club on Sunday, Nov. 26th, from 4 to 8 p.m.

This affair promises to be the outstanding affair of the holiday season. The 20th Century Gabriel Erskine Hawkins has been held over for this gala event. Plus the Three Famous Rockets, Effie Smith, Jimmy Mitchell and last but not yeast the King of the Blues, T-Bone Walker, will be starred with his guitar. If you miss this affair you will have missed the time of your life.

Mrs. Ruth Williams Entertains Sweet-in-Memory Club

Mrs. Ruth Williams entertained her club, the Sweet-in-Memory of '37, Monday, November 13, at dinner in her beautiful home at 1346 East 41st place.

Sharing honors with Mrs. Marie Sheffield, president of the club, whose birthday was being celebrated, was Mrs. Rowena Lawrence, who leaves Saturday for Gary, Ind., to spend two months. Both ladies were showered with many useful gifts.

Mrs. Williams proved an ideal hostess, serving hors d' oeuvres in the spacious living room before inviting her guests to the exquiitelsy arranged table, the centerpiece of which was a horn of plenty with tall red candles surrounded by smaller candles of the same color which made a soft light against the snow-white imported cloth.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Marsh of Berkeley, Rev. S. M. Beane and Rev. McGee, and Mmes. Elmira Spencer, La Gulia Shaw, and Mattie Jackson were also present.

Mrs. Marsh, vice-president of the Sweet-in-Memory Club, was installed into her office, because of absence at the installation in August at which time Mrs. Sheffield was returned as president, Mrs. Claribel Ashcraft, treasurer, Izetta Allen, secretary, Ruth Williams, chaplain, and the clubmother, Mrs. Amanda Bond.

START BOND DRIVE

The Newton division of the War Finance Committee held its initial meeting at Sojourner Truth Home, 1119 East Adams boulevard, on Sunday, November 19, at which 50 volunteers were present to receive kits and begin their canvass of this community to sell a quota of $500,000 by the end of the drive on December 16.

Les Charmantes Slub Is Popular

This musical, social, philanthropic and art club has become in less than a year, one of the outstanding clubs of Los Angeles. The charming young ladies presented a Charity Ball at Joe Morris's Planation Club on November 3rd. It was a time to be remembered by several hundred Los Angelites. In December, these twenty-four charmantes will visit many wounded soldiers and present them with . . . . Les Charmantes have planned many outstanding events for the new year. Watch for them.

The officers are Sarah Lumpkin, president; Jessie Mae Brown, Vice President; Dorothea Rollins, Secretary, Cornelia Scott, Coresponding Secretary; Elsie Shaftner, Treasurer. Members include: Jaunita Brown, Fannie Crain, Betty Wilson, Dolores Hollins, Rosalia Smith, Nancy Lewis, Yvonne Johnson, Fredericka Shaftner, Mercea Rollins, Jean Ella Elkins, Ramona, Robinson, Doris Thomas, Clorianne, Young, Norma Lee McDaniel, Franzanna Safford, Erma Brown and Gwendolyn Harris. The club members are pictured on the Rotopravure page of the paper. Those pictured include Ella Mae Crossland, Pearl Marlowe and Mrs. Pearl Curtis, advisor of the club. Associate members are: Marion Jackson, Maxine Clark, Alfleda Jackson and Elaine Miles.

Banquet Honors Return From Mexico

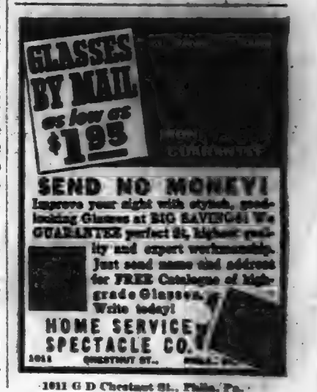
The United Races of America heralded the return from Mexico of 35 members at a banquet at Channing Hall last week.

These members had been the special guests of the government of Mexico at the opening of Congress.

The Hon. Hugh E. Macbeth—founder and head of the organization—addressed the meeting on "Opinions South of the Border." He brought back a special message from the branch of United Races in Mexico, founded three years ago.

The "branch" is an anomaly as it is far greater than the tree. Called "Comite de Comitar Racismo," its officers are the heads of Labor and Industry, governors of the state, mayors of the cities, and endowed financially by the Mexican government.

A decree passed November 1, effective for the year 1945, is illuminating as to the stand of the Mexican government on race relations. It says in substance that: "Nationals immigrating to Mexico must manifest categorically that they harbor no racial prejudices."



Mr. Fuad Saadeh, a Persian, spoke on "Mexico Is Changing." Mr. Saadeh exhibited art objects, tapestries and rugs representing 11 nations and seven languages of the Near East.

Delightful music was furnished by Mrs. Saadeh and Mrs. Sturgeion.

Popular Denver Matron Feted At Unique Fawn

The city's most talked about cafe, "The Unique Fawn," was again the center of interest on Sunday night when Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Filer of Beverly Hills entertained at dinner. The following were guests: Mrs. E. G. Holly and daughter, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. J. A. West, Satella, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Herbet Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thomas, and Mrs. U. W. Henderson of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Filer had chosen a centerpiece of colorful flowers that lent charm to a table that was already adorned with the presence of its genial, gracious hostess.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

If your prayer wasn't answered like you thought it should,
Just remember, perhaps, it was not for your good;
For no matter how wise or how shrewd you may be—
There's a Being much wiser than you, or than me;
Who sees all, and knows all, and maps out the way
We weak humans shall travel from day unto day.

This poem is brought to my mind because of a little story I just read, as follows: "She was a small girl of six who wanted something preposterous for Christmas—perhaps it was 50 dolls—and got one doll instead. Her father, who knew of these prayers teased her about it. 'Evidently, God didn't hear you, Sarah,' he said. 'He didn't answer you, did He?' 'He heard be,' said Sarah, contentedly playing with the one doll she did get, 'but He answered NO.' "

Few of us grownups are half as wise as this little girl of six—but on this Thanksgiving Day it would be a good thing for us to think upon our many prayers, and the answers we have received, and see wherein God has answered them wisely, even if not always according to the way we thought they should be answered.

PETERSON CONCERT NOTE...

Word comes from Caleb Peterson that due to political campaign committments, his New York concert scheduled for early October, was necessarily postponed until last week. The concert over, he will be returning to Los Angeles in a few days.

NEW YORKERS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Francis, of New York City, who are visitors in our fair city, were the Bridge-Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwar Myricks, of 123 West 51st Street, on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Francis are stopping at the Clark Hotel.

BITS OF NEWS...

Mrs. Fannie Casmon traveled to Santa Barbara, over the week-end, for a brief vacation.

Many of Los Angeles' younger-setters enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Neal Collins, when he entertained with a cocktail party, on Saturday night, at his home in Wall Street.

First Lieutenant William Harris, of New York City, was seen, in and about many of the "spots" escorting the smartly attired Miss Althea Jones of West 37th Place.

Mr. Marion Mann escorted a couple of "Angels" (that's his name for a beautiful lady) to Hollywood Park the other day. Believe it, or not . . . nobody came out in the hole.

Carlyn and Emory Cain, in West 29th Place, have as their houseguest, Mrs. Cain's mother, who recently arrived from New York.

Miss LaVaughn Martin and her grandmother, Mrs. Jannie Mann, returned from Oklahoma, Sunday, and were happily greeted by family and friends.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul M. Marshall have moved into their lovely new home on East 118th Drive. Rev. Marshall is pastor of the newly organized Carver Memorial Church on 27th and Paloma Streets.

MY THANKS TO YOU

We sincerely appreciate the group of friends who were kind enough to accept a last minute, hurried invitation to come over to our home and meet Corporals Lucy Owens and Lucy Berry, of Luck Zerry, Lucy Lucy BeryLuc Ft. Knox, Ky., on Saturday. Included in the number were Marie McNamee, Carolyn and Emory Cain, Dr. C. W. Hill, Harry Levette, Marion Mann, Lena Edwards, Althea Jones, Jerry Mann, and Anne McArthur. A good time was had by all. Nicie Mann and "yours truly" did the honors.

Realizing that this is Thanksgiving Day, and not wanting to interfere with your delicious turkey dinner, I'll sign off here, until next week. Many Happy Returns of the Day!

By The Light Of The Silvery Moon

The "light of the silvery moon" is good for love but it interferes with the sardine canning industry. Moonlight on the ocean stirs many a man to poetry but not a sardine fisherman, because the lighted surface of the water prevents him from making his nightly seafood catch.

The sardine season extends from October through February, and much of the fishing is done at night. The tiny fish, their bodies covered with phosporus, are easily discernible in dark ocean waters. Moonlight upon the water's surface, lowers the visibility.

Men and women with or without experience in cannery work are needed to help preserve this season's catch. The United States Employment Service in your neighborhood has full details about these jobs.

With OPA officials recognizing the existence of black market operations in the automotive repair field, Southland motorists are urged to cooperate in helping to curb this evil.

Social Activities

CANTEEN FOR TEEN-AGERS OPENED BY Y. W. C. A.—A Canteen for teen-agers sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. will be open each Friday evening from 7 to 11:30 o'clock at the Woodlawn Branch Y. W. C. A., 4260 Woodlawn Avenue. The above photograph shows a group of club members and advisors talking over plans for the opening on Friday evening, Nov. 24th, at which time Manual Arts Tri-Y Club will serve as hostessses for the initial meeting. Pictured above are: Vera Massengale, Pauline Knight, Corrine Jones, Inez Sparks, Ethel Thomas, Jessie Mae Brown, Maethilde Kenner in the back row and Jacqueline Wilson, Phyllis Williams, Rebecca Brown and Sarah Miller in the front row.

Social Notes

Miss Paulete Coleman was a charming hostess at a lingerie shower Sunday, at her home on S. Grammercy Place, in honor of Miss Anthenesias (Puffie) Houston, the bride-elect of Mr. Lamar Hill.

Mrs. Mary Carter, senior hostess at Ft. Huachuca, spent several days in the city visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Booker Carter and their two children.

Mrs. Zella Boyer entertained the Just For Fun Club, Friday with a well appointed luncheon followed by bridge. Prizes were won by Madame Emma Holt, Margaret Moore and Cynthia Gordon.

Miss Elaine Broady was hostess to the L. A. Tri-Y Wednesday. There was a symposium on each girl by the other. A number of good points were gained through the discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Boswell of East 28th St. are all smiles, expecting to see their son, Lieut. Charles Boswell soon, who has been away nearly two years.

Mrs. Marjorie McPherson was hostess at a formal dinner Friday evening at the Villa Arlington in honor of her husband, Captain Henry McPherson, who arrived in the city Tuesday. Hand-made place cards marked places for sixty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Johnson spent the week-end at their Mountain home in Val Verde, where they enjoyed hiking and hunting.

Mrs. Frances Livingston of Oakland, Calif., who has been visiting her brother, Atty. Leonard Richardson, for two weeks, left for her home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jackson enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at their Lake Elsinore home.

Among the sources of those innumerable calamities which from age to age have overwhelmed mankind, may be reckoned as one of the principal, the abuse of words. — George Horne.

Dr. H. McPherson Feted By Wife

Honoring her husband, Captain Henry A. McPherson, at a formal dinner, Mrs. Marjorie McPherson entertained fifty guests at the Villa Arlington on last Friday evening. The room was beautifully decorated in a red, white and blue color scheme, chrysanthemums, roses and larkspurs carrying out the motif. Mrs. Forrest of the Neighborhood Florists deftly transformed the place into a scene of flowers, candles and floral expressions that defied description.

The menu was most enjoyable and the surprise of the evening came with the dessert, when tiny cards revealed to their friends that Dr. McPherson had been retired from the Medical Corps to resume active practice in Los Angeles, where the shortage of doctors has become accute.

Pictures were taken of the beautifully gowned guests after Dr. McPherson, accompanied by Mrs. Paullyn Garner, had sung some vocal solos.

Mrs. Sarah McPherson, mother of the doctor, came from San Diego to be present at the dinner.

COMMENDED

IN COMBAT WITH THE XIV ARMY SERVICE COMMAND IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC—For their work with a Service Command crew unloading supply ships, ten Negro soldiers have been commended by the commanding officer of the port at Empress Augusta Bay, Bougainville, the War Department reported.

Indiana State Club Convenes

The Indiana State Club met November 19th at the L. A. Vada apartments reception hall, with Mrs. Evelyn Russell as hostess. Plans were made to hold the annual Christmas dinner party December 17th at the Casaropbel, 429 Adams Blvd., 6 till 11 p. m. A nice sum of money was raised for the defense of Robert Lee Fowlkes, accused of murder in "The Lower 13" case.

Following the business session Louis Johnson, movie actor and noted bass soloist, and Morris J. Stokes, Jr., radio concert baritone, rendered two selections. Mrs. Louis Smith, a visitor and former Indiana resident, active in the Y.W.C.A. of L. A., gave original readings. Miss Jamison, representative of the NAACP, gave an interesting talk. At 6:30 cocktails were served in the L.A. Vada Bar. Mr. Jackson, a teacher in the night schools in L.A., was elected president of the Indiana State Club and officiated at the meeting.

NEW CALEDONIA, SOUTH PACIFIC — Private First Class Robert Peter Colbert, a former maintainence man at Lurke Air Field, Phoenix, Arizona, is now on duty as a chauffeur with a Quartermaster Service Company of the Army's Service of Supply Forces in the South Pacific.

Lilac Girls Hold Meet

When the Lilac Girls Club met November 10, Mrs. Alice Cotten was the hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Anna Washington, with all members present. Business went on in the usual manner. A lovely dinner was served by the hostess after which there were three changes of bridge.

Prizes were given as follows: Mrs. Vera Thompson, first; Mrs. Dora Johnson, second, and Mrs. Freda Myers, third.

The Lilac Girls are looking forward to a lovely meeting the next time. Mrs. Ella Cotten will be hostess.

The Future of American Fashions

By

Grace Fisher Atkins

Costume design at Jefferson Evening High School will inculde many phases of the costume problem during the next ten weeks. Diets and exercise will form much of the the proposed program.

Posture and balanced weight are important parts of the costume. The "before and after" comparisons will show exactly what can be accomplished in the course of three months.

Regarding exercise, we often do not consider the effect of fresh air. Oxygen is as important a part of muscular activity as the movements. In fact this valuable gas is the very essence of life. To eliminate the oxygen content in the air is to reduce the metabolic rate. An experiment with a burning candle will prove simply the value of oxygen.

Place a candle in a small glass. Light the candle. Place a glass over the lighted cndle. The result is that the flame will be extinguished as soon as the surplus oxygen is burned within the area of the two glasses.

Exactly the same thing happens with the human body. When all oxygen is denied the lungs suffocation results. We little realize that we are administering slow death when we sleep in poorly ventilated rooms, and rob ourselves of at least one daily bath.

Dr. Lindlar, noted dietitian, stated that his body is submerged in water twice each day. He considers this important to his daily activities.

Many persons suffering from constipation may be helped by this practice. Fresh air and the daily bath can stimulate the human mechanism in an exceedingly appreciable degree. Circulation is encouraged. Food intake is distributed throughout the body tissues more evenly. Therefore, the digestive processes are speeded or "tuned-up." It is this quality that helps to give us "pep" and energy.

"CAT" ROBINSON DEFEATED

New York — Calvin's News Service)—"The Cat," Ernest Robinson, lost in an 8-round decision to the "Shiek," Richard Rangel, at the Broadway Arena. The "Cat" floored Rangel for a count of one in the second round but he quickly rallied. Robinson hit the floor twice—once in the fifth for a count of one and in the sixth for a count of three. Ernest scaled 148 and Rangel 147½ pounds.

None of the Negroes laid individual claim to any of the seven Japs. It was a collective score, they agree. "We were all shooting when we got 'em," is the way they put it.

WILBERFORCE PRIZE WINNING BEAUTY—Miss Hazel Hunter, student at Wilberforce University, Sr. Commerce, is truly one of the loveliest examples of our modern American youth that we have to offer. Miss Hunter's scholastic ratings are on a par with her looks, which is a subtle way of saying she has beauty plus brains. Her winning personality has made her a popular figure on the campus with students and faculty heads, who declare her to be one of the school's most brilliant students. Miss Hunter is a native of Lockland, Ohio.

Freshmen To Be Honored

The Woodlawn Branch of the YWCA will give its initial dance for newly enrolled students in the local colleges and universities on Saturday night, November 25.

Invitations are being extended to both men and women to attend.

Mrs. Honore Carey is chairman.

An interesting program is being planned by the social chairman, Miss Virginia Prince, who is being assisted by the Misses Mary Louise Johnson, Corrine Jones, Ella Louise Cook and Mrs. Ann Johnson.

The Girl Reserve Advisor Committee and the advisors of younger girls clubs are co-sponsoring the affair.

ACTIVITIES PROGRAM

In an effort to meet the needs and interests of its adult membership the Woodlawn Branch of the YWCA is launching an extensive activities program, according to an announcement made recently by the chairman of the Education Committee, Dr. Alice Garrott.

Some classes have begun and many others are forming. All classes are scheduled for either Monday, Wednesday or Friday and will be conducted between the hours of 7 p. m. and 9 p. m.

The most popular class so far is in Health Exercise, scheduled for Monday nights. The main objective in this course is to streamline the figure and make for physical fitness. Other classes in the Health series are nutrition, home-making, first aid and social hygiene.

Music is the next popular choice. Choral work and Glee Club will receive major emphasis.

Classes in Public Speaking, Drama, Dancing and Ceramics will be formed with enrollment of ten for each group.

Individuals may register for all classes at the Woodlawn Branch YWCA, 4260 Woodlawn.

Popular Matron Leaves for East

Mrs. Rowena Lawrence, popular matron in church and club fraternities, left on the California Limited Saturday, November 18, for an extended visit throughout the east. Accompanying her are Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Brandon, and niece, Waverly Foster.

Mrs. Lawrence was feted at several affairs by Mrs. Bessie Foley, Willie Taylor, Mattie Durante, Ruth Dickerson, Irene Edmonds and shared honors with Marie Sheffield on her birthday given by the Thirty-Seven Matrons Club, O.E.S., Mrs. Ruth Williams, hostess.

She was presented with a beautiful gift from the Myrtle Workers Club, O.E.S., and individual gifts from the Merrie Twelve Club.

Our Daily Bread Reports Service

A broad Los Angeles radio audience heard last week a heartwarming story of CIO rubber workers' activities on behalf of wounded war veterans, told by the CIO Reporter in a broadcast of CIO's daily newspaper of the air, "Our Daily Bread."

The whole thing started long ago, when Local 100 at Firestone Rubber Company started sending cigarettes to its members in the armed forces.

From this small beginning, stated the CIO Reporter, the local has expanded its activities into an effectively operating service men's welfare committee. This committee visits the Los Angeles port of embarkation hospital every Wednesday, leaves gifts for wounded veterans, gives them sports equipment and materials for handicraft work.

Each week, as a special feature, it pays for long distance phone calls to the families of three injured GI's whose birthdays occur nearest the date of the union's visit.

Social Few Club Meets

The Social Few members met at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Senters, 200 West 57th Street, for the business meeting in November, with the President presiding. Nathaniel Randolph was appointed to fill the unexpired term of S. W. Jackson as financial secretary.

The Senters had as their guest a very charming couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams.

The second meeting, on Saturday evening, November 18th, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rogers on 52nd St., entertained the members and a group of friends. The evening was spent playing bridge. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. General Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Green, Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams and Mrs. Jean Thomas. Newly enrolled members are Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and Mr. Archie Mitchell.

Social plans for the holliday activity are in charge of a carefully selected committee headed by Mrs. Queenie B. Mitchell and Mrs. Senters, the business manager.

Gov't Against Food Dumping

According to plans announced by the War Food Administration, there will be as little disruption of trade as possible for the thousands of white and colored food dealers through the sales of government-owned food stocks which may be disposed of during and following the war.

"Dumping" of foods on the market, which followed the end of the last war, will be prevented and there will be a decided effort to prevent price slashes and price wars. Orderly disposal of government food will be through the regular trade channels.

In selling this surplus food, two objectives are present at all times: first, obtaining maximum prices for the food, and second, minimum disruption of normal trade practices.

"Made In Germany' Not Trade Mark for Fascism

"Fascism does not have a 'Made in Germany' seal upon it," declared Rose Pesotto, America's leading trade unionist, in an address she made before Negro and white sharecroppers at the eleventh annual conference of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union. "Racial or religious bigotry is Fascism, whether it is practiced in Berlin, Germany, or Squeduck, U. S. A.

That warning of Miss Pesotto's is only too true. We won the first round of the battle against Fascism in the U.S. when we reelected President Roosevelt and with him a Congress that is liberal. But we must keep on fighting. This election has given us only the means to fight with. Negroes here in Los Angeles know only too well the forces of racial bigotry that are operating in our city. If we let down for only one minute in our fight against this evil, we shall find it growing the obnoxious weeds in our victory garden.

"We've worked together to win this war," declared Miss Pesotto. "Behind the plow and behind the lathe, behind the machine and behind the guns, Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Gentile, Negro and white. We must practice this unity we have learned in war, so that propaganda can never divide us, and then and only then can we hope to win the peace."

But we must recognize the fact that the pro-Fascist, reactionary elements in our country are already at work trying to divide us. Racial bigotry, racial discrimination in every form, are among the tools used by the pro-Fascists in this country to divide black American citizens from white American citizens. It is being taught to innocent white people, even to children. It is exactly the same force used by Hitler in Germany. Shall we succumb to that evil here?

No, we must fight it constantly in every form we see it. Fight it courteously, without brawling, but fight it firmly. We have a job to do together. That job is to develop inter-racial solidarity. That is real Americanism.

The U. S. Supreme Court has upheld a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeal decision against S. L. Avery, anti-labor president of Montgomery-Ward mail order house.

Avery has refused to comply with an order of the War Labor Board to continue the contract with the United Retail, Wholesale, and Department Store Employees of America, CIO, ever since last June. The case has gone through various courts. Last week the highest court in the land said Avery must obey the order. Avery will do now what the court has ordered, and what his employees have demanded. He has no other choice.

The Negro Looks At the CIO

Chicago has been the scene this week of the CIO national convention.

One of the great issues discussed and decided upon was the continuation of the Political Action Committee.

The 13,000,000 Negroes of America have been watching this convention appraisingly. We Negroes have been disillusioned by the present Republican Party. Although we were set free from slavery through the efforts of Abraham Lincoln and the Republican Party, we found to our dismay that our house of faith we had built upon its promises was a house built upon sand.

Negroes can not trust the Democratic Party too strongly either. We remember the Democrats of the South, the Bilbos and Rankins and others of their stripe. True, the Democratic Party has gotten rid of many of these reactionaries, but there are still very many within its ranks.

The 13,000,000 Negroes of the United States will follow the lead of labor in their political activities. We hope the accusation of the reactionary element in the election just past—that the CIO has taken over the Democratic Party — will prove true, and that the principles of the CIO will become an integral part of the political program of the Democratic Party in every aspect of government.

Negroes are especially impressed with the action taken at this session of the CIO convention as to the treatment of Negroes in the Army and Navy, the restrictions against Negro dwellers in large cities, etc. The CIO has shown itself to be our friend in every instance where there has been a controversy concerning the Negro's rights. This convention has proven the CIO will cintinue to be our friend and that we can follow the leadership of labor unfalteringly.

Dr. Thurman to Be Heard Here

The tenth annual Sunday School and Young People's Congress of the Western Baptist Churches which is to be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday in the Second Baptist Church, 2412 Griffith Avenue, is convening at a most opportune time.

Never before have young people been so eager to do something definite for the establishment of the Kingdom of Heaven upon earth. Yet never before have the times been so confusing, conditions so obscure, and hopes and fears so intermingled that no matter how zealous, how earnest one may be, the path to take seems hidden in clouds of fear and doubt.

It takes men and women of courage to walk in the right path themselves, and to direct others into that path. Those who are in charge of the Congress are men and women of that type—humble as to their own personal ability but strong and confident in a Higher Power than their own.

Dr. Howard Thurman, dean of the Chapel, Howard University, Washington, D. C., special guest speaker of the Congress is one of the best Negro minds in the country. His mental ability is strengthened by his deep spiritual convictions which he believes in translating into power for everyday living—living not only in the church, nor in the home, but living also for our country every day of the year.

The success of the Convention rests largely upon the work of Rev. Horace N. Mays, Director of Christian Education in this Section. Rev. Mays is one of the youngest Ministers in the Baptist connection. His interest in the proper directing along civic and religious lines for youth looms, not only in the staging of this Congress, but in all of his activities.

Los Angeles is to be congratulated in securing Dr. Thurman for this occasion. Also Dr. J. Raymond Henderson and the Second Baptist Church Congregation for playing a major roll in preparation of facilities for Congress entertainment.

My dear Mrs. Bass:

There are times when words are inadequate to express the emotions we feel. With me, this is such an occasion. For even the most flowery of speeches cannot begin to tell you how grateful I am for the loyal support you rendered my candidacy in the recent Congressional campaign. I can only say thanks—and mean it from the bottom of my heart.

Your steadfastness during the period when the anti-administration press unleashed its despicably distorted klan "smear" is something I will not soon forget. Had everyone remained so unshaken, undoubtedly I would have "walked into office," since 12,000 more votes would have done the job!

As you know, I consented to become a candidate for Congress because I was sincerely interested in translating some deep-set convictions concerning the welfar of the common man into official action.

When Mr. Costello was defeated, the forces of reaction arrayed themselves against me, and motivated by a desire for revenge (supported by much money and calculated cunning), they were able to succeed in their program of "divide and conquer." Had I known several weeks ago what I know now, the much-garbled klan story could have been overcome decisively. As the central figure of our side of the contest, I was almost daily confronted with situations it was not possible to convey to everyone working in my behalf. Suffice it to say, many became humanly victimized by the Hitler technique, with the result I myself became a victim of intolerance, the thing I have long been a foe of!

It is comforting to know, however, that 70,000 people (with your help, remained unaffected by the Hearst campaign of villification (supported by the Los Angeles Times), and this is encouragement of the first order.

In returning to my daily broadcasts, which I am revamping in the light of new plans, you may be assured I will more vigorously than ever champion the cause of a Liberal Democracy. The reactionary press gave "Let's Face Facts" (KFWB, 2:30-3 p.m.) a vastly increased listening audience, and I intend to make the most of it. While I shall not have an opportunity to serve you in Congress, I can continue the increasingly important job of helping the under-privileged, minority groups, et al, with mayhap an eye to the future.

It was memorable, if hectic experience, and as a first-time candidate, I have learned much. For one thing, I shall treasure our association, and I know that loyalty such as you gave me is priceless!

With deep-felt expressions of my esteem, believe me,

Cordially and sincerely yours,
HAL STYLES.

My Dear Mrs. Bass:

We wish to express our great appreciation for the help the "California Eagle" has given in making our War Chest campaign an outstanding success.

A large measure of the speed and fortunate conclusion of the appeal in your community, we are assured, is due to your unfailing publication of the needs being met by our War Chest agencies, and of the excellent work being done by ehe hundreds of volunteers serving in your particular area.

We trust we will have your continued assistance during the coming months when releases will be sent you as news develops regarding the work of the War Chest agencies, and particularly in regard to the services of the Community Chest agencies and plans under way by the Welfare Council.

Sincerely,
HARVEY S. MUDD, President,

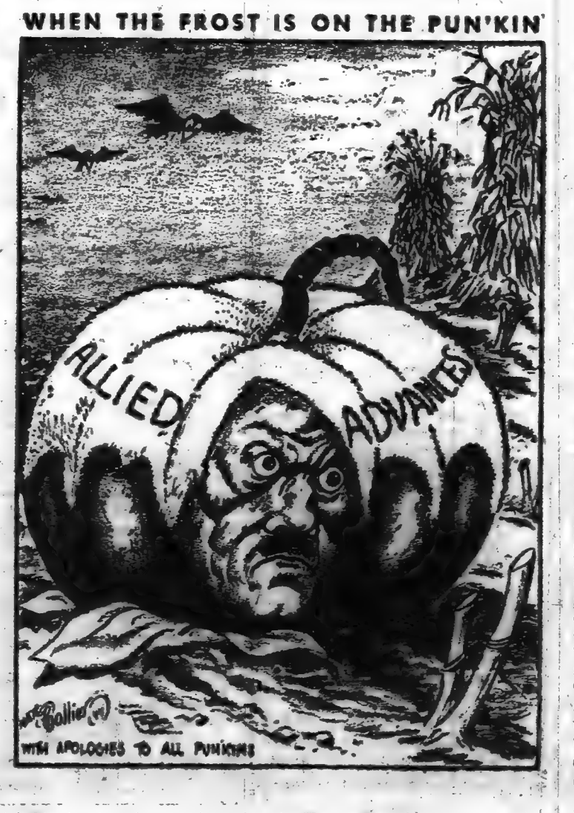
W. J. Wheaton Says . . .

The people have spoken!

They have chosen to lead them for four more years the man who through wisdom and statesmanship, has kept the Ship of State on an even keel and steered it through troubled waters—bound for the Harbor of Lasting Peace. The cry of the "Tired Old Administration" needing new blood proved a dud. The tired one plunged immediately into the Maelstrom of World Affairs with the same old vim and zest that has characterized it since 1933, while the youth from Albany had to forego the claims of the New York Commonwealth and seek rest in the sunny clime of Georgia. He deserves a rest. It is really amusing to read the conclusions of the political analysts and commentators, some of whom die rather hard. They forget that it can be summed up in a very few words, the verdict of the voters.

One member of Congress has proposed a time limitation for the presidency through an amendment to the Constitution. Why an Amendment? The voters are the final arbiters and when a public servant, from the office of the President down to that of the Dogcatcher fails to perform the duties for which he was elected, the ballots is the final arbiter. That is Democracy. There were many efforts made by campaigners to appeal to the national and racial origin of the voters, even religious belief was mentioned in localities where some one Faith prevailed. In the industrial sections of Ohio; Michigan and Pennsylvania, where there are many voters of foreign origin, they resented being asked to vote as a people set apart. Particularly where the Czechs, Poles, and Hungarians vociferous in their denunciations. "Our sons are fighting on battle fronts around the world in American uniforms, we regard our selves as Americans," they said. And rightly so. We have, at all times, deplored the fact that we have pseudo leaders who use the Race and its status in national affairs to strengthen their own positions.



They talk out of both sides of the mouth. They talk against segregation on one side and urge it on the other. They raise a loud protest against one form of segregation and condone another through stressing racialism. Why not fight battles for an idealism. We too have sons and daughters in the uniform of America in this global war. We resent being set aside as an alien people yet we fight the segregation of our men and women in the service but want special mention of the group at other times. It is deplorable to note that when some one of us are elevated we rush to acclaim the fact that he or she is a Negro. Just as long as we set ourselves apart, just so long will we be in gaining our place in the nation as Americans; Citizens of this United States of America. Legislation can not, will not change the attitude of intolerance. It will not break down the barriers of prejudice. It will only come through an understanding between peoples. This war has done much toward a better understanding, and personal contact has been a very beneficial factor. We have always hated that word "Tolerance" when applied to our racial difficulties. It sounds too much of paternalism, and that is something no self respecting person wants. We were attendants at a hearing where citizens were complaining of inadequate transportation. One irate citizen spoke of the discourtesy of the employes and said that there was a great contrast between the quiet courtesy of the Colored men and women and the discourteous manner of white employees. There were rumors of strikes and other disorders when Negroes were first inducted into the employee of the company. It was even said the public would resent it, but the Colored motormen and conductorettes have gained the respect and cooperation of the public. Legislation would have been to no avail. The people will be educated through contact.

Dr. Fosdick has this to say about racial prejudice, "Dress it up in nationalism as we may devise, national and racial prejudice is a belated left over from the ancient world isolations where prejudice was protective, into a modern world of proximities where prejudice is destructive. So when you hear a man say Jew or Negro or Roman Catholic or what not, you are listening to a belated mind. He may think himself modern, may ride in motor cars, posses a radio and take trips around the world, but his mind is properly dated B. C." And with that we heartily agree.

A certain teacher in one of San Francisco's Theological colleges was invited to speak at a gathering noted for its democracy and non-racial attitude. All at once he nudged the person near him and asked, "Is not that a Chinese, beyond there, and is not those Negroes over there in conversation with the young woman who seems to enjoy their company, and of what racial origin are those dark men talking to the Spaniard, Persians you say?" Well never before have I been mingling with so many racial origins, and do you believe it, never once felt the consciousness of it. "That teacher had a factual example of what true democracy is and learned it through actual contact and not through legislation. We hope that the impression made by the Negro men and women employees of our transportation system will be maintained.

As they are judged by the public so will all. They have a big responsibility, more so than they realize. Their position: Contact with the public in transportation can greater effect for good or bad than all of the homilectics or discourses on racial problems emanating from pulpit or platform. In your hands lay the future of the economic welfare of hundreds of others. Make good! We know you will MAKE GOOD!

WHEN THE FROST IS ON THE PUN'KIN'

✦ AS I SEE IT! ✦

By Jeanette Cohen

The day after the elections, it happened! Something wonderful happened! It may be because the re-election of President Roosevelt brought me luck, that this wonderful thing happened. And then again, it may be because a man was discharged from the Army for some reason or other and he and his wife went back to their home state, leaving an apartment for me!

It is a real honest-to-goodness apartment—and I just know I wouldn't have found it if I wasn't on my way, at that moment, to my friend Linda's house to congratulate her on the results of the elections. Linda worked very hard to help re-elect Roosevelt, and we were to compare notes on our respective American Labor Party Clubs' activities. We did get around to our discussion, but it was much later in the day.

As I turned the corner on Central Park West, to keep my appointment with Linda, a sign attracted my attention. It was the usual kind of sign, yet there was something different. Where it had previously advertised "Two, Three and Four Rooms," the "Two" and the "Four" were crossed out. Before inquiring about it, I said a little prayer and then promised myself if that sign was a phoney I would stand out in the middle of Central Park and scream as loudly as I possibly could.

I didn't have to scream—it was true. There was a three-room vacancy. I practically dragged the agent through the street to the corner house to have her show me the apartment. I glanced at it and before she could say anything I gave her a deposit.

Okay, so I had an apartment! What was I going to do about furniture? I've heard about people who sleep in bathtubs, but I don't think it would do for any length of time. And while the frigidaire in the kitchen is a Crosley Shelvador, that wouldn't do either. With the war on, this is no time to buy furniture.

I am a very fortunate person—I have loads of friends, good friends. That same day, after several phone calls, I turned up with a bed, a dresser, a lovely soft arm chair for the living room plus a rug and a lamp. Not bad, for nothing, eh!

Of course, there is still the little matter of a kitchen table and a couple of chairs so that I won't have to eat off the top of the stove. My friends are also on the lookout for anyone who may have some extra curtains and other odds and ends that are very difficult to purchase nowadays.

I still can't believe it! Not only have I an apartment, but it is on Central Park West. This street is almost as swanky as Fifth or Park Avenue in this town—but I'm not telling everybody that I live in one of the very old houses on Central Park West. The first impression one gets upon entering the hallway is not too good—the halls need painting badly, but then I've never lived in a hallway, anyway. The apartment is nice, thought—freshly painted, everything looking bright, all windows facing the street, one flight up and so near the subway that I may petition the City Council to have an elevator built from the subway platform to my apartment.

I thought of naming this new house of mine "The International House" after I saw the names of the tenants on the mail boxes. There are Chinese, Japanese, Italian, Jewish and many others. I also was thinking of finding an apartment in the same house for Bilbo or Rankin or any one of those guys so that they may see Americans living together.

I've been so busy setting up my apartment, I haven't been able to think of another thing. I did, however, lay aside my work to meet my very good friend, Mr. Evelyn Oliver, who arrived from Los Angeles last Monday. Mr. Oliver is staying with her aunt, the well-known actress Amanda Randolph, until after Christmas. It is good to see my friend from California.

Just as soon as I get another chair or two, you may all drop in to see me at 431 Central Park West, Apartment 2C, when you are in New York. I can cook, too.

THE PULPIT VOICE

Conducted by
REV. HAMILTON T. BOSWELL
Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist Church

By HAMILTON T. BOSWELL
Minister, Bowen Memorial Methodist Church
Richard E. Hickman,
Health Director

A new face among community personalities that deserves special recognition is Richard E. Hickman, newly appointed director of Health Education with the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association. Mr. Hickman has been at this post for about 14 months. During that time the program of health education under his supervision has made spectacular progress and made itself felt more thoroughly throughout a greater part of the community. Grasping the problem of his task with a down-to-earth philosophy, Mr. Hickman proposes to win the entire community to the necessity of proper health education.

BACKGROUND AND PREPARATION

A Tennessean by birth, and the second son of the late Dr. J. P. Hickman, physician and surgeon, practising in Nashville for 36 years, he was therefore acquainted at an early age with the problef of health and the scourge of disease as it loosed itself upon susceptible beings. Having seen the endless flow of the sick and afflicted come in and out of his father's office, he takes his new job with a passion and conviction tempered from years of sympathetic observance. Mr. Hickman is a graduate of Fisk University, where he gained knowledge of community organization under the tutelage of Dr. Charles S. Johnson, outstanding sociologist and author. In the recent institute of public health, held at the University of Southern California this summer, Mr. Hickman earned a certificate in Health Education. Keenly aware of the necessity of a more thorough knowledge in his field, he is now working on a Master's degree in Public Health.

DIFFERENT APPROACH

The above mentioned statements might be written in recognition of many of the progressively minded community workers, but it is not because of this beaten path preparation which impresses this column with this youthful newcomer to the arena of community problems. Mr. Hickman's program is different and because of it, this column appreciatively makes this recognition. For community workers ther are obvious beaten paths which invariably are followed in approaching the community. This path seems to radiate around the more accented and traditionally recognized institutions and organizations in a given community. Because of it, only those who are connected in some way with them are the recipients of the materials and efforts of community workers. Therefore, it is, that those who are especially in need of the benefits are seldom reached. In addition to working with churches, schools and social clubs, Mr. Hickman has sought the cooperation of Labor Unions and other groups of large assemblage. His program reaches the theater, cocktail lounges, and favorite street corners where huge crowds mingle. His zeal is comparable to that of the zealous religionists who seize every opportunity to win a convert to their faith. To him there are no class distinctions or undesirables which are often the views of community workers. His realization is that disease, especially tuberculosis, makes no such unnatural discriminations and will strike wherever there is a weak lung, whether it be in the mansion behind the pulpit, the worker at the factory or the "wino" in the gutter. It is wished that an enlightened recognition of need regardless of class or race would permeate the minds and programs of those who work conscientiously for the uplift of human society.

THE FUTURE

The future of health education in the east area is therefore very bright. Also it is urgent, because of the overcrowding and overwork of many of its citizens. With your support of this energetic and socially-conscious worker, much of the ravages of disease can be prevented.

We, therefore, introduce and commend to you the person of Richard E. Hickman, a fellow worker in our midst who is anxious to serve. If at any time problems of health and information is sought, especially in the category of his position with the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association feel free and welcome in contacting his office, 117 West Ninth street, Trinity 8633.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR FAT

There is no substitute, synthetic that takes the place of fats and oils. That's why War Food Administration keeps repeating, "It doesn't make any difference what kind of fats and oils we get. What we want are fats and oils." Used cooking fat quota for 1944 is 220,000,000 pounds.

Yes, dog days are past, but don't forget the hot dogs that your teen-agers love are point free. Easy to prepare and popular with the whole family, Mr. America will find them tasty on both the ration book and pocket book.

Brilliant Coronation at Trinity Baptist Church

By CLARENCE HARGRAVE

Last Sunday night was the climax of our campaign conducted during the past year by Trinity Baptist Church on Normandie Avenue. The occasion was the crowning of Pauline Alexander as "Queen of Trinity." Mrs. Alexander had reported more than $9000, the largest amount raised by any individual toward the purchase of "Sheltering Arms," the property on Arlington Ave., secured by the church for a parsonage.

Suspense and tension were evident throughout the ceremonies. The chief cause of the suspense was the delay in the beginning of the Coronation program. Most persons in the capacity audience did not know the real cause of the delay. Later it was learned that the Rev. J. Lyle Caston, minister of the church, had been stricken with the influenza. He notified the participants that he was leaving his bed to come and take part in the ceremonies. Dr. Caston portrayed the role of Arch Bishop of Trinity with expected grace and dignity. Other ministers taking part were Rev. E. C. Redd, formerly of Columbia, Mo., who was most effective as Bishop of Normandie and Dean of the Cathedral.

Others who took part in the ceremonies were F. A. Satchell Lord Chancellor, Mrs. Lula Stanley as "Queen Mother". There were heralds, pages, queens, attendants and 14 ladies in waiting were designated as princesses and were those whom had competed with Mrs. Alexander for title queen.

The competing princesses were becomingly gowned and occupied places of honor about the Royal Court. The ladies occupying positions nearest Queen Pauline were Princess Beatrice Cassell and Princess Velma Hogsus, both of whom bore with becoming grace and poise.

One of the most effective parts of the pangeantry was the entrance of five ambassadors and wives in full diplomatic attire. They represented the United Nations of five continents. These roles were potrayed by officials of the church.

The production was staged by Mrs. Verdes Shortridge and took the place of the regular third Sunday musical presented by the Church.

Laura Bowman, executive director of the Los Angeles Little Theatre Guild, acted as technical advisor and supervised the costumes which were rather elaborate, especially that worn by the Queen. The impressive setting and properties were in the hands of Mr. Moye of the Lincoln theatre staff and William Gibbs, westside electrician.

The Queen was becomingly gowned in a dress worn by Joan Crawford. The gown was ermine fur trimmed, with a gold train, held by three little girls. Her evening gown was white with gold secquins and gold slippers. Crowning ceremonies were performed by Rev. Caston.

Harvest Home At Hamilton

Harvest Home will be celebrated at Hamilton Methodist Church, E. 18th St. and Naomi Ave., Sunday, November 26, at the 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. hours. At 11 a. m. the pastor will deliver the sermon from the subject, "Sweet With Certainties." At the evening hour, the Pastor's Helpers will sponsor the program with a fine program which you will enjoy, and one suitable to the occasion. The Annual Harvest Home dinner served under the aspices of the Pastor's Helpers will be erved on Friday evening at 7 p. m.

Union Thanksgiving Services Scheduled

Union Thanksgiving services will be held between Wesley, Hamilton Phillips Temple, and Bowen Churches, at Phillips Temple, 43rd and Wadsworth Streets, Thursday, November 23, at 11 a. m. Music will be furnished by the members from the churches participating and the sermon will be delivered by Rev. S. M. Beane. "Let every thing that hath breath praise the Lord."

Pilgrim Baptist

The Rev. B. W. Wade, pastor of Pilgrim Baptist Church, returned to his pulpit after a six weeks vacation. Rev Wade had a fine time fishing, and a good rest on his much needed vacation. He was greeted by an overflow crowd when he entered the pulpit for both services. At the morning service, Rev. Wade preached the Baccalaureate Sermon to the graduates of Bigger's College. It was a deep and inspiring message. Professor Biggers made some pertinent remarks in the discourse he made. Nine were added to the church rolls.

A splendid BTU lesson was discussed and at 6:45 the Junior choir had their regular third Sunday program. Recognizing that the young people are the church of tomorrow, Pilgrim Baptist does everything to encourage their interest and activity. The young people sang from the depths of their hearts.

At 7:30, Rev. Wade brough a moving message. The subject was "How and When the Devil Gets Into Your Home and Church." The text was from Matt., 13th chapter, 25 to 29 verses.

Sunday, Rev. Wade will fill the pulpit for the morning services. At 6:30, the junior choir will have their regular fourth Sunday Musical. At 7:30, the Rev. Ivory Graham from Chicago, Ill., will bring the message. All are invited to hear this great Gospel preacher, and to come early in order to get a seat. Lucille Graham is church reporter.

Two shortages—labor and pest control—operated against maximum agricultural production in Southern California during October, according to the monthly crop report issued by the Los Angeles County Chamber of Commerce.

in concert Sunday, November 26 at 3 p. m. at Hamilton M. E. Church, 18th at Naomi. We would call it a Thanksgiving Gospel Feast. Don't miss them. Come early for a good seat.

Soul Saving Encampment

The Greater St. John Baptist Church on 1177 E. 41st Place invites the public to attend the services each night beginning Wednesday evening November 21, through December 1. We need your cooperation. A great meeting is the aims of our hearts through the Holy Spirit. Hear Dr. I. A. Carter, a preacher of great power and is dedicating his life for these services. Important subjects will be discussed. He is a great preacher for Christ and his church.

Dr. I. A. Carter, Jr., Evangelist, and Rev. D. M. Johnson, pactor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The annual Thanksgiving service will be held Thursday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. This verse from II Corinthians will be the Golden Text: "Thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place."

A Lesson-Sermon selection from Luke relates that Jesus met "a certain man, which had devils long time." After Jesus had cast the devils out of the man he besought Jesus "that he might be with him: but Jesus sent him away, saying, Return to thine own house, and shew how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and published throughout the whole city how great things Jesus had done unto him. And . . . when Jesus was returned, the people gladly received him."

Mary Baker Eddy, the author of "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," writes: "Christian Science awakens the sinner, reclaims the infidel, and raises from the couch of pain the helpless invalid."

Testimonies applicable to the occasion will be given by Christian Scientists in the congregation.

10th Annual Session of SS & BTU Congress to Meet at 2nd Baptist

What is destined to be the most significant gathering of Baptist Youth on the Pacific Coast in many years will get under way Friday morning, November 24, when the Tenth Annual Session of the SS and BTU Congress of the Western Baptist State Convention of California meets at the Second Baptist Church for three great days, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday. The Congress will close with a great inter-racial mass meeting Sunday at 8 p.m., when Dr. Howard Thurman, Dean of the Chapel, Howard University, Washington, D. C., the distinguished guest speaker of the Congress, will bring his closing address on the subject: "A New Heaven and a New Earth." Featured at the two great public meetings will be the Congress Chorus of 100 voices under the direction of Mrs. Eloise Lee of the Second Baptist Church, Los Angeles.

The Friday schedule is as follows: From 9:30 to 11:00 registration. 11:00 General Assembly. Dr. J. L. Caston, Minister of the Trinity Baptist Church, Los Angeles, will bring the Keynote Address on the subject "Resources for Living." Friday afternoon from 2:30-4:00 seven Conference Groups will be held. held. Rev. J. T. Thomas and Rev. W. P. Carter will lead Group No. 1 on "Christian Youth Building Spiritual Resources for the Home." Professor W. A. Payne, Principal of Douglass High School, El Centro, will lead Group 2 on "Christian Youth Building Spiritual Resources for the Community." Mr. S. . Johnson, State SS Convention President, will lead Group No. 3 on "Spiritual Resources for the Church School. Mr. Eugene Allen, State BTU Convention President, will lead Group No. 4 on "Spiritual Resources for the BTU. Mrs. Marie Sheffied, Director of the Junior Missionary Dept. of the Convention, will lead Group No. 5 on "Spiritual Resources for the Junior Missionary Department." Dr. J. L. Caston, Minister of the Trinity Baptist Church, Los Angeles, will lead Group No. 6 on "Spiritual Resources for Leadership." Rev. L. D. Stevens and Dr. W. D. Carter will lead the Ministers' Forum. At 4:00 Dr. Ralph L. Mayberry, Executive Secretary of The Los Angeles Baptist City Mission Society, will deliver an Inspirational Address to the Congress. At 6 p.m. Mr. Robert Tandy, Senior at the University of Redlands, will be toastmaster at the traditional Fellowship Banquet. Rev. Jitsuo Morikawa, formerly Director of Japanese Young People's Work for the Los Angeles Baptist City Mission Society, now serving as Assistant Minister in the First Baptist Church, Chicago, Illinois, will deliver the address at this affair. At 7:45 the Congress Chorus will open the evening session and at 8:15 Dr. Howard Thurman will deliver his initial address on the subject "Sources of Power for Christian Action."

The Saturday schedule is as follows: The Congress will open at 9:00 a.m. with the Conference Groups meeting from 9:30-10:30. At 10:30 Rev. Charles H. Hampton, President, Western Baptist State Convention, will deliver the annual Consecration Sermon. At 11:30 the young people will leave the church for Griffith Park where an Inter-racial Barbecue with the Southern California Baptist Convention Young People will be held at 12:30. Mr. Eugene Allen, State BTU President, will be in charge of recreation Saturday afternoon at Griffith Park following the Barbecue. Saturday evening at 7:30 a unique Talent Night Program will be conducted in the form of a Radio with young people participating from all sections of our Convention territory.

Sunday morning at 11 a.m. Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, Minister of the Second Baptist Church, the host church, will deliver the annual Coronation Sermon. At 3 p.m. the Congress Chorus will open the Inter-racial Mass meeting at which Dr. Howard Thurman will deliver his concluding address on "A New Heaven and A New Earth."

The Congress Theme is: "Christian Youth Building Spiritual Resources of Tomorrow." Our goal is 500 young people in addition to the great host of adults who are always in attendance. The public is invited.

WOMEN'S DAY SPEAKER—Mrs. Catherine A. Mitchem, above, has been selected as speaker on Women's Day at Village Baptist Church, 1521 E. 11th street, Sunday, Nov. 26th. A member of First A. M. E. Church, district organizer of the A. C. E. League, and prominent in many other civic activities, Mrs. Mitchem is widely known.

Calif. State Baptists Hear

The California State Baptists are thrilled with the president of the Women Auxiliary of the National Baptist Convention of America, Mrs. A. M. B. Fuller.

Mrs. Fuller was heard in a great awakening Mass meeting Sunday November 19th, 3 p.m. under the auspices of the Pacific Baptist Church, 1201 E. Vernon, of which the eminent Dr. R. B. Porter is pastor. The music was beautifully rended by the Progressive Choir. Mrs. Edna H. Porter, director. Mrs. Fuller delivered a forty-five minute address on "Mission" to an overflowing crowd of Missionary women which was strong, supported by the pastor and brothers.

Mrs. Fuller encouraged the women to band together for defense to save this sinful world for Christ, for the women plays the most important part in the home, school, church, and state. The entire audience was thrilled with the helpful information coming from our National Baptist Woman President. Rev. D. C. Austin, Moderator, Mrs. C. B. Malone, Missionary president, Mrs. S. Flynn, reporter.

THE BISHOP BROADCAST

By Sybil Collins

On behalf of a group of friends of the lamented Mrs. S. H. Cain, former Librarian of Bishop College, Mrs. E. S. Jackson of Long Beach, California, presented to the college a sum of money and a photograph of Mrs. Cain. The photo was presented to Mrs. Bledsoe by President Rhoads, during the President's Hour Wednesday, to be hung in the college library. The donation will be designated as the Cain Memorial Fund and added to the endowment of the college for library purpose.

Bishop College has accepted membership in the United Negro College Fund for 1945, according to President Rhoads and the Chairman of the Fund, Dr. F. D. Patterson of Tuskegee Institute.

President Rhoads has accepted an invitation from the President and faculty of Florida A and M. College to deliver a Memorial address for the late Dr. J. R. E. Lee on December 10th. The occasion will be that of the installation of Chimes at the college in memory of Dr. Lee, who was a graduate of Bishop College.

Rev. J. S. Cannon, College Minister, Wiley College, spoke to the student body during the Friday morning Chapel Service, November 10th. His message on "Faith that Succeeds" was thoroughly enjoyed.

The Library Club sponsored a book review of "Strange Fruit" by Lillian Smith in the College chapel, Wednesday, November 13th. The participants were Mrs. M. W. Bledsoe, Mrs. J. H. Beal, and Mr. Harry Carson.

On Saturday evening, November 10th, the Y.W.C.A., sponsored a social get-together in honor of Miss Yolanda Barnett, rogram Secretary of Interracial Education, Y.W.C.A., New York City. The social was held prior to an address given by Miss Barnett in the college chapel. She emphasized the activities of the activities of the Inter-collegiate conference of the Y organization. Mrs. J. L. Skinner, instructor of Home Economics, has returned to her home in Bluefield, West Virginia because of poor health and conditions that require her attention there.

Cpl. Edward Gines of the U.S. Marines was on the campus November 11th visiting his sisters, Misses Annie Lou and Mary Lou. Cpl. Gines is stationed at Munford Point Camp, Camp Lejune, N. C.

News of the graduates: Miss Audrea C. Pittman, Class 1044 is now serving as head of the Spanish Department in the Mt. Pleasant, Texas High School. S/Sgt. Stonewall J. Davis, Class 1930, Camp Lee, Va., Mr. Walter L. Sutton, Class 1942 and Mr. William A. Palmer, Class 1937 both in the armed services of the United States were recent visitors.

Rev. T. M. Chambers, Jr., senior student in the school of religion delivered a very impressive sermon at the Polly Chapel Baptist church, Texarkana, Texas, Sunday, November 12th. He was accompanied by Rev. Joseph L. Griffin and Mr. Burnett Guice.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new introductory Course of 20 lessons, divided into two sections of 10 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

Join in the Nationwide Bible Reading Program Today

This Vital Program is Observed From Thanksgiving Day To Christmas

WHAT IS THE NATIONWIDE BIBLE READING?

A concerted plan for every American to read the Bible daily between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Those on the battle fronts and their people at home in thousands of cases will be reading the same passage each day. This will help to establish between them a spiritual bond which knows no limits of distance. While the family reads the 91st Psalm at hame, brother will be reading it in a fox-hole on some far off battle field. The minister in the home church and the chaplain in the war area will on the same day read the 53rd chapter of Isaiah to their congregations.

WHY?

Because we all need the messages of the Bible in these rays of stress. Because so many in the armed forces have written asking their families and friends to join them in their reading. A home front emphasis on Bible reading can well be considered an essential part of keeping faith with our men on the foghting fronts.

Helpful Bible Passages for Daily Reading

by members of the Armed Forces and people at home, selected by a nationwide canvass of pastors and chaplains as the most helpful in times like these:

Thanksgiv'g, Nov 23—Psalm 103
Friday—John 14
Saturday—Psalm 23
Sunday, Nov. 26—Psalm 1
Mondy—Matthew 5
Tuesday—Romans 8
Wednesday—I Corinthians 13
Thursday—Psalm 91
Friday—Matthew 6
Saturday—John 3
Sunday, December 3—Isaiah 40
Monday—Psalm 46
Tuesday—Romans 12
Wednesday—Hebrews 11
Thursday—Matthew 7
Friday—John 15
Saturday—Psalm 27
Sunday, Dec. 10—Isaiah 55
Monday—Psalm 121
Tuesday—Philippians 4
Wednesday—Revelation 21
Thursday—Luke 15
Friday—Ephesians 6
Saturday—John 17
Sunday, Dec. 17—Isaiah 53
Monday—I Corinthians 15
Tuesday—John 10
Wednesday—Psalm 51
Thursday—Psalm 37
Friday—John 1
Saturday—Revelation 22
Sunday, Dec. 24—Psalm 90
Christmas, Dec. 25—Luke 2

All passages are in the order of the tabulated votes except those assigned to Thanksgiving, Christmas and Sundays.

To complete the reading to New Year's read Joshua 1; Psalm 19; Matthew 11; Exodus 20; I John 1; Hebrews 12. If you desire a schedule of readings for 1945, send request to Dept. BR. American Bible Society.

To members of the Armed Forces: If the passages listed are not included in your Testament, borrow a Bible or ask the Chaplain to read them in Thanksgiving or Sunday services as indicated.

Booster Quartette Will Be Presented

The Second Baptist Booster Quartette is being presented in sacred concert, November 26, 1944 at 4 p.m. at the Zion Hill Baptist Church which is located on East 22nd Street near Central.

They are being presented by the Senior Choir of the Zion Hill Baptist Church which is under the direction of Mrs. Katherine Lindsay Colbert. This quartette is very well known throughout the city. They have appeared in many of the churches of the city both white and colored.

It has been said that their singing cannot be surpassed. The quartette is very unusual in that it consists of three women and one man, but their voices blend together in a way that is harmonically very beautiful.

The program will consist mostly of spirituals and gospel songs. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. There will be a silver offering.

The quartette is under the direction of Geneva Bass Moore. The members of the quartette are Georgena Brown, Eloise Lee, Margaret Pett and Norris J. Stokes, Jr.

Rev. S. H. Marion In Inaugural Sermon At 1st A.M.E. Zion

With keen anticipation a large audience of members and friends were in attendance to welcome Reverend Shepard H. Marion, recently of Old Ship Church, Montgomery, Alabama, who arrived in the City on Friday to assume his duties as Pastor of the historic First Church, corner of Pico and Paloma Streets, Los Angeles.

After the devotionals the choir, under the able direction of Mr. Gilbert Allen, sang that old Hymn, "Hallellujah, 'Tis Done" led by the Conference Gospel Singer, Mr. Harvey Marshall, and the portals rang as the audience joined in the chorus.

With the opening remark, "I am the happiest person in Zion Church this morning," Bishop Brown thanked the members for their patience and untiring efforts; gave a brief review of the splendid record of Rev. Marion, and presented the new pastor to his flock. Just before Rev. Marion arose Mr. Allen led the choir in "Lift Up Your Heads O Ye Gates," with the beautiful voice of Mrs. Daisy Goodlow rendering the solo and obligato. Visibly touched, Rev. Marion asked the congregation to join in prayer. His text was taken from the 26th Chapter of St. Matthew, the 39th verse, "And He Went a Little Farther." How each member, officer in the church can go a little farther for God was brought out in a wonderfully sincere and inspiring sermon.

Coming with a natural recommendation indicated by his six years' pastorate in Montgomery, Alabama, Rev. Marion won his listeners immediately by his cordial manner and straightforward statements. Sturdy in stature, with a clear, resonate voice, he bids fair to become a leader in religious work on the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Eula Mae Marion, wife of the pastor, was an immediate favorite with the entire membership. Reflecting her husband's earnestness of purpose and beaming with her own friendly smile, one can easily realize that this team is experienced in and resolved to continue the business of Kingdom Building. Rev. and Mrs. Marion greeted informally the officers and members of the First A. M. E. Zion Church on last Wednesday evening just before an inspiring pre-Thanksgiving service, as Rev. Marion said, 'Just to shake hands and know each other better."

The Chairman of the Trustee Board, Mr. Wiley, T. Broady, and Bishop William C. Brown, Presiding Bishop of the Southwest Rocky Mountain Conference, commended the Presiding Elder, Rev. Wm. B. Smith, for his services to the First Church while the membership was waiting for its leader. A token of appreciation was given Rev. Smith for his excellent service.

Officers to Be Installed Nov. 27

The Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance will hold its annual installation of officers, Monday, November 27th, at the Trinity Baptist Church, W. 35th St. and Normandie Ave., when it will install as president the Dr. J. Lyle Caston, the pastor of the Church. Bishop William A. Washington will deliver the inauguration message. The installation will be followed by a luncheon furnished by the ladies of the church. The public is cordially invited to be present.

KINLOCH'S CORNER

By John S. Kinloch

FRANCE—GI Joe and his cousin from our side of the tracks have finally gotten around to making friends here in France.

J. S. Kinloch

A case in point:

Soon after the city's fall, the American Red Cross of Cherbourg, with past history in mind, opened shop with two (count 'em) giant establishments, one for us and one for them.

Today BOTH are swamped with BOTH, and, as a matter of fact, the one administered by a vigorous young group of negro directors is the favorite of all soldiers in the neighborhood, however their pigmentation adds up.

Something was born in the first days of our invasion for which Americans have prayed and fought and dreamed a long time. It was born in blood, and the stain isn't fading.

The percentage of Negro troops in the first landings was high. When the dying was to be done then, we were present in droves. There's been plenty of it since, and we've never been far away.

American soldiers have gotten used to seeing us around. All the time. In the pubs back in England. In the fox-holes out this way. We are conspicuous by our presence all over the place. Our artillery blasted the Krouts in their fat, Hitler-loving kissers at Brest. Our (well, 60 percent ours, anyway) red-ball highway has poured ammunition into, through and beyond battle-lines for months.

Our D-Day veteran Barrage Balloon Battalion has sheltered almost every important combat area since June 6 under the billowing death-trap of its bomb-laden blimps.

In the consciousness of a whole olive-drab generation of Americans, we are no longer "George," the Pullman car commando, or "Old Mose" down at the shoe-shine parlor, or a musical-comedy character with a mop in one hand, a pair of dice in the other and a vacuum between the ears

They see us here eternally nestled behind the complicated maze of levers and pedals of some complex machine of modern war . . . amphibious ducks, tractors, crawler cranes, heavy artillery, 2½ ton trucks, fighter aircraft.

How the hell can anybody look at us here, smile with that superior assinity so familiar to the lounge car, remarking the while, "George, hustle along and fetch me mah mint-julep?"

The sight of stalwart Negro guards, carbine rifles ready for business, marching the tattered legions of the supermen into prison pens that have replaced the pot of gold Hitler promised them is one for the books!

I remember when a giant ammunition dump about a half mile from where I was stationed during the early days of the beachhead blew six ways from the middle one sunny afternoon.

The Negro soldiers of my unit hit the foxholes on the double. Tracer bullets went high-tailing through the company area, ripping through our two-man pup tents. Shrapnel clattered on the rocky hillside against which our encampment was plastered. Vicious rocket projectiles loped perilously overhead, about a hundred feet up.

No sooner had we scrambled into our foxholes than we were joined by about a hundred white soldiers from anti-aircraft batteries that had flanked the ammunition dump.

We were pretty badly crowded as it was, but room was made.

Foxholes scarce, some of us had piled into the big bomb craters that our heavy bombing raids had scooped out of the Normandy coast before D-Day. Fifty feet across at the top, they were poor cover, but their depth, about 20 feet, got us well out of the ground-level spray of the ammo dump's crazy discharges.

I was in a group at the bottom which was half white, half Negro. Two of the white guys were from Mississippi.

The dump continued to blast and explode for over five hours, its towering convulsions sending up a solid wall of smoke and flame that blotted out the sun.

In the course of the afternoon, we became very good friends.

I don't know how many thousands of times scenes like this have been repeated.

One of the big achievements in interracial cooperation has been the now-famed red-ball highway, the highest military priority express route. Sixty percent of all truck drivers assigned to this gruelling job of combat supply are Negro troops. Mixed convoys have wound over this bloody road from rear eschelon supply depots to battle-front gun breaches, sometimes under attack of snipers and collaborationist French, sometimes loading gas directly to tanks in the neighborhood. Twice as long as middle of a battle area with the Germans' 88's singing all over the Burma road, tortuously grinding through ghost towns where death and terror didn't miss a bet, always with the same destination—the battle itself—the four hundred miles of red-ball highway have been the life-line of the American Armies in France.

The fact that the Negro soldier is an essential member of the same team is the idea that once and for all.

The change in attitude is blaring in a thousand little ways.

Back in England, you never got a ride from a white truck driver.

Here anything in olive-drab is sure of a lift from a U. S. Army truck driver, white or black.

In England, there was plenty of interracial mixing—between Negro American troops and the British. In fact, one dour Britian is quoted as having liked the American troops fine,—"all except those white ones they brought along."

Here the mingling has come home to roost. The Cherbourg Red Cross situation is a phenomenon repeated all over France.

In this country, where 99% of the troops don't know what the civil population is talking about, when the whole Army is straining every muscle against a common enemy, one GI looks pretty much like another. Race, as a dividing line between soldiers, begins to afde.

Tonight, I have just got back from a red-ball run up the road apiece where war is a pretty ugly, smelly affair.

One thing I saw, I think you'd like: two soldiers, one Negro, one white, calmly eating their K-rations, about five miles from the lines, as they sat together back to back.

Welfare Council Reorganized On A Broader Basis

Civic organizations, women's clubs, service clubs and other groups having legitimate interest in health and welfare planning will be eligible for membership in the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Los Angeles, which is the new name for the Council of Social Agencies. The Council is now re-organized to bring about greater community participation in social planning.

In announcing the re-vamping of the Council, Mrs. Sumner Spaulding, president, stated that the new plan has the approval of Community Welfare Federation's board of directors, headed by Judge Ralph E. Jenney.

Mrs. Saulding said: "Planning for community services has been too exclusively the work of social agencies. It is our desire to bring the entire community into this work through properly balanced representation."

Previously, Council membership was limited to public and private social organizations including 95 Community Chest agencies, other private agencies, and public welfare units. It has 152 bodies in membership, known as Agency Members. Under the ne wset-up, groups desiring to take active pa.t in health and welfare planning may apply for membership and the application will be acted upon by a membership committee.

Organized civic groups in the 34 cities and towns included in Los Angeles Area War Chest with more than usual interest in social planning are eligible for participation in the new Welfare Council.

One of every four deaths before 1800 was caused by smallpox, vaccination against which was unknown up to that time.

Compose Songs for Sixth War Loan Campaign

RECORDING of two songs by Negro composers to be used in the Sixth War Loan Drive which started November 20th, have been made by the Radio Division of the War Finance Division. These songs are "The War Bond Man," by Andy Razaf, which is sung by Frank Sinatra, and "That's Why I Buy War Bonds," by J. Rosamond Johnson and Andy Razaf, and sung by Bob Hannon. Messrs. Johnson and Razaf (left to right) are outstanding composers of popular music.—(War Finance Division Photos from OWL)

Street Car Habits Formed In Youth

Human beings are such creatures of habit that their conduct of mature years and even in old age on street cars is determined by their childhood riding behaviour, according to statistics, covering a long period of years, compiled by the Bureau of Public Service of the Los Angeles Railway, of which L. A. Reeves is director.

"Passengers persist in talking to trainmen about every subject under the sun, despite the fact they know they are violating the law, jeopardizing the employe's job, their own safety and that of other passengers. Human beings form these street car habits as children. Language lacks words to persuade them to change, even for their own good."

Hooper Ave. P.T.A. Holds Paper Drive

The Hooper Avenue Parent-Teacher Association held their first paper drive last week. Rooms 12 and 29 combined won first, second and third place rooms which gathered the largest amount of papers. Mrs. Ella Blackburn was chairman of the drive for the association; but coupled with the hearty cooperation of Mrs. Charlotte Mae Reiman, principal of Hooper School, and the efforts of the children and supervision of the teachers Mr. Venerable, Mr. Merrill and Mr. Daniel, it was a huge success.

Our membership drive went over the top with an enrollment of 250 members. Mrs. Myra White was chairman of membership. The drive is still on for more active members. Prizes were won by Mrs. Velma Becks and Miss Ollie Green's classes with 100% of enrollment. A special prize was given to Dorothy Daniels in Room 11 for bringing in the highest number of individual memberships. Come and hear the Christmas program planned for you in December under the direction of Mr. Albert McNeil of Hooper School.

Among the raw materials which any factory needs is money. It may need steel or rubber or asbestos or cork or oil or all of 'em—and maybe other things. But the first thing it needs is MONEY.

WATTS USO NEWS

Highlighting the month of Sunday afternoon programs was the Twilgiht Musical Program presented on Sunday afternoon November 19th. This popular service men's orchestra headed by Cpl. John Crawford held the capacity audience of servicemen and hostesses spellbound for two hours with its unique and sophisticated arrangements of popular tunes of the day. Having played for the Saturday night dance these men graciously donated their time and talent to entertain their fellow buddies on Sunday. The program was sponsored by the Junior Hostess Program Committee.

DRILL TEAM THRILLS

If you missed the performance of the Camp Ross Drill Team at the Coliseum last Saturday, then Brother it was your own fault. For two weeks we have been warning you it would be a "sender." For twelve minutes during the half-time of the UCLA College of Pacific game this crack team dressed in white helmets, brand new uniforms and white gloves had the 20,000 fans agog with their intricate boogie-woogie unconventional drill formation.

Lt. Martin Graduates

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Nov.—(Special)—Charles P. Lieutenant Martin attended David-Starr Jordan High school, and Los Angeles City College. Prior to his induction in August 1942, he was a musician.

TURKEY PRICE VIOLATORS

Opening a widespread drive to prevent over-ceiling sales of turkeys, the Office of Price Administration food enforcement section last week assigned half its investigative staff to check turkey dealers and sales until today, Thanksgiving.

PROMOTED

Announcing the promotion of Pvt. Jackie R. Morgan to private first class for outstanding performance of duty. Pfc. Morgan is an armorer in the 477th Bombardment Group (M). He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil R. Morgan, residing at 1174 East 21st St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Negroes in OPA

Negro employment in the national office of the Office of Price Administration has risen to 12 per cent of the total force, from 1½ per cent in January, 1943, when the agency was awarded a plaque by the United Federal Workers of America for having the best race relations policy among government agencies, OPA revealed this week.

Commenting on these figures, Price Administrator Chester Bowles said:

"I am impressed to find that 476 persons, of 12 per cent of our staff here, are Negroes, and that of the positions held by Negroes, about 30 per cent are of professional rank. I am glad that Negroes hold so many responsible positions."

Beginning with the Office of the Administrator, the staffs of every division and nearly every branch in the agency contain, on an integrated basis, some Negro members.

These positions range from section heads and a chief counsel of a price branch to messengers and laborers.

An indication of their placement and distribution throughout the agency is given in the following list:

Price Department—A principal attorney, who is chief counsel of a food price branch; three attorneys, a junior attorney, two economists, an analyst, several statistical clerks, an information specialist, numerous stenographers, clerks, typists.

Rationing Department — Two attorneys, one a section chief; four economists, several statistical clerks, numerous stenographers, clerks, typists.

Rent Department — An economist, several statistical clerks, several stenographers, numerous clerks.

Information Department—Three information specialists, an educational specialist, several stenographers, clerks, typists, a messenger.

Some Luck, And Much Efficient Training

CAMP LEE, Va.—When one asks Maj. James R. P. Hill, post range officer, what is responsible for the fact that there has not been a single death among the rookies who use the ranges, they knock hurriedly on wood, shake their heads and modestly insist: "Mostly, it's luck."

But company commanders and platoon leaders whose outfits use the ranges time after time say that the amazing safety record is due not so much to luck as to efficient organization and careful planning.

LIBERTY AND JSTICE FOR ALL?

Federal Judge Ralph E. Jenney sentenced William F. Randolph, civilian guard at the Mira Loma quartermaster's depot, to three and a half years in federal prison for the fatal shooting of Stanley Beverly, Aug. 17. Randolph, white, was found guilty of manslaughter in the death of Beverly, Negro, which followed an argument over a parking privilege at the depot. For the ghastly crime of murdering a man in cold blood, the guard received a three and a half year term in a prison to be designated by the Attorney General of the United States. Now comes a sixty-four dollar question: Does the three and a half year sentence imposed upon him mean that Randolph will serve the full three and a half years? If it does, then I'm a dope—and maybe I am even if it doesn't. The man who so cold-bloodedly killed a Negro who wasn't armed with so much as a pocket knife will only spend about (and get this, Please!) EIGHTEEN MONTHS IN JAIL! Here is how the federal law works. Because the crime occurred at a Government defense plant, it is automatically a federal offense. And in a federal penitentiary, when one-third of a sentence is complete, you appear at a parole board meeting for the members of the board to determine whether or not you're a good parole risk. If Randolph's "outside" record is good (as it will invariably be; since he held the position of a guard), and his "inside" record is unblemished, ten chances out ten he will leave prison a free man after serving but eighteen months of a three and a half year sentnce for murder. He will leave prison, that is, if no member of the Beverly family contests his release. Stanley Beverly is dead. All the time Randolph could serve if he lived to be a hundred years old wouldn't bring the beloved Beverly back to his family and friends. But murder is murder. And cold-blooded murder should be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law. I don't believe in capital punishment, but I do believe that were the races reversed (Negro Murders Unarmed White Man in Cold Blood), San Quentin would have had to prepare a clean Gas Chamber! In the Constitution of the United States of America is a line which says: "Liberty and Justice For All!" After reviewing the Randolph case, we're convinced the line in the constitution should be changed to "Liberty and Justice For All—White people!"

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK

Plantation club owner Joe Morris donated more than one thousand dollars worth of liquor and champagne to the Lionel Hampton party for the press, held recently backstage at the Orpheum . . . Have you heard Ella Fitzgerald's recording of "Into Each Life Some Rain Must Fall"? The best cure for the blues since Winchell's col'm . . . With the Erskine Hawkins band, Ace Harris plays terrific piano. But he's no Avery Parrish. Not complainin'—just colyumin' . . . Jean Bradford (no relation to the Westside telephone number of the same name) says "It's fun to play with fire, if you know how." It's fun anyway, toots . . . Sudden thawt: The most eloquent lines are neither written or spoken; they're worn! And if you could see Alyce Keys in a bathing suit, you'd know what I mean . . . How come no one's bothered to give the chorus cuties at Shepp's Playhouse a mention? They're terrific dancers . . . Overheard in The Downbeat: "Pardon me, Alyce, but that's a nice figure you're wearing tonight." . . . First Christmas present of the year arrived a coupla days ago. A recording of the tune "Count the Stars In the Window." Written by an inmate of the Jackson, Michigan, penitentiary. Thanks, fellows! I'm turning it over to Al "Make Believe Ballroom" Jarvis. It should march straight to the Hit Parade! . . . Leonard McClain and John O. Hendricks are forming a News Syndicate. To publish the colyum's of a Candid Commentator . . . "When you wake up Christmas morning," someone asked Mac Pinkston, "what would you like to find in your stockings?" . . . "Betty Grable," was the snapper . . . Sportsman James Boyd Brown (whom we love dearly over at our house) spent three days in bed with a case of flu. I know, I know. He should be glad, because it's the only thing of which you can get a case of nowadays! . . . The Angel City Press club is readying plans for the town's biggest benefit yet. This one will surpass even the Eleven and One social club show. Hollywood's brightest stars will appear, and there'll be more than six bands. The Philharmonic will prob'ly house the show . . . Three L. A. Newsmen will finance the future of an unknown doll. She'll get the biggest buildup since Lena Horne . . . Overheard In The Memo: "She's aged a lot. A lot of men."

Money to Loan

Ernie Fields In Solid Opening At Alabam Nightclub

There's always a place in nightlife circles for a good swing band, and Ernie Fields has definitely carved a nice niche for himself in the kingdom of swing. Current show at the Alabam night club features the music of Ernie Fields and his band. Billed as "America's Sweetest Swing Band," the boys deviate from that title about every third arrangement to give forth with some downright swingsational tootin'! In the vocal department is an attractive brown-skin lass named Estell Edson, who gives with the vocals in a pleasing manner. The Sinatra of the show is a handsome lad named Melvin Moore. His style of singing has the chicks reaching into their bags for swooning salts. A top show with a top band is presented for your evening's pleasure nitely except Tuesday at the Club Alabam, Holdovers are Songstress Marian Abernathy and The Savage Dancers, with newcomers being a contortionist who aptly calls himself The Great Bender, and a duo of chic chickes known as the Martin Twins. It's a good show at the Alabam, but then, Ernie Fields and his music alone is worth the price of admission.

Returning to its policy of Matinee dances every Sunday afternoon, the Alabam will have as its first Sunday Matinee feature an "Oklahoma Day" matinee in honor of the Ernie Fields band, who hail from that state. Festivities will get under way promptly at 3 p. m. Dancing from 3 until 7, with the first floor show going on at 5:45 p. m. The Matinee dances will be a regular weekly Sunday feature.

Shepp's Will Serve Turkey Dinner Today

Here is a timely tip. Instead of spending endless hours in your kitchen cooking on Thanksgiving Day, why not attend the races or a theater and then drop in at Shepp's Playhouse, First and Los Angeles, for a wonderful Thanksgiving Day dinner complete with turkey and all the trimmings? After dinner you may dance, sip cocktails and view Leonard Reed's new show, "Ship Ahoy." Sounds great, doesn't it? Well, just get a load of this menu for Thursday's dinner which will be served throughout the day.

Roast Turkey and Dressing (Country Style)
Old Fashioned Potato Salad

You can bring the family and sit down to one of these fine meals at only $1.75 each. The proprietor, G. H. Sheppard, and Manager Ben C. Waller assisted by the genial War Perkins will make you welcome. We'll be seeing you there.

Nash Singers On Jubilee Program

On Monday evening at Radio Station KNX, Columbia Broadcasting System, appeared a galaxy of stars on the Jubilee Program sponsored by the Armed Forces-Radio Service. This program which was enjoyed by a capacity audience was broadcast by shortwave to the Armed Forces overseas.

Appearing on the program were Bob Hope, Erskines and his orchestra, Lena Horne, Horace Henderson, Sgt. Jim Lyons, Al Casey Trio, Ernie Whitman, M. C. and the Nash Singers, directed by Luvenia Nash, doing Eddie Jones' classical arrangement of "The Saint Louis Blues," with Elsie Davis as soloist. The Nash singers are proving to be a very versatile group, being equally good in their renditions of spirituals, classics and popular numbers.

RUSSEL CLICKS

Washington, D. C.—The Brown Bombshell of Swing, Snookum Russell, brought his orchestra into Club Louisiana for a two-week stand to end Thanksgiving Day, and the management is dickering to hold this attraction over indefinitely.

$1,000,000 INSURANCE FOR THE DUKES—The magical hands of the master maestro, Duke Ellington, whose very name is synonomous to perfection in music, have been insured by the renowned Lloyds of London for the staggering sum of $1,000,000. Edward S. Harris, resident of Chicago, issued the policy that has attached a fortune to the hands from which such masterpieces of song have come, such as "Sophisticated Lady," "In My Solitude," "Caravan" and many others that strike an immediate response in the hearts of music lovers.

Red Callender Clicks With New Swing Combo at Shepp's Nitery

Newest excitement to our town is a trio of swingsational rhythmmen known as the Red Callender Trio. The most talked about combo since the Nat "King" Cole boys held forth at the 331 Club, Red Callender and his trio of musicmakers is just what the Doctor ordered for downright lovers of jive and swing. With Duke Brooks on Piano, and Louis Gonzales on Guitar, the trio is sparked by the bass playing Red Callender, who made quite a name for himself in music circles here as the record accompanist of Dorothy Donegan.

Rhythm Is Their Business

The trio holds the customers. They don't walk out when Red Callender and his boys are on the bandstand. Rhythm is their business, and their business is Swing! The trio is worthy of all praise heaped upon it. At all times the trio seem to work with enthusiasm.

This is one o fthe most promising trios to hit Hollywood this season. Some talent scout should scout out to Shepp's Playhouse and "discover" Red Callender and his Trio.

They're downright terrific!

The fishing cruiser, used for scenes in Warner Bros.' "To Have and Have Not," was an exact duplicate of Humphrey Bogart's own fishing boat.

"Laura" Now Playing At United Artists

A smart murder-mystery, expertly tailored in script, casting and direction, "Laura" starring Gene Tierney is one of the neatest films of its kind to come along this season, and is now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway downtown Los Angeles. Its fresh approach to a stock formula, the neat touches and constant new twists, and especially the intelligence that guides it throughout, tab it as aces.

A pleasant, clean little musical done in good taste, entitled "THREE LITTLE SISTERS" is on the same program. The cast includes Mary Lee, Ruth Terry, Cheryl Walker and William Terry.

For absorbing entertainment, don't miss "LAURA" plus "THREE SISTERS" now playing at the United Artists Theatre, downtown Los Angeles.

COTTON PICKERS BACK IN FLORIDA

Orlando, Florida—LeRoy Hardison's Carolina Cotton Pickers appear here Friday at South Street Casino, and a capacity crowd is expected.

Saturday night this attraction is scheduled to appear at the Apollo Ballroom, Tampa.

"Harlemwood" Stars Can't Sail Stratispheric Heights Unless Writers Stop Caustic Comments

By JT GIPSON

Whenever the boys aren't sitting around discussing the anatomy of dames, the backroom topic of conversation in the various newspaper offices is centered around the forthcoming Uncle Remus picture. Some swear by all that is good and holy that they will use the last inch of ribbon in their respective Underwoods to stop the picture from being filmed. Others swear that they see nothing wrong in the filming of the picture, while others just swear. Since all the controversy is centered around the picture, I, for one, see no harm in the studio making; I decided to get first-hand information from Walt Disney himself by calling and asking whether or not "Uncle Remus" would be offensive to the Negro people.

My People—But Not My Tribe!

After resting comfortably with my feet on my new flat-top desk (given to me as a birthday present from Attorney Walter Gordon), I phone the Disney studios for an interview. The Disney most Hollywoodites call Walt was out of the city, but a studio switchboard operator in a voice as soft as the glow of altar candles, purred sweetly that she would "be th-rrr-illed to connect me with the Head of Publicity, Mr. Jack Reddy." Unable to stifle my originality, I said to him when he got on the wire, "How are you?"

"Hello Gipson," he shouted in the telephone, nearly giving me St. Vitus dance of the ear, "I read your stuff every week, and you're a carbon copy of Walter Winchell." I couldn't get angry, not knowing whether it was a compliment or insult. But I let it pass, thinking it was meant as a compliment. "I called," I informed him, "To inquire about the Uncle Remus film. Some of the newspaper reporters on Our Side of Town are nursing an impression that it will be offensive to the Negro people for the picture to be made. What do you think about it, Jack?"

"I don't understand your people, Gipson;" he said in a puzzling tone of voice. "The Negro of today is getting more and better parts than at any time in the history of the motion pncture industry. But you know what's going to happen?"

"What?" The only answer we could give in reply to a question of that sort. "Well, I'll tell you," he continued. "With so much caustic comment coming from some of the Negro writers who apparently write merely to fill space, the studios are going to get tired of the interference and throw up both hands and stop using Negros altogether!"

"But what about the Remus Film?" we asked the second time, not letting him make us forget that that question is why we called the studio in the first place.

"Sure, we're going to film Uncle Remus. And you can come out and read the script for yourself for proof that nothing offensive will be made against the Negro people."

After we set the date for my visit to his office in the Walt Disney studios, he contiuned talking: "And speaking of your race-conscientious Negro writers, three of them already contacted me for the job of doing the press-agenting in the Negro papers for the Uncle Remus Film!"

"What's so wrong with that?" I asked. "Maybe they're three reporters who believe (the same as I) that no harm will be done with the making of the film."

"Oh, no!" he shouted. "Here's the proposition they made me. If we let them handle the publicity they wouldn't care whether or not the film was offensive. All they wanted was the job of doin gthe publicity. And even if it was offensive, they assured me they would have enough readers to sway public opinion."

I agreed with Jack Reddy that that is the one fault with some of our Negro writers. They pen poison paragraphs on their typewriters against Uncle Tomism in Hollywood, yet some of those same so-called race-conscientious Negro writers would accept the same so-called "uncle-Tomming" jobs were they offered to them by the studios!

"Come on out, Gipson. I wanna meet you; your reputation for fair-play is unquestioned. And we all like your colums out here."

Enjoying the company of people with such good taste in literature, I will in all probability spend more time out at Jack Reddy's office in the Walt Disney Studios.

As a parting shot, we suggested Rochester or Jimmie Baskett for the role of Uncle Remus. And in case my confreres of the Fourth Estate are gnashing their teeth at this smarticle, they may fire when ready.

We can take care of ourself.

The Count Returns Of URA Members

LENA HORNE IN 'BRONZE VENUS' AT LINCOLN

PIGMEAT MARKHAM, famous funny man, who wowed audiences at the Lincoln Theatre not so long ago, has been booked again by the management who responded to the countless requests to bring the well-liked comedian back. Pigmeat will return to the Lincoln stage on Friday, December 1st.

Pigmeat Back to Lincoln Stage On December 1st

Starting Friday the glamorous Lena Horne will grace the screen of the Lincoln Theatre in "The Bronze Venus" and a record crowd is expected to be on hand to see her in this exciting musical. On the stage will be Noble Sissle, his band and a grand stage show.

Starting Friday, December 1st, the one and only "Pigmeat" Markham returns to the Lincoln stage after a successful eastern trip during which he appeared at the Apollo, Elks Rendezvous, and Ralph Cooper's radio program. Be sure to attend the return engagement of this famous comedian.

Pal O' Mine Club To Sponsor Dance Dec. 3 At Shepp's

On Sunday, Dec. 3rd, the Pal O' Mine Club will play host at the beautiful Shepp's Playhouse, First and San Pedro, sponsoring a matinee cabaret dance.

The club has always donated funds each year to worthy organizations and on this occasion will make a donation to the Outdoor Life and Health Association. Secure your tickets from one of the members and help a worthy cause.

Working hard to make the affair a success are: Mabel Cleveland, pres.; Oteka Goodwin, vice-pres.; Essielee McNeely, sec.; Janet Harris, corr. sec.; Mary Hannah, bus. mgr.; Velma Orendorf, treas.; Mildred McKinney, reporter. Members: Gertrude Hillburn, Glady Merriweather, and Essye Ector.

Mrs. Ector, chairman of the entertainment committee, has secured several outstanding local artists for the occasion.

Canada Lee In Film At Vanguard

On Sunday, November 26, Vanguard Stage will resume its series of Sundays at Vanguard with the showing of two contemporary documentary films. The first, "Target for Today," is a new Air Forces film produced by Colonel William Keighley. "Henry Browne, Farmer," with narration by the well-known Negro actor, Canada Lee, is the second film.

Double Four Club Stages Inaugural Ball At Shepp's

The Double Four Club held its inaugural ball at Shepp's Playhouse last Friday. Dinner was served in the private dining room.

Installation of new officers were as follows: Mrs. Mae McBriden, president; Mrs. Louise Hawkins, vice-president; Mrs. Vivian Smith, secretary; Mrs. Jane Spragin, treasurer; Miss Helen McKay, reporter; Mrs. Jessie Lee Carpenter, critic, and Mrs. Eddye Neal, corresponding secretary. Members are Mrs. Margie Ellis, Gladys Senters. Visiting introductory speaker was Mrs. Joan Willis. Comments were made by War Perkins.

When Hoagy Carmichael, noted musician and composer who appears with one of his latest compositions and some Calypso music in Warner Bros.' "To Have and Have Not," was not busy trying unsuccessfully to break into male quartettes at Indiana university, he spent his time studying law and leading a band.

Socialad Tours Hollywood With Theatre Editor

Already holding United Air Lines reservations for his contemplated business and pleasure trip to New York City, Lee Coleman, popular in Los Angeles business and social circles, decided to have one last fling at Hollywood before shoving off for the Big Apple.

A bosom pal and close crony of Eagle columnist J. T. Gipson, the two spent one day of last week visiting the various studios of Hollywood. As guest of Hollywood Columnist Clyde W. Vandercook, a dinner engagement was held at the famed Hollywood Brown Derby after which the two journeyed out to Producer Jack Bright's Beverly Hills mansion for an afternoon of swimming and cocktails.

Mr. Coleman, who is the popular proprietor of the Blue Moon Cafe, will announce his engagement shortly to the famed Broadway and Hollywood dancer, Dorita.

John Alexander, featured player in Warner Bros.' "The Doughgirls" worked as an usher and stagehand in Cincinnati theaters to earn his tuition and expenses while at Schuster-Martin Dramatic school in that city.

Radio Players And Students Organize Guild

Organization to Aid in Placement and Training of Radio Artists.

From the ranks of the students and players at the Tri-Art Radio Production Studios in Pasadena have emerged a strong compact organization. This organization will aid in the training and placement of persons with potential Radio Talent. This organization will have a union charter and act as a training center and clearing house for the best available talent. Here the Negro will be trained to act any part from slip stick comedy to heavy Drama. Equally as well as in artist on the air. And with stand the scurting of any Radio Critic on Broadway.

One group now is readying its self to enter production of a series of Radio Dramas written by Roii B. Canada famous Playwright and Authority on Negro history, who has done much in helping to create this Guild; that the Negro might be able to better his standing in the field of Radio Drama and receive more parts in respect to his many talents.

The group will continue to operate from its present location at 1063 Morton Ave., Pasadena; until the new studio is completed at 987 N. Fair Oaks Ave., Pasadena, in the near future. Officers elected for this newly created group are:

Roii B. Cando of Pasadena, President; Marguerite Petty of Santa Monica, 1st Vive President; Edna L. Griffin of Pasadena, Secretary; Irwing Wade of Los Angeles, Corresponding Secretary; Mabel Sinkfort of Cincinnati, Treasure; Patrica Porter of Los Angeles, Fiasun, Appointed Birdie Vashti of Denver, Membership chairman; Nancy McMicken of Pasadena, Parlimentarian. Other members of the Guild are: Walter Killebrue of St. Louis, Georgia Hardiman of Los Angeles, Earl Washington of Chicago, Hallie Hill of Lincoln, Neb. V. M. Brougtn, Little Rock, Francis Sawyer of Birmingham, Alberta Horton of Chicago, Nellie Mary Lee of New Orleans, Etta Ross of Austin, Texas, Hubert Gates of Vicksburg. Berta Snead of asadena, Mary Mills of Sapduca, Okla.

The Constitutional Committee wil submit a constitution for the approval of the Board of Directors at their next meeting on Saturday evening. New members will have to come through the guild membership chairman.

If Jack Carson, star of Warner Bros.' hilarious "The Doughgirls," had his life to live over, he declares, he would not be a funny man, because "the world will never let you be serious. If you try, people think you are trying sly humor and laugh."

Set For Tour

"Hot Lips" Page, the trumpet ace, who has been setting a terrific pace at the Onyx Club on 52nd Street in New York, is booked "solid" for a tour of theatres and one nighters. Page's records have been a favorite with juke-box fans and his waxing of "Paging Mr. Page" and "Uncle Sam Blues" (Savoy) and "Gee, Baby, Ain't I Good To You" (Commodore) have been acclaimed by the disc reviewers.

KOLAX PLAYS FOR BREAKFAST DANCE

Saginaw, Michigan.—Arthur Braggs, Saginaw's ace dance promoter, has arranged a breakfast dance next Sundy morning for the lovers of good music and has engaged the services of King Kolax, "The Trumpet Sensation of the Nation."

As a result of her excellent portrayal in the comic character of a female Russian guerilla in "The Doughgirls," Eve Arden was signed to a long term contract at Warner Bros. studio.

Mary Louise Martin, who played an important role in Warner Bros.' "The Doughgirls," had an important part in ground-breaking ceremonies for the studio 18 years ago, when she was a member of a Girl Scout troop participating in the event.

Alan Mowbray, who plays the role of a typical American newscaster in Warner Bros.' "The Doughgirls," was born in London and came to the United States in 1923.

IT IS WONDERFUL
TRULY WONDERFUL

In the Line of Duty . . . Corporal Kenneth C. Bedford died last week, becoming the twelfth victim in the "Strawberry Peak" airplane crash. Beuford V. Chism, Pharmacist's Mate Third Class, who was aboard the ill-fated plane when it crashed and is the sole survivor, revealed the heroism of his black buddy.

Chism related how, despite an injury of a skull fracture, Bedford rendered first aid to him. Bedford died in five days following the crash. Chism is expected to recover.

Art Dept. The next time you enter the Federal Building or Post Office take time to notice the mural on the ceiling. It is on the Spring Street side at the south entrance, near the executive offices. You will see the nude studies of four men, with impressive physiques. One white, one Negro, one yellow and one red. Each also symbolizes the major contributions each have made to the world. The main portion of the mural is done in a circle, symbolizing the sphere of the world, attesting to the oneness of man. In triangles you will find Industry, Science, etc., represented. Each man having made his contribution to this globe. This magnificent mural was painted in 1940 by Edward Biberman.

In another circle surrounding the figures you will read these words from the pen of Walt Whitman: "Each of Us Inevitable. Each of Us Limitless. Each of Us with His or Her Rights Upon This Earth. Each of Us Allowed the Purports of the Earth."

Read it twice, several times if you please. The Axis seeks to set one race or races as superior to the others.

Traffic Dept. It has been reported that the street car and bus company of Dallas, Texas, will employ Americans, regardless of race, color or creed, to man the street cars and busses of Dallas, Texas. Amen. Look out, San Antonio and Houston.

Political. Everyone is most happy that Supervisor Gordon McDonough is going to represent us in Washington. He, along with other board members, have done a swell job of making Los Angeles one of the most democratic counties in the nation. Using Negroes as a barometer, the county has the largest group of Negro employes in all capacities. You find Negroes as janitors, sweepers, elevator operators, typists, clerks, deputy-sheriffs in the jail, criminal division, bailiffs and other divisions. You will find them as executves, foremen, managers and head nurses in the county setup. It is wonderful. The county employs Americans first; ability and qualifications are the next requisites.

Supreme Court. Much can be said of the courts of this county in the same respect. Arthur MacClanahan and this writer, deputy-sheriffs assigned as bailiffs, have found that Chief Bailiff Freeman has indiscriminately assigned both bailiffs to several courtrooms. It has been the pleasure of these two officer of the court to work in the courtrooms of the following Superior Court Judges, Georgia P. Bullock, John Beardsley, Henry Willis, William J. Palmer, Emmet H. Wilson and Clarence M. Hanson. It is wonderful, don't you see!

Music. It is high time now that the Great Waters, Ethel Waters, comes forth with a tune which will set the nation humming as her "Stormy Weather," "Dinah," "Am I Blue." We mean writer should pen her a tune.

This is Earl J. Morris, who tells you that despite the war, you have a great deal to be thankful for. Praise God.

Eve Arden, who played a featured role in Warner Bros.' "The Doughgirls," won her first stage job and bet she made with a school friend, when she walked into the Alcazar theater in San Francisco, on a bet, and asked Producer Henry Duffy for a job.

For a scene in Warner Bros.' "The Doughgirls," Alan Mowbray, the comic, was required to lie flat on his back while a dog licked his face, much to the amusement of Jack Carson, Alexis Smith, Jane Wyman and other stars and featured players.

Vital Training

CAMP LEE, Va.—The Quartermaster Shoe Repair School at Camp Lee's Army Service Forces Training Center has opened up a new section for the training of harness and saddle repair men, one of whom accompany each mobile shoe repair trailer in the field.

The men are trained to repair harness on pack teams, rifle and machine gun scabbards, and other leather equipment.

In the Italian campaign, wet weather, marsh lands, and difficult terrain made the use of wheeled vehicles well-nigh impossible. In order to get supplies through, the Quartermaster Corps resorted at times to the use of pack teams. Such teams have played an important part in many of our South Pacific advances.

To gain experience, the new section is doing all repair work for the camp stables. Work is also being done on salvage leather coming into camp from overseas.

Vet Placements

A total of 80,444 placements of veterans of the last war and the present war was made during September through offices of the United States Employment Service, it was announced recently by Paul V. McNutt, chairman of the War Manpower Commission. This total includes 12,492 placements involving disabled veterans whose skills, aptitudes and experiences enable them to perform many types of productive work.

Of the total number of jobs found during the month, 60,064 were for veterans of this war, Mr. McNutt said, and 10,892 of these were for service men with disabilities.

Rocket Men Needed Now

The grandfathers of all rocket bombs, the largest and toughest of the clan, are being manufactured by one of Southern California's most technically advanced firms.

These rockets measure ten inches in length, which is the size of the shell fired from battleships. They are released from planes, along a horizontal line, and have a deadly accuracy for a distance of eight miles.

Journeymen machinists, green sand floor and bench molders, and engine lathe operators with a year or more experience are needed to help manufactur these Axis destroyers. Inexperienced men are wanted for helper jobs.

The United States Employment Service office in your neighborhood has full details about these rocket bomb jobs.

BOBBY YEAGER FIGHTS NICK MORAN FRIDAY

Los Angeles Bulldogs Meet San Diego Bombers Sunday

Greatest open field running duel of the current Pacific Coast Pro. Football league season is due Sunday at Wrigley Field when fleet Jackie Robinson leads the Las Angeles Bulldogs against Steve Bagarus and the undefeated San Diego Bombers.

Ragarus, acclaimed as the greatest player in the circuit has paced the Bombers to eight straight victories in as many starts.

Robinson looked greater than ever last week-end getting off a brilliant 43 yard touchdown galop to spark the Bulldogs to a thrilling 21-13 win over the reinforced Hollywood Wolves.

At the same time Bagarus raced 50 yeards to give San Diego it's 7-0 win over the hardy San Francisco Packers.

It was San Diego's closest shave of the season and the Bulldogs are figuring on giving the Bombers an even closer afternoon this week-end.

Sunday's gigantic will be the first time these two great open field runners have met on the gridiron.

The Bulldogs will be facing San Diego for the second time this season, but will be fielding an entirely different squad than the one which dropped a decision to the Bombers early in the year.

For instance neither Jackie Robinson, Handy-Andy Marefos or hustling Billy Hills, bankfield mainstays, played against the Bombers.

Only one other Pacific Coast League contest is listed for this Sunday it was announced by President J. Rufus Klawans, San Francisco traveling to Oakland for a tussle with the Giants.

Both San Jose and the Hollywood Wolves draw byes.

Cosmopolitan Golf Club In Baldwin Hills Tournament

The first foursome in the first tournament to be given by the newly organized Cosmopolitan Golf Club will tee off at 8:00 o'clock Saturday morning at Baldwin Hills. To many golfers this is a history making event in local golf as it inaugurates tournament golf for our golfers under a handicap system recognized by a majority of clubs and associations.

This tournament will be a medal play affair, 36 holes for the low handicap amateurs and 18 holes for others, and entrants must be members of the Cosmopolitan Golf Club. Golfers who have stated their intention of joining the club may qualify at the course by paying their joining fee and tournament entry fee before teeing off, the Tournament Committee has announced.

At the meeting of the Club Friday night, the Tournament Committee stated that reservations made for use of the course are limited and to be sure of being able to play, those who intend to play should send in their entry as soon as possible. At the same meeting the club's papers of incorporation were displayed with the proper California State Seal adorning the lower left hand corner.

Invited to play in the tournament are a number of out of town golfers and a large delegation is expected from the north.

RENS PLAY PHILLY

New York — (Calvin's News Service)—The Rennaissance basketball team is all set to take on the Philly Spahs at the Renny Casino Thanksgiving night. These fives have been rivaling each other for more than 20 years.

Tuskegee-'Bama State Grid Game in Montgomery Today

TUSKEGEE INSTITNTE, Ala.—The annual Tuskegee-State football game, originally scheduled to be played at Cramton Bowl in Montgomery, Alabama, Thanksgiving Day, November 30, will be played at Cramton Bowl in Montgomery on Thanksgiving Day, November 23, the date on which the day will be observed by the State of Alabama.

Both teams began preparations this week for what has come to be regarded as one of the most colorful football games played in the State. It is as much as the homecoming occasion for Tuskegee men and women as it is for State whose homecoming occasion the game is, for Tuskegeeans and friends of the "Dixie Dazzlers" converge on Montgomery from every section of the State and celebrate the day in a fitting manner.

Cage Season Opens at "Y"

Although a score or more of men have been practicing three times a week for the past month, the 28th Street Branch Y. M. C. A. basketball season will officially open Tuesday evening, November 21, at 8 p. m. Practice will be held each Tuesday and Thursday evening thereafter from 8 to 10 p. m.

John Hensley, newly appointed program assistant, will be in charge of the practice sessions. Joe Knight will head the Dormaneers, a team from the domitory residents.

The house league will consist of four Y. M. C. A. teams and outside teams. Included in the league last year were the Avalon Community Center team, headed by John Moses, and the Musician's team, headed by Leonard Reed of M. C. fame, and both may enter this year. Reed and "Sneeks" Downes of the Musicians are among those now working out. Other men seen frequently around the gym include William Benfield, Houston Summers, Cornelius Hutchinson, Curley Monroe, Charles Williams and Robert Louis.

On Lriday evening, Dec. 8th, a special challenge game will be played. The Challenger headed by Ruth Ford and Helen Atkins, will play another girl's team, the name to be announced later.

Zurita Stops Jerry Moore

SAN FRANCISCO—Juan Zurita, 138, Mexico City, the N. B. A. lightweight champion, looked good in knocking out Jerry Moore, 143½, New York City, in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-round non-title fight here last Friday night.

Zurita is being paged by John Thomas of Los Angeles for a shot at the title but to date no announcement has been made that the bout is closed.

CAGE CANDIDATES

CAMP LEE, Va.—More than a dozen experienced prospects answered Capt. Peter Finnerty's call for candidates for the First Tng. Group basketball team. Opening practice drill was held Friday evening at the Group Field House.

GRID DOPE

In pro grid games last Sunday the L. A. Bulldogs beat the Hollywood Wolves in a thrilling game, 21-13; the L. A. Mustangs won over the Portland Rockets, 34-6; the Hollywood Rangers defeated the San Francisco Clippers, 3-0, and the San Diego Bombers clipped the San Francisco Packers, 7-0.

In prep football in the Southern League last Thursday, Polytechnic defeated Jefferson High, 7-0, and Fremont took over Washington, 20-0. A game scheduled between Manual Arts and Roosevelt was postponed.

Warhawks Will Play Ft. Benning On Turkey Day

TUSKEGEE ARMY AIR FIELD.—In what promises to be the most exciting if not the most important gridiron tilt of the season, the undefeated and unscored on Tuskegee Army Air Field Warhawks meet the equally victorious Fort Benning Reception Center Tigers in a return game Thursday, November 23, at 8 p. m. (CWT) in Memorial Stadium, Columbus, Ga. Both teams fought to a scoreless tie October 22, but now with a few extra weeks of experience under their belts there's still a lot of speculation as to which of the rival teams will merge victorious—the Air Corps or the Infantry.

Squad of Eight Fighters Will Represent Camp

CAMP LEE, VA — A full squad of eight fighters headed by Lightweight Richie Orange and Welter-weight Charley Cooper will represent Camp Lee in the Southern Virginia sectional round of the Third Service Command boxing tourney. The bouts will be staged Friday evening at the Woodrow Wilson General Hospital, Staunton. A capacity crowd of wounded and injured servicemen now recuperating at the hospital is expected.

The Tuskegee-Alabama State Teachers College football game will be played Thanksgiving Day, November 23, at Cramton Bowl in Montgomery, Alabama.

BOXING BRIEFS

SAN DIEGO — Rusty Payne, 182, San Diego, won a decisive 10-round decision over J. D. Turner, 220, Dallas, Tex., last Friday night.

HOLYOKE, Mass.—Jerry Maloni, 153¾, Springfield, kayoed Lige Drew, 150, Los Angeles, in the third heat, Monday night.

EDDIE MARCUS, 136, knocked out Nava Esperaza, 137, in the 9th round of the scheduled 10-round main event at Ocean Park Monday night.

Champ Joe Louis Boxing Despite An Injured Leg

NEW YORK.—Joe Louis, heavyweight champion of the world, now involved in picking up a few extra nickles while on furlough by meeting a few foes in exhibitions, and acting as referee for wrestling matches, has been limping through his engagements.

Lew Diamond, fight manager, who has been manager pro tem of the champ on the current tour, tells the tale.

"Down in Philadelphia last Sunday Joe was playing what he calls a 'spot of golf,' the champ having picked up the expression while in England. Anyway, Joe takes a terrific swing at the ball, and does something to a bone in his right foot.

The foot swells up to twice its normal size, and Joe can't get his shoe on. So he cuts a house slipper to shreds and wears that. We finally, by using one of my old-time remedies, get the swelling down so Joe can out-punch Jimmy Bell in three rounds in Washington Monday night. I tried to get him to call off the bout, but Joe said 'We can't disappoint all those people.'

"He was no better Tuesday night when he flattened Johnny Davis with one punch at Buffalo.

"The foot was a little better Wednesday night at Elizabeth when he went the full three rounds against Dee Amos, and he hopes to be in better shape for the rest of the tour."

Diamond said Poe is "putting on a great show,' 'and that so far on the tour has paid out of his own pocket for tickets for at least 2500 servicemen.

"He wants to stay the full three rounds in the exhibitions, to give the fans their money's worth, but a couple of the opponents got cute and tried to knock him out," Diamond said. "But Joe got 'em out of there pretty quick. He takes care of himself pretty good."

Joe Louis Jars Amos In Bout

ELIZABETH(N. J.) — Heavyweight Champion Sgt. Joe Louis, weighing 214, entertained crowd of 2500 at the Elizabeth Armory last Wednesday night by pounding Dee Amos, 210, of New York around the ring in a three-round exhibition.

Joe jarred Amos twice with left hooks to the head in the first round despite the fact that he was wearing 14-ounce gloves. In the third heat he closed the round with a steady 30-second barrage of blows to the arms and shoulders of Amos.

IN AIR FORCES

KEESLER FIELD, Biloxi, Miss.—having reported at Keesler Field's unit of the Army Air Forces Training Command, Pvt. Ernest Storde Smith, colored, son of Mrs. Annie Smith, 135 Dubber St., Ventura, Calif., is here awaiting reassignment to new military duties.

SOLDIER IS HERO

TUSKEGEE ARMY AIR FIELD, Ala.—Thskegee Army Air Field is pretty proud of one of its native sons who is an overnight hero—not from honors won in battle, but by virtue of his unselfish efforts in the recent train tragedy near Terre Haute, Ind., Corporal James Zollicoffer.

PHARMACY TECHNICIAN

HEADQUARTERS, EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS—Belived to be the only Negro pharmacy technician so designated and on active duty in the European Theater of Operations, is a 23-year-old registered pharmacist from Columbus, Ohio, Corporal Erwin Powell

GRID STAR—Hip-twisting, leg-shaking, side-stepping artist, Vernon Hicks, who plays the "now-you-got-me-now-you-don't" role on the Wiley Wildcat team, will be one of the many backs to thrill the fans at the Wiley Homecoming Game, which will be played at Marshall, Texas, December 9, at 2 o'clock p. m., against the Golden Tigers brigade of Tuskegee Institute.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

CALIENTE, Mexico.—Before a crowd of about 4,000 lovers of the sport of kings, Ronrico, in the Wellington Handicap at six furlongs, came from far back to win by three lengths. Backed 3 to 5, Ronrico gave his backers a scare going down the bach stretch when he was over five lengths back of the last horse. However, when Jockey Wilbourn gave him his head the race was over. His time was 1:11 3/5 and his backers received for a $2 mutuel $3.20. The secondary feature of the day was won by Valdina Cloud, paying $9.20. The favorite finished fourth. The daily-double paid $44.60, while the quinieia returned its backers $30.20. Rumors that Caliente would close was spiked by our generalissimo Eddie Nealis. He said that Caliente would continue to run every Sunday despite the rumors. He said: "I don't quit that easy; I have a great winter stake book and hope to release it very soon."

Judge George Shilling announced that he is working on a very attractive program of twelve races for this Sunday and expects to have some of the horses down from Hollywood Park to compete in the feature event.

Yancey Henry Wins Decision

BALTIMORE.—Yancey Henry, California heavyweight managed by Norman Saunders, won a ten-round split decision over the veteran Gunnar Barlund in the main event last Thursday night before a slim crowd of less than 1000.

ARNOLD WINS

New York — (Calvin's News Service)—Billy Arnold earned his 29th kayo in 31 bouts Tuesday night when he knocked out Bob Wade in three minutes of the second round.

Twice in the second round, weighing 170 pounds, in the second heat for a count of nine. Then when Wade clung to the ropes for support, Referee Jack Appel stopped the fight.

JOIN AIR FORCES

KEESLER FIELD, Biloxi, Miss.—Two former residents of Los Angeles, Calif., have entered the Basic Training Center at Keesler Field, a unit of the Army Air Forces Training Command, for several weeks of recruit drill.

Local Lighties To Head Card At Hollywood

Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium, Bobby Yeager, one of the brightest prospects in local fistic circles, will take on a clever and hard-hitting opponent in Nicholas Moran of Mexico City. The boys are lightweights.

A stablemate of John Thomas, the classy Yeager has shown marked improvement in every succeeding bout and his managers, Bert Lewis and George Tolson, are predicting a splendid future for the lad if he continues to improve. In moran he will be meeting one of the toughest opponents he has faced during his career. However, should he win, Bobby will be in line for several important bouts.

The prelims Friday night will feature: Manuel Zurita, brother of Champion Juan, against Ralph Lara in the six-round semi. The fours: Al Williams vs. Herman Graves; Lou Bernal vs. Henry Zamora, and Mickey Romo vs. Augustine Rodriguez.

Al Hart Stops Hal Blackshear

By Eddie Burbridge

Showing dynamite in both hands, Al Hart, 220 pounds of "He-Man," technically knocked out Hal Blackshear, 205, in 2 minutes and 20 seconds of the first round of their scheduled ten-round main event at the Olympic Tuesday night before an estimated crowd of 3500.

Referee Abe Roth stopped the bout when the thoroughly outclassed Blackshear had hit the deck three times, once for seven with a rightcross, again for nine from a left hook to the breadbasket and another right cross and again with a barrage of lefts and rights that folded the upstate lad for keeps. Although Roth stopped the fight Blackshear was out for about 20 seconds after the referee had halted proceedings. Hart was in great shape and looked classy in hanging up another kayo on his record chart.

Bobby Jackson kept up an unbroken string of victories in the scheduled six-round semi-wind-up when he stopped Paco Villa in the last heat. Referee Frankie Van ended the match after, 2m. 43s., when Villa was helpless.

In the fours: Augie Rodriguez, 113½, won a decision over Joe Rivers, 119; Hector McDonald, 152., knocked out George Rodriguez, 140½, second round; Fidel Aguillar, 127½, gained an unpopular decision over Stanley Jamison, 128; Julio Franco, 137, won decision over Sonny Hill (substitute for Torpedo Reed), 136.

TUESDAY'S CARD

Next Tuesday night, November 28, Fitzie Fitzpatrick, the hard-punching light-heavy who was recently kayoed by Watson Jones, makes a return to local rings, when he ties up in the 10-round main event against Battling Monroe, a new protege of Henry Armstrong.

Paul Lewis In Nod Over Slider

OAKLAND—Paul Lewis, Oakland middleweight and brother of former Light-heavyweight Champion John Henry Lewis, won a close ten-round decision over Chester Slider, Fresno buzz saw, last Wednesday night. The verdict was unpopular with the fans.

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

DID YA KNOW?—In college football last weekend Florida A. & M. trounced Clark, 14-7, and Morgan State College swamped Hampton Institute, 55-0 . . . Bert Lewis and George Tolson, managers of John Thomas, Bobby Yeager and other good ones told this Scribe Tuesday night that they will have an important announcement to make next week. We hope that it concerns Thomas getting his chance at Juan Zurita's N. B. A. lightweight title. Bobby fights a good boy in Nicholas Moran at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. If he gets over Moran the classy Yeager will be in line for a big shot at a nationally-known fighter sometime in the near future . . . By the way, this writer picks Yeager in Friday's bout . . . Al Hart certainly proved to a lot of "Doubtnig Thomasas" that he has the goods, in the quick workmanlike fashion he employed in disposing of Harold Blackshear Tuesday night. He put Blackshear, a very good boy, out of the running in the very first round. We hate to bring this up but when and if Al meets Turkey Thompson again we think that Turkey will be served again long before next Thanksgiving. Hart proved that his victory over the Turk wasn't a fluke. If Turkey had gotten up before the ten count that night he probably would have been living on borrowed time for just a little longer, for now we believe that Al would have cooled the local lad a little later anyway. It's going to take a mighty good battler to take Al and we can't think of any, so help us!

IT WAS KINDA good to see so many representatives of the Negro newspaper world on hand at that dinner at Cafe Society Tuesday night. This columnist has always contended that if we stop battling each other so much perhaps we can get our collective skulls together and fight in unity for the general good of the Race. The Lord knows that there are plenty enough things on the calendar to be fought for and won before the War ends.

IN CLOSING we give thanks for the many good things that have been accomplished by Race athletes during 1944. Little Buddy Young of Illinois has been the outstanding grid star of the year and is a credit to the entire nation, white and colored. Others have contributed much to the athletic world and we salute them.

Eastside Bulldogs Beat Torrance A. C.

Led by Willie Slayton, John Williams, Joe Black and Clarence Scott, the Eastside Bulldogs won over the powerful Torrance A. C. eleven, 19-2, last Sunday at Torrance.

Off to an early start after a 50-yard drive, Williams tore through center for 4 yards to score. Ernest Carter's pass to Black for 69 yards paved the way for Scott's pass to Harvey in the end zone for another tally.

In the last quarter Scott intercepted a pass on the 50-yard stripe and streaked to the 15 where Joe Black (ex-Jeff star) went off-tackle for 15 yards and the final score. Williams went through center for the extra point. Torrance was given a safety after a bad pass by the Bulldogs. Coach Bush Manson takes his boys to Van Nuys next Sunday to meet the City Slickers, Spike Jones' team.

HOME AND ABROAD

During this particular season of the year our thoughts stray far and wide. For the holiday spirit and spirit of giving tend to make us wonder about those who are less fortunate.

Yes, we will no doubt have many of the nice things people usually have at Thanksgiving and during the Yuletide—but how may we share it with those who, because of heavy hearts and sorrows brought on by this war, will be aware of this time only because it means their loved ones are missing from the fireside.

Suppose each one of us makes it a point to visit these homes where a cheerful smile, a hot dinner or just a greeting would help to brighten the countenances of the persons in that home and thus spread the Thanksgiving Spirit in a Personal manner.

Dear Sir: Just a note to remind you that I promised to write you if I noticed any changes in my luck ,and I wish to inform you that I have. Not only has things in general begun to show a marked improvement, but I think I have found the man of my dreams. I am very happy, and suggest others do as I have done, to find peace and contentment.—F. M.

C. P. Will I be happy with the man I want?

Ans.: A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that you will find that which you seek in this man and he will do all that he can to keep you contented.

L. Will I ever see my boy friend again?

Ans.: It appears to me that your friend will return on his next furlough and he will contact you as soon as he gets there. He is very fond of you and misses you.

M. A. What should I do?

Ans: I think you should follow your doctor's advice. For the longer you put off doing what is needed the worse you will feel. Don't play with your health.

L. B. Who changed the things in my room?

Ans.: My Psycho - Mentalist Crystal reveals the fact that some changes have been made in the arrangement of your room and belongings but no harm was meant. I suggest you simply look over the matter, as your landlady is responsible for some of these changes.

Dear Prof. Herman: I received the Hindu Charm Bag and find it a very useful article. I have already begun to notice a change in my business affairs and a profit as well. Thanks for recommending this fine bag to me. Sincerely your, E. W.

C. C. When will I marry?

Ans.: Marriage will enter your life according to your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet within the next year. Look forward to this change for it will bring you love and happiness.

E. E. Does E. have many sweethearts?

Ans.: I do not vision E. as being a frivolous sort of person. You can dismiss your doubts and suspicions of him for he is a true friend.

Mrs. M. W. T. Should I take this trip?

Ans.: Probing into the matter I find that the trip will offer you a solution to your many problems. You need the change also, and I think it will do you a lot of good to get away from your present surroundings for a while at least.

National Nurses Appoint Secretary

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Appointment of Mrs. Gwendolyn Samuel Bourne of this city as membership secretary of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses was announced last week by Mrs. Mabel K. Staupers, executive secretary of the association. Mrs. Bourne, appointed for a three-month period, assumed her duties recently, and will concentrate her activities on the current membership campaign of the association which extends through January, 1945, and which is aimed at a goal of 6,000 members.

LOVELINESS

A brighter shade of rouge may be worn effectively at night under the artificial light, than in the daytime.

Rouge should be applied with the lipstick, then spread smoothly and evenly with fingertip. If pomade is used, it is applied directly with the fingers.

A small amount of eye shadow enhances the appearance of the eyes, but never use so much that it is conspicuous. As the case with rouge, a trifle more may be added if necessary.

Your powder should always be blended to suit your complexion. Eyes may be made to appear larger by the judicious use of eye shadow in the upper lid. Never under the eye, and by the use of masque on the eye lashes.

The use of a dermatograph pencil to draw lines around the eyes, in most cases, is not recommended for street wear, as it is too obvious.

A woman with a long, thin face, should dress her hair low, and a woman with a round face adds height by dressing her hair

THE BLACK DRESS

The serene little black dress undistracted is a lovely way to look this fall for looking that way sometimes helps you to be that way. Accessories and jewels played down, your composure played up. New materials are black crepe satin or satin trim either side drapes or peplum. For the larger sizes nothing is smarter than a two-piece black suit.

Gloves are decorated with sequins. Headgears consist of pillboxes, berets and half hats beautifully done up in sequins, jets and feathers. They are chic and sophisticated.

Court Street USO

The Community Organizations Program Planning Committee met at the Court Street USO, 323 Court Street, at 8 o'clock p. m., Thursday night, November 16, 1944, to discuss program for Community night which is each Tuesday night in the Club. The talent from various clubs as well as the community at large.

Community night is expected to draw large crowds as the program should be outstanding because of the abundance of talent in the city and because of the great amount of interest being aroused in the USO program because of the new quarters.

Wednesday and Friday night dance nights are well attended. The 4908th Swingsters, who are led by Cpl. John Frazier, furnished the hot licks for the dance. The large auditorium lends itself very beautifully to entertainment of all kinds. Especially is it beautiful on dance occasions when all the lights are extinguished except the three large spots from the extreme north end of the auditorium and five spots directed on the bandstand.

The lights are soft and kind in tone and color, and the effect is almost breath-eaking. The Court Street USO is enjoynig large crowds and invites still large crowds of servicemen to their "home away from home."

BAY REGION NEWS

Long before the impressive services began, throngs of sorrowing friends gathered at the McGee Avenue Baptist church here for obsequies held for Mrs. Sarah Nelson Wilson, beloved wife of Rev. J. D. Wilson, pastor of the church, recently, during which Dr. J. P. Hubbard, pastor of Beth Eden Baptist church, Oakland, presided. Mrs. Wilson was a former New Yorker.

Mrs. Bessie A. Mack read the obituary. The resolutions were read by Mrs. Ivey Reed. Soloists for the occasion were Mrs. Aquilla Dearing and Alex Pilkerton.

Rev. G. R. Holmes, moderator of the General Baptist Association, delivered the eulogy. Brief memorials were given by Mesdames D. L. Crawford, president of Women's Work, and Mary Hubbard, both of the Bay District Convention; Dr. W. Earl Smith, secretary, Bay Cities Baptist Union; and Dr. Charles M. Hampton. Assisting also in the rites were Rev. John M. Dorn and Rev. Edwin Stovall. Surviving relatives besides her husband, Rev. Wilson, included her son, James Dee Wilson Jr., who was present for the rites from St. Benedict College, Milwaukee, Wis. A special van was used for the large number of floral offerings.

Mrs. Grace Temple on Russell street, the first Negro in the history of the school, is serving her second year as president of the Lincoln Grammar School Parent-Teacher Association.

Rev. Roy Nichols, pastor of the South Berkeley Community Church, was the speaker at the first meeting of the current school year.

Mrs. Ruth Meadows on Derby street, sister of Mrs. Temple, shares a similar honor in being the first Negro in the history of Longfellow Grammar School to head the PTA. She, too, is serving her second term.

Mrs. Frances France of Dayton, Ohio, succeeded Miss Ruth Acty, local girl, former kindergarten teacher in Longfellow. Miss Acty was promoted to director of the Lincoln kindergarten. She was the first Negro teacher to serve in this capacity in the city school history. This is her second term.

Miss M. Garrett of Kansas City, graduate student at the University of California, has been added to the Longfellow school Extended Child Care Center. She is assistant to Miss Bessie Osborne who heads that department.

"Thoughts on Thanksgiving" were given in response to roll call Tuesday, when Mrs. Grace Temple hostessed Book Lovers Study Club at her home on Russel street.

"Delinquency, Children and Adults," topic of the day's discussion, was led by Mrs. Christine Gibson. Mrs. Minnie Oubre, president, led current events.

Mrs. Lucy T. Johnson, new member, was given a grand welcome into the organization. Mrs. Ruth Meadows, guest, spoke highly of the club's activities. A brief memorial was held for the late Mrs. Sara Wilson, former club member. Mrs. Maggie R. Marshalo was program chairman.

A beautifully appointed cocktail fete marked the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Williams, recently, when they entertained at their lovely home on 35th street, Oakland. A hundred guests greeted the couple during the appointed hours.

Mrs. Dorothy McMullen, Oakland, is recuperating after an operation.

Mrs. Dorothy Marsh hostessed the Young Women's Auxiliary of the Berkeley unit of the Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps recently. The young women are training for the Delta Sigma Theta sorority jabberwock, under the direction of Mrs. Ethel Terrell.

The Patroness Club of Delta Sigma Theta sorority was hostessed by Mrs. Ethel Lewis at her home on 16th avenue, Oakland, recently. Present were Mesdames Ivah L. Gray, president; Lucy T. Johnson, Elmer Romine, Marie Lee and Miss Bessie Osborne.

Dr. and Mrs. Earl Lenear, Oaklanders, week-ended with the George Haskells in Merced.

Mrs. Jennie Martin on 44th street, Oakland, was hostess to the Bridgettes Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Isabel Haskell of Merced, former member of the club, was guest.

Recent visitors in this area included Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cameron of Menden, La., who were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Ocero, 2901 California street, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Cameron. The Camerons shared their visit with other relatives here, including a brother, Austin Cameron, a sister, Mrs. Mable Prestly.

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor on Dohr street entertained at a bridge luncheon recently. Prize winners were Mesdames Ella Pitts, Freda Franklin, Mable Foster.

Mrs. Mable Foster entertained at a dinner party recently honoring her husband, Jack Foster, Merchant Marine, home on leave. Thirty guests shared in the party.

The Monarch Bridge club, comprising a group of topnotcher bridge players, was hosted by Bill White recently at his home. Others present were Dr. F. M. Nelson, president, Dr. Earl Lenear, Messrs. A. A. Butcher, O. D. Allen, Meyer King, Bill Anderson, James Hinds, Noah Johnson, Beverly Barranco, Elmer Pankey, Roger Palmer.

• DEL MONTE USO •

The volunteers of the Del Monte USO in Montrey, California, are leaving no stones unturned to make its "Thanksgiving Feast and Pageant" a glorious day for the service men, at this, his home away from home.

Many letters have been coming in from the men at various camps who were once here for reassignment. Miss Ruth L. Redd, Directress, read the letters at the operating committee meeting last week. She has established a "mail from our man corner," where the volunteers and other GI's can enjoy reading messages from their pals once stationed here.

The Army Ground Forces presented an enjoyable show Friday evening, many of the principals being GI's who were actors in civilian life. The crowd present showed their appreciation by demanding encore after encore from the talented group. We extend our thanks to Major Piermont of the Special Service Group for this fine entertainment.

The Service Wives Club had charge of the "Harvest Home" Vesper Services Sunday, and it was an impressive affair.

"Family Night" movies on Thursday are still popular at Del Monte. Service wife, Mrs. Lewis, offered an "Adopt a Soldier" plan which was well received.

The "State Night" contest is attracting interest from the GI's, and will reach its climax on Saturday night with a "State Night" dance.

The "Miss Harvest Home" contest will close on Nov. 30th at a Harvest Moon formal ball.

Cast your name for one of the charming Junior Hostess entries whose names and pictures appear on the bulletin board.

Navy men enjoyed the Purdue-Navy football game on the air last Saturday. Many of them are former footballers from leading colleges throughout the state.

Remember, if you have someone in this area you want remembered for Christmas, send the name and station in care of Miss Spirit of 1944, at Del Monte USO, and a gift will be sent to your GI.

• AWVS NEWS •

Although it never rains in sunny California, Mother Nature gave us a down-pour of something and it did not resemble snow! But regardless of the weather, on Armistice day, there was a very beautiful parade on the Avenue. When it terminated at 45th and Central, most of the participants went into the AWVS Center, where they were served refreshments.

Also on this memorable day, the Ben Bowie Post 228, of the American Legion, purchased a $1,000 War Bond from Mrs. Clara Burleson, opening the Sixth War Loan Drive. Miss Ida Perry, our War Bond Chairman, is working like the proverbial busy bee, making this drive successful, as she has done in all others.

Plans are being made by the Chairman, Mrs. Nadine Bell, and her co-workers, for the annual Christmas party at the Center, for service men. In passing 45th and Central, you will notice a gift box in the window of the Center, which we are hoping you will help us fill, so our boys will know Santa Claus still lives. If you don't know what gifts a service man needs, send your financial donation to Mrs. Nadine Bell, 4501 S. Central Avenue.

Don't forget to write to those boys across the way, it will make their burdens lighter from day to day! Also remember, the more bonds you buy, the more boys you bring home sooner!

Pilgrim House

The successful Civil Liberties Meeting, sponsored by the N.A.A.C.P. last Sunday, featuring Roger N. Baldwin, drew an audience of 500 people, the largest number to attend a forum at Pilgrim House. In addition to the regular activities, Pilgrim House Forum holds its next public luncheon Dec. 6, noon, in honor of Dr. Jesse Barber, dean at Lincoln University and members of the Presbyterian Board or Home Missions (national). The next Sunday Vespers will be a tea and program, Jan. 14 by the Sun Lit Way Jr. girls; Rev. Maybelle Oliver, sponsor.

A FAIR QUESTION

HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

VICTIM AND GRIEF-STRICKEN FAMILY IN FATAL SHOOTING

No Motive Established at Grand Jury Hearing in Cal-Ship Worker Killing

The Grand Jury hearing in the shooting of 18-year old Gerald B. Edwards by a Cal-Ship guard Harry V. Mason occupied the attention of Los Angeles citizens this week. The inquest last week established no motive for the killing in that not one witness could testify that young Edwards had a weapon of any kind or made any attempt to escape the guard.

Edwards' mother, Mrs. Esther B. Gandy, originally of Boston, Mass., did not arrived from Evanston, Ill. in time for the inquest. Grief stricken, she could find no explanation of the most flagrant crime in the city's history. "Gerald's record was excellent," she stated. "As a youth he was interested in sport and dramatics and the gesture of throwing up his hand was probably a dramatic one on his part." His interests had always been the highest, his mother asserted, and his wife testified to the fact that the morning of his death they read "Thanatopsis" together. He had come from Evanston, Ill. last year to study under Dr. A. E. Richardson of San Diego in his dental clinic. He only recently began work at Cal-Ship, because he wanted to help his mother.

Edwards comes from a prominent eastern family, for his mother, Mrs. Gandy as the daughter of an early Boston preacher, moved in the highest cultural and religious circles. His aunt, Mrs. E. B. Parker with whom he lived on his arrival at San Diego, held a responsible position with the O.P.A. of that city.

The tragedy put an end to the few months of happiness which he and his young wife, the former Mary L. Morrison, spent together. They were married September 13, 1944.

Other members of young Edwards' family are his brother, Corporal John A. Edwards, U. S. Army Air Corps, somewhere in Italy, and Mr. John Gandy, stepfather.

The community is aroused over what is considered a most unnecessary death, and the N.A.A.C.P. is giving its support to see that the true facts will be brought to light. Fascism cannot strike down a fighter for democracy and its deeds go unheeded.

RESUMES PRACTICE — Dr. Henry A. McPherson, above, prominent physician and surgeon of the city, after serving 1½ years in the Army, was recently retired and returned to civilian practice. Entering as a 1st Lieutenant he was sent to Pennsylvania where he graduated from the Medical Field Service School. Later he was promoted to captain. The doctor was honored by being the only local Negro physician in active practice to be commissioned by the War Dept. He will reopen his offices on Dec. 11, 1944, at 3315 South Central avenue, the same location he formerly occupied. The phone number is AD. 7416.

BOY WANTED!

A job is open with the Carnation Milk Company taking care of the switchboard and late mail. The hours are from 4 to 8 p. m. or 3 to 7 p. m. every evening, six days a week. The position pays $100 a month.

Apply either to the placement office or to Mr. Betts, 639 N. Main, CA. 14131.

INSTRUCTOR—Miss Helen M. Hutchinson, graduate of Physical Education at Tuskegee Institute, class of '43, has become a member of the faculty of the Booker T. Washington high school in Atlanta, Georgia, and will head the department of physical education for women students. Miss Hutchinson excelled in athletics before her graduation, having won honors on the women's track and field team and is a former National tennis champion.

PLEASANT SURPRISE—U. S. Coast Guardsman Walter W. Davis, returned here from a 21 day furlough at his home in Chicago, jolly, joyous and jumping and raring to get back in the attack! Much to his surprise a huge turkey from his mother arrived in due time for his Thanksgiving dinner. The youthful 2/c Machinist's Mate spent 15 months in heavy active service with his unit on the Carribbean Seas, receiving only minor injuries. His mother, Mrs. Margaret Williams of 4547 Vincennes, is a war worker.

DEDICATION—James A. Atkins, Racial Relation Officer of the Federal Works Agency, dedicating the newly built $63,000 dormitory wings to the young women's dormitory at Dillard University. The Federal Works Agency appropriated this sum to the university to expand housing facilities for student nurses.

USO WOMEN PLAN HOLIDAY AND CHRISTMAS FOR SERVICEMEN—Committee chairmen and key volunteers of the Avalon USO met Monday to complete plans for Gala Thanksgiving and Christmas celebrations for the soldiers, sailors and marines stationed in the Southern California area. Hundreds of Los Angeles women and young ladies have volunteered many hours to help the young men feel at "Home." The Canteen, Information Desk, Jr. Hostess, Home Hospitality, and Hospital Committees met with executives from board and staff to complete plans. Rev. Russell Raises Over $1000 To Establish a Home for Girls

On last Sunday morning under the leadership of Rev. Clayton D. Russell, the Peoples' Independent Church of Christ launched a campaign to establish a much needed Home for Girls, that would accomodate in the main Negro girls. Rev. Russell dedicated his sermon to the girls of this community citing that at this time there were more than 40 girls who needed placement according to the figures released by the Probation Department of Los Angeles County.

He pointed out that there is definitely a lack of sufficient facilities at this time for the placement of Negro girls within the age ranging from 10 to 16. These girls need placement because of inadequate home situations and other problems. Within a boarding home or special school, where vocational training can be given.

Following a plea made by Rev. Russel the congregation contributed, in cash, $1085.50 to start the drive. An amount equal to that was also pledged.

Because of the experience the Independent Church has had in the last five years in maintaining a Boys' Home, we feel that it will succeed in the establishing and maintaining of this Home for Girls; however, it must be emphasized, that this Home is not for the Independent Church but for entire community. Rev. Russell asked the cooperation of Newspapers, Churches, Ministers, Clubs, and Civic Leaders and others who are willing to cooperate. Contributions may be sent to 1025 E. 18th Street, designating that it be used for the Girls' Home.

The Boys' Home is located at 915 E. 50th, licensed by the State of California and has a record of being the best Home of its kind in the State. It is the only Home west of the Rocky Mountains that accepts colored boys.

Rev. Russell stated in his sermon that the most neglected human being in Los Angeles is the Negro girl, and asked the public support for the future mothers of the community.

On the Sidewalk

c.a.b.

I SAW him seated first. As he arose to speak I did not attach great significance to his personality; but when the first tone penetrated the ether in Second Baptist Church, my attention was glued to the speaker. I did not want a sound, a rustling, or a whisper nearby to disturb my hearing.

To pass him on Central Avenue or any other street, one would look at Dr. Howard Thurman without placing any special emphasis on his appearance as it differs from other men, but as soon as one comes into his immediate presence, he becomes one great in spirit, of which the world today has so few.

Standing there on the rostrum Sunday afternoon with a background of white and dark men and a puzzled but thrilled audience of more than a thousand persons all with an expectant gaze fixed on him, Dr. Thurman launched forth with a message, or discussion, which I am sure either revolutionized or stymied the religious thinking of many of his listeners.

Often one hears the expression, "Black Culture", and the story of its origin in Africa before that period known as "Dark Africa". If there ever was, or still is, any such thing as "Black Culture" apart from culture as such, then I would say that Dr. Howard Thurman is the personification of it.

If I were a German of Teutonic origin and had been schooled by Hitler to the belief that I was the superior of all mankind and especially Jews and Black people, in my estimation, were swine, I would follow the example of Nicodemus who went to Jesus in the night seeking a remedy for his ignorance: I would seek the association of black men like Dr. Thurman and sit at his feet and learn something about the origin of life.

Now, I must confess that I am not capable of interpreting and translating into my own language Dr. Thurman's speech, which was the development of man traced through two and now entering upon the third revolution. In his analysis of world changes and scientific development Dr. Thurman pointed out that this earth was first considered the center of the solar system,

Couple Held On Murder Charge

"Don't let him beat me up like that; are you all going to stand up there and let him beat me to death?" These are the last words that fell from the lips of Hattie Williams, forty-four, just before her death on Nov. 16th, at 1036 E. 33rd St., the residence of Jesse Pullins and Perlena Pullins, his wife, who are both lodged in the County Jail charged with the murder of the Williams woman. This testimony was given by Robert Jackson, defense worker, and a roomer at the Pullins home, at the preliminary hearing which was held in Div. 4 of the Municipal Court last Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of the hearing the Court held them without bail, but Attorney Curtis C. Taylor succeeded in having Mrs. Pullins' bail fixed at $2500.00. Henry Johnson, another witness, corroborated Jackson's testimony.

The couple was held to answer on a charge of murder and must appear with their attorney on Dec. 6th for plea.

Mayor Opens Xmas Seal Sale Here

Mayor Fletcher Bowron yesterday urged all residents of Los Angeles to join the campaign to preserve health standards on the home front by supporting the Christmas Seal Sale of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The 38th Annual Seal Sale opened Monday (November 27) and will continue until Christmas.

In a formal proclamation, the Mayor pointed out the danger of an increase in tuberculosis is particularly great in time of war and commended the Tuberculosis Association for its effective work in controlling the disease in the schools, industry, and the general populace.

Ninety-three million Christmas Seals—returns from which will fight tuberculosis, heart disease, and other health problems—were received by residents of Los Angeles County in the mail in one day.

D. C. Employees Receive Awards

Two of the four Awards of Excellence made to Washington area employes of the Department of the Interior Wednesday, November 29, by Secretary Harold L. Ickes for inventions or suggestions for improving the department's home-front service were won by Negroes.

The Negroes were: Alfred L. Pace, head messenger of the Division of Information, whose legal residence is Albany, Ga., and William G. Brown, of Washington, a messenger in the Geological Survey.

Local Mass Meeting Hits Restrictions

A large and enthusiastic audience met in the Independent Church of Christ last Sunday evening and heard their leaders tell them to take their fight against residential restrictions to the United States Supreme Court if necessary to win.

"Watch your judges on the home front," advised Attorney Ben Margolis. "Those who put on their robes of justice and sit in judgment of their fellowmen, yet deliberately and hypocritically pronounced sentence against men and women for daring to build their homes where their heart's desire tells them to build.

"Judges of this kind are not fit to hold office. They should be dealt with politically. They should be removed from office. And you who are fighting these battles, keep on fighting. Go on from court to court. Go to the highest court in the land, to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary, but keep on fighting until you win."

John Cohee, noted radio commentator and columnist for The Daily News, stated he wished to be placed on record as opposing anything so un-American as relegating one group of persons to any one section of the city. He told how he had been approached by the leaders of the property restriction group and asked to block a Negro family moving into the neighborhood where he lived.

"I most emphatically declined," said Mr. Cohee. "And I've noticed since that Negro family has moved into that home, it has been improved just about 100 per cent in beauty and cleanliness beyond what it was when formerly occupied by a white family."

Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick volunteered his support in whatever aid he could give in this fight against residential restrictions. "It is the right of every American citizen, to live wherever he chooses," he said. "I congratulate you upon the splendid fight you are making to uphold that right, and hope you will continue to fight until you win."

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of The California Eagle, pointed out that the leaders in this restriction movement are motivated economically rather than racially.

"They are exploiting their own people, the whites," she said. "They are making them believe their property will decline in value if a Negro family moves into that neighborhood. At the same time they are collecting money from them to enforce these restrictions, and lining their own pockets with what poor dupes give them."

Organized Labor was represented at the meeting by Lem Parsons, CIO, who declared that Labor had gone on record not only as gladly integrating the Negro workingman into the Union, but also as defending him in all his rights as an American citizen.

"The right to build his home where he chooses is one of the primal rights of every American citizen," he said. "Labor will defend that right. In the future

ON THEIR WAY TO BERLIN—Somewhere in France (PPNS)—Negro invasion troops with rifles ready and determined intent splash ashore from a landing craft during the invasion of Southern France to wreck havoc with Hitler's hordes, who are fast being driven to the borders of their "Fatherland." The smashing and daring attacks of our troops on all fighting fronts and the enthusiastic purchase of War Bonds by civilians on the home front speaks loudly of the Negro's right to enjoy the fulness of the "Four Freedoms" that can only be preserved at the high cost of human life.

Interracial Groups Need Power And Money, Says Lester Granger

Lester B. Granger, writing in the current issue of Survey Graphic, expresses apprehension over the possibility that the creation of "interracial committees" may lull too many American communities into a flase sense of security.

While the mere existence of more than one hundred recently formed interracial committees or commissions indicates "a new and impressive concern" on the part of the American public, community leadership is still fumbling with various techniques in a new and comparatively untried field of efforts. Thirty-three of these groups have been appointed either by majors or governors, while the others have organized voluntarily.

According to Granger, many of these committees have been powerless to take any postitive action, largely because they have been without legislative status, and have had no funds

Police Seek Attacker

That more police protection is needed in some areas during the early morning hours when "graveyard" shift defense workers are returning to their homes, is borne out by the attack made on Wanda Howard, 23, of 277 E. 50th Street, last Saturday morning at 5:45.

As she walked toward her home on 50th Street, a man stepped from behind a tree with a gun in his hand, forced her into an automobile nearby and raped her.

Petitions for Fifty Seamen

With a goal set at 100,000 signatures for Los Angeles, and 100,000,000 for the nation, the National Negro Council announced this week the circulation of petitions asking President Roosevelt to grant a new trial to the 50 Negro seamen who were convicted recently for refusal to load ammunition at Mare Island Naval Yard.

Edgar G. Brown, president of the Council, is leading the fight to focus national attention on the plight of the men who were sentenced to from eight to fifteen years for disobeying an order which they maintained throughout the trial was never directly given, and never disobeyed.

DEFENDS WAITERS—Walter Gordon, prominent Los Angeles attorney was retained this week to defend over sixty of the waiters involved in the conspiracy to commit theft in Interstate Commerce charges levelled against 136 Stewards and Waiters on the Union Pacific. In a statement to the California Eagle, Gordon pointed out that he is a realist and not a dreamer. He stated that it is foolhardy to believe that the case is an easy one, since the FBI has been investigating and gathering data and evidence since February. It is his belief, he said, "that the technical features of the case are the most attractive point of attack for the defense."

2 Editors and Playwright To Speak

Patriotic Rally To-night Harrison St. School.

Two editors and publishers—Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, of the California Eagle and Al S. Waxman, of the East Side Journal—and an author and playwright, Samuel Ornitz, will be in charge of a patrotic rally to be held in the Harrison Street School, 3539 City Terrace Drive, this evening, Thursday, at 7:30 o'clock.

The purpose of the rally is to arouse people to the danger of the Fifth Column here in America. The central idea of the Hitler strategy is to "Divide and Conquer," states the announcement of the meeting. "The idea is to weaken the intended victims by stimulating and encouraging divisions and antagonisms among our people, pitting white against Negro, Christain against non-Christain, Protestant against Catholic, and native-born against foreign-born."

The time to destroy this menace is now. Every one is urged to attend this patriotic rally, and bring all who are interested.

There will be a muscial program under the direction of Miss Bashka Scherer. There will be a question and answer period following the talks given by the speakers of the evening.

Tuberculosis kills more residents of Los Angeles than all of the other communicable diseases combined.

FBI Exposes Dining Car Graft, Involving 136 Workers

One hundred and thirty-six stewards, assistant stewards and waiters working on the Coach Section of the Union Pacific Challenger operating between Los Angeles and Omaha, Nebraska, were disclosed today to have been secretly indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, charged with an elaborate and well-organized conspiracy to steal from dining cars moving in interstate commerce a substantial portion of all the money paid by passengers for their meals.

Named as co-conspirators not indicted were seventeen chefs working on the Challenger. The indictment climaxed an extensive undercover investigation by the F.B.I., with agents riding as passengers and working as members of the dining car crews, in collaboration with Union Pacific officials and investigators. Detailed information as to each defendant and his participation in the scheme was gathered by the agents before the investigation was terminated and prosecutive action begun.

Upon the return of the indictment, bench warrants were issued, and at a prearranged zero hour, scores of F.B.I. agents in Los Angeles, in Omaha, and on every train on which the defendants were riding—some in Utah and Wyoming—moved in and made the arrests simultaneously, in order to prevent

Negro Soldier On Forum Bill

"The Negro Soldier," epic drama of the American Negro's contribution to the nation's armed might, and written by the young Negro writer, Carlton Moss, who has just returned from a tour of the battlefronts, will be shown at the Downtown Forum on Sunday night, Dec. 3rd, at 8 o'clock.

Jack Weatherwax, noted lecturer and writer will do a commentary on the film, and elaborate on the role the Negro people have played in support of the war. Sundays night's showing will be one of series of educational programs scheduled for the Forum's Sunday night programs. Admission is free.

NO. 1 PIN-UP GIRL—Lovely Paulette Jacqueline Coleman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Paulette is a Santa Barbara high school grad and was a student at Los Angeles City College, taking a pre-nursing course. Doing her bit on the home front at the Signal Depot as a typist, Miss Coleman is considered one of the West Coast's most charming "Sum Maidens." She was born in Chicago.

Attorney Richardson Named to Bill of Rights Committee

Attorney H. L. Richardson, commander of the Ben Bowie Post American Legion was named as the statside representative to the committee being organized to observe Bill of Rights Week from December 10th to 15th. The appointment was made at a luncheon held at the Clark Hotel at which the Eastside Chamber of Commerce and representative citizens participated in a discussion of the Bill of Rights and plans to cooperate fully with the city-wide observations of the week.

Attorney Richardson was also named chairman of a committee that will alert the community on the substance and importance of the Bill of Rights. His name has been forwarded to Joe Crail, Bill of Rights chairman of Los Angeles.

Among those present were: William A. Nickerson, president of the Golden State Mutual Insurance Company, Leon M. Giles, Tax Accountant and Eastside Chamber of Commerce representative, L. M. Blodgett, of the Liberty Building and Loan Association, Leroy Ingram of the Eastside Chamber of Commerce, George T. Mosby, Frank R. Garnett, James R. Smith, the Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, Edgar G. Brown, of the National Negro Council, Dr. C. W. Hill, Charlotta Bass, editor publisher of the California Eagle, E. G. Lamar, Dr. P. Price Cobbs and Dr. W. A. Goodlow of Washington, D. C.

that heaven was somewhere above the moon and the stars and was presided over by a white man with a long beard. The angels were blondes and brunettes.

"There was no place in that first Kingdom for anything my color", said the speaker.

As time moved on and scientific changes moved with time, the earth entered the Second Revolution, and said Dr. Thurman, "During this period, in my estimation, the Darwinian Theory was a message from God."

Dr. Thurman did not take his audience back to the first chapter of Genesis and point out the biblical creation of man. He described Charles Darwin's discovery of man in his first form, living in trees and communing with his neighbors in tree language.

There was nothing strange or unnatural about this contention, for at first the dinosaur held sway on the earth; and in physical strength and cunning man was not his equal. By incident, man found his way out of the tree, into the cave, and eventually won the battle of possession over his enemy. And from this point, civilization was on the upward trend. But with its swift and fierce development, the seeds of greed, racial and national hatreds started.

The most potent development of Dr. Thurman's treatise on the origin of civilization was the Third Revolution.

"The stage is set for the Kingdom of God," he said.

This so-called second World War marks the turning point, or decision, in the affairs of civilization. Mussolini attempted to resurrect the Roman Eagle in Ethiopia. Hitler started out to conquer the world. China is trying to wrest herself from the clutches of Japan. The United States, Great Britain, China, and Russia have formed a mighty combination, 'The Allies'. Fighting by the side of these so-called white nations are the dark skin peoples of the world. Together they fight to preserve that civilization they started when they first came down out of the trees.

The stage is set, for the Kingdom of God comes echoing down the corridor of time. Truly the stage is set. Are the actors—those nations composing the cast—ready and willing to act out their true roll in the drama of present day civilization based on this theme, "I CAN NEVER BE WHAT I OUGHT TO BE UNTIL YOU ARE WHAT YOU OUGHT TO BE."

Looking towards India and its African possessions (acquired not by right of heritage). Great Britain must take stock of her co-relation to Japan and Germany in this present war. The United States must find a solution to the racial differences which exist within her borders if she expects to maintain her recently acquired position of the Number 1 nation of the world. Faith in her proposed solutions of world problems affecting men of all colors is dependent upon her finding the just and true solution to her problem involving ten million men of color within her own borders. The eyes of the world are upon us.

Among the twenty-one United Nations, Russia alone, the one and only nation that has established a rule: One God, the God of love. And respect for your fellowman, One creed, one path—the establishment of one nation for one people. And this is the foundation upon which the Kingdom of God will be established.

"There is a stirring among the masses from Mississippi to Shanghai," said Dr. Thurman. This unrest is ripening into a better understanding between men and nations, for they are the architects of the New Kingdom and their code, or key to the Kingdom, shall be, "THE THINGS I SEEK FOR MYSELF I GUARANTEE TO YOU!"

The Strange Behaviour Of Chee On Song

Chee On Song, owner of Chee Appliances, 2925 South Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, Calif., dealer in used washing machines and second-hand refrigerators, ran afoul of OPA price regulations today when he faced three criminal information counts filed against him in U. S. District Court.

The Chinese evolved a system, according to three complaining witnesses, whereby he sold defective equipment knowingly and when buyers protested he traded them another machine in replacement asking more money. The deals added up to violation of the OPA price ceilings, according to William U. Handy, chief litigation attorney for the Office of Price Administration.

Chee faces the legal wrath of Mrs. Milton Portwood, 186½ E. 48th Street, Los Angeles, Calif., Perfecto E. Munoz, 621 W. 3rd Street, San Pedro, Calif., and Mrs. James Garcia, 330 N. Gaffey Street, San Pedro. All three claim they became snagged in trades with Chee and learned a new meaning of the old adage, "Strange and wonderful are the ways of the Chinese."

LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

BALANCE NECESSARY

For a long time now, it has been apparent that the balance between the rise in prices and the rise in salary scales has been alarmingly unequal. The "Little Steel Formula," has exercised more effective control to keep wages at a frozen level, than have any of the price control measures, proposed and adopted, been able to do in the commodity field. While most things purchasable have soared sharply, wages have remained fixed. The War Labor Board has taken an unrealistic position on the matter of upward revision of the "Little Steel Formula," and stubbornly refuses to recognize that such an adjustment is necessary.

John M. Lee

The CIO, in convention last week called again for action to bring wage increases into harmony with present day living costs. The fifteen per cent increase allowed by the Formula is greatly inadequate to cope with the much higher percentage of rise in the cost of living. The AFL, in its convention in New Orleans, likewise showed concern about the disparity between living costs and wage levels. United solidly on this point, organized labor is directing its attention to on of the vital issues of the present and future.

It is obvious that the first attack must be against the members of the War Labor Board itself. The charge has been made, again and again, that the Board has refused to ask the President for a revision, and for this reason alone, serious consideration should be given to its fitness to continue to sit. The appointment of men who are capable of understanding the scope and purpose of the Board will be a signal victory.

INCREASED PRODUCTION

Another strong argument in favor of preparing for increased production in the post war period, is the forecast of what will happen to the income of the farmer if production is allowed to settle at 1940 levels, printed in the current issue of the CIO's Economic Outlook. The Outlook points out that one-fourth will be sliced from the farmer's income if production drops to 1940 levels and throws 10 to 15 million people out of work.

Showing the interdependence of various groups in the community, the Outlook says, "The upholders of the outworn theories and institutions have long been trying to split labor from the farmers, from small business, and from middle-class groups of all kinds. Recent election victories give new hope that common interests will overcome these efforts and result in real progress.

DID YOU KNOW?

Illness accounts for approximately 60 times more time lost per month than strikes, according to estimates made from government figures by the CIO Research and Education Department. Accidents at work caused the loss of about seven times. Remember that the next time you read a smear against labor in the Times or the Hearst Press.

FOR XMAS

There is nothing of greater value to supplement that Christmas gift you sent your favorite GI, than a pint of blood on deposit at the Blood Bank. You never know when he'll need it. During the weeks before Christmas, make a donation and help wipe out the fifty percent deficit that now exists.

THE NEW CENTURY

BY GEORGE JEFFERSON

The Negro is already posing this question—"What about after the war?" Just as the Internationalists, men of vision, look now for a just and lasting peace after the war, also does the Negro seek a just and lasting adjustment of his special problems. These two groups then have this much in common—they both seek ways now to mold a greater future. They each seek common allies who see the common problem and will work with them for its accomplishment.

What many Internationalists and many Negroes do not see is the irrevocable relationship between the two problems; a world peace and equality of Negroes.

The Negro in his fear of mass lay-offs after the war, anti-Negro hysteria, stepped-up discrimination and repetitions of the insults given to returning Negro servicemen after the last war, thinks his problem is unique yet from an internationalist point of view, does not world peace and cooperation mean stepped-up production and full employment? Remembering that Japan was denied racial equality after the last war, and the results of this denial, would he confer the same indignity upon our Chinese allies at the conclusion of this one?

Recognition of the Chinese as racial equals by the Caucasian nations would not only be a step forward, unparalelled in modern history, but would be a flat statement to all the peoples of the world that the United Nations at least acknowledge that there is a racial problem in world peace, and that they are willing to cope with it.

A man cannot be an Internationalist without believing this. He cannot visualize the greatest potential world market and, in the same breath, deny India and its four hundred million people a free and integral part of that market. The world has shrunk to such a size that these epochs in history have passed when one people can oppress another, and glut its resources without bringing economic ruin, not only upon itself, but also upon its neighbors.

Isolation and racism must go. The future world and its peoples must work together, cooperating for mutual advantages. The people of America must do the same. Their responsibility is to build such a strong and unified nation that never again will a Hitler be able to sneer, "the people of Ameirca are so hopelessly divided, they will never be able to fight." We achieved a miracle this time, and if we keep this unity and nurture it, there need never be a next time.

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

Home again, and glad to be back, are Lieutenant Charles Boswell, Sergeants David Cunningham and Clarence Dunn. The popular Los Angeles gents were among the first "localites" to cross the blue, serving some two years on foreign soil. Lt. "Chuck" Boswell has seen action with the engineers at Guadalcanal, Saipan and other noted battle points in the South Pacific. His present station is on the Hawaiian Islands, where he will return after enjoying a thirty-day leave in the States. David and Clarence, who were stationed for thirty-two months in New Guinea, are back for the duration. When their furloughs are up, they will report to Houston, Texas, for orders. The G. I.'s say that the South Pacific is a bit off the beam, so they are only too glad to get back to the solid Angel City civilization with their families and friends. By the way, David and Clarence have added full-grown mustaches to their general appearances. On the Gable order, ya know. . . .

Rounding out the Thanksgiving week-end, Vivian Statum had a few in for champagne cocktails and dancing following the annual feast. On hand were Glyde Grimes, enjoying furlough time, Alphonsine Paltrone, Jack Terry and Andrews, getting back into the swing of gay week-ends; the William sisters, Virgie, Novalette and Maye; Frank Dupas, enjoying his last frolic before departing for camp, and others of the "set," making gay chatter over the, (future), SC-UCLA football tilt for entry to the Rose Bowl. By the way, Saturday's game, which was the biggest event of the week, followed the usual procedure as far as the winning team goes, although the Bruins had their top-notch rooting section, ace card stunts and all. Caught a glimpse of Leola Beavers, along with Jean Watkins, cheering the loosers on. Chatted with Cookie Cook, who was all smiles, since she represented the winning SC crowd. By the way, her plans are definite for entering the Waves. She is scheduled to depart the fair city some time in January. Her destination will be Smith College, where she will take up study for becoming an officer.

The anuual Football dance, held yearly after the SC-UCLA struggle, took place this year in the club house of the Woodlawn branch of the YWCA. The affair was given in connection with the launching of the new YWCA college program. Logs were thrown on the out-door fireplace, and the club house was decorated in school colors. The juke box, newest addition to the club house, was chock full of the finest and latest in recordings, and the place really jumped, for the gang was all there. The Trojans, who by now, are notorious winners over the Westwood Bruins, were in the limelight throughout the evening, with Bill Cockrell, recent transfer from UCLA to the Trojan campus, enjoying one of his last affairs before taking up with Uncle Sam; Jessel Reid, jitter-bugging with Hayward, Westwood sailor; Jackie Carol and her better half chatting with friends, and the rest of the SC crowd.

FAREWELL GATHERING

Tuesday morning found Mrs. Clifton Russell (Sis Taylor) choo chooing to Tuskegee in a lower birth on the "Streamliner." She plans to see a bit of the dear ole southland while spending her belated honeymoon with "Rip," a cadet at the Tuskegee flying school. Annette Marshall honored the gay matron with a surprise luncheon Sunday afternoon. The affair was a real surprise, and all present had a grand time sipping egg nog, and enjoying the repast. Among those present, I took note of Jean and Liz Garrett, Puffy Houston, Joyce and Jerry Stewart, Weni and Marion Allen, Marcella Monroe, Phyllis Wilson, Halloway, Corinne Jones, Melonee Temple, Jane Criner, Pauliete Coleman, and Jane Hampton.

Sunday afternoon, the popular Orchid Girls staked their much-talked-of benefit matinee at the Plantation. As expected, the benefit was a huge success, with cigarette auctioning alone bringing in a lump sum of money. Leonard Reed, popular M. C., handled the auction. Proceeds from the affair will play a part in the Orchid Girls' annual Christmas affair for underprivledged children.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Vance Jones is home a-furloughing again. Has given up plans for entering the parachute troopers. Understand that there will be no middle isling for him and Nnta Hippard, 'till a later date. . . . Constant, is the Marilyn Williams-Ballenger Kemp combo. Could faint wedding bells be heard in the offing. . . . Just wondering. . . . Since we're over in Dan Cupid's territory, it's so whispered that Janice Brooks is proudly wearing Lt. Willie Patterson's silver bars . . . Arriving in town this week will be Mrs. Leo Williams Gross, Captain Carl Gross' better half. Leo is returning to the Williams abode in order to be with her mother and family when the "rock-a-by-baby-ing-it" takes place sometime during the month of April or thereabouts . . . Guess a few of you have been wondering why Lt. Bill Johnson spends so much time around LA. So happens that he isn't on furlough, but is stationed at North American Air Craft plant . . .

Sgt. LeRoy Beavers is in Scott's Field studying radio. James Whitfield is also studying at the same school . . . Johnny Weems departed for Keesler Field early Wednesday evening, after spending fifteen days with his family and friends 'round town . . . Dan Cupid scored once again, for Noreen Allen took her vows recently, leaving the great single realm of glamour debs . . . LA was minus Theron Kirk over the Thanksgiving weekend, for the keyed round Frisco and Oakland.

Charlesetta Strange and her local Wands will be meeting at the USO comes Friday night. The meeting is very important, so all members will be expected to attend . . . Alberta Dawson has just about completed her training for overseas duty with the Red Cross. Alberta crosses the blue as a personal secretary . . . The Hi-and Tri-Y of Manual Arts made the trip to the Ride-awhile Stables, in the early morn of Thanksgiving. After riding for two hours, the sub debbers enjoyed breakfast on famed Olvera Street . . . Lenord Grimes latest strip makes his a Staff Sgt. according to information from his one and only. Lenord is stationed somewhere in Italy . . .

'Til next week . . .

Women's Political Study Club To Open 13th State Convention

The Women's Political Study Club opens its 13th Annual State Convention, Thursday morning, December 7, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Betty Hill, Executive Secretary and Founder, will preside. Her annual message will be read at 1:30 by Esther T. Greenly, 3rd vice-president of the California Association of Colored Women. The women have streamlined their convention to a one-day session, in conformity with war time emergencies. A testimonial banquet in the evening will climax the occasion with Congressman-elect Gordon L. McDonough as guest speaker.

The morning session will occupy the business of reports, etc., of the convention delegates. At the afternoon session, two of the three divisions of the organizations activities will be presented. The Health Department, headed by Dr. Ruth Temple, as chairman, will be presented with Richard Hichman of L. A. County Tuberculosis Ass'n., and Dr. Leonard Stovall, of the Outdoor Life and Health Ass'n. At 3 o'clock, The Department of Education and Public Relations—Neosha Tatum, chairman — will be presented by J. Donald Wilson, Supervisor of War Production Training Department of L.A. City Schools. Mr. Wilson, who will be introduced by Robert Pressley, Principal of Jefferson Evening High School, will speak on "Trades and Their Benefits in the Post-War World."

The noon luncheon speakers are: Atty. Leo Anderson, State Central Committee Chairman; Atty. Thos L. Griffith, N. A. A. C. P. President; Atty. Murray Chotiner, State Assembly President.

Prominent speakers to appear at the Testimonial Banquet are: Jessie Williamson, National Committeewoman; Ray Haight, National Committeeman; State, County and City officials, Christian Associations, Urban League representatives and local business and professional men.

The three sessions will be held at Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith Streets, at 10:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M. The theme of the convention is "FORWARD!"

J. T. Gipsons Fete Friends At Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gipson, (he of columnist fame), entertained a few friends Thanksgiving Day at a marvelous turkey dinner tastefully prepared by wife Gertrude herself at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Grant Harris on East Jefferson boulevard, where the popular couple reside.

Guests present were: Rev. and Mrs. Harris, the Misses Lillian Lomax nd Baetty Scott, Mrs. Lomax and Betty Scott, Mrs. Edward D. Burbridge and Rev. John H. Branham.

The dinner was accompanied by all the trimmings and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Soldiers Feted On Turkey Day

Popular Villa Arlington, home of the Arlington Club, 3113 W. Adams Blvd., was the scene of a jolly dinner party Thanksgiving Day honoring several wounded servicemen now hospitalized at Birmingham.

The afair was given by Mrs. Martha Lambert, resident manager of the Villa Arlington, and her assistant, Mrs. Edwina King, both far from home and their families. They decided to share their turkey with some veterans who have been overseas and who also are far from home.

The boys were brought to the Villa by charming Mrs. Noble Sissle, of the AWVS. Music and dancing followed the dinner.

Mrs. Josephine Brown, chairman of the hospital committee of the Avalon USO, cooperated in making the affair a huge success.

Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. King were assisted also by Mrs. Reba Thayer, and the Arlington Club hostesses, Mrs. Carrie Collins and Miss Evelyn Randolph, of Philadelphia.

The affair was so successful and so greatly appreciated by the servicemen that Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. King resolved to give another such affair soon.

Wounded veterans who were guests were: Sgt. John White, Pfc. Erwin Marsh, Pfc. David Neal, Pfc. Erly Gales, Sgt. Ilee Washington and Pfc. Thomas Wallingham.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Would I could build a radio of such infinite power,
'Twould stretch its tentacles back through the aeons of time
And bring the "gay side" of mankind on sound-waves lost,
So we could hear Eve's laughter, Israel's march chant,
Lincoln's voice, our forebears sing:
Hear our own childish prattle; all past happiness, but press
The silent switch on grief and hate; tune naught but happiness.
(Especially written for "The Gay Side" by Harry Levette.)

I wonder, my readers, if you care to know what the beautifully, mysterious land of India is really like? A letter which I received from S/Sgt. William W. Robinson, somewhere along the Ledo Road in the China-Burma-India theatre of war, gives one of the most vivid descriptions I have ever read. Let me share it with you: "India in its quaint rustic way is very beautiful. Here among green trees—trees bare of their young tender leaves—trees with the parasites, strong vines growing therefrom—here there and there a cocoanut palm, a banana tree, wild orchids, cape jasmines,other fauna and foliage unrecognizable by one least a woodsman. Flitting from tree to tree and limb to limb, chirping, singing and whistling are birds of gorgeous coloring—a blend of colour designs, in such harmonious proportions that they would do justice to mi-lady's gown. There is to be heard the peculiar winding and unwinding sound of the locust, out of the eerie night—the unusual vocal rendition of the jackals—the grown-up meow of the wildcat.—A hiatus—India with its mixture of peoples, from the small brown man to the towering stature of the Punjab. The delightful and disarming beauty of some of its women—that is, when they are to be seen. Its cities are likened to the modern world, bordering on the savage uncivilized—the small towns and villages, with their quaint bazaars—where can be purchased everything from necessities to luxuries. Its narrow and standard guage railroads—traveling thereupon trains which remind you of junior's toy, given him at Christmastide—That is India." Do you like it? I think it is a masterful description—and I am thoroughly appreciative to Sgt. Robinson for sharing it with me, that I might share it with you.

DR. THURMAN SPEAKS . .

One of the most dynamic thought-provoking speakers it has been my pleasure to hear, is Dr. Howard Thurman, Dean of Religion at Howard University. Dr. Thurman, who was granted a leave of absence from the University, in order to help establish the Interracial Fellowship Church in Northern California, made the keynote address for the California State Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress at Second Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon. Speaking from the subject "A New Heaven and a New Earth," one of the statements which Dr. Thurman made, and which will stick with many of us for a long tme to come, was this: "The measure of a man is often revealed by the type of weapon which another man feels is necessary to use in order to destroy him." This is a deep philosophy—and you can only regret the fact that you were not numbered among those who were fortunate enough to have heard Dr. Thurman's wonderful discourse.

LAWYERS ATTEND CONFAB

Attorney Vince M. Townsend, Jr., left the city Monday evening to attend the National Lawyers' Meet in Chicago. Attorney Loren Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Miller preceded him to attend the conclave, also. Incidentally, the benefit affair given by the National Lawyers' Guild at the Plantation Club last week was a grand success.

ENTERTAIN FOR SERVICEMEN

Alberta Hunter, blues and swing singer of New York City, is heading an entertainment troupe which is bringing much joy and sunshine to our servicemen overseas. Others in her troupe are Mae Gaddy, who sings on the sweat side; Taps Miller, versatile jive-dancer and trumpet-player, both of New York, and the Three Rhthym Rascals of Chicago, composed of Ollie Crawford on the electric guitar, Leonard Caston at the piano, and Al Elkins on the bass. The boys say that our show-folk, who go far and wide to bring them happiness, are really "on the beam."

BRIEFS . . .

Congratulations to Mrs. Clara Faye McGriff who is the proud mother of a lovely baby girl. The little one has been named "Brenda Faye." We expect it will be a December "bundle from heaven" for Susan Gillette, who has everything that an infant could possibly need, ready and waiting.

Roy "Snake" White is the proud possessor of a brand new contract which he has signed with bandleader Artie Shaw for a tidy sum. White will do certain musical arrangements for the Shaw aggregation.

Charming Ida James is always in demand, so we are not surprised to learn that she has been cast in another Broadway stage hit.

Sgt. James A. Davis writes from "somewhere in Italy" that he is very proud of his unit, composed of 230 men, which is the only one of its kind, overseas, made up of Negro personnel. The men in his outfit are able to repair from the smallest to the largest planes which Uncle Sam has to offer, says Sgt. Davis, and they feel they are doing a real vital job to hasten victory. Other L. A. boys in this company are: S/Sgt. Malcom Fisher, T/Sgt. Robert Boyd, S/Sgt. Neville Goeings, S/Sgt. Austin Kitchen, Pvt. Major Whitmore, Cpl. Eugene Brown, Pvt. Harold James, S/Sgt. Alfred Quinn, S/Sgt. Richard Joel, Pvt. Lowell Stewart. We know you are doing a great job, fellows, and we are proud of you. Carry on!

Social Activities

Mrs. B. Jules Jackson Heads Doll League Charity Club

Mrs. B. Jules Jackson, better known to her business associates and intimate friends as Marion Brown was introduced to the Doll League Charity Club as their new president. She succeeds Mrs. Florita Ware. A very swank Installation Party was held at the home of Louise Beavers, 2219 So. Hobart, Saturday, November 11, 1944, with Rev. L. G. Robinson installing.

Other officers are: Vice-President, Mrs. Lottie Martin; Secretary, Mrs. Frances Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Marion Ford; Treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Brown; Sgt. at Arms, Mrs. Fannie DeMan; Reporter, Mrs. Margaret Wilkerson; Sponsor, Miss Laura Slayton, and Advisor, Mrs. Louise Beavers.

Prominent members are: Mmes. Clara Taylor, Irene Wright, Euvolda Morris, Florita Ware, Eunice Hutchison, Lola Griffin, Florence Walker, Hazel Moreland and Luela Bryant.

Final plans are being completed for the Doll League's Annual Christmas Tree for the underprivileged children. Already gifts have been sent to the boys overseas, and also gifts will be given to the "Shut-In" at various Army Hospitals. Baskets will be distributed to the needy to spread a little joy in their homes too. A check for $20.00 was given to the Folkes Murder case several weeks ago.

Because of you, our generous public, we are able to round out our year in a bigger way than ever before, and we want to thank each of you for your splendid cooperation in supporting our efforts. The more you help our organization, the more we can help those less fortunate.

Southern Belles Club Present Formal Dance

The Southern Belles Social Club recently had a round of social activities ending in a formal dance at the Elks Auditorium. Prior to the dance club members were hostesses to fifty friends for cocktails at the home of Madeline Davis, reporter, in 52nd St.

Amid a beautiful setting five hundred guests were entertained and club members were presented by Master of Ceremonies Raft. The members were beautifully gowned in a color scheme of black and gold. Sammy Franklin's Band furnished the music.

Following the dance fifty guests were entertained at breakfast at Woodson's on the Westside.

36th St. PTA

The regular meeting of the executive board of the 36th St. school P.T.A. will be held Wednesday, Dec. 6 at 2 p.m. in the school library. Mrs. Ernest Shelby will preside.

Tuesday, Dec. 5 is the next paper drive. Mrs. Pauline Alexander is in charge, and asks that everyone co-operate as well as they have in the past to help make the drive a successful one. Bring papers to the school or call RO. 0596 for pickups.

NOTICE!

The Hairdressers and Cosmeticians Association will hold its regular meeting Monday, December 4, 1944, at 8 p. m., at Henrietta's Beauty School. The meeting is important to all operators.

Miss Gertrude Booker, Class of 1944, is now director of Elementary and High School Music in Sherman, Texas.

Ceramic Art Exhibit Sun.

Connoisuers of the ceramic art, lovers of things beautiful and those seeking the unusual in objects suitable for Christmas gifts will be glad to know of the Ceramic art exhibit, Sunday, December 3. After a year or more of diligent toil and study, members of the Del Rio Ceramic Class will put on exhibition their finest pieces, at the Holmes Avenue School at 52nd and Holmes, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Under the tutorship of the So. California University professor Glen Lukens, members of the Del Río group have developed to a professional degree, the art of ceramic making. Ably assisting in the work has been Joe Ball, who has had creative assignments with the Walt Disney motion pictures studios. Some of his best pieces will be shown. There will be no admission charge.

Entertain At "The Anchor"

Mrs. Cynthia Gordon and Mrs. Emily Portwing were hostesses to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Medical, Dental, Pharmaceutical Association at "The Anchor," residence of Mrs. Portwig, on Tuesday afternoon, November 21st, 1944.

Twenty-three ladies listened attentively as Father Randolph Moore talked to them about the new Inter-racial Hospital, which is to be built at a cost of one and a half million dollars.

Out-of-town guests who expressed themselves as having spent a most enjoyable afternoon were Mrs. Wallace of Cleveland; Ohio; Mrs. S. G. Sealey, of Bryan, Texas, house-guest of Mrs. Grace Boswell, and Mrs. Sophia Teycer of Chicago, Illinois, sister of Mrs. Pearl Smith.

THE SCHOOL CHILD

One of the most effective sources of character building is clothing the young child. Clothing constitutes one of the basic drives for living. Therefore, it affords much in the acquisition of habits.

Appreciation of blends, colors, lines and artistic associations are developed within the scope of the child of less than one year old. Gessell considered this ability of the child to recognize relationships as evidence of superior intelligenc. Later investigations have suggested that this ability is really developed by parents who observe the desirable selection of clothing from the time the child begins to wear clothes, immediately after birth.

Table manners affect the care of clothing with children. In fact, correct behaviour pays its dividends to the child's wardrobe in every phrase of his activity.

The social reactions experienced by the child as the result of being dressed well or correctly dressed build his consciousness. He acquires status that later becomes an important part of his well-being.

Deliquent children are more frequently found poorly dressed than normal children. Many times the lack of organization and adjustment caused by improper and poorly kept clothing demoralizes the child to the extent that he assumes no responsibility for his actions.

Proper selection of clothing and careful laundering and storage will not only prolong the life of the garments but improve the appearance of the wearer. It is less expensive to adopt systems of handling clothing.

Many studies have proven that in the majority of cases the better pupils tend to be better dressed. Rather the grade averages and clothing have a generally high correction.

The well-groomed child is really more essential and element to society than the well-groomed adult.

FOUR HUNDRED HUNGRY KIDS WAITING FOR DINNER—The Elks Hall was vibrant with the eager anticipation of youth last Wednesday afternoon when four hundred boys and girls, members of the Deputy Auxiliary Police of the Newton Street area sat down to a turkey dinner with all the trimmings as the guests of the Newton Street police department. The organization is a character and citizenship building project modeled after Boys' Town in Omaha, Neb., which admits boys and girls to membership. The Lorenzo Flennoy Trio and T-Bone Walker provided the entertainment for the dinner. Lt. Roscoe C. Washington, War Activities Director, is in charge of the Deputy Auxiliary Police, assisted by Officer Walter Goodlow, co-ordinator; Captain H. A. Walters, commander of the Newton Street Division, is supervisor of the Deputy Auxiliary Police. At the guest table from left to right are shown: Lorenzo Flennoy, Herman Hill, Angel City reporter; Sgt. Stanley, Jimmie Marshall, Harold Stanley, proprietor of the Downbeat Cocktail Lounge; Police Inspector H. Nutt, Councilman G. Vernon Bennett, Councilman Carl Rasmussen, Deputy Mayor Cook, Councilman Allen, Deputy Chief of Police Eton, Walter Backstrum, Inspector of the Deputy Auxiliary Police of the Newon Division; Lt. B. B. Stein, City-wide Chief of the Deputy Auxiliary Police; Miss Sidney Ball, girls' activities supervisor; Carl Gross, Judy Rutherford, juvenile policewoman; Officer Ferdinand, Helen Jenkins, Officer C. Dickerson and Officers Bradley and Nelson.

Social Notes

Mrs. Martha Lamber and Mrs. Edwina King entertained with Thanksgiving dinner eight boys from Birmingham Hospital at the Villa Arlington. Mrs. Rheba Thayer, popular Red Cross nurse aide, assisted them.

Mass Gathering Battle Restrictions

The Home Owners Protectective Association joined forces with the Victory Committee and presented the case of residential restrictions against a coalition of real estate racketeers, Facists, and race baiters at the Independent Church of Christ last Sunday evening.

The well ordered plot to disguise the real meaning of the organized effort to renew and place covenant restrictions on all properties, all over the city, except in the so-called Central Ave. or Negro district, was unveiled by the Rev. Clayton Russell and others who appeared on the program.

In recent months Negroes have been ordered out of homes occupied by them for years because residential covenant restrictions had been placed on their properties.

The people affected by this local Facist uprising sought relief in the courts. The judges who heard these cases turned a deaf ear to the people's pleading before the bar of justice.

Without a doubt certain real estate grafters have formed a collusion with some people high up in political affairs not only to discourage Negroes in their pursuit of decent homes, and healthy conditions for the rearing of their families, but likewise to increase real estate prices on those who pay to keep Negroes out.

The real German people who are starving, bleeding, and dying today listened to this same sort of stuff when they were making their country a Hitler empire instead of a free country for the people who make up a nation.

"The very racism we are fighting to kill in the Axis countries is not different from that practiced here at home," declared the Rev. Wilfred Parsons before 200 persons at the Catholic University of American Forum at the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York City.

"It is we who have made the Negro and other people race conscious by the race consciousness we practice," he said. His basic defense against racism was the citation of the moral or natural law, "universal as human nature, before which all men are equal."

Negroes are fighting for the same freedom that others are fighting for, and they are seriously considering the planned peace of all the nations and peoples who are fighting as they are to defeat Hitler in Europe and Japan in the Pacific.

Like our Catholic brethren who recognize the equality of men, our army officers, our Congressmen, Senators, and all lawmakers must frown on conditions in all walks of social and economic life which makes one superior and the other inferior.

Men who sit in judgment over other men should first of all interpret the Constitution of the United States and be guided thereby. They should also remember and be guided by one other law given in a Book even higher than the Constitution of the United States: As ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.

Randolph Leadership Repudiated

Some years ago when the NAACP held its national convention in Los Angeles, the California Eagle boldly attacked A. Philip Randolph and accused him of misleading the Negro people.

His conduct during the late election campaign confirmed our accusations. In this most crucial election our country has ever held, deciding the fate of human beings not only in America but in the whole world, Mr. Randolph declared he was neutral! He couldn't make up his mind which candidate to support. So he said he would support none. Like a spoiled child he went off into a corner and sulked because every one wouldn't play as he wanted them to play.

But fortunately we Negro people, even those who professed to be followers of Randolph, are beginning to think for ourselves. We voted from 2 to 1 to 8 to 1 for our real leader, President Roosevelt. We showed by our vote that we believe the solution of our problem is a part of the total picture of winning the war and establishing a better world. We did a grand job by our votes for a permanent FEPC, full employment for all, and a new world following this war where there shall be freedom from want and freedom from fear.

Mr. Randolph's leadership is that of the blind leading the blind. Fortunately we Negroes have got our eyes open within the past few years, and we did not fall into the ditch with such false leaders as Randolph.

People Call for Permanent FEPC

Mrs. Mary Norton, (D.N.J..) chairman of the House Labor Committee said that the Bill establishing a permanent FEPC stands a good chance of passing the House at this session of Congress, if it is given the proper urging by interested parties.

Witnesses at the hearing held last week warned that unless such a permanent organization is established serious trouble will result during the reconversion period.

Mrs. Frances Saylor, white, of the United Electrical and Radio Workers, CIO, declared there would be many attempts made to break up the unions by segregating Negroes and white workers.

"But if it had not been for the Negroes employed in our war industries," said Mrs. Saylor, "the country could not have kept its armed forces supplied with ammunition and other needed supplies as it did."

No witness appeared to testify against the bill. But, as some one remarked, that does not mean that there is no opposition. It means simply the enemies of FEPC are holding their fire. Both political parties declared during the election campaign they favored a permanent FEPC. Whether or not the members of Congress, many of whom are "lame ducks," took the pledges of their party seriously remains to be seen.

The House bill is known as the Dawson-Scanlon bill. A similar bill in the Senate introduced by Senator Chavez has also been reported favorably by the Senate Committee. Congress will adjourn December 30, but if enough pressure is brought to bear upon the Senators and members of the House it, is hoped they will act on the bill before adjournment.

The Lords of the South Speak

The South is in conference—Let the rest of the nation remain silent.

The first order of business at the Southern governors' meet this month in Mississippi, states Gov. Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma, will be "equalization of educational opportunities for all citizens of the South."

Truly such an expression coming out of the deep South is not so much an expression, but a hope.

It is well known that the progress of the South has been retarded by ignorance. Black and white industrial workers are trained enemies. They are conditioned slaves, in order that they may be exploited by the land and factory owners for whom they slave.

Blacks hate poor whites and poor whites hate blacks. Neither, however, can give a scientific or even down-to-earth reason why.

Until this condition is remedied the South will continue a backward portion of the nation.

Now that these governors, the advocates of states rights, have spoken, we anticipate a New South as the first plank in our new world.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Los Angeles 11, Calif.
Dear Mrs. Bass:

I wish to commend you for the very wise and timely organization that you are sponsoring, "THE HOME OWNERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION." The meeting that you held at the Independent Church last Sunday evening makes the first milestone of a movement which I am sure all real Americans will support, not only to safeguard the rights of the minority groups but in a greater measure to protect those ideals which our country must preserve, so that she will not have cause to blush when she insists on the Four Freedoms for all peoples of the world.

I hope that you can find space in your esteemed paper to publish the following article that I wrote some days ago.

Very truly your,
J. Alexander Somerville.

"FOR THESE WE GIVE THANKS"

W. J. Wheaton Says

Here is a recent occurrence trivial in its inception, but which for the sane reasoning of San Francisco's city authorities, might have created a deplorable condition. In fact, a Hearst paper (The Examiner) exaggerated a common first fight between two Italian garbage collectors into the semblance of a race riot. It played up the incident to such an extent that the garbage collectors refused to serve the district without police protection. The story sought to give the impression that Negro hoodlums were terrorizing the district making it unsafe, not alone for garbage collectors, but citizens in general. Investigation by the police revealed the falsity of the story. There was a fist battle between one lone Negro battler and two sons of sunny Italy in which the garbage collectors came out second best. The Negro had a pair of skinned maulers as souvenirs of the fray.

There appears to be an undercurrent working to incite racial strife and it will take tact, courage and sane thinking to combat it. It is going to challenge the thoughtful citizens of San Francisco to keep the city... as it has been always... a city cosmopolitan, free from the virus of racial prejudice, uncontaminated with intolerance. This will take the combined efforts of all citizens, regardless of nationality, creed, or religion or partisan affiliation. Too much praise can not be given the Police Department, and the Department of Health of their refusal to be stampeded with the cry of "Race Riot" and "Hoodlumism."

We solemnly adjure you, our fellows, to use self restraint and tact. We know that at times it will be very hard, but when we show to the public that we are above noticing the petty things that are put forth to annoy, we show also that we are of a bigger, broader calibre than they.

In passing we hold up the mirror to some of our own shortcomings. It has been most noticable on our street transportation system, where, lately, a number of Negro men and women have been employed as conductors and motormen. The daily press through letters of a commending nature have been praising the efficiency and courtesy of that group of employees. But, sad to say, there has been a lack of cooperation to make that recommendation outstanding. A noticable factor is, that most of the colored men seem to think that is their perfect right to seek a flirtation with a woman conductor or hold some frivolous conversation with a motorman thereby obstructing the loading and unloading of passengers and delaying transportation, and thereby detracting from the efficiency of the employee. We often wonder if it is thoughtlesness or what. Very often we are inclined to believe that is is pure cussedness. An incident on one of the cars, almost convinced me it was the latter.

A half inebriated sailor boarded a car at Fillmore and Geary and instead of paying his fare and seating himself, sought to strike up a flirtation with the conductorette. She tried to ignore his presence, with frequent requests that he take a seat. But when she ignored his maudlin proposals he became insulting and abusive. When it reached the boisterous stage she stopped the car and signaled for the motorman (white) who promptly ejected the fellow, and turning to others on the platform said, "Any the rest of you who bother this girl will feel the weight of this controler bar, and that goes for any of you."

We mention this only and because we have made a fight to obtain for our Group the right of employment in the public transportation system. The efficiency of the employees is the determining factor in their permanent tenure of employment. We are quite sure that not one of us wishes to see either man or woman lose, the hard earned right of such employment through our thoughtlesness. But we should remember that the least complaint from one travelling patron will be used as a pretext to place the blame on the whole of the Negroes employed.

And: One thing more: The community will respect, or the public regard the effeciency of those who man our transportation vehicles just as we, ourselves, respect them. This specifically to the men in service.

We have been asked "who do you favor for the Spingarn Medal?" Our nomination would be the Editor and Publisher of the California Eagle (Charlotta A. Bass). Why? Because she has proven so outstanding in the field of journalism. She has converted a local paper to one of national influence. The paper, while loyal to the people it represents, has voiced its disapproval of injustice to all who are classed as minorities. The history of the Eagle is an interesting one. Brought with the fighting spirit imbued through it founder, Mrs. Bass, who inherited a forlorn hope which seemed destined for the journalistic scrap heap, stuck to the task she understood and has proven herself to be one of the outstanding characters in our national life. The California Eagle has made its impression on the national life by its unbiased championship of the rights, so called minorities. We are in full knowledge of the history of the Eagle and its present publisher and editor, And hope with the consent of the management to give a resume of its founder, who was a personal friend and associate in its early stage, its present editor and publisher and Joe Bass, who aside from being a personal friend was, also, one of the most capable newsmen in his time. In looking over some old files we came across some early dates when he wrote a column of "Comments" and in comparing, then and now, it started a flow of reminiscing. Long Live The California Aagle ! ! !

Deplores Housing Restrictions Now Prevailing in Los Angeles

The recent court decisions upholding restrictive covenant agreements, to prohibit the occupancy of homes by any one not of the Caucasian race, cause one to wonder if there is not a concerted movement afoot to force the Colored population of Los Angeles to live in GHETTOS or to leave them stranded for lack of homes.

Everyone, including the courts, knows that the sole intent and purpose of these agreements are to violate the Civil Rights provisions of the Constitution.

Balked by a decision of the United States Supreme Court denying the right to prevent the sales of home to persons not of the Caucasian race, ingenious lawyers and realty boards have drawn up covenant agreements to prevent the occupancy of homes by anyone not of the white race even though they own the property.

These covenants are so cleverly drawn up that the judge who upholds their enforcement can declare them constitutional even though he is fully aware of the fact that they nullify the Bill of Rights.

Those of us who have lived in Los Angeles for more than a third of a century can see the gradual disintegration of the cordial and harmonious relationship that has existed between the races in this city. Drastic and prejudiced measures, especially in quarters where Justice is supposed to prevail, will only serve to widen the breach. Certainly the phenomenal increase in population has created social problems, but these problems call for intelligent handling and if they involve legal questions, JUSTICE should be tempered by wisdom. Failing in this, the result can easily cause serious repercussions, the blame for which would have to be laid at the door of those to whom the administration of Justice is intrusted..

Speaking of social problems, it occurs to me that the whole world is in the throes of a social unrest in which peoples of all races are involved and for its solution black boys and white boys are mingling their blood in the morases of Leyte and on the banks of the Rhine. In the meantime, race prejudice in high places at home sabotage the very ideals for which they die. Won't it be irony to those who live to return, when they see the sign, "You CANNOT LIVE HERE" posted over the door of the homes that they have bought with blood and sweat and tears, and this upheld by a decree of the courts of the world's greatest democracy?

Wounds made by shrapnel and saber on the battlefield will heal with time, but scars burned into men's souls with the brand of race hatred will last forever.

Why not lay aside this hiding behind precedent is the trial of these cases and try them on merit, placing human rights above property rights? Because a precedent was set by a prejudiced court does not make it a law of the land.

Speaking of precedents, history is full of them. The first great precedent was when Satan made war in heaven. Then Cain made precedent in killing his brother, Abel, while Jacob established his precedent when he stole his brother's birthright, and in our day, the Dred Scott decision was a notorious precedent.

We do not decide murder, stealing and constitutional rights today by those precedents. The great precedent for which we pray is for a Judge of our Courts to rise up in the Majesty of the law and declare those vicious covenants contrary to the law of our land and detrimental to the morals of the American way of life—

"WE BESEECH THEE TO HEAR US GOOD LORD."

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

Have you ever been up in a plane? No? Well, the New York Post seems to be offering a special trip. The name of the plane is "Confusion" and its destination—"the land of Chaos." The price, you ask? Judge for yourself!

In an editorial on November 16, the New York Post professed its great "love" for our ally, the Soviet Union. However, afraid that the people of New York might misconstrue their intentions and policy, because the county they "love" is run by Communists," they made it very "clear" that not only don't they love the American Communists—they dislike them very much.

The New York Post supported Roosevelt in the last Election. That paper was the mouthpiece of the newly formed Liberal Party in New York. At the same time the Post did not like the idea that the American Labor Party, which they claim is "being run by Communists," SUPPORTED THE SAME CANDIDATE.

Members of the Liberal Party today, were once a disruptive part of the ALP, but cut out when their faction was defeated in the Primaries last year—blaming it on the "Communists."

After "explaining the difference" between the Soviet Communists and the American "brand," they go on with their song and dance: "Suppose you boarded a plane with other passengers, in Chungking, destination New York, and suppose the first 2000 miles of the westward route between Chungking and New York were identical with the first leg of the westward Chungking-Moscow Flight.

"On your first 2000 miles of the trip," went on the Post editorial, "you would have no worries, even though the pilot of the ship, the navigator, the radio man, the engineer, all were Communists. But once you reached a fork in the airways, with one lane leading to Moscow and the other to New York, once the pilot had a choice to make between flying either to Moscow or to New York, you and your fellow passengers would be a lot better off if the man at the rudder didn't have a preference for turning sharply north."

Then they likened the American Labor Party to such an airplane trip!

Of course, you can take that any way you like. AS I SEE IT, the implications in that editorial don't smell so good. It could mean that while the Soviet Union is our ally—and "we love her very much" says the Post—and while we owe our lives to that heroic country for keeping Hitler from conquering the world, until our boys got there to help—"We've got to watch the Russian Bear, unless she is to steer us all to Moscow."

When they are through playing with words, the Post ends up with "Our watchwords should be—friendship with Russia—and vigilance for Democracy."

What kind of Democracy do they want, when through the entire campaign the New York Post and the Liberal Party resorted to the same filthy red-baiting as the Hearsts, Dewey and other reactionaries?

AS I SEE IT, members of the American Labor Party, and the Communist Political Association are citizens of the United States of America. The efforts of both these organizations along with all other patriotic Americans have been exerted to help win this was against Fascism. They have fought for the kind of Democracy that will keep the swastika from the pages of our newspapers and the windows of our homes.

If we are to talk in terms of airplane rides — LET'S NOT TAKE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE UP IN THE AIR AND LEAVE THEM THERE! If our country is a member of the United Nations, let's not confuse the people with sly remarks that may be misinterpreted, about one member of the United Nations.

At this point of the war, when Victory looms high on the horizon, let's talk of the kind of Democracy we are going to build for a lasting Peace. Let's work together — Democrats, Republicans, American Laborites, Communists—Jews and Gentiles—Negro and white—Native and Foreign Born.

TOGETHER WE WILL BUILD THE PEACE FOR ALL TIMES—THAT'S DEMOCRACY

Ethiopia, Pulse of Another War

One of the chief powers of the human brain is the ability to associate and compare objects and events in terms of relative position and time. Resulting from this normal function have come many conclusions about people and the world which have elevated the process of living. Likewise with this function of the brain the tragedies of sorrow and disaster are loosed upon man arousing again fears of pending doom and ruin. So it is nevertheless, that we through this process are able to know the world about us. Sometimes it is that our deeper mind unconsciously thrusts upon our senses, associations of events which are alarming in view of previous experiences and their bitter results.

FUTURE SOLDIERS

Such an association struck me with lightning rapidity last Sunday morning as I looked into the healthy and alert eyes and beings of some twenty boys in early teens who are members of my church school class at Bowen Memorial. There they sat, or rather in a back and forth process as the individual boy so determined, active, eager, keyed up with mischievousness, despite the solemnity of the hour. They accepted me as one of the group and all in all give attention, but yet seized every opportunity for a boyish laugh or prank. I welcome their attitude for they felt a part of the discussion and not as subjects to be worked upon without any defense or redress. They are boys, carefree, imaginative and creative, but also the men of tomorrow who must even as those boys of yesterday are now, offering their health, lives and future for the selfishness and greed of older generations, that the world tomorrow might be free. Those very boys might grow up to be outstanding contributors to culture and civilization in various fields which they might select ministers, newspapermen, scientists, labor leaders, physicians, industrial workers and other creative or productive pursuits. The present bloody war and the millions of youth killed or maligned, associated with these lads remind me that they too might so end. But this association did not end with just a probability, for it continued to an association of cold blooded facts which are yet fresh in the minds of this era.

PRELUDE TO THE PRESENT CONFLICT

The clouds of this present war began to gather when the now forgiven Italians under the leadership of Mussolini and the unofficial blessings of the Pope State invaded the realm of Ethiopia. They annexed conquered territory to Italian Somaliland and in an embarrassed struggle finally subdued the gallant little kingdom while the world turned a deaf ear to the prophetic voice of the Lion and Judah. He forecasted that the invasion of this country would result in wholesale aggression and result in world wide strife. We who sat comfortably in our former official isolation and shrugged our shoulders, but now wail, and pray and mourn over our dead sons and brothers, wish with bitter regret that we had demanded of our State Department to act then. It is now to late to save the already dead, but eternal vigilance is demanded to save the playful lads who would grow as their brothers do today.

BRITISH REFUSE TO EVACUATE ETHIOPIAN

It was released in the press last Friday, that Ethiopa is once again in trouble with aggressor. Drew Pearson, reported in his column that the Lion of Judah has protested to the United States government against the British government for refusing to evacuate Ethiopian territory and that the British plan to annex the Ethiopian provinces of Harar and Ogaden to neighboring British Somaliland. To spiritualize his plea and expressive his appreciation for action, the Ethiopian Emperor sent with his protest his personal Bible. Here then is the association; with this present aggression in Ethiopia by the British, if the warnings of Haile Selassie are yet sound and timeless, another war effort and conclusions of this present struggle would begin within the next fifteen years. The boys who are with us now would be ripe for slaughter then. There is something eternal about Ethiopia, which has existed for more than three centuries, the Old Testament of the Bible and the chronicles of the ancient Hebrews are filled with its wonders. Ethiopia is the oldest Christian country in existance; the Coptic Church having developed there long before the advert of Roman Catholicism. Who knows, but that it might be that God in history has used Ethiopia prophetically, and that as in the immediate past, His wrath may fall upon those who invade her ancient shores as those who stand by mutely as others do?

Praise Pastor On 4th Anniversary As Head Of 28th St. Christian Church

In paying tribute to Rev. Walter J. Bryant for his spiritual and progressive leadership, the East 28th Street Christian Church at 28th and Palmoa St., is celebrating his fourth anniversary as pastor. One very commendable feature of Rev. Bryant's program thus far is the church has made three years advanced payments on their property without ticket selling or various types of entertainments. Our ambition is to liquidate our indebtedness next year through our present plan; sacrificial giving.

Our church is moving forward and we are enjoying increased fraternity and fellowship through spiritual leadership in the name of Christ.

Many of our friends and colaborers are helping to pay homage to this splendid pastor through the following program:

Sunday, Dec. 3rd—11 a.m. Dr. Cliford A. Cole, California State Secretary of The Christian Churches.

Sunday at 8 p.m.—Elder C. W. Arnold, formerly of Columbus, Ohio.

Tuesday, Dec. 5th, 8 p.m.—Elders, Deacons and Trustees night—Elder C. B. Tarrence presiding—cooperating Rev. Cannon J. Malcolm, St. Mark Christian church.

Rev. Lain C. Cleaves, and choir—Phillips Temple C.M.E.

Rev. Carrol B. Duke and choir—Avalon Christian Church.

Rev. M. Fredrick Mitchel—Cosmopolitan Christian Church.

December 6th, 8 p.m.—Sunday School, choir, ushers Board and Christian Endeavor, Elder Arthur H. Patterson, presiding. Rev. Hamilton H. Boswell and choir, Bowen Memorial Methodist church. Rev. Lloyd H. Galloway and choir, Lincoln Memorial Congregation church. Rev. A. Peters and choir, Victory Baptist Church.

December 7th, 8 p.m.—Women's Council, Local workers, Missionary Society and Prayer Band, Mrs. A. M. Dumas, presiding.

Rev. Mother Pearl C. Woods and choir—The Triangle church. Rev. H. Mansfield Collins and choir—Neighborhood Community Church. Deacon H. L. Saulter, chairman, Elder Elmer W. Faulkner, secretary.

REV. A. A. MOORE

At Vernon Neighborhood Baptist Church, of which Rev. A. A. Moore of Memphis, Tenn., is pastor and founder, and Rev. W. M. Elliot of Birmingham, Alabama, Ass't. pastor, the Grand opening will be held Sunday, December 3, 1944.

Order of Service are as follows: 2:30 p.m.—Evening Worship, 7:30 p.m.—Sunday Night Worship. The public is invited to worship with us at all times. Ride the V car to Ascot and Vernon Avenue.

CROWD ATTENING

Many are attending the special Sunday night and Saturday noon-hour services at the Wadsworth seventh-day Adventist Church at 40th Place and Wadsworth street. There will be a special sermon Saturday morning at 11:00 o'clock. Armageddon—The Coming Universal War will be the subject Sunday night, December 3, at 8:00 p.m. The public is cordially invited to hear the startling and important facts of this lecture and to see it on the screen. A sound motion picture will precede the Sunday night lecture, at 7:30 p.m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." This verse from Genesis will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Scriptural citation from Acts relates that "there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked: The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed, Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error." "God is not the author of mortal discords."

Ten Trees On My Street

By THE REV. C. TOWNSEND TUCKER
Organizer and Founder of the American Anti-Prejudice Society, Inc.
West Adams Between Arlington and Fourth Avenue

Since the creation of man, trees have occupied an important place in his spiritual and terrestrial life. Quoting from Genesis, God spoke to man saying: "I have given you every herb-bearing seed which is upon the face of the earth, and every tree in which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat."

When Eve and Adam committed the first sin, and knew that they were naked, they used the leaves of the Fig tree for their first garments.

Primitive man, observing the growth and death of trees, the elasticity of their branches, the sensitiveness and the annual decay and the revival of their foliage, anticipated in his own way the tendency of modern science to bridge the gulf between the animal and the vegetable world.

Sober Greek Philosophers thought that trees had perception, passions and reason. The beliefs of primitive man were part of a small stock of fundamental ideas which persist in one form or another over a large portion of the world, and have found a place in the higher religions.

In every corner of the earth there are numerous popular stories that reflect a firmly rooted belief in an intimate connection between a human being and a tree.

Man has utilized the tree for his various needs. Armies have surrendered under the spreading boughs of the tree. Jesus rested beneath the shade of trees to commune with his father and to teach his Disciples. Invading armies have used trees for protection against the enemy. TREES ARE MAN'S GREATEST ASSET.

I could say many things about the history of the tree that time and space will not permit—"But Only God Can Make a Tree."

As I was asked to give a short summary on "Ten Trees On My Street," I shall begin by giving you a short history of ten trees used in the landscaping of California cities and on my street.

You may know it, but most of our trees here in California are exotic. They were introduced into California from other lands. Owing to the varied climatic conditions existing in California, we have been able to acclimate trees and shrubs from all parts of the world. Men! like trees be strong—let us live together in Love, Peace and Understanding!

First we will discuss the Plane tree. This tree is used as a Street tree, and is prevalent throughout the state of California. The Plane tree is of a European species and is known as the European Sycamore. It is a deciduous tree characterized by bark that peels off in large patches, and by dense, maple-like foliage.

We have the native bamboo and the Japanese bamboo. However, the Japanese bamboo is more prevalent in the United States. The bamboo belongs to the grass family. The Japanese bamboo is a giant, ornamental grass, sometimes woody and tree-like. They are usually used in the landscape setting against walls and among shrubbery; by streams and naturalistic pools, and for screens along boundary lines. The Bottle tree which you frequently see in our street parking spaces, is a native of Australia. The name refers to the peculiarly swollen trunk. The Bottle tree sheds and puts on new leaves throughout the entire year.

The Hibiscus comes from many tropical climes. Our type in California comes from the Hawaiian Islands. It belongs to the Mallow family, the same family from which comes Okra and Cotton. It is common in all California landscape arrangements. It is usually grouped in sheltered patio gardens or in foundation plantings—grouped with other shrubbery. It blooms in varied colors during most of the year.

The Lombardy Poplar, whose stately and tall mass of foliage stands in the background of many California estates, is a native of Italy. Because of its symmetrical, columnar effect, the Lombardy Poplar has been much planted to accent street lines and boundaries.

The Bay tree or Sweet Bay, is a native of the West Indies, as well as a native from Massachusetts to Florida. It is an evergreen tree, with long oval glassy-green leaves. The dried leaves of the bay are frequently used for flavornig foods.

The Crape Myrtle is a Chinese plant. It bears large racemes of flowers, ranging from white to watermelon red. It is too individualistic to group with other trees. It is commonly used as a specimen tree, or street and avenue tree.

We have the Eugenia, which is common in every California landscape setting. It is commonly known as the Australian Bruch Cherry, and is a native of Australia. It is used in corners and entrances, and in foundation plantings, as specimens on lawns and as hedge shrub and windbreak.

The most common tree in California is the Eucalyptus. It grows up to 100 feet. It is rapid in growth, and many of the dwarf types bear beautiful flowers. The Eucalyptus is a native of Australia. Some of the less vigorous growing kinds make delightful settings for Spanish and Mediterranean residences. They are excellent shade trees.

The humble Hackelberry is a native of many parts of the world. It is found in Southern United States, Northern Canada, South Africa, East Africa and Japan. It is a wonderful shade tree. You may note the graceful Hackelberry that spreads its boughs over the entrance of the Villa Arlington, my home.

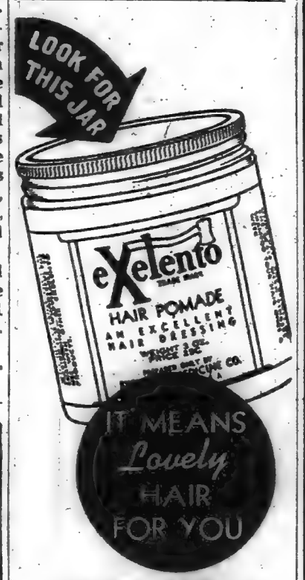
St. John Baptist Church Progresses

Slowly but surely the St. John Baptist Church, 2727 E. 1st St., under the capable leadership of the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, is marching on to certain victory. We have been organized just one month, but numerically, financially, and spiritually, we take our place with much older churches.

All auxiliaries are progressing steadily. The choir, only two weeks old, is singing gloriously. Our pastor, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, is preaching as never before. St. John sees its pastor as a "man with a vision"; we are supporing his extensive program wholeheartedly.

Come, worship with us in our beautiful temple; come, hear our spirit-filled choir; come, hear our dynamic pastor; come, mingle with our warm-hearted, friendly congregation. Come Sunday morning and enjoy a wholesome atmosphere of southern hospitality and Christian fellowship.



Noted Business Woman Dies Here

Mrs. Winona Barron McGinnis, member of a pioneer family in Los Angeles, passed away Monday, November 27th. Mrs. McGinnis was owner and operator of the largest beauty salon in the West Temple district. She was well known in many social and civic organizations and will be mourned by a host of friends and business associates. She leaves a bereaved sister, Miss Bessie Barron, registered nurse, well known for her church, health and community work; and a niece, Miss Elizabeth Jones.

Funeral services will be held Friday, December 1st, from the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, 261 N. Bonnie Brae Street at 1:00 p.m.

Mrs. Bishop Is Baha'i Speaker

Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop, internationally known Baha'i lecturer, who has been living for the past few seasons in Pasadena, will deliver her last Los Angeles lecture at the Baha'i Center, 1709 West 8th Street, Sunday, December 3, at 3 p. m., on "Knowledge and the Realm of Faith," before leaving to fill a teaching commitment in Cuba and Central America.

"There is," says Mrs. Bishop, "a tendency to a lack of balance in the modern system of education in the schools, with emphasis placed on one or the other of various levels of education, such as trades, arts and crafts; mental training for the professions and sciences; training for citizenship and social cooperation; moral, ethical and aesthetic culture; with only the Sunday schools devoting attention to the Reality of God."

The great world educator, Baha'u'llah, Founder of the Baha'i Faith, and bearer of the Word of God for this day, has enjoined the principle of the agreement between Science and true Religion, and has placed His accent upon education for the life of the future.

Wm. McCullough Lauded By Church

Mr. William McCullough, 5522 Holmes Avenue, who, as a Christian pioneer of this city, belongs on the roll of heroes.

For more than a quarter of a century this unassuming, and self-sacrificing church and community builder, has served as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Shiloh Baptist Church.

In this capacity he has been one of the chief architects in the struggle to bring this church from a membership of just three, to its present roll of more than 800 members. It was he who procured the rocks as a donation from the city with which the main auditorium of the present church edifice is built.

This is merely the spirit of the church to use this method to cheer the warrior, and to possibly encourage others; for Brother McCullough is much alive, and is on a business trip to Denver, Colorado, at this time. He may be there three or more months yet.—Per N. E. Moreland; C. L. Smith, secy; of church.

Words Without Music...

A MOTHER'S LOVE

By Erlea Doc Williams

If I live to be old and gray,
Please help my mother on her way,
This is my prayer through the day,
Gol Bless my mother, I pray.

Thank God I have lived to see,
What a mother's love meant to me,
Mothers always have sympathy and care.
And glad to see their children near.

A mother's love, wonderful to say,
One to comfort you, day by day,
Mothers will always do their best,
To see their children reach success.

The EAGLE BIBLE QUESTION CORNER

Conducted by
The Sweet Chariot Hour Bible Correspondence School
Address All Questions to
Eagle Question Corner
4075 S. Central Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new introductory Course of 20 lessons, divided into two sections of 10 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

What is the meaning of the name "Deuteronomy"? Is there a Bible writer by that name?—Mrs. B. L., Santa Monica.

The word "Deuteronomy" means "Second Law," or the "Repetion of the Law." "In Exodus, Leviticus and Numbers laws were given in successive installments, as occasion required; in Deuteronomy they were rehearsed and expounded to a new generation; with applications to new circumstances, houses, towns, cities, and settled life, rather than the movable wilderness camp, with modifications which the prospective change rendered necessary."

Please tell me where I can find the verse, "Cleanliness is next to godliness." I can't find it in my Bible.—J. P., Los Angeles.

No wonder you can't find it in your Bible, it is not in the Bible. This proverb is attributed to John Wesley, the founder of Methodism. However, the Bible does teach a great deal about the importance of cleanliness. Not only is cleanliness next to godliness, it is a vital part of godliness.

Could you give me some help from the Bible in the wording of prayers. I have difficulty in expressing myself.—M. C., San Diego.

There are a number of prayers recorded in the Bible. Reading these prayers and giving thought to them should be of help to you.

The prayers of Jesus: The Lord's Prayer—Matthew 6:9-13. Thanksgiving — Matthew 11:25-26. For His followers—John 17. In Gethsemane—Matthew 26.39. For forgiveness of His enemies—Luke 23:34.

Prayer of the Church in Jerusalem—Acts 4:24-30.

Stephen's Prayer—Acts 7:60.

Paul's prayer for guidance—Acts 9:6.

Solomon's prayer for wisdom—1 Kings 3:5-9.

Solomon's prayer for God's presence in the Temple—2 Chronicles 6:19-24.

Prayer of Joshua, the high priest—Nehemiah 9:5-38.

Prayer of hope in trouble—Psalms 42 and 43.

For the presence of God—Psalm 90.

Prayer of Penitence—Psalm 51.

To the All-Seeing God—Psalm 139.

When God seems far away—Isaiah 63:15 to 64:12.

Rev. Russell Raises Over $1,000 To Establish a Home for Girls

On last Sunday morning under the leadership of Rev. Clayton D. Russell, the Peoples' Independent Church of Christ launched a campaign to establish a much needed Home for Girls, that would accomodate in the main Negro girls. Rev. Russell dedicated his sermon to the girls of this community citing that at this time there were more than 40 girls who needed placement according to the figures released by the Probation Department of Los Angeles County.

He pointed out that there is definitely a lack of sufficient facilities at this time for the placement of Negro girls within the age ranging from 10 to 16. These girls need placement because of inadequate home situations and other problems. Within a boarding home or special school, where vocational training can be given.

Following a plea made by Rev. Russel the congregation contributed, in cash, $1085.50 to start the drive. An amount equal to that was also pledged.

Because of the experience the Independent Church has had in the last five years in maintaining a Boys' Home, we feel that it will succeed in the establishing and maintaining of this Home for Girls; however, it must be emphasized, that this Home is not for the Independent Church but for entire community. Rev. Russell asked the cooperation of Newspapers, Churches, Ministers, Clubs, and Civic Leaders and others who are willing to cooperate. Contributions may be sent to 1025 E. 18th Street, designating that it be used for the Girls' Home.

The Boys' Home is located at 915 E. 50th, licensed by the State of California and has a record of being the best Home of its kind in the State. It is the only Home west of the Rocky Mountains that accepts colored boys.

Rev. Russell stated in his sermon that the most neglected human being in Los Angeles is the Negro girl, and asked the public support for the future mothers of the community.

On the Sidewalk

c.a.b.

I SAW him seated first. As he arose to speak I did not attach great significance to his personality; but when the first tone penetrated the ether in Second Baptist Church, my attention was glued to the speaker. I did not want a sound, a rustling, or a whisper nearby to disturb my hearing.

To pass him on Central Avenue or any other street, one would look at Dr. Howard Thurman without placing any special emphasis on his appearance as it differs from other men, but as soon as one comes into his immediate presence, he becomes one great in spirit, of which the world today has so few.

Standing there on the rostrum Sunday afternoon with a background of white and dark men and a puzzled but thrilled audience of more than a thousand persons all with an expectant gaze fixed on him, Dr. Thurman launched forth with a message, or discussion, which I am sure either revolutionized or stymied the religious thinking of many of his listeners.

Often one hears the expression, "Black Culture", and the story of its origin in Africa before that period known as "Dark Africa". If there ever was, or still is, any such thing as "Black Culture" apart from culture as such, then I would say that Dr. Howard Thurman is the personification of it.

If I were a German of Teutonic origin and had been schooled by Hitler to the belief that I was the superior of all mankind and especially Jews and Black people, in my estimation, were swine, I would follow the example of Nicodemus who went to Jesus in the night seeking a remedy for his ignorance: I would seek the association of black men like Dr. Thurman and sit at his feet and learn something about the origin of life.

Now, I must confess that I am not capable of interpreting and translating into my own language Dr. Thurman's speech, which was the development of man traced through two and now entering upon the third revolution. In his analysis of world changes and scientific development Dr. Thurman pointed out that this earth was first considered the center of the solar system,

Couple Held On Murder Charge

"Don't let him beat me up like that; are you all going to stand up there and let him beat me to death?" These are the last words that fell from the lips of Hattie Williams, forty-four, just before her death on Nov. 16th, at 1036 E. 33rd St., the residence of Jesse Pullins and Perlena Pullins, his wife, who are both lodged in the County Jail charged with the murder of the Williams woman. This testimony was given by Robert Jackson, defense worker, and a roomer at the Pullins home, at the preliminary hearing which was held in Div. 4 of the Municipal Court last Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of the hearing the Court held them without bail, but Attorney Curtis C. Taylor succeeded in having Mrs. Pullins' bail fixed at $2500.00. Henry Johnson, another witness, corroborated Jackson's testimony.

The couple was held to answer on a charge of murder and must appear with their attorney on Dec. 6th for plea.

Mayor Opens Xmas Seal Sale Here

Mayor Fletcher Bowron yesterday urged all residents of Los Angeles to join the campaign to preserve health standards on the home front by supporting the Christmas Seal Sale of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The 38th Annual Seal Sale opened Monday (November 27) and will continue until Christmas.

In a formal proclamation, the Mayor pointed out the danger of an increase in tuberculosis is particularly great in time of war and commended the Tuberculosis Association for its effective work in controlling the disease in the schools, industry, and the general populace.

Ninety-three million Christmas Seals—returns from which will fight tuberculosis, heart disease, and other health problems—were received by residents of Los Angeles County in the mail in one day.

Citizens Respond To Race Bias Call

Local Mass Meeting Hits Restrictions

A large and enthusiastic audience met in the Independent Church of Christ last Sunday evening and heard their leaders tell them to take their fight against residential restrictions to the United States Supreme Court if necessary to win.

"Watch your judges on the home front," advised Attorney Ben Margolis. "Those who put on their robes of justice and sit in judgment of their fellowmen, yet deliberately and hypocritically pronounced sentence against men and women for daring to build their homes where their heart's desire tells them to build.

"Judges of this kind are not fit to hold office. They should be dealt with politically. They should be removed from office. And you who are fighting these battles, keep on fighting. Go on from court to court. Go to the highest court in the land, to the Supreme Court of the United States if necessary, but keep on fighting until you win."

John Cohee, noted radio commentator and columnist for The Daily News, stated he wished to be placed on record as opposing anything so un-American as relegating one group of persons to any one section of the city. He told how he had been approached by the leaders of the property restriction group and asked to block a Negro family moving into the neighborhood where he lived.

"I most emphatically declined," said Mr. Cohee. "And I've noticed since that Negro family has moved into that home, it has been improved just about 100 per cent in beauty and cleanliness beyond what it was when formerly occupied by a white family."

Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick volunteered his support in whatever aid he could give in this fight against residential restrictions. "It is the right of every American citizen, to live wherever he chooses," he said. "I congratulate you upon the splendid fight you are making to uphold that right, and hope you will continue to fight until you win."

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of The California Eagle, pointed out that the leaders in this restriction movement are motivated economically rather than racially.

"They are exploiting their own people, the whites," she said. "They are making them believe their property will decline in value if a Negro family moves into that neighborhood. At the same time they are collecting money from them to enforce these restrictions, and lining their own pockets with what poor dupes give them."

Organized Labor was represented at the meeting by Lem Parsons, CIO, who declared that Labor had gone on record not only as gladly integrating the Negro workingman into the Union, but also as defending him in all his rights as an American citizen.

"The right to build his home where he chooses is one of the primal rights of every American citizen," he said. "Labor will defend that right. In the future

D. C. Employees Receive Awards

Two of the four Awards of Excellence made to Washington area employes of the Department of the Interior Wednesday, November 29, by Secretary Harold L. Ickes for inventions or suggestions for improving the department's home-front service were won by Negroes.

The Negroes were: Alfred L. Pace, head messenger of the Division of Information, whose legal residence is Albany, Ga., and William G. Brown, of Washington, a messenger in the Geological Survey.

ON THEIR WAY TO BERLIN—Somewhere in France (PPNS)—Negro invasion troops with rifles ready and determined intent splash ashore from a landing craft during the invasion of Southern France to wreck havoc with Hitler's hordes, who are fast being driven to the borders of their "Fatherland." The smashing and daring attacks of our troops on all fighting fronts and the enthusiastic purchase of War Bonds by civilians on the home front speaks loudly of the Negro's right to enjoy the fulness of the "Four Freedoms" that can only be preserved at the high cost of human life.

Interracial Groups Need Power And Money, Says Lester Granger

Lester B. Granger, writing in the current issue of Survey Graphic, expresses apprehension over the possibility that the creation of "interracial committees" may lull too many American communities into a flase sense of security.

While the mere existence of more than one hundred recently formed interracial committees or commissions indicates "a new and impressive concern" on the part of the American public, community leadership is still fumbling with various techniques in a new and comparatively untried field of efforts. Thirty-three of these groups have been appointed either by majors or governors, while the others have organized voluntarily.

According to Granger, many of these committees have been powerless to take any postitive action, largely because they have been without legislative status, and have had no funds

Police Seek Attacker

That more police protection is needed in some areas during the early morning hours when "graveyard" shift defense workers are returning to their homes, is borne out by the attack made on Wanda Howard, 23, of 277 E. 50th Street, last Saturday morning at 5:45.

As she walked toward her home on 50th Street, a man stepped from behind a tree with a gun in his hand, forced her into an automobile nearby and raped her.

According to Miss Howard's

Petitions for Fifty Seamen

With a goal set at 100,000 signatures for Los Angeles, and 100,000,000 for the nation, the National Negro Council announced this week the circulation of petitions asking President Roosevelt to grant a new trial to the 50 Negro seamen who were convicted recently for refusal to load ammunition at Mare Island Naval Yard.

Edgar G. Brown, president of the Council, is leading the fight to focus national attention on the plight of the men who were sentenced to from eight to fifteen years for disobeying an order which they maintained throughout the trial was never directly given, and never disobeyed.

DEFENDS WAITERS—Walter Gordon, prominent Los Angeles attorney was retained this week to defend over sixty of the waiters involved in the conspiracy to commit theft in Interstate Commerce charges levelled against 136 Stewards and Waiters on the Union Pacific. In a statement to the California Eagle, Gordon pointed out that he is a realist and not a dreamer. He stated that it is foolhardy to believe that the case is an easy one, since the FBI has been investigating and gathering data and evidence since February. It is his belief, he said, "that the technical features of the case are the most attractive point of attack for the defense."

FBI Exposes Dining Car Graft, Involving 136 Workers

One hundred and thirty-six stewards, assistant stewards and waiters working on the Coach Section of the Union Pacific Challenger operating between Los Angeles and Omaha, Nebraska, were disclosed today to have been secretly indicted by the Federal Grand Jury, charged with an elaborate and well-organized conspiracy to steal from dining cars moving in interstate commerce a substantial portion of all the money paid by passengers for their meals.

Named as co-conspirators not indicted were seventeen chefs working on the Challenger. The indictment climaxed an extensive undercover investigation by the F.B.I., with agents riding as passengers and working as members of the dining car crews, in collaboration with Union Pacific officials and investigators. Detailed information as to each defendant and his participation in the scheme was gathered by the agents before the investigation was terminated and prosecutive action begun.

Upon the return of the indictment, bench warrants were issued, and at a prearranged zero hour, scores of F.B.I. agents in Los Angeles, in Omaha, and on every train on which the defendants were riding—some in Utah and Wyoming—moved in and made the arrests simultaneously, in order to prevent

Patriotic Rally To-night Harrison St. School.

Two editors and publishers—Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, of the California Eagle and Al S. Waxman, of the East Side Journal—and an author and playwright, Samuel Ornitz, will be in charge of a patrotic rally to be held in the Harrison Street School, 3539 City Terrace Drive, this evening, Thursday, at 7:30 o'clock.

The purpose of the rally is to arouse people to the danger of the Fifth Column here in America. The central idea of the Hitler strategy is to "Divide and Conquer," states the announcement of the meeting. "The idea is to weaken the intended victims by stimulating and encouraging divisions and antagonisms among our people, pitting white against Negro, Christain against non-Christain, Protestant against Catholic, and native-born against foreign-born."

The time to destroy this menace is now. Every one is urged to attend this patriotic rally, and bring all who are interested.

There will be a muscial program under the direction of Miss Bashka Scherer. There will be a question and answer period following the talks given by the speakers of the evening.

Tuberculosis kills more residents of Los Angeles than all of the other communicable diseases combined.

Negro Soldier On Forum Bill

"The Negro Soldier," epic drama of the American Negro's contribution to the nation's armed might, and written by the young Negro writer, Carlton Moss, who has just returned from a tour of the battlefronts, will be shown at the Downtown Forum on Sunday night, Dec. 3rd, at 8 o'clock.

Jack Weatherwax, noted lecturer and writer will do a commentary on the film, and elaborate on the role the Negro people have played in support of the war. Sundays night's showing will be one of series of educational programs scheduled for the Forum's Sunday night progarms. Admission is free.

NO. 1 PIN-UP GIRL—Lovely Paulette Jacqueline Coleman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Selby, who reside at 3673 Gramercy Place here, has been chosen by members of the famous 92nd Combat Division as their No. 1 pin-up girl. Paulette is a Santa Barbara high school grad and was a student at Los Angeles City College, taking a pre-nursing course. Doing her bit on the home front at the Signal Depot as a typist, Miss Coleman is considered one of the West Coast's most charming "Sunset Maidens." She was born in Chicago.

Attorney Richardson Named to Bill of Rights Committee

Attorney H. L. Richardson, commander of the Ben Bowie Post American Legion was named as the statside representative to the committee to observe Bill of Rights Week from December 10th to 15th. The appointment was made at a luncheon held at the Clark Hotel at which the Eastside Chamber of Commerce and representative citizens participated in a discussion of the Bill of Rights and plans to cooperate fully with the city-wide observations of the week.

Attorney Richardson was also named chairman of a committee that will alert the community on the substance and importance of the Bill of Rights. His name has been forwarded to Joe Crail, Bill of Rights chairman of Los Angeles.

Among those present were: William A. Nickerson, president of the Golden State Mutual Insurance Company, Leon M. Giles, Tax Accountant and Eastside Chamber of Commerce representative, L. M. Blodgett, of the Liberty Building and Loan Association, Leroy Ingram of the Eastside Chamber of Commerce, George T. Mosby, Frank R. Garnett, James R. Smith, the Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, Edgar G. Brown, of the National Negro Council, Dr. C. W. Hill, Charlotta Bass, editor publisher of the California Eagle, R. G. Lamar, Dr. P. Price Cobbs and Dr. W. A. Goodlee of Washington, D. C.

that heaven was somewhere above the moon and the stars and was presided over by a white man with a long beard. The angels were blondes and brunettes.

"There was no place in that first Kingdom for anything my color", said the speaker.

As time moved on and scientific changes moved with time, the earth entered the Second Revolution, and said Dr. Thurman, "During this period, in my estimation, the Darwinian Theory was a message from God."

Dr. Thurman did not take his audience back to the first chapter of Genesis and point out the biblical creation of man. He described Charles Darwin's discovery of man in his first form, living in trees and communing with his neighbors in tree language.

There was nothing strange or unnatural about this contention, for at first the dinosaur held sway on the earth; and in physical strength and cunning man was not his equal. By incident, man found his way out of the tree, into the cave, and eventually won the battle of possession over his enemy. And from this point, civilization was on the upward trend. But with its swift and fierce development, the seeds of greed, racial and national hatreds started.

The most potent development of Dr. Thurman's treatise on the origin of civilization was the Third Revolution.

"The stage is set for the Kingdom of God," he said.

This so-called second World War marks the turning point, or decision, in the affairs of civilization. Mussolini attempted to resurrect the Roman Eagle in Ethiopia. Hitler started out to conquer the world. China is trying to wrest herself from the clutches of Japan. The United States, Great Britain, China, and Russia have formed a mighty combination, 'The Allies'. Fighting by the side of these so-called white nations are the dark skin peoples of the world. Together they fight to preserve that civilization they started when they first came down out of the trees.

The stage is set, for the Kingdom of God comes echoing down the corridor of time. Truly the stage is set. Are the actors—those nations composing the cast—ready and willing to act out their true roll in the drama of present day civilization based on this theme, "I CAN NEVER BE WHAT I OUGHT TO BE UNTIL YOU ARE WHAT YOU OUGHT TO BE."

Looking towards India and its African possessions (acquired not by right of heritage). Great Britain must take stock of her co-relation to Japan and Germany in this present war. The United States must find a solution to the racial differences which exist within her borders if she expects to maintain her recently acquired position of the Number 1 nation of the world. Faith in her proposed solutions of world problems affecting men of all colors is dependent upon her finding the just and true solution to her problem involving ten million men of color within her own borders. The eyes of the world are upon us.

Among the twenty-one United Nations, Russia alone, the one and only nation that has established a rule: One God, the God of love. And respect for your fellowman. One creed, one path—the establishment of one nation for one people. And this is the foundation upon which the Kingdom of God will be established.

"There is a stirring among the masses from Mississippi to Shanghai," said Dr. Thurman. This unrest is ripening into a better understanding between men and nations, for they are the architects of the New Kingdom and their code, or key to the Kingdom, shall be, "THE THINGS I SEEK FOR MYSELF I GUARANTEE TO YOU!"

The Strange Behaviour Of Chee On Song

Chee On Song, owner of Chee Appliances, 2925 South Vermont avenue, Los Angeles, Calif., dealer in used washing machines and second-hand refrigerators, ran afoul of OPA price regulations today when he faced three criminal information counts filed against him in U. S. District Court.

The Chinese evolved a system, according to three complaining witnesses, whereby he sold defective equipment knowingly and when buyers protested he traded them another machine in replacement asking more money. The deals added up to violation of the OPA price ceilings, according to William U. Handy, chief litigation attorney for the Office of Price Administration.

Chee faces the legal wrath of Mrs. Milton Portwood, 186½ E. 48th Street, Los Angeles, Calif., Perfecto E. Munoz, 621 W. 3rd Street, San Pedro, Calif., and Mrs. James Garcia, 330 N. Gaffey Street, San Pedro. All three claim they became snagged in trades with Chee and learned a new meaning of the old adage, "Strange and wonderful are the ways of the Chinese."

LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

John M. Lee

BALANCE NECESSARY

For a long time now, it has been apparent that the balance between the rise in prices and the rise in salary scales has been glaringly unequal. The "Little Steel Formula," has exercised more effective control to keep wages at a frozen level, than have any of the price control measures, proposed and adopted, been able to do in the commodity field. While most things purchasable have soared sharply, wages have remained fixed. The War Labor Board has taken an unrealistic position on the matter of upward revision of the "Little Steel Formula," and stubbornly refuses to recognize that such an adjustment is necessary.

The CIO, in convention last week called again for action to bring wage increases into harmony with present day living costs. The fifteen per cent increase allowed by the Formula is greatly inadequate to cope with the much higher percentage of rise in the cost of living. The AFL, in its convention in New Orleans, likewise showed concern about the disparity between living costs and wage levels. United solidly on this point, organized labor is directing its attention to on of the vital issues of the present and future.

It is obvious that the first attack must be against the members of the War Labor Board itself. The charge has been made, again and again, that the Board has refused to ask the President for a revision, and for this reason alone, serious consideration should be given to its fitness to continue to sit. The appointment of men who are capable of understanding the scope and purpose of the Board will be a signal victory.

INCREASED PRODUCTION

Another strong argument in favor of preparing for increased production in the post war period, is the forecast of what will happen to the income of the farmer if production is allowed to settle at 1940 levels, printed in the current issue of the CIO's Economic Outlook. The Outlook points out that one-fourth will be sliced from the farmer's income if production drops to 1940 levels and throws 10 to 15 million people out of work.

Showing the interdependence of various groups in the community, the Outlook says, "The upholders of the outworn theories and institutions have long been trying to split labor from the farmers, from small business, and from middle-class groups of all kinds. Recent election victories give new hope that common interests will overcome these efforts and result in real progress.

DID YOU KNOW?

Illness accounts for approximately 60 times more time lost per month than strikes, according to estimates made from government figures by the CIO Research and Education Department. Accidents at work caused the loss of about seven times. Remember that the next time you read a smear against labor in the Times or the Hearst Press.

THE NEW CENTURY

BY GEORGE JEFFERSON

The Negro is already posing this question—"What about after the war?" Just as the Internationalists, men of vision, look now for a just and lasting peace after the war, also does the Negro seek a just and lasting adjustment of his special problems. These two groups then have this much in common—they both seek ways now to mold a greater future. They each seek common allies who see the common problem and will work with them for its accomplishment.

What many Internationalists and many Negroes do not see is the irrevocable relationship between the two problems; a world peace and equality of Negroes.

The Negro in his fear of mass lay-offs after the war, anti-Negro hysteria, stepped-up discrimination and repetitions of the insults given to returning Negro servicemen after the last war, thinks his problem is unique yet from an internationalist point of view, does not world peace and cooperation mean stepped-up production and full employment? Remembering that Japan was denied racial equality after the last war, and the results of this denial, would he confer the same indignity upon our Chinese allies at the conclusion of this one?

Recognition of the Chinese as racial equals by the Caucasian nations would not only be a step forward, unparalelled in modern history, but would be a flat statement to all the peoples of the world that the United Nations at least acknowledge that there is a racial problem in world peace, and that they are willing to cope with it.

A man cannot be an Internationalist without believing this. He cannot visualize the greatest potential world market and, in the same breath, deny India and its four hundred million people a free and integral part of that market. The world has shrunk to such a size that these epochs in history have passed when one people can oppress another, and glut its resources without bringing economic ruin, not only upon itself, but also upon its neighbors.

Isolation and racism must go. The future world and its peoples must work together, cooperating for mutual advantages. The people of America must do the same. Their responsibility is to build such a strong and unified nation that never again will a Hitler be able to sneer, "the people of Ameirca are so hopelessly divided, they will never be able to fight." We achieved a miracle this time, and if we keep this unity and nurture it, there need never be a next time.

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

Home again, and glad to be back, are Lieutenant Charles Boswell, Sergeants David Cunningham and Clarence Dunn. The popular Los Angeles gents were among the first "localites" to cross the blue, serving some two years on foreign soil. Lt. "Chuck" Boswell has seen action with the engineers at Guadalcanal, Saipan and other noted battle points in the South Pacific. His present station is on the Hawaiian Islands, where he will return after enjoying a thirty-day leave in the States. David and Clarence, who were stationed for thirty-two months in New Guinea, are back for the duration. When their furloughs are up, they will report to Houston, Texas, for orders. The G. I.'s say that the South Pacific is a bit off the beam, so they are only too glad to get back to the solid Angel City civilization with their families and friends. By the way, David and Clarence have added full-grown mustaches to their general apperances. On the Gable order, ya know. . . .

Rounding out the Thanksgiving week-end, Vivian Statum had a few in for champagne cocktails and dancing following the annual feast. On hand were Glyde Grimes, enjoying furlough time, Alphonsine Paltrone, Jack Terry and Andrews, getting back into the swing of gay week-ends; the William sisters, Virgie, Novalette and Mayo; Frank Dupas, enjoying his last frolic before departing for camp, and others of the "set," making gay chatter over the, (future), SC-UCLA football tilt for entry to the Rose Bowl. By the way, Saturday's game, which was the biggest event of the week, followed the usual procedure as far as the winning team goes, although the Bruins had their top-notch rooting section, ace card stunts and all. Caught a glimpse of Leola Beavers, 'long with Jean Watkins, cheering the loosers on. Chatted with Cookie Cook, who was all smiles, since she represented the winning SC crowd. By the way, her plans are definite for entering the Waves. She is scheduled to depart the fair city some time in January. Her destination will be Smith College, where she will take up study for becoming an officer.

The anuual Football dance, held yearly after the SC-UCLA struggle, took place this year in the club house of the Woodlawn branch of the YWCA. The affair was given in connection with the launching of the new YWCA college program. Logs were thrown on the out-door fireplace, and the club house was decorated in school colors. The juke box, newest addition to the club house, was chock full of the finest and latest in recordings, and the place really jumped, for the gang was all there. The Trojans, who by now, are notorious winners over the Westwood Bruins, were in the limelight throughout the evening, with Bill Cockrell, recent transfer from UCLA to the Trojan campus, enjoying one of his last affairs before taking up with Uncle Sam; Jessel Reid, jitter-bugging with Hayward, Westwood sailor; Jackie Carol and her better half chatting with friends, and the rest of the SC crowd.

FAREWELL GATHERING

Tuesday morning found Mrs. Clifton Russell (Sis Taylor) choo choo ing to Tuskegee in a lower birth on the "Streamliner." She plans to see a bit of the dear ole southland while spending her belated honeymoon with "Rip," a cadet at the Tuskegee flying school. Annette Marshall honored the gay matron with a surprise luncheon Sunday afternoon. The affair was a real surprise, and all present had a grand time sipping egg nog, and enjoying the repast. Among those present, I took note of Jean and Liz Garrett, Puffy Houston, Joyce and Jerry Stewart, Weni and Marion Allen, Marcella Monroe, Phyllis Kelson, Halloway, Corinne Jones, Melonee Temple, Jane Criner, Pauliete Coleman, and Jane Hampton.

Sunday afternoon, the popular Orchid Girls staked their much-talked-of benefit matinee at the Plantation. As expected, the benefit was a huge success, with cigarette auctioning alone bringing in a lump sum of money. Leonard Reed, popular M. C., handled the auction. Proceeds from the affair will play a part in the Orchid Girls' annual Christmas affair for underprivileged children.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Vance Jones is home a-furloughing again. Has given up plans for entering the parachute troopers. Understand that there will be no middle isling for him and Nnta Hippard, 'till a later date. . . . Constant, is the Marilyn Williams-Ballenger Kemp combo. Could faint wedding bells be heard in the offing. . . . Just wondering. . . . Since we're over in Dan Cupid's territory, it's so whispered that Janice Brooks is proudly wearing Lt. Willie Patterson's silver bars . . . Arriving in town this week will be Mrs. Leo Williams Gross, Captain Carl Gross' better half. Leo is returning to the Williams abode in order to be with her mother and family when the "rock-a-by-baby-ing-it" takes place sometime during the month of April or thereabouts . . . Guess a few of you have been wondering why Lt. Bill Johnson spends so much time around LA. So happens that he isn't on furlough, but is stationed at North American Air Craft plant . . .

Sgt. LeRoy Beavers is in Scott's Field studying radio. James Whitfield is also studying at the same school . . . Johnny Weems departed for Keesler Field early Wednesday evening, after spending fifteen days with his family and friends 'round town . . . Dan Cupid scored once again, for Norsen Allen took her vows recently, leaving the great single realm of glamour debs . . . LA was minus Theron Kirk over the Thanksgiving weekend, for the keyed round Frisco and Oakland.

Charlesetta Strange and her local Wands will be meeting at the USO comes Friday night. The meeting is very important, so all members will be expected to attend . . . Alberta Dawson has just about completed her training for overseas duty with the Red Cross. Alberta crosses the blue as a personal secretary . . . The Hi-and Tri-Y of Manual Arts made the trip to the Ride-awhile Stables, in the early morn of Thanksgiving. After riding for two hours, the sub debbers enjoyed breakfast on famed Olvera Street . . . Lenord Grimes latest strip makes his a Staff Sgt. according to information from his one and only. Lenord is stationed somewhere in Italy . . .

Women's Political Study Club To Open 13th State Convention

The Women's Political Study Club opens its 13th Annual State Convention, Thursday morning, December 7, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Betty Hill, Executive Secretary and Founder, will preside. Her annual message will be read at 1:30 by Esther T. Greenly, 3rd vice-president of the California Association of Colored Women. The women have streamlined their convention to a one-day session, in conformity with war time emergencies. A testimonial banquet in the evening will climax the occasion with Congressman-elect Gordon L. McDonough as guest speaker.

The morning session will occupy the business of reports, etc., of the convention delegates. At the afternoon session, two of the three divisions of the organizations activities will be presented. The Health Department, headed by Dr. Ruth Temple, as chairman, will be presented with Richard Hichman of L. A. County Tuberculosis Ass'n., and Dr. Leonard Stovall, of the Outdoor Life and Health Ass'n. At 3 o'clock, The Department of Education and Public Relations—Neosha Tatum, chairman — will be presented by J. Donald Wilson, Supervisor of War Production Training Department of L.A. City Schools. Mr. Wilson, who will be introduced by Robert Pressley, Principal of Jefferson Evening High School, will speak on "Trades and Their Benefits in the Post-War World."

The noon luncheon speakers are: Atty. Leo Anderson, State Central Committee Chairman; Atty. Thos L. Griffith, N. A. A. C. P. President; Atty. Murray Chotiner, State Assembly President.

Prominent speakers to appear at the Testimonial Banquet are: Jessie Williamson, National Committeewoman; Ray Haight, National Committeeman; State, County and City officials, Christian Associations, Urban League representatives and local business and professional men.

The three sessions will be held at Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith Streets, at 10:00 A. M. to 8:00 P. M. The theme of the convention is "FORWARD!"

Soldiers Feted On Turkey Day

Popular Villa Arlington, home of the Arlington Club, 3115 W. Adams Blvd., was the scene of a jolly dinner party Thanksgiving Day honoring several wounded servicemen now hospitalized at Birmingham.

The afair was given by Mrs. Martha Lambert, resident manager of the Villa Arlington, and her assistant, Mrs. Edwina King, both far from home and their families. They decided to share their turkey with some veterans who have been overseas and who also are far from home.

The boys were brought to the Villa by charming Mrs. Noble Sissle, of the AWVS. Music and dancing followed the dinner.

Mrs. Josephine Brown, chairman of the hospital committee of the Avalon USO, cooperated in making the affair a huge success.

Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. King were assisted also by Mrs. Reba Thayer, and the Arlington Club hostesses, Mrs. Carrie Collins and Miss Evelyn Randolph, of Philadelphia.

The affair was so successful and so greatly appreciated by the servicemen that Mrs. Lambert and Mrs. King resolved to give another such affair soon.

Wounded veterans who were guests were: Sgt. John White, Pfc. Erwin Marsh, Pfc. David Neal, Pfc. Erly Gales, Sgt. Ilee Washington and Pfc. Thomas Wallingham.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Would I could build a radio of such infinite power,
'Twould stretch its tentacles back through the aeons of time
And bring the "gay side" of mankind on sound-waves lost,
So we could hear Eve's laughter, Israel's march chant,
Lincoln's voice, our forebears sing:
Hear our own childish prattle; all past happiness, but press
The silent switch on grief and hate; tune naught but happiness.
(Especially written for "The Gay Side" by Harry Levette.)

I wonder, my readers, if you care to know what the beautifully, mysterious land of India is really like? A letter which I received from S/Sgt. William W. Robinson, somewhere along the Ledo Road in the China-Burma-India theatre of war, gives one of the most vivid descriptions I have ever read. Let me share it with you: "India in its quaint rustic way is very beautiful. Here among green trees—trees bare of their young tender leaves—trees with the parasites, strong vines growing therefrom—here here and there a cocoanut palm, a banana tree, wild orchids, cape jasmines,other fauna and foliage unrecognizable by one least a woodsman. Flitting from tree to tree and limb to limb, chirping, singing and whistling are birds of gorgeous coloring—a blend of colour designs, in such harmonious proportions that they would do justice to mi-lady's gown. There is to be heard the peculiar winding and unwinding sound of the locust, out of the eerie night—the unusual vocal rendition of the jackals—the grown-up meow of the wildcat.—A hiatus—India with its mixture of peoples, from the small brown man to the towering stature of the Punjab. The delightful and disarming beauty of some of its women—that is, when they are to be seen. Its cities are likened to the modern world, bordering on the savage uncivilized—the small towns and villages, with their quaint bazaars—where can be purchased everything from necessities to luxuries. Its narrow and standard guage railroads—traveling thereupon trains which remind you of junior's toy, given him at Christmastide—That is India." Do you like it? I think it is a masterful description—and I am thoroughly appreciative to Sgt. Robinson for sharing it with me, that I might share it with you.

DR. THURMAN SPEAKS . .

One of the most dynamic thought-provoking speakers it has been my pleasure to hear, is Dr. Howard Thurman, Dean of Religion at Howard University. Dr. Thurman, who was granted a leave of absence from the University, in order to help establish the Interracial Fellowship Church in Northern California, made the keynote address for the California State Sunday School and B.T.U. Congress at Second Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon. Speaking from the subject "A New Heaven and a New Earth," one of the statements which Dr. Thurman made, and which will stick with many of us for a long tme to come, was this: "The measure of a man is often revealed by the type of weapon which another man feels is necessary to use in order to destroy him." This is a deep philosophy—and you can only regret the fact that you were not numbered among those who were fortunate enough to have heard Dr. Thurman's wonderful discourse.

LAWYERS ATTEND CONFAB

Attorney Vince M. Townsend, Jr., left the city Monday evening to attend the National Lawyers' Meet in Chicago. Attorney Loren Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Miller preceded him to attend the conclave, also. Incidentally, the benefit affair given by the National Lawyers' Guild at the Plantation Club last week was a grand success.

ENTERTAIN FOR SERVICEMEN

Alberta Hunter, blues and swing singer of New York City, is heading an entertainment troupe which is bringing much joy and sunshine to our servicemen overseas. Others in her troupe are Mae Gaddy, who sings on the sweat side; Taps Miller, versatile jive-dancer and trumpet-player, both of New York, and the Three Rhthym Rascals of Chicago, composed of Ollie Crawford on the electric guitar, Leonard Caston at the piano, and Al Elkins on the bass. The boys say that our show-folk, who go far and wide to bring them happiness, are really "on the beam."

BRIEFS . . .

Congratulations to Mrs. Clara Faye McGriff who is the proud mother of a lovely baby girl. The little one has been named "Brenda Faye." We expect it will be a December "bundle from heaven" for Susan Gillette, who has everything that an infant could possibly need, ready and waiting.

Roy "Snake" White is the proud possessor of a brand new contract which he has signed with bandleader Artie Shaw for a tidy sum. White will do certain musical arrangements for the Shaw aggregation.

Charming Ida James is always in demand, so we are not surprised to learn that she has been cast in another Broadway stage hit.

Sgt. James A. Davis writes from "somewhere in Italy" that he is very proud of his unit, composed of 230 men, which is the only one of its kind, overseas, made up of Negro personnel. The men in his outfit are able to repair from the smallest to the largest planes which Uncle Sam has to offer, says Sgt. Davis, and they feel they are doing a real vital job to hasten victory. Other L. A. boys in this company are: S/Sgt. Malcom Fisher, T/Sgt. Robert Boyd, S/Sgt. Neville Goeings, S/Sgt. Austin Kitchen, Pvt. Major Whitmore, Cpl. Eugene Brown, Pvt. Harold James, S/Sgt. Alfred Quinn, S/Sgt. Richard Joel, Pvt. Lowell Stewart. We know you are doing a great job, fellows, and we are proud of you. Carry on!

Mrs. B. Jules Jackson Heads Doll League Charity Club

Mrs. B. Jules Jackson, better known to her business associates and intimate friends as Marion Brown was introduced to the Doll League Charity Club as their new president. She succeeds Mrs. Florita Ware. A very swank Installation Party was held at the home of Louise Beavers, 2219 So. Hobart, Saturday, November 11, 1944, with Rev. L. G. Robinson installing.

Other officers are: Vice-President, Mrs. Lottie Martin; Secretary, Mrs. Frances Smith; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Marion Ford; Treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Brown; Sgt. at Arms, Mrs. Fannie DeMan; Reporter, Mrs. Margaret Wilkerson; Sponsor, Miss Laura Slayton, and Advisor, Mrs. Louise Beavers.

Prominent members are: Mmes. Clara Taylor, Irene Wright, Euvolda Morris, Florita Ware, Eunice Hutchison, Lola Griffin, Florence Walker, Hazel Moreland and Luela Bryant.

Final plans are being completed for the Doll League's Annual Christmas Tree for the underprivileged children. Already gifts have been sent to the boys overseas, and also gifts will be given to the "Shut-In" at various Army Hospitals. Baskets will be distributed to the needy to spread a little joy in their homes too. A check for $20.00 was given to the Folkes Murder case several weeks ago.

Because of you, our generous public, we are able to round out our year in a bigger way than ever before, and we want to thank each of you for your splendid cooperation in supporting our efforts. The more you help our organization, the more we can help those less fortunate.

Southern Belles Club Present Formal Dance

The Southern Belles Social Club recently had a round of social activities ending in a formal dance at the Elks Auditorium. Prior to the dance club members were hostesses to fifty friends for cocktails at the home of Madeline Davis, reporter, in 52nd St.

Amid a beautiful setting five hundred guests were entertained and club members were presented by Master of Ceremonies Raft. The members were beautifully gowned in a color scheme of black and gold. Sammy Franklin's Band furnished the music.

Following the dance fifty guests were entertained at breakfast at Woodson's on the Westside.

Officers and members of the club are: Fannie Mae Moore, pres., Gertrude Ross, Vice-pres., Jimmie Ruth Boyd, Sec., Lou E. Dodson, Rec. Ceramic Art Exhibit Sun.

Connoisuers of the ceramic art, lovers of things beautiful and those seeking the unusual in objects suitable for Christmas gifts will be glad to know of the Ceramic art exhibit, Sunday, December 3. After a year or more of diligent toil and study, members of the Del Rio Ceramic Class will put on exhibition their finest pieces, at the Holmes Avenue School at 52nd and Holmes, from 3 to 6 p.m.

Under the tutorship of the So. California University professor Glen Lukens, members of the Del Rio group have developed to a professional degree, the art of ceramic making. Ably assisting in the work has been Joe Ball, who has had creative assignments with the Walt Disney motion pictures studios. Some of his best pieces will be shown. There will be no admission charge.

Entertain At "The Anchor"

Mrs. Cynthia Gordon and Mrs. Emily Portwing were hostesses to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Medical, Dental, Pharmaceutical Association at "The Anchor," residence of Mrs. Portwig, on Tuesday afternoon, November 21st, 1944.

Twenty-three ladies listened attentively as Father Randolph Moore talked to them about the new Inter-racial Hospital, which is to be built at a cost of one and a half million dollars.

Out-of-town guests who expressed themselves as having spent a most enjoyable afternoon were Mrs. Wallace of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. S. G. Sealey, of Bryan, Texas, house-guest of Mrs. Grace Boswell, and Mrs. Sophia Teycer of Chicago, Illinois, sister of Mrs. Pearl Smith.

THE SCHOOL CHILD

One of the most effective sources of character building is clothing the young child. Clothing constitutes one of the basic drives for living. Therefore, it affords much in the acquisition of habits.

Appreciation of blends, colors, lines and artistic associations are developed within the scope of the child of less than one year old. Gessell considered this ability of the child to recognize relationships as evidence of superior intelligenc. Later investigations have suggested that this ability is really developed by parents who observe the desirable selection of clothing from the time the child begins to wear clothes, immediately after birth.

Table manners affect the care of clothing with children. In fact, correct behaviour pays its dividends to the child's wardrobe in every phrase of his activity.

The social reactions experienced by the child as the result of being dressed well or correctly dressed build his consciousness. He acquires status that later becomes an important part of his well-being.

Deliquent children are more frequently found poorly dressed than normal children. Many times the lack of organization and adjustment caused by improper and poorly kept clothing demoralizes the child to the extent that he assumes no responsibility for his actions.

Proper selection of clothing and careful laundering and storage will not only prolong the life of the garments but improve the appearance of the wearer. It is less expensive to adopt systems of handling clothing.

Many studies have proven that in the majority of cases the better pupils tend to be better dressed. Rather the grade averages and clothing have a generally high correction.

The well-groomed child is really more essential and element to, society than the well-groomed adult.

Mass Gathering Battle Restrictions

The Home Owners Protectective Association joined forces with the Victory Committee and presented the case of residential restrictions against a coalition of real estate racketeers, Facists, and race baiters at the Independent Church of Christ last Sunday evening.

The well ordered plot to disguise the real meaning of the organized effort to renew and place covenant restrictions on all properties, all over the city, except in the so-called Central Ave. or Negro district, was unveiled by the Rev. Clayton Russell and others who appeared on the program.

In recent months Negroes have been ordered out of homes occupied by them for years because residential covenant restrictions had been placed on their properties.

The people affected by this local Facist uprising sought relief in the courts. The judges who heard these cases turned a deaf ear to the people's pleading before the bar of justice.

Without a doubt certain real estate grafters have formed a collusion with some people high up in political affairs not only to discourage Negroes in their pursuit of decent homes, and healthy conditions for the rearing of their families, but likewise to increase real estate prices on those who pay to keep Negroes out.

The real German people who are starving, bleeding, and dying today listened to this same sort of stuff when they were making their country a Hitler empire instead of a free country for the people who make up a nation.

"The very racism we are fighting to kill in the Axis countries is not different from that practiced here at home," declared the Rev. Wilfred Parsons before 200 persons at the Catholic University of American Forum at the Pennsylvania Hotel in New York City.

"It is we who have made the Negro and other people race conscious by the race consciousness we practice," he said. His basic defense against racism was the citation of the moral or natural law, "universal as human nature, before which all men are equal."

Negroes are fighting for the same freedom that others are fighting for, and they are seriously considering the planned peace of all the nations and peoples who are fighting as they are to defeat Hitler in Europe and Japan in the Pacific.

Like our Catholic brethren who recognize the equality of men, our army officers, our Congressmen, Senators, and all lawmakers must frown on conditions in all walks of social and economic life which makes one superior and the other inferior.

Men who sit in judgment over other men should first of all interpret the Constitution of the United States and be guided thereby. They should also remember and be guided by one other law given in a Book even higher than the Constitution of the United States: As ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them.

Randolph Leadership Repudiated

Some years ago when the NAACP held its national convention in Los Angeles, the California Eagle boldly attacked A. Philip Randolph and accused him of misleading the Negro people.

His conduct during the late election campaign confirmed our accusations. In this most crucial election our country has ever held, deciding the fate of human beings not only in America but in the whole world, Mr. Randolph declared he was neutral! He couldn't make up his mind which candidate to support. So he said he would support none. Like a spoiled child he went off into a corner and sulked because every one wouldn't play as he wanted them to play.

But fortunately we Negro people, even those who professed to be followers of Randolph, are beginning to think for ourselves. We voted from 2 to 1 to 8 to 1 for our real leader, President Roosevelt. We showed by our vote that we believe the solution of our problem is a part of the total picture of winning the war and establishing a better world. We did a grand job by our votes for a permanent FEPC, full employment for all, and a new world following this war where there shall be freedom from want and freedom from fear.

Mr. Randolph's leadership is that of the blind leading the blind. Fortunately we Negroes have got our eyes open within the past few years, and we did not fall into the ditch with such false leaders as Randolph.

People Call for Permanent FEPC

Mrs. Mary Norton, (D.N.J..) chairman of the House Labor Committee said that the Bill establishing a permanent FEPC stands a good chance of passing the House at this session of Congress, if it is given the proper urging by interested parties.

Witnesses at the hearing held last week warned that unless such a permanent organization is established serious trouble will result during the reconversion period.

Mrs. Frances Saylor, white, of the United Electrical and Radio Workers, CIO, declared there would be many attempts made to break up the unions by segregating Negroes and white workers.

"But if it had not been for the Negroes employed in our war industries," said Mrs. Saylor, "the country could not have kept its armed forces supplied with ammunition and other needed supplies as it did."

No witness appeared to testify against the bill. But, as some one remarked, that does not mean that there is no opposition. It means simply the enemies of FEPC are holding their fire. Both political parties declared during the election campaign they favored a permanent FEPC. Whether or not the members of Congress, many of whom are "lame ducks," took the pledges of their party seriously remains to be seen.

The House bill is known as the Dawson-Scanlon bill. A similar bill in the Senate introduced by Senator Chavez has also been reported favorably by the Senate Committee. Congress will adjourn December 30, but if enough pressure is brought to bear upon the Senators and members of the House it is hoped they will act on the bill before adjournment.

The Lords of the South Speak

The South is in conference—Let the rest of the nation remain silent.

The first order of business at the Southern governors' meet this month in Mississippi, states Gov. Robert S. Kerr, of Oklahoma, will be "equalization of educational opportunities for all citizens of the South."

Truly such an expression coming out of the deep South is not so much an expression, but a hope.

It is well known that the progress of the South has been retarded by ignorance. Black and white industrial workers are trained enemies. They are conditioned slaves, in order that they may be exploited by the land and factory owners for whom they slave.

Blacks hate poor whites and poor whites hate blacks. Neither, however, can give a scientific or even down-to-earth reason why.

Until this condition is remedied the South will continue a backward portion of the nation.

Now that these governors, the advocates of states rights, have spoken, we anticipate a New South as the first plank in our new world.

"FOR THESE WE GIVE THANKS"

W. J. Wheaton Says

Here is a recent occurrence trivial in its inception, but which for the sane reasoning of San Francisco's city authorities, might have created a deplorable condition. In fact, a Hearst paper (The Examiner) exaggerated a common first fight between two Italian garbage collectors into the semblance of a race riot. It played up the incident to such an extent that the garbage collectors refused to serve the district without police protection. The story sought to give the impression that Negro hoodlums were terrorizing the district making it unsafe, not alone for garbage collectors, but citizens in general. Investigation by the police revealed the falsity of the story. There was a fist battle between one lone Negro battler and two sons of sunny Italy in which the garbage collectors came out second best. The Negro had a pair of skinned maulers as souvenirs of the fray.

There appears to be an undercurrent working to incite racial strife and it will take tact, courage and sane thinking to combat it. It is going to challenge the thoughtful citizens of San Franicsco to keep the city...as it has been always...a city cosmopolitan, free from the virus of racial prejudice, uncontaminated with intolerance. This will take the combined efforts of all citizens, regardless of nationality, creed, or religion or partisan affiliation. Too much praise can not be given the Police Department, and the Department of Health of their refusal to be stampeded with the cry of "Race Riot" and "Hoodlumism."

We solemnly adjure you, our fellows, to use self restraint and tact. We know that at times it will be very hard, but when we show to the public that we are above noticing the petty things that are put forth to annoy, we show also that we are of a bigger, broader calibre than they.

In passing we hold up the mirror to some of our own shortcomings. It has been most noticable on our street transportation system, where, lately, a number of Negro men and women have been employed as conductors and motormen. The daily press through letters of a commending nature have been praising the efficiency and courtesy of that group of employees. But, sad to say, there has been a lack of cooperation to make that recommendation outstanding. A noticable factor is, that most of the colored men seem to think that is their perfect right to seek a flirtation with a woman conductor or hold some frivolous conversation with a motorman thereby obstructing the loading and unloading of passengers and delaying transportation, and thereby detracting from the efficiency of the employee. We often wonder if it is thoughtlesness or what. Very often we are inclined to believe that is is pure cussedness. An incident on one of the cars, almost convinced me it was the latter.

A half inebriated sailor boarded a car at Fillmore and Geary and instead of paying his fare and seating himself, sought to strike up a flirtation with the conductorette. She tried to ignore his presence, with frequent requests that he take a seat. But when she ignored his maudlin proposals he became insulting and abusive. When it reached the boisterous stage she stopped the car and signaled for the motorman (white) who promptly ejected the fellow, and turning to others on the platform said, "Any the rest of you who bother this girl will feel the weight of this controler bar, and that goes for any of you."

We mention this only and because we have made a fight to obtain for our Group the right of employment in the public transportation system. The efficiency of the employees is the determining factor in their permanent tenure of employment. We are quite sure that not one of us wishes to see either man or woman lose, the hard earned right of such employment through our thoughtlesness. But we should remember that the least complaint from one travelling patron will be used as a pretext to place the blame on the whole of the Negroes employed.

And: One thing more: The community will respect, or the public regard the effeciency of those who man our transportation vehicles just as we, ourselves, respect them. This specifically to the men in service.

We have been asked "who do you favor for the Spingarn Medal?" Our nomination would be the Editor and Publisher of the California Eagle (Charlotta A. Bass). Why? Because she has proven so outstanding in the field of journalism. She has converted a local paper to one of national influence. The paper, while loyal to the people it represents, has voiced its disapproval of injustice to all who are classed as minorities. The history of the Eagle is an interesting one. Brought with the fighting spirit imbued through it founder, Mrs. Bass, who inherited a forlorn hope which seemed destined for the journalistic scrap heap, stuck to the task she understood and has proven herself to be one of the outstanding characters in our national life. The California Eagle has made its impression on the national life by its unbiased championship of the rights, so called minorities. We are in full knowledge of the history of the Eagle and its present publisher and editor. And hope with the consent of the management to give a resume of its founder, who was a personal friend and associate in its early stage, its present editor and publisher and Joe Bass, who aside from being a personal friend was, also, one of the most capable newsmen in his time. In looking over some old files we came across some early dates when he wrote a column of "Comments" and in comparing, then and now, it started a flow of reminiscing. Long Live The California Aagle ! ! !

Deplores Housing Restrictions Now Prevailing in Los Angeles

The recent court decisions upholding restrictive covenant agreements, to prohibit the occupancy of homes by any one not of the Caucasian race, cause one to wonder if there is not a concerted movement afoot to force the Colored population of Los Angeles to live in GHETTOS or to leave them stranded for lack of homes.

Everyone, including the courts, knows that the sole intent and purpose of these agreements are to violate the Civil Rights provisions of the Constitution.

Balked by a decision of the United States Supreme Court denying the right to prevent the sales of home to persons not of the Caucasian race, ingenious lawyers and realty boards have drawn up covenant agreements to prevent the occupancy of homes by anyone not of the white race even though they own the property.

These covenants are so cleverly drawn up that the judge who upholds their enforcement can declare them constitutional even though he is fully aware of the fact that they nullify the Bill of Rights.

Those of us who have lived in Los Angeles for more than a third of a century can see the gradual disintegration of the cordial and harmonious relationship that has existed between the races in this city. Drastic and prejudiced measures, especially in quarters where Justice is supposed to prevail, will only serve to widen the breach. Certainly the phenomenal increase in population has created social problems, but these problems call for intelligent handling and if they involve legal questions, JUSTICE should be tempered by wisdom. Failing in this, the result can easily cause serious repercussions, the blame for which would have to be laid at the door of those to whom the administration of Justice is intrusted.

Speaking of social problems, it occurs to me that the whole world is in the throes of a social unrest in which peoples of all races are involved and for its solution black boys and white boys are mingling their blood in the morases of Leyte and on the banks of the Rhine. In the meantime, race prejudice in high places at home sabotage the very ideals for which they die. Won't it be irony to those who live to return, when they see the sign, "You CANNOT LIVE HERE" posted over the door of the homes that they have bought with blood and sweat and tears, and this upheld by a decree of the courts of the world's greatest democracy?

Wounds made by shrapnel and saber on the battlefield will heal with time, but scars burned into men's souls with the brand of race hatred will last forever.

Why not lay aside this hiding behind precedent is the trial of these cases and try them on merit, placing human rights above property rights? Because a precedent was set by a prejudiced court does not make it a law of the land.

Speaking of precedents, history is full of them. The first great precedent was when Satan made war in heaven. Then Cain made precedent in killing his brother, Abel, while Jacob established his precedent when he stole his brother's birthright, and in our day, the Dred Scott decision was a notorious precedent.

We do not decide murder, stealing and constitutional rights today by those precedents. The great precedent for which we pray is for a Judge of our Courts to rise up in the Majesty of the law and declare those vicious covenants contrary to the law of our land and detrimental to the morals of the American way of life—

"WE BESEECH THEE TO HEAR US GOOD LORD."

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

Have you ever been up in a plane? No? Well, the New York Post seems to be offering a special trip. The name of the plane is "Confusion" and its destination—"the land of Chaos." The price, you ask? Judge for yourself!

In an editorial on November 16, the New York Post professed its great "love" for our ally, the Soviet Union. However, afraid that the people of New York might misconstrue their intentions and policy, because the county they "love" is run by Communists," they made it very "clear" that not only don't they love the American Communists—they dislike them very much.

The New York Post supported Roosevelt in the last Election. That paper was the mouthpiece of the newly formed Liberal Party in New York. At the same time the Post did not like the idea that the American Labor Party, which they claim is "being run by Communists," SUPPORTED THE SAME CANDIDATE.

Members of the Liberal Party today, were once a disruptive part of the ALP, but cut out when their faction was defeated in the Primaries last year—blaming it on the "Communists."

After "explaining the difference" between the Soviet Communists and the American "brand," they go on with their song and dance: "Suppose you boarded a plane with other passengers, in Chungking, destination New York, and suppose the first 2000 miles of the westward route between Chungking and New York were identical with the first leg of the westward Chungking-Moscow Flight.

"On your first 2000 miles of the trip," went on the Post editorial, "you would have no worries, even though the pilot of the ship, the navigator, the radio man, the engineer, all were Communists. But once you reached a fork in the airways, with one lane leading to Moscow and the other to New York, once the pilot had a choice to make between flying either to Moscow or to New York, you and your fellow passengers would be a lot better off if the man at the rudder didn't have a preference for turning sharply north."

Then they likened the American Labor Party to such an airplane trip!

Of course, you can take that any way you like. AS I SEE IT, the implications in that editorial don't smell so good. It could mean that while the Soviet Union is our ally—and "we love her very much" says the Post—and while we owe our lives to that heroic country for keeping Hitler from conquering the world, until our boys got there to help—"We've got to watch the Russian Bear, unless she is to steer us all to Moscow."

When they are through playing with words, the Post end up with "Our watchwords should be—friendship with Russia—and vigilance for Democracy."

What kind of Democracy do they want, when through the entire campaign the New York Post and the Liberal Party resorted to the same filthy red baiting as the Hearsts, Dewey and other reactionaries?

AS I SEE IT, members of the American Labor Party, and the Communist Political Association are citizens of the United States of America. The efforts of both these organizations along with all other patriotic Americans have been exerted to help win this was against Fascism. They have fought for the kind of Democracy that will keep the swastika from the pages of our newspapers and the windows of our homes.

If we are to talk in terms of airplane rides — LET'S NOT TAKE THE AMERICAN PEOPLE UP IN THE AIR AND LEAVE THEM THERE! If our country is a member of the United Nations, let's not confuse the people with sly remarks that may be misinterpreted, about one member of the United Nations.

At this point of the war, when Victory looms high on the horizon, let's talk of the kind Democracy we are going to build for a lasting Peace. Let's work together — Democrats, Republicans, American Laborites, Communists—Jews and Gentiles—Negro and white—Native and Foreign Born.

TOGETHER WE WILL BUILD THE PEACE FOR ALL TIMES—THAT'S DEMOCRACY

Ethiopia, Pulse of Another War

One of the chief powers of the human brain is the ability to associate and compare objects and events in terms of relative position and time. Resulting from this normal function have come many conclusions about people and the world which have elevated the process of living. Likewise with this function of the brain the tragedies of sorrow and disaster are loosed upon man arousing again fears of pending doom and ruin. So it is nevertheless, that we through this process are able to know the world about us. Sometimes it is that our deeper mind unconsciously thrusts upon our senses, associations of events which are alarming in view of previous experiences and their bitter results.

FUTURE SOLDIERS

Such an association struck me with lightning rapidity last Sunday morning as I looked into the healthy and alert eyes and beings of some twenty boys in early teens who are members of my church school class at Bowen Memorial. There they sat, or rather in a back and forth process as the individual boy so determined, active, eager, keyed up with mischievousness, despite the solemnity of the hour. They accepted me as one of the group and all in all give attention, but yet seized every opportunity for a boyish laugh or prank. I welcome their attitude for they felt a part of the discussion and not as subjects to be worked upon without any defense or redress. They are boys, carefree, imaginative and creative, but also the men of tomorrow who must even as those boys of yesterday are now, offering their health, lives and future for the selfishness and greed of older generations, that the world tomorrow might be free. Those very boys might grow up to be outstanding contributors to culture and civilization in various fields which they might select ministers, newspapermen, scientists, labor leaders, physicians, industrial workers and other creative or productive pursuits. The present bloody war and the millions of youth killed or maligned, associated with these lads remind me that they too might so end. But this association did not end with just a probability, for it continued to an association of cold blooded facts which are yet fresh in the minds of this era.

PRELUDE TO THE PRESENT CONFLICT

The clouds of this present war began to gather when the now forgiven Italians under the leadership of Mussolini and the official blessings of the Papal State invaded the realm of Ethiopia. They annexed conquered territory to Italian Somaliland and in an embarrassed struggle finally subdued the gallant little kingdom while the world turned a deaf ear to the prophetic voice of the Lion and Judah. He forecasted that the invasion of country would result in wholesale aggression and result in world wide strife. We who comfortably in our former social isolation and shrugged our shoulders, but now wail, and pray and mourn over our dead sons and brothers, wish with bitter regret that we had demanded of our State Department to act then. It is now to late to save the already dead, but eternal vigilance is demanded to save the playful lads who would die as their brothers do today.

BRITISH REFUSE TO EVACUATE ETHIOPIAN

It was released in the press last Friday, that Ethiopa is on the again in trouble with aggressor. Drew Pearson, reported in his column that the Lion of Judah has protested to the United States government against the British government for refusing to evacuate Ethiopian territory and that the British plan to annex the Ethiopian provinces of Harar and Ogaden to neighboring British Somaliland. To spiritualize his plea and expressive appreciation for action, the lion Emperor sent with his protest his personal Bible. Here then is the association; with this present aggression in Ethiopia by the British, if the warnings of Haile Selassie are yet sound and timeless, another war effort and conclusions of this present struggle would begin within the next fifteen years. The boys with us now would be ripe for slaughter then. There is something eternal about Ethiopia, has existed for more than three centuries, the Old Testament of the Bible and the chronicles of the ancient Hebrews are filled with its wonders. Ethiopia is the oldest Christian country in existance; the Coptic Church having developed there long before the advert of Roman Catholicism. Who knows, but that it may be that God in history has used Ethiopia prophetically, and that as in the immediate past, His wrath may fall upon those who invade her ancient shores as those who stand by mutely as others do?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Los Angeles 11, Calif.
Dear Mrs. Bass:

I wish to commend you for the very wise and timely organization that you are sponsoring, "THE HOME OWNERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION." The meeting that you held at the Independent Church last Sunday evening makes the first milestone of a movement which I am sure all real Americans will support, not only to safeguard the rights of the minority groups but in a greater measure to protect those ideals which our country must preserve, so that she will not have cause to blush when she insists on the Four Freedoms for all peoples of the world.

I hope that you can find space in your esteemed paper to publish the following article that I wrote some days ago.

Very truly your,

J. Alexander Somerville.

Praise Pastor On 4th Anniversary As Head Of 28th St. Christian Church

In paying tribute to Rev. Walter J. Bryant for his spiritual and progressive leadership, the East 28th Street Christian Church at 28th and Palmoa St., is celebrating his fourth anniversary as pastor. One very commendable feature of Rev. Bryant's program thus far is the church has made three years advanced payments on their property without ticket selling or various types of entertainments. Our ambition is to liquidate our indebtedness next year through our present plan; sacrificial giving.

Our church is moving forward and we are enjoying increased fraternity and fellowship through spiritual leadership in the name of Christ.

Many of our friends and colaborers are helping to pay homage to this splendid pastor through the following program:

Sunday, Dec. 3rd—11 a.m. Dr. Cliford A. Cole, California State Secretary of The Christian Churches.

Sunday at 8 p.m.—Elder C. W. Arnold, formerly of Columbus, Ohio.

Tuesday, Dec. 5th, 8 p.m.—Elders, Deacons and Trustees night—Elder C. B. Tarrence presiding—cooperating Rev. Cannon J. Malcolm, St. Mark Christian church.

Rev. Lain C. Cleaves, and choir—Phillips Temple C.M.E.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." This verse from Genesis will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Scriptural citation from Acts relates that "there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked: The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed, Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error." "God is not the author of mortal discords."

Ten Trees On My Street

By THE REV. C. TOWNSEND TUCKER
Organizer and Founder of the American Anti-Prejudice Society, Inc.
West Adams Between Arlington and Fourth Avenue

Since the creation of man, trees have occupied an important place in his spiritual and terrestrial life. Quoting from Genesis, God spoke to man saying: "I have given you every herb-bearing seed which is upon the face of the earth, and every tree in which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat."

When Eve and Adam committed the first sin, and knew that they were naked, they used the leaves of the Fig tree for their first garments.

Primitive man, observing the growth and death of trees, the elasticity of their branches, the sensitiveness and the annual decay and the revival of their foliage, anticipated in his own way the tendency of modern science to bridge the gulf between the animal and the vegetable world.

Sober Greek Philosophers thought that trees had perception, passions and reason. The beliefs of primitive man were part of a small stock of fundamental ideas which persist in one form or another over a large portion of the world, and have found a place in the higher religions.

In every corner of the earth there are numerous popular stories that reflect a firmly rooted belief in an intimate connection between a human being and a tree.

Man has utilized the tree for his various needs. Armies have surrendered under the spreading boughs of the tree. Jesus rested beneath the shade of trees to commune with his father and to teach his Disciples. Invading armies have used trees for protection against the enemy. TREES ARE MAN'S GREATEST ASSET.

I could say many things about the history of the tree that time and space will not permit—"But Only God Can Make a Tree."

As I was asked to give a short summary on "Ten Trees On My Street," I shall begin by giving you a short history of ten trees used in the landscaping of California cities and on my street.

You may know it, but most of our trees here in California are exotic. They were introduced into California from other lands. Owing to the varied climatic conditions existing in Caliofrnia, we have been able to acclimate trees and shrubs from all parts of the world. Men! like trees be strong—let us live together in Love, Peace and Understanding!

First we will discuss the Plane tree. This tree is used as a Street tree, and is prevalent throughout the state of California. The Plane tree is of a European species and is known as the European Sycamore. It is a deciduous tree characterized by bark that peels off in large patches, and by dense, maple-like foliage.

We have the native bamboo and the Japanese bamboo. However, the Japanese bamboo is more prevalent in the United States. The bamboo belongs to the grass family. The Japanese bamboo is a giant, ornamental grass, sometimes woody and tree-like. They are usually used in the landscape setting against walls and among shrubbery; by streams and naturalistic pools, and for screens along boundary lines. The Bottle tree which you frequently see in our street parking spaces, is a native of Australia. The name refers to the peculiarly swollen trunk. The Bottle tree sheds and puts on new leaves throughout the entire year.

The Hibiscus comes from many tropical climes. Our type in California comes from the Hawaiian Islands. It belongs to the Mallow family, the same family from which comes Okra and Cotton. It is common in all California landscape arrangements. It is usually grouped in sheltered patio gardens or in foundation plantings—grouped with other shrubbery. It blooms in varied colors during most of the year.

The Lombardy Poplar, whose stately and tall mass of foliage stands in the background of many California estates, is a native of Italy. Because of its symmetrical, columnar effect, the Lombardy Poplar has been much planted to accent street lines and boundaries.

The Bay tree or Sweet Bay, is a native of the West Indies, as well as a native from Massachusetts to Florida. It is an evergreen tree, with long oval glassy-green leaves. The dried leaves of the bay are frequently used for flavornig foods.

The Crape Myrtle is a Chinese plant. It bears large racemes of flowers, ranging from white to watermelon red. It is too individualistic to group with other trees. It is commonly used as a specimen tree, or street and avenue tree.

We have the Eugenia, which is common in every California landscape setting. It is commonly known as the Australian Bruch Cherry, and is a native of Australia. It is used in corners and entrances, and in foundation plantings, as specimens on lawns and as hedge shrub and windbreak.

The most common tree in California is the Eucalyptus. It grows up to 100 feet. It is rapid in growth, and many of the dwarf types bear beautiful flowers. The Eucalyptus is a native of Australia. Some of the less vigorous growing kinds make delightful settings for Spanish and Mediterranean residences. They are excellent shade trees.

The humble Hackelberry is a native of many parts of the world. It is found in Southern United States, Northern Canada, South Africa, East Africa and Japan. It is a wonderful shade tree. You may note the graceful Hackelberry that spreads its boughs over the entrance of the Villa Arlington, my home.

The Rev. S. H. Marion, Minister of "First A. M. E. Zion Church" at Pico and Paloma Streets, wishes to have all members and friends, to be present, Sunday, Dec. 3rd, at 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. for Holy Communion services, as the Holy Communion will be "ADMINISTERED" at both services.

Rev. Marion comes from the Old Ship Church, in Montgomery, Alabama where he served for six (6) years, during which time he paid off a $10,000 mortgage debt, which had been hanging on for twenty-five (25) years.

Rev. Marion wishes to meet all members and friends of the first A.M.E. Zion Church, and those who are here from Alabama, and Knoxville, Tennessee, as he pastored Logan Temple Church, in Knoxville, six (6) years, before going to Old Ship Church, in Montgomery. Dr. Marion is a graduate of Butler University of Indianapolis, Ind. with the B.S.L. Degree, and holds the D. D. Degree from Livingstone College, of Salisbury, N. C.

He is a RACIAL, and Civic leader, and is here to serve HUMANITY.

Rev. and Mrs. Marion are residing temporarily at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Collins, 1317 E. 33rd Street.

St. John Baptist Church Progresses

Slowly but surely the St. John Baptist Church, 2727 E. 1st St., under the capable leadership of the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, is marching on to certain victory. We have been organized just one month, but numerically, financially, and spiritually, we take our place with much older churches.

All auxiliaries are progressing steadily. The choir, only two weeks old, is singing gloriously. Our pastor, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, is preaching as never before. St. John sees its pastor as a "man with a vision"; we are supporing his extensive program wholeheartedly.

Come, worship with us in our beautiful temple; come, hear our spirit-filled choir; come, hear our dynamic pastor; come, mingle with our warm-hearted, friendly congregation. Come Sunday morning and enjoy a wholesome atmosphere of southern hospitality and Christian fellowship.

Noted Business Woman Dies Here

Mrs. Winona Barron McGinnis, member of a pioneer family in Los Angeles, passed away Monday, November 27th. Mrs. McGinnis was owner and operator of the largest beauty salon in the West Temple district. She was well known in many social and civic organizations and will be mourned by a host of friends and business associates. She leaves a bereaved sister, Miss Bessie Barron, registered nurse, well known for her church, health and community work, and a niece, Miss Elizabeth Jones.

Funeral services will be held Friday, December 1st, from the Pleasant Hill Baptist Church, 261 N. Bonnie Brae Street at 1:00 p.m.

Mrs. Bishop Is Baha'i Speaker

Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop, internationally known Baha'i lecturer, who has been living for the past few seasons in Pasadena, will deliver her last Los Angeles lecture at the Baha'i Center, 1709 West 8th Street, Sunday, December 3, at 3 p. m., on "Knowledge and the Realm of Faith," before leaving to fill a teaching commitment in Cuba and Central America.

"There is," says Mrs. Bishop, "a tendency to a lack of balance in the modern system of education in the schools, with emphasis placed on one or the other of various levels of education, such as trades, arts and crafts; mental training for the professions and sciences; training for citizenship and social cooperation; moral, ethical and aesthetic culture; with only the Sunday schools devoting attention to the Reality of God."

The great world educator, Bahá'u'lláh, Founder of the Baha'i Faith, and bearer of the Word of God for this day, has enjoined the principle of the agreement between Science and true Religion, and has placed His accent upon education for the life of the future.

Wm. McCullough Lauded By Church

Mr. William McCullough, 5522 Holmes Avenue, who, as a Christian pioneer of this city, belongs on the roll of heroes.

For more than a quarter of a century this unassuming, and self-sacrificing church and community builder, has served as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Shiloh Baptist Church.

In this capacity he has been one of the chief architects in the struggle to bring this church from a membership of just three, to its present roll of more than 800 members. It was he who procured the rocks as a donation from the city with which the main auditorium of the present church edifice is built.

This is merely the spirit of the church to use this method to cheer the warrior, and to possibly encourage others; for Brother McCullough is much alive, and is on a business trip to Denver, Colorado, at this time. He may be there three or more months yet.—Per N. E. Moreland; C. L. Smith, secy. of church.

A MOTHER'S LOVE

By Erias Doc Williams

If I live to be old and gray,
Please help my mother on her way,
This is my prayer through the day,
Gol Bless my mother, I pray.

Thank God I have lived to see,
What a mother's love meant to me.
Mothers always have sympathy and care.
And glad to see their children near.

A mother's love, wonderful to say,
One to comfort you, day by day,
Mothers will always do their best.
To see their children reach success.

The EAGLE BIBLE QUESTION CORNER

Conducted by
The Sweet Chariot Hour Bible Correspondence School
Address All Questions to Eagle Question Corner
4075 S. Central Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new Introductory Course of 20 lessons, divided into two sections of 10 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

What is the meaning of the name "Deuteronomy"? Is there a Bible writer by that name?—Mrs. B. L., Santa Monica.

The word "Deuteronomy" means "Second Law," or the "Repetion of the Law." "In Exodus, Leviticus and Numbers laws were given in successive installments, as occasion required; in Deuteronomy they were rehearsed and expounded to a new generation; with applications to new circumstances, houses, towns, cities, and settled life, rather than the movable wilderness camp, with modifications which the prospective change rendered necessary."

Please tell me where I can find the verse, "Cleanliness is next to godliness." I can't find it in my Bible.—J. P., Los Angeles.

No wonder you can't find it in your Bible, it is not in the Bible. This proverb is attributed to John Wesley, the founder of Methodism. However, the Bible does teach a great deal about the importance of cleanliness. Not only is cleanliness next to godliness, it is a vital part of godliness.

Could you give me some help from the Bible in the wording of prayers. I have difficulty in expressing myself.—M. C., San Diego.

There are a number of prayers recorded in the Bible. Reading these prayers and giving thought to them should be of help to you.

The prayers of Jesus: The Lord's Prayer—Matthew 6:9-13. Thanksgiving—Matthew 11:25-26. For His followers—John 17. In Gethsemane—Matthew 26.39. For forgiveness of His enemies—Luke 23:34.

Prayer of the Church in Jerusalem—Acts 4:24-30.

Stephen's Prayer—Acts 7:60.

Paul's prayer for guidance—Acts 9:6.

Labor Committee Asks Post-War Job Protection

NEW YORK, N. Y.—In a letter to Phillip Murray, President of the C.I.O., greeting the Sixth Constitutional Convention of the CIO which met in Chicago last week, the Executive Board of the NEGRO LABOR VICTORY COMMITTEE expressed confidence that the CIO would give "full consideration" to one of the problems of the future which requires clear thinking and courageous planning now—the employment status of Negro workers during the reconversion and immediate post-war period" and would "relp chart the path towards a solution" which will be in keeping with the common objectives of both organizations, i.e., full employment and security for all Americans.

The Negro Labor Victory Committee is composed of Negro trade union leaders from CIO, AFL and independent unions and has 107 affiliated and co-operating unions in Greater New York.

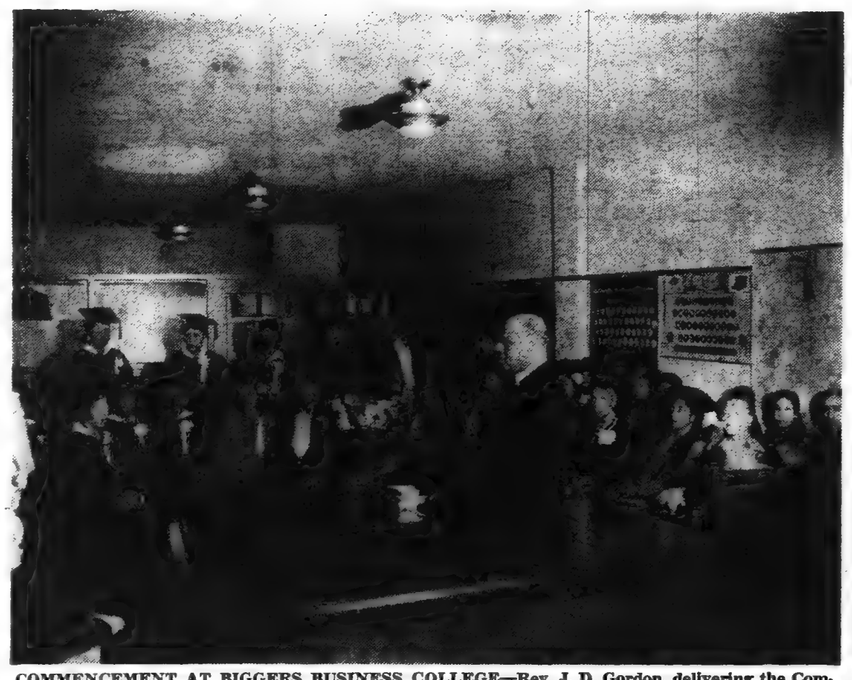
we shall see the Negro and the white man not only working side by side, but also living together in peace and harmony."



The Rev Clayton Russell, pastor of the Independent Church of Christ, presided at the meeting and presented the case of residential restrictions so forcibly that more than $400.00 was raised to fight this evil.

Clarence Jones, attorney-at-law, complimented the Rev. Russell on his leadership. "Whenever there is a crisis of any kind, Russell is one minister in this city whom you can depend upon to respond. His leadership is not only dynamic, but far-reaching."

Loren Miller was among others who spoke and noted the seriousness of the situation.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Home Owners Protective Association and the Victory Committee. The HOPA was organized only a few weeks ago in the building of the California Eagle. Since then the seed has been broadcast everywhere and similar organizations are springing up all over the city.

The officers of the HOPA are: president, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass; vice-president, Mrs. Fay Allen; secretary, Miss Lorraine Mattheu; treasurer, Mrs. Tommy Rooves.

Golden State Life Ins. Co. In Tie for 2nd In Campaign

National Hoodoo Day, October 13, 1944, witnessed eNgro insurance agents come into their own in competition with agents of leading white and Negro insurance companies throughout the United States. Forty agents of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company in California and Illinois produced a total of 684 accident and health applications on that one day to earn Black Cat membership for themselves and land their company in a tie for second honors with the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company. Top honors went to the Inter-Ocean Casualty Company with 66 agents qualifying.

The campaign is sponsored yearly by the National Association of Accident and Health Underwriters. Certificates of Award and Black Cat membership are given to agents who produce 13 or more accident and health applications on the Friday falling on the 13th day of a month. This is the tenth consecutive year of the contest during which time Friday has occurred on the 13th of the month exactly 13 times.

Roy Spencer, Los Angeles agent of Golden State Mutual, earned a life membership in the Black Cat Club for qualifying 13 consecutive times. David Mattocks of Sacramento and Gilbert Jones of Oakland led the company's agents by producting 26 applications each, while 8 company superintendents received awards by virtue of having three or more men from their staffs to qualify.

MORE STAMPS

Validation dates for five more blue ration stamps, used for processed foods, were announced by the Office of Price Administration today.

Blue stamps X-5, Y-5, Z-5, A-2 and B-2, each worth 10 points—a total of 50 points—will be good beginning December 1. They may be used indefinitely. No other stamps are expected to be validated for processed foods until January 1, 1945.

•THE WANDS•

Thirty-three service men were the guests of the Betty Hill Chapter of the WANDS at a turkey dinner with all the trimmings, last Thursday. Each service man was given a favor of a stocking filled with gum, fruit and nuts. There were guests other than service men to share the joy of the occasion.

Cadet Della Sharp, assisted by her sisters, was the hostess, and and a homelike feeling pervaded the atmosphere. Mrs. Jessie Terrie of the Board of Directors of the WANDS, was among the many visitors. Mrs. Terry has called a meeting of WANDS from all chpters at her home, 1152 E. Adams Boulevard, on Saturday, Decmeber 2nd, from 2 to 4 p. m. Capt. Waiters asks each member to bring a can of milk to the next meeting on Dec. 8 at 1783 W. 35th St.

Mrs. W. M. Banks, prominent religious leader of Wesley M. E. Church, Mrs. N. L. Charles of St. Paul's Baptist Church, and many others were among the guests. Cpl. Helen Edwards conducted a program in which the service men and their hostesses took part. Cpl. E. Marie Wright is the chapter reporter.

● Racket Expose

any of the defendants from being "tipped off" and escaping.

The scheme consisted of reporting to the railroad company only a portion of the meals served, and of pocketing the money on the rest. The money obtained in each such theft was divided between the waiters and the stewards or assistant stewards under whom the particular waiters were working, and was also split with the chefs, who "cut" the portions on the meals, so as to conceal the operation of the plan from the commissary department of the railroad. The various devices employed by the defendants included the following:

Particularly when elderly people or persons apparently unacquainted with travel were dining, the waiters would use what is referred to as the "no check" plan and would take the orders verbally, instead of giving the diners meal checks to fill out, as required by the rules of the railroad. They would report these orders to the kitchen and immediately serve the meals called for. Upon collecting from the customer, the waiters would turn the money over to the steward for change, and would then either divide the price of the meal immediately, or if this was not convenient or safe, the steward would pocket the entire amount, less the customers' change, and settle with the waiters later. The change would, of course, be given the passengers, but because no meal check was made out, there would be no record that any money had been collected for the meal, so the railroad company received none.

Another method was that of the "dead check" plan. Here the waiter would take from the steward or assistant steward checks covering the same kind of meals, which checks had previously been used, but for which the customer's receipt had not been torn, and use them a second time. This was made easy to accomplish by reason of the fact that the bill of fare was limited to two or three choices, as for example: "Breakfast No. 1" or "Breakfast No. 2," and so on.

Thus the records would indicate that only one set of meals had been served, whereas in fact two sets had been served and collected for. In this, as in the "no check" plan, the waiter and the steward would split the amount received for the second meal.

The third method was that of the "blank check" system. In using this method, the waiter would take unused blank meal checks, pretend to write the orders on them, and actually place them before the diners, but in such a fashion as to discourage the diners from looking at them or writing on them, for example, placing them on edge between the sugar bowl and the salt shakers, or placing them face downward with a napkin or water pitcher over them. At the end of the meal, the waiter would pick up the meal checks, and return them to the steward without tearing off the customers' receipts, and give him the amount collected for the meals. This would be divided between the waiter and the steward, either on the spot, or at a subsequent time during the trip.

What might be called a fourth version of the system involved the acceptance of a government meal order ticket from servicemen. Although a meal check had to be used, in order that the serial number of the government meal order could be accounted for among the tickets, the same meal check would be used again as a "dead check," and money collected and divided as in the other methods.

This method was sometimes used in reverse, as when a "dead" check was obtained from the steward, and the number of the government meal ticket written on the previously paid-for-check. Then the money previously paid by civilians for the meal served to them would be split between the waiter and the steward.

Each steward and each assistant steward thus appropriated an average of about seventy-five dollars for the two-day two-night trip, or a total of about one hundred and fifty dollars together, while the waiters received an equal amount, thus causing an estimated loss of about three hundred dollars per trip. There being from 60 to 62 trips per month, the loss from the Coach sections of the Challenger alone amounted to about $18,000 per month.

The passengers suffered by reason of the fact that while the dining cars were supplied with food for 400 meals per day this food was being stretched by cutting down on the portions, so as to serve from 600 to 700 meals.

The case was presented to the Grand Jury by United States Attorney, Charles H. Carr and Assistant United States Attorney, Homer H. Bell.

Bond for each of the defendants were fixed at $1000.00

Walter Lear Gordon, Jr. has been retained to represent most of the defendants.

with which to operate. Almost as serious is the fact that while such groups are deeply interested in community problems, they have neither the time nor tre resources with which to do an effective job.

New York City's Committee on Unity, while it is capably staffed, has produced after more than six months "no published program or findings or visible signs of committee activity." This is true in spite of anti-semitic outbreaks, a new and glaring evidence of discrimination in employment, and gang wars between white and Negro youths. In Philadelphia, the Mayor's Committee on Good Will" was conspicuously inoperative during the recent railway strike over employment of Negro trolley operators."

(Note) In Los Angeles, the Mayor's Committee, has not acted in the restrictive covenant fights that are being waged against Negro property owners, an activity that threatens unity more seriously than any single factor since the beginning of the war.

16 For Dinner At Waters' Home

A Thanksgiving dinner, preceded by cocktails and music, was served to sixteen guests last Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Waters at their home at 1135½ So. Hobart Boulevard. Somewhat in the nature of a family reunion with a few selected friends in addition, the occasion was brightened by the presence of the parents and brothers of the host, and the mother of the hostess. Following the dinner, the guests enjoyed several games of bridge whist.

Those present were: Edward and Doris Waters, Alexander and Ruth Waters, Mrs. Alberta Moore, Ernest and Clara Waters, the host and hostess; Mrs. Willie Mae Battle, mother of the hostess; Geraldine Francis, of New Orleans, La.; Eddie Burbridge, sports editor of the California Eagle; Jack Morton of New York City; John M. Lee, California Eagle news editor; Mrs. Hary Hall, and Masters Anthony and Ernest Waters, Jr., sons of the host and hostess.

Good Xmas Spirit

Additional compensation to be paid all employees of California Bank during the Christmas season has been authorized by the bank's executive committee, it was announced yesterday by Arch W. Anderson, president.

A Christmas box containing an assortment of gifts has been sent to each of 169 former employees of the bank now serving in the armed forces.

Mabel Messengill Concert to Raise Funds for GI Xmas Calls

War weary youngsters, veterans from the South Pacific and the beachheads of Italy and France, will talk to friends and relatives hundreds of miles away on Christmas morning. The boys who are invalids at the government hospital at Sawtelle will enjoy this treat because of the vision and charity of THE FIVE AND OVER CHARITY CLUB.

This organization, noted for its activities with youth groups and the concern, since its organization, for all service men, is sponsoring the concert of Mabel Massengill, soprano, at the Wilshire Ebell Theater, Sunday evening, December 17. Proceeds from the recital will be used to pay for the service men's calls. Mrs. Mabel V. Gray is president of the club.

Miss Massengill is well known in Southern California as a serious student of music and as State Superintendent of Music for the Caliofrnia State Association of Colored Women's Clubs. She is the student of Lillian Backstrand Wilson of the University of Southern California school of music.

Economic Relief Council Helps Salvage Second-Hand Articles

In the Eoconomic Relief Council the ordinary housewife, together with the merchants of this community, can develop a co-operative enterprise which will pay great dividends in the post-war period. Through its salvage activities, the Council has developed facilities for collecting and making saleable second-hand articles. This activity can be increased, through assistance of the community into a center for the exchange of new and second-hand articles.

Although peace will see, to some measure, reconversion to production of commodities for consumer use, this process will be slow, and a center for sale and distribution of second-hand articles will have a two-fold value: It will make available articles not now on the market, such as electric appliances and metal articles of all kinds, as well as provide a source of employment both for returning veterans and woman who will be displaced by men in industry.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves, present directors of the Council, welcome suggestions from the community for the enlargement of the services made available through the activities of the Council.

Eva Shafran's Death Is Shock

The sudden passing of Eva Shafran is a shock and great loss, not only to the Communist Political Association with which she was affiliated, but also to hundreds of leaders in labor and progressive circles.

Through her years of organizing in the trade unions and in the progressive movement, and her teaching of Marxism, she had become widely known and loved. Because her deep understanding of social problems was so profoundly respected, she was able also to give guidance to thousands not connected with the Communist Association.

Small in stature and having suffered years of illness and brutal attack by the reactionary forces here, she was nevertheless an unfailing source of energy and action on all problems facing the working people. The memory of her spirit shall live long with all those who had contact with her.

Sympathy and condolence are extended by the community to her husband, Sergeant Don Burton, now in China, and to her brother, Abe Shafran.

Investigation

An autopsy was ordered last week to determine the cause of death of 7 year old Ernest Blue Jr., of 1826 E. 42nd Street, who died at General Hospital while undergoing surgery for a mashed finger received from a neighbor's garage door.

Ernest had received emergency treatment at the Georgia Street Receiving Hospital earlier in the week, and was taken to General Hospital for surgery. He died while under the anesthetic.

Withholding Tax Certificates Must Be Filed By December 1st

Final warning was issued today by Collector of Internal Revenue Harry C. Westover to all commercial employers and employes in Southern California that the new Withholding Tax Exemption Certificates must be filed by employes by next Friday, December 1.

The certificates must be filed by the employe and must be retained by the employer. They are not to be filed with the Collector of Internal Revenue.

Beginning January 1, new withholding tax rates go into effect and changes will be made in the amounts allowed for supporting dependents. The new certificates are necessary to enable employers to compute their payrolls in accordance with the new provisions of the law. The only information required is the employe's name and address and the number of dependents and personal exemptions. There is no need to list the names of the dependents.

Employes who fail to file these certificates with their employers will not be allowed credit for dependents or personal exemptions after January 1 and will find that withholding taxes will be based on their gross pay.

Agricultural employes, domestics, and men and women in the armed forces are exempt from withholding taxes and need not file withholding exemption certificates.

Employers are advised by Collector Westover that a supply of exemption certificates (Form W-4) may be obtained at any Internal Revenue office. Instruction pamphlets for use of their employes in filling out the new form are also available.

GI Family Meetings

At the request of Army and Navy authorities, the Los Angeles City War Council this week will launch a series of "G.I. Families Meetings" designed to aid departments of servicemen with much-needed information and advice on their personal problems.

The first "G.I. Families Meeting," city-wide in scope, will take place Friday, December 1, at 8 p.m. at Patriotic Hall, 1800 S. Figueroa Street, with all relatives and friends of servicemen invited to attend.

The advisors will be trained experts of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Red Cross, and Bar Association.

★★ CANDID COMMENTS ★★

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S SECRETARY

Dear Mr. G., Have you read Len Zinberg's "Walk Hard—Talk Loud?" Those who have, wish you would. Especially pages 283 and 291 . . . Jimmy Rivers, one of the town's wealthiest playbores, would gladly surrender his bachelor existence if Socialovely Ann Wood would nod. They met one night in a side street chitterling joynt when she was out slumming . . . Say boss, the Burgess Meredith's (he married Paulette Goddard, the lucky soandso) expect their little heir at about the same time you and Gee Gee expect yours . . . When sportsman James Boyd heard he was to be the God Father of what you hope will be a boy, he cracked: "Well, I finally got one—even if it was by remote control!" . . . Here's a sixty-four dollar question that's been puzzling me, boss. The disbanded K.K.K. (still in existance, but hiding behind new names) broke up because it owed the government back income taxes. How come the Klan hasn't been prosecuted for breaking the income tax law? . . . Melvin Harrison called. Says you're nutz. Alyce Keys doesn't have a shapely figger. It's just the way she has her clothes made. I gave the retort you would have yell'd in the phone. "Okay," I said, "More gals should patronize KEYS' dress shoppe!" . . . Westbrook Pegler is peeved at the jibes hurled at him by Frank Sinatra. Goodness Gwacious, I thought he stopped wearing skirts long time ago. He called up and demanded an apology, so Frank's press agent met the Hearst representatives to patch things up. And who, may I ask, apologized for the insults HE hurled at the Negro press? . . . Al Whitney, big, blonde, goodlooking kid with the Ansel Hill band, won't be with the boys when they open at the Lincoln Theatre tomorrow evng. But I'll be there. I wanna hear you M.C. the show, . . Hi, Dugout! Heard you ate a seven-course dinner at Offcr. A. D. and Betty Wilson's house the other evng. Seven courses? Yeah, six helpings of Red Beans and a side dish of Rice! . . . For a colyum that's packed with thrills from paragraph to paragraph, read Ed Bailey's scribblings in the Music Dial mag. Ed Bailey, in case you're not hep, is prez of local 767, of the American Federation of Musicians. A grand guy, too, if you ask me and even if you didden. . . . A cute gal with bee-yoooo-tee-ful golden-haired shoulder-length tresses is helping Sportswriter Eddie Burbridge forget his marital troubles. Don't know her name, but Santa Claus couldn't possibly put anything in her stockings to equal what Mother Nature put there! . . . And in case you're a fight fan, Verne Patterson (he's in the Harry Bigelow-Roy Howard stable) goes to bat against Cecil Hudson a coupla wks hence. It's an even money bet, with suckers giving 2-to-1 in Hudson's favor. It won't even be close, boss. Don't be fooled by the Hudson backers. This Patterson named Verne has too much on the ball. New to the coast, in the New England states—he has a batting average of 59 out of 62. And that ain't bad in any league! . . . Your loving Secretary, Melrose.

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK

Sociallovely Helen Mathiew's heart's been Micky Finn'd by a dancer named Bibby. She's got it baaad . . . During the last rainy spell, a few of us were sitting around in the back room trying to think of a reason why we shouldn't send out for a coupla quarts (we couldn't think of any), when Leonard McClain, the bailbondsman-about-town interrupted the conversation to complain of having Rheumatism in his left lag . . "That's Old Age," cracked columnist Buddy Garcia . . "Couldn't be," Leonard McClain'd . . "My right leg is as old as my left one, and I aint got Rheumatism in THAT one!" . . . This is leap year, and if I ever saw a gal with kangaroo blood it's Lucille Henderson, the Stenog. She's determined to get a man. "Any man," she says . . . A chorine is comforting a vedy prominent medico, whose favorite doll married another gent last week . . . War Is Hell dep't: The many lonely girls who frequent the bars, and wind up being lonely together . . . From Buddy Garcia's Colyum: "JT Gipson says he will soon announce his retirement from the newspaper game." . . . Tale About Town: He's known in the late spots as a Wolf . . He doesn't drink. He doesn't smoke. And he doesn't use words stronger than "Holy Smokes!" . . He is very bashful . . But a cute chick with hair on her legs just goes all through him . . It's his only passion . . He likes 'em that way . . Whenever he sees a gal with fuzz on her gams, he stares incessantly . . He spends hours just walking the streets staring at gals with hairy legs . . He's a sucker for 'em . . So what happened? His pals decided to play a little trick on him . . They dressed a swish up in chic clothing . . And had her (or him) ringside alone at a niteclub table . . The Wolf walked by and noticed the legs on what he couldn't tell at all wasn't a gal . . And through Nylons, the swish's hairy legs made a beautiful sighe . . Somehow he got on introduction (according to the plan of his pals) . . He made the rounds of the various bars with the swish . . not once suspecting that "he" wasn't a "she" . . Later in the evening, you guessed it, the swish was invited to the Wolf's room to view etchings (or whatever it is wolves use nowadays to entice dolls into their apt.) . . All of us waited downstairs in front of the apartment, waiting to hear an explosion any minute (when the wolf found out he had been made the goat of a rib . . We waited an hour . . two hours . . three hours . . Nobody came downstairs . . The suspense getting the best of him, one reporter went up and rang the bell to see what was happening. Now the story gets sweller . . Instead of the Wolf creating a disturbance because he had been tricked, he thanked all of us for the introduction to the swish! . . They're now going steady . . "It's the first time," he confided to us, that he's found a gal with just the right amount of hairs he likes! . . His name? For seven cents you get a colyum, not the private papers of a snooping colyumist! . . The pretty blond usherette (she's the chief, I believe) at the Orpheum looks like a date waiting for a screen test. She has a lovely profile all the way down! . . .

The Club Alabam will resume its Sunday features starting December 3rd. The Club Alabam's Sunday features for the past half a dozen or more years, in case you're not up on your night club history, is a series of Matinee Dances. The dances will get under way promptly at 3 p. m., with the regular floor show making its bow about 5:30. Because of the hot summer months, the Alabam discontinued its Sunday matinee dances. Now the management feels the time is ripe for the continuance of the Matinee Dances.

FLOOR SHOW AT 5:30

There'll be a floor show at the Matinee, while the music of the sensational Ernie Fields band keeps things swinging along at a lively pace. The Martin Twins, who are fast winning their way into the hearts of nightclub goers with their smooth dancesational act, is a highlight in the floor show. Others are Songstress Marion Abernathy; Melvin Moore, a gifted singer; Fred and Sledge, tap dance duo, and Estelle Edson, which completes a fast-moving show.

There will be no change in prices. Follow the crowds starting Sunday, December 3rd.

"Babe" Wallace Scores With Act

Pvt. Emmett "Babe" Wallace (who wrote "A Chicken Ain't Nothing But a Bird") brought his hoofing and a well-trained voice to the stage of the Lincoln Theater to receive the best reception ever received there. He made a good appearance in his army uniform and the audience called him back for six encores and a bow. This isn't a review of the Lincoln stage show; it's a review of Pvt. Emmett "Babe" Wallace, who isn't getting the breaks that his acting, hoofing and singing deserve.

Wallace wrote "Bring Enough Clothes For Three Days," the tune that put Timmie Rogers on top.

And what has he gotten out of it? Not even a penny postcard from Rogers, just an Army uniform!

If that's life, I'll take Vanilla!

HAZEL SCOTT IS TOPS IN HER FIELD—Hazel Scott, celebrated boogie-woogie pianist, who has been scoring a hit wherever she appears.

Swingsational Saxophonist to Form Sixteen Piece Orchestra

Latest news to come out of the Kingdom of Swing is Illinois Jacquet's announcement that he would enlarge his seven-piece band (currently appearing at The Swing Club) to a full-sized dance orchestra. Illinois is a handsome chap who rose to prominence overnight when he tooted the original Tenor solo on Lionel Hampton's now famous recording, "Flying Home."

15TH WEEK IN HOLLYWOOD.

Now in their fifteenth week at Billy Berg's famed Swing Club nitery on Hollywood Boulevard, the band is the rage of Hollywood. Maybe it's Jacquet's terrific Tenor tootin', or maybe it's the solid swing combo itself. But no matter what the reason or magnet it draws huge crowds to the Hollywood Street nitery.

The news that Illinois Jacquet will enlarge his band to sixteen pieces is warmly welcomed in the Kingdom of Swing.

Sammy Franklin In Real Estate

Sammy Franklin, one of California's most popular orchestra leaders, has entered a new profession. Not exactly deserting the music profession, the famed Angel City bandsman will spend his leisure (when he isn't turning out musical arrangements for his swingsational band), working as a representative of the Walter Gordon Real Estate office.

He has come a long way in California music circles since he first popped in port from Kansas City in 1938. One of Swingdom's top trumpeters, the likeable little guy who once was rated with the very best of them when he tooted the trumpet with the Count Basie band, has a host of friends here. He still toots his trumpet with his own band, playing mostly one-nighters.

Orpheum Has Top Show On Dec. 12

For one week starting Tuesday, December 12, the Lucky Millinder band will invade the Orpheum Theater with a show, according to Orpheum press agents, that will "top anything in Orpheum history." With the Millinder show will be The Deep River Boys, a quartet almost, but not quite, as good as the Golden Gate Foursome; Eddie Green's, Archie's Pal on the Duffy't Tavern radio show; Red and Curley, a duo of Harlem Hoofers; Steinway stomping Gene Rodgers, a piano's best advertisement, and a fine singer named Judy Carol.

You can count me in on this show because Luck Millinder's band will be on the stage, and who could ask for anything more?

I love smooth words, like gold-enameled fish
Which circle slowly with a silken swish,
And tender ones, like downy-feathered birds!
Words shy and dappled, deep-eyed deer in herds.
—Elinor Wylie.

Something For Everybody

For comedy and music, dancing, singing and Technicolor, "Something For the Boys" is right up with the best screen treatments of musical hits, and is now playing at the United Artists Theater, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles.

On the same program is a tense, psychological murder drama, "When Strangers Marry." All members of the cast give distinctive performances, but the acting honors go to appealing Kim Hunter, who gives a superb portrayal of the harrassed girl. Dean Jagger offers a flawless delineation of the husband.

Many Stars To Attend Ansel Hill's Opening

Lena Horne, Nina McKinney and other stars of stage, screen and radio will be on hand Friday evening for Pigmeat Markham's return; Ansel Hill's opening and JT Gipson's debut as a Master of Ceremonies at the Lincoln Theatre, in a new revue that will begin its initial four week run beginning December 1st.

The studios will be represented by Walt Disney's publicist, Joe Reddy and Casting director, Jack Lavan, who will be on hand for the opening of the most talked about band to invade the coast since the Count of Basie zoomed over the musical horizon several years ago.

Various stars of stage, screen and radio will be introduced from the audience.

Officer: "Say, don't you know better than to point an empty rifle at me?"

Rookie: "Oh, it ain't empty."

Lena Horne and Al Jarvis to Open Lincoln Ballroom

Lena Horne and Al Jarvis will formally open the Lincoln Park Ballroom with a benefit dance for the Durate Rest Home.

Introducing two popular dance bands, Franklin's Crack Jazz Band, and Rubio's, the Rumba King.

Miss Lena Horne has consented to act as official hostess for the opening and the popular idol of the Jitterburgs, Al Jarvis will M. C. the event.

All for Sweet Charity. Come out and try this wonderful dance floor and see these modern fixtures. The ladies lounge is a real thing of beauty. The date of the grand opening Sunday night, December 10th, 2039 Lincoln Park Avenue.

Ansel Hill's Band at Lincoln Theatre Starting Friday

Pigmeat Markham To Star in Show M.C.'d By Gipson

By NICK "THE GREEK"

Fresh from a record-breaking four-week engagement at the Club Alabam here, Ansel Hill and his band of eighteen instrumentalists, will appear in person on the stage of the Lincoln Theatre for a two-week stint beginning Friday, December 1st. This will mark their second appearance on the "avenue" within the past eight weeks. With some of the most capable instrumentalists in California in this agregation, Ansel Hill has a band that features power-house music all the way, dished out in full measure to the obvious delight of the teen age swing enthusiasts. Band boasts of several musicians who shine individually and with the group. Ansel, is a young, personable, and friendly sax-tooting front man who has made a decided hit here. "Discovered" by Eagle Columnists JT Gipson, here is a sound, swing band, with several sensational members of the outfit who stand out like Lucius Beebe in a hobo jungle! With funnyman Pigmeat Markham, flying home from Harlem's Apollo Theatre to headline the show, the new revue will be sparked with big time entertainment .

JT GIPSON, M. C.

Taking his place along side other guests (i.e., Lee Mortimer, Ed Sullivan, Hedda Hopper and others) of the Theatrical Columning Kingdom who find time to handle M. C. duties at the various theatres and nightclubs, the Gip will lay aside his portable for a week to come in as Master of Ceremonies for the new Lincoln Show. One of the most beloved characters in nightlife and theatrical circles here, the Lincoln management really struck pay dirt in signing the dapper and popular JT Gipson, as Master of Ceremonies for the week. His many friends, fans and loyal admires alone will pack the show. They'll be on hand nitely to see the Poor Man's Walter Winchell do his stuff. And should he decide to do his stuff (as manager John Maloney should demand), he'll get some of the hottest choruses on a Trumpet ever emulated from the bell of a horn! But then, with Ansel Hill, Pigmeat Markham, Jimmie Baskette, Sybil Lewis, Willie Harris and other big time stars on the same bill, to ask on overworked and underpaid nightclub editor to swing out on a Trumpet (Ala Louis Armstrong) in addition to doing M. C. chores, would prob'ly be asking too much—in view of the fact that I get in on a reporter's pass! And in case the Gip is too nervous to do his stuff (Tho he shouldn't be; he once had a swimming date with Lena Horne and didn't swim—or rather, swoon!) there is always Pigmeat, who is a much smoother comedian than in bygone days. His timing and delivery are sock. Anything he does and says brings hysteric laughs from the audience.

This show will be one of the Lincoln's best!

FINE CLOTHES—Miss Nina Mae McKinney is just finishing work on Columbia's "Together Again" starring Charles Boyer and Irene Dunne. Clothes go a long way toward making the woman—Miss McKinney knows how important it is to be dressed correctly at all times. So, she is buying her fall wardrobe now—and what a wardrobe. These are just three of the beautiful creations she'll feature this fall—a lovely duo-colored blouse dress of wool crepe with a matching net purse;—a black and white rayon crepe two-piece afternoon dress with black purse and gloves;—and a quenly black net evening gown embellished with metalic motifs of golden leaves. "Together Again" will soon arrive at your local theatre—you've just gotta see this.—(Columbia Pictures Photo.)

Bakersfield USO—

The gala week at the Nineteenth Street USO Club from November 20 to 26 inclusive was a huge success.

The week's program started off with a round table panel discussion on "What Part Has Been Played by the Voice of Youth in Adjusting Inter-Cultural Differences in Kern County" as the topic. Five adult and five youth speakers, took part in the discussion.

This was the first in a series of panel discussions that will be held at the club once a month dealing with the cultural life of community activities. The Inter-Cultural Council was in charge.

Tuesday night, November 21, found many servicemen and hostesses enjoying card games of whist, bridge, etc. Prizes were awarded. Mrs. Emma Drisdom, chairman of the Advisory Committee, also demonstrated home recipes.

One of the highlights of the gala week was the Cabaret party staged by the junior hostesses at the club on Wednesday evening, November 22.

The club was fittingly decorated in cabaret style, and was filled to capacity. A well timed floor show, m.c'd by Pvt. Willie D. Cooper of Minter Field, and the famed "Wings of Melody Chorus" added spice to the evening. Music was furnished by David Rivero and his Orchestra, and delicious refreshments were served. Mrs. Mary L. Layton was senior chairman of arrangements and Miss Velma Walker junior.

Open house was held at the club on Thanksgiving Day, with a classical hour from 5 to 6 p.m.

Friday, November 24, found the club transformed into a small Mexican village, when the Interracial Creative Arts Fellowship staged their "Night in Mexico." Music was furnished during the evening by the Mexican Troubadours; Mexican dancers entertained, and a small Mexican Art Exhibit was on display. Speakers for the occasion were Hugh D. Lowery, and William Lee, who told of their interesting trip to Mexico City at the invitation of President M. Azila Camacho. Mexican food was served by a group of the senior hostesses.

The Servicemens Wives "Fun Frolic Dance" on Saturday evening, November 25, is still being talked about by the servicemen in this area, and especially the buffet potluck dinner that was served the group. Much praise is due these young ladies for their splendid efforts in making this party a huge success. Music was furnished by the 3008th Army Air Force Orchestro, Minter Field.

Vesper services from 5 to 6 p.m. on Sunday evening, November 26, found a large crowd of servicemen and civilians. Guest speaker was Rabbi Jack Levy, who spoke on the subject, "In My Father's House there are Many Mansions" which was well received by all those present. Musical numbers were rendered by Mrs. Lillie Esters, Mrs. Pearl L. Winters, and Mr. Bob Roberts.

The Committee of Management and the staff of the 19th Street USO Club wish to thank each and every hostess and volunteer that helped make the gala week a huge success.

Liberty Ship, Bert Williams, Launched at the Todd Shipyards

PORTLAND, MAINE—Honoring the name of one of the great Negro humorists of the American stage, the Liberty Ship, SS BERT WILLIAMS, 225th cargo vessel to be built at Todd's New England Shipbuilding Corporation at South Portland, Maine, slid down the ways recently into the waters of Casco Bay, the United States Maritime Commission announced last.

Mrs. Maxine R. David, wife of a leadman welder on the third shift and a former welder herself, sponsored the ship in the presence of a delegation from the Negro Actors Guild of New York, a group of officials of the shipyard, and before a crowd of fellow workers.

Elmer A. Carter, executive chairman of the Negro Actors Guild of America, presented a framed painting of Bert Williams to the ship as a token from his organization. Leigh Whipper, outstanding Negro character actor, told a number of amusing anecdotes about Williams, and praised the New England Shipbuilding Corporation for its selection of a Negro workman, who had helped build the ship, to choose a sponsor. He pointed out that it was evidence of true Americanism. Mr. Sides replied that the shipyard was proud of the excellent working record of its employees, white and Negro men and women, and pointed to evidence of it in the group seated at the luncheon table.

The SS BERT WILLIAMS makes a total of 14 such ships named in honor of outstanding Negro Americans by the United States Maritime Commission. Others have been the SS BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, GEORGE FREDERICK DOUGLASS, JOHN MERRICK, JAMES WELDON JOHNSON, JOHN H. MURPHY, ROBERT S. ABBOTT, PAUL LAURENCE DUNBAR, JOHN HOPE, TOUSSAINT L'OVERTURE, and EDWARD A. SAVOY.

The Navy Department has named a naval vessel, the destroyer escort LEONARD ROY HARMON, in honor of a Negro mess attendant who received the Navy Cross posthumously for heroic conduct at Guadalcanal.

Orson Welles And Rex Ingram On AYD Birthday Fete

Screen actor and producer Orson Welles will be among the distinguished guests of honor and speakers when leading representatives of church, school, civic, motion picture and labor groups gather Friday night, December 1, at the Hollywood Hotel tto observe the first anniversary of American Youth for Democracy and to honor all young people for the contribution they are making to the Allied cause.

ORSON WELLES

Sponsoring the dinner are the more than 90 members of the Salute tot Young America Committee.

Other speakers will be Rex Ingram, Barney Ross, Philip M. Connelly and Rev. J. Raymond Henderson, with composer and singer Earl Robinson, singer Larry Neill, pianist Calvin Jackson and comedian Jack Gilford headlining the entertainment.

INFILTRATION

One of the most successful and destructive practices of the present war is called, "Infiltration." Under cover of darkness or dense vegetation, the enemy slips through the lines; and the soldiers holding the lines find themselves attacked from both front and rear, with their source of supply cut off.

While this method may be comparatively new in earthly warfare, it has been practiced ever since the great conflict between sin and righteousness began. Usually the fall is not sudden. It is not at first noticed by the individual himself, and perhaps not by others for a time. But the zeal slackens, the love becomes lukewarm and finally cold. All of this is usually brought about by little things which eventually spoil everything for us. Let us guard against this insidious method as individuals, and try to evade infiltration in our daily lives.

H. W. Dear Prof Herman: I have been reading your column in the paper for sometime and find it very interesting and helpful. Now would you please advise me regarding my condition.

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you have been having trouble with your leg and are wondering if it will ever get well. It is a slow process and will take patience my friend. But in due time with the proper care and treatment your health should improve.

A. A. Will we marry before the year is out?

Ans. It appears to me that your boy friend intends to carry out his plans for marriage this year. He is not paying any attention to his relatives and their various comments. He loves you, and knows that they are only trying to cause trouble.

WORRIED. Does he love me?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that your friend has stopped coming to see you and has caused you to doubt his love for you. Don't worry about this, it seems that the work he is doing has caused him to put in much extra time hence his not being able to see you. I am sure he will explain everything when you see him the next time.

R.F.S. Will you please tell me what my husband does with his money? Does he go out with other women? Does he love me? Will he ever come home on time?

Ans. Only one question is answered in the column, may I suggest your writing in for a private reply, at your earliest convenience.

R. T. Dear Sir: Just a little note of thanks, as this is certainly the proper time to express it. You have done so much to make my life a pleasant one and have been successful in doing just that! ! Thanks again for your help.

I. Z. Does my son write to the girl he should have married?

Ans. It seems that your son, really cares for this girl, and I do vision his writing to her. Now that he is in service he realizes many things he did not appreciate before.

I. D. C. I am very sorry about your letter not being answered, if you will be so kind as to repeat your questions I will answer them. Your letter must have been lost or misplaced.

R. R. What does the future hold for me?

Ans. According to your Lucky Stars and Guilding Planets your future holds many interesting events and you will be successful in your endeavors. Aim toward the goal which you think will bring the most success and strive to attain this goal regardless to obstacles.

You remember how America thrilled as a voice came over the radio—"Our planes have bombed Tokyo!"

* * * *

We thrilled again and again to learn how Lieutenant Colonel Doolittle led his men in the greatest gamble of the war—how they loosed their bombs on the city—how some were forced to abandon their planes over China—and how they found their way out!

* * * *

Now that story reaches the screen in M-G-M's mighty film, "Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo!"

SPENCER TRACY as Lieutenant Colonel JAMES H. DOOLITTLE

VAN JOHNSON as Captain Ted W. Lawson

ROBERT WALKER as Corporal Thatcher

Now you can see for yourself what that adventure meant to the men who went out to avenge Pearl Harbor—the human story behind the boys who left home and sweethearts and wives to take part in one of the most daring adventures of the war!

* * * *

"Thirty Seconds Over Tokyo" is the story of their courage and their glory!

* * * *

Director Mervyn LeRoy and Producer Sam Zimbalist have imbued Captain Ted W. Lawson's thrill-story with mounting excitement, gripping tension and warm human understanding.

* * * *

M-G-M has provided an ace cast—Van Johnson, Robert Walker, Phyllis Thaxter and SPENCER TRACY as Lieutenant Colonel Doolittle.

Fr. Dignan Speaks To I. R. C. Group At Regular Meeting

Negro children in Catholic schools in this Archdiocese are quite popular with the other students, the Rev. Patrick J. Dignan, Archdiocesan superintendent of schools, declared in a communication read at the October meeting of the Catholic Interracial Council of Los Angeles.

Father Dignan's statement was made in a letter informing the Council that there was an increase this term in the enrollment of colored children in local Catholic educational institutions and upholding the Christian prniciple of non-discrimination.

Two Resolutions

Resolutions urging the granting of full citizenship to Filipinos and the enactment of legislation forbidding racial discrimination within the District of Columbia were passed unanimously and forwarded to the Federal government. The respective resolutions were written by Ernesto Quiroz and Titus Alexander.

Restrictive Covenants

Daniel G. Marshal read a survey on residential race restriction covenants, analyzed a hypothetical case from doctrinal, moral and legal standpoints, and announced that he was awaiting opinions requested from priests skilled in moral theology and canon law as to what obligations are incumbent upon Catholics under pain of sin. He declared that a cursory study finds it fallacious that Negro occupancy in a neighborhood depreciates property values. On the contrary, Negro occupancy, he said, most often arrests a decline in values, stabilizes them, and later increases them.

Reports Requested

Lawrence La Mar was asked to prepare a report on segregation in the armed forces for the November meeting. Louis P. Tennette was asked to submit a report on tendencies towards monoracial patterns in juvenile rehabilitation programs.

AUGA CALIENTE, Mexico — Before one of the largest crowds in many weeks at beautiful Caliente, Valdina Cloud, the one to-two shot, captured the feature last Sunday. Staging one of those snapper garrison finishes, the Cloud came from far back to stage a powerful run through the stretch to win by two lengths. The race, at one mile and one-sixteenth, was known as the Black Widow Allowance. The time for the race was 1:45 1/5. On the secondary feature of the day at one flat mile called the Super Fortress, was taken by Brawley, the favorite, paying in the mutuels $7.60. The mile was run in 1:38 4/5. The daily-double paid $85.20, while the Quiniela backers received $13.60. The longest priced horse to win was Abba Daba, in the eighth race, paying $20.20. The shortest was Tic, in the sixth race, paying only 40 cents on the dollar. All in all, the fans seemed to enjoy a grand program arranged by Judge George Shillings. Another program of twelve races will be staged next Sunday.

This is the Sixth War Bond drive. Let's get together and buy more of these future day investments. It will pay off big and also help to bring our boys and girls home sooner than we expect. So until next week, so-long, and good luck.—George.

SAN BERNARDINO NEWS

Our community mourns the loss of a most influential citizen in the person of Mr. Jerry D. Smith. Mr. Smith was a resident for many years and until recently when his health began to fail he moved to Pasadena to live with his daughter, Mrs. Luanna Brown. Mr. Smith was always interested in the youth of the community. For many years he worked with the Negro Progressive Club and was the instigator in organizing a nursery school which is now located on 6th street and called the Westside Nursery. Mr. Smith will be greatly missed and leaves a son, Roland of San Diego and a daughter, Luanna Brown of Pasadena with a host of friends to mourn his loss.

The Anna B. Garner Study Club will meet next Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Minnie Lockett on Washington St. This will be a business meeting. All please be present. We will elect delegates to the convention in Los Angeles.

We are happy to announce that Mr. Perry Roland of Rialto Avenue has returned to his home from the hospital.

JOHN THOMAS MEETS NICHOLAS MORAN TUESDAY

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

IN THE DOG HOUSE—Definitely consigned to our dog house for this week is Bobby Yeager, once the promising protege of Bert Lewis and George Tolson. One year ago this kid was a quiet type of lad somewhat on the order of John Thomas, a clean living fighter if ever there was one. Bobby, at that time, wasn't smoking nor drinking. Last Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium after a sustained period at night clubs and hot spots along the stem, Yeager climbed into the ring against one Nicholas Moran from Mexico City, a kid who ordinarily couldn't dent a paper bag wth his punches. The rest is history. Bobby was knocked kicking in two minutes and 20 seconds of the first heat of their scheduled 10-rounder. Did Nick's punches do it? Heck no! The walking ghost of a kid who had been tabbed a year ago as one of the finest lightweight prospects in the country climbed into that ring and practically fell out from light punches to be counted out, a victim of complete exhaustation, without even the pep to climb to one knee before the count was finished. We have it from authoritative sources, Bobby, that you were seen at the Memo Club the night before the fight. During the week of the fight you you were also seen knocking 'em dead at the Clark Hotel. On the day of the fight there is a report that you were playing. Right after the fight was signed, when you should have been getting your rest, you were a gay celebrant at the Club Plantation along with Watson Jones. You were photographed and the picture ran with the rest of the "big shots" in our rotogravure section. We know that you have been seen drinking beer at other fights at the Olympic when you were supposed to be in training. Perhaps it didn't harm you but it doesn't look good to your public. We know that ever since you started getting big money fights that you have been falling in with the wrong kind of people that would turn their backs on you in a minute if you didn't have your gold. We know also that unless you straighten up and fly right in a few months the fight fraternity and the sports writers, including yours truly, will be saying, "There goes poor Bobby Yeager. They thought that he would go places but he's just a bum now, can't hardly hold his hands up. He plays too hard." What happened to you last Friday night, you had coming to you, Kid, and frankly I'm damned glad that it happened. Perhaps it will make you see that boys who are coming up have no business living the rotten sort of life that you have been living. When a good fighter really gets on top with plenty space in between fights he can relax and play a little, but NEVER when he is trying to get there, as you were. As we said before we can waste no sympathy on you losing that fight the other night and what we have written here has been for your own good. If you still retain a spark of ambition to get ahead, to continue in the fight game, you'll straighten up right now. Otherwise give it up and get a job in defense, because unless you mend your ways you are through in this town and I'll devote plenty of space in this paper to panning you whenever you get beaten. Why? Because I know that you have it in you to be a great fighter and nothing makes me madder than to see a good prospect blow his chances. You've got my advice. It's for your own good. If you haven't got guts enough to take it then you are a hopeless case.

INDOOR SPORTS—There was a little get-together of fighters (I won't mention any names) the other night at the Margol Cafe, around 52nd and Central. The spot being a spacious place, I wasn't a bit surprised when one guy, who thought himself smarter than the other boys, sought to demonstrate the effectiveness of a left hook to a perfect stranger, who really "wasn't for it." As the kid launched his left hook the stranger stepped aside just far enough to let the blow go by and then uncorked a right to the pug's whiskers and walked away. As he picked himself up the would-be teacher queried from Arthur Jarvis and Johnny Reeves, owners of the cafe, "Who was that guy?" "Just Freddy Jackson, a former boxing instructor," chorused the two, which just shows to go you.

Will Seek Revenge for Stablemate's Knockout

John Thomas, classy lightweight fighter, who ranks high among the nation's best in that division, will meet Nicholas Moran, Mexico City lightweight, in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium on Tuesday night, December 5th.

Moran will be remembered by fight fans as the boy who knocked out Bobby Yeager, stablemate of Thomas, in the first round of the scheduled ten-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night. It was the first time that Yeager had ever been stopped and John will be out to revenge the loss of his stablemate. The two boys are managed by Bert Lewis and George Tolson.

The fight is expected to attract one of the largest crowds ever to attend a fight at the Olympic. Fans are anxious to see if Thomas can get over Moran, who so easily disposed of Yeager. Matchmaker Babe McCoy has also arranged an attractive set of preliminaries to round out the card.

"Buddy" Young Is Voted Most Valuable Player By Illinois

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.)—Showing as much speed afoot on the football field as he showed on the cinder paths during the track season, Claude (Buddy) Young, University of Illinois halfback, Monday night was named by his football teammates as the most valuable player on the Illini team the past season, and Ralph Serpico, sophomore guard, was elected captain for 1945—the first time any player but a senior ever captained the team.

Young scored 13 touchdowns during the season to tie the record set in 1924 by Harold (Red) Grange.

BOBO STOPS BENSON

AKRON, O. — Harry Bobo, heavyweight from Pittsburgh, kayoed Johnny Benson of Indianapolis in the fourth heat of their scheduled 10-round bout here last Friday night.

Cosmopolitan Golf Club Is Host to Successful Tourney

Progressing to successful organization, the Cosmopolitan Golf Club Saturday staged its first Club Tournament on the Baldwin Hills Golf Course and after 36 holes of hot competition, into the Club's record books went the names of the first winners and their records.

Outstanding was the Pasadena stylist Oscar Clisby who started not so good, with a four under par 68. Clisby had a 34 on each side going over par once on each side and chalking up three birdies going out and coming in for a total of six. Clisby took the low gross prize with a total of 147 strokes.

The handicap winner and turning in an unpredicted performance was Stack Owens with two 75s—150, three strokes behind Clisby's winning low gross. His eight handicap making his low net 134 made him an easy winner of the Championship Division. He electrified the gallery at the 18th green with an eagle two, and then birdied the hole of the next round. Bill Spiller trailing by 12 strokes was the runner-up in this flight.

There were two more Flights, A and B played under rigid club handicap conditions and the club president, Henry Lewis with a net 145 was the A winner and Chester Carson, 149 the runner-up.

Jimmie Smith took the jump of the field with his first 18 hole tour of Baldwin and coasted in the B class winner with a net 147. B. N. Hunnigan was second scoring 154 with his handicap deducted.

Prizes were also given in two classes to players who had not qualified for club handicaps. The winners were L. Jennings, L. Jones and E. Ford. W. Morris took the guest prize.

Among the other entrants and their net scores were Sol Ellis, 147; A. Howard, 149; Elmom Williams, 151; P. Tamos, 151; Lee Marshall, 154; N. O. Houston, 156; W. McQueen, 157; George A. Beavers, Jr., 158 and E. J. Johnson, 159.

Mrs. Martha Clisby, Cosmopolitan Club vice-president was chief scorer and Jimmie De Voe, club professional, was the starter.

City Slickers Bow to Bulldogs

In a hard-fought grid game last Sunday the Eastside Bulldogs, coached by Bush Manson, defeated the Spike Jones City Slickers, 7-0.

The Bulldogs looked great in stopping the vaunted Slickers. They tallied in the second quarter when Quarterback Willie Slayton intercepted a pass on the Slickers' twenty, lateraled to Walter Lowe, who lateraled to Ernest Carter for the score. Little Johnny Williams hit the line for the extra point.

G. Vickers, T. Direaus, J. Scott and other Bulldogs starred for the L. A. team. The undefeated Bulldogs journey to China next Sunday for their third championship in four years.

Eastside Athletic Association To Launch 1944-45 Cage Season

Preceeded by a successful touch football season, the Eastside Athletic Association is about to launch its 1944-45 basketball season.

Led by chairman Lyons, the Association looks forward to a season of first class games played on the various playground courts and gymnasiums of the city. Teams from the following agencies are expected to participate: Carver Junior High, Lafayette Junior High, Central Playground, Compton Playground, Ross Snyder Playground, 28th Street Y. M. C. A., Woodcraft Rangers, All Nations Boys Club, Avalon Community Center, El Santo Nino Center, Pueblo Del Rio Housing Project, Deputy Auxiliary Police, All Peoples Church, Independent Church of Christ, Church Federation, (for other Protestant churches) Catholic Youth Project, (for other Catholic churches) Pilgrim House and South Park Playground and others.

If any of the agencies or organizations in the Association have been omitted, please write to Mr. Wesley Lyons, 885 East 45th Street for applications and information concerning the Association. All applications should be in by November 27, 1944.

Peters To Oppose Augustain Friday At Legion Stadium

Paulie Peters, hard-hitting battler from upstate½ who stopped Bobby Klaus and Roman Starr in two local fights, will oppose Frankie Augustain in the ten-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. Augustain has also defeated Starr.

To make the card outstanding Matchmaker Charley McDonald has lined up an attractive brace of preliminaries to round out the card. A large crowd is expected to attend the movieland boxing show.

Fitzpatrick K. O.'s Monroe In One Heat

It was a bad night for sepia glovemen at the Olympic Tuesday night. Four went to the post, two were knocked out, one lost a decision and one was returned a winner. In the main event, Battling Monroe, 169, who did everything except battle, was knocked out in 1 minute, 28 seconds of the first heat of their scheduled ten-round main event, by Fitzie Fitdpatrick, 170, hard-hitting Virginian, who was making a comeback after sustaining a one-round kayo himself recently at the hands of the up-and-coming Watson Jones.

In the semi-final, Acey Haynesworth, 172, popped out of the Navy long enough to get knocked out in the fourth round of the scheduled six-round semi-final by Ray Acosta, 169. In the fours: Russ Long, 158, beat Doll Nelson, 152, Negro battler, who does plenty of weaving but little punching; Benny Cousins, 115 (Colored), beat Len Arques, 120, "Bald-headed" Steve Ludman, 193, nodded Leonard Nix, 176 (Colored), and Art Santilli, 167, decisioned Frankie Valdez, 164.

Next Tuesday, John Thomas meets Nicholas Moran in the 10-round main event.

Rankins Wins Freedom From San Quentin

Walls of his prison cell seemed a bit thinner to Harry C. T. Rankins, ex-private policeman, as he received word last week of an Appellate Court reversal of his incest and rape convictions on his 16 year old daughter by a Superior Court jury in the court room of Judge Thomas Ambrose last June 8, 1943.

The gates on San Quentin will again swing open for Rankins, 48 years old, who now stands eligible for a new trial and will be returned to Los Angeles shortly, after spending 18 months in the state prison.

The District Court of Appeal reversed the convictions of Rankins on the ground that the jury was not properly instructed in law.

Rankins was accused by his minor daughter of committing illicit sexual relations with her over a period of five years. He was committed to San Quentin in July, 1943, to serve a maximum term of 50 years. Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr. was engaged by Rankins six months after his convictions to handle the proceedings before the Appeal Court, after Rankins had entered San Quentin.

Rankins is a veteran of World War I and a member of the Ben Bowie American Legion Post and was active in civic affairs.

He vehemently denied his daughter's charges at the trial and asserted that she resented his chastising her about boys.

Gordon paid Attorney Marshall Denton, Jr. a high tribute in his preparation of the trial instructions which enabled Rankins to obtain a reversal.

A CALL FOR CLAUD WILLIAMS

If you are Claud Williams, the baseball player from St. Louis, Mo., R. S. Simmons, Business Manager of the Chicago American Giants, would like to get in touch with you. His address is: Bonker's State Building, 412 East 47th St., Chicago 15, Ill.

The Payton I. Flourney who used to burn up the cinder paths for the Palmyra, N. J., High School, is now doing his running for the Marine Corps in the Pacific.

Adams In Kayo Over Postell In Amateur Show

Roscoe Adams, 135, brilliant Negro amateur boxer, headlining Abe Roth's card at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Wednesday night, knocked out Willie Postell, 140, in the second round.

In other bouts:

Leonard Johnson, 150, decisioned Johnny Williams, 152; Sailor Station, 190, kayoed Joe Olivera, 180; in the third; Sailor Arona, 147, cooled Johnny Apleza, 147, in the first; Robert Jackson, 150, knocked out Elias Padilla, 146, in the second; Sailor Woolf, 138, decisioned Hi Jones, 150; Leonard Johnson, 150, decisioned Al Taester, 153; Dave Cohn, 138, flattened Ed Garrish, 140, in the first; Leonard Mobley, 150, won a first-round kayo over Sailor Williams, 158; Louis Mosley, 146, stopped Standley Miles, 145, in the first.

Southern Plays Homecoming Gam

By Charles L. de Ley

NEW ORLEANS, La.—After more than ten years, the Southern University Jaguars of Scotlandville, La., return to New Orleans fo ra grid tilt with the Xavier University Gold Rush on Saturday, December 9th, at Xavier Stadium. The winner in this contest known as the "Louisiana State Classic," is generally regarded as the state champion.

Roy Miller Stops Starr

Roy Miller, 61, protege of Henry Armstrong, scored a sixth-round TKO over Roman Starr, 163, Indian battler, last Monday night at Ocean Park Arena in the scheduled 10-round main event.

In other bouts: Jackie Cooper, 157, scored a second-round TKO over Gilbert Whiteside, 155; Elmer Lewis, 145, kayoed Will Jones, 144, in the fourth; Bill Lisone, 170, decisioned Bob Hawkins, 160; Sidney Franklin, 154, knocked out Mickey Hearn, 149, in the second; Pete Lewis, 132, stopped Carl Abria, 135, in the second.

BOXING BRIEFS

TERRY GIBSON, Los Angeles fighter, was recently signed to a two-year contract by Elmer Lasley.

SNOOKS LACEY, stablemate of Jerry Moore, meets Joey Dolan in a 10-rounder Saturday night at Spokane, Washington.

"SUGAR" ROBINSON, New York, will meet Shiek Rangel, Fresno, Calif., in a 10-round bout at Philadelphia's convention hall on December 12, Promoter Herman Taylor announced this week. The fighters are welterweights.

AL HART, pleasing heavyweight, has been mentioned as a possible opponent for Sgt. Joe Louis, the champion, in an exhibition bout to be staged here.

The devotion of thought to an honest achievement makes the achievement possible.

TO ALL ON-SALE APPLICANTS

Section 21 of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act provides in part as follows:

"All applicants for on-sale licenses shall, within five (5) days after filing their application with the Board, cause a notice of such application giving the name or names of the applicant and the premises where the business is to be conducted, to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city in which such premises are situated, or if such premises are not in a city then such publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation nearest the premises where the business is to be conducted. The form of such notice shall be prescribed by the Board. Affidavit of publication shall be filed with the Board prior to the issuance of any license."

Your particular attention is called to the fact that the newspaper in which notice of intention is published must qualify as a NEWSPAPER OF GENERAL CIRCULATION AS DEFINED IN SECTION 4460 of the Political Code of California.

The form of notice prescribed by the Board is as follows:

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ENGAGE IN THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES
November 24, 1944

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that fifteen days after the above date, the undersigned proposes to sell alcoholic beverages at these premises, described as follows: 3228 South Central Ave., Los Angeles, 11.

Pursuant to such intention, the undersigned is applying to the State Board of Equalization for issuance of an alcoholic beverage license (or licenses) for these premises as follows: On sale beer only.

Anyone desiring to protest the issuance of such license may file a verified protest with the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, California, stating grounds for denial as provided by law.

Are You Bothered By

ITCHING BURNING

MISERY OF COMMON SKIN IRRITATIONS

Skin So Marred Is Annoying—Embarrassing

Life is dreary when externally caused acne-pimples, bumps (blackheads) cause you to itch and burn and scratch and make yourself feel miserable; all because you may be scratching and rubbing your skin when you really should be using medication on it that's made to help relieve the symptoms of such skin conditions. That's why so many thousands of packages of famous Black and White Ointment have been sold and used with such success for so many years. This comforting, antiseptic ointment also gives you real help in relieving such miseries in cases of Tetter, Eczema, and simple Ringworm, all due to external cause.

HERE'S WHAT BLACK AND WHITE OINTMENT DOES:

1. Being antiseptic, helps guard against infection due to scratching.
2. Helps nature in healing through antiseptic-germicidal action and stimulates granulation, often lessening the size of scars.
3. Helps relieve itching and burning sensation when applied as comforting dressing.

Read complete directions folder in each package—and use Black and White Ointment only as directed. Be sure that you get the original and genuine Black and White Ointment in the Black and White package, famous from coast to coast.

The 50¢ size of Black and White Ointment contains more than twice as much as the 25¢ size. Large bar Black and White Skin Soap, 25¢. Trial sizes of both products sold for 10¢ at all dealers.

When using soap for cleansing, do not use harsh soap. Rely on mild Black and White Skin Soap. Always insist on

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

Committee Formed to Promote Unity Through Interdependence

"The feeling that the rise of social and religious animosities threatens to turn the coming victory of the United Nations into a triumph of fascist ideas and methods," prompted a group of public-spirited thinking individuals in this country—such as: Will Durant, Theodore Dreiser, Harry W. Flannery, Waldo Frank, Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Herman H. Horne, Thomas Mann, Rabbi Magnin, P. A. Sorokin, Raymond Swing, Bishop Stevens—to issue and support a Declaration Interdependence, as an initial step . . .

The protagonists of this movement (about one hundred) represent prominent leadership in higher education, churches, art, the press, radio, theater, and business.

The use of the analogical title "Declaration of Interdependence," as a symbol of the great change that has taken place in the modern world since the signing of the American Declaration of Independence, was suggested by Dr. Durant: "There is a whole century of history in this added syllable—'ter'."

The nelogism interdependence stands for something new, something now in the making, a cosmic consciousness that human interdependence is the best guard of civilization.

The world is interdependent from the economic viewpoint, because all need the work and products of all; the world is interdependent from the ethical and cultural viewpoint, because purely economic relations would be inconceivable in the long run without a common consciousness of moral values; the world is interdependent from the political viewpoint, because the preservation of peace could not be assured unless the nations invest a part of their sovereignty in a common world government for the prevention of war; the world is interdependent from the scientific and educational viewpoint, because knowledge is power, and the use of power for selfish individual or group interest breeds resentment and war; the world is interdependent from the religious viewpoint, because the Spirit of Religion is the Spirit of God, the Father of all men.

It is on the basis of this fact of universal interdependence that the signatories of this tentative Declaration invite collaboration for the working out of a Declaration of Inetrdependence that would express the foundational principles of international world culture today. It is hoped that national and international committees and centers will be formed in the near future to organize collaboration to this end.

Officers of the committee are Dr. Christian-Richard, chairman; Dr. Frederick Roman, first vice-chairman; the Rev. Stuart P. MacLennan, second vice-chairman, and Attorney Hugh MacBeth, secretary.

LAWRENCE S. JOHNSON—Son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Johnson of 1156 South Hobart Blvd., and brother of Cornelius Johnson, famous athlete, died Thursday, Thanksgiving, November 23, 1944 at 10:30 P. M. at the General Hospital. He was a native son of Los Angeles.

Dormaneers Fete Guests At Dinner

On Sunday, November 26, an excellent dinner, served in true holiday style with turkey 'n' all the trimmins', was enjoyed by the 28th Streets Y.M.C.A. Dormaneers an dtheir guests. The group was welcomed by Walter Worrill, Men's Program Secretary, on behalf of the Branch.

The program was highlighted with piano selections by Mrs. Merlene Ballard and Joseph Adams, while Mrs. Anabel Worrill and Tiussaint Jennings each sang several songs. Lloyd Thomas spoke briefly on the meaning of Thanksgiving and emphasized the importance of reflective thinking.

Among the persons present were the following guests: Mesdames Walter Morrill, Merlene Ballard, Irma Wynne, Frances Riley, Therese Jenkins, and Misses Irma Gilmore and Ouida Wilson.

Table arrangements and of general assistance to the caterer were Dormaneers Houston Summers, Curtis Williams and Johnny Rogers.

Small Boy: "Sis, why do you dance with that soldier? You know he can't dance."

Sister: "Maybe he can't dance, but, oh, how he can intermission."

Here Is To Your Health

By Dr. Frank E. Zetar

To be successful, you have got to be healthy and to be healthy; your body must be free from aches and pains. Do you feel tired and sluggish most of the time, your body and limbs full of pains and misery, gas and bloating in your abdomen, painful joints on motion? If so, man alive, you are half dead and half alive; why not wake up and live? Who knows, maybe you are capable of doing far greater things in life than you are now doing, but your mind is sick, your body is distorted and abnormal. SIR, if that be your lot, make a resolution now that you are going to do something about it, then get going. And in your going consider DRUGLESS THERAPY as a health measure. Do you know what Drugless Therapy is? If your answer is no, then read this and let the contents thereof sink deep down into the marrow of your bones.

Dr. F. G. Zetar

Drugless Therapy is that method or measure of restoring, rehabilitating all of the Vital Natural Functions of the human body back to normal, without medicine, drugs or injections. Doctors of Chiropractic are specially qualified to make adjustments of the body organs, bones, Ligament and tissues, by special manipulations. Dr. Zetar and Staff invite you to come in for a consultation on your health problems. It may be the beginning of a new life, a new program, a new objective for you. Our office is fully equipped for complete Chiropractic Service.

For those ladies who desire to put the curves in the right places, take off inches from the waistline and 20 to 40 pounds safely and quickly and maintain a healthy strong body, we invite you to come in. Yes, we treat glandular disorders. And, OUR METHODS REALLY PRODUCE RESULTS.

We have two full time lady Technicians to serve you and more will be added as the need for them arises. SO, for Chiropractic Health Service, Foot Correction Treatments and REDUCING—see

Cameras, Birds Get Together

The photography class of the Polytechnic Evening High School was the guest of the Los Angeles Audubon Society at their Bird Sanctuary on the San Gabriel River last Sunday. Mrs. J. H. Comby, president of the society, arranged an interesting day in the woods.

H. L. Jones is instructor of the class, and Odessa Floyd, manager of the California Eagle Subscription Department, and Darby Jones, California Eagle circulation manager, are members of the class.

Daffodil Girls

We wish to thank our many friends for helping make our Barn Dance a success. Tony Espinosa, 1159½ E. 35th street, won the turkey. S. D. McDaniel presented Mrs. R. Addison who called the lucky number.

Nov. 26th all enjoyed themselves at the home of Mrs. Willie Smith, 4473 Mettler St. She has been ill. All wish her a speedy recovery.

The club reports the passing of Mrs. Brown, on Nov, 26th, 1944. She was the mother of Mrs. Gladys Grundy.

Mrs. Laura Washington, pres., Mrs. Evelyn Booze, corr. sec., Miss Corella Hunt, reporter.

Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Egar Hayes of New York City, who have lived in Riverside for the past two years, entertained with a lovely dinner party at the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Trivel Williams on Sunday night.

Thanksgiving motif was carried out in beautiful bronze and yellow chrysanthemums used for floral decoration.

Mr. Hayes is a noted musician, and he thrilled their guests with beautiful piano selections. Mrs. Hayes is an ideal hostess.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gordon, Mrs. and Mrs. Milton Henson, Jr., and Mrs. Sterling Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs.L ouis Lopez, Mr. Stanley Beverley, Mrs. Vernon Felix, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lopez and son, Frank, of Pomona, Calif.

$35,000 "Stop Disease" Drive Opened In Southeast District

With the City of Los Angeles providing only 51 cents per capita for health education and measures to prevent the spread of disease, and with the incidence of infectious diseases showing an alarming increase throughout the city, particularly in the southeast district, public attention is focused on the $35,000 disease prevention drive which the South East Area Community Health Association launched this week.

Preceding by a little over one month the date which will be set by proclamation of Mayor Bowron as the beginning of a city-wide Disease Prevention Week, the fund drive reflects the zeal and deep concern of Dr. Ruth J. Temple, South-East District Health Officed. Adopting the slogan, "Stop disease," the South District Community Health Association is wading into the fight against diphthera, small pox, syphillis, gonorrhea, and tuberculosis.

Pointing out that a present these diseases are accomplishing what the enemy has been unable to effect—an invasion of our land, Dr. Temple, who is an Assistant Health Officer for the City of Los Angeles, said early this week: "The mothers of Los Angeles are asleep on the job. They may awaken to find a forest fire sweeping their city in the form of a small pox or dipthera epidemic, unless they bestir themselves promptly."

The money to carry on the fight against disease will have to come from the community itself. William A. Nickerson, President of the oGlden State Insurance Co., has started the ball rolling with a $1000 donation. Dr. Howard Allen has contributed $100 and long hours of voluntary service. Drs. Charles Jackson and R. W. Whittacker have also made donations. As the campaign progresses, every citizen of the community will be asked to make a contribution and to take part in the program for education against the spread of infectious disease.

VOLUNTARY BLOOD CHECK-UP—Joe Morris, outstanding community citizen, and owner of the Club Plantation, takes time out to volunteer to have a blood test taken at the South District Community Health Clinic at 55th and Central by Dr. Ruth J. Temple, Southeast District Health Officer and Director of the South District Community Health Association. Dr. Temple, who is an assistant City Health Officer, invites full community participation in the health education campaign which opens this week in her district as a prelude to the Disease Prevention Week which will be observed throughout the city in January on proclamation by Mayor Bowron. Blood tests, such as the one Joe Morris is shown taking, are one of the surest means of checking health, and only require a few minutes to complete.

Sgt. Lewis Sends Season Greetings

Sgt. Murray N. Lewis, who has been overseas for almost two years, sends Season Greetings to his many friends; also Mrs. Charlotta Bass. He thanks them all for remembering him while he is doing his bit. Sgt. Lewis wrote recently of reeciving two medals: one for good conduct and one for participating in the North Africa campaign. He enjoyed a visit to Rome, Italy, San Pietro Church, and saw the Pope.

Another brother of Sgt. Lewis, M/Sgt. Lucien Lewis, is stationed somewhere in the South Pacific. Before being inducted into the Army, he was a student of Southern University.

Sgt. Murray N. Lewis and M/Sgt. Lucien Lewis are brothers of Mrs. Oada Lear, Miss Estonia Lewis and Mr. Elliott Lewis.

Attorney Visits Bar Convention

Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr. is en route to Chicago on the California Limited to attend the National Bar Association Convention which will convene in Chicago on or about the 1st of December.

He will also visit his father, Reverend Vince Monroe Townsend, Sr. in Memphis. From there he will go to Little Rock where he will visit his relatives and friends.

He will return to Los Angeles, by way of Oklahoma City and El Paso, arriving in Los Angeles about the 15th of December, 1944.

TO SPEAK

Dr. Belle Wood Comstock, noted medical authority and lecturer, will be the speaker for Women's Day, Saturday, December 2, at 11:30 a. m., at the Sunset Avenue S. D. A. Church of Pasadena, corner of Sunset and Pepper.

• PASADENA NEWS

Three outstanding features are in store for the large audience which attends the special Sunday evening lecture series conducted by Rev. Owen A. Troy at the Sunset Avenue Church of Pasadena, corner of Sunset and Pepper.

"The Birth of a New World," a recently released and outstanding technicolor sound moving picture, will be shown at 7:10 p. m. This picture has received wide acclaim in religious and historical circles.

A deaf-mute chorus and verse choir will appear in several musical and verse selections. This unusual group is making its first local appearance Sunday evening. It is an unforgettable occasion to see this group perform.

"The Queen of Sheba" is the subject of the illustrated lecture which will be given.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM DR. SEYMOUR H. KAUFMAN TO ALL OF HIS PATIENTS AND FRIENDS:

Recently you phoned Dr. Seymour H. Kaufman for professional services, and at the time you phoned, Dr. Kaufman was on an emergency case and was unable to come to you immediately. So in order that you were not delayed in receiving essential treatment, he gave your call to other doctors.

We are sorry to have just learned that these other doctors have been charging you rediculous and exhorbitant fees which Dr. Kaufman had no knowledge of; and only discovered this through his efforts to bring you to his office for another examination.

So, in the future Dr. Kaufman says: "My life is dedicated to your health and well-being. Therefore I will devote 24 hours every day to all of my patients and their friends.

During one of these evenings that you phoned, Dr. Seymour H. Kaufman was busy delivering a baby girl to Mrs. James Edwing, Jr., wife of publisher and editor of the Neighborhood News. Dr. Kaufman also has made numerous calls for Mrs. Charlotta Bass, owner and publisher of the California Eagle. He prides himself in the fact that one of his dearest friends is the Rev. Clayton Russell of the Independent Church of Christ, of whom Dr. Seymour visited personally and publicly made a speech at his church.

In closing, we can only say this. Your confidence in Dr. Semour H. Kaufman's efforts to keep you in good condition so that you can help win the war is all he is interested in, and it will be more than greatly appreciated if you will call him for an appointment and come to his office for a preliminary examination.

Negro Fighters Battle Against Germans, Get Praise From "Stars and Stripes"

By JOHN S. KINLOCH

WITH U. S. THIRD ARMY FORCES EAST OF CHATEAU-SALINS—When Gen. Patton's troops bolted forward from their positions here west of Metz, an important segment of the offensive was spearheaded by Negro tank forces which recently joined the Tihrd Army.

When H-Hour of the new assault struck, two companies of a Negro tank battalion battered their way forward in the Bezange and Moncourt area.

Later on other units headed a vast task formation that lunged head-on into German-held territory and scored the first important break through of the drive.

I don't know whether metropolitan papers back home have covered the Negro tank soldier's debut, but the fox-hole journal out our way has done them up proud. A full column of the brief four-page "Stars and Stripes" battle-front edition has been devoted to the unit in a report by the GI paper's excellent Negro correspondent, Allan M. Morrison.

Said Stars and Stripes:

"The task force included tanks, tank destroyers, combat en-

Bill of Rights Committee Made Permanent One

With the organization this week of a permanent Bill of Rights committee at a meeting held in the offices of Attorney H. Leonard Richardson, final plans for the celebration of Bill of Rights Week from December 10 to 15 were completed. Richardson was elected chairman of the Southeast committee for one year with Dr. C. W. Hill and James Smith being elected treasurer and secretary, respectively, for a like period.

The committee will function in the community to acquaint everyone with the purpose and intent of the Bill of Rights, which is embodied in the first 10 amendments to the constitution. Newspapers, radio, printed copies of the bill and observations by local churches this Sunday with the Rev. Baxter Duke taking the lead, are means to accomplish this end.

Among those present at the meeting were: Leon Giles, president of the Eastside Chamber of Commerce; William Nickerson, Jr., of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Dr. C. Price Cobbs.

Permanent FEPC Asked By Solons

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Pointing out that there is possibility of race riots unless the rights of minorities are safeguarded, a congressional committee, submitting a report favoring the setting up of a seven-man permanent fair employment practices committee, stated early this week that unfortunately "discrimination because of race, color, or creed, national ancestry or origin, is a widespread practice in all sections of the country."

Continuing, the report says: "The four largest minorities who suffer from such practices are our 13,000,000 Negroes, our 5,000,000 Jews, our 3,000,000 Americans of Mexican or Spanish origin, and our 5,000,000 foreign-born citizens.

Trade unions have also openly discriminated against non-whites. At elast 13 national labor organizations with a membership of more than a million members, refuse to admit Negroes to membership."

The committee reevaled that trouble is brewing among millions of workers," who are discriminated against by being forced to accept the least desirable and lowest paid positions."

Sgt. Thornton Earns Promotion

WITH U. S. ARMY FORCES ON NEW HEBRIDES, South Pacific.—Staff Sgt. Tommie L. Thornton who resided with his sister, Mrs. Iona B. Anderson, at 2322 Cooper Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., was promoted a few months ago to his present grade as a Mess Sergeant in a Q.M. truck company in the New Hebrides in recognition of his ability in this department of soldiering.

He attended high school in Los Angeles in 1936, and was in the cleaning and pressing business in Sonora, Calif., when inducted.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE MARKS NEW YOUTH CENTER OPENING—In conjunction with the opening of the new Center for Youth by a group of West Side women last week, forty of the young people energetically organized a War Bond Selling Drive that met with marked success. Believed to be the only children's Bond Rally organized in this city, the rally demonstrated the value of the work that will be done by the Center which is located at 3765½ South Western Avenue, at Exposition Boulevard. Formal dedication will be held Friday night. Shown in the picture are bond salesmen Mae Parker, Eva Kent, Frank Kent, Eva Polk and Mrs. Ada Polk, one of the organizers of the Center.

Home Owners Restriction Fight Looms

The Home Owners Protective Association, organized several months ago to combat the growing residential restrictions, is beginning to "go places" in its fight.

Two methods are being employed by the organization in its fight against bigotry: educational propaganda and legal methods.

The people must be taught through education that this country is a democracy, a real democracy.

In the battlefields of Europe and in the South Pacific, Negro and white, Jew and Gentile, Catholic and Protestant soldiers are being killed by the same bombs, they hide in the same foxholes, they are wounded by the same shrapnel, they are bitten by the same cooties. It is a pure democracy in the battle lines.

It must likewise be a pure democracy on the home front. The people of the United States must be taught it is not so terrible to live next door to a Negro family. The Negro families must be taught that not all white people are objectionable to live with. The people of the United States must learn through education and experience that as the Negro and white soldiers can live to-

Smith Urged to Run Again for NMU Secretary

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Ferdinand C. Smith, who recently resigned as secretary of the National Maritime Union, was urged to run again for the office in a resolution unanimously adopted at the regular semi-monthly New York membership meeting held this week.

A special bi-election has been ordered by the NMU National Council. The nomination period ends December 31, and voting will begin January 15 and terminate March 15.

The resolution was offered in the name of the nearly 300 crew members of the SS Argentina, one of the largest vessels in the merchant marine.

Grandmothers In Battle Over 2 Year Old Girl

The "battle of the grandmothers" over the custody of little Della Marie Harrell, age 2, is being waged in the Superior Court of Los Angeles and Alameda Counties. Living at present with her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Della Harrell, at 3502 S. San Pedro St., Los Angeles, the child, whose mother died three years ago, and whose father died about a year ago, is blithely innocent of the excitement that is being created by the attempt in the courts to have her declared legally adopted by one or the other of her grandmothers.

Prior to the death of her mother, Della Marie lived with her parents at the home of her maternal grandmother in Oakland. Following her mother's death, the child was taken to Los Angeles by her father to be reared by his mother. Following the father's death, the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marie Nichols, came to Los Angeles, and when her demands that the child be returned to her were ignored, sued on a writ of habeas corpus and petition for guardianship.

Mrs. Harrell opposed the legal action, and in a trial before Judge William B. McKay last April, she was successful in having herself named as

I GUESS a few of us who are always talking and writing about segregation and its by-products such as discrimination in public places, cafes, hotels, theaters, railway cars, etc., never thought that one of the short-cuts out of our dilemma might be achieved by turning the searchlight on the accusers and away from the accused.

Lillian Smith, author of "Strange Fruit" in the December 1 issue of Negro Digest, suggested this new approach to the race issue.

Says Miss Smith:

"It must seem to people watching us a strange and curious thing that when we in America study race relations we study the Negro—not the white man.

"No governor, no mayor, no president has ever appointed a committee to study the white man and race. No surveys have been made to determine the cause of that desperate feeling of inferiority which drives white men to shout aloud to the whole world that their skin color gives them priority over other human beings."

Miss Smith said that after science and society had delved into the Negro for 80 years and found no difference in the way his emotions functioned; no difference in his ability to

Babcock Named '44 Drive Head

David T. Babcock again heads the Los Angeles chapter 1945 Red Cross fund-raising campaign as volunteer chairman—the second consecutive year he has served in this capacity.

Announcement of Babcock's appointment to this important post was made this week by Gurney E. Newlin, chapter chairman.

"It is an honor to be named to the chairmanship of the 1945 campaign committee," Babcock said in accepting the position. "Red Cross is performing a grand job around the world and an important, vital work on the home front, and its program for the coming year will be even more extensive as World War II battlelines approach their ultimate goals.

BOND RALLY

The War Finance Committee of the Newton Area will conduct a Victory Bond Rally on December 16 at the Elks Hall. War movies, stage and screen celebrities and war heroes will be feature attractions.

For every bond purchased through the Newton Division, a free ticket to the rally will be given; admission will be by bond only.

Courtmartial Trial In Seattle Is Expected to End This Week

SEATTLE, Wash.—The courtmartial trial conducted by the U. S. Army against 42 Negro soldiers entered its final stage early this week. Unless unforseen developments occur, the trial, the largest courtmartial yet to develop out of this war will conclude by the end of the week.

Lt. Col. Leon Jaworski, trial Judge Advocate, began the third week of the trial by concluding presentation of his case. Chief defense attorney, Major William T. Beeks plans to ask for a continuance of several days so that he might write the stories of some of the prisoners who will not take the stand, and who, under military law may submit unsworn testimony.

It is expected also, that the defense attorney will request that several Negro soldiers who are witnesses, be returned from overseas to present what he claims is vital testimony.

The trials comes as the result of a riot which took place in a prison camp near here in which Italian prisoners of war are interned. Negro soldiers who are stationed at the camp tangled with some of the prisoners last August 14, resulting in injuries to thirty, and the death of one prisoner.

Today's greatest danger may be a blessing in disguise if we meet it with intelligence and conviction.—Roy L. Smith.

THE FIRST LADY AND WRITER-DIRECTOR, CARLTON MOSS, SPEAK TO WOUNDED NEGRO VETS—Mrs. Franklin Delano Roosevelt joined with Carlton Moss, (young writer, who directed and enacted the role of the minister in the epic film showing the contribution of the Negro to the war effort, "The Negro Soldier," which he wrote), to bring Thanksgiving cheer to more than 100 wounded Negro soldiers, sailors, marines and coast guardsmen at an annual dinner sponsored by the Equestriennes, a group of Government girls at Lucy D. Slowe Hall, Washington, D. C., on the Sunday following Thanksgiving day. To the left of Moss, (shown standing), who is now working on a film dealing with Negro soldiers in overseas combat, are: Mrs. Campbell C. Johnson, Capt. Herbert E. Carter of the 99th Pursuit Squadron and Mrs. Edith Fortal, a member of the Equestriennes. On Moss' right are: Mrs. Mary McLeod Bethune, president of the National Council of Negro Women, and Col. Campbell C. Johnson, executive assistant to the director of Selective Service. Shown left to right from The First Lady are: Col. Campbell C. Johnson, Mrs. Marie B. Poston, business manager of the Equestriennes, Truman K. Gibson Jr., civilian aide to the Secretary of War, Dr. Marshall Shepard, Recorder of Deeds of the District of Columbia, Mrs. Ellen Beckwith, a member of the club, Spurgeon Burke, manager of Lucy D. Slowe Hall is shown in the background.

War Council Has New Films, Available Free

Many outstanding new films have been added to the library of the War Council's film bureau and are now available for showing before organizations and groups.

Here are a few of the most important Army, Navy and government films which are attracting wide interest:

"We Said We'd Come Back."—The story of the Navy's fight in the Pacific, the assembly of the greatest seapower the world has ever seen, and th latest ships, plans, and weapons in actual combat scenes. Twenty minutes for showing.

"Freedom Comes High."—The story of a destroyer and its crew in a battle with a Jap cruiser. Stellar roles played by Walter Abel, James Craig, and Barbara Britton. Twenty minutes.

"Birth of the B-29."—The development of the most powerful plane in the world, the B-29 Super Fortress. Twenty minutes.

For information about these films or arrangements to show them, call the War Council Film Bureau in the City Hall, Michigan 5211.

think, act, learn and adapt successfully — it was high time the search for a solution be turned towards the white race.

"No studies have been made of the white man's infantile desire always to be first," she pointed out, "always to sit in the front seat, always have the biggest and best of everything—a desire that makes a nuisance of a child but makes a menace of a man who has the power to get what he wants."

"We have not yet faced the painful fact that whatever the problem is concerning white people and colored people, it will be found in the ideas and feelings which we white people have about ourselves and our color," she concluded.

Fifteen California Men Ready for Training

The recruit training period includes fundamentals of Naval procedure, military drill, seamanship, and the physical hardening program. The final phase of their recruit training includes a series of aptitude tests which determine whether they will be retained for advanced training in one of the Navy Service Schools or will be assigned to immediate duty at sea or at a shore station.

The new recruits are: Robert B. Wesley, 23, 2608 Grant St., Berkeley; Clarence A. Bradford, Jr., 24, Fred L. Brown, 21, David F. Hammond, 24, Roscoe C. Johnson, 25, Lawrence S. Watts, 22, Charles D. Williams, 17, all 6 of these men from Los Angeles; David H. Hughes, 23, James D. Humphrey, 26, Fred Rubin, 22, Benjamin Wood, 18, all 4 of these men from Oakland; Sidney E. Lomon, 17, San Diego; Richard M. Clisby, 17, 1447½ 17th St., Santa Monica; Hardie W. Backstrom, 24, Vallejo, Calif.

Pianist At Second AME

The Second AME Church, of which the Rev. J. B. Saint Felix Isaacs is pastor, has a deep interest in the welfare and progress of all young people. On Sunday, December 3, the Usher Board presented the talented pianists, Edythe K. Owens, and dramatist Dorothea McNeil, at the 6 o'clock Twilight Hour.

A capacity audience responded to the beautiful music and thoughtful readings offered by these two young and exceptionally talented artists. There will be three other programs in the current series, and each one will offer new pleasure and inspiration.

Cornerstone Baptist

Sunday, November 26, marked one of the greatest days in the history of Cornerstone Baptist Church. The Rev. D. C. Austin, with his radiant smile and great spiritual strength, led the congregation in the closing of the 30-day rally which was an outstanding success. The money raised will be applied to the building fund for a new Cornerstone Baptist. We have already purchased three lots on the corner of 20th and Hooper, and with the success of the rally we are ready to begin the new Cornerstone.

Financial highlights of the rally are: Ministers' Union, Rev. Reid, president, $181.75; Deacon Board, F. Baker, chairman, $168; Deaconesses, C. D. Malone, president, $72.52; Sunday School, W. Jackson, superintendent, $185.77; BYPU, Deacon Jackwell, president, $194.34; Layman League, A. Williams, president, $104.75; Senior Choir, H. Jackson, president, $401.00; Senior Missionary Board, Odessa Reed, president, $521.10; Usher Board, Sarah Joyce, president, $613.20. The total amount raised, including individual donations, is $5,834.98.

Forty-nine were added to the church roll, 10 by baptism. Everyone is invited to come out and worship with us at Cornerstone Baptist.

CARS AVAILABLE

There will be 150 new passenger automobiles available during December for rationing applicants in the eight southern counties of the state, it was announced today by J. B. Melvin, auto rationing specialist for the Office of Price Administration. This is 12 cars less than were released for this area during November, Melvin said.

Messiah at Independent

The Music Department of the People's Independent Church of Christ announces the annual presentation of Handel's immortal Christmas oratorio, "The Messiah," in the church, located at East 18th and Paloma Streets, on Sunday afternoon, December 17, 1944, at 4:30 p. m. The oratorio will be under the direction of Albert John McNeil, the Minister of Music, with Marguerite Chapman, Josephine Cooper, and Gladyce Dent, sopranos; Wathea Sims-Jones, contralto; Willie Starks, tenor, and William Valentine, bass. Fannie Evelyn Benjamin will be at the console of the organ.

The Cathedral Choir is proud to be the only group in this community to present this work, and cordially invites the lovers of good music to this annual event. The choir will make its first appearance in their new vestments.

California GI's At Fatigue Camp

15th AAF IN ITALY—Keeping a Fighter Group in good shape is a hard and tiresome job for all enlisted men. The men in an all Negro Fighter Group are no exception. In an effort to combat the fatigue which sets in after eight or ten weeks of solid work, this veteran Group has adopted the policy of sending its enlisted men to Rest Camps for relaxation.

One of the Rest Camps is located in Rome, where everyone is anxious to spend a few days enveloped in the culture, the ruins, and the adventure of that ancient city.

Earning the privilege of visiting Rome were: Sgt. Percy Cherry, 11311 Alvaro Street, Los Angeles, Cpl. Samuel D. Kimbrough, 1835 Prince Street, Berkeley, California, F/Sgt. Auther Mabry, 3586 Budlong Avenue, Los Angeles, Calif., Sgt. DeWitt A. Morris, 219 East Teuslow Street, Fullerton, Calif.

★ LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

TWO WAYS

This business of Democracy works two ways. You not only receive and fight for your right to enjoy it, but you also extend it, and fight for the right of others to enjoy it. Otherwise it isn't Democracy; it becomes some special kind of privilege for you, which the other fellow helps you obtain, and which you deny to him. Nationalism is the curse of any minority group in this day when all the great forces of the world are aligned against the dying hordes of Fascism and intolerance. No leader or group of people has the right to attempt to divert the steady flow of history in this, the people's era.

John M. Lee

Among the Negro people there are too many "racists." They refer to the whole struggle as their fight. Such leadership is false and is made of the very elements that make Fascism. To combat this evil should be the number one assignment of the new year for every sincere believer in full equality of opportunity. All minority groups must be made to understand that the pattern is a whole one. It is not broken into segments to be handled separately.

While many Negro leaders are ranting about building a black man's paradise in a world of many races and colors, honest leaders of the people's fight are making enduring progress in the right direction. From the CIO has come the strongest, most inspiring evidence of the possibility of realizing the brotherhood of man, then has resulted from the thousands of nationalistic sermons preached by hundreds of ministers in Negro churches every Sunday.

The question naturally arises, "where can we look for leadership?" The answer will be found within yourself, for the leadership you seek is within your own mind. If you are willing to think clearly, you will recognize that only by joining with those whose problems are the same as your problems, can you wipe out inequalities. To pass them from one group to another is certainly not the solution.

The program which Phillip Murray offered to the CIO convention and which was adopted to be translated into action beginning now, might easily be termed a Declaration of Interdependence. It is a program for all the people in which all the people can participate. The convention out of which that program emanated has been called historic, and time will justify that designation. Time will show, too, that the CIO has been the most powerful force against economic and political slavery in the nation's history, and it will show that out of the CIO has come the real leadership of the Negro people, and the people of every minority group.

A SUITABLE GIFT

The mad rush will begin for Christmas shopping very soon. No matter how carefully you prepare your list, you're bound to forget somebody. This year, early mailing guarantees that GI Joe and Jane will get a present from home, but among those in the service will be the wounded, lying bleeding on some forlorn front, too far away from the point where the gifts are being distributed to care about anything except that pint of blood, which to him will be the dearest Christmas present of them all. Call RO. 0121 and start it overseas today.

Deaconess Officials Installed at Mt. Olive Church by Pastor

In a very impressive and beautiful installation service at Mt. Olive Church of Christ, 1517 West 36th Place, Rev. Ellwood Rector, pastor, installed the officers of the city-wide Deaconess Union.

These officers are as follows: Deaconess Rosie Reed, president; Sister C. E. Rector, vice-president; Sister B. Carter, secretary; Sister Grace Calaway, corresponding secretary; Sister M. Brown, treasurer, and Sister Richard, chaplain.

The Deaconess Union is made up of deaconesses from all the city churches, and meets every fourth Sunday in a different churches. Deaconess Grace Calaway, corresponding secretary; Deaconess Rosie Reed, president.

Golden State Aids Bond Sales

Negro women of the Newton Street area sold $60,000 of War Bonds last week in the Sixth War Loan Drive. The Women's Ambulance Defense Corps of America, headed by Mrs. Ethel Davis, and the Women's Division of the Treasury Department, Newton street Area, under chairmanship of Mrs. Jessie L. Terry, shared credit of $30,000 each in the sale.

The bonds were sold to the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company. Another purchase of $40,000 was made by the company during the week, making a total of $100,000 credited to the Newton Street Area during the Drive.

CIO Supports Security Change

WASH., D.C. — Declaring that "this is no time to undermine the social security program," CIO Legislative Director Nathan Cowan today wrote to all members of Congress urging them to vote against the proposed "freeze" in social security payments.

"Both workers and employers can better absorb an increase now than they may be able to do a year from now," he said. "The added funds are needed for the present program; certainly they will be needed for the expanded program which the people of this country are determined to have for themselves and their children.

"The CIO believes that an adequate social insurance system should be financed through contributions of employers and employes supplemented by a contribution from the general tax revenue of the government.

"We strongly oppose the freezing of contributions and urge that the Congress refuse to go along with any weakening of the present social security system."

Seal Sales Soar Skyward

Total receipts of $16,170.25 were received in the first week of the 1944 Christmas Seal Sale, exceeding contributions for 1943 by approximately $1,452.30 the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association announced yesterday.

The campaign began Monday, November 27, when 93,000,000 Christmas Seals were distributed in the mail to residents of Los Angeles county.

"The first week's returns give an excellent indication that the Tuberculosis Association may exceed the amount it received last year," Dr. Leland Hawkins, president of the association, said.

What's Doing—
In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

The 1944 Black and White Formal is off. That's authentic info, gatherad direct from the Frat brothers themselves. The Kappas, who have staged the formal as a local tradition for years, gave up their November date, and made a few plans to hold the affair during the month of December. However, after looking the calendar over, they found the "cheery month" to be chucked full, as usual with many important events, highlighted by the AKA's Grad chapter Semi on the 30th of December, and other club and private parties. So, the formal plans were given up for the year. Know this bit of info leaves many a deb and young matron with sad heart, for some very fine gowns were in the making for the big night. Cheer up, though, girlies, for the first big event of the New Year will be the Black and White. According to Donald Derreiks, Johnnie Brewer and the rest of the brothers round town, they just couldn't think of letting the public down completely. Rumor has it that the old familiar setting of the Elks Hall is all off, and the Dawn frolicking, will take place at another popular spot.

SUNDAY'S WEDDING

It will be to the tune of the wedding march that Athenaise Marie Houston and Lieut. John LaMar Hill march Sunday afternoon round four thirty o'clock. The ceremony takes place at St. Odelia's Church and the reception is to be held at popular Villa Arlington. By the way, Athenaise, is popular "Puffy" Houston's real name. (Bet you didn't know that.) Understand there will be 10 bridesmaids in the bridal party. "Puffy" has been treated royally by her many friends. Most recent bridal fete was a shower hostessed last Friday night by Ann Cunningham and Marilyn Williams.

HOW ABOUT THE COUNCIL

Stepping lightly from the gay side for a brief moment, want you Younger Setters to note that you're letting the Youth Council of the NAACP down. Times haven't changed a bit, it's still necessary to carry on the fight for racial rights. However, for the past few months the club meetings have been growing smaller. Holding membership in the club doesn't mean a thing, what the council needs is active membership, and plenty of it. You high school, junior college and university students should come out and support the organization. At Friday night's meeting at the YMCA plans will be made for the coming election. Ike Adams, present prexy, vacates the office this term to make entry into the adult division.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

The Angel Cityites are just catching wind of the fact that Lieut. Wesley Russell and the Mrs. (glamorous Neleen McGruder of Frisco), are expecting a bundle of joy round January some time. Sure the young-un will be a bouncing eyeful with much looks and a dazzling personality. Congrats from LA's younger setters, Kiddos. . . . Speaking of doc stork and his doings, Arbazine Walton is in the sunny land of Florida, where hubby Jack is stationed. The Walton bundle of joy will be expected soon, so old doc stork's visit will more than likely be destination Florida. . . . Elweis James Lacey has departed the fair city and is making her home in Oklahoma where Lieut. Bill Lacey is permanently stationed.

From the South Pacific came exciting news for Corinne Kimbel. Her better half, Bill, has been made a first Lieut. . . . Must stop right here, and refer to the pin-up picture of Pauliete Coleman, making front page of last week's Eagle. The U. S. Army sent the glamor shot of the local lovely which was entered in contest by a soldier stationed in the South Pacific. So happens that Miss Coleman knew nothing of the matter 'til she saw her picture in the paper. Believe it or not, she's a bit baffled, for she doesn't know where the GI got the picture. Maybe from a magazine cover? Anyway, here's hoping her heart throb, also stationed in the South Pacific, but in a different company, will understand . . . ta ta.

Cupid is scoring all around. This time it's the engagement of Thelma Lee Wallace. . . . Corinne Jones received a bit of teasing from the sorors of her chapter last week, the girls are wondering if she'll pass the traditional candy soon. . . . The lucky gent in question is Sgt. Buddy Dunn.

Juanita Parsons is one of the latest packages of personality to arrive in L. A. from Wilberforce University. The glamorous deb who makes her home with the Scruggs family, is a staunch AKA, with some important calendar brighterners in mind for the Alpha Gamma Chapter of the org. . . . Margaret Potter of L. A. has been made into the sorority, and is definitely making the grade on the Wilberforce campus. . . . Naomi Davis had plans for vacationing in L. A., however the arrival of her brother, Capt. Edward Toppins, to the states has put a stop to her Christmasing away from home. The captain, who was noted for his flying sometime before the war, has for the past week been addressing different clubs around 'Frisco telling of exciting war events and what have you. . . .

The Stewart household is quite feminine, since Leslie Stewart, Joyce and Jerry Stewart's only brother, received his induction papers. He left for the reception center on the 4th of December. Leslie was one of Jeff High's ace tractsers during spring of '43, graduating in the June class. . . . He ends his career as a civilian for an unknown term. . . . Gloria Tribble is feeling a bit happier since officially finding out that her brother Tommy is a prisoner of war. For several months he was reported as lost in action.

Hear that Tilly Kenner and the rest of the fun-making collegiates will be on hand at the P.O. during the mighty Christmas rush. By the way, among recent Christmas greetings is a gay yuletide card from Bert Kenner, now a Staff Sgt., stationed somewhere over the blue. . . . Don't forget the Jr. Council. . . . Till next week.

Orange Blossoms Plan for Xmas

Plans for the Christmas party and dinner, one of the social events of the Yuletide season, were completed at the regular meeting of the Orange Blossom Club of Hiawatha Temple No. 91 held last month at the home of Mrs. Lottie Forrester, 1075 East 33rd street.

They will be held at Carmele's Den, 848 East Adams Blvd., on Saturday night, December 16. Dinner will be served at 7:30 sharp. The Auxiliary is invited to take part in these festivities, and each member of the club is asked to bring one guest.

Mrs. Forrester told of the Thanksgiving Day she spent in Dr. Stoval's Tuberculosis Sanitorium in Duarte, a few miles from Monrovia.

Mrs. Forrester and her friends took a red car for Monrovia at Sixth and Main streets, and a taxi at Monrovia for Duarte. The sun was just coming up over the mountains as they rode along the beautiful highway, and the air was crisp, fresh, and sweet.

Mrs. Forrester described the lawns of this outdoor life and health sanitorium as being well kept, with beautiful shrubbery and roses of all colors in bloom. There are five large cottages for the sick, and each cottage has four large screened-in wards, with three patients to a ward, besides private rooms.

While waiting for the visiting hour they were taken through the dormitory, dining room and kitchen, with its large and well-stocked frigidaires.

Trays for the patients' Thanksgiving dinners were prepared by a staff of nurses supervised by the efficient, sweet-faced housekeeper, Mrs. Burnette. Two 25-pound turkeys were the main part of the menu, with all the trimmings, down to pumpkin pie. There was also plenty of fresh milk.

After the patients were served, Mrs. Forrester and her friends were invited to join the hospital staff for their Thanksgiving dinner. "And believe me it was really a delicious dinner," commented Mrs. Forrester.

At three o'clock, the visiting hour, the group was taken through the wards and found the patients cheerful and happy, some in bed, others in reclining chairs and wheel chairs. Some were making paper flowers, others embroidering or knitting sweaters to sell. Convalescing patients were outdoors. Mrs. Roberts is head nurse of the institution. There are three other day nurses and one night nurse. There is an X-ray room connected with the sanitorium. Mrs. Forrester reported everything spotlessly clean, and the patients given the best of care.

The Orange Blossom Club voted ten dollars for the work of the Sanitorium.

An interesting history of the Club's organizer and first president, Mother Anna Hicks, was given by Mrs. Elizabeth Kimbrough, a charter member of the club. The life of Lula Lewis, one of the club's loyal deceased members, was also given.

Mrs. Sophia Ackins, who for two years had not been able to attend the club meetings, was among those present. Mrs. Kansas Tibbs, 1236½ East 43rd street, and Mrs. Wilma Martin, who suffered a broken ankle, are one the sick list.

A full course turkey dinner, cooked and served by one of the leading catereeses of L. A., Mrs. Myrtle Laurence, club member, was served at the close of the regular meeting. The meeting closed with the Orange Club theme song, and a rousing vote of thanks was tendered the hostesses, Mrs. Forrester, Mrs. Laurence and Mrs. Agnes Roberts.

TEACHER SHARES THE HONOR—Miss Hanna Jensen, who as his teacher sponsored Charles Windsor's winning essay in the Essay Contest on Tuberculosis, shared his distinction when he received a testimonial certificate which was awarded her by the Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell, chairman of the local judges committee for the contest. The award to Miss Jensen was made at Bowen Memorial Methodist Church where the program was held.

Surprised On Her Birthday

• Christmas came just 23 days early for Mrs. Elizabeth A. Fambro of 1472 E. 21st Street, i nthe form of a surprise Birthday party given the evening of December 2, by her husband, Hamp Fambro and son Conrad Cecil, also her daughters and daughter-in-law, the Misses Mollie, Mattie, Alice and L. H. Fambro.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the guest of honor from the husband, family and many well-wishing friends.

Some of those present were: Mrs. Elnora Bunn and escort, Mr. and Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Mary Battle and daughters, Mrs. M. L. Rayford and S. H. Dabney, Mrs. Bert Davis, Mrs. Alvis Eaton, Mr. Leonard Ross, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver, Mrs. Mary Poyne, Mrs. Juanita Perry, Mrs. Louise Patton, the Misses Dorothy Le Vine and Mitzir Stockland, Mr. and Mrs. Levi Shaw and a number of others.

A sumptuous supper was served by the host and hostesses and dancing and games ended the evening.

"The burden of proof is on the bureaucrats to demonstrate that any of the abnormal wartime restrictions on industry and labor should be perpetuated."—M. S. Rukeyser, economist.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Not for the mighty world, O Lord, tonight,
Nations and Kingdoms in their fearful might—
Let me be glad the kettle gently sings,
Let me be thankful, just for little things:
For little friendly days that slip away,
With only meals and sleep and work and play,
A rocking chair, and kindly firelight—
For little things, let me be glad tonight.
—Arthur Beecher.

BRIDE-ELECT FETED

Miss "Puffie" Houston, charming bride-elect, was feted with a miscellaneous shower, Friday night, at the home of Marilyn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Williams, in West 35th Street. Miss Williams and Miss Ann Cunningham were the hostesses. Thirty guests, friends and accosiates of the bride-to-be, were in attendance. The groom-to-be, Lt. LaMar Hill, arrived in the city this week from the Army Transport Corps, Officers' Training School at New Orleans, La. Attending the bride will be Marilyn Williams, Ann Cunningham, Jean Brown, Jane Criner, Jean Garrott, Lita Hibbard, Paulette Coleman, Ione Pierce, Ramona Robinson and Anita Rickman, who will come from Oakland to participate in the ceremony. Phyllis Kelson Holloway will be the Matron of Honor. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Houston of West 29th Place. She is a graduate of St. Agnes High School, attended Los Angeles City College, and is popular in Los Angeles' younger social set. Many oother affairs have been planned for Miss Houston this week.

RETURNS TO SANTA BARBARA

The recipient of many social courtesies during her week's visit with friends from her home State of Missouri, now living here, Mrs. Mary T. Baker returned to her home in Santa Barbara. She was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Casmon of West 37th Place, and was a girlhood chum of Mrs. Casmon.

SOCIAL DOINGS...

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. C. L. Daniels, 411 East 43rd Street, was pleasantly surprised with a party, in honor of her birthday, given by her sons and daughters. Several outside friends, besides the family, were invited in to wish her "many happy returns of the day," and numerous lovely gifts were showered upon her.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Price, in East 43rd Street, celebrated their Fourth Wedding Anniversary on Saturday night at their home. Twenty-one guests attended, and the couple received many beautiful gifts.

NEWS BRIEFS...

We hear that little Jacqueline Louis Barrow, daughter of the Champion, completely "stole the show" from mama and papa at a recent appearance on the Stage of the Regal Theatre in Chicago. Little Miss Louis sang and pranced about the stage, and held the baton in her tiny hands to direct the orchestra, to the roaring delight of all the children present. Incidentally, we are looking forward to the soon appearance of Marva Louis at a swank L. A. nightspot.

Another distinguished visitor in the city this week is the Rev. J. N. Harris, pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Church, Redlands, Califronia. He is the guest of Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, minister of the First A.M.E. Church at 8th and Towne.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Young, newlyweds of six months' duration, are purchasing a lovely home in Blodgett Tract, which they expect to be ready for occupancy in three months.

With belated birthday congratulations for my friends, Lena Edwards Lacefield and Nellie Mills, whose natal days occurred the first part of this month, until next week I'll say...'bye.

Mrs. Addie Wilson spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Bryant, in Riverside.

Mrs. Jessie Cole and Mrs. Fannie Williams were co-hostesses at a well-appointed luncheon, followed by bridge Wednesday, at the Villa Arlington. Covers were laid for 52.

Misses Ann Cuningham, Marilyn and Norma Williams entertained with a miscellaneous shower Friday at the Williams residence in honor of Miss Puffie Houston. Many lovely gifts were received.

Dr. and Mrs. W. B. Teycer, of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Pearl Allen Smith were dinner guests of Mrs. Emily Brown Portwig, Tuesday, after a tour of the residential sections of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Johnson entertained the Pioneer Club Tuesday evening at their new home, 3701 West Adams Blvd.

Lieut. Charles Boswell and Sergt. Vance Jones are home for a short visit with their relatives. A number of social affairs are being planned for these popular home-town boys.

Mrs. Mildred Hawkins was hostess to the London Bridge Club Saturday at her beautiful and spacious home in West Chester Place.

Mrs. Vernita Moore had as her guest to dinner Saturday Dr. and Mrs. Teycer, of Chicago, and their sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith.

Mrs. Ruby Selby, president of West 36th street P.T.A., is all smiles over the success of the at the Good Templers Hall in bridge tournament held Friday West Jefferson street. Prizes were donated by the merchants of the neighborhood and Mrs. Anna Reid and Mrs. Dorothy Vera Johnson.

Miss Jacqueline Freezee was a charming hostess to the L. A. Tri-Y Wednesday. Plans were made to present scrap books to the wounded soldiers at Birmingham hospital for Christmas.

Drs. F. Tucker Moore, Frank Maxwell, Al Johnson and Fred Griffin were co-hosts to the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Association Wednesday evening at Camille Den. Father R. Moore and George Beavers spoke on the interracial hospital about to be built, and showed the miniature plans. Out-of-town guests were Dr. B. Young, of Oakland, and Dr. R. Shumate, of Ft. Huachuca. Members were glad to have Dr. Henry McPherson back with them. After a round table discussion on the hospital a turkey dinner was enjoyed.

The High Sierra Bridge Club met at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Pearl Saturday, with Mrs. Pearl as hostess. Four changes of bridge were enjoyed after an appetizing luncheon. Guest prizes were won by Mesdames Margaret Moore, Cynthia Gordon and Ethel Bell. Club prizes were won by Mesdames Emma Holt and Vada Sumerville. Out-of-town guest was Mrs. Sophia Teycer, of Chicago, who received a beautiful handkerchief.

Mrs. Lorraine Ellis Brown celebrated her birthday with her husband, Petty Officer Conklin Brown, in San Diego where he is stationed.

Mrs. Jane Hudson entertained 24 ladies with a bridge luncheon Friday at her home in Arlington Ave. Prizes were won by Mesdames Winniebelle Harrison, Thelma Long, and Leola Balch Owens.

Mrs. Jane Sealey, wife of Dr. S. J. Sealey, of Bryan, Texas, who has been visiting with Mrs. Grace Boswell, left for her home Monday.

Mrs. Irma Hopkins entertained Mrs. Juanita Miller with dinner Tuesday. Mrs. Miller left with her husband, Atty. Loren Miller, last week to attend the National Lawyers Guild in Chicago.

Women's Club Met Saturday

The Women's Patriotic Club met Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Devers, 3412 Raymond Ave. Business included a vote to purchase a Christmas tree for the servicemen at Camp Ross, Wilmington.

A letter of thanks for a record player which the club had presented to them some weeks ago was read from the boys of that branch of the USO club.

This gift, which cost the club $75, is only one of the many things which, under the leadership of Mrs. Lula B. York Washington, have been done for our servicemen, in hospitals and camps. The following officers were elected for the coming year: president, Gertrude Devers; vice-president, Thelma Horton; secretary, Fannie Dixon; treasurer, Betty Baily; chairman of ways and means committee, Lula B. York Washington; chairman of sick committee, Rosa Howard; reporter, Lillian Johnson.

A delicious chicken dinner was served by our charming hostess.

Next meeting will be held at Rosa Howard's home, 1408 East 41st place. Lillian Johnson, reporter.

Tea To Close Outdoor Drive

Sunday, December 10, the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. Luther M. Hudson of 1240 S. Arlington will be the setting for an elaborate tea to be given by the Membership Committee of the Outdoor Life and Health Association to which the general public is invited.

This event will appropriately close the annual membership drive which has been in progress for the past two months and it is hoped that many clubs and civic organizations will take this opportunity to do their bit of Christmas sharing by taking out substantial club memberships with this most worthy charitable organization.

Madame Eulah Mae Smith, harpist, will be the featured artist for the afternoon. Hours: 3 to 7 p. m. Mrs. Florence Carter is chairman of the membership committee.

SAN BERNARDINO NEWS

Thanksgiving gatherings of San Bernardino included the "turkey and trimmings" dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Phillips. The Phillips with their daughters, Mary Lou and Tommie Wilson, had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. George H. Venable and their children, Richard and Carol, Mrs. Virginis [illegible], Mrs. Lulu Henry, and Messers J. Robert Smith and Toussaint L. Patterson of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Adams of Los Angeles were the guests of Mrs. James R. Harris of 1003 Spruce street last Sunday.

Mrs. C. C. Smith of Cleburn, Texas, and Mrs. Joe Williams of Los Angeles were the week-end guests of Mrs. Nichols of 999 Ninth street. Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Mrs. Nichols and Mrs. Smith is her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott James of 151½ Ninth street have had as their house guest for the past two weeks his brother, Mr. Leon James of Oklahoma City.

Miss Ethel Love, secretary to the director at our USO, has as her guest her mother, Mrs. Baker of Kansas City. Mrs. Baker expects to be in the city about three weeks.

Mrs. Herman W. Phillips entertained with a luncheon honoring Mrs. J. E. Wallace, wife of Dr. J. E. Wallace, prominent physician of Cleveland, Ohio, and her sister, Miss Hazel Phillips. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. Rowena Savage, Mrs. Estee Jones, and Mrs. Almeda Johnson. Guests were Mrs. Margaretta Hocker, Mrs. Almeda Johnson, Mrs. Florence Hillsman, Mrs. Nan Washington, Mrs. Rowana Savage, Miss Ethel Love, and McKinley James, Mrs. Servilla Johnson and Mrs. Estee Jones of Los Angeles, and Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. Albert Gordon and Mrs. Wilhelmenia Anderson of Riverside.

Mrs. Lelia Dixon of 6th street and her grandson, Orville Diggs, jr. spent the week-end in Los Angeles.

Mrs. J. E. Wallace and Miss Hazel Phillips, both of Cleveland, Ohio, were the house guests of Mrs. Nichols of Ninth Street.

Mrs. Georgia Slack of Gallup, New Mexiso, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Mary Denman, was entertained by Mrs. Alberta Lee of L street.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams Jones and children and Mrs. Alberta Lee, Mrs. Jones' mother, spent the Thanksgiving holiday and week-end in Los Angeles and Pasadena.

Mrs. Jessie Hurd of L. Street has spent the last few days in Los Angeles.

Rev. Hickman, former director of the local U.S.O. spoke at New Hope Baptist Church last Sunday.

Rev. W. M. Radcliff, assistant pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Church, preached last Sunday morning and Evangelist King preached at the evening service. Rev. Criglar, the pastor, has been confined to his home on account of illness for the past week.

Members of the Lilly of the Valley chapter of Eastern Star went to Riverside last Thursday to join with Queen Elizabeth Chapter in conferring the Amaranth Degree.

Mrs. Johnnetta Jackson of 6th street was hostess to La Cercle Charmante last week. Other than the club her guests were Mrs. Natalie Diggs and Mrs. Florence Hillsman . . . For Bridge the first club prize was won by Mrs. Hallie Johnson, second club prize went to Mrs. Gussie Rucker and guest prize went to Mrs. Natalie Diggs.

Mrs. Thelma Barnwell of ninth street was hostess to the Cosmos Club last week. Other than the club her guests were Mrs. Rowena Savage and Mrs. Hattie Downing. For bridge first club prize was won by Miss Dorothy Inghram, second prize Mrs. Alice Fletcher and guest prize Mrs. Rowena Savage.

Mrs. Dora Dean Gaines was hostess to the Mothers' Club last week. Two new members were taken in, Mrs. Ursula Jones and Mrs. Natalie Diggs. The Committee reported that 28 dollars were taken in from their recent Turkey raffle. This was the club's first attempt to raise money. The mothers are planning to have a bazaar in the near future. Watch for later announcements.

The Anna B. Garner Study Club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. E. Muckelroy on 6th street, Dec. 12. At this time the club will have a farewell party for Mrs. Moss, one of the members. Mr. and Mrs. Moss are moving from our community.

The Junior Choir of St. Paul A. M. E. Church entertained friends at a tea at the home of Miss Bernice Inghram. Their famed trio sang to the delight of all present.

The Brownie Club of Girl Scouts just completed a calender sale. It was a huge success. The girls, who only number 13, sold 102 calenders. Little Beverley Jackson sold the greatest number. Mrs. Gaines and Mrs. Sneed are leaders of the group.

DAN THOMAS, husband of Mrs. Marie Thomas, and Mrs. Thomas' three sisters, Mrs. Frank Bobo, Mrs. Theodosia Shaw, Aloise Jackson, and Mr. Frank Bobo planned and carried through a unique surprise birthday party last Sunday evening. Mrs. Thomas had been invited to attend a movie with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Bobo, on the occasion of her birthday Sunday evening, but when she arrived at their home, 4455 Towne Ave., instead of finding them with their hats on ready to start, she was greeted by some seventy-five guests in a grand chorus surprise. A gorgeous birthday cake with all the necessary candles decorated the well-laden table, behind which stood the host nad hostess surrounded by their friends. Odessa Floyd made the discovery.

THE BISHOP BROADCAST

By Sybil Collins

Christmas greetings in the form of a generous shipment of dormitory supplies were received by President Rhoads from the Women's Convention of the Northwestern District Association, through its president, Mrs. Lilly G. Coleman of Sherman, Texas.

A campaign organization for Marshall and vicinity is being formed for the kick-off of the "Building and Endowment Campaign" for Bishop College. Dr. O. W. Phillips is chairman and the Rev. S. H. Howard is co-chairman.

President Rhoads left Wednesday for the Colored Teachers State Association which met in Houston on Thursday and Friday. He met a group of Bishop Alumni friends at the Antioch Baptist Church, and delivered an address at the opening session of the Association. The president is chairman of the Texas Commission on Democracy in Education. The Commissions has secured nearly a million dollars in annual salaries for Negro teachers in Texas during the past three years.

A pre-registration social was given in the J. R. E. gymnasium by the student body Saturday, December 2.

CHAIRMAN OF JUNIOR HOSTESS COMMITTEE PASSES

Mrs. Josie Ladd, who for the past year has been chairman of the Junior Hostess Committee, died at her home on Thursday, November 30. Although Mrs. Ladd has been inactive as chairman for several months because of her illness, her death was indeed shocking to all of her friends in the USO. Taking over the chairmanship of the girls under the direction of former Assistant Director, Mrs. Frances G. Elliott she surrounded herself with a group of hard working women and girls and until she was stricken some months ago, never ceased a moment in her untiring effort to create a women's department at the USO which is a credit to the entire community. The staff and entire personnel of the club extend their deepest sympathy to Mr. Ladd and the other members of her family.

CHRISTMAS PLAY REHEARSALS BEGIN

Rehearsals for the Christmas play written by Jestor Hairston for the servicemen and hostesses began on last Sunday afternoon. More than twenty servicemen, sailors and soldiers in addition to the fifteen Junior Hostesses will take part in the program which will be held on Sunday afternoon, December 24. More about the program and its participants will appear later.

One of the feature programs of the week in addition to the popular Wednesday and Saturday night dances will be the Kiddy Party held on Friday night, December 8. This type of party always attracts a crowd at the club and many novel contests and games are scheduled to make Friday night's party one of the best yet. So enthusiastic has been the response among the servicemen in making voice recordings to send home during this month that three evenings during the week are being devoted to this feature instead of one formerly designated. A brand-new library of symphonic recordings have been received and servicemen wishing to use these fine records need only to ask for them at the office desk.

Work, Fight, Pray For a Permanent FEPC

President Roosevelt's Fair Employment Practice Committee which is now an agency by executive order, can easily be made a permanent committee, if the people who are interested in it will see to it that their senators and representatives in Congress vote for it is as they should the last few days in which Congress is in session.

In the U. S. Senate hearings on the Senate bill S2048 took place early in September. Sen. Dennis Chavez (D.N.-M.) is chairman of the subcommittee which conducted the hearings, and which reported the bill favorably. It is now on the Senate calendar, to be acted upon by the members of the Senate.

In the House of Representatives hearings on the proposed legislation (HR 3986, RH 4004, HR 4005) were held June 1-16, and were taken up again in November. On Nov. 28 the House Labor Committee, Mrs. Mary T. Norton (D-N.J.) chairman reported the bills favorably for a permanent FEPC, and requested that this special legislation be given a "priority position" on the House Calendar.

The House Rules Committee, however, determines the position of bills on the calendar. This committee has 13 members, one of whom is Rep. Hamilton Fish (R-N.Y.) Ham Fish, as every one knows, is opposed to a permanent FEPC and to everything else that would help the Negroes or the common people of the country.

Four members of this House Rules Committee are poll taxers. These five—Fish and the poll taxers—have nearly always united in voting against any progressive legislation. They will likely unite against the bills for a permanent FEPC, and although this legislation will doubtless pass sometime, it should be passed NOW, since it has been reported favorably by committees of both the Senate and the House, and this mere handful of reactionaries should not be allowed to kill this important legislation by delaying the vote.

Congress adjourns legally December 31, although it can adjourn if it wishes any time before that date.

These "lame ducks" in Congress must be taught a lesson. They were rejected by the people in the November election. We must not allow them now to dominate this Congress, and frustrate the plans of President Roosevelt and the wishes of the majority of the people of the United States.

Write to Rep. Adolph J. Sabath, chairman, House Rules Committee, and insist that the Committee give legislation for a permanent FEPC an immediate place on the calendar.

Write to your representative (Thomas Ford, 14th district) and ask him to work for an immediate favorable vote in the House.

Write to your two senators (Senator Sheridan Downey and Senator Hiram Johnson) and ask them to work for the passage of S. 2048, the FEPC bill in the U. S. Senate.

Remember that both the Democratic and the Republican Parties pledged themselves in the recent election campaign to work for a permanent FEPC. Therefore write to Senate majority leader Alben W. Barkley (D-Ky.) and to Senate Minority Leader Wallace White, Jr. (R-Me.) and urge them to fulfil their parties pledges by supporting S. 2048.

We can have this permanent FEPC adopted by Congress and given to the people of the United States, especially to the Negroes and to all minority groups, as a Christmas gift if we but bestir ourselves and write and urge others to write to those who represent us, to vote and work for this great benefit to mankind.

National Association Studies Postwar Period

Among the 70 delegates, representing N. A. A. C. P. branches in Seattle, Bremerton, and Tacoma, Washington; Portland, Oregon, and 18 California communities, who attended the Regional Conference held in San Francisco on Nov. 24th and 25th were 7 delegates from the Los Angeles Branch, Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., Dr. H. Claude Hudson, Mrs. Zella M. Taylor, Revels Cayton, Augustus F. Hawkins,, Clarence E. Smith, and Nita Blackwell.

The purpose of this conference was to study the postwar problems facing the Negro and to consider plans for opening a regional office of the N.A.A.C.P. on the West Coast. Sessions were held at the Booker T. Washington Center in San Francisco. Roy Wilkins, editor of the Crisis and national assistant secretary of the Association, and Noah Griffin represented the National Office.

Joseph James, president of the San Francisco branch, presided at the Mass meeting held Friday night, Nov. 24th, at the Congregational Church. Revels Cayton, Los Angeles C.I.O. official, spoke on "Reconversion and Postwar Employment Opportunities" and Dr. Buell C. Gallagher, member of the N.A.A.C.P. National Board of Directors, spoke on general minority problems. Both speakers ably pointed out that the treatment of minorities will be the test of whether or not peace and democracy will be realized in the postwar world. Music was furnished by an interracial octette under the direction of Alberta Mayo.

In the final session resolutions were passed urging the president of the United States and the Secretary of the Navy to make a thorough investigation into the circumstances which surrounded the recent mutiny trial and conviction of 50 Negro seamen at Port Chicago and recommending that the branches work out a definite program aimed at securing complete integration of Negroes in postwar industry on basis of equality, legislation for the establishment of State F.E.P.C.s and enactment of civil rights laws in the several states within the region, and adequate, unsegregated housing for Negroes.

In the field of education recommendations were made for in-service training courses for teachers to develop better understanding of races and to change biased attitudes, elimination of textbooks and teaching materials sterotyping the Negro in menial and inferior roles, and substitution of material showing the part of the Negro in the building of America for instruction in American history, civics, and social study courses.

The resolution on race relations condemned the attacks upon American citizens of Japanese ancestry, recommended the release of Japanese Americans and Japanese of proven loyalty from concentration camps and urged the branches to welcome them back to their former homes. The official city and county committees of race relations in Seattle, San Francisco, and Los Angeles were endorsed and the establishment of similar committees in other cities and counties urged.

The final resolution expressed appreciation to the Negro Press for its campaign for racial advancement for the cooperation it has given, and continues to give to the activities of the

YOUTH COUNCIL

The NAACP Youth Council urges all members to attend the meeting tomorrow, Friday night at the 28th Street YMCA to discuss the election of officers for 1945. Many of the top offices, including that of President will have to be filled. Persons between the ages of 16 and 20 are especially urged to come out and take up some of the interesting and important work of the council.

Speak Right Out If You Mean It!

In this article which appeared in the Friday, December 1, issue of "The Hollywood Reporter," there are no "ifs and buts." The management of Cafe Society has stated where it stands in the matter of racial discrimination. And this pronouncement should be the policy of every American institution operated for the service and convenience of the American people.

Our temper has a notoriously low boiling point, so we will let the following exchange of letters between a war worker and Barney Josephson, owner of Cafe Society Uptown and Downtown, speak for itself. Anything we might add would be irrelevant — and probably stated in impolite terms:

"Manager Cafe Society
New York, N. Y.

Dear Sir: My employer told me of a picture and article appearing in Life Magazine showing a night club in New York with colored and white guests. I obtained a copy of the magazine and was utterly amazed to learn the club in question is Cafe Society. At present I am on an important war project. We are practically isolated from all social activity, which I would prefer to walking into a night club, or any place of entertainment, and being subjected to such close contact with Negroes. I sincerely hope Cafe Society is the exception and such practice is prohibited by other clubs.

No doubt you will feel I am prejudiced and a crank. Such is not the case. Negroes, in their right place, are a good race. Here's hoping you can see your way clear to revert to your former restrictions, so we war workers can anticipate more pleasant evenings in Cafe Society in the future.

Sincerely,
Joan B."

(79 years after Civil War)

"Dear Miss B:

We are sorry that, being isolated in a barracks so far from New York, you are unable to understand and appreciate the great changes which you are helping to bring about through your efforts as a war worker. Our German enemy has brutally brought to the fore as the main issue of the war the question you raise, that is, the question of 'racial superiority.' The Negro people have been stirred to demand the rights granted them under Article 14 of our Constitution and under the Civil Rights Law which exists in the State of New York. Your letter asking us to 'revert to our former restrictions' (which, by the way, never existed in Cafe Society—the place, not the sect) in effect asks us to violate the Federal Constitution and the New York State Law. We are sure that you did not intend to be an 'accessory before the fact' to the commission of a crime—a crime which is punishable by a fine of $500.

Your letter was very well written and shows that the writer has had quite some schooling and possesses intelligence. But it shows also that there is something radically wrong with our school system and that training was not carried out along truly democratic lines. In spite of your denial, it reeks with race prejudice. You stated that you would not like to be 'subjected to such close contact with Negroes,' and that Negroes, in their right place, are a good race. What is the right place for any citizen, any human being, in a Democracy? We believe in Democracy and we are willing to practice it, even if it hurts our business!

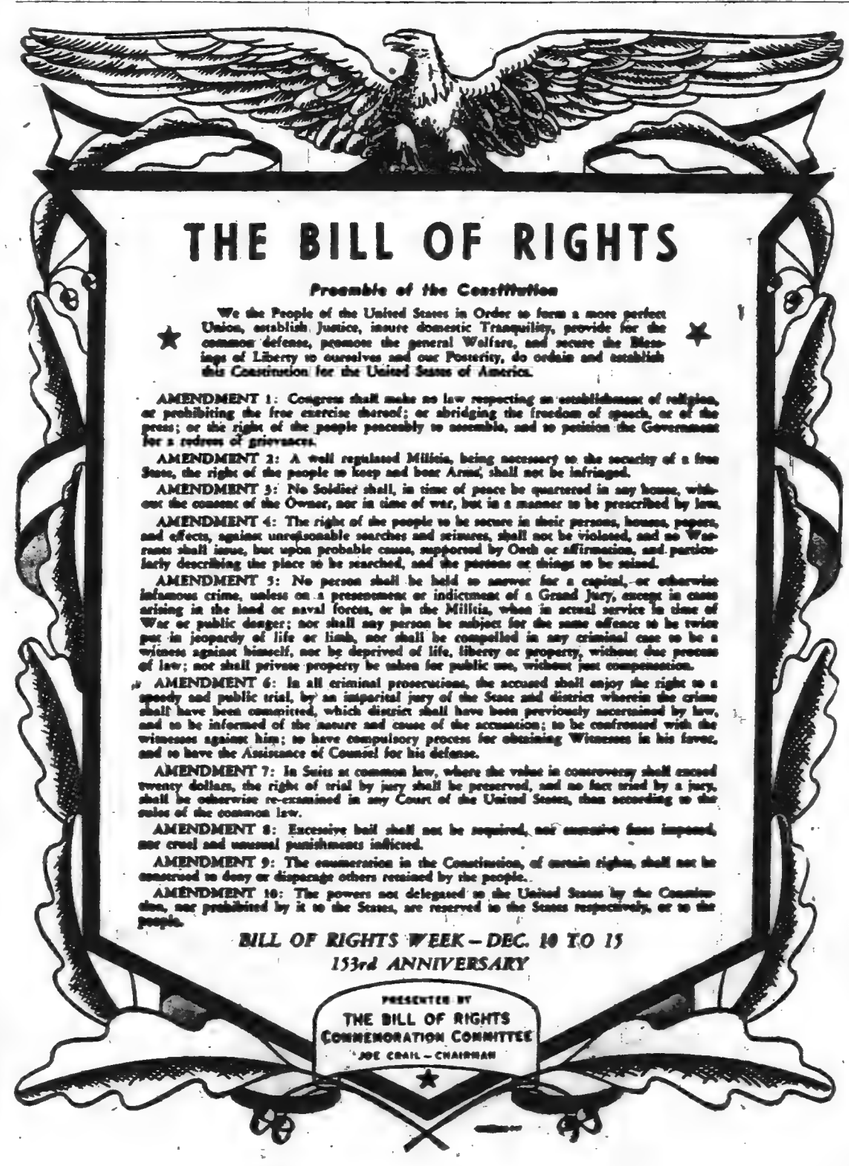
And what of our Negro patrons in uniform — some of whom wear medals received for valor performed on the field of battle in the service of our country and in the interest of Democracy? Would you have us ban them? Haven't they earned the right to enjoy the benefits of Democracy at home?

You complained that you would not want to be subjected to 'such' close contact with Negroes.' As an old customer of Cafe Society, you of course know that we engage Negro talent. Surely you have no objection to sitting close to Hazel Scott where you could watch her talented hands. No, your objection is not against all contact with Negroes, but is restricted to your prejudices about 'social contact' with Negroes. You have, we are sure, no objection to the most intimate contact of a Negro maid who may wash your most intimate things, cook your meals and drink from your cups. But to allow a cultured Negro to sit in the same room with you? It sends an unprejudiced shiver up your spine.

For your information, and you may so inform your boss and your friends, our place is open to all decent human beings without reservation or restriction. It is our opinion that the color of one's skin is not the determining factor which makes for decency.

Finally, may we point out to you that your work in helping the war effort is totally inconsistent with your prejudice against the Negro people. Why fight German Nazism with its hateful racial theory, why fight for the Four Freedoms if you want a section of our population subjected to the same theory, and denied the same freedoms? 'There's a new world a-comin'' after this war and one of the things 'a-comin'' is the completion of those rights over which a Civil War was fought in this country.

It is obvious that you need to be psychologically reorientated and reeducated along broader democratic and humanistic lines. We are anxious to help you and so we extend our invitation to you to come to our place as our guest. We want you to see how it is possible for any and all people to be 'good neighbors' within the four walls of a night club. We want to help you not only to believe in Democracy, but to practice it. Please do come."



Hearings Held On Bill to Make Employment Bias a Misdemeanor

ALBANY, N. Y.—With representatives of some 500 religious, civic and labor organizations attending the hearings, the New York State Commission Against Discrimination is conducting hearings on a bill which would define as a civil right, "a person's opportunity to obtain employment without discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin.

The proposed legislation which is being prepared for submission to the 1945 Legislature, would create a commission of five members who would serve full time at $10,000 a year to administer the anti-discrimination statue. The Commission would operate within the executive branch of the state government.

The law would provide for a campaign of education, for the creation of local councils of representative citizens to make studies and reports on local problems, and it would define discrimination in employment, outline administrative procedure, provide for judicial review of commission findings, and declare willful violation to be a misdemeanor.

Other provisions of the law offer procedure to effect elimination of discrimination by persuasion, conference and conciliation. Of the 500 groups invited to the hearings, opposition developed from some large business institutions and from a few labor unions which have long fostered a policy of racial and color discrimination.

✦ AS I SEE IT! ✦

By Jeanette Cohen

Some years ago an item in the newspapers drew world-wide attention and rallied all strata of society in defense of "JUSTICE." The item told a story that was by no means a new one — but nevertheless a horrible one. You remember it, I'm sure!

You remember the SCOTTSBORO BOYS, don't you? They were the subject of the item in the paper. They were the nine young boys accused of "raping" two white girls on a freight car. They were the nine boys convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment and death.

Five of those "Scottsboro boys" —grown men today—are living in America as free men. Why? Because the authorities in Alabama became soft-hearted and realized their mistake? Of course not! They are free men today, because the people of the United States, Negro and white, demanded the freedom of these innocent victims of lynch-mad "Crackers."

I know how that case was fought and won, because it was at that time and through that case that I became interested in the things I believe in today. I was just a kid, but I had been taught the meaning of the word "Justice" in school, just as many other Americans have learned its true meaning.

To some people, at times, it may have seemed like a hopeless case. But the living proof that "Justice" is not hopeless lies in those five free men, who but for the American people, would have died.

Three months ago another item appeared in the newspapers... not the "white" press, but the "Negro" press. The number of people involved in this story was different from the other — this time it was "ONE woman raped by SIX men." But there was no "news value" in that story for the "Press." You see, in this case six men—WHITE MEN—raped one woman—A NEGRO WOMAN.

Of course there was no news in a case like that for the "Press" —and of course, the Alabama "Justice" gave freedom to those six white hoodlums. What difference does it make to them if a Negro woman is raped—according to their interpretation of the Constitution of the United States, they are only supposed to protect WHITE WOMANHOOD.

Well, believe me, I as a white woman do not feel that I AM BEING PROTECTED AS A WOMAN—AS A JEW—AS AN AMERICAN, when such rapists of my SISTER, THE NEGRO WOMAN, are permitted to go free.

Mrs. Recy Taylor, 22-year-old wife and mother, was kidnapped, stripped of her clothing and raped by those six white brutes (whose names are known to the authorities of Alabama) on her way home from Church.

The entire story of the incident was written by Mrs. Taylor in a letter to the Daily Worker, progressive New York newspaper, in answer to a request made by that paper for the facts. Mrs. Taylor asked for "help from the North because they haven't done anything about it down here."

Mrs. Taylor is going to get that help! AMERICAN WOMANHOOD, regardless of race, creed or color WILL BE PROTECTED! This is part of the war on the Home Front! This is part of our struggle to defeat Fascism whenever it may raise its ugly head.

As I write this column, a representative of the Daily Worker, authorized by a Conference called by that paper and held at the Theresa Hotel last Saturday, is on his way down to Alabama to gather all the facts to present to the Governor of that state.

Millions of letters and petitions from the people FREED THE SCOTTSBORO BOYS, BECAUSE THEY WERE INNOCENT! The same kind of organized support from the people of all races, nationalities MUST and WILL force JUSTICE in the case of Mrs. Recy Taylor.

This war would not be won by one man alone — or by white alone. This war will be won because we are ALL FIGHTING TOGETHER TO WIPE OUT FASCISM!

This case cannot be won by one column or several news items in a few papers. The fight against race-hatred cannot be won by a few. WE CAN WIN THIS CASE IF WE ALL WRITE LETTERS TO THE GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA, demanding the arrest of the six white men guilty of such criminal brutality. Get your local organization to raise their voices.

WE MUST HAVE JUSTICE FOR AMERICAN WOMANHOOD — WE MUST HAVE A FREE AND PEACEFUL WORLD—FOR ALL PEOPLE. BUT WE'VE GOT TO FIGHT FOR ALL THIS!

CHURCH AND STATE AUTHORITY

It is inded a tragic day in the long history of the Christian Church, when Church leaders appeal to civil authority to settle internal disputes and differences. Such failure of church groups to arbitrate among its members not only reflects contempt which constituents have for their leadership, but historically repudiates the worth of the church as a moral and religious agent in the life of human society. As too many incidents of this nature are occurring in the Los Angeles community among various denominations, the future of church influence in a growing community is in great jeopardy. With the church struggling to free itself from reactionary control, this inability to arbitrate its own affairs adds to its woes and increases its problems for the world of tomorrow.

CHURCH AND STATE FEUD IN HISTORY

Ever since the year 800 in which Charlemagne, the emperor of the Holy Roman Empire, took the crown from the pope and placed it on his own head, in question of the pope's authority to represent such power over the state, there has been a feud between church and state. Throughout European history this competition is evident. When Martin Luther lighted the fires of the reformation by defying the pope, the state secretly advantaged the dispute to support its rising powers. In the rise of the United States the separation of church and state was clearly defined, so as to guarantee religious freedom for the protesting religious faiths, and to insure the democratic process in the temporal affairs of the new society. In this compromise church and state have mutually benefited, but only because of mutual respect and cooperation. The importance of local religious leaders appealing to the state for settlement of disputes has a direct bearing on the history of state and church as is written above. If the church is now impotent to arbitrate justice within its walls, to capitulate to the state, is to pave the way for state dominance over the spiritual sovereignty of the church. Secular principles in this wise or given preference over religious. Such a situation if developed to its natural end can cause a most disruptive upheaval in American society.

PRACTICAL AND IMMEDIATE RESULTS

Outside of the theoretical c rections in which such can er are the practical and immedia results which destroy the presti of the church. Not only will t state lose respect for its ancie foe, but even worse, will t people who make up the va body of church members. Su stupid actions on the part of c nominational leaders is genera ing a contempt and disrespe among the public. Imagine t agents of the state, men w perhaps had little appreciati for the church beforehand, bei given the right to determi right or wrong over an institu tion that claims the author of the crucified Christ. Imagi folk who look to the church f religious and moral guidanc seeing the church unable to c rect its own affairs. They w turn from church doors and th spiritual death will be on t hands of an autocratic and blin leadership that is invested medieval darkness with respe to supreme worth of huma rights and liberty. These are ci tical days for all of society ar especially a day when society its worst needs a church at i best.

FEPC Shows Gains Made

The character of satisfactor adjustments currently beir achieved by the President's Cor mittee on Fair Employment Pra tice indicates increasing attai ment of positive steps towar elimination of discrimination i employment, Malcolm Ros chairman of the committee, sai last week.

During September, 1944, M Ross reported, in adjustments c cases involving allegations of di criminatory refusal to hire, a most three-fourths of the com plainants were offered jobs a part of the settlement. Durin the same month of 1943, th FEPC chairman added, most o the satisfactory adjustments o such cases consisted merely o the securing by the committe from the party charged of a writ ten commitment not to discrim inate.

"The Spirit of the Advent" During the Advent period the Christians, more than ever before, should take stock of the surrounding conditions as we approach the birthday of Christ. During this period we should become more conscientious of the true meaning of this festival season, that we migh take a more hopeful attitude in these days of chaos, that there shall be a day when peace shall abide in the hearts of men of goodwill.

HOST—The Rev. Paul M. Marshall, B. S. L., A. M., minister of the Carver Memorial Independent Zion Church, will be host to the second of the Fellowship Series of the Independent Church of Los Angeles at 5 p. m. Sunday, December 10. Rev. Marshall is the former minister of the First AME Zion Church where he was successful in paying off the long-standing mortgage, and in beautifying the church and parsonage—raising a total of $19,000 in 18 months. He is now the pastor of the fastest growing young Independent Church in Los Angeles. Rev. Marshall invites everyone to attend the Fellowship Service.

ENJOYED BTU—The Rev. Chas. M. Toney, field secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention, who attended the Tenth Annual S. S. and B. T. U. Congress of the Western Baptist State Convention held at the Second Baptist Church, East 24th and Griffith streets, Nov. 25, said it was a Class A session.

"I have heard for myself America's wonder church man," said the Rev. Mr. Toney, "in the person of Dr. Howard Thurman who spoke on the subject 'A New Heaven and a New Earth.' It was most impressive from several angles. One in particular, I was happy to see the majority present understood what he was talking about. Thank God for such a man. May he live long for that kind of service."

By request the Rev. Chas. M. Toney is giving his residence and phone number, 1188 E. 41st Street. CE. 20861.

Rev. Collins to Speak at Carver

Dr. Mansfield Collins, minister of the Neighborhood Community Church, his choir and congregation, will have charge of the Fellowship Service to be held at 5 p. m., sharp, Sunday, December 10, at the Carver Memorial Independent Church at 27th and Paloma. This will mark the second fellowship service to be held among the community churches at Carver Memorial.

Rev. Collins, the dynamic, progressive pastor of Neighborhood Community Church, will bring his two choirs, under the direction of Mrs. Minnie Hampton, to furnish inspirational music for this occasion. Other progressive community pastors and their congregations, including Rev. T. A. Sears, Rev. Jones, of South Los Angeles, and Rev. Clayton Russell will be in attendance. It will be remembered that Rev. Russell, his fine choir and congregation had charge of the first fellowship service at Carver Memorial Independent Church, at which time Carver Memorial was officially received into the Biennial Council of Independent Churches of America, of which, the Rev. Clayton Russell is the progressive president.

Carver Memorial Church has planned many special programs which will continue throughout the Yuletide Season.

Sunday morning, the Rev. Paul M. Marshall, minister, will speak from the subject: "The Spirit of the Advent." Special vesper services will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

A cordial invitation is extended to the general public to attend the Fellowship Service, Rev. Collins, guest speaker.

'Divine Remedy' Baha'i Topic

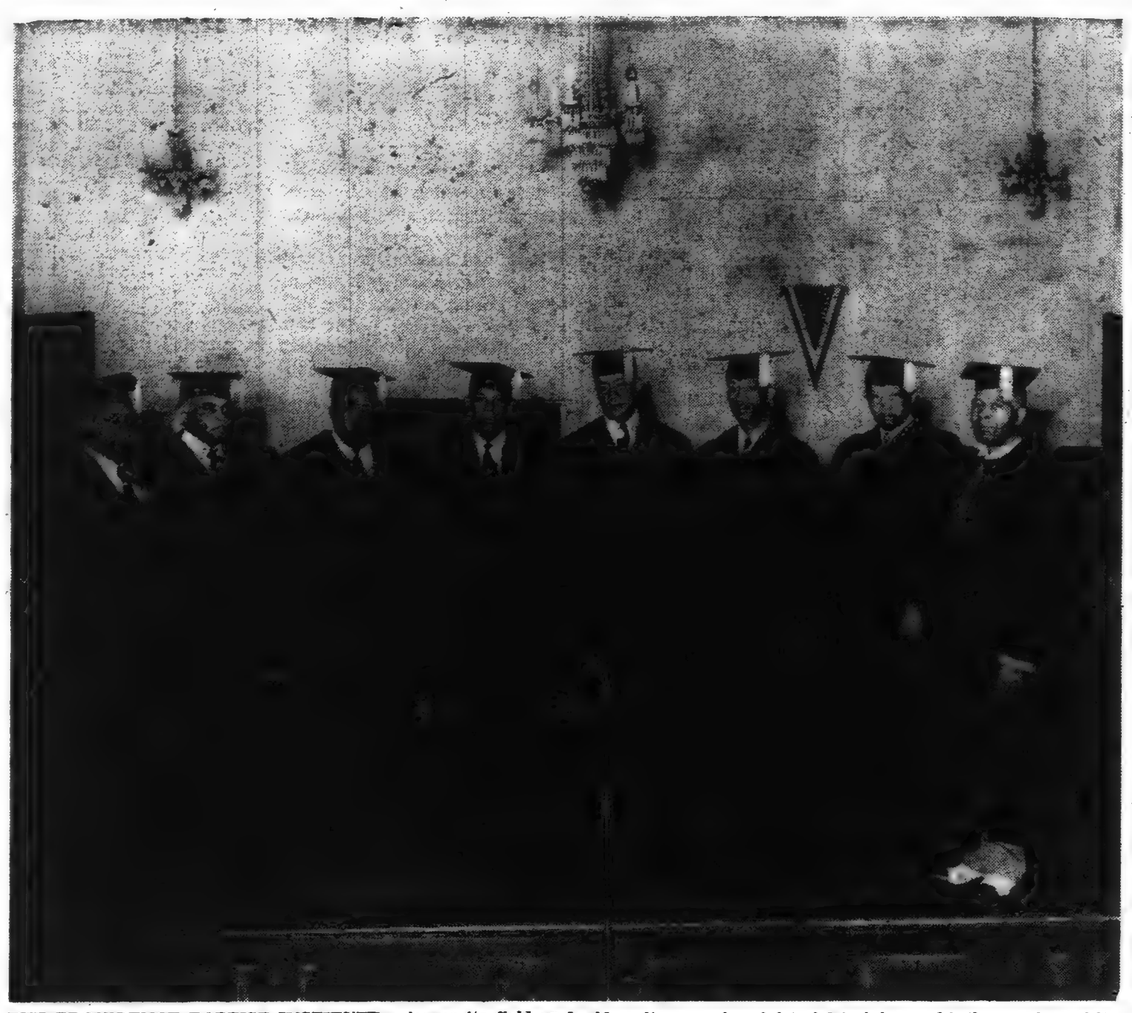
Mr. Winston Evans will speak at the Baha'i Center, 1709 West Eighth street, Sunday, December 10, 3 p.m., on "The Divine Remedy." "Faced with the world chaos and suffering existing today," says Mr. Evans, "we must acknowledge the need for a restatement of the Divine Purpose to awaken and arouse the spiritual consciousness of the world of humanity so that civilization from a spiritual standpoint may attain a level matching the stupendous advances already achieved in the world of science.

The pattern for a society functioning as one world, in which mankind are the citizens, is fully embodied in the Baha'i teachings, and is exemplified by the Baha'i World Community." All are welcome—there are no charges or collections.

Sunset Church

At the special Sunday evening lectures conducted by Rev. Owen C. Troy and his associates at the Sunset Avenue Church of Pasadena, corner of Sunset and Pepper, "The Negro Soldier" widely acclaimed sound moving picture, will be shown at 7:00 p.m., in the preliminary portion of the service. Howard Haylock, famous Glendale boy soprano, will be guest soloist.

The evening's illustrated lecture will be: "The Most Famous Night Meeting in the Bible—How Millions Lost Their Way." This is the fifth in the series of lectures which are attracting large numbers of thinking men and women.



A special noonday sermon will be given Saturday at 11:30 a.m. by Rev. Troy on the subject of "The Prodigal Son's Brother." The Sweet Chariot Hour, heard over KPAS (1110 kcys.) each Saturday evening, 6:30 p.m., is broadcast by remote control from the auditorium of the Sunset Avenue Church. Many out-of-town guests come to witness this broadcast each week.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." This verse from Genesis will be the Golden Text in the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Only Cause and Creator" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

A Scriptural citation from Acts relates that "there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked: The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed, Said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Inasmuch as God is good and the fount of all being, He does not produce moral or physical deformity; therefore such deformity is not real, but is illusion, the mirage of error." "God is not the author of mortal discords."

THE PROVIDENCE BAPTIST INSTITUTE enlarges its field and widens its scope in ministerial training under the auspices of its Alumni Association. Officers for 1945: Pres., Dr. Grant Harris, Pastor iZon Hill Baptist Church, Los Angeles, Calif.; Vice-Pres., Dr. J. D. Gordon, Pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist Church, Los Angeles, Calif.; Secretary, Dr. L. B. Moss, Pastor Parks Ave. Baptist Church, Riverside, Calif.; Treas., Dr. E. D. Payne, Pastor of First Baptist Church, Los Angeles, Calif.; Dr. B. W. Wade, Moderator of Providence Baptist Association; Dr. R. M. Marshall, Pastor Shiloh Baptist Church, Los Angeles, Calif.

"Go Forward" Sermon Topic

"Go Forward" was the subject of the sermon preached by the Rev. C. Meired Carter last Sunday in the Metropolitan Community Church, 4903 Long Beach avenue.

"Any nation, or people, or group," said the Rev. Mr. Carter, "that lives in the past can never reach the forefront. Obstructions, seas, and rivers lie in the path of every onward march. These conditions, however, are only testing periods in the lives of men and through all these conditions the Infinite Voice gives command, 'Go Forward'."

The Metropolitan Church, founded by the Rev. Mr. Carter, is non-sectarian in character, and is open to all Christian believers.

Echoes From the Bethlehem Church Of Christ

The Bethlehem Church of Christ dedicated to God, to the service of humanity offers relief to those who need the services we are able to render. We visit the sick, carry communion to the bedside of those unable to attend church and give whatever aid we can.

On Christmas Day we will serve one hundred free dinners to those soldiers and sailors who are in our city at that time and to those civilians not otherwise provided for. Dinner will be served from noon until six p.m. Please register with us just how many to be expected. The Pastor of the Bethlehem Church of Christ is Rev. Louise V. Fulghum and the members are one hundred per cent behind their Pastor in her efforts to administer to the needy and others who need the services we can offer. The church is located at 436 E. 51 Street. Mrs. Thelma Anderson, Church Clerk.

Address All Questions to
Eagle Question Corner
4075 S. Central Ave.,
Los Angeles, Calif.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new Introductory Course of 20 lessons, divided into two sections of 10 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

I don't seem to have a clear understanding of the word "hell" as used in the Bible. Then in the Apostle's it speaks of Jesus descending into hell. I always thought that hell was the "hot place."—Mrs. J.K., Sacramento.

Possibly the most authoritative way to answer your questions and to give the information that you desire is to refer to a small compendium of religious knowledge which summarizes the matter very concisely. The book is "Scriptural Evidences," by W. M. Crothers.

"The word 'hell' occurs in the authorized version of the English Bible, a total of fifty-four times, and, by the majority of persons, is supposed always to mean a place to which the spirits or souls of the wicked are consigned at death, there to undergo an eternity of suffering, which language cannot express, and of which the human mind cannot conceive.

"To others the word signifies an intermediate place, corresponding to the Roman Catholic purgatory, where the souls of such as are not fit for immediate admission to heaven, are detained after death, to be purified by a season of suffering and torment, after which they pass on to the realms of the bliss . . .

"It never has any such signification, and only twelve times out of the fifty-four instances of its use, does it refer to the final punishment of impenitent which, as already shown, will be total destruction.

"The facts are these: The word hell, in the Old Testament, comes in every from the Hebrew word sheol, which always means, literally, the abode of the dead, hence, the grave or tomb.

"Schaff's Bible Dictionary defines the word thus: 'Hell. The Hebrew word for hell is sheol, which corresponds to the Greek hades, and means the underworld or the realm of the dead.'

"In the New Testament the word 'hell' comes from three Greek words, hades, gehenna, and Tartaros. Hades is the equivalent of the Hebrew sheol, and like it, always means the grave, pit, or region of the dead. It occurs eleven times and is rendered 'hell.'

"The Greek gehenna is the word always used in the New Testament to denote the final punishment and destruction of the wicked and the fires by which it will be accomplished. It is always rendered 'hell,' and its meaning is restricted to that already indicated." And only occurs in the following references:

Matthew 5:22, 29, 30; 10:28; 18:9; 23:15, 33; Mark 9:43, 45, 47; Luke 12:5; James 3:6. (Total, twelve times.)

"Tartaros occurs but once, and is found in 2 Peter 2:4, where it is said, 'God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness.'"

New Pastor At 1st AME Church

Rev. Marion

Dr. S. H. Marion, the newly appointed pastor of The First A.M.E. Zion Church at the corner of Pico and Paloma Streets, of Los Angeles, Calif., is calling a special membership conference, Wednesday night, December 13, at 8 o'clock, in connection with the Mid-week Service, and he is kindly, and prayerfully asking all members to attend this Membership Conference, without fail, as there are very many important matters to be looked after.

The pastor is kindly requesting all members who have ever been connected with the "First A.M.E. Zion Church, to meet with us Wednesday night, and let us have a mutual fellowship, and line up with the program of the Church, for the New Year's work, and go "forward!" "The Prodigal Son" came back home, and there was much rejoicing, and why not you?

This pastor extends a hand of welcome to everybody, members and friends. Dr. Marion has served three of the leading churches in the ZION Connection, St. Mark's Temple, at Indianapolis, Ind., 7 years; Logan Temple, at Knoxville, Tenn., 6 years, and 6 years at Old Ship Church, in Montgomery, Ala., from which place he comes to the First Church here.

Under Rev. Marion's leadership a 6-room modern parsonage was built at St. Mark's Temple, and the membership more than doubled. At Logan Temple, in Knoxville, a $5,000 mortgage of many years' standing was paid off, and the parsonage repaired and nicely furnished, and he entertained the General Church School Convention in 1934. At Old Ship Church a $10,000 mortgage of 25 years' standing was paid off, and the mortgage burned Sept. 13, 1943. And the church was painted and beautified, the parsonage repaired, and furnished off at a cost of around $4.000, all paid in full.

He entertained the Bishop's Council at Old Ship Church in January, 1941. He also entertained the 60th anniversary of the Missionary Department of the Connection, in May, 1942.

Dr. Marion is a graduate of Butler University of Indianapolis, Ind., with the B.S.L. degree, and holds the Doctor of Divinity (D.D.) degree from Livingstone College, Salisbury, N. C. He is a very strong believer in prayer and consecration, and believes in the old-time religion.

Rev. Marion's mother lives in Pasadena, Calif., with his sister, Mrs. Maggie M. Browning, at 85 Waverly Drive.

His daughter, Effie Lee, is married and lives in Knoxville, Tenn. Thelma Victoria is in college at Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn. Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Marion are, for the time being, temporarily at 1317 East 33rd St., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Collins.

Rev. Marion will preach Sunday morning, Dec. 10, using for his sermon the subject: "SOME THINGS MONEY CAN'T DO." And at the evening hour, 7:45, the sermon subject will be: "HANG OUT YOUR SIGN." The general public is invited to attend.

Dr. Marion says that he has come to serve humanity, and that anywhere, or at any time religious service or spiritual advice is needed, anybody may feel free to call upon him, to visit the sick, the old, the poor, and needy. Dr. Marion was a candidate and ran for the bishopric at the general conference, held in Detroit, Mich., last May, 1944, and pulled a good vote, for the first time, and many of his friends throughout the connection are saying that he will be elected at the next General Conference in 1948.

PASTOR AND EVANGELIST CONDUCT REVIVAL—A big ten night revival will begin on Sunday night, December 10, at the Third Baptist Church, 1210 E. 41st Street. It will be conducted by the Rev. C. H. Hayden from Texas. Rev. Hayden will have some of the best revival singers available working for him, and every preparation will be made to make this a real soul-stirring revival. The Rev. G. E. Anderson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church has brought Rev. Hayden here to conduct this revival out of his desire to keep the spiritual fires of Third Baptist burning strongly.

President Returns

Mrs. Artishia W. Jordan, president of the Conference Branch Woman's Missionary Society of the A. M. E. Church for the Southern California Conference, returned this week from the Biannual Assembly of the United Council of Church Women meeting at the Deshler Wallick Hotel. Mrs. Jordan was one of the five delegates to the Assembly from the Southern California Council of which she is the secretary. This delegation, representing the major Protestant Churches of Southern California, constituted a Commission on World Order and Peace which reported to the convention.

The report particularly emphasized the part which church women can play in creating the social justice and resultant goodwill which are fundamental to all efforts to achieve a stable peace. It stated, "The only way we can do what is needed is to get people togethr in all sorts of face to face groups that they may come to understand one another." The report was presented by Mrs. James H. Speer, the chairman of the Commission.

Mrs. Jordan also attended a meeting of the Education Committee of the Woman's Missionary Society at Philadelphia where she was the guest of Bishop and Mrs. D. H. Sims. At the Western North Carolina Annual Conference at Ashville, N. C. she was the guest of Bishop and Mrs. Monroe H. Davis. In Philadelphia, New York, and Durham, N. C. she was able to spend brief visits with relatives and friends.

28th St. Choir At 2nd Baptist

At the 11 o'clock services this Sunday morning, at the Second Baptist Church, the 28th. Street School Choir, composed of 55 voices, will receive the welcome of the congregation as it appears there to sing in conjunction with the Second Baptist Senior hoir. With the guest choir will appear Mrs. Nell Haas, principal of the school.

The school choir is under the direction of Miss Ester Griffith, member of Second Baptist, and daughter of the late Dr. T. L. Griffith. Miss Griffith is a teacher at the 28th. St. School and is the head of the Music Department there.

An interesting and notable feature of the 28th. Street School Choir is that it's personnel is composed of representatives of 5 different racial groups.

The Reverend J. Raymond Henderson, Minister of the church will bring the morning message.

The Philosophic and Practical Basis of the Religion of the Aquarian Age of the World and of the Church Universal

What is the Aquarian Age? The human race is today standing upon the cusp of the Piscean-Aquarian Age. 'Aquarius is an air sign and the New Age is already noted for remarkable inventions for the use of air, electricity, magnetism, etc. When the Aquarian Pres. Lincoln freed the slaves he sympolized in action the great Aquarian ideals of freedom and equality; it is the Aquarian Pres. Roosevelt, who has led us through this generation's crises of war, with its vision of a better, freer world for all men.

The Aquarian Age is preeminently a spiritual age, it represents the triumph of love over prejudice, hatred, superstition and all the limitations which retard men; so with much propriety this book is called "The Aquarian (or Spiritual) Gospel of Jesus, the Christ."

"ONE OF THE EPOCH MAKING BOOKS OF THE CENTURY"

Why was it called the Aquarian Gospel? Because it was not, and could not have been written until the opening of the Aquarian Age of the world, the time referred to by Jesus when he said to his disciples: "I have many things to say unto you, but you cannot bear them now. Howbeit when she, the Spirit of Truth, is come she will guide you into all truth." John 16:12, 13.

Bill of Rights Commemoration

NEW YORK, N. Y. — The Schomburg Collection of the New York Public Library is making a nationwide appeal for letters from Negro service men and women which have been written to their friends in this country.

This Library is a depository of the historical records of the Negro from all parts of the world. In addition to the thousands of books and prints, the Schomburg Collection contains hundreds of letters of Frederick Douglass, Paul Laurence Dunbar, Booker T. Washington and Negro soldiers and sailors who fought in previous wars of the United States.

All churches, Greek letter fraternities, fraternal orders, clubs, USO's, YMCA's, YWCA's, Colleges, newspapers and individuals are urged to cooperate in collecting these letters. They should be sent to the Schomburg Collection of Negro Literature of the New York Public Library, 104 W. 136th St., New York City.

Plan Xmas Cheer For GI Shut-Ins

The Les Petite Madams Club met at the home of Mrs. Peter Williams, 665 East 52nd Place, last Sunday afternoon, and planned how to help the wounded servicemen in hospitals for Christmas. The club recently held a matinee dance at the Club Plantation, and half of the money taken in went for the servicemen in hospitals.

The members present were: Mrs. Louise Ateman, Ruth Lindsey, Thelma Jean Ambro, Patty Ruth Mack, Marie Calup, Willa Mae Taylor, Mary Louise Ashford, Mildred Miles, and Clara Bell Woffard. A lovely luncheon was served.

Mrs. Taylor entertained the club recently at her home on East 40th Place. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Archie Woffard, 1416 West 35th street, December 17.

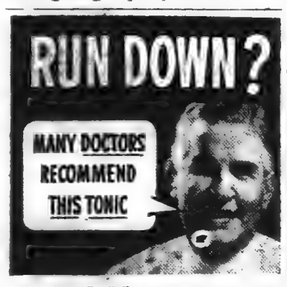
gether in the same foxholes, and become friends by swapping stories and experience, so we here at home can at least be friendly and live side by side without quarreling.



To promote this educational propaganda the HOPA plans to hold meetings in every section of the city—in halls, auditoriums, churches, school buildings, homes—everywhere a meeting can be held. We propose to have speakers, white and black, from every minority group give heart-to-heart talks on the absurdity of fostering this horrible Fascism at home, while hypocritically supporting our boys fighting Fascism in Europe and Japan.

Legally, the HOPA proposes to adopt sterner measures if education and fair play will not produce the desired results. Wherever a Negro family owns a home, no matter in what district it is located, that home is their castle. They can not, according to law, be molested in the possession of their homes and property, as long as they live peaceably in that home and do not molest their neighbors.

The HOPA does not advocate violence of any kind. We shall vigorously oppose anything of the kind. But we do plan to unite all the legal forces of the city, of the state, and of the country, if necessary, on our side. We want a united stand by Negro attorneys and our white lawyer friends to fight this bestiality on the home front.

Come to the next meeting of the Home Owners Protective Association, Friday, at 8 o'clock, in the California Eagle Building.

Unless we put the brakes on, taxes after the war will be $850 yearly for each average family of four, and the national debt will be $7353 for each average family of four. Somebody has been giving a party on YOU.

Officials and civic leaders in every community in Los Angeles County were being urged to make plans for observance of December 10 to 15 as Bill of Rights Week with appropriate patriotic ceremonies in their respective communities.

The appeal comes from three sources:

First, a Resolution by the Board of Supervisors, prepared by Supervisor (Congressman-elect) Gordon L. McDonough.

Secondly, a similar Resolution from the Los Angeles County Division of the League of California Cities, signed by its President, David L. Butler, Councilman of South Pasadena.

Third, a personal appeal from Joe Crail, Southern California civic leader and General Chairman of the Bill of Rights Commemoration Committee.

Newspaper editors all over Los Angeles County were also being advised that John B. Long, General Manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, is taking an active part in the observances as Chairman of the Freedom of the Press Committee.

Long is urging all editor and publisher members of his association to realize the importance of directing the attention of their readers to the vital necessity—now more than ever—for a free and untrammeled press.

NOW IT'S SGT. PENN

ALONG THE LEDO ROAD—Elmer B. Penn, whose wife Lucille K. Penn resides at 1531½ E. 41st Street, Los Angeles, has recently been promoted to the rank of Staff Sergeant. Penn, member of a Negro Quartermaster Trucking Company, is now supply sergeant for his outfit, which has distinguished itself in the transport of vital war supplies over the Ledo Road.

One of the outstanding engineering achievements of this war, the Ledo Road being built under the command of Brig. General Lewis A. Pick, stretches over the rugged, tortuous Indo-Burma mountains and through the dense, malarial Hukawng and Mogaung Valleys. It is rapidly moving toward a junction with the Burma Road to form a vital supply line to our beleaguered Chinese allies.

Sgt. Penn was employed by the North American Aircraft Corp., Inglewood, prior to his entering the Armed Forces. He has been in the India Burma Theater of Operations for ten months.

Los Angeles Man Outfits Top Kick

ALONG THE LEDO ROAD—1st Sergeant Willie I. Rayford, of 1223 East 45th Street, Los Angeles, and Technical Sergeant Leroy H. Saunders of 1505 Russell Street, Berkeley, are serving together with a Negro Signal Corps outfit installing communications along the Ledo Road in Assam, India and northern Burma. 1st Sgt. Rayford is the outfit's "top-kick" and Tech. Sgt. Saunders is pole-line construction crew chief.

The Ledo Road, famous military highway winding over the tortuous Indo-Burma mountains and through the monsoon-soaked Bukwang and Mogaung Valleys, will eventually link up with the Burma Road to form a supply line to our Chinese allies. This Signal Corps unit, stringing telephone and communications lines along the artery, are helping the combat forces drive the Japs from Burma.

Sergeants Rayford and Saunders have been in the India-Burma Theater of Operations for the past seven months.

G I Promoted

NEW HEBRIDES. — Harry H. Meerdith, Benton, Calif, has been promoted from Private to Technician fifth grade at an island base somewhere in the New Hebrides.

Vivian Osborne-Marsh Returns North

After spending three weeks in Los Angeles on official business, Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star for California and its jurisdiction, and state president of the California Association of Colored Women, Inc., departed on Tuesday, December 5, for her Berkeley home. Although most of her time while in Los Angeles was taken up with work to complete for the publishers the book of instructions and the constitution and by-laws of the Eastern Stars, this dynamic leader was able to take time out for a bit of social diversion and to appear as guest speaker for the Bowen Methodist and the First AME churches. Among her hostesses during her stay were Mr. Edgar Brown, Mrs. Senola Green at "Green Gables," Mrs. Ruth Williams and the Sweet in Memory Club, Dr. and Mrs. Charles A. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Cowans, Mrs. Helen O'Neil, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron of Pasadena, Hamiltonian Club, Conductress Club, Mrs. Harriet Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. George City, Mrs. Katherine Howard of Long Beach, Mr. George Jones, Mrs. Deseree Clark, 1944 associate Matrons Club, Mrs. Claribell Ashcraft, Mary F. Waring Club, Delta Sigma Theta sorority, Mrs. Mary Lou Roberson and Mrs. Erline Solomon. Mrs. Marsh will make official visits to the Federated Clubs of Los Angeles in January. She is returning home to meet her son, who will spend a ten-day furlough with his wife and parents at their Berkeley home.

• Negro Tankers

gineers and assault infantrymen, who rode the Shermans.

"Crossing the rain-swollen Seille, just north of the recently-taken town of Myonvic, the column was subjected to enemy artillery emplaced on the hills northeast of the river. Shell bursts threw up huge geysers all around the bridge.

"At the little village of Salival it was stopped again by German artillery ranged in on the road. Tanks deployed in and around the little cluster of buildings housing German troops, routing them out with direct fire while doughboys mopped up.

"But the battle for the town of Morville-les-Vic was the real testing of the tankers. Furious shelling met them at the crossroads, 600 yards from the town. Tank-Infantry teams moved down on the town from three directions and the battle was joined at once.

"Within 90 minutes of the start of the push, Nazi prisoners were being sent rearward by the first Negro tank troops ever committed to combat operations.

"Shortly afternoon infantrymen of one of the 26th Division's combat teams, streaming down from the direction of Chateau-Salins, went into Morville-les-Vic and pushed into the surrounding area.

"While the infantrymen were cleaning the Germans out of Morville, German mortars and medium guns situated on the hills southwest of the town of Hampont turned hot harassing fire on the Americans.

"Tankers suffered their heaviest losses in a running three-hour fight with German AT guns concealed in woods capping a high hill northeast of Morville."

That's the story American fighting men of all colors,—including the Japanese-American combat forces fighting in this area,—have read about the debut of Negro tankers. It has been passed from fox-hole to fox-hole, and white soldiers are as proud of that outfit as we are.

A tall, weather-worn Texan, dirt streaked across the red lines in his neck and the familiar infantryman's stubble blackening his chin, told me this morning, "Mighty proud of them colored boys in the tank outfit, mighty proud of 'em."

He didn't know I was going to write his words and wouldn't have cared if he did. Good race relations out here come the hard way,—and they stick.

fightroat

I believe every weary foot soldier on this front agrees wholeheartedly with the greeting Maj. Gen. Willard S. Paul gave our tankers when they first joined his 26th Infantry: "You are the first colored tank battalion in this Third Army, and I can tell you I'm proud as hell to have you supporting my division."

"Your outfit and mine," he continued, "has trained a hell of a long time. We were itching for battle and we're in it. I hear you're itching for battle and I'm sure you'll get it right soon." The General had made a special trip to the tankmen's bivouac area for that speech, and he gave it from a perch atop a half-tractor.

Incidentally, the nickname of the 26th Infantry, perhaps the most famous of all doughfoot units in this war, is—"Yankee Division."

Matron Visits

Mrs. Jessie Shields accompanied her daughter Jean, to Howard University returning to Seattle by way of San Diego and Los Angeles. After spending ten days in San Diego as the house guest of Mrs. Viva Wycliff and family, Mrs. Shields returned to L.A. where she visited old friends and was the recipient of many social affairs during her three weeks' stay, as the house guest of Mrs. Vereachi Lockhart.

She was honored guest at a Thanksgiving dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hampton, also a cabaret party at Club Plantation, theater party to Ken Murray's Blackouts, guest of Mrs. Lockhart at Hollywood Park races, linner party at Shepp's Playhouse given by Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Walker, breakfast party at the home of Mrs. Georgia Russell;

Pokena party by Mrs. Bertha Williams, dinner guest of the prominent real estate broker, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Chase, guest at the Town and Gown club meeting, a tour of the popular night spots by Mr. and Mrs. Fullbright, and cocktails at the palatial home of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Zeta. Mrs. Shields returned to her home after an enjoyable stay in the city.

Duarte Day

The Business Men's Unit of the Outdoor Life and Health Association has set aside Wednesday, December 20, as a day in which to make a Christmas donation to the Duarte Rest Home.

They are inviting all of the business houses along the avenue to join in sending Christmas good cheer and joy into the lives of those who are ill with the dreaded disease of tuberculosis.

A mother was having trouble getting her young son to eat dinner. Finally she urged, "Come now, Junior, eat your dinner like a little soldier."

"Okay," said Junior, "pass the !??!?!-!?!- *! chow!"

XMAS GIFTS ACCEPTED FOR GI's

While extensive plans are being made to provide gifts for servicemen and women on Battlefronts, the Avalon U. S. O. community and volunteers are planning to give the "G.I." a happy Xmas here in Los Angeles.

Director Ben Ellison invites organizations and people who wish to give a serviceman located in this area a gift, to deliver them to the Xmas Committee at AVALON U. S. O. under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Gordon Sr. These should be delivered during the week of Dec. 17 to 24, not later than Thurs. Dec. 21.

Any Organization or group wishing to plan for Xmas for the wounded, thru the Avalon U. S. O., should contact Mrs. Josephine Brown, Chairman of Hospital Service. Plans are underway for a joyous yuletide celebration. Those interested in donating foods and Canteen gifts, contact Mrs. Ethel Atkinson, Canteen chairman. The Home Hospitality Chairman, Mrs. Bessie Shaw, is registering and accepting requests from people who wish to invite servicemen to their homes for Xmas Dinner.

Must Win Battle on Home Front Economic Council Slogan

Salvaging and making saleable some of those discarded, almost could never be used again, is the high purpose of the Economic Relief Council, 27th and Compton Ave.

This is a work which is very valuable now, and will become more valuable in the postwar period. The Council will collect that old washing machine, vacuum cleaner, carpet sweeper, or anything else you may have in your backyard or basement, and in its workshops will remake them into usable articles.

The Council asks your advice and cooperation, and wishes to make its center a real place for the exchange of new and second-hand furniture. Electric appliances of all kinds are especially sought. Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves, directors of the Council, are especially anxious for your cooperation and suggestions.

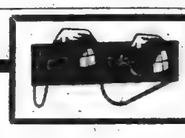
THE INTER-DENOMINATIONAL DEACONESS, STEWARDESS AND PASTOR'S HELPERS UNION



Life in its progress, begins feebly but steadily toward perfection.

He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much.—Luke 16-10.

Fourth Sunday in Sept., 1942. The Interdenominational Deaconess, Stewardess and Pastor's Helpers Union was organized at the Neighborhood Church, of which Rev. Mansfield Collins is pastor. Like life itself we began feebly but have steadily advanced onward and upward. Our object is Love, Cooperation, and Fellowship. We have held our meetings in the various churches of the city, contacting as many boards as we could, trying to help wherever we could. I am sure thte everyone who has attended these meetings has been made to feel that one God is the Father of all of us and we are one big family. For in Him no South or North. But one great fellowship of love, throughout the world.

★★ CANDID COMMENTS ★★

GIPSONETTE:

Eternally all things go on
Clocks chime and sunrise brings the day
But there is much of beauty gone
With you away.

Tears in the heart flow still and deep
There were so many words to say
What is there left for me to keep
With you away?

(Secretary Melrose pinch-hits for "Gip.")

After reviewing the opening of Ansil Hill and new show at Lincoln Theatre, Friday last, without a doubt we know this show will go down in history as one of the towns best. With Bordu Alli Terry doing a bit of vocals, a newcomer named Willie Lewis, who can do more with a baton than Lana Turner can do to a sweater pinch-hitting for the Gip as M. C., Helen Andrews and Jessie ...oh well, he does have his sharp points...and of course that combination of Pigmeat and Baskett who as Gip would say are "funnier'n a cage o'monkeys on a cross bar, who are on hand again to keep things jumping at a lively pace...All in all it was a grand show.

SCANNIN' THE NEWS TICKER TAPE

A veddy reech Sportsman—about-town saw a picture of shapely Jeanne Herdon and swooned..."boy o boy!" he boy-o-boyed "wouldn't she look good in a mink bathing suit?" Don't be fooled by the commercial "no waiting, no delay—at Central Chevrolet" takes as long there as at other places. An orchid to Mrs. Ada Guy Dawson for her mad creation in clothes, she is definitely one of L. A.'s most noted modiste. Our good friend Babe Wallace still furloughing for a few days from camp, took note of act at Lincoln last week which was great as usual...his imitation of Cab Calloway had us on edge of seat...Allen Mayberry called to ask if we'd noticed Jessie Brown's gorjuss gems in that club photo in the Eagle a couple of weeks ago. We had, we did (she's the Queen of the younger setters) "That handsome brute" Bailsbondsman Leonard McClain has been kept quite busy since the arrest of waiters and stewards...incidently he doesn't mind it a bit. We understand the Nicholas brothers are now in the windy city of Chi....and as usual are terrific...also with them is the delovely Dottie Dandridge (for the jerk down in the second row... that Harold's wife...)

We would like to get a little tip from Sportsman J. H. Brown as to how to place a little cash at the tracks, he seems to be ahead so far...lucky guy. Caught sight of Lt. Todd Roark making the round of nite spots with a beautiful little doll; they were seen sipping 7-ups at one of the bars...The vocalist with Ernie Fields band seems to please the crowd at Curtis Mosbys Club Alabam quite well...Tis rumored that three lovely cherines will very soon start a dance team of their own...with their looks, figures and popularity it should prove to be a terrific combination...Back from a long engagement in Chicago Rhumboogie Club, T. Bone Walker that well known and well liked blues singer and swingsational guitarest seems to be breaking all records in his nitely appearance at Joe Morris's Plantation Club. All admires await his version nitely of "Evening"...The way the Ink Spots and Ella Fitzgerald toy with "Into each life some rain must fall" should bring the record up to No. 1 on all juke boxes...Wedding bells have chirped again for Ishmael Evans and Nancy Aguilar it happened in Yuma Tuesday last...From Houston, Texas comes a charming little Miss, her name is Bettye something-or-other, understands she sings quite well...The new Casa Blanca from all hearsay is to be one of the nicer spots in town...Labor Editor John Lee asked Sports Editor Eddie Burbridge if he liked Bathing Beauties..."Don't know," was the retort, "Never bathed any"...

Incidently, have you tried any of the gumbo at Johnny Cornish's it is veddy delecus...

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK

Incidently we think Fitzpatrick and trainer Sparky are two of the nicer fellows we know...(and this no paid publicity)...we understand he is to battle again with Watson Jones, which promises to be a battle...Oh Geo Whiz ! ! Gyp...I'm getting tired ...HITLER IS DEAD...so it appears; anyhow, Lloyds of London the international betting house is laying 2 to 1 that Adolph is a dead fish. The convincer is two different photos released by the Nazis which show two different ears...Hope Gyp can make it back for the next edition...this is too much for Sec. Melrose... John Thomas (a favorite over at our house) should be in good condition for all of his fights if continues to go to bed at 6:00 like he has been doing...so...how is this for a Sunday nite sign off, "Courage on the battle front must be matched with fighting morale on the home front...so for now class is dismissed.

Fawn Cafe Makes Elaborate Holiday Plans

Elaborate plans for a special Christmas dinner, with trimmings deluxe, at the Fawn Cafe, Western avenue at 29th street, are already underway, the management announced this week.

The proprietors, John Robinson and Ray Mills, former Hollywood chefs, say they are going to make it the most appetizing Christmas dinner in the city at a very nominal price.

They are searching the markets of Southern California for the choicest in turkeys, chickens, shrimp, lobster, and have already placed their order for an ample supply of extra large oysters from Puget Sound; so that their many patrons can be assured of the most delectable dishes for their guests throughout the holiday season.

Since its opening last May, the Fawn has continued to grow in popularity until it is, now the most "talked about cafe" in Los Angeles. This is because Robinson and Mills, with many years' experience in serving some of the most fastidious families, and exclusive dining places in Southern California, have a distinctive method of preparing food which cannot be duplicated.

In addition, the Fawn stresses rapid, courteous and efficient service, which will be amply increased to take care of the holiday crowds.

Johnny "Poke" Norris Belongs to The GI Joes at Camp Devens

FORT DEVENS, Mass.—One thing the GIs up here at Fort Devens are grateful for is the good fortune that ushered Johnny "Pops" Norris into the army and sent him to this camp. Not quite a year ago, the boys would have had to shell out the shekels at current box office figures to catch a few minutes of Johnny on the screen. At this writing it's for free, because the "Poke," is now Pfc. John Norris of Co. B., 1st Regiment.

Although he is only 21, Johnny has four years of Hollywood bit playing to his credit. Starting with Warners in 1938, and going to RKO a little later, "Poke" was part of the team of Poke and Moe that went places with a unique act in vaudeville and night spots. The act was on an all-star bill that included Ella Fitzgerald and the Ink Spots, when Uncle called him to the colors.

He was given a few months deferment to finish "Cabin In The Sky," in which he did a featured dance number with Baby Cox as his partner. He was a marine in Guadalcanal, the only Negro performer, and he had bits in "Down Argentine Way," "East Side Kids," "This is the Army," and "Mr. Winkle Goes to War."

At home in San Diego, Cal., Johnny has three brothers in the Army, three in the Navy, and one in the Marines. He is married and the father of five children. According to his report, he has been in and out of "about nine camps." He was a cook at Camp Livingston, a truck driver at Fort Huachuca and a mail clerk at Fort Bliss.

Johnny looks a little sad when the act of Poke and Moe is mentioned, remembering that it was clicking solid, and they had just added a neat little bubble dancer named Margaret to the set-up. After the war Johnny will pick up the bubble again.

Massengill Concert, Dec. 17th, Will Have a Capacity Audience

When Mabel Massengill, soprano, steps before the footlights at the Wilshire Ebell Theatre, Sunday evening, December 17, she will be assured a sold out house.

Business men, hearing of the worthwhile project sponsored by the Five and Over Charity Club, have purchased blocks of tickets to be given to all service men who wish to attend the concert. These tickets will be distributed to the service men through the Avalon USO, under the direction of Ben Ellison.

Each year at Christmas the Five and Over Charity club goes to Sawtelle and under the direction of Mrs. Massengill, gives the veterans an outstanding program. The concert of December 17th will take the place of that annual program.

Mrs. Massengill, teacher of voice and discoverer of Marlene Jones, sensational 9 year old contralto, has been a continuous student under Lillian Backstrand Wilson, of the school of music at the University of Southern California. Elizabeth Proehl will be her accompanist for the December 17th concert.

The flesh-colored tape June Vincent is wearing on her left ring finger covers her wedding ring which she never removes, even when she's playing the role of an un-married girl, as in the case in her current assignment, "Here Come the Coeds."

Edison Studios, in New York, made the first talking picture, 22 years ahead of The Jazz Singer.

Bowery Film Rated High

"Bowery to Broadway" is a musical melange which packs a great deal of entertainment along its way, and is now playing at the United Artists Theatre 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles. It has a superabundance of everything. Its cast is so lush with star names that some of the most notable make all too brief appearances, there being no room for more. It also has an exceptional array of musical numbers.

"The Last Ride" on the same bill, is a merry one for lovers of melodrama. Fast and full of action, the film is well acted by Richard Travis, Charles Lang and Eleanor Parker with a capital supporting cast.

For superlative entertainment, don't miss "Bowery to Broadway" plus "The Last Ride" now playing at the United Artists Theatre, downtown Los Angeles.

Film Star to Act As Hostess At Duarte Rest Home Benefit

The curvaceous beauty of film-lovely Lena Horne, plus the known-how ability of Jive-Master Al Jarvis, the patron Saint of the swingsters who holds forth on station KEWB, plus the provocative rhythms of two top-notch bands, will be combined to serve Sweet Charity Sunday night, December 10, when the Lincoln Ballroom will be formally opened with a benefit dance for the Duarte Rest Home.

With the glamorous Miss Horne acting as hostess and the rhythm-wise Al Jarvis holding forth as master of ceremonies, the affair promises to be one of the gayest held this season. The dance floor of the Lincoln Ballroom is just what the doctor ordered—spacious, smooth and easy on the feet.

The Duarte Rest Home is one of the worthier charities to which the public has always responded in large numbers. The benefit this Sunday should turn out to be the finest tribute to date to the efforts of the Outdoor Life and Health Association which operates the home.

Boasting of a Ladies Lounge of which there are none whicher, the Lincoln Ballroom also has one of the finest balconies to be found in the city, affording an opportunity of those who want to sit and sip, an opportunity to have a sweeping view of the proceedings on the dance floor below. Join the parade of charity-minded dancers, this Sunday night to the Lincoln Ballroom, 2039 Lincoln Park Avenue.

Hostesses who will serve with Miss Horne are: Dorothy Dandridge, Pauline Slater, Louise Beavers, Ira Washington, Ruby McKnight, Nina Mae McKinny, Ann Hunter, Mrs. Seth Lee, Jessie Coles Grayson, Florence Vivian, Johanna Pitts, Claudia Graves, Mary Jones, Katherine Johns, Henrietta Thompson, Julia Anderson, Fannie Williams, Bessie Buington Burke, Emma Johnson, Gladys H. Harris, Georgia Tymnoy and Mrs. Allan Woodard.

The hand-tooled make-up case Kathleen O'Malley uses on the "Salome—here She Danced" set belonged to her father, Pat O'Malley, over twenty years ago when he was under contract to Universal.

Earl Morris in GRAND TOWN DAY and NIGHT

Roger Baldwin came to town last week, dropped a few bombshells of wisdom and departed. A great many of the readers of this column, may wonder "just who is Roger Baldwin?" The inestimable Mr. Baldwin is a man, with simple habits and a mam who so loves the "Bill of Right" of our magnificent Constitution, that he has devoted more than a quarter of a century of his life fighting to see that it's principles are upheld.

Roger Baldwin may or may not like a people, sect or ism, but he has never allowed his personal likes or dislikes to interfere when he or his organization believes that there has been some infringement upon that glorious human document, "The Bill of Rights."

This Mr. Baldwin has been a chairman of the National Body of the American Civil Liberties Union for more than twenty-five years. Our beloved Superior Court Judge, John Beards, prior to going on the bench was the Chairman in this area of that splendid body of Americans, who have dedicated their lives to upholding the "Bill of Rights."

If you will allow me to dwell upon Judge John Beardsley for a while, he is rated as a true friend of all minority groups. Like his father before him, who was an abolitionist and his newspaper office in an Iowa town was stoned, Judge John Beardsley, has stood on the side of right and fairplay. We can say this about "The Boss" because he is not a candidate.

John Beardsley appointed young Hargroves as a member of the Grand Jury. He was among the first to voice his American opinion that he would accept a qualified bailiff, regardless of color, race or creed. Beardsley has had four Negro bailiffs in his court. Three regulars. Arthur Adams, now a real estate broker, was in his first deputy-sheriff. James Polk, the second, left for the Los Angeles Police Department and is now a member of the Navy. The third, this writer, is still on his staff. Arthur MacClanahan served his apprenticeship in his courtroom.

Now to get back to Roger Baldwin, we had to give you John Beardsley's background in order to acquaint you with Roger Baldwin.

So Roger Baldwin came to town. He spoke at the Biltmore and the Rosalyn Hotels to representative groups. His chief topics were based upon the American Japanese and the American Negroes.

Judge John Beardsley served as chairman at the Rosalyn Hotel conference. Judge Beardsley was armed with State Supreme Court Justice Tainter's now famous decision on racial restrictive covenant ament the case in Pasadena. Mr. Baldwin discussed the problems of in-migrant Negro. He brought with him a fair approach to a social problem, which has been a tough nut to crack for City and County Officials.

On the Japanese question, Roger Baldwin was loaded down with the heroic deeds of the American Japanese soldiers. He brought home the fact that the American Japanese are Americans, and entitled to the protection of the "Bill of Rights" the same as any other American. He advocated that these same magnificent rights should apply to the Chinese, Fillipinos and other racial groups in these United States.

Because Roger Baldwin, John Beardsley and their splendid organization may uphold a group when there has been some infringement upon their constitutional rights, does not mean that they support their program.

Members of the Civil Liberties Union have been branded as Communists when they sought to uphold a plank in the American Constitution. But these same people did not call them Negroes, when they on numerous occasions came to the aid of Negroes.

Roger Baldwin is a servant of man, Likewise his organization. The Bill of Rights is their religion. But it is also a spiritual and practical approach to the Divine Teachings. Our American Constitution might be boiled down to the "Golden Rule", "Do Unto Others as Ye Would Have Them Do Unto Thee."

Free Italy Society To Hold Dance

The Free Italy Society, (Italia Libera), an organization of anti-fascist American-Italians working in support of the heroic Italian Partisan Fighters who are cooperating with the United Nations Invasion Forces ridding Italy of the fascist yoke, will hold a fund-raising ball on December 16 at the Kastriotta Hall, 3220 North Broadway, beginning at 8:00 P. M.

An outstanding dance band will be featured as well as a program of national songs and dances and rare refreshments. An invitation is extended to all progressive groups to attend.

Negro Youths Seek to Join Hi-Y at Belmont

Recently the boys Vice-Principal of Belmont High School, John Addison, and Phil Hubbard motioned that Negroes be included in the Hi-Y. They advocated an inter-racial Hi-Y. The principal of the school is reported to have turned the motion down, using as his reason, that the colored boys were not of sufficient high standard to be included.

The students of the school are indignant, remembering that Al Norman is student president, Bill Smith, an All-American trackman, and many others who have excelled in athletics and scholastic achievements.

The question as to whether or not colored lads will be allowed to join the Hi-Y still remains unanswered.

• Woodlawn YWCA •

Mr. William Jones, Industrial Secretary of the Los Angeles Urban League, will be the discussion leader at the December 13 meeting of the Industrial Girls Club of the Woodlawn YWCA.

The topic, "The Kind of World We Want to Live In," will be based on the material set forth in the film being shown at that time. This film, "The Price of Victory," covers material set forth in Vice-President Wallace's speech on the "Era of the Common Man." Wallace is the commentator.

Women from the Lockheed plants are special guests at this meeting. However, employed women interested in a better work-day world for all workers are invited to attend.

This program is one of a series planned by the Industrial club for this season.

M. E. Williams, brother of Edward Williams, 502 Sixth Ave., San Diego, Calif., has been promoted from technician fifth grade to sergeant at an island base somewhere in the New Hebrides.

Susanna Foster, feminine lead in Universal's "Frisco Sal," is no problem at all to studio hairdressers. Susie shampoos her own hair twice a week in the studio's beauty lab and does her own trick hair-dos.

Deanna Durbin is rounding out eight years as a screen star with her greatest triumph, Universal's mightiest motion picture, "Can't Help Singing," a saga of the westward trek of America's conquering "frontier" people. Before start of production of this Technicolor extravaganza, Deanna had hung up a record unequalled by any other screen star—fourteen straight hits in as many films. And Miss Durbin also lays claim to the distinction of being the only star who ever grew from childhood to womanhood before the eyes of motion picture theater audiences, her career having progressed without faltering from its beginning to its present tremendous climax. She has grown from her first successes as an adolescent singing sensation to the pinnacle of dramatic acting achievement. Miss Durbin's principal activities between pictures is her regular stint at the Hollywood Canteen where, three nights each week, she entertains servicemen. She also has toured Army camps and hospitals and is a ranking favorite with the men of the armed forces. Her work in "Christmas Holiday," her last picture, in which she was presented for the first time as a grown woman and dramatic star, and her contrasting gayety and singing in "Can't Help Singing," stamp Deanna as one of the screen's most versatile stars.

Golden West Bridge Association

A special notice is given to all members of the Golden West Bridge Association, commanding them to be present at the club rooms, 1054-56 East 54th street, Saturday and Sunday, December 9 and 10, to participate in the sixth regional of the year. There will be a mixed pair game, and all players must play with a member of the opposite sex. Election of officers will bc held Sunday.

Ellis L. Veil-Beatrice Reeves won the November (Friday) series of plays by the small margin of one point over Irving Hamilton-Margaret Hale who put on a Merriwell finish to gain 22 points in a single night's play.

Mrs. Billy Walker, of Chicago, a member of the Midwest Bridge Association, is an Angel City visitor and a constant player at the club rooms. Phone AP. 5946.

Pilgrim Baptist

The Senior usher board is sponsoring a grand musical Thursday (tonight), Dec. 7, 1944, at 8 o'clock sharp. You will miss a great treat if you fail to witness this program. The senior and gospel choir will furnish music for the ushers, as we all know the usher always does the big things.

Come and bring a friend Dec. 10th. Our pastor will fill the pulpit as usual at both the morning and evening services. Rv. Mr. Wade is known to render the community service. Your presence will be a great inspiration to the tireless worker. All efforts to make this a profitable meeting will not be in vain. Rev. Wade is the successful pastor of Pilgrim.

A capacity crowd is expected and those who wish to hear him are urged to come early in order to get a good seat.

At 6 o'clock sharp the gospel choir is sponsoring its regular second Sunday monthly musical feast. The gospel choir is under the leadership of Prof. Henry P. Markham, national concert figure of Chicago. We are proud of this young Christian man, and the choir is singing as never before. This program will be climaxed by a sermon by one of the associated ministers. Prof. Henry P. Markham, director of the gospel choir; Brother Ancy Brown, president. We had a fine time last Sunday. The spirit was high. Twelve were added to the church.

prised his brother and sister-in-law, Luther and Lucille Graham, when he dropped in on them for a visit two weeks ago. This was a treat for Luther Graham, who has been confined to his home, Ill, for some time.

While in the city, Rev. Graham was royally entertained by relatives and friends. He also preached for the Pilgrim Baptist Church, of which the big-hearted minister, Rev. B. W. Wade, is pastor. He was given a purse of $21 for his service. He also preached for the Antioch Baptist Church, of which Rev. Williams is pastor, and was given a token, by the church, as a remembrance.

During his stay Rev. Graham was the houseguest of his brother-in-law at 1561 East 23rd St. He left the city Thursday at 6:30 p. m., on the California Limited, to return to Chicago at the instance of a hurried business call.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Lottie Peterson and family wish to extend their sincere appreciation to their many friends, relatives and members of Second Baptist Church for the many telegrams, cards and kind expressions of sympathy extended them on the behalf of their loved one, Mrs. Ethel Ross Payne, who passed away Thursday, November 2, 1944. Funeral services were held Tuesday, November 7, in Kansas City, Mo.

● Town and Gown ●

Miss Marion Banks was the lovely hostess to the Town and Gown club at her beautiful home on East 54th street, Sunday, November 30, at 3 o'clock. All unfinished business was discussed and closed. The election of officers was held. This brought to the close another successful year for the group, under the capable hands of their president, Miss Vereachi Lockhart, who has served them faithfully for the past two years. The club contributed most of their work to charity.

At the close of the meeting the guests retired to the dining room where a delicious dinner was served by the hostess. The table was a scene of beauty amid the glow of candles and delicious food. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Lonnie Shields of Seattle, Wash., Mesdames Lesley I. Walker, Ernst Chandler, Ella Hampton, Fannie Terrell, Willie H. Chambers, Messrs. (Sonny) Ted Brown and George Jones. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Lila Bly. Mrs. Virginia Marmillian, president; Mattie Tarvin, representative.

John Thomas to Fight for Lightweight Title

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

DID YA KNOW? — Terry Gibson, who was once tabbe das a good fight prospect around these parts, is now gazing upon the world from inside an Army stockade. This marks the second time Terry has gone AWOL from the Army and his second trip to the stockade. We can't figure a guy who likes to fight, not wanting to fight for his own country. . . . Cecil Hudson, protege of Henry Armstrong, recently out of the army, an honorable discharge in his case, is slated to fight Freddy Dixon in Oakland on December 12th. . . . Dynamite Jackson, once a good fighter, now operates a liquor store on Central avenue. When this scribe asked Dynamite if he contemplated fighting again, he replied, "No, no, it ain't gonna be like that." He's well satisfied with his business and that's an ex-fighter with sense. We point him out as an object lesson to gangs of battlers who still don't know when to hang 'em up. In our estimation, and in all cases without any exceptions, we think that as far as youngsters are concerned, the fight game should just be used as a stepping stone to better things. It is a quick way to earn money, but the money should be put to good use in the line of investments. A sustained period in the game only ruins the health of a fighter and does not necessarily provide him with additional money. In fact, just as a fighter coming up earns plenty of money, if he is good, at the outset of his career, as he declines, after having reached hih peak, his earning power decreases until finally he winds up with no money, his health shattered and perhaps his mind ge-fogged. Really, the game isn't worth it. The fans pay to see young boys coming up, kids trying to be champions. If they fail, and become just preliminary boxers, they are soon forgotten. Wouldn't it be better to get into the game young, earn a substantial sum for a business ievnstment and then jump out while the jumping is good? We think so. This is one of the reasons for which we admire Dynamite Jackson. He's a guy who beat the game, he didn't let the game beat him. Be the master of whatever you do, don't let it master you, because if you do, brother, you're sunk. For awhile we thought that "Hammering" Henry Armstrong was going to let the game get the best of him. However, he has purchased a lot of real estate and lately he opened a business. He told this writer that he wasn't contemplating any more fights. He has said this before and not meant it ut this time we can't help but elieve him for the simple reason that he hasn't had a fight in quite awhile and we know of none recently signed up. We really hope that Hank will devote his future time to managing his fighters and his business. There's no use in going on. No added prestige can be gained, no new glories. All that sort of thing is behind the happy little warrior, accomplishments to be rought up before the fireside ut not ever to be carried into the ring against the up-and-coming youngsters, as credentials. Any person that works knows that credentials of five or six years ago are worthless. It's not what you were but what you are that counts and if you haven't got it any more there's no use killing yourself trying to live up to what you once were, because brother, that's what it will amount to, killing yourself. It's true that you, yourself, will be the last person to convince that the old zip and punch has gone the way of all flesh. When your vibrant yout hor rather, early twenties passed into history the zip and punch you once possessed went with it. We are saying this for the benefit of many other guys fighting around here that should confine their athletic endeavors to walking the floor with their newest offspring instead of getting into the ring from time to time and fooling the public and themselves for a few measley frogskins. It isn't worth it, chum, believe me, it isn't worth it.

Morristown Homecoming

MORRISTOWN, Tenn.—Homecoming at Morristown Normal and Industrial College, Morristown, Tenn., was a big day on the campus. Morristown met and conquered its old rival, Swift Memorial College of Rogersville, in the football game to the score of 12-0. Miss Beatrice Treece was crowned "Miss Homecoming." She was attended by Miss Orma Jean Snapp. After the football game, a lovely banquet was served to the alumni and visiting friends in Kenwood Refectory.

Will Battle Juan Zurita in 15-Rounder In February

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

Booked to fight in January for the world's lightweight title, (N. B. A.), now held by Juan Zurita, is John Thomas, pride of the West Coast in that division, who has been knocking on the door of the one room for several years. No other lightweight is more entitled to bid for the title than Thomas.

A clean-living lad, happily married and the father of two children, John has lived up to all the expectations and fully earned the confidence of his managers, Bert Lewis and George Tolson. He has defeated Willie Joyce, Henry Armstrong, Jimmy Hatcher and many other top-notchers to have his name placed among the leaders in the lightweight division.

When he meets Zurita, the champion, Thomas will be in the finest condition of his career because one of his managers, George Tolson, is also his trainer and Tolson has been carefully grooming John while the bout was hanging fire, for just this chance. This writer predicts that we will have a new lightweight champion after the fifteen-round battle which will be promoted by Babe McCoy, matchmaker of the Olympic Auditorium.

The date is February 22 1945, the place Wrigley Field and the match is to be promoted by Babe McCoy. This is our latest flash on the story.

TO TRY FOR TITLE—It was announced this week that John Thomas, above, would be matched against Juan Zurita, present N. B. A. world's lightweight champion, in a 15-round championship bout to be staged on Febrary 22, 1945, at Wrigley Field with Babe McCoy as matchmaker.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

Generalissimo Eddie Nealis was well pleased with the way the public accepted his new offering of mutuels betting only. The books that had held sway ever since racing was established at the border tracks were absent last Sunday. The big lawn which in the past had sheltered the books was just an open space, with the good Sunday crowd rambling about freely. Many of the former layers were vistors to the track, shaking hands with their former customers and playing the races as the public. Only the combination books were in operation. There you can make parlays and even take the price mads by Ring Master E. L. Caress.

We were very glad to see Ruben Verdugo again out shaking hands with his many friends. Ruben has been in the Scripps hospital for nearly three months but now looks the picture of health. Keep on improving, Ruben, is the wish from your many friends.

Out of the ten-race program only two favorites won. My Universe, who made a journey to Hollywood Park to seek new laurels but was turned back without even being in the money, came back to his former stamping grounds and showed his heels to the best handicap horses at the world's greatest Sunday race course in the feature race of the day. Being overlooked in the betting because of his bad showing at the Hollywood Park, he paid the overlaid price of $10.20. Taking the lead at the break, the good son of Universe, My Marie, made every post a winning one to score by a head over the favorite Lady Lev, with Hoops My Dear third, covering the mile on an off track in 1:40 flat. The secondary feature of the day was won by the new-comer, Baby Broom. Being the outsider in the race paid $20.20 for two. The Daily-Double rewarded its backer $96.80 when Black Streak won the second and Valiant Boy in the third race. The quiniela only paid $4.60 because the hot favorite and strong second choice ran one-two. Jockeys White and Sena shared the riding honors, each riding two winners.

This Sunday another fine program of ten races will be held with three feature events for the fans. Remember the Sixth War Loan drive is now on. Are you buying all the bonds you can, do you want your boys and girls to come home sooner? Well, the way to get them back quick is to keep buying. Buy till it hurts.

So-long, and good luck,
GEORGE.

Thomas Wins Action-Packed Fight Over Moran, Gets Draw

Before 9000 fans at the Olympic Auditorium Tuesday night John Thomas, 139, leading West Coast lightweight, did everything a fighter is supposed to do to win a 10-round bout, only to see the hand of his opponent, Nicholas Moran, 140½, also raised at the end of the fight in token of a draw.

Judge Reggie Gilmore called Thomas the winner but Judge Frankie Dolan and Referee Billy Kershner both scored the battle even.

Thomas is scheduled to fight Juan Zurita on February 22nd, 1945 for the world's lightweight title at Wrigley Field. Before this bout, however, he will probably be re-matched with Moran.

In the six-round semi-windup Tuesday night Bobby Jackson, 131, defeated Abel Lucero, 132½. The four-rounders found: Sonny Hill, 137, nodding Bucky O'Connor, 136, Steve Ludman, 189, beating Leonard Nix, 175, Frank Lieberman, 132½, scoring a t.k.o. over Bob Ingram, 139, in the second heat, and Julio Franco, 136, decisioning Torpedo Reed, 139½.

Next Tuesday night, December 12th, Watson Jones, classy light-heavyweight champion of the State of California, will defend his title in a 15-round bout at the Olympic against Jack Chase, the former State middleweight champ, who is now campaigning in the heavy division.

On Playground Job

Quite a few persons have been asking whether or not Carl Gross, director of the 22nd Playground, was still connected there after reading that Mr. Gross had been made Public Relations man for Leeman's Furniture Company. Mr. Gross is still very much on his job at the playground, so much so, that he has many fine plans in the offing for the enjoyment of the children who attend this popular playground.

CONGRATULATING THE CHAMP ON HIS OPENING—Dr. Earl Gould, prominent Medico and enthusiastic sports fan, is shown congratulating one-time triple champ Henry Armstrong on the opening of his Club Restaurant at 228 East First Street Tuesday night. Armstrong, who is uncertain about future ring fights, is building a stable of crack fighters and opened his Club Restaurant to satisfy his and the public's desire to eat good food and spend the late eening hours relaxing in a tastefully decorated and quiet atmosphere. Dr. Gould, whose knowledge of the prowess of the leather pushers rivals that of many sports writers, is a warm admirer of "Hammerin' Hank."

Paulie Peters Stops Angustain

Paulie Peters, 161½, from Northern California, scored a ninth-round technical kayo over Frankie Angustain, 155, last Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium, in the scheduled 10-round main event, referee Mushy Callahan stopping the fight.

In the six-round semi-final, Bert White, 127, won a decisive decision over Angel Lopez, 125½, after a thrilling bout. White got up after being slapped down from a right to the jaw in the second heat for a nine count to garner the nod.

In the four-round bouts, Bob Ferris, 152, decisioned Doll Nelson, 152; Lou Bernal, 138 drew with Benny Black, 135; Elmer Lewis, 145, nodded Johnny Lopez, 143, and Benny Cousins won by a technical kayo in the second round over Val Garcia, 112.

Fisk-Howard Attention!

E. A. Dawkins of 9419 Baird Avenue attended Fisk and Howard Universities, and having read in the California Eagle that a club formed by former students at these noted colleges are functioning in Los Angeles, has written a letter to the editor asking that he be contacted by someone from either or both groups so that he may arrange to attend meetings and offer his membership. His phone number is LA. 6407.

Christmas Polo Tournament Goes Into Second Series

The Christmas polo tournament played annually at Riviera Country Club, will swing into its second exciting series on the club's famed Olympic field this Sunday afternoon, starting at 2:15.

The event will be contested in round robin form between two Southland teams: Major Coulter's Beverly Hills foursome and Snowy Baker's Riviera Blues, and a Northern squad known as the San Franciscans. The stellar malleteers of the North are Charles Low and Bill Gilmore, who will play at Nos. 1 and 2, respectively, for the San Franciscans.

Among the top-notchers for the Southern teams are sure shot Tom Cross and the ever vigilant goal keeper, Snowy Baker, for the Riviera Blues; and for the Beverly Hills team, long hitting Don Howden and hard riding Major Coulter.

The persons who laugh loudest in derision at an athlete when he fails are the ones who never indulged in athletics themselves.

TO ALL ON-SALE APPLICANTS

Section 21 of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act provides in part as follows:

"All applicants for on-sale licenses shall, within five (5) days after filing their application with the Board, cause a notice of such application giving the name or names of the applicant and the premises where the business is to be conducted, to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city in which such premises are situated, or if such premises are not in a city then such publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation nearest the premises where the business is to be conducted. The form of such notice shall be prescribed by the Board. Affidavit of publication shall be filed with the Board prior to the issuance of any license."

Your particular attention is called to the fact that the newspaper in which notice of intention is published must qualify as a NEWSPAPER OF GENERAL CIRCULATION AS DEFINED IN SECTION 4460 of the Political Code of California.

The form of notice prescribed by the Board is as follows:

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ENGAGE IN THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES
November 24, 1944

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that fifteen days after the above date, the undersigned proposes to sell alcoholic beverages at these premises, described as follows: 3228 South Central Ave., Los Angeles, 11.

Pursuant to such intention, the undersigned is applying to the State Board of Equalization for issuance of an alcoholic beverage license (or licenses) for these premises as follows: On sale beer only

Anyone desiring to protest the issuance of such license may file a verified protest with the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, California, stating grounds for denial as provided by law.

PROF. HERMAN The Astrologer

TO ASSIST YOU IN MAKING WISE DECISIONS

FREE: Your question will be answered in this column only when a clipping of this feature is enclosed with your question, your full name, birthdate and correct address. For private reply, send 25 cents in coin and stamped envelope for my Astrology Reading and receive by return mail my free opinions on any three questions. Address all communications to Prof. Herman, the Astrologer, care of The California EAGLE.

Prayer and Meditation is the loveliest, and one of the most restful emotions in the human body. Indeed, it is an expression of divine power and strength. It portrays a sense of well-well-worth striving for.

Some people think it is dull and uninteresting to commune with their Maker and meditate on future desires. There is nothing about a quiet, restful disposition that displays ignorance, for only the learned people are able to accomplish this feat: people who have trained their minds and bodies to relax and really enjoy peace.

Dear Prof. Herman: While reading your column, I recently found a problem that was similar to mine. After reading your answer, I was amazed that your solution to that problem would also benefit me. How glad I am that I discovered your column, and I will write in soon for a private reply.

I.L.B. What is in store for me?

Ans. According to your Zodiacal Sign, the future promises you the opportunities that will enable you to be successful in your undertakings, my friend, and you will find happiness. However, it will only be through your own efforts that you will obtain this promised to you.

S.G. What should I do?

Ans. After a careful study of your question, I find that you are wondering which boy you should choose to be your boy friend. Now Jim who is in the army loves you, and because of military reasons is uriable to write, so do not doubt his love since you don't hear from him. In regards to the other boy, treat him as a casual friend. You love Jim, so wait for his return.

A.T. When will I marry?

Ans. Your lucky stars and guiding planet indicate marriage next year for you, and marriage may be the result of your relationship with this man.

T.R. Where is my pen?

Ans. It is revealed to me that you will find your fountain pen among some old discarded articles in your desk drawer.

S.H. Dear Sir: I just want to take a few minutes to tell you how wonderful the Hindu Charm and Luck Bag has helped me. I can truthfully say that my condition has improved and I have at last found the happiness I so desired. I have told several of my friends about your Charm Bag, and they will send for one. Again I want to thank you for helping me.

C.M.B. Does he love me?

Ans. I vision this man caring a great deal for you, my friend, and the future indicates a happy life for you both.

N.D. What is wrong with my husband? Does he love me? What shall I do?

Ans. Due to the limited space alloted my column, only one question is answered. I suggest that you send in for a private reply at your earliest convenience.

N.T. What are his plans?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question, I find that you are worrying about his future plans after the war. It comes to me that you are included in his plans, and marriage will be the result. Through your own determination, you can find the love and happiness that is promised to you.

G.T. How can I help myself?

Ans. I suggest that you do your school work to the best of your ability, and strive for honors. When you become depressed, immediately concentrate on somthing lse, and soon this feeling will leave you. Have confidence within yourself, my friend, that you will accomplish your desides.

Help Wanted

Attendants, butchers, calculating machine operators, cooks, dictating machine operators, store helpers, survey aids, stenographers and watchmen are wanted for employment by the Los Angeles County Civil Service Commission.

These positions are only a few of many job opportunities now open to men and women seeking government employment. Many are for work outside the downtown area and thus do not necessitate hours of traveling to and from work.

Full information about County Civil Service positions may be obtained from the office of the Commission, 102 Hall of Records in downtown Los Angeles or by telephoning MUtual 9211, Station 2912.

Diphtheria Deaths Up!

—NEWS— Must— DIPHTHERIA

Diphtheria took the lives of a 19-year-old Hollywood girl and a 49-year-old Los Angeles man Saturday, bringing its fatality toll to 23 since January 1, Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, reported today.

Total number of victims of the disease now stands at 302 since the beginning of the year, the worst since 1939, when only 13 deaths occurred from a slightly higher number of cases than this year.

• 1st AME Church

Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, pastor of the First A.M.E. Church, 801 Towne Avenue stated today that, "Sunday will be a day of great activities for the church. He will be speaking at the Morning Worship Service from the subject, "What It Takes." Mrs. Susie McBryde Johnson will be the guest soloist. Special music will be rendered by the Senior Choir, Miss Robert V. Edwards, Organist-Director. The Artishia W. Jordan Missionary Society of which Mrs. Willa Mae Moore is the president will serve a delicious dinner immediately after the Morning Worship Service.

At 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon, the Youth Guild of the Missionary Society, Miss Consuela Scott, president, Mrs. Mary Person and Mrs. Pauline Howard, sponsors, will present Miss Cecile Buchanan in recital.

Miss Buchanan is a product of the Pasadena schools graduating from P. J. C. in 1936. She studied three years at the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Mass. Giving her first concert there and was hailed as a great artist. Prof. Ingenuus Bentzar of Hollywood her tutor believes she has the promise of another Marion Anderson.

At the Evening Worship Service, the Utility Club will observe its Fourth Anniversary. Several musical numbers will be given by some of the outstanding artists of the community. A treat will be in store for you. Mrs. Maggie Bell Buckner is the president of the club.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of my beloved husband, Alfred James Gilmore of Pasadena, Calif., who departed this life Dec. 12, 1944.
Gone but not forgotten.
Farewell, farewell! You sail away.
Your face is turned to radiant day,
From glimmers of the sea and star;
Close the tired eyes until you gain
God's Haven where there is no more pain.
Farewell, farewell dear until we meet again.
Beloved wife Della Gilmore,
Daughter Annie Mae Woods.

Are You Bothered By ITCHING BURNING MISERY OF COMMON SKIN IRRITATIONS

Skin So Marred Is Annoying—Embarrassing

Life is dreary when externally caused acne-pimples, bumps (blackheads) cause you to itch and burn and scratch and make yourself feel miserable, all because you may be scratching and rubbing your skin when you really should be using medication on it that's made to help relieve the symptoms of such skin conditions. That's why so many thousands of packages of famous Black and White Ointment have been sold and used with such success for so many years. This comforting, antiseptic ointment also gives you real help in relieving such miseries in cases of Tetter, Eczema, and simple Ringworm, all due to external cause.

HERE'S WHAT BLACK AND WHITE OINTMENT DOES:

1. Being antiseptic, helps guard against infection due to scratching.
2. Helps nature in healing through antiseptic-germicidal action and stimulates granulation, often lessening the size of scars.
3. Helps relieve itching and burning sensation when applied as comforting dressing.

Read complete directions folder in each package—and use Black and White Ointment only as directed. Be sure that you get the original and genuine Black and White Ointment in the Black and White package, famous from coast to coast.

The 50¢ size of Black and White Ointment contains more than twice as much as the 25¢ size. Large bar Black and White Skin Soap, 25¢. Trial sizes of both products sold for 10¢ at all dealers.

When using soap for cleansing, do not use harsh soap. Rely on mild Black and White Skin Soap. Always insist on

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

Give This Some Thought, My Good Friends

West Side Center for Youth Will Be Dedicated Friday Nite

A group of capable young women on the West Side have organized a badly-needed community center for the youth of that area. Opening last Friday with a bond-selling rally that was followed by a turkey dinner with all of the trimmings, the center is located at 3765½ South Western Ave. at Exposition Boulevard and Western.

Over forty children participated in the Bond Selling Rally, marking the first time that such a rally has been conducted by a group of children.

The Center has a broad program that is geared to the needs of the youth in the community, and numbers among its activities games of all sort, training programs, boxing, candy making, sewing, gifts to make for servicemen.

A shop where boys will be trained to repair their own shoes and those of other persons in the neighborhood. Part of the money received from the repairs will go to the youth and part to the center to help finance its program.

Formal opening will be celebrated on Friday, December 8, at 8 p. m., when a dedication program on which all of the ministers in the community, and Charlotta A. Bass, California Eagle editor-publisher, Attorney Martha Williams and Leon Washington, Los Angeles Sentinel publisher, will appear. Subjects for the evening are "Problems of Youth and How to Solve Them" and "Your Community and What It Should Mean to Youth."

CARVER XMAS

George Washington Carver Junion High School cordially invited the parents and friends of the school and the Parent-Teacher Association to attend a Christmas play and song festival to be held in the School Auditorium Sunday, December 10, 1944, at 4 p. m. Both the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and the Senior Orchestra will combine with the Drama Class and we are sure you will enjoy the play.

The Christmas program each year have been of the highest type and leave a lasting impression with all who have witnessed them. There will be an opportunity to contribute at the conclusion of the program, the total proceeds of which will go to the Organ Fund. Make this a must on your calendar Sunday. The school is located at Wadsworth and 45th Streets.

Rev. Veil Succumbs

Final tribute was paid the Rev. G. A. Veil Tuesday, Nov. 28, in the chapel of Hamilton M. E. Church, 18th and Naomi streets.

The Rev. Mr. Veil succumbed to pneumonia November 25 at the Queen of the Angels hospital. He was 82 years of age, and had lived the true Christian life he preached.

He was born in Carrol County, Georgia, in 1862, and began his ministry of the gospel early in life. He built the M. E. Church at Waco, Georgia.

He was married to Elizabeth L. King in 1890. Ten children were born to them. He sold his farm in 1918, and he and his family moved to Los Angeles the following year. The family joined Wesley Chapel in March, but later transferred to Hamilton.

Left to mourn his loss are his wife, Mrs. Ada L. Veil; five sons, William D., Homer J., Dallas H., Ellis L., and Murlin Jr., one daughter, Mrs. Jessie M. Wallace; six grandchildren, two brothers, William D. Veil, of Atlanta, Ga., and Louis G. Veil, of Miami, Fla.; one sister, Mrs. Mary Willis, Villa Rica, Ga., many nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

He wrote his own obituary, and requested the Rev. S. M. Bean to preach the funeral sermon. He also requested the following hymns: "Abide With Me" by the choir and "Nothing Between" by Mrs. Craig. Other solos were sung by Mrs. Cruzot and "Going Home" and "When They Ring Them Golden Bells" by Mrs. Eadens, assisted by the choir.

Words of praise for the true Christian life the Rev. Mr. Veil had lived were given by the Rev. L. E. Jordan and the Rev. E. W. Rakestraw.

Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

USO Camp Shows Begin 4th Year of Service

NEW YORK. — Celebrating its third anniversary as the largest entertainment organization in the world, USO-Camp Shows announced today that 173 theatrical units (837 performers- are currently playing to American servicemen overseas, setting a new record for the number of Camp Show units overseas at any one time.

Included in the record total are vaudeville, concert, athletic and dramatic units, among them such recent Broadway hits as BLITHE SPIRIT, TEN LITTLE INDIANS, OVER 21, and PANAMA HATTIE.

Camp Shows units have already played to American troops in Germany, Belgium, France and the Netherlands, while many others are playing in the Central and South Pacific, Africa, Italy, the China-Burma-India area, and in England. The organization is an affiliate of the parent USO, and is supporter entirely by public contributions to the National War Fund.

Sgt. Butler Feted Here

Sgt. William F. Butler, who with his bride is visiting in Los Angeles while he is on furlough from Fort Lewis, Washington, celebrated his 25th birthday recently at a party given in his honor by his aunt, Mrs. Alice Parker, for 16 guests at her home, 1736 East 51st street. Sgt. Butler and his wife motored back to Fort Lewis following a pleasant sojourn during which he renewed old acquaintances and enjoyed many social courtesies.

THE NEW CENTURY

BY GEORGE JEFFERSON

We can better understand our peculiar problems as a people if we are actually aware, or can trace the path of our approach to these problems. It is not enough to believe the Negro is mistreated and discriminated against in a variety of ways, not even if we consciously perceive these inequalities, and recognize them. We must also know why—in the realistic light of our present-day social structure, we know these inequalities to be a crime, and why so many of our fellow citizens disagree with the intelligent principle of the brotherhood of man.

The problem of Negro equality is difficult. Explanations of, and solutions to it can easily be given, but only too often the glib smoothness of the answer announces the lie upon which the approach is based.

The founders of our country struggled with the Negro problem, fought over it, and compromised. The successive compromises from the three-fifths clause down to the establishing of the F.E.P.C., are recorded in the history of our land, but compromises are seldom successful unless by the process involved the old conditions are swept away, and new ones are born. This happened once, during the civil war.

We can take a long step in solving our problems by discarding compromises in our thinking, and instead trying to effect a synthesis. We can recognize the direction of that step by the active realization that the Negro exerts a tremendous influence both negative and positive, in American life out of all proportion to the numerical percent of the population. The very conditions forced upon the Negro compels him to limit the scope of the country. To retard prosperity and aid depression, to polute her politics and government and to make of religion a sin against God and man.

Conditions are rapidly being formed in which the Negro's present position in society will be incompatable to the further advantage of the nation. We must prepare ourselves in the only way in which a people can ever achieve success—by burying differences, by united action.

Lawyers Guild Observes Civil Liberties Week

In observation of Civil Liberties Week, the Los Angeles Lawyers Guild will hold a luncheon meeting on December 12 at which Robert E. Brown, Jr., Cary McWilliams and A. L. Wirin will speak. Brown is the Examiner in Charge of the Los Angeles office of the Fair Employment Practices Committee, McWilliams is well known for his books, "Factories in the Fields," and "Brothers Under The Skin," as well as his vigorous efforts on behalf of minority rights.

Wirin is an attorney, and he is in charge of the Los Angeles office of the American Civil Liberties Union. Civil Liberties were stressed by Roger Baldwin, national head of the union at a meeting here in November.

He warned against taking too vigorously, the threats against minority groups that attempt to exercise their civil rights. He pointed out that threat against Negroes who attempted to vote in some Southern States were not carried out, and he said it will be the same way when the Japanese-Americans return to California.

Mrs. Harrell responded to this with an objection and a counter petition to adopt which she filed in Los Angeles. Mrs. Nichols filed an objection to this petition and the matter now depends on the action of the State Department of Social Welfare, which makes recommendations in adoption cases.

Final hearings will take place in the Superior Court of Alameda County, and speculation is rife as to whether the State Welfare Agency will recommend either of the grandparents or suggest adoption by some other source. Attorney Curtis Taylor is counsel for Mrs. Harrell.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM DR. SEYMOUR H. KAUFMAN TO ALL OF HIS PATIENTS AND FRIENDS:

Recently you phoned Dr. Seymour H. Kaufman for professional services, and at the time you phoned, Dr. Kaufman was on an emergency case and was unable to come to you immediately. So in order that you were not delayed in receiving essential treatment, he gave your call to other doctors.

We are sorry to have just learned that these other doctors have been charging you rediculous and exhorbitant fees which Dr. Kaufman had no knowledge of; and only discovered this through his efforts to bring you to his office for another examination.

So, in the future Dr. Kaufman says: "My life is dedicated to your health and well-being. Therefore I will devote 24 hours every day to all of my patients and their friends.

During one of these evenings that you phoned, Dr. Seymour H. Kaufman was busy delivering a baby girl to Mrs. James Edwing, Jr., wife of publisher and editor of the Neighborhood News. Dr. Kaufman also has made numerous calls for Mrs. Charlotta Bass, owner and publisher of the California Eagle. He prides himself in the fact that one of his dearest friends is the Rev. Clayton Russell of the Independent Church of Christ, of whom Dr. Seymour visited personally and publicly made a speech at his church.

In closing, we can only say this. Your confidence in Dr. Semour H. Kaufman's efforts to keep you in good condition so that you can help win the war is all he is interested in, and it will be more than greatly appreciated if you will call him for an appointment and come to his office for a preliminary examination.

SEASON'S HIGHLIGHT—One of the most exclusive affairs of the season was the Formal Dinner Bridge given by Mrs. Thomas Spaulding Hinton at Casa Rafael last Saturday. It was attended by 56 of Los Angeles' most popular social matrons. The hostess was presented with a gorgeous orchid by Mrs. Louise Roan. Bridge prizes were won by the following: Mrs. Alma Eden, 1st prize; Mrs. Eva Hammond, 2nd prize; Mrs. Edna McPherson, 3rd prize; Mrs. Fay Beal, 4th prize, and Mrs. Exie Boutte, 5th prize.

HELPED TO HER GOAL—Captain Ethel Davis Smith of the Carrier Unit of the Women's Ambulance Defense Corps expresses her appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Sheppard, Leonard Reed, Mr. B. Wilson, Mr. Waller and their associates at Shepp's Playhouse for theirs, and the cooperation of the many friends and Unit members which made the Benefit Dance and Show at Shepp's on Nov. 2nd, a huge success. Lieutenants Harris and Corporal Williams put the affair over in the absence of Captain Smith. Out of the proceeds of the benefit, enough was realized to purchase a station wagon which will render valuable community service.

REVEALS NO SEGREGATION OF BLOOD BY ARMY

Correspondent Says Army Does Not Mark Blood

WITH AMERICAN FORCES IN FRANCE—There is no racial segregation of blood, either plasma or whole, writes a U. S. Army correspondent from this sector of the fighting front. If there is segregntion of blood according to race, it is carefully removed before it reaches the Medical Corps, he adds.

The correspondent goes on to say:

"I have seen blood plasma used to bring life back to soldiers from all signs of living had disappeared. No one has ever asked the race of the donor. I have never heard that mentioned.

"In scores of interviews with Army doctors treating combat patients, only a few have ever heard of the Red Cross race segregation policy in handling blood donations."

He quotes one Medical Corps captain as saying:

"I have been using blood plasma in the treatment of combat patients for three years, and I have never seen any race identification of blood or even heard of it. Why, it's ridiculous! Do you think we go around asking unconscious soldiers what race's blood they prefer?"

With his story, the writer sent actual labels from Army blood plasma cartons. Nowhere on them was there any racial identification. He also said that a card of medical information which doctors must fill out after using the plasma, which does not mention race, reads:

"DATE ON USE OF PLASMA
A. Dried—, Liquid—, Lot—, Date manufactured—."

Commenting on his findings, the correspondent says:

Restrictions Trial Halted

By JOHN M. LEE

Acting with what some observers termed unseemly haste, the attorneys for the plaintiffs in the action to restrict the residence of several non-Caucasian families in the area which includes the C. H. Ashby, and the Granada and Homestead Tracts, secured an application for a writ of prohibition Tuesday which enjoins Judge John Beardsley from hearing any further evidence in the case until the writ is determined on December 18th.

The trial which opened in Judge Beardsley's court last Thursday, was being held on a complaint filed by attorneys William C. Bartlett and LeCompte Davis as counsel for Thomas A. and Margaret B. Simpson. Following a week-end recess, the trial opened on Monday morning with many of the defendants, included among whom were some persons of Chinese, Korean and Caucasian extraction, on hand with their attorneys prepared to enter their defense.

Monday morning's session developed a number of perplexing problems for the plaintiffs, and a stir was created when Thomas Griffin, dentist, identified himself as a member of the Caucasian race, while the complaint described him as a Negro. It was indicated by the arguments of opposing counsel that this point would become a moot question of the trial.

Near the close of the morning session, counsel for the plain-

Elected to Legislature In Vermont

SHOREHAM, Vt.—(ANP)—Elected as a representative to the Vermont legislature from this town which has only a few colored residents, William J. Anderson is thought to be the first Negro ever elected to either chamber of the Vermont General assembly. Anderson is a large apple grower and former president of the Vermont Horticultural society. He was educated in the local schools and at Mount Hermon academy. His election is similar to that of William H. Lewis, who was elected to the Massachusetts legislature from an exclusive residential section of Cambridge, Mass.

Return Jury Verdict Against Color Bar In Massachusetts

BOSTON (ANP)—Last week an all-white jury returned a verdict to Judge John E. Swift in Superior court in favor of Nevella Tayler, popular night club entertainer, in her civil suit against the Tic Toc Restaurant, Inc., on the allegation that she had suffered discrimination there.

The case started over a year ago when counsel for Miss Taylor, Atty. William S. West, petitioned the licensing board to suspend the Tic Toc's license because Miss Taylor and her escort, a member of the armed forces, was refused seats near the bandstand. They were informed that the section was reserved for whites only.

Since the licensing board's action was not forthcoming, Atty. West brought civil action against the Tic Toc. The defendants refused to make a settlement out of court, as requested by Judge Swift, and the jury trial resulted. Under the Massachusetts Civil Rights act a fine of up to $500 can result plus suspension of license.

Californians With 7th Army, France

SIXTH ARMY GROUP, France.—Members of a Negro Quartermaster Service Company, moving close behind the 7th Army advance in Eastern France, work long hours in cold and rain to aid infantry truckers in getting vital supplies to combat men up front.

"My men handle a supply depot which serves combat units of XV Corps," explained Capt. Sidney Stark (white), 2300 Edgemont Ave., Baltimore, Md., commanding officer. "They make supply breakdowns of rations, clothing, ammunition, and gasoline and load it onto trucks headed for the front. They're doing a fine job and work through all hours of the day and night to keep supplies moving."

These soldiers waded ashore on D-day in Southern France to begin feeding supplies to assault troops a few miles beyond. They rode Landing Ships Tanks, Landing Craft Infantry, and Dukw's on ship-to-shore trips to keep a constant stream of supplies going to their beachhead depot. While in location here, they underwent several German air raids.

White officers of this unit include:

1st Lt. James Montano of Tucson, Ariz; 1st. Lt. Emil Seifert, of Dixon, Calif., and 1st Lt. Stanley Crane, 3530 London St., Los Angeles, Calif.

Pvt. Troy Williams, 1120 E. 22 St., Los Angeles, and S/Sgt. Isaiah Vienn, 120 S. Watterman St., San Bernardino.

THIS IS THE RECORD

According to the record passed on to us, this year 1944, marks the 65th anniversary of The California Eagle.

To be correct The California Eagle was baptized "The Owl," but soon after it changed its name to "Eagle." In 1912 under the present management it became The California Eagle.

The founder and the first editor of this paper was John J. Neimore. He came to Los Angeles from Dallas, Texas, in 1879. He often laughingly stated that when he got off the train at the old Southern Pacific station, he had in his pocket one thin little dime. But with this dime he also had the determination to start a Negro newspaper in the Golden West.

Los Angeles had a population of less than 20,000 Negroes at that time. Most of them had come from Texas. Some of them had come from the same community that had been the home of Mr. Neimore. He knew the struggles they had gone through. He recognized their problems. They still remembered their slave days. So did Mr. Neimore.

Few of these people had any education at all. Only a very few could read or even write their own names. To help these people Mr. Neimore decided the best way was to publish a weekly newspaper, written in simple language, telling of the things the common man among those 20,000 Negroes was interested in. He wished to voice their hopes and fears, their aspirations; he wanted to raise these hopes, those aspirations, to calm those fears; to make the homes of the Negroes in Los Angeles a little brighter, their lives a little happier.

And so The Owl came into existence, a little four-page newspaper that was published once a week. Mr. Neimore was at once editor, publisher, printer, reporter, type-setter, errand boy, circulation manager, and everything else that is connected with a newspaper office.

"The Owl" was welcomed at once, and became a popular medium of education as well as distributor of news. Mr. Niemore recognized the more literary minded among his subscribers and contributors, and with them organized a newspaper company. It was this company that changed the name of the fledgling in the newspaper world, and it became "The Eagle."

"The Eagle" continued to spread its wings and to expand with the needs and desires of its readers. Merchants began to realize that it was a good medium through which they could tell the public of the goods they had to offer for sale. From a little four-page paper, it soon grew to six pages, then eight pages.

The policy of "The Eagle" from its very inception was always that of helpfulness for the Negro people, of striving to reach a higher goal, of inspiring in each one the determination to work for the betterment of the Negro as a race and of mankind as a whole. It continued to grow, and in 1912 when the present management took over it was already well known in the West. It has since become known nationally, and we may even say internationally, for it circulates on the battlefront wherever our boys are fighting for the things The California Eagle stands for.

The California Eagle maintains the policy that Mr. Neimore established for it. Its goal is the education, the betterment, the inspiration of the Negro race and of mankind as a whole. It wishes to point to all people the goal of the New World we have glimpsed in creation. It wishes to make certain the Negro shall have a large part in that new world—a part in the responsibility of bringing it into being, a share in the responsibility of keeping it in existence, as well as a share in the joys it promises to all.

Toward the attainment of that goal The California Eagle pledges all its powers, all its energies. It will work always with that goal in view with other newspapers and other agencies who have also seen the light and are marching onward on the road of progress.

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE WATCHES THEM GROW

This paper has been the pivot around which particularly other so-called Negro businesses have grown up in this community.

It is with a finger of pride that we point out the Conner-Johnson Funeral Co., the Angeles Funeral Home, the Golden State Insurance Co., Liberty Building, a string of drug stores along the main stem of Central Ave.—and not in the least the Victory Markets established under the leadership of the Rev. Clayton Russell, young Negro preacher and product of Los Angeles who hitched his kite to the theory that faith without works was nil, and sailed out on the deep sea

Philip Murray Writes FDR On National Wage Policy

President Philip Murray of the CIO last week addressed the following letter on "the imperative need for revising the national wage policy" to President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Copies were also sent to James F. Byrnes, Fred M. Vinson, and public members of the War Labor Board Frank P. Graham, Lloyd K. Garrison, George W. Taylor and William H. Davis. Text of President Murray's letter follows in full:

Dec. 6, 1944

The President,
The White House.
Dear Mr. President:

I desire to inform you of the action taken at the recent convention of the Congress of Industrial Organizations with respect to the imperative need for revising the national wage polily.

By a unanimous vote, the delegates there assembled, representing millions of war workers, determined that in equity and in the interest of our war effort there must be an immediate upward revision of the Little Steel formula in order that wages may be brought in line with prevailing wartime living costs. This action, in our judgment, is vitally necessary both to protect the deteriorated wage standards resulting from the continued rise in cost of living and to secure the mass purchasing power against the anticipated decline following reconversion.

In a most patient manner the CIO unions have accepted the procedures outlined by the National War Labor Board for the presentation of those cases in which this demand for a revision in our national wage policy has been involved. The United Steel Workers of America, as one union in point, initiated its case before the War Labor Board in January, 1944. We are still awaiting the report of the National War Labor Board to be submitted to you on this all-important issue.

In September of 1942, in a message to Congress requesting the enactment of the Price Control law, you said:

"If this rise should be permitted to continue, the increased cost of food to wage earners next May would be

Editors Will Speak Friday On Democracy

With the theme "America's Heritage of Democracy," a celebration of the 153rd anniversary of the Bill of Rights will be addressed by representatives of two of Los Angeles' progressive newspapers Friday evening, Dec. 15, at the Rosemont school on Temple one block west of Alvarado.

Principal speakers on the program will be Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor and publisher of the California Eagle, and Mr. Paul Cline, political editor of the People's World.

Mrs. Bass in a statement issued today expressed her indignation that Upton Close, discredited spokesman for special interests who had been barred from the air by the National Broadcasting Company for prejudiced reporting, had been chosen by the

Deaths Reported From Negro Tank Unit In France

WITH THE U. S. THIRD ARMY—The War Department has officially released information on the first deaths in the all-Negro 761st Tank Battalion, now pushing its way into the Reichland, with Lieutenant General George S. Patton's Third U. S. Army. The first deaths reported were a private, a first sergeant and a second lieutenant.

The first man in the first Negro combat unit to hit front lines in France was Private Clifford C. Adams, of 1615 N.W. 2nd Avenue, Miami, Florida, a member of the medical detachment, who died from wounds received on November 8, the D.day for the battalion. He was wounded as he gave aid to an injured member of a tank crew, while under heavy German shell fire, and died later the same day.

The next deaths reported were the result of strictly combat action, both men being killed in action, at Morville-les-Vic, on November 9. They were Second Lieutenant Kenneth W. Coleman, of Washington, D.C., and First

HOPA Meets Friday Nite

The Home Owners Protective Association will meet Friday night at 8 o'clock at 4073 South Central Ave. With a legal committee of which Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., NAACP president, Ben Margolis and Crispus Wright are members, functioning, the association plans to stimulate action among Negro tenants and property owners against the attempts to create a Negro ghetto in Los Angeles.

Recognizing that every instance of residential restriction should be challenged, the association invites every tenant or property owner who is threatened with eviction, because of race, to attend the meetings and report to the association.

Pearl Buck Speaks For Anti-Bias Bills

NEW YORK.—(C)—Authoress Pearl S. Buck said this week she was very much in favor of the proposed state F.F.E.C. legislation. Speaking before the 23-man State Commission Against Discrimination, Miss Buck, dressed in soft red wool, told in her rich voice, how she wanted to see legislation enacted outlawing bias in employment. "We must practice what we preach," she said. "Every time we discriminate here, the Japs pick it up and broadcast it to Asia. So our war effort is very much affected."

Jess Lee Brooks, Actor, Succumbs

Jess Lee Brooks, actor, singer and former pedagogue, died Tuesday morning between 8 and 9 o'clock as the result of a heart attack he suffered as he was driving to the Paramount studios. Born in Jefferson, Texas, the deceased was taken to Seattle, Washington at the age of six months, and he lived there and in Los Angeles until his death.

Outstanding among his many successes were his character portrayls in the "Black Emporer," Macbeth, and as Rev. Jones, a part he played for one year in Hall Johnson's "Run Little Chillun." His most recent part was an important bit in the hit picture "Wilson." Recently he had been given an award as a result of his appearance on the "Lady Esther" program.

Surviving are his wife, Vesteree Brooks, an aunt, Cora Johnson of Helena, Montana, and a sister, Jean Armstrong of Seattle Washington. Funeral arrangements had not been made at press time.

Newly Opened Business Ready For Xmas Rush

In the short space of one year, Vincent Chretien has developed the business of his Good Year Agency and Household Supplies store at Adams and Hooper to the point where a branch became necessary. That branch was opened recently in the California Eagle Building at 4075 South Central avenue.

Completely stocked with household and automotive necessities, Vincent's offers convenient and economical shopping for Christmas needs.

In next week's issue of the California Eagle, a full page announcement showing how public support has helped a community business expand, plus announcements of top-grade postwar stock to be carried will be made.

Pictures showing the interior and exterior of the most unique Negro business west of the Rockies will also appear.

Negro Tanks Lead Drive Through Tightly-Held German Territory

WITH THE THIRD U. S. ARMY IN THE METZ AREA—Spearheading a task drive of the 26th "Yankee" Division which jumped off November 8, the all-Negro 761st tank battalion now in action with the U. S. Army captured four important towns, secured two bridge crossings and successfully battered its way through the strongly defended Forest de Bride, the War Department announced last week.

The Negro tankmen were committed to action following the 26th Division's capture of Metz, which never before fell to direct assult in modern times. They lunged into the battle with such ferocity and courage that Captain Irvin McHenry of Leavenworth, Kansas, received the nickname of "The Bronze Devil," and Staff Sergeant Reuben Rivers of Route 1, Box 27, Tecumseh, Oklahoma, received the Silver Star for routing nearly 300 Germans. A dozen members of the medical detachment were cited for heroism under fire.

PRAISED BY GERMAN OFFICER

A captured German officer, after saving had a taste of the Negro tankmen and their work, said: "So far as fighting is concerned, I have never before seen such bravery except once before, and that was on the Russian front."

It came when a German rocket gun knocked out a tank of the Negro unit. The crew dis-of adventure in the business world out of which sprang a string of markets owned, conducted, and controlled by the minority group known as Negroes.

Under the dynamic leadership of this same little preacher, Clayton Russell, on the Eastside where they were greatly needed we have a Boys' Home established and a Girls' Home in the immediate making, a proposed bank in the offing. We have attracted to Los Angeles some of the best educated among the ministry, and under their leadership our churches are stepping out in the fields of civic and social walks, and are lifting these standards in our everyday life.

Columbus discovered the New World. No one can erase that from his memory. California Eagle did not discover the Negro population in California, but made it. We say made it, because it came early, planted its feet high on the hilltop ever holding aloft the banner of hope, and attracting the people to come to the new land of prosperity.

It still stands in this postwar planning, looking to the day when the Negro people will not leave the South and come to California to run away from persecution, but all America will offer an all-out democratic treatment for all Americans.

The California Eagle shall continue to fight for the rights of the people, all the people persecuted or denied their rights, until victory is won.

California Newspaper Association for the Bill of Rights Freedom of the Press luncheon.

Mrs. Bass said: "Only those who are serious in the purpose of guaranteeing to all Americans the tenets of the Bill of Rights and the Four Freedoms should join in this celebration."

Upton Close in the Monday luncheon at the Ambassador said that under President Roosevelt America had lost three of her four safeguards to freedom, and that only freedom of speech remained.

Close listed the "lost" safeguards as the limitation on the term of the resident's office, privacy of a man's income because he has to pay an income tax, and the right to work where he pleases in spite of the needs of the war effort.

He claimed that the situation was no different here than it was in Germany and Italy before Mussolini and Hitler came to power. Mr. Close seemed to discount the fact that America is fighting a war against these very dictators. He was introduced by John B. Long general manager of the California Newspaper Association.

Neither the California Eagle, the People's World nor the Los Angeles Daily News were consulted on the choice of Mr. Close, and the city's CIO Council vigorously protested his selection.

Mrs. Bass will speak on the to American Democracy. Mr. Cline will trace the history of the growth of American Democracy, buttressed now in the past by the Bill of Rights.

A dramatic reading from Tom Paine's "Crisis" and the showing of the Red Cross film "Lifeline" are included in the program which is sponsored by the East Hollywood, Echo Park and the Westlake Clubs of the Communist Political Association.

Negro Tanks

mounted, brought out the .50 calibre and .30 calibre machine-guns, crawled under their tanks for protection, and continued to blast away at the enemy.

There was an occasion when Sergeant Warren G. H. Creecy, of Corpus Christi, Texas, a tank commander, climbed up on the rear of his tank which had been immobilized by anti-tank fire, and held an enemy force at bay, with his own anti-aircraft gun, while protecting the advance of an infantry group.

FIRST ACTION

The unit moved out from Athianville for its first action at six o'clock on the morning of November 8, as part of a task force, which was operating in two columns. Athionville is approximately 14 miles east of Nancy.

This task force consisted of tank destroyers, infantry, engineers and medics, with units of the Negro tank battalion. It was divided into two columns, with their ultimate objective being a town some twenty miles away, beyond the edge of the dense Forest de Dride.

The two columns moved out for the attack, and in short order captured Vic-sur-Seille and Moyenvic, two strongly defended towns which skirted a German rail supply route leading from the Saar Basin. They secured crossings over two canals. These towns were some fifteeen to eighteen miles east of Nancy, and constituted the German frontline defenses at that point. Here the forces began to meet with stiffer opposition.

After securing these two towns, the next task was to move on to Morville, a town some four miles beyond Vic-sur-Seille. Splitting up here, one column moved toward Morville for the attack.

It was here that they ran into their most stubborn opposition of the drive, for here the Germans had constructed a two-mile-long anti-tank ditch in anticipation of the offensive. They had re-enforced this tank barrier with staggered concrete pill-boxes, completely covered with earth, and with rocket launchers and bazooka teams.

Facing Morville, which was at the entrance to the Firest de Bride, the columns met these obstructions, and Company B was halted by pill-box opposition at the edge of the woods. Company C, commanded by Captain McHenry, on the left flank, moved up the anti-tank ditch, where it encountered fierce opposition. With Company B halted the German guns in the center were turned on Company C, and immobilized the unit for a while. Company C finally retired the position.

HAMPTON GRAD COMMANDS

During this action, the crack assult platoon, with 105-mm howitzers commanded by First Lieutenant Charles Gates of Topeka, Kansas, a Hampton Institute alumnus, moved up to support these two companies. It shelled the German positions in the woods.

The 81-mm mortar platoon, commanded by Second Lieutenant James C. Lightfoot of Washington, D. C., also moved into the action and pounded the Germans. Elements of the Fourth Armored Division, equipped with bull-dozer tanks and flame-throwers, also moved in, and the positions were finally taken.

After passing Morville, which they had practically destroyed, the columns moved on to Hamport, four miles farther east, where units of Companies B and C reached the town.

Meanwhile, Company A, commanded by Captain Dave Williams, of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania entered the action and helped to obliterate and capture Chateau Salins, the first major town east of Nancy.

Folowing his, Company A also moved to Hamport. It was during these engagements that Staff Sergeant Rivers began to earn his spurs, for in almost every instance his tank was the first to enter a town and he was always in the thickest of the fight.

TAKES TOWN SINGLE-HANDED

A platoon of Company D, commanded by First Lieutenant Richard W. English, of New Orleans, Louisiana, a former teacher at the Hoffman School there, moved up and took the town of Saliva single-handed, with no infantry units along. Sergeant Creecy, who displayed heroism on several different occasions under fire, was a member of this platoon.

After the juncture at Hamport, Companies B and C pulled back for a brief rest, maintenance and vehicle check. B Company came back up to relieve Company A after its check-up. Company D was doing screening and reconnaissance. Company C returned to action southeast of Saliva, operating as a team with the 101st Infantry Regiment which cleared all Germans from the woods up to the edge of the forest just west of Harracourt.

Rifunctp

Following this action, it retired again. Company B then teamed with the 104th Infantry Regiment and pushed forward to Lidrequin, a town approximately twelve miles beyond the initial point of action. All these events transpired during a period of 72 hours.

★ LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

THE SECOND ALERT

Shortly after the elections last month, this column passed on information it had received, that the Merchants and Manufacturers Association through one of its many arms, would attempt to offset the defeat of the notorious Proposition No. 12 by introducing a bill aimed in the same direction against organized labor in the Legislature. As this is being written, petitions are being circulated throughout the state to garner the 116,000 signatures necessary to bring the matter before the next session of the legislature. Past experience has shown that it will not be too difficult to get the required number of signatures, so preparations must be made to register a heavy volume of disapproving letters with our representatives in the Legislature and with Governor Warren. The anti-labor forces in this state have impressively large sums of money at their disposal; it will take the full strength of the people to thwart this, their second attempt, to smash organized labor and bring back open shop and sweat shop conditions.

John M. Lee

THE REAL PURPOSE

It isn't too easy to defend the one hundred odd waiters who were made victims of the highly-organized food racket operated by the Stewards on the UP, but when you take a peek behind the scenes, you wonder which side the conspiracy is really on. Having exposed the waiters to inadequate pay rates for years, and having left them dependent for the major part of their earnings, upon the tips which fell off badly when war conditions made the services look as sad as McKinley's funeral, the UP should have been duly warned that the men would fall easy prey to the "gyp" plan operated by the Stewards for a long time.

That the FBI was called in, and that the UP now takes the position that the men are Federal prisoners, and are consequently discharged from its employ, is reason enough to suspect that there is more here than meets the eye. UP has had a notoriously bad record in labor relations so far as dining car employees are concerned. Indications are that the Labor Relations Board would have gotten around to doing something about it in the not too distant future.

In the past, the UP has handled matters of shortages and short-changing within its own organization, under its contract with the union, this time, it was handled differently, because, from the UP's point of view, the stakes are higher. The explanation given is an exaggerated report of losses amounting to over $2,000,000. Here is a spot for a little close harmony for all labor groups. Something more than the honesty of a group of underpaid men will have to stand trial.

IF THIS BE SENTIMENT

The more tender passions might stand out like so much pi-ed type to the readers of a hard-headed, practical labor column, but a conversation of over an hour's duration which I had over the phone with a very special friend Sunday night, left me with a warm glow which I can't keep out. The idea, reduced to words, is that America is a great nation; its people, for the most part, are anxious to build a strong unity, and Christmas is upon us.

To what better purpose then, can we employ the remaining days of this year than in emulation of that great man of the people in whose honor and memory the day of Christmas is observed? "The blood that was shed that we might live—." Let us give it back in the name of the Christ-child, whose birth symbolized the hope of all mankind, and whose death taught us the nobility of sacrifice. Call the Blood Bank today and add your blood to the stream of life that we must keep flowing overseas if we want Christmas to keep its meaning.

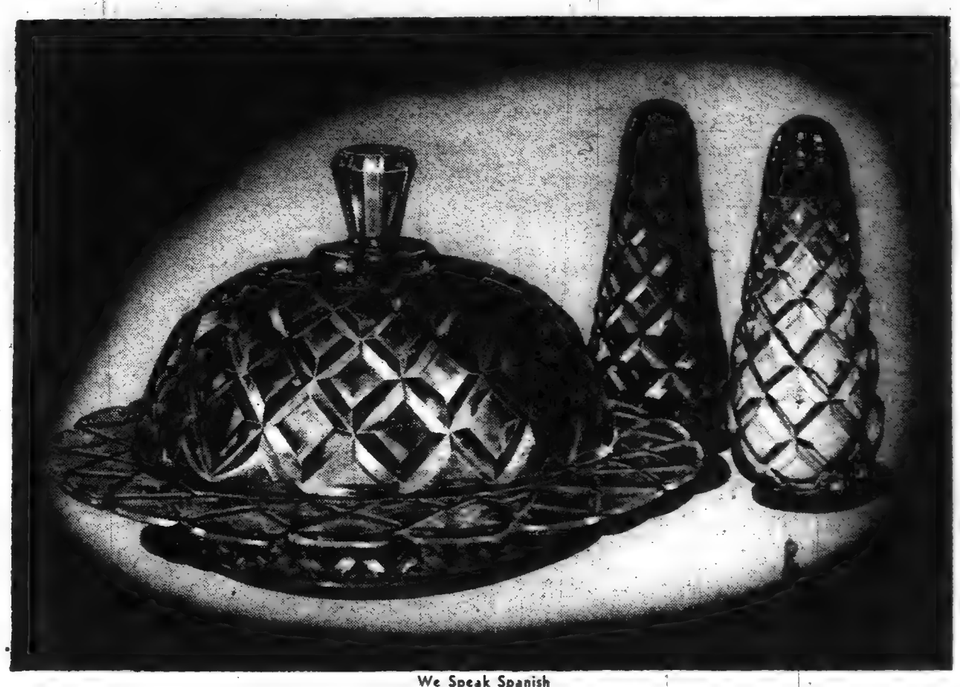
ILD Joins In Justice Fight

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The International Labor Defense, labor unions, and civic organizations have united to form a Committee for Equal Justice in defense of Mrs. Recy Taylor, the 24-year-old wife of a Negro soldier, who was set upon while on her way home from church and raped, September 3, and concerning which the grand jury refused to take any action.



"The demand for punishment of Mrs. Taylor's attackers is the demand of all American," said Vito Marcontonio, president of the I.L.D., "for the protection of Americanism and American womanhood."

The I.L.D. has also offered $500 reward for the arrest, conviction, and punishment of the members of the mob who lynched James T. Scales, 17-year-old Negro boy at Pikeville, Tenn., on Thanksgiving Day. This sum will be added to an additional $500 already offered by the state of Tennessee.

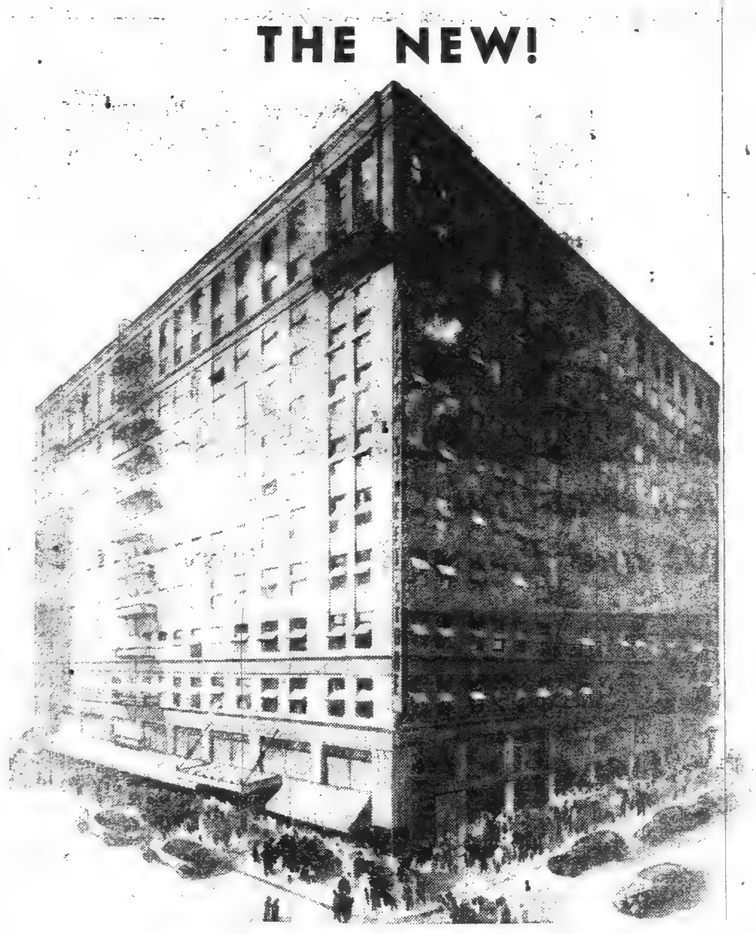
5th St. Store Known As The "Friendly Store"

The Fifth Street Store has not seen as many years service in Los Angeles as The California Eagle. Measured in years it is really only about half as old as this paper. But its years have been years of real helpfulness to the citizens of this community.



A little more than thirty years ago it was the quaint, flat-topped building you see in the circle. It has grown prodigiously in that short time until today it is one of the sky-scrapers of Los Angeles.

Is there any reason for this growth?

Of course there is. Department stores, like every business, grow as they serve the people. They grow, like human beings grow in mental and spiritual stature, as they exercise the spiritual qualities of kindliness and neighborliness and friendliness; they grow as they democratically mix with everyone to make the community a neighborhood of friendly folk.

These qualities have been exercised by the Fifth Street Store throughout its existence. It began as a friendly little store on Fifth and Broadway more than thirty years ago. It has expanded into one of the largest department stores in the city, still friendly, still neighborly. The employees in the Fifth Street Store are as eager to help the humblest customer with only a meager amount to spend as they are to serve the stars from Hollywood, to whom a hundred-dollar bill means little. They will spend as much time helping a boy select a collar for his mongrel dog as they will help a lady buy a fur coat.

That is the Fifth Street Store, at Fifth and Broadway. That is what it was like some thirty years ago when in its first years of service for the people of Los Angeles. That is what it is today. That is what it will be in the years to come. The California Eagle congratulates it and wishes it "Good Luck."

FIFTH STREET STORE'S PROGRESS—The bottom photo shows the Fifth Street Store in its infancy and above is the large, modern up-to-date building that now houses one of Los Angeles' most dependable department stores, the present Fifth Street Store at 5th and Broadway.

Honors Wife On Birthday

Mr. Thomas Clarke, Jr., entertained his lovely wife with a birthday party recently in their home on West 35th Place.

A delicious turkey dinner was served to Messrs. and Mesdames Al Garden, Ernest Clarke, Herbert Pettibone, Joseph C. Wesley of Santa Monica, King John Moore, Lincoln Champion, Mrs. Beatrice Dunne and Miss Mozella Herring.

Many lovely and useful gifts were received by the honoree who was attired in grey and fuchsia.

Faith full-fledged, soaring to the Horeb height, brings blessings infinite, and the spirit of this orison is the fruit of righteousness,—"on earth peace, good will toward men. —Mary Baker Eddy

BAY REGION NEWS

By D. G. Gibson

BERKELEY, Calif. Mrs. I. L. Williams hostessed an elaborate dinner party Thanksgiving Day at her home, 1609 Julia St., during which she was assisted by Mrs. M. L. Stockey.

Assembled for the fete were Pvt. Milton Austin, Mrs. Lillian Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith, Rev. J. D. Wilson, Miss V. Norman, Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Dixon, Mrs. H. W. Lark, Mrs. R. N. Sutton, Mrs. E. M. Orange, Mr. T. Dixon and little Judith Trahearne Dixon.

The very lovely home of Mrs. Isabel Farnell, 1609 Blake St., was the beautiful setting for a bridge brunch when she was hostess Nov. 27.

The fete, which brought together 25 smartly attired matrons of this metropolitan area, honored a trio of charming out of towners including Mrs. Nan Mouton of Los Angeles, house guest of Mr. Natalie Armalin of San Francisco; Mrs. Ruth Cook of Erie, Pa., house guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Richmond and Mrs. Bebe Worth, Berkeleyans, and Mrs. Hazel Gray, Ohioan, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Christian, also Berkeleyans. All three honorees were presented lovely guest favors by the hostess.

Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mesdames Birdye Andrews, San Franciscan, Mable Foster, Florence White, Vivian Hardy, Edith Talbot, Alicia Hinds.

Mrs. Anita Bonzonier, Oaklander, recently home from a visit in New Orleans, was also presented a guest favor.

Winsome Camille Jabbie made her bow to society Sunday evening Nov. 28, at the Oakland Masonic Temple where she was greeted by a large number of young socialites at a lovely dance party.

Miss Jabbie was lovely in a white and gold satin and wore a corsage of orchid. She received with her mother, who wore black velvet trimmed in red.

The honoree, who received many lovely gifts, is the daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Martin Logan, Berkeleyans.

Mrs. Betty Churchill Pierce, a mid-summer bride, was charming in the role of hostess, her first time since her marriage, at the new home of the family in Woolsey st., at a buffet Thanksgiving dinner.

Brought together for the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hezikiah, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Collins, Mrs. Irene Nunely, Mrs. Alberta Davis, Miss Henrietta Moore, Misses Frankie Madison, Welon Goodlo, Messrs. Simm Brookie, Hollis Carr.

Mrs. Oscar McFarlin, better half of the McFarlin News Stand and Confectionery, entrained for and extensive vacation Dec. 7. She will visit relatives and friends in Florida, Texas, and New York.

Irene Sawyer, pianist, and Lucella Rose Thomas, soprano, brilliant pupils of Mme. Mae C. Woods, were presented in an evening of song at the chapel of the Chimes, Oakland, Dec. 1 before a large, appreciative audience.

Newton Division In Victory Fete

The Newton Division of the War Finance Committe is having a victory celebration Saturday, Dec. 18, in the Elks' Auditorium at 40th and Central Ave., at 8 p. m. The latest war films will be shown. A war hero recently returned from the Pacific arena will be on hand to give you a message from our boys at the front. A special service band and stage and scren stars will be present. This will be the time to purchase that war bond for him or her in service, make that Christmas gift a surprise. Don't forget thta baby, the wife or husband, even grandma and grandpaw would appreciate a bond.

Your money, every penny you can spare, is needed — and needed now—if we are to continue the all-out effort required to insure a speedy victory. They are doing their part—let us back them up with more war bonds. Come out and sign up for your limit Saturday.

Dear Sir:

We join the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in urging a complete and thorough investigation into the circumstances surrounding the so-called mutiny of Negro seamen at Port Chicago which resulted in the conviction of 50 Negro seamen.

We understand that the policy of the 12th Naval District, with only a few exceptions, restricts the use of Negro seamen regardless of their training and qualifications to shore duty in the capacity of laborers and in segregated outfits, and that the 50 accused seamen were singled out from over 400 others whose actions with regard to loading ammunition after the Port Chicago explosion were identical in almost every respect to those of the 50 found guilty and can not justly be deemed mutiny.

We feel this evidence is sufficient to demand a re-trial of the 50 Negro seamen who have been convicted and a thorough investigation of the whole matter.

We feel certain that you, too, want our men in the armed forces to receive justice.

Respectfully yours,

SIGN THIS AND MAIL IT TO FDR—Join our fight to secure justice for our men in the armed forces by signing this letter and sending it to President Roosevelt, AT ONCE!

Shriners Terminate Best Year Of Its 50 Years of Existence

Egyptian Temple No. 5, A. E. O. N. M. Shrine, closed the most successful year of its fifty years of existence, Saturday, December 2, saw 115 Nobles assembled in the Mosque to give Potentate Noble William Tatum support in closing the year's work. As chairman of publicity of Egyptian Temple, I am publicly thanking every Noble, for his loyal support, and also our many friends who helped make our various charitable entertainments successful, and the local Afro-American press in lending their loyal support.

The highlights of the year were the awarding of our first scholarship to Willard Powers; the financial support tended the Home for Girls which is sponsored by Reverend Clayton D. Russell and associates; and the commendable work of our Department of Public Relations. The beautiful banner awarded to Egyptian Temple No. 5 by the Imperial Council for the largest membership drive in 1943-44, stands majestically in the northeast corner of our Temple.

Egyptian Temple No. 5 is proud of its Imperial Council member, Noble Jos. L. Oliver, 330 Imperial Asst. Rabin.

Noble L. E. Washington, Egyption's oldest member made a brief address. Noble Clarence D. Armour and Noble James Burton were tended Honorary Past Potentates certificates, by the Imperial Council.

Past Potentate Noble Walter J. Miller 32° our Oasis Deputy, conducted our annual election. The officers of Egyptian Temple No. 5 for the year 1945 are Noble William Tatum 32°, Potentate; Noble Arthur Quarles 32°, Chief Rabin; Noble Milton S. Brown 33°, Asst, Rabin; Noble Lillard G. Dandridgh 33°, Recorder; Noble Robert Van Meter 32°, High Priest and Prophet; Noble Eugene W. Fisher 32°, Treasurer; Noble Fred H. Wilson 32°, Oriental Guide; Noble James Burton 33°, Captain of Shrine Patrol; Noble J. B. Frierson 33°, State Deputy.

The Daughters of Isis are boasting of a membership nearing one hundred and are doing a fine job in supporting Egyption Temple, their big brother.

Egyptian Temple No. 5, A. E. A. O. N. M. Shrine, the largest Afro-American Shrine Temple in America, closes another year, wishing for the boys at the fighting front, and humanity throughout the world—"Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward All Mankind."

MARKET ST. USO NEWS

STOCKTON, Calif.—The sunken garden of the Market Street USO club was formally dedicated Sunday with a program.

Principle speakers were Walter Hogan, city manager and H. H. Harper, of the Stockton Savings and Loan Company which donated use of one of its lots for the project.

A. Odell Thurman, club director, said the garden will be used during the spring and summer for out-door parties and activities.

Pfc. H. M. Treadwell of the Port of Stockton and Pfc Robert E. Mitchell of Stockton Field accepted a plaque for the garden on behalf of the military and Mrs. Mary Brown represented the community.

Others appearing on the program were: Rev. C. H. Holmes, Sgt. Roy Brinson, Pvt. Thomas Kee, Miss Rita Hopkins of the main Street USO club and Victor Anderson, superintendent of city parks.

Election Is Held By Egyptian Court

Egyptian Court, No. 5, Dts. of Isis, closed a very successful year last Saturday night, with the annual election.

Mrs. Alberta Parker, who succeds herself for the third time, has brought Egyptian Court up both numerically and financially, having initiated this year about 50 new members.

In her address to the members, she said, in part, "We have had a wonderful year, have done a good work, but we must go on to a better and higher goal in 1945."

For the first time in the history of Egyptian Court, the members saw fit to send the Illustrious Commandress, Mrs. Parker to the Imperial High Court which convened in Indianapolis, Ind., last August. Not only was she benefitted by the trip, but from the report Mrs. Parker brought us, caused each one present to resolve that before another year shall end, Egyptian Court will have every wife, mother, sister, and daughter of Egyptian Temple enrolled.

The Illustrious Commandress will announce her appointees and committes at the next meeting, Jan. 6, 1945.

The eelction was conducted by one of the oldest members, Mrs Willie Willingham.

Greetings and best wishes for many more happy successful years. Greetings from Dr. Seymour Kaufman, popular physician and surgeon of Los Angeles, wishing Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass success, health, happiness, luck and prosperity on the 65th anniversary of the California Eagle.

Benefit for Bronzeville

The first effort in behalf of Bronzeville children will be sponsored by the Finale Club, 230½ East First street, on Tuesday night, December 19, at the club's headquarters. This mammoth benefit will be a general party at which refreshments will be served; various games will be available for those who desire.

Proceeds from the affair will be given to the Bronzeville playground to help purchase equipment, etc. The Finale Club was recently organized and this venture is its first effort to promote the social welfare of the community.

The benefit party will last from 8 till 12 p. m. and general admission will be fifty cents. Prizes including War Bonds will be given to the lucky ticket holders.

Officials of the club are appealing to the business men and leading citizens to support the venture by the purchase of blocks of tickets. Mr. Taylor H. Cooper, president of the club, stated that they are leaving no stones unturned to make this one of the greatest efforts ever attempted in behalf of Bronzeville children, who have not been given adequate opportunity for recreation.

SGT. EARL BROADY

Sergeant Earl Broady, Detective in the Los Angeles Police Department, was admitted as an Attorney and Counselor at Law, to practice in all Courts of the State of California, by the State Supreme Court in session, Dec. 11th, in Los Angeles. He was one of a group of seventy-three men and women, admitted at this time, who successfully passed the October Bar examination.

Mr. Broady received his education in the local schools. Upon graduation from Jeferson High School, he entered the University of Southern California receiving his pre-legal training there. After becoming a member of the Police Department he began the study of law at the L. A. College of Law. Because of his duties as an officer he was compelled to leave school, but continued his study, receiving private instruction.

Broady and his partner, McGruder, have been assigned to the Homicide Detail at the Newton Station for many years. "Earl and Mac," as they are familiarly called, have become widely known as quiet, courteous and efficient officers. Their success in solving cases and apprehending criminals of the killer type has brought them national recognition.

When asked by an Eagle reporter about his plans for the future, Broady simply stated, "I'm still on the prosecution side of the fence."

Restrictions

tiffs entered a motion for dismissal of the complaint, and Judge Beardsley ruled that he would pass on the motion at the afternoon session. During the recess, plaintiff's counsel had the clerk of the court enter a dismissal against all of the complaints on the record.

When court convened following the recess, defendants counsel, which is headed by Ben Margolis, and includes Willis O. Tyler, R. Alston Jones and Thomas Griffith, Jr., NAACP president, who entered the case as amicus curiae, or friend of the court, immediately entered arguments against the dismissal motion, pointing out that certain affirmative relief had been requested and prayed for in the defendant's answers. They pointed out further that the entering of the dismissal on the record was not a proper act under the circumstances.

It became apparent at this point that plaintiff's attorneys were anxious to have the matter dismissed at any cost. Attorney Davis, who carried the weight of the argument for the plaintiffs, cited numerous cases of declaratory relief in an attempt to disprove the presence of affirmative relief in the defendant's answers. He became embittered when it was pointed out to him by the court that there is an essential difference in the two points.

Recognizing that with the proving of the presence of a prayer for affirmative relief in the defendants' answers, their motion for dismissal would have to be denied, both Davis and Bartlett tried desperately to confuse the issue.

When Judge Bartlett pointed out that he was making every effort to base the case on what was right, Davis replied, "You have no right to say what ought to be, you only have the right to determine what the law is."

In reply to Davis' repeated reference to the affirming decisions of the Supreme Court, the last of which was handed down almost 25 years ago, Judge Beardsley said, "Would you object, Mr. Davis, to my calling your attention to the fact that the Supreme Court held one way for 100 years, and then reversed itself?" Davis made no reply.

Stating that in the defendant's answers he found "Expressions of reliance upon the Constitution of the United States, the Constitution of the state of California and the 14th amendment to the Constitution," Judge Bartlett denied the motion to dismiss.

Attorney Bartlett immediately asked for a continuance of six days so that he might apply for and file a writ of prohibition which would enjoin Judge Bartlett from continuing to hear the case. The judge took the matter under advisement, and stated that he would pass upon it at the opening session on Tuesday morning.

Visibly angered, Bartlett continued to argue with the judge after adjournment. Tuesday morning, he served Judge Bartlett with a restraining order which prohibits him from hearing any further testimony in the case until the 18th when the application for a prohibitive order will be decided.

The section with which this trial is concerned runs from Normandie to LaSalle, and from Washington to Adams Boulevards. Among the defendants are Bessie Johnson, Alma Randell, Anton and Fransys Perry, C. J. and Alma Christalmat, Mitchel B. and Mabel C. Miles, Walter B. Miles, Thomas Griffin, George Daniel Reed, Mildred Reed.

Former Mayor Crier appeared as attorney for several Caucasian and Oriental defendants. All of the Caucasian defendants were dismissed as parties to the action.

G.I. Deaths

Sergeant Samuel J. Turley, of 815 Trinity Avenue, the Bronx, New York City.

Lieutenant Coleman and First Sergeant Turley died the death of heroes, for they were together in the act of removing the .50 calibre machinegun from their disabled tank, in order to pour fire on German AT gun emplacements, and rocket-launcher spots as their company, commanded by Captain Irvin McHenry of Leavenworth, kansas, was immobilized facing an anti-tank ditch in the bitter fight for Morville-les-Vic, the toughest spot in the battalion's first battle action.

They were mowed down as they pulled the deadly weapon from its moorings on the tank, and started to get under the tank to begin firing. A hail of fire from German guns in the center of the fighting area, and from a point to their right, tore into the pair and both were killed.

Both were veteran members of Company C, under Captain McHenry, and First Sergeant Turley had won the reputation of being "the best first sergeant in the battalion." He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Sophie Montgomery, 5145 Pririe Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

THEIR WEDDING WAS A SOCIAL HIGHLIGHT—The beautiful and socially prominent Puffy Houston became the season's most charming bride when she took her vows recently with the popular Lt. Lamar Hill. Younger setters turned out to shower blessings on the couple, both members of pioneer Los Angeles families. The newlyweds plan to leave for New York on the 17th where a honeymoon cottage awaits them.

AFTER THE CEREMONY HAD BEEN PERFORMED—Lt. Lamar Hill and his bride, beautiful Puffy Houston, were surrounded by members of their families and their wedding attendants. The marriage of the popular young couple united two of Los Angeles' pioneer families, in a ceremony that was both brilliant and moving. The bride made a beautiful picture in traditional white satin, carrying a cascade of white roses and gardenias. The bridesmaids were attired in Rich winter colors. The couple will leave for New York at the end of the week.

GIVES BRIDGE DINNER—Mrs. Thomas Spaulding Heaton was proclaimed a most gracious hostess at a formal bridge dinner given last Saturday at Casa Rafael. Sixty ladies were in attendance.

SANTA BARBARA

● By Sally Smith ●

Seaman and Mrs. Curtis Smith, who were married Dec. 5 at the St. Paul A.M.E. parsonage, will spend their honeymoon in Pasadena and San Francisco. Mrs. Smith is the former Miss Alice Louise Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Osborne of Bainbridge, Ga. Seaman Smith is the son of Mrs. Bertha H. Smith, 608 Santa Barbara street, and the grandson of Mrs. Nathaniel Hill. Mr. and Mrs. Smith formerly attended State Teacher's College here.

Anticipating unusually heavy traffic during the next two weeks, Highway Patrol Chief E. Raymond Cato urged Los Angeles motorists to be extremely careful and observe all safety precautions during the holiday period to avoid accidents.

Syphilis leads all communicable diseases in Los Angeles in number of cases reported to the health department.

SAN BERNARDINO NEWS

Of stellar significance this week was the double wedding performed by the Rev. O. V. Hall, pastor of New Hope Baptist Church. Loretha Hollings was joined in holy matrimony to Sgt. Rodney Gaston and Texanna Douglass with Cpl. Louis Haraway. Both young ladies were very popular among the young set and the event was of great importance.

We understand that Mrs. Mary Foster of Spruce Street left the city last wek to join the ranks of matrimony with a fine lieutenant.

The Sally Martin Singers have been bringing the gospel in song to the citizens of San Bernardino this week. They have been engaged with the Evangelist Bob Pieree by Rev. Grove for a series of meetings. Each night after the services they have broadcast over KPRO. Their voices and personalities have done much in making the meetings a great success.

Mrs. Alberta Lee, Mrs. Ethel Stevenson and Mrs. Minnie Ruiz plan to spend several days in Los Angeles next week.

Mrs. Helen Richards of Seventh Street left for Texas this week. She plans to spend the holidays at home.

Mrs. Alma Sneed of Ninth Street left last wek for Texas to be with her mother-in-law who is quite ill.

Mrs. Helen Hall, wife of Rev. O. V. Hall, has been quite ill.

Rev. Criglar, pastor of St. Paul A.M.E. Church, is still ill and unable to occupy his pulpit. Sunday's services were conducted by Evangelist King and Brother Ben Ingham.

Mrs. Hilsman Beavers of Seventh Street is confined to Loma Linda Sanitarium.

The Eastern Stars held their election of officers last week. Those so honored were: Mrs. Ethel tevenson, Conductress; Mrs. Johnetta Jackson, Assoc. Conductress; Mrs. Dora Dean Gaines, secretary, and Mr. Pinckley, treas.

Mrs. Jess Warders of Eighth Street entertained the Sally Martin Singers at an elaborate luncheon Thursday afternoon. Aside from the singers her guests were Mrs. Emmett Pierce and Mrs. Lonnie Raibon. After dining the singers sang several numbers.

The young people of Shiloh S.D.A. Church entertained themselves and friends at a skating party last week.

SEEKS TO COMMUTE FOLKES' SENTENCE

The local NAACP has asked the Governor of Oregon to commute the sentence of Robert Folkes to life imprisonment instead of death.

The NAACP, in cooperation with the Folkes Defense Committee and other groups and individuals, has made every effort to free this man whom they believe to be innocent of the crime of which he is accused. It is hoped by having his sentence commuted that Folkes' innocence may eventually be established.

"Between Friends"

"Between Friends," the rotogravure pictorial section of the California Eagle, has proven to be an innovation to the readers of the nation's oldest weekly.

Conceived, edited and managed by Leon Edwards Lacefield, the pictorial section is an intimate review of the highlights of the week and brings a graphic account of outstanding personalities. It is a welcome addition to the Eagle family.

Sussie A. Jackson, Pastor, and her congregation conducted the 3 p. m. services, which were followed by a Holy Blessed Candle seance at 8 p. m., conducted by Rev. Charles Burke and Rev. M. J. Murphy. Rev. B. Watkin was the speaker.

Rev. Burke and his Finance Board are thanking everyone for their splendid cooperation.

Pilgrim Baptist Church Invites Public to Worship

The Pilgrim Baptist Church, the church, where the old time spirit is felt, invites you to worship with us. You feel the spirit when you enter the door. Even in the weekly services from Bible Class Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m. taught by Rev. Bell. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Mission meeting Thursday at 11 a.m. Senior choir rehearsal 6:30 p.m., gospel choir 7 p.m. and Friday evening 7:30 p.m. Teachers meeting.

Last Sunday the Spirit was high. Our beloved pastor delivered the morning message. He told us about love in the home, and about "LOVE" (Jesus Christ) who when he comes into your heart makes you love everybody. He really spoke out of his soul on, "Brotherly Love."

Sunday evening the Gospel choir rendered their regular monthly program, which was enjoyed by all. After which Deacon Ed. Moore was ordained. Prayer by Rev. Geo. H. Washington, Jr. The Rev. H. L. Wade then said a few things to the Deason. He then preached a short fiery sermon from the 13th chapter of Matthew, 33rd verse, subject "Leaven of the Gospel."

The baby of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Moore was blessed, by the pastor. Brother and sister Bailey were the Godfather and Godmother.

Rev. E. C. Hicks of Washington D. C. made remarks.

Next Sunday morning our pastor will fill the pulpit. Won't you be one to hear him, come early to get a seat. Service starts at 10:30 sharp. At 6:30 p.m. he Junior choir will present their Christmas musimal. Don't fail to hear these young people sing from the depths of their souls, directed by Mrs. E. Alley.

The 4th Sunday evening the Senior choir will present the Christmas Masque "The Holy Night." Don't miss this as it is something different.

Rev. B. W. Wade, pastor, and Damon A. Wall, reporter.

Cathedral Choir Of Independent In 'The Messiah'

The Cathedral Choir of the Independent Church of Christ, 1025 Eighteenth Street, Los Angeles, announces the annual presentation of Handel's immortal Christmas oratorio, "The Messiah," in the church auditorium, Sunday afternoon, December 17, 1944, at 4:30 p.m.

The ortatorio will be under the direction of Albert John McNeil, the Minister of Music of the church, with Marguerite Chapman, Josephine Cooper, and Gladyce Dent, sopranos; Walthea Sims—Jones and Eddives Flenoury, contraltos; Willie Starks, tenor; and William Valentine, bass. Fannie Evelyn Benjamin will be at the console of the organ. Gloria Roberts, pianist at the First A.M.E. Church, will be at the Steinway. A string quartet from the University of Southern California will form the instrumental background.

We are proud to be the only choir of our group to present this work to this community for the second time. The Choir will make its first appearance in its new vestments.

Victory Baptist Will Celebrate Pastor's Birthday

Elaborate plans have been made for the celebration of Rev. Arthur A. Peters' birthday party which is being sponsored by the Pastor's Aid, at the church, Sunday, December 17, 1944, from 4:00 to 6:00 p.m. Many guest artists will take part on the program, including the Silvertone Quartette, the Southern Gospel Singers, Mr. Henry P. Markham and Mr. Eugene Smallwood. The public is cordially invited.

HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS

To The California Eagle On Its 65th Anniversary

MRS. S. A. WILLIAMS

The lovely wife of Rev. S. A. Williams has been a source of help and inspiration to him in his great work at St. Paul Baptist Church. Mrs. Williams has been active in all work carried on by the church.

REV. SAMUEL AARON WILLIAMS

The beloved pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church took the reins fifteen years ago when the membership was seven or eight hundred. Under his leadership the progress of the church has been phenomenal. The membership has increased to 3500 and there are now nine different departments. Rev. Williams has not only limited his scope to the building of St. Paul Baptist Church. He has taken part in every worthwhile civic endeavor that has come to his attention. In 1943 when the California Eagle was in financial need, without being solicited for help, Rev. Williams nevertheless called Charlotta A. Bass, Editor-Publisher, to the church and donated $100 to keep this newspaper a part of Los Angeles. From that time on a constant drive for new Eagle subscribers has been carried on in the Church.

MRS. H. B. CHARLES

The charming lady above is the wife of Rev. H. B. Charles, an Associate Pastor of St. Paul. She and her energetic husband are also social workers for the church.

REV. JOHN L. BRANHAM

An Associate Pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church, Rev. John L. Branham, the son of the late Rev. Branham of Chicago, is considered by thousands as being one of the most brilliant young ministers in California.

ST. PAUL BAPTIST CHURCH

Above is a picture of St. Paul Baptist Church, a beautiful edifice in which Rev. S. A. Williams and his Associate Pastors preach the word of God. 1300 new members were added to St. Paul during the year of 1944 which attests to the sincerity of its staff. Anyone who wishes to attend St. Paul is cordially welcomed by the pastor and his congregation.

REV. H. B. CHARLES

Above is a likeness of Rev. H. B. Charles, an Associate Pastor and Social Worker for St. Paul Baptist Church. This young minister is well thought of by the entire congregation of this great church and is also one of the finest young pastors in the state.

IN NEW HOME—Above is pictured the beautiful new Mt. Sinai Baptist Church and Parsonage, the neighborhood church, located at 27th and Western. The pastor, Rev. S. D. Richardson says: "The Lord has done great things for us, whereof we are glad. Our new church and its beautiful parsonage is a place where we gather to meet the Lord. The building on this corner is very attractive and we invite saints and sinners to come worship with us. Our service at present is 6:30 p. m., B. Y. P. U., regular service 7:30 p. m. At a later date we shall give full details as to our services. 500 members are wanted. Old and young, boys and girls, come join with us and let us have a great church in our community. Look for our missionary workers, they will visit your homes. Invite them in. Join our Christian Community League. Rev. S. D. Richardson, Pastor. CE. 20249.

THE PULPIT VOICE

EULOGY

Mrs. Sylvia Hollowell died last Thursday, Dec. 7, at 3 p.m. Her death resulted after many months of illness. Perhaps as you read these lines some are wondering about its significance. After all, they conclude, people are dying every day, and except for vital statistics, only notable persons who figure prominently in community or world affairs are made subjects for editorial comments or are given space in the news sections of the nation's newspapers. To wit: at the unfortunate death of Wendell Willkie, the press devoted many columns of glowing tribute to his life and contributions to society. The press, similarly, commented profusely the death of Frank Knox, Secretary of the Navy. But the person about whom I write played no such part in the nation's or world's affairs. In all her life of 86 years she is no way was associated with politics; her views never resulted in legislation or determined community policy. If given the opportunity, her soul might have influenced society in the interests of justice, but she was reared in a state that disenfranchised her people because of race. In this way her life was filled with potentialities which were never realized. This in a large sense adds to the significance of her passing, as it represents the loss of the kind of spirit with which society can only find harmony and peace.

BOWEN'S FIRST FUNERAL

From a personal standpoint, this column is written about Mrs. Hollowell because her passing is the first in the short history of Bowen Church, and is the first funeral service to be held in Bowen. To me, therefore, it is most significant and meaningful. In contrast to this, a christening which is to be performed at Bowen this Sunday, affords in view the long range service of the church, from the cradle to the grave. Within the portals of the church we come as infants to receive God's Blessings for a meaningful life as also we are brought at death for the expression of our hope in immortality.

AN OUTSTANDING PERSONALITY

In the reference of commercial newspapers which capitalize on excitement and notoriety, Mrs. Hollowell's passing would receive limited mention. They would not be interested because no excitement surrounded her death, and according to standards of success there was no glamour or popularity. The greater public of our city did not mourn at her passing, in fact, they didn't know that she ever lived. But despite her failure to measure up to what the public would acclaim a great personality, in the real values of life and daily application Mrs. Hollowell was one of the greatest personalities of our day and age. The cheap norms of popularity and success would not include her, but in the norms of real and lasting achievement in living she more than excells. Her's was a gentle spirit, attended with tenderness and softness. In contrast to the bitterness with envy for everything youthful which is all too common among some older folk, this simple soul admired youth and was quick to understand their discouragements. Regardless of how dark or dreary the future might look, she was always able to smite it with a sure beam of optimism. She was kind, norms of popularity and success ing. As ordinary as these attributes are, still are they the things which underneath and within our inner selves we hunger and thirst, despite the sham and false fronts which we assume. Such people whose spirits radiate purity have the power to disarm the most belligerent and pretending. They make one to feel secure by the sense of their inner good and not the outer pretense. One can only surmise the improvement of humanity which these sensitive souls could effect, or what they are effecting unnoticed and unheralded by the vain desires of men. These are the kind of folk to which Jesus referred when talking to his disciples and of which he said, "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." Then it shall be that when the last shot is fired and the last bomb is dropped over the cities of men, and warriors return to rebuild their homes and plant their fields, that these kind of folk, gentle and kind, shall bind up their wounds and rebuild their hearts to beauty and goodness.

The Humility of Christ's Birth Is the Symbol of Christmas

By Erias 'Doc' Williams

Christmas is the day that celebrates the birth of Jesus, who was born in a crude building at the edge of town, where they said there was no room to spare in the inn of the place. And so came into being a figure who has inspired more people to happiness than anyone can ever estimate. There, alone, his mother and Joseph, and later the simple shepherd came to pay homage and honor to the Christ child, so long prophesied as a gift to the hope of mankind. And then the child grew to manhood, He became the friend of all, especially to the poor in body and heart, and "He went about doing things," as it has been recorded. Also it is said that "the common people heard him gladly." He did not come into the world to be an earthly king, to compete with anyone, or to wrest from anyone his place in the world. He came to bring "peace and good will to men," especially did he come to bring joy to children and to wipe away all tears from the sorrowful, the discouraged, and the despairing. America and its good neighbors stand with their hearts open, with Santa Claus, and behind him the hope of the world of peace, security, and a free way

Take the Christ spirit out of the world and all hope would perish, all inspiration, all nobility from the human heart. The best we can do is expected of us. Christmas is saturated with more unselfishness than any other time of the year, for more people are thinking about doing something to make some one else happy. In this free country, Christmas is sure to be one of prayer, sympathy and helpfulness, in every way possible for those made homeless and plungesd into the vortex of war on nearly every side of the world.

The invisible eyes of destiny watch over the affairs of all mankind. May we look to God in our tragic moments for wisdom and guidance through every contest for freedom and liberty. God bless you, one and all. Merry Christmas.

"May God lead us to know the worth of a common brotherhood, when man's inhumanity to man will stop and we may dwell in unity and peace."

Wadsworth 7th Day Adventists Sermon-Subject

At Wadsworth Seventh Day Adventist Church on Saturday night the sermon-subject will be "God's Handwriting In Earth and Sky. The public is invited to come and see the Handwriting of God displayed on the screen. At 7:45, a deaf-mute trio will sing and recite. You will not want to miss this very versatile group in their performance. The church is located at 40th Place and Wadsworth street, one block off Central Avenue.

Honor San Diego Pastor and Wife

By MRS. M. L. MOORE

SAN DIEGO. — On Tuesday night, December 5, the members of St. Paul Methodist Church, San Diego, Calif., led by Mrs. Ernest Morgan, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, highly honored their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Lewis, with a reception given at the church.

Among the outstanding speakers and guests were Drs. George A. Warmer, James W. Mahood, Noah Taylor, H. Philpert Langfort, A. K. Quinn, C. Johnson and W. H. Hutcheson; Mrs. Tony Smith, Mrs. W. Johnson, Mrs. Lorene Beezley, and Mr. Dennis Allen.

Mrs. B. B. Banks ably assisted Mrs. Morgan and Mrs. Opal Havis was hostess for the evening.

Rev. and Mrs. Lewis were highly received by the city at large and the church was crowded to its capacity. The affair was one of the biggest events of the year.

On Thursday, November 23, the church gave Rev. and Mrs. Lewis a surprise shower party. Many beautiful and useful gifts (household) were given.

In their response, the pastor and wife paid high tribute to the members and friends of St. Paul for their unlimited kindness. Rev. Lewis said, "St. Paul is on the march and will take its rightful place to help redeem mankind."

It may be remembered that Rev. and Mrs. Lewis are formerly of Los Angeles.

Bishop King Goes To Post in Africa

NEW YORK—Bishop Willis J. King, newly elected bishop to Liberia, left Sunday by plane from Miami, Florida, for his new post, according to announcement at Methodist headquarters here last week.

Bishop King, for ten years president of Gammon Theological Seminary, Atlanta, Georgia, was elected to the episcopacy by the Central Jurisdiction of The Methodist Church in its meeting at Greensboro, N.C., last June.

Together with Bishop J. H. Clayborn, of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and Bishop E. B. Watson, of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church, Bishop King was honored at a testimonial dinner given in Frazier Hall, Howard University, before leaving, by the Foreign Missions Conference of North America.

Bishops Clayborn and Watson will also serve their respective denominations in Africa.

IN MEMORIAM

In sweet memory of ELIZABETH MUNN, who passed December 18, 1943.

She loved to laugh, and when she came,
A flicker, as of happy flame
Sprang swiftly up, re-echoing
As any bird's song makes others sing.
O, laughter is a blessed gift,
Heals many a hurt, mends many a rift.
She loved to laugh, and so she lent
To other lives her merriment.

● ST. JOHN BAPTIST ●

The new St. John Baptist Church is continuing to expand. Last Sunday afternoon, the members and friends enjoyed a grand fellowship dinner in the social hall of the church. The meal was served in the good old fashioned informal way and everyone had a scrumptious time. The days service was satisfactory in every respect, numerically, financially and spiritually.

Through the talented pastor, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson, the people are being taught the rudiments of true Christian living—they are being taught to support the church by tithing and giving offerings, and the results are astounding.

There is always something worthwhile going on at St. John. Visit us next Sunday morning; our worship service will lift your spirit—our choir will thrill your soul—our Pastor will enlighten you. Come to 2727 E. First Street to the most beautiful church site in this section of the city.

Confidence imparts a wondrous inspiration to its possessor. It bears him on in security either to meet no danger, or to find matter of glorious trial.—Milton

It is wonderful what strength of purpose and boldness and energy of will are roused by the assurance that we are doing our duty. —Scott

Brown Temple Anniversary

Rev. and Mrs. Marion McLaughlin was feted with a reception celebrating the second anniversary of his pastorate of Brown Temple A.M.E. Zion Church, located at 1201 E. 43rd St., on Thursday, November 30th, 1944, at the church.

Highlights of the affair were beautiful. Welcome address by Mrs. Katrina Stockard; also speeches of Commendation of the wonderful work of the pastor by Rev. S. M. Beane, Hon. Fred Roberts and Rev. Shepard Marion, formerly of Montgomery, Ala., now pastor First A.M.E. Zion, Pico and Paloma.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in the season's colors, which was filled with prominent guests.

Mrs. Corine Howard was in charge of the repast which consisted of turkey salad, wafers, coffee, ice cream and cake.

Teh centerpiece cake was inscribed with second anniversary of Brown Temple A.M.E. Zion and roses.

Music was favorably rendered by the Buford Sisters, Mrs. Ethel Johnson and George Richardson, Mrs. Margaret H. Banks was mistres sof ceremonies. The reception was a huge success and Brown Temple wishes to thank those who helped to make it so.

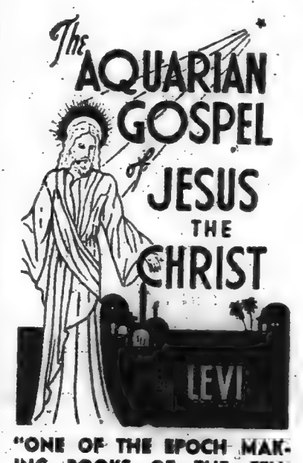
CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Is the Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" This question will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. The Golden Text is from John: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. . . . All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made."

Luke's Gospel relates that "a certain centurion's servant, who was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die. And when he heard of Jesus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant." When Jesus neared the house, the centurion sent friends and said, "Lord, trouble not thyself: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof: . . . but say in a word, and my servant shall be healed. . . . When Jesus heard these things, he marvelled at him, . . . and said . . . I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick."

In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mary Baker Eddy writes: "Jesus illustrated the divine Principle and the power of immortal Mind by healing sickness and sin and destroying the foundations of death."

Mrs. French To Lecture Sunday



Mrs. Stuart W. French, of San Marino, world traveler, columnist and lecturer will speak Sunday, December 17, 3 p.m. at the Baha'i Center, 1709 West 8th St., on: "The Corner-stone of Religion." Prominent as an authority on religious history and the evolving cultures and civilizations which are its outgrowth, Mrs. French says in part: "The Baha'i Faith proclaims the validity of the Prophets of the revealed religions of the world, asserting that each brought the Word of God in accordance with the capacities of the people of the age. Each prophet confirmed the validity of this predecessor, and covenanted with mankind one regarding one to come after him." All are welcome — there are no admission fees.

Faith marches at the head of the army of progress. It is found beside the most refined life, the freest government, the profoundest philosophy, the noblest poetry, the purest humanity.

The Philosophic and Practical Basis of the Religion of the Aquarian Age of the World and of the Church Universal

"ONE OF THE EPOCH MAKING BOOKS OF THE CENTURY"

What is the Aquarian Age? The human race is today standing upon the cusp of the Piscean-Aquarian Age. Aquarius is an anr sign and the New Age is already noted for remarkable inventions for the use of air, electricity, magnetism, etc. When the Aquarian Pres. Lincoln freed the slaves he sympolized in action the great Aquarian ideals of freedom and equality; it is the Aquarian Pres. Roosevelt, who has led us through this generation's cries of war, with its vision of a better, freer world for all men.

The Aquarian Age is preeminently a spiritual age, it represents the triumph of love over prejudice, hatred, superstition and all the limitations which retard men; so with much propriety this book is called "The Aquarian (or Spiritual) Gospel of Jesus, the Christ."

Why was it called the Aquarian Gospel? Because it was not, and could not have been written until the opening of the Aquarian Age of the world, the time referred to by Jesus when he said to his disciples: "I have many things to say unto you, but you cannot bear them now. Howbeit when she, the Spirit of Truth, is come she will guide you into all truth." John 16:12, 13.

No Special Favors Asked For Negro People

Disapproval of any sanitary investigation of the district of Los Angeles now known as "Bronzeville" was voiced in a recent meeting of the City Council, according to an article published in the Daily News, Saturday, Nov. 25.

The members of the council who did not approve of such an investigation was Parley Parker Christensen, councilman for the district which includes Bronzeville. He disapproved because the matter of investigation was suggested by Lloyd G. Davies, of the second district, which includes Hollywood.

Mr. Christensen resented the implication that his district, the Bronzeville district, is not as clean and as up to the mark so far as sanitation is concerned, as Hollywood.

"Besides," said Mr. Christensen, "it is a matter of courtesy to let the councilman from the district affected know something in advance of what is proposed to be done in this district."

So the matter was dropped—for the sake of courtesy.

Such an investigation is badly needed, however. The conditions found there would not have reflected upon Mr. Christensen as councilman from that district, neither would they have reflected upon the natural cleanliness and orderliness of the people living there. They would reflect, however, upon the city government in general which permits such crowded living conditions and lack of sanitation that councilmen from other districts of the city feel called upon to ask for an investigation.

Mr. Christensen should have welcomed the suggestion and the offer of cooperation, instead of resenting them.

It might be well, perhaps, to have the city re-districted, or at least this portion of it.

But we Negro people are not asking for any special favors. All we ask as citizens of Los Angeles is that all councilmen do their duty.

If Hollywood were as crowded as Bronzeville, if Hollywood had to live in the midst of conditions as unsanitary as those of Bronzeville, would not any councilman be justified to have Hollywood, whether he represented that district or not?

Let us hope Mr. Christensen will reconsider his objections, and will approve instead of disapproving the investigation.

We listened raptly as Mr. Stone explained why Labor must demand representation at the peace table; for Labor, like the Negro people, has special problems which can only be solved by the establishment of a civil government that will accord civil justice and equal rights to all alike.

A symbol of the sincere appreciation of the men of the N.M.U. for meritorious service, "beyond the call of duty" was the presentation of a posthumous award to Harry Michener. The award was accepted by his brother Jack.

At this banquet were represented all branches of labor, Negro and white. The strength of this powerful organization and the pride which labor feels for its connection with so outstanding an organization exuded during the evening. As Oliver Boutee, Port Agent for this area spoke of the part the N.M.U. is playing in the Harbor, we could not help but feel a kinship to an organization of strong, courageous men who are giving Negro boys the opportunity to serve their country in its most dangerous activity—merchant shipping—in whatever classification for which they are trained or desirous of receiving training. Our minds traveled back to Central Avenue and the parade of the various uniforms of the Merchant Marine which we see every day and felt a greater understanding of the pride with which these uniforms are worn.

We felt with Mr. Boutee that labor must discourage race differences in industry so that the fighting men, according to Abraham Lincoln, "Shall not have died in vain."

CIO On the Square Negro Recognition

The two national labor conventions held recently, that of the CIO in Chicago and the AFL in New Orleans, vividly portray the different policies of the two unions.

At the CIO convention there were more than a score of Negro delegates and they worked in harmony with the white delegates. There was no discrimination, even in thought.

At the AFL convention delegate A. Philip Randolph, introduced a resolution calling for an end of special auxiliaries for Negroes. It was rejected by the official AFL, and delegate Randolph was accused of being an "outsider" and a "professional agitator." The convention did adopt a resolution calling for a permanent FEPC, but they nullified the permanent FEPC, but they nullified this by declaring they would not tolerate any legislation which would hold unions unfair for any discrimination policy.

When the AFL first came into existence it was considered radical and subversive by those opposed to labor organizations. It needs to go back to the rock from which it was hewn. It needs to learn a lesson from its brother union, the CIO. It needs to know that the progressive forces of labor can not be stopped, and if it is wise it will join this progressive movement instead of wasting time and energy to stop what can not and will not be stopped.

Offer Program All Inclusive

There are many people who do not know the role of the men in the Maritime Service today. Too many of us think of the war only in terms of the boys in the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. We may include the men and women in the shipyards and factories, but seldom do we feel that the boys in the Maritime Service—we call them the Merchant Marines—are also contributing their all to the successful conclusion of the war.

We know that the men and women who go to the factories every day are fighting this war, for they are producing the tanks, planes, and guns; we know that those who go to the shipyards are indispensable to the war effort, for the materials produced could not be delivered without ships in which to do so. Few of us, however, even begin to realize the part played by the Maritime Service, but these are the ones that deliver the goods, transport the troops, and face untold dangers to keep men and materials rolling.

Last week Headley Stone of the National Office of the Maritime Union addressed a gathering in his honor at the Y.M.C.A. at San Pedro. One thing gave us courage and hope in the successful conclusion of this war. The men who ride the ships are not only soldiers; they know what the war is all about.

The National Maritime Union of the C.I.O. is the largest union of seamen in the country. Within its ranks is the kind of democracy for which we are fighting. That this is not just theory with the N.M.U. was shown by the fact that one of their highest ranking officers for many years was Ferdinand J. Smith, a Negro. It was largely due to their activities also that the first Liberty Ship to be named for a Negro, The Booker T. Washington, sailed with a Negro Captain. The fact that the Negro is entitled to the same wage and treatment as any other American is the attitude of the N.M.U. in manning the boats, and this policy of non-discrimination is one of the bases for its strength.

Mr. Stone, now top ranking official, told of his early days as a minesweeper at the salary of $82.50. He told of how he began to realize the social structure of our present day world as he listened to the wealthy dine and dance, while the men who risked their lives and did the work slept in hell holes below.

It was only through organization that the working conditions of the men were improved, and the quality of their work became more efficient so that today the N.M.U. stands as a symbol of reliability, democracy, and devotion to duty.

Where Is Hitler? Asks Stars and Stripes

The official battlefront newspaper, Stars and Stripes," observed editorially that Hitler had not been around much lately. No speeches. No threats. No shrieks. No victories. It's started people talking about whether der Fuehrer is alive or dead.

Who knows? And who cares? If he's dead, he's dead. And if he isn't, it is just a question of time before the hemp hugs his Adams apple.

But what about Hitlerism? It isn't dead by a long shot. It skulks in dark hideouts. It pops out at unexpected times and places. It's here, there, everywhere. It lurks in men's minds and poisons men's hearts. It shows itself in careless little acts. In racism, intolerance, and attacks on helpless minorities.

In smearing labor and in sly digs at business. In worship of war. In cracks at our allies. In words and acts that tend to make people divide and hate. In pooh-poohing the right of men to givern themselves and live with one another on a basis of natural trust and good will.

Apply this doctrine to the Folk, the Taylor, and the 17-year old Scales boy, and we will abide by what happens.

The NAACP Serves the Community In Continuing Figt Against Fascism

In this anniversary issue of The California Eagle, the editorial department takes pride in commending the local N.A.A.C.P. for the fine job it has done over the years.

Some years ago, after due recognition for the unselfish task performed by Dr. H. Claude Hudson as head of the Los Angeles Branch of the N.A.A.C.P., we selected from the community a young barrister to step up in the ranks and take over the leadership in the organization.

For ten years, some very lean years, Thomas L. Griffith, local lawyer, churchman, and civic-minded young citizen, has not only developed a mighty fighting organization, but has made it a medium for the co-ordination of other organizations and they working together will win victory on the battle field of the world, and drive out Fascism on the home front.

Griffith is not the rip-rousing type, but the man who talks while others sleep, and we say of him—May his tribe increase.

And along with his N.A.A.C.P. and other activities—we observe that he finds time to increase that tribe.

We Must Move to Drive Out Fascism

A study of the Robert E. Folk or "Lower 13" case at our doorstep, Mrs. Recy Taylor's case, and 17-year old James T. Scales Thanwsgiving Day case at Pikeville, Tennessee, make us, law-abiding peace-loving Americans realize how firmly Adoph Hitler planted the seeds of Fascism in this nation.

Those of us who realize why we are fighting this war must join such fearless organizations as the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Anti-Semitic organizations, the League for Equal Justice, the Victory Committee, and the International Labor Defense, and move in on these un-American activities.

None of these cases have had a fair, impartial trial.

Robert Folk who is doomed to die in the gas chamber unless the governor of the State of Oregon is prevailed upon to grant clemency; 24-year-old Recy Taylor, wife of a soldier who has offered his life for protection against the very thing that his wife is a victim of, has not even been granted the legal right of an investigation, and this 17-year old boy's fate is sealed. He is not even in the category of a human being in his native Tennessee.

The people of the United States must demand equal justice before the law for all Americans, including these three victims of injustice we have mentioned.

We have every reason to believe that if all the evidence were secured, and the cases tried before an impartial jury, with a judge presiding who believed in justice for all, the results would shock the nation.

We Welcome New Congress

While the country is waiting for the "lame ducks" of Congress to adopt a permanent FEPC, the various states themselves are going ahead and planning for permanent anti-discrimination laws.

Pennsylvania proposes a permanent State FEPC which would not only outlaw discrimination in jobs, but in schools, recreation, hospitals, and many other fields as well. This program is the result of five years of study. It is not a Negro program, but a program for all the people.

New York is planning similar legislation, and other states give promise of soon stepping into line.

It would be well for these "lame ducks" in the present Congress to study this trend ere they are forced to flop their wings and go away to oblivion. We also need a Federal permanent FEPC.

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

Segregation is a horrible evil! But when there is segregation within segregation it is worse than an evil! That's what is taking place right in the heart of the Harlem community in New York City.

Several weeks ago, the People's Voice, a New York Negro newspaper, published a picture and story of a house on St. Nicholas Ave. and 125th St. where they had "Vacancies for WHITE Tenancy ONLY." Soon after this espose, the management removed the sign, but upon investigation it was found that two vacancies still existed.

Mr. Lawrence Washington, Negro father of two children, employed in the fur industry, inquired about the vacancies. Confronted by a Negro superintendent, he was told: "No Colored live in this house." Mr. Washington informed the man that he did not ask that question, but was interested in knowing whether there was a vacancy. The answer was a sharp "NO."

The very next evening, your columnist, with blond hair and blue eyes, asked the same question of the same superintendent and was shown a gorgeous six-room apartment—for $50.00 per month. And when I say "gorgeous," I mean it in every sense of the word—hardwood floors, shellacked to a high shine, closet in every bedroom, spacious kitchen, living room and master-bedroom, tile bathroom with shower bath—and everything to complete a comfortable home.

I was treated with the utmost courtesy, until I said I wanted it for a "friend." That's when I started to get the double talk. "Would I leave my name and address, so that the agent could get in touch with me?" When the agent called, he was impressed with my "Central Park West" address, even though "431" is not a 20-story building and has no elevator. However, "you understand, Miss Cohen, it is our policy to investigate all applicants for apartments, and until we do, we cannot permit you to pay the rent for your friends."

After that little episode, Mr. Washington, together with a white worker from his shop and a reported for People' Voice, went up to the house again. The white fellow was shown the same apartment. When he came out, Mr. Washington and the reporter went in again. "No, there was no vacancy."

This sounds like a scene in a magic show—now you see it, now you don't. But when you consider that the agent's name is "Schmidt," and Mr. Thomforde, whom we are told owns the house, and who, we are also told, lost thousands of dollars on Schmelling when Joe Louis sent him back to Nazi-land with birdies chirping in his ears—you can begin to wonder whether such practices of discrimination on their part has something to do with the fact that they might be in favor of Fascism, even though Mr. Thomforde's two sons are fighting in this war on the side of the Allies.

On Wednesday, Dec. 6, a delegation consisting of Mrs. Rose Gaulden, chairman of the Lincoln-Douglas Club of the Communist Political Association; Mrs. Mills of the Business Women's Association; Mr. Lawrence Washington of the Furriers' Union; and your columnist, canvassed the tenants of that house in order to get their feelings in the matter. The majority of them said they didn't care one way or the other who lived in Apartment 26. Some were adamant in their refusal to discuss the issue. While other said outright that "everybody should live separately."

That's just what Hitler said when he put millions of Jews and Catholics in concentration camps to die at the hands of the cruel Stormtroopers, and of disease and hunger.

I asked one woman: "If your son, attacked by Nazis, sought shelter in a foxhole, only to find that the other occupant was a Negro, would he rather die than to live in that foxhole alongside the Negro?" She hung her head in shame, but didn't answer.

Any honest American knows there is only one answer. WE'VE GOT TO LIVE TOGETHER IN FREEDOM, OR DIE UNDER THE HEEL OF FASCISM.

We've not given up in this case, just as we will never give up the fight against Fascism on any front. On Saturday, Dec. 9, we will be out in front of that house on a ladder, with a loud-speaker. We are going to shout so that you hear us in Los Angeles. We are going to educate MR. SCHMIDT, MR. THOMFORDE, the tenants in that house and any other house THAT WE MEAN TO HAVE DEMOCRACY.

We're moving ahead in Harlem —WE WANT NO BORDERLINE BETWEEN HARLEM AND THE REST OF NEW YORK. WE WANT AMERICANS TO BE ABLE TO LIVE IN PEACE AND FREEDOM, WHEREVER THEY CHOOSE TO LIVE.

WE'VE GOT THE HOME FRONT BUZZIN', COUSIN!

W. J. Wheaton Says . . .

If this government (The USA) is to set the pattern for a true democracy, it will have to divest itself of some of the national ideologies that blot the nation's escutcheon and without reservation or equivocation exemplify its precept. In other words, practice what it preaches. It is a travesty of the first order when other peoples point out the hypocrisy with which this nation pleads for world democracy and condones its violations at home. Well can they say, "Brother, remove the beam from thine own eye before you can see clearly the mote in that of thy brother."

Public opinion in this country can exert a great influence in curbing if not eliminating the tendency to group citizens in the order of race, color or national origin. If we are to have a true democracy, a democracy that we can exemplify to the world, public opinion must be educated to the fact that the man who has sworn his allegiance to the United States of America is just as much a citizen as one to the manor born. That all citizens, without regard to color or race are equally entitled to every citizen right given under the Constitution.

When public opinion is uninformed it becomes indifferent and without interest; even when it might affect their own welfare. In many matters we are not in agreement, especially with that element of calamity seers who entertain the ideas of violent upheavals, or see in every effort for the attainment of true democratic principles the overthrow of constituted authority. That is not the true American principle, or the American conception of government.

They point as examples the unrest and bloodshed in the liberated countries of Europe. That argument is without reason or sense. It shows a lack of knowledge underlying the conditions existing in those areas, and the chaos in which, even, liberation has left them.

But one can rest assured that when those peoples are assured that they can choose their governments through democratic process, order under constituted authority will prevail. It is the innate right of man to choose his own government. It is the democratic way: the ballot.

It has taken this government quite a long time to find this out, but it is, gradually, coming to realize the fact that as long as one part of its population is deprived of its constituted right of citizenship, a festering sore will plague its boasted claim to democracy. The people, all of the people, North, South, East and West, must have the same and equal opportunity to have a voice and part in the process of government.

It is with a feeling of optimism that we note the trend of public opinion in that regard. Much speculation as to the trend of the incoming Congress and its attitude in perspective legislation. The consensus, on the surface, seems to be that it will support the Administration in its foreign policy, but there seems to be some doubt as to its attitude on some of the domestic measures that will come before it in the post-war period.

"The universal military training, sponsored by the Administration and the War and Navy may find a concerted opposition from religious bodies and the Peace at any price contingent. We are led to believe that the proposed measure will be beneficial in more than one sense.

In the first place it will bring the "Lord Fauntleroy" from Nob Hill to brush shoulders with the boy from across the tracks. It will give to the underpriviliged youngster a chance for an education he would otherwise be denied. It will maintain a standard of health, which heretofore has been deplorable. It will reduce illiteracy and raise the standard of citizenship. In fact it will prove the greatest factor for democracy ever conceived. There is no doubt that there will be great opposition because of that very fact.

It is not every "Flag Waver" who shouts "Democracy" that really believes in its concepts, it is an undeniable fact that there are elements in this USA who would sacrifice the Declaration of Independence rather than give some of the minority groups an equal chance in the "Race of Life." So ingrained in them is the ideology of racial supremacy that, in many instances, they have outhitlered Hitler, and run a close second to Himmler and Goebbels.

It is that element that the

To You, the Public—

Save Robert Folkes! Write Oregon Governor for Clemency

The Scottsboro and Sleepy Lagoon Cases have now loomed up in California, and the civil rights of each and every citizen is affected. The case this time is that of the "Lower 13" murder involving Robert E. Folkes.

Folkes is now slated to die in the gas chamber on Friday, January 5, 1945. It is the concensus of many of those who believe in his innocence that if Governor Snell of Oregon is requested to commute his sentence to life, then Folkes will have a chance to face the real perpetrator of the crime someday.

In order that the public may again be informed of the circumstances surrounding the case, it is here recalled:

...Robert Folkes, dining car cook, was on the return trip of his run from Los Angeles to Portland. He and the other dining car men had retired when the passengers began to board the train. He "went to sleep and began to dream of a beautiful white woman. During the dream a little voice told him to go to Lower 13 and kill! kill! kill! He dressed, went into the kitchen and sharpened his knife, later to be used on Martha Virginia James. He proceeded to the Pullman, and upon entering it, the voice continued to guide him to Lower 13 telling him to Kill! Kill! Kill! There, all of a sudden he spotted No. 13, he began to unbutton the curtains (which are fastened from the inside and very difficult to accomplish from the outside). Folkes was content to unfasten one button at a time, by a process of passing through the car and unhooking one button each time he passed the berth. After making four trips into the car to open the curtains, he finally succeeded in straddling the beautiful body of Martha James, took out his knife and made a commando cut on her neck. Then he crept from the blood-spilled berth and returned to the kitchen and worked like hell to catch up with his duties since he had lost quite a bit of time in executing his dream-mad crime. The voice finally told him to wash his hands and the knife also...."

There you have a brief resume of the so-called confession he assertedly made. Does it sound real? The police said he said it. Also consider these facts:

1. No motive for the murder was established. 2. No blood was found on Robert Folkes' person or clothing. 3. Robert Folkes was not identified as the person seen leaving Mrs. James' berth. 4. The State's witnesses declared that the dining car crew was in bed when passengers began to board the train. 5. Testimony of 45 State's witnesses failed to involve Robert Folkes. 6. The alleged confessions or statements were not read to Robert Folkes, NOR WAS HE ASKED TO SIGN THEM. 7. The Los Angeles police officers admitted giving liquor to Robert Folkes who was a minor at the time of his arrest. 8. No finger prints were produced in court. 9. The death weapon was not produced in court. 10. The testimony of the occupant of Upper 13, Wilson (a Marine), was contradictory throughout the trial. 1y. Marine Wilson was fully clad when he yelled for help. 12. Marine Wilson told the pullman porter, Hughes, that he saw the murderer leave the car "in this direction," and then said he told him, "You go that way and I'll go this way." 13. Marine Wilson said Robert Folkes was perspiring profusely and frying eggs in the kitchen when he noticed him, and then claimed there was no fire in the stove. 14. Marine Wilson found a blood-stained towel in one of the rear cars several hours after the efforts of the police and special agents had failed to produce it. 15. At the time of the alleged crime, approximately 4:30 a.m., Robert Folkes had made 5 gallons of coffee, baked 6 tins of muffins, cooked Cream of Wheat and oat meal, and was in the process of baking pies, when a brakeman came in for coffee at 5:05 a.m. 16. Robert Folkes served as Second Cook on this trip, preparing 7 meals without any signs of nervousness. 17. The newspapers and magazines had found Folkes guilty before he was brought to trial. 18. The Supreme Court of Oregon split 5-2 in upholding the decision of the lower court. 19. The "mystery witness," Funchess, was held in Albany jail from the date of the crime—only to be released several days before the trial began, and he has not been heard of since. 20. Private Wilson's (the Marine) conduct while in Albany was not above reproach and should hape caused action on the part of the local police.

Circumstantial evidence has caused many innocent men to lose their lives. Folkes was convicted on such evidence. Won't you, as a fair-minded American citizen, write and get your friends to write or wire Governor Earl Snell at Salem, Oregon, urging him to grant this young Negro American executive clemency, because some day we may all know the real killer.

This Is the History of Your California Eagle

Has Played a Magnificent Part In Progress and Civic Affairs

By W. J. WHEATON

This anniversary, the sixty-fifth year since its founding, must bring memories to many of those Los Angelenos who fought so valiantly to make that city a truly democratic place of habitation. The Eagle, now THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE, under the courageous management of its founder and publisher, J. J. Neimore, played a prominent part in every civic movement and, even in its earlier stages of journalism was influential in the shaping of events. We dare say that there are few f the present Angelenos who have the personal recollections that set the doughty Neimore apart from the herd. Whenever the clarion call of battle rang out, like the waving plume of Navarre, you would always find J. J. and the Eagle in the vanguard of the fray. There were times when he and others had to fight certain minority groups in order that the hydra-head of racial segregation could not get a foothold.

It is with great joy that I am Privileged to extend my sincere and best wishes to you for a Merry Xmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

S. M. BEANE, PASTOR,
HAMILTON METHODIST CHURCH.

One of those incidents come to mind as we recall the time when some of the new arrivals of a certain minority brought with them certain ideologies common to their former place of residence. Some sincere, but misguided folk thought that there should be separate schools, and, of course, they were encouraged and abetted by that element which believed that people of racial difference should not be educated in the same schools. The argument of the proponents were, that separate schools would give employment to teachers of that particular group. We certainly wish that we had kept a file of the EAGLE of that era; they created an epoch in the history of Los Angeles.

They were vitrolic, logical and convincing to a great degree. They aroused the people from their apathy, swept away the complacency in which they had been basking, like a tidal wave lashed up by a hurricane. Men of the caliber of Roberts, Clarkson, Norris, Edmunds, and others of like thinking rushed to the assistance of J. J. and the "separate schools" idea was killed so effectively that it was never more raised. J. J. challenged the proponents to bring forth one candidate who could pass the test necessary for a teacher's certificate. One who had the training to give to minority youth the same course of training obtained under the system of non segregation. There were none. We remember that Maxwell told J. J. that he would sacrifice his shirt to have one of his daughters trained for the test. He did, and one of those daughters was the first Negro girl to obtain a teaching certificate, and it was not in a segregated school.

That is but one of the many incidents where J. J. Neimore and the EAGLE championed and won victories over racial discriminations and kept vigilant guard to see that no right guaranteed by the law of the land was denied to any citizen because of color or racial origin. In the demise of John Neimore the community of Los Angeles lost a civic champion and this writer, a personal friend. Now the history of the EAGLE would be incomplete without the mention, however casual, of its present eidtor and publisher. We had our first glimpse of her, a slip of a person, and not devoid of pulchritude. J. J. said, "She is my right hand man." Even at that early stage, the lady in question showed an aptitude for finding out facts. For instance, with the immigration of certain elements, domestic problems began to evolve. To solve those problems, this neophyte in the field of journalism sought to find out the facts. She entered the domestic field from one end to the other and when she had gathered the facts, started a crusade for the betterment of those engaged in such occupations. She was imbued with the spirit of J. J. and at his demise carried on through stress and storm to the present.

We can not praise her too much; she deserves all the praise one could bestow.

But, more anon: As we must enter into another phase which brings the EAGLE from a little backroom office with a handful of type, a hand press and COURAGE to its present stage of progress and national influence. This brings on the scene another personal friend in the person of Joseph Blackburn, Bass, Joe to me. Our acquaintance began in Montana when that State was in its formative state. Joe had been a co-worker in the journalistic field with that militant Kansan, Nick Childs. Montana had no problems of minority groups, and her problems were mostly political. Local, State, and National. Growing pains resulting from her recent graduation from territory to statehood. As the expression goes, that was right up Joe's alley, and he entered into many controversies with a zest that only a Kansan could display. Very soon, Joe started publishing a little paper. As we remember, it was a four-page sheet, small, but it carried a dynamite punch, so much so that the dailies began to take notice.

My Boss, O'neil, editor of the Helena Independent, called me in the office to ask what sort of a fellow this Bass was. There was a hard campaign for mayor at the time and, as westerners take their politics quite seriously, feeling was running high. The handful of minority votes, about fifty or more, when cast solidly, determined the result of the election. Joe and his paper advocated the solidarity of the minority vote, and was bitterly opposed by what was known as the Chloe Street element, which cared little for law or order. But Joe stuck to his guns and finally won from one of the candidates, Frank Edwards, that he would in the event of his election, appoint a minority group police officer in the person of one Ike Hayes.

We mention those things in order to bring to your attention the inate courage of Joe Bass under circumstances that would have changed the attitude of most of the minority journalists of this day. Even threatened with physical violence, Joe never quailed. Edwards won the election, but when the time came to fulfill his promise, he sought to break it. Joe carried to Edwards a copy of the editorial that he planned to publish the next day. Sufficient to say Hayes was appointed. We left Montana and returned to California.

One day, at lunch, we glanced at a copy of the EAGLE and we had a vision of a slip of a woman pleading from a platform, during a meeting of a state meeting of Womens Federated Clubs. She told them of the sttruggle she was having to keep alive a newspaper. Turning to Joe, who by the way was considering a newspaper in San Francisco, the graveyard of many journalistic ventures, said "Why don't you go to Los Angeles and connect yourself with the EAGLE? Little did I think at the time that I was playing the part of Cupid, but so it was, and that union of brains, courage and experience, resulted in the present California Eagle, a journal whose influence is felt throughout the nation.

We wish that time and space would permit us to review many of the incidents which come to mind and give a true picture of the personnel which has dictated, chartered, kept on even keel and ever kept in mind the credo of its founder, John J. Neimore, that the EAGLE, (now THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE), is a newspaper to be held in trust for the people, a medium through which their just claims can be voiced, a journal devoid of all self interest, and a champion of the forgotten man.

A journal devoted to such principles as those, must prove successful, and although the physical bodies of John Neimore and of Joe Bass no longer remain, the spirit of courage and of right, their sense of duty to the underprivileged, still remains and hovers over every turn of the press. Their mantle has fallen on capable and knowing shoulders. The torch which they lighted has been grasped by a hand which holds it aloft, so that the world might see, and be enlightened thereby. It is hoped through the next following decades of public usefulness, its course will never change nor its fight for the right never falter.

To the EAGLE and THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE, may the spirits of those who in the past guided your destiny, imbue those who now steer its course and dictate its policies, with the strength to struggle on and when they relinquish the torch may it fall in the hands of one whose whole being has been inoculated with the spirit which has been the guiding star of its career. May the spirit of courage and service which animated the lives of John Neimore, and Joe Bass never die but live on forever.

more than 15 per cent over the level which existed when the ceilings were set. This would be equal to imposing a 15 per cent sales tax on all food purchased oby wage earners. Obviously no one would consider imposing such a tax . . . If wages should be stabilized and farm prices be permitted to rise at any rate like the present rate, workers would have to bear the major part of the increase. This we cannot ask."

Recently a Cost of Living Committee which you had appointed in November, 1943, submitted a report to you conceding that the rise in retail prices of selected goods, rents and services bought by families of wage earners has been 30 per cent since January 1, 1941. This conclusion is based upon the Index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. But the Bureau itself frankly admits, in its monthly reports that "the Index does not show the full wartime effect on the cost of living of such factors as lowered quality, disappearance of low-priced goods, and forced changes in housing and eating away from home." The full rise in wartime living costs has been calculated by the Labor Representatives of the Cost of Living Committee to be approximately 45 per cent since January 1, 1941.

In the face of this continued rise in the cost of living, wage rates have remained frozen under the Little Steel Formula.

The expressions of pious hopes or statements that the cost of living has not risen, which have from time to time emanated from those responsible for preventing any rise in cost of living cannot refute the foregoing stubborn facts. The situation which you projected in September, 1942, as one which would be the equivalent of a 15 per cent sales tax and wage cut has actually occurred.

An upward adjustment in the Little Steel formula would not require any increase in the prices of goods. Reports of the Office of Price Administration and of the Securities & Exchange Commission demonstrate conclusively that because of greatly increased productivity during the war, reduced costs to be anticipated as premium overtime payments decline and workers are down-graded and the huge liquid financial resources accumulated during the war, most industries can absorb a substantial wage increase without any increases in prices.

An upward adjustment in the Little Steel formula would not result in pushing prices up through alleged increased purchasing power. The panel of the National War Labor Board in the steel case made a specific finding of fact that a present increase in basic hourly wage rates will not assert any serious inflationary pressure. The continuance of existing anti-inflation controls, such as taxes, bond purchases through payroll deductions, price control and rationing, must be our foundation against inflation, not the slashing of wage standards.

Moreover, when we look ahead the prospect is one of deflationary pressure. The OPA points out that even if present levels of employment are maintained, a return to the 1939 level of average work time will reduce the manufacturing wage bill by $8.2 billion. Further, its report shows that a shift back to the 1939 pattern of manufacturing employment would result in an additional decline of $8.6 billion. It is conceded that the effect of down-grading, which will come with a loose labor market, will result in a further drop of at least $2 billion.

The usual reaction to such figures has been that wage rates will be adjusted to meet this problem when it arises. But does anyone actually believe that wage rates can be increased when workers are laid off wholesale through cutbacks, when overtime is rapidly being supplanted by work spreading, and when the labor force is being augmented by large numbers of returning servicemen. This is obviously unrealistic.

The Price Control law now in effect confers upon the President of the United States the authority and obligation to maintain wages and prices as of their relationship which prevailed on September 15, 1942. In the interest of maintaining a balanced tices to any one group and to economy without severe injusteconomy may be built there can secure a firm basis upon which out reconversion and postwar be but one conclusion—the national wage policy must be changed. There must be a realistic revision of the Little Steel formula to permit a substantial adjustment of wage rates at the present time.

Sincerely yours,
PHILIP MURRAY,
President.

What's Doing—
In The Younger Set
Jessie Mae Brown

Amid the color and gayety of the "Hanging of the Green," scheduled for Sunday night December 17th at the Woodlawn Branch of the YWCA, local yuletide celebrating gets under way. Latest addition to highlight events, is the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity's mammoth benefit affair being held on the 19th of December at the Club Alabam. The frat brothers are staging the event for the purpose of raising money to support the Service Men's Athletic Club, and to aid local Community Youth projects. Tickets are out and have been, for the past week or two. According to reports on ticket sales the affair is sure to be a top notcher. By the way, the Alpha Men have chalked up their annual formal for the month of February. Since it will follow the Kappa's Black and White, and the AKA's Christmas Semi, the gents are striving to make it, as brother Jack Terry says "out of this world" . . . .

Another event scheduled during the Christmas season is the presentation of Virginia Paris in recital December 21st at Second Baptist Church. Proceeds will go toward swelling the Educational Scholarship Fund of the church. The glamorous Virginia is a noted mezzo soprano . . . .

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHT

The Lt. LaMar Hill, Puffy Houston marriage was definitely a social highlight of the season. The younger setters who represent two of the Angel City's oldest families plighted their throth before an extra large number of friends. The ceremony was beautiful, with the brides maids wearing rich winter colors. Puffy made a picture bride, in traditional white satin. Her flowers, a casacade of white roses and gardenias were outstanding.

Following the ceremony, took note of Lt. Ernie Ashford and the Mrs. among those present. Also Wyletta Harpole and the young pride and joy of the family, and many others. By the way, Lt. and Mrs. Hill leave on the 17th for honeymoon cottage in New York . . . . Congrats are in order . . . .

CONGRATULATIONS TO:

Sam Gravely, on his graduation from the Twenty-first Class of Reserve Midshipmen as Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve. Sammie who happens to be from Virginia, took his stand with local younger setters while attending V-12 classes at UCLA. Hear that on leaving Columbia University, he will head for LA in order to enjoy the Christmas holidays with his bruin buddies.

Charlott Smith and Erline Hopkins, on being made into the Alpha Gamma Omiga, graduate chapter of the AKA's last Saturday. Both debs are graduates of Santa Barbara State and are working for masters degrees at USC.

WELL! WELL! WELL!

It was a gay hello for Rachell Isom when she arrived in town last Sunday. Rachell is taking a months vacation from her duties as student Nurse in the San Francisco Hospital . . . . Local play boy Donald Martin writes from Nashville Tennessee where he is cramming at Gupton Jones College of Mortuary Science, that he plans to enjoy his Christmas at home. By the way, he's been taken into a popular fraternity in that part of the country . . . . The Spearman twins, Ed and Ernie are separated now by the blue Pacific. Ernie is somewhere in the South Pacific, and Edward is in training at Ft. Hauchuca. If all goes well, he will be round town to enjoy the Christmas festivity . . . .

Josephine Marshall is busily working on her Hope Chest, wonder what she has in mind . . . . Anything like wedding bells . . . . Hariette Patterson Johnson leaves Sunday for Tuskegee, where she will Christmas with better half Lawrence. By the way, she will share the same Apt. with Sis (Taylor) Russell. Emma Manuel has been baking a few goodies to go long with her Eggnog. Fruit cake and plum pudding are her latest . . . . Wimpy Stanaslaus is in on furlough, and is quite the proud father, after seeing the new addition to the family circle for the first time . . .

Still enjoying herself in Florida, or maybe Chicago by now, is Bertha Nelson, who is spending an eight week vacation in different parts of the U.S. . . . The first division of the Manual Arts Tri-Y plans to do it up in grand style this year, for the sub-debbers have rented the Riverside Drive Breakfast Club as setting for their annual New Years Semi . . . . C. C. Phrateries are right in there when it comes to basket ball playing, the local feminine athletes recently defeated two teams . . . . The Wands will do a bit of light tripping comes the 16th, at the home of Clarice Rhodes . . . . David Cunningham and Clarence Dunn depart for Texas Friday . . . .

Sailor boy Julius Anderson sends his seasons greetings and best wishes for the new year from New Orleans. He is stationed at a USN Repair base and is QM. 3/c . . . . Maurice Jones is still with the Navy gents at Hampton University, Master Sgt. Artist Grant sends his greetings from the Philippines, while Sgt. Lane Cleaves and Cpl. Elton Turney send clever V-mail Christmas cards from the South Pacific . . . . TILL NEXT WEEK

G. I. GREETINGS

BRIDGE HOSTESSES—Mesdames J. H. Ammons, Charles Jones, Charles McAllister and Rutherford Sanford of the Foursome Club were the lovely hostesses on last Friday at Casa Rafael at a luncheon bridge. Daffodil Girls

We, the Daffodil Girls, wish our many friends a merry Xmas and a happy, joyous New Year. Sunday, Dec. 9th, the club met at tse home of Mrs. Laura McCloud, which was decorated in the Xmas colors. The table was laid with a cream lace tablecloth. The centerpiece was made from holly, mistletoe and pine burrs. A roast turkey dinner and all its trimmings was served. Mrs. Ollie McCoy was the honored guest. After dinner, a delightful game of cards was played. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Laura Washington, 1450 East 43rd Place, on the second Sunday in January. Mrs. Laura Washington, president; Miss Evelyn Booze, corresponding secretary; Miss Corella Hunt, reporter.

LEAVE FOR TEXAS

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe P. Parker leave Thursday for Dallas, Texas to spend the Xmas holidays with relatives.

Navy Man Back Home

Two years ago when the shortage of War Manpower was expressed so keenly, Richard J. Temple, the eldest son of Mrs. A. R. Temple and brother of Dr. Ruth J. Temple, answered the call of his country and volunteered for service in the Navy. With a group of other Los Angeles men he was sent to training camp at Great Lakes. Here he had the privilege of training under the son of the noble founder of Hampton Institute.

Mr. Temple has been known by Angelenos for his interest and ability in art. He was given the honor of doing some difficult and important painting for the Navy. His work was outstanding in this line. He was the first Negro to achieve the Naval rank of Painter 2nd Class.

Completing two years of Naval service for his country, Mr. Temple returns to his home and family with the Navy's coveted Honorable Discharge and an "Excellent Service" record.

During her father's absence, his daughter, the popular Miss Melonee Temple, also an art major of distinction, has completed U.C.L.A. with honors, taken graduate work and is now teaching Art at Carver Junior High School.

Mr. Temple said, "I am delighted to be back home with my own family and friends. But I considered it a rare privilege to give some of my best years to the service of my country in this the great hour of her need."

Olympia Council Holds Meeting

Olympia Council P.T.A. met at Lafayette Jr. High School Monday, Dec. 4. The presidents met with Mrs. C. E. Langfield, president, at 9:30 in the home economics room and were greeted by Mrs. E. L. Francis, girl's vice president and were served a brunch by Mrs. Thompson, director of Lafayette House and her girls. The conference was held in Lafayette House.

At the regular meeting, the membership chairman reported a total membership of 18,824. M. Fickeworth reported all schools in council now have their own movie projectors. On recommendation of Mrs. R. M. Fulloway, four life memberships will be given this year.

Daughter of Dr. Channing Tobias Returns To N. Y. From Coast Trip

NEW YORK—Mrs. Mary Tobias Dean, daughter of Dr. Channing Tobias, has just returned from a three weeks' trip to the Coast where in her capacity as national USO program specialist in arts and crafts, she participated in Regional Conferences.

The conferences, attended by approximately 200 USO executives, field workers and club directors, were held in Idyllwild Mountain Inn, 80 miles outside of Los Angeles, and at Ocean Lake, Oregon. Mrs. Dean addressed groups in both places, outlinging the organization's plans for intensive art programs in USO clubs.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

What is tomorrow, born of the unformed universe?
Is it a day, mixed from space, and softly
Dropped in measured hours from God's spade?
Or is it just a deeper carving
Of all the yesterday's of time
Upon the eternal sculpture?

—Margaret Henry

ACTRESS FETED ON BIRTHDAY

A highly enjoyable birthday party was tendered the talented young actress, Louise Franklin, by her mother, Mrs. Jewell Franklin on Friday evening at the family home, 752 East Adams Boulevard. A delicious buffet dinner was served, consisting of a luscious baked ham, every conceivable garnish, cocktails, and other liquid refreshments. Partaking of the delicious repast were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Segurun, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jackson, Mrs. Florence Payne, Mrs. Carmen Hatcher, Mrs. Yvette Blanchard, the Misses Avanelle Harris, Artie Young, Cleo Hayes, Alyce Keys, Stella Miles, Doris Ake, Babe Simmons, and Messrs. Jimmy Pitts, "Babyface" Roberts, Barry Barnes, Harry Levette, N. Cantrell and J. C. Nelson. Music and social chats made the evening pass all too quickly, until the last goodbyes were said, leaving the lovely honoree and the charming hostess to admire the many birthday gifts which were left by the guests.

THRIFTY HOUSEWIVES MEET

Another lovely occasion was the Thrifty Housewives' meeting on Friday night at the home of Mrs. Nicie Mann in West 37th Street. Business of the meeting was the planning of their regular annual Christmas Party, at which time the husbands of the club members are guests of honor. Famed for her knack of serving the most delectable dishes, the hostess, Mrs. Mann, served delicious Chicken ala King, fresh green peas, new potatoes, red cinnamon apple and cottage cheese salad, and holiday ice cream pie. Among those present were Mesdames Martha Jones, Lillian Eddie V. Leonard, Susie Mingleton, Ellen Rhodes, Julia Simpson, Wylma Windsor, Mary Wright, Vallie Kyle and Hattie E. Chamberlin, the club president. Guests present were Mrs. Anne McArthur, and your columnist, B. C. Some lovely handiwork was displayed by the club members, and many of the ladies present purchased various articles for Christmas gifts.

THEATRE PARTY SATURDAY

Everyone is going to the gala benefit party sponsored by The Little Theatre Guild of Los Angeles to be held at the Villa Arlington Club on Saturday, December 16. The committee in charge has promised that there will be plenty of entertainment for all—many Hollywood stars have promised to be present, and there will be a program of several outstanding star acts. The Guild, recently organized, has many plans for the future benefit of the community-at-large which should be of interest to all. Mrs. Laura Bowman, noted dramatist, was organizer of the Guild, and has been ably assisted by Leon Hardwick, Noble Sissle and Meredith Hatcher.

NEWS BRIEFS

Surprise of the week was the marriage of Maudelle Jones and Attorney E. Leonard Richardson, prominent Los Angeles legal counselor. Attorney Richardson established an enviable reputation for himself as a lawyer, in Northern California, before coming to Los Angeles about a year ago. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Grant Harris.

The regular annual presentation of "Ave Marias in Music" will take place at the Second A.M.E. Church, 43rd and San Pedro Place, Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. To witness a truly beautiful panaroma, which will lead you into the "spirit of Christmas," plan to attend this program.

"The Negro Soldier" will be shown at Victory Baptist Church, 48th and McKinley Avenue, Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. If you have missed this film, don't fail to see it Friday night. This is awonderful picture which every man, woman and child should see.

My appreciation to all the fellows whose Xmas greetings are beginning to come in from all the theatres of war. Let me assure you, I wouldn't ask for any better Xmas gift. With a reminder to all to "stay on the job, and finish the job," . . . . Cheerio.

Dinner Party Given At Clark

Mrs. Vivian Osborn-Marsh, Worthy Grand Matron of the Golden State Grand Chapter and Vice-President of the Sweet-in-Memory Club of '37, entertained her club Monday, Dec. 4th, at the Clark Hotel, with a lovely dinner party.

The special feature of the evening was the lingerie shower for Mrs. Ruth Williams, who will spend the holidays with relaitves and friends in Texas.

After the delicious dinner, the president, Mrs. Marie Sheffield, held a short meeting to start plans for the Annuaal "Open House" in January.

Beautiful place cards, designed by the hostess, Mrs. Marsh, were for Mmes. Elmire Spencer, Willa M. Cowans, Marie Sheffield, Claribel Ashcraft, Amanda Bond, Izetta Allen, and the hondree, Ruth Williams.

Mrs. Marsh proved an ideal hostess and many have expressed the wish that she, with her charming husband, make Los Angeles their home instead of Berkeley.

The most important thing for a young man is to establish a credit—a reputation, character.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Meeting Held By The WANDS

The Betty Hill Chapter of the Women's Army for National Defense held a meeting last Friday. Each one brought cans of cream for the U.S.O. and many gifts, enough for 33 boxes, which the WANDS enjoyed wrapping for wounded servicemen in the hospitals.

Many members reported volunteer work such as sheltering and feeding servicemen in the city on leaves. The Betty Hill Chapter is blessed by having the Sharp sisters, who do many great things for the uplift of humanity in whose home the chapter always meets. At the close of the meeting the Sharps served a fine lunch.

The WANDS, with the Political Study Club, is assisting in selling Christmas Seals at the Lincoln Theatre. The Chapter has great plans for a Christmas tree on December 29th.

Capt, Theola Waiters and Cpl. Marie Wright, reporters.

Catholic Societies In Joint Meeting

The Society of St. Vincent De Paul met with the Holy Name at St. Patrick Church last Sunday morning. Speakers were Judge Thomas White and Louis Tennett.

A breakfast prepared by Julius Thomas and Mrs. Tennett was enjoyed by the men. Girls of the Salecian Club headed by Mrs. Josephine Brown, did a wonderful job.

Club officers and members in addition to Mrs. Brown are: the Misses Celine Coleman, pres.; Angelo Hunter, sec't.; Laurita Alexander, vice-pres.; Sadie Scruggs, treas. Members: Misses Delores Bienvenue, Camille Vandage, Gwendolyn McKledbury, Mary Lewis, and Gertrude Scruggs. Rev. James E. Dolan is Spiritual Director and Vice-president.

The Future of American Fashions

By

Grace Fisher Atkins

Another factor for attractiveness is the facial expression. The majority of working class people go about with a frown on their faces. Home conditions caused from economic pressure is largely responsible for this.

The statistics for the present year in marriage and divorce proves the condition of the lives of families. In Los Angeles County the figure is higher than one divorce for every two marriages.

Too many individuals prefer leaving their prolems rather than solving them. The result is that the problem is never really solved but it is passed from one scene to another. Human beings are essentially alike. The understanding of one usually helps in the understanding of others. It is impossible to expect any two individuals to react differently in any marked degree under the same circumstances.

Frustration within the family unit causes neurosis to spread through each member of the family. These members further contaminate their associates wherever they go. This is especially evident in the elementary schools. The young child is the most sensitive victim of family discord. When several children are assembled under such circumstanes a grave discipine problem results. This is a major problem in the schools of the underprivileged districts in every city in the country.

The nervouse individual suffers within every physical element of his being. Many medical authorities and all psychiatric groups agree that asthma and other ellegrgic conditions are the result of nervous tensions and irritations.

The school child is a frequent victim of asthma. It is a perfect expression of nervous irritation of one kind or another. Even well regulated homes can involve a nervous tension not visivle to the average person.

A study of the menal life of the individual will contribute much to his appearance.

SEES ACTION

WITH THE U.S. THIRD ARMY IN FRANCE.—The first U.S. tank destroyer battalion made up of Negro soldiers has already seen action with Major General Harry L. Twaddle's tough 95th Infantry Division, which figured in the capture of the German fortress city of Metz.

EGG-NOG PARTY—The very elaborate Egg-Nog Party which the Chester Beizes gave on Sunday evening from 6 till 9 p. m. at their pretentious home in East 43rd Street proved to be a surprise celebration, it being their 12th Wedding Anniversary. A bevy of comely ladies attired in the season's latest creations assisted Mrs. Beize in receiving guests and dispensing hospitalities. She and her sister, Mrs. Corinne Smith, were charming in white and rose respectively, and wearing orchids. Others pictured above are Mrs. Cassie Alexander of San Diego, Cora Bettis, Odele Beize, Fannie Casmen, Hazel Allen, Rita Smith, Myrtle Williams and Miss Helen Hudson. Egg-nog and hors d'oeuvres of every description were served in the dining room, which was very attractively done in red and white blossoms. One hundred and fifty guests attended. Among the out-of-city guests were: Mrs. Cassie Alexander and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bettis of Yuma, Arizona.

Youth Clubs Will Hold Meet Dec. 17

One hundred fifty delegates from youth clubs in Los Angeles will attend a mid-winter planning conference on Sunday, December 17. The conference is being held under the auspices of four divisions of the American Youth for Democracy: college, sweethearts of servicemen, 'teen age, and young adult.

Purpose of the conference is to plan a youth activities program for the first quarter of 1945.

Skits and community singing will round out the program which is scheduled for 11 to 5 p. m. at the Park Manor auditorium, 2200 West Seventh street. The public may come as observers.

Surprise Party Given Matron

Miss Maxine McWee gave a surprise birthday party in honor of her mother, Mrs. Cordelia McWee, last Saturday at her lovely home in South Hobart Street.

Pictures were taken of the guests who spent the evening dancing and playing whist and bridge. Dainty tidbits and cocktails were served by the pleasant hostess and many lovely and useful gifts were received by the honoree. Everyone left wishing Mrs. McWee many more happy birthdays.

Present were: Robert Nelson, Dell Smith, F. E. Ficer of the Coast Guard, Dorothy M. Hayes, Arthur Berry, Mrs. Elnora Oliver of San Francisco, Beatrice Overstreet of Kansas City, William Roundtree, Ralph Smith, D. B. Butler, Mrs. Hall, J. P. Williams, N. L. Davis, L. C. Cook, Mrs. Willia Mae Battle, Master Anthony Leon Waters, R. Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. C. Waters.

How to find a LOVELIER YOU

COURT ST. USO NEWS

San Bernardine, Calif.

The Community Program Planning Committee, a group made up of representatives of various local clubs who plan programs for each Tuesday night, known as Community Night at Court Street USO, is indeed active and "on its toes." They are assisted by Miss Florence Robinson, assistant director of the club. This Tuesday night was a huge success. The movie, "The Negro Soldier," played by an all-Negro cast, was sponsored by this group, and was shown to a large and appreciative audience of servicemen and civilians. The program next week will be an old-fashioned spelling bee with all the trimmings and prizes.

Wednesday night marked the first of a series of Juke Box Dances. The servicemen and hostesses "swung out" to the latest "groovy" discs by the best of well-known recording bands.

Our regular Friday dance was extra special. The music was furnished by J. D. Greenwood, a local well-known musician. This group will play in the club regularly each Wednesday and Friday nights until further notice.

Orchids this week to the Community Planning Program Committee. They are doing a very fine job of planning and executing a splendid program on Community night Tuesday of each week at the beautiful new Court Street USO.

TO SHOW "NEGRO SOLDIER"

The much discussed war film "The Negro Soldier" will be shown at the church on Friday evening, December 15, at 8:00 o'clock. Music will be furnished by the Silvertone Quartette. Everyone is invited to come out and view this wonderful documentary film which shows just what the Negro soldier is accomplishing in this war.

Women's Ambulance Corps Holds Meet

The Women's Ambulance Defense Corps of America met Thursday night, December 7, at the Wadsworth School. We were organized on that same evening by Lt. Denson of the area staff. Drill was given by Sgt. Purnell and our own commanding officer, Lt. Anita Rey.

We were honored with a visit by the First Captain of the McKinley unit, Mrs. Alma Roudall. Another well-known trooper of the McKinley unit, Sgt. Estelle Rosencraft, presented the colors to our unit. We are still thanking her for the wonderful gift she gave us.

We are asking for women to join the Women's Ambulance Defense Corps of America.

Mounted on the saddle seats of their Bronco tractors, crack Negro machine operators of the 557th Port Company here recently participated in the first United States Army tractor convoy in France.

GEORGE GOODSON PASSES

Mr. George Goodson, formerly of New York City, the son of Mrs. Mary Tolbert of 1327 E. 51st Street, passed away. The funeral will be held Friday at 1 p. m. from Eighth and Towne Church.

Cozy Cole To Organize Band

NEW YORK (Calvin's News Service)—With "Carmen Jones" quitting Broadway in January for a road tour, two of its stars have decided to team up and make a success of their talents, Cozy Cole the musical's drummer and June Hawkins, one of its featured singers. Cozy plans to organize an 8 piece band with June as vocalist. They will be under personal management of Freddie Fulton.

Cozy will be remembered as drummer with Cab Calloway's ork from '39 to '42; Raymond Scott's musical outfit, '43 and then "Carmen Jones, '44. He's made guest appearances on Kate Smith's Hour and the "Hall of Fame" program. Cozy has recorded exclusively for name bands. They include Benny Goodman, Bennie Carter, Teddy Wilson, Paul Whiteman, Artie Shaw, Lionel Hampton and Harry James.

June, too, has made quite a name for herself. From St. Paul, Minnesota, she was alternate bass in Broadway's "Porgy and Bess," star of an MGM screen test and Decca recording artist. In her best "Carmen" scene, she sings a drum song in a tight purple suit and fancy hat as Myrt in a cafe before Carmen appears in the scene. She was both actress and singer in the role.

Cozy Cole and June Hawkins should make a good twosome, both having been "exposed" to what the public enjoys by appearing in the musical hit nightly. Fulton has booked them for one-night stands until the show closes, then he hopes to book them in a Manhattan nightclub.

MISS RHAPSODY—One of the greatest of women blues singers is "Miss Rhapsody" or old daughter, Yvonne. Miss Rhapsody wrote the songs "Bye, Bye Baby Blues" and "My Lucky Day" which have been recorded by her. (Calvin's News Service)

Duke Ellington To Appear At Carnegie Hall, December 19

NEWYORK, N.Y.—The famous Duke of Swing, Edward Ellington, gave Harlem a preview of what it's going to be like down to Carnegie Hall, December 19, when he makes his third appearance. Favorites like "Do Nothing Till You Hear From Me," and his own version of "Frankie and Johnny" were included on the program which starred comedian Dusty Fletcher, at the Apollo Theater last week.

Wini Johnson, one of his featured vocalists, was missing the night we reviewed the show. Duke's other vocalists were not up to Ellington standards. Ever since Ivy Anderson left the mike, Duke has had many singers, but none of them ever equalled Ivy.

XMAS JAMBOREE AT LINCOLN BALLROOM DEC. 25

3 Bands To Play Ctinuous Music for Dancing 10 Hours

A grand Xmas Jamboree is scheduled for Christmas Day, Derember 25th, at the beautiful Lincoln Auditorium or Ballroom, 2039 Lincoln Park Avenue at Mission Road, it was announced this week by Leon Heflin, one of the managers of the spacious dance palace.

Lincoln Ballroom will be THE place for your Xmas enjoyment to the fullest. For you who love dancing there will be three bands on the stand that day and there will be continuous dancing from 3 p. m. until 1 a. m., in other words, ten hours of tripping the light fantastic. Who could ask for anything more? One of the features of this incomparable entertainment spot is the 100 foot bar where you may be refreshed between dance numbers. There is also a luxurious upstairs lounge where you may sit comfortably with the boy or girl friend for a chat.

Don't forget the Xmas Jamboree while planning for your Christmas Day fun, three bands, ten hours of continuous dancing. On New Year's Day, January 1, 1945, the Lincoln Ballroom management will again feature three bands and 10 hours of dancing from 3 p. m. to 1 a. m. Plan to spend Xmas and New Year's Day at this beautiful new dance spot.

Associated with Mr. Leon Heflin in the management of the Auditorium is William Heflin and Joe Moralas.

★★ CANDID COMMENTS ★★

GIPSONETTE:

They say there can be no going back,
And if we turned into the lane,
Seeking the ways we used to know,
We'd find so much of pain
That all along the once-loved path
We'd meet our own regret,
And find it far more bitter
Than what we've known as yet.
They say there can be no going back,
I do not think they lie,
Yet how can we ever know for sure
Unless . . . someday . . . we try?

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK

Earl Graves one of the nicer fellows we know, and who is now the Asst. manager of the New Morris Hotel will choo-choo to Chicago to take over the complete management of "The Hotel Pershing." 'Tis said this hotel is fast becoming one of the swankiest hotels for Negroes in the city of Chi. It is equipped with 200 rooms and baths, night-club in basement and cocktail lounge on the mezzanine, he's a grand guy and deserves the break . . . good luck fellow. Has been said more than once that Leonard Reed is our type of guy to have for a M.C. . . . now emceeing the show at Lincoln Theater and just in case you didn't know . . . he's a good producer of shows too. . . .

In our adopted dads' column (Walter Winchell) . . . O.K., O.K. he mentioned the Hazel Scott-Clayton Powell romance . . . understand his Harlem flock will not demand him to resign his pastorate because of his love for Hazel Scott . . . Pert and pretty Thelma Carpenter of Count Basie's band whose voice is as soft as the glow of altar candles got engaged to "Buddy Moore" ex-Golden Gloves champion, now a policeman . . . Earl "Fatha" Hines now at Downtown theater in Chi—where he followed the Duke (who is to be here around the first of the year) took him . . . 'tis rumored . . . one of the Angel cities loviest "Little Janie" who is to be featured as the bands vocalist . . . well whadda you know . . . The King Cole (my fave) Trio are trying to make it back to the coast by Xmas . . . Last week John Lee of the Eagle staff asked a lovely little deb if he could accompany her to church Sunday morning . . . her retort was "she would be unable to attend that particular Sunday" . . . "oh well," Lee replied . . . "let's go out and spend a spiritual evening Saturday night" . . . Those of you who had any peculiar ideas about Joe Louis and Marva being all set for a divorce court can stop your gossiping now, 'cause they're just like two peas in a pod and thicker than two coats of paint (So dear readers will you be so kind as to let Joe and Marva rest for awhile?) . . . Wynonnie Harris still stars in Charlie Glenn's "Broadway Review" at Rhumboogie in Chicago . . . "Snookie" who accompanied T. Bone from the Rhumboogie in Chi. and who is now at Joe Morris' Club Plantation clicks quite solidly with some fine interpretative dances, he's no Bill Baily or Bill Robinson (what dancer is?) but he is definitely one of the best of the crop of hoofers now on the coast . . . Caught a glimpse of Velma Miles who has been confined for quite some time, causing a lull in traffic as she displayed that "pepsodent smile" . . . Happen to be listening to the radio program "Money on the Line" when much to our surprise musician "Sammy Franklin" dealt out with a little tune on the program and although Sammy couldn't get that $150.00 (which was a natural to get) he did win $7.00. . . .

Pvt. John Kinloch (our editor's nephew) dropped us a line from overseas telling us how much the fellows enjoy reading our "Candid Comments" . . . thanks a lot fellows . . . hope you will continue to enjoy reading it . . . We hear Watson Jones appeared before the athletic commission

"Wander Inn" On Bob Burns Show Tonight

If fan mail and phone calls from colored radio listeners pour in as plentifully as they should to station KFI, tomorrow, it will be convinced that its sepia audience appreciates new opportunities opened for artists of their race. For as the guests of the famous comedian Bob Burns, "Wander Inn," a brand new specially written radio continuity will make its debut on his program tonight.

With Earl Hines orchestra on the musical end the cast includes some of the finest artists of radio, stage and screen. Headed by Carter and Mantan Moreland, famous vaudeville team currently a hit in Universal's "Bowery to Broadway," the rest of the cast is as follows: June Richmond, Lillian Randolph, Butterfly McQueen and the Melotone Quartet.

NEW YORK . . . (Calvin's News Service) . . . ANT OFFERS "WALK HARD" . . . Two hits in a row couldn't be expected even of the American Negro Theatre, though they played "Walk Hard" for all they were worth at the Library Theatre last Thursday night . . . They have given us "Anna Lucasta, their last season's hit and John Wildberg's current money-maker on Broadway, and that was about all from the Negro Theatre for a while. . . . However, "Walk Hard" presents a problem; it is a race play. . . . It deals with a dark youngster (Roy Allen) who bitterly resents the slightest indignant remark towards his people. . . . A series of incidents take you into the boxing field where you meet the people and adventure through a realistic world. . . .

"Walk Hard" is taken from the novel, "Walk Hard, Talk Loud," by Len Zinberg. As "Anna Lucasta," the new ANT production was written by a white man. Its Negro director, Abt Hill, staged it. . . . He is trying desperately to build a real Negro theatre in Harlem and, even with its many obstacles, if carefully guided we are sure it will pull through and realize success. . . .

THE ROVING REPORTER:

Mabel Fairbanks, 20, only professional Negro iceskater, will have to stay off the ice for two weeks . . She was accidentally cut on the leg by a fellow skater at the old World's Fair grounds . . 4 stitches were taken . . Her most serious accident, some time ago, kept her away from her prized Olympia Blades six months . . . .

Jean Parks, 20 year old band leader, is excited over her new duties, opens at the Apollo for the first time December 15th . . From Cleveland ,she is the sister of Henry G. Parks, associated with Marva Louis' manager, William B. Graham . . Now at the Apollo is sultry, soothing Billie Holliday, Hot Lips Page and ark with m.c. and tappist Johnny Gardner . . .

Ruby Berkley Goodwin, Calvin's Hollywood writer, has a Christmas gift edition of her dramatic poem "A Gold Star Mother Speaks . . "Sweet and Low Down," a 20th Century Fox musical, has a cute part in it when a youngster tells Benny Goodman why he adores Count Basie and Art Tatum . . His jive language astonished even BG!

Frank Sinatra will record "Basie Blues" with the Count's ork . . . Auditions for singers for "Troubled Island" will be held after Christmas by Leopold Stokowski . . Music is by our William Grant Still . . Dean Dixon comes to Carnegie Hall conducting the debut of his American Youth Orchestra with Vivian Rivkin as soloist Dec. 16th . . . .

D. Dixon Appears With Youth Ork at Carnegie Hall Saturday

NEW YORK—With accent on the moderns through not neglecting the classics, the American Youth Orchestra, under Dean Dixon, conductor, will make its debut appearance in a concert at Carnegie Hall, Saturday evening, Dec. 16, giving young people, both Negro and white, a chance to play and hear good music of their own making.

Orchestra programs will be divided between the old and new: young composers will be given an opportunity to have their compositions heard, soloists will be encouraged from within the orchestra and request compositions of listeners as well as those of orchestra players will be honored. Vivian Rivkin, brilliant young American pianist will appear as soloist playing the Mozart E-flat Major Concerto (Kochel 482) in the first concert by the orchestra.

Sponsors of the American Youth Orchestra are: Bruno Walter, Yehudi Menhuin, Gregor Piatigorsky, Wilfrid Pelletier, Paul Robeson, Aaron Copland, Mrs. Charles Guggenheimer, Oscar Hammerstein, II; Henry Simon, M. Lincoln Schuster, Leonard Bernstein, Fannie Hurst, Magistrate Anna M. Kross and many other prominent musicians and music lovers.

Because Dean Dixon, well known Negro conductor who has appeared with the New York Philharmonic and Philadelphia orchestras, believed that a youth orchestra can serve as one of the means of combatting juvenile delinquency, he organized the American Youth Orchestra. "Giving young people an opportunity to play programs of their own choice at the same time directing their musical interests to good compositions, whether they are classic or modern, can become a strong weapon in the fight against the waste of youth's energies and at the same time bring good music to the American community," says Mr. Dixon.

National Leaders Endorse Film and Radio Guild

Announcing the launching of its organization as an officially incorporated body, the Interracial Film and Radio Guild, has received the endorsement of many outstanding national leaders.

The first two, out of one hundred well known individuals who have endorsed the Guild's program and consented to become members of the National Advisory Board, are George Schuyler, New York editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, and Adam Clayton owell, Jr., minister of the famous Abyssinia Baptist Church and Congressman-elect from New York.

The organization has established headquarters at 3835 Wilshire Boulevard, Los Angeles. Heading the Board of Directors, as its chairman, is Norman C. Houston, secretary-treasurer of the Golden State Life Insurance Company.

M. Moreland Signs Again With Monogram

Mantan Moreland, colored comedian, has been signed to a new Monogram two-year contract, bringing his total period of affiliation with the studio to eight years. Moreland's first contract with Monogram began in July, 1938.

The comedian's first activity under the new agreement is a loanout role in "Tugboat Annie's Son," Republic release being producted by James S. Burkett.

Club Unique To Sponsor Dance

Tickets are now on sale for a dance sponsored by the Club Unique to be held at Shepp's Playhouse, Sunday, December 17, from 3 to 7 p. m. Have you purchased yours?

While this club is not a charitable organization in name, it uses its funds to aid many worthy causes in this city, some of which are the A.W.V.S., Boys' Home, Outdoor Life and Health Association.

Good music and plenty of entertainment.

Members are: Winona Martin, president; Marie Boykin, vice-presidennt; Maggie Pickett, recording secretary; Anne Wheeler, treasurer; Gladys Wright, corresponding secretary; Mignon Braxton, business manager; Ellen Smith, social hostess; Marjorie Bailey, Club Buyer, Marguerite Chapman, Critic; Dewitter Jolivette, Ora Solomon and Eva Wallace Gordon.

Lana Turner Stars In United Artists Film

MGM's "MARRIAGE IS A PRIVATE AFFAIR" starring Lana Turner achieves the notable distinction of providing bright, intriguing entertainment while dealing with a serious problem in human relationship, and is now playing at the United Artists Theatre, 933 So. Broadway, downtown Los Angeles.

Universal tosses a flock of younger talent, headed by Peggy Ryan and Ann Blyth, into the second entertaining film, "BABES ON SWING STREET."

For resounding film entertainment, don't miss "MARRIAGE IS PRIVATE AFFAIR" plus "BABES ON SWING STREET" now playing United Artists Theatre, downtown Los Angeles.

Bar Millions Of African Negroes From the Movies

A practically virgin market with tremendous profits for producers and exhibitors awaits Hollywood in Africa. With a population considerably larger than the United States, Africa has only 991 motion picture theaters with a total seating capacity of 559,382 persons. At the beginning of this year, the United States had a total of 17,919 theaters capable of seating 11,700,789.

It is a fact that the overwhelming majority of Africa's 150,000,000 people have never seen a motion picture. It is also true that in certain sections of Africa, the natives are not even permitted to attend motion picture showings. I was shocked out of my seat to read in a recent bulletin issued by the Motion Picture Unit of the U. S. Department of Commerce that "the 14,000,000 natives of the Belgian Congo and Ruanda-Urundi are not allowed to attend motion pictures except for very occasional special showings."

"It is not proper to mix editorial stuff with a news story, I know, but war is a rough business that changes a lot of rules. So, I must say this to you back home: Blood plasma is the difference between certain death in some stinking mud hole and a chance for life for American soldiers here, white and black.

"The Germans' artillery, their buzz bombs, their rocket bombs, their terrible 88's, their mortar and their small arsm fire are fine democratic institutions. No segregation. They don't care whether we're American GI's white as snow, or black as the ace of spades.

"The hospitals here are a patchwork of agonized faces—all complexions. We need the blood plasma. Please send it to us. On the double."

Mabel Massengill In Recital Sunday

When Mabel Massengill, soprano, sings in benefit recital at the Wilshire Ebell Theatre this Sunday, works of the old masters, modernist composers and arrangements of the Negro spirituals will be heard.

The well chosen group of spirituals consist of "Ride On Jesus" by Dett, "Steal Away" by Burleigh and "My Soul's Been Anchored in the Lord" by Florence Price.

Elizabeth Proehl is accompanist.

PROPOSE WADING POOL

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (ANP)—A recreational project in the form of a wading pool is reported to have been proposed recently by the City Federation of Colored Women's clubs. The wading pool project will be located in the Eureka playground.

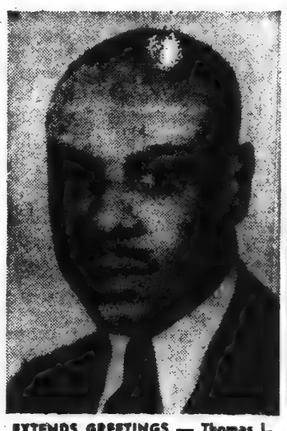
FINAL SERMON—The Rev. Jonathan A. Dames, the Minister of First A. M. E. Church of Pasadena who has recently been appointed pastor of the historic Bethel A. M. E. Church in Detroit, Michigan, will be preaching his farewell sermon at Pasadena on Sunday morning, December 17th.

Rev. Dames and family will be leaving Pasadena on Monday, the 18th, for Detroit. Rev. Dames will be succeeding the late Dr. Wm. H. Peck who pastored this congregation for 16 years.

PASSES AT 130 — Mrs. Anise Brown, a true pioneer in California, whose antecedents were among the first Negro families to settle in this sate, passed recently at the age of 130. The late Mrs. Brown settled in Los Angeles in 1878, and recalled on occasions, that she had slept under trees with Mexican and Indian settlers when it was necessary to get water and sparks for fires from the rocks. Later she lived at 1st and Hill, now a thriving business center, but then the center of the city. The deceased was a resident of Downey for 49 years, and she was a faithful member of Saints Home Church of God. Surviving are three sons, four daughters, 14 grandchildren, 13 grandchildren and a host of friends.

West's Only Women Owned Pharmacy Fetes Anniversary

Two women operate one of the most successful, well-managed and popular pharmacies on the coast. This is the L. and W. Parmacy on the northeast corner of 16th and Griffith Avenue, in the heart of a manufacturing and residential district. The ladies are Miss Moselle Lewis and Mrs. Halen Williams.



Beginning on Dec. 22, the two genial, progressive and appreciative proprietors are celebrating their tenth anniversary, in a week of gala welcome to old and new friends whose cooperation has made them successful. A fine pre-Christmas turkey dinner will be served on the 22nd, and souvenirs and gifts for every member of the family will be presented to all who partake of the L. and W. hospitality.

The store is one of the best stocked in the city. Besides a plentiful supply of fresh drugs for their carefully compounded prescriptions, they have all kinds of toiletries, cosmetics and sundries. As a further willing service to the community they pay utility bills of all kinds for busy workers, supply postal money orders, etc. Needless to say, they have the highest respect of the residents and business folk over a wide area. Their fountain lunch with its hot and cold drinks and home-cooked pastries served neatly, quickly and courteously, is a treat. Even to a stranger a visit to the business establishment owned by these ladies is a real inspiration.

SEASON'S GREETINGS
From

2204 S. Central Ave.,
Los Angeles, Calif.

May the peace and goodwill that is associated with the season remain with us through the coming year and bring us through strife to a lasting peace so that the nations of the world may be united in a firmer fellowship for the glory of God and the good of all mankind.

EXTENDS GREETINGS — Thomas L. Griffith Jr., prominent attorney, who in his capacity as president of the Los Angeles NAACP took occasions of appreciation from the organization which he heads, to the CALIFORNIA EAGLE, on the celebration of its 65th ANNIVERSARY. Pointing out that he Eagle has served he cause of equal opportunity for all with outstanding courage, Attorney Griffith expressed the hope that its work would continue for many more years.

Brothers Meet In Marianas

SOMEWHERE IN THE MARIANAS (Delayed)—Marine Private Clarence Francis was visited by his brother, Navy Steward's Mate First Class Lyles Joseph Francis, when the ship on which Lyles is stationed called here.

Private Francis is a member of one of the first Negro Marine units to see action. His company was commended by Maj. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd, Jr., for its "excellent work" during the invasion of Guam.

Until this reunion, the brothers had not seen each other since they enlisted.

JACK CHASE WINS STATE LIGHT-HEAVY TITLE

Thomas-Zurita Match Signed For February 27 at Olympic

It was announced Tuesday that the Olympic Auditorium through its matchmaker, Babe McCoy, had signed the most important match of the year or rather the beginning of next year, when John Thomas, clever West Coast lightweight, was inked to contest for the world's title (N.B.A.) now held by Juan Zurita of Mexico City.

The bout, a 15-rounder, will be staged at the Grand Ave. Punch Palace on Feb. 27. It will be the first meeting between the two fighters.

Zurita won the crown here last spring from Sammy Angott. Thomas is rated one of the nation's outstanding challengers.

Ken Washington and Buddy, Jackie Robinson, Play Sunday

Jackie Robinson and Kenny Washington will be together again in the same backfield for the first time since they were the terrors of western football at U.C.L.A. in 1939!

Jackie Robinson and Kenny Washington—assisted by Andy Marefos, Earl Elsey, big Ezzert Anderson and the entire star-studded roster of the San Francisco Clippers—against the undefeated Hollywood Rangers!

This is the smash gridiron offering setup for next Sunday at Gilmore Stadium when Robinson agreed to leave for San Francisco with Washington to join the American League All-Stars and Clippers who will meet Bill Sargent's Rangers in the Shrine charity Pro Bowl game.

TO INVADE COAST—Jack Charles, above, who is managed by Paul Gray of New Orleans, and who will arrive in California in January, is rated as the best heavyweight prospect in the South. Charles scales 200 and is extremely fast. Eddie Burbridge, Sports Editor of the California Eagle, is seeking bouts for Charles, who bars no heavyweight in the country.

CONCERNING THE RECENT THOMAS-MORAN DRAW

One of the judges of the recent John Thomas-Nick Moran bout which ended in a draw, namely Frankie Dolan, who failed to turn in a card, said last Friday that the Boxing Commission had ordered all judges as referees not to turn in cards for publication.

He said that he kept a card with Thomas 55½ and Moran 54½ but he thought the bout close and exercised the commission's perogative of calling the bout a draw. The other judge called Thomas the winner while the referee also called the battle even.

Lord, what a change within us one short hour
Spent in Thy presence will avail to make!
What heavy burdens from our bosoms take!
What parched grounds refresh as with a shower!

QM Company In Belgium

WITH THE FIRST U. S. ARMY AT THE GERMAN BORDER—A few miles behind the lines of battle in this area, back in a Belgium town, a Negro Quartermaster Service Company is engaged in instructing Belgians in the proper handling of vital American Army supplies, as Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First Army continues the all-out thrust into the heart of Germany.

The unit is a part of a battalion and operates on the Meuse River, as well as at the depot farther along the front.

6 Cage Teams To Battle for Honors At "Y"

In what is slated to be the first real test of the current season, six local basketball teams will battle it out for top honors on Friday evening at the 28th street Y.M.C.A.

The first game will get underway at seven p.m. when the Lowa Auxiliary, an all girl team, led by Alice Quon, faces the Challengers Girl Team, sparked by Ruth Ford and Helen Atkins. Shepp's Playhouse Team, with Leonard Reed, of stage fame, leading the way, will come up against John Moses and his Avalon Community Center Team in the second game. The feature game of the evening will follow when the Lincoln Memorial Congregational Church Comets attempt to prove that they have a better team than the Y.M.C.A. Varsity.

This will be the first real test of the season for all competing teams and will give some indication of how they will do in the Y-Community league which is set to get underway after the first of January.

John Hensley, coach of the 2Y8 Varsity, has been whipping his men into shape for the past week and announces that his team will be in fop condition for this grudge battle. The Comets have maintained their team throughout the year and may have some advantage over the Y men in that they played together all last season.

The newly organized Y's Men's Club will sponsor the evening's activities. Toussaint Jennings, Dr. Frank Zetar, Halley Harding, Alvin Nicholson, Roger Willis and William M. Jones form the Activity Committee.

Zenit Wins By T.K.O.

Raoul Zenit, 138, 20-year old Mexico City fighter, scored a sixth round technical kyo over Eddie Hudson, 134, at Hollywood Legion Stadium in their scheduled 10-round main event last Friday night, referee Bennie Whitman stopping the battle after Zenit and Hudson had butted heads sutaining cuts. Because Zenit was ahead on points at the time he war awarded the due.

Bobby Jackson, 131, knocked out Pee Wee Lewis, 125½, 2 minutes 57 seconds in the third of the scheduled 6-round semiwindup.

In the other matches Alonzo Williams, 165, decisioned Al Williams, 155; Bob Ferris, 150, TKOd Doll Nelson, 152, in the second; Fidel Aguilar, 128½, decisioned Stanley Jamison, 129½, and Allan Arnett, 171, TKOd Tony Anderson, 172, in the first.

BOXING BRIEFS

ELI GALINDO, 119, defeated Jorge Robles, 119, in 10 rounds at Ocean Park Arena Monday night. On the same card, Al Williams, 160, beat Jackie Cooper, 156, and Benny Cousins, 112 decisioned Mickey Rome, 116.

BOSTON—A 10-round bout between Elmer Ray and Johnny White of Jersey City scheduled for today (Thursday) was postponed until December 28th when it was revealed that Ray had injured his hand in training.

DUE HERE—Johnny Marble, the kid pictured above, is an 18-year-old schoolboy hailing from New Orleans, La., who possesses dynamite in both hands. He is rated a better prospect than "Young" Richard Polite who came here from that city several years ago to make a name for himself. Marble, who scales 150 lbs., is due here is January with his manager, Paul Gray, who will also bring a good heavyweight, named Jack Charles. Both will campaign in California rings.

Displaying cunning and using a sharp left hand, Jack Chase, former California State middleweight champion, won the light-heavyweight title of the State before 3000 fans Tuesday night at the Olympic Auditorium by gaining a unanimous 15-round decision over Watson Jones, who had won the crown a month ago from Fitzie Fitzpatrick by a one round kayo. It was Jones first defense of the championship. Jones weighed 173 to 162½ for Chase.

The fight was dull in spots with Chase showing plenty caution and Jones displaying none of the dynamite he has exhibited in former bouts. It may have been the smartness of Chase which prevented Watson from looking his best. At the end of the bout Chase bore a swollen left eye while Jones was unmarked.

The scheduled 6-round semiwindup ended quickly when Ray Acosta, 170, kayoed Sgt. Gaston Miller, 171, in the first heat. In a blistering four that stole the show, Johnny Briscoe, 205, and Artis Mack, 190, battled to a draw. Other fours found Alonzo Williams drawing with Willie Collins, Dave Barrios stopping Pee Wee Swingler in two rounds and Bob Hawkins drawing with Sidney Franklin.

PLAYS SUNDAY—Kenny Washington, above, former great U.C.L.A. gridman, will be seen in action Sunday at Gilmore Stadium in Hollywood when he plays with the San Francisco Clippers pro team against the undefeated Hollywood Rangers. His former team mate Jackie Robinson will be in the backfield with Kenny, the first time since 1939 when they were the terrors of the west. Washington has been playing brilliant football during this pre season.

Touch Football Season Ends, Awards to Be Given Winners

Winding up a successful touch football season, players from the seventeen teams participating in the Eastside Athletic Association football league will gather at Carver Junior High School this Thursday evening, December 14th. Henry Armstrong has geen invited to speak, sports films will be shown and awards will be made to the members of the winning teams.

Medals given to the Association by the Ben Bowie Post of the American Legion, will be awarded to the Royal Squires, winning team in the Junior league, and to the Clippers, top Senior team. The Little Foxes and the Royal Knights, tied for second in the Junior division, will also receive rewards.

The coaches of all teams have been advised to inform their teams as to the time and place of the affair.

Thursday evening's program will serve also as the send off for the basketball league; plans for which are almost complete. All coaches who have not sent in rosters of players are asked to do so at once. Please send all filled rosters or requests for application blanks to either Mr. Samuel McCalister, Ross Snyder Playground, 1501 E. 41st St., or Mr. Wesley Lyons, Carver Junior High School, 885 E. 45th st.

YEAGER VS. MORAN

Bobby Yeager, who lost to Nick Moran recently, will again tackle that battler at Hollywood Legion Stadium on December 29th.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

DID YA KNOW?—Paul Gray, smart manager of fighters from New Orleans, La. (my home-town, don't laugh), is due here about the first of January with Jack Charles, a shifty heavyweight, and Johnny Marble, 18-year-old middleweight, whom he says is a terror. Paul, who probably never heard about Al Hart, intends to clean out the heavy division on the Coast, and also the middleweight ranks — he has heard of Charley Burley. This scribe is handling the matching of these two boys while Paul is preparing for the trip. Any takers? . . . Sgt. Joe Louis is in New York City to do a new kind of job for the Sixth War Loan effort. He will referee a bout between two G. I. boxers on the War Bond card at the Broadway Arena. Admission will be by war bond purchase only and a capacity crowd paying at least $1,250,000 is assured. . . . Chalky Wright, former world's featherweight champion, of Los Angeles, was soundly thrashed again by Willie Pep, feather champ, N. Y. version, in a Xmas Fund show recently. . . . In Southern League basketball last Friday, Washington Hi defeated Fremont, 25-23, and Roosevelt won over Manual Arts, 28-23. . . . Claude (Buddy) Young, Illinois University's touchdown wizard, was selected as a back on the second team of the Associated Press' All-American team. . . . It seems to this Scribe that Buddy, who tied the touchdown record of Red Grange for one season, should have made the first team. All we can say is that the guys who closed him out must play a lot of football. . . . A release from the U. S. Army Signal Corps says that Al Hart, the heavyweight who flattened Turkey Thompson and Harold Blackshear, in one round each, wants a shot at his friend Joe Louis after the war, provided they are not both old men. All we can say is that Al could have picked on somebody else besides Joe. We like Al. . . . Rumor has it that Watson Jones is battling with his manager Al McCoy and that Watson may become a member of the George Moore fight stable in the near future.

THANKS to all youse Guys and Gals who cheered me with your phone calls and visits during my illness last week. Old Man Flu had me down, but I closed him out.

INDOOR SPORTS—Last Saturday night during the rush of business at the Margol Cafe, located near 52nd and Central, a guy rushes into the joint (or should I say establishment) and yells what appears to be, "Merry Christmas, Merry Christmas!" From their joint bowl of chili where they were saving expenses by using two spoons in the same bowl, Arthur Jarvis and Johnny Reeves, the startled proprietors, looked up in amazement, knowing full well that Xmas was still a good sixteen days away. Gathering his courage Arthur approached the guy and asked mildly, "What's the idea, fellow? Xmas isn't here yet." "I'm looking for my old lady, man—her name is Mary Christmas," yelled the frantic guy. "Mary Christmas, Mary Christmas!" That did it. Arthur walked back to the chili only to find that Johnny, inspired by the handicap allowed him, had cleaned the bowl.

Cleo Shans To Meet Mike Delia At Hollywood

Cleo Shans, Brawley, California lightweight, will meet Mike Delia in the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. oBth boys were formerly managed by Henry Armstrong.

Shans and Delia both have been featured in bouts at New York's Madison Square Garden and a lively battle is in prospect for Filmland fans.

TO ALL ON-SALE APPLICANTS

Section 21 of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act provides in part as follows:

"All applicants for on-sale licenses shall, within five (5) days after filing their application with the Board, cause a notice of such application giving the name or names of the applicant and the premises where the business is to be conducted, to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city in which such premises are situated, or if such premises are not in a city then such publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation nearest the premises where the business is to be conducted. The form of such notice shall be prescribed by the Board. Affidavit of publication shall be filed with the Board prior to the issuance of any license."

Your particular attention is called to the fact that the newspaper in which notice of intention is published must qualify as a NEWSPAPER OF GENERAL CIRCULATION AS DEFINED IN SECTION 4460 of the Political Code of California.

The form of notice prescribed by the Board is as follows:

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ENGAGE IN THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES
November 24, 1944

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that fifteen days after the above date, the undersigned proposes to sell alcoholic beverages at these premises, described as follows: 3228 South Central Ave., Los Angeles, 11.

Pursuant to such intention, the undersigned is applying to the State Board of Equalization for issuance of an alcoholic beverage license (or licenses) for these premises as follows: On sale beer only.

Anyone desiring to protest the issuance of such license may file a verified protest with the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, California, stating grounds for denial as provided by law.

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

NNC Survey Shows Need For Support Of CIO Resolution

NEW YORK, N.Y.—Greeting the statement of the CIO Convention in regard to Negroes in industry, that "the gains . . . achieved must not be lost in the post-war," Miss Dorothy K. Funn, Labor Secretary of the National Negro Congress, declared recently that definite steps are needed to carry this resolution into practice.

"In each industry," Miss Funn declared, "special measures should be undertaken by labor and management, as needed, after surveying the precise status of Negro employees affected by possible employment cutbacks."

Miss Funn indicated much careful and accurate planning must be done in order to prevent pre-war discriminations from reappearing in the post-war period.

Antique Art Club Meets

The December meeting of the Antique Art Club was held at the home of Mrs. Sara Patterson at 218 orth Alvarado street recently. Plans were made for their annual Christmas party which is to be held at the Villa Arlington this year.

A delicious turkey dinner was served after the meeting was adjourned.

AVALON USO News

The following clubs are Avalon U.S.O. groups that act as Canteen Hostesses during the Xmas holiday season:

December 16—Thrifty Women Club; Buffalo, Div. Auxiliary 532.

December 17—Combined Soror

December 17—Combined Sororities (A.K.A., Delta and Zeta).

December 18—Native Daughters, Kansas Club.

December 20—Married Ladies Art Guild, Sojurner Truth.

Dec. 21—W.C.T.U. (Esther Union Club); Dorie Miller Club and Narcissus.

December 22—Girl Friends Regular Friday Canteen.

December 23—Up and Doing Club, Booster Club Homemakers.

This information is printed for specification and clarification of dates, and not meant for Individual Canteen women who are assigned to their special days and are expected to be at the U.S.O. during their time.

At the end of September, 701,678 Negroes were carried on Army rolls, the War Department reported. In the seven-month period between February 29, 1944 and September 30, 1944, the Negro strength increased 37,612.

In Recital At 2nd Baptist

VIRGINIA PARIS

Virginia Paris, mezzo soprano, will be presented in recital at the Second Baptist Church, 24th and Griffith avenue in Los Angeles, Thursday evening, 8:30 p.m., December 21, in the auditorium of the church. She will be presented by Mrs. Harriette Henderson, wife of the minister, Dr. J. Raymond Henderson, for the benefit of the Educational Scholarship Fund to be administered by the Second Baptist Church for the purpose of assisting worthy young people in their educational pursuits.

Rated as the most outstanding musical attraction of the Christmas season, this recital is Mrs. Paris' first appearance in Los Angeles in three years. She sings in Italian, German, French, and English. Recently she sang with such success at the "Hollywood Canteen" that her voice was recorded for overseas broadcasts. Accompanying Mrs. Paris at the piano will be Sonia Lubin.

For information call the Second Baptist Church's office, PR. 69066. Patron tickets $2.20. General admission $1.00.

Fourth Birthday Feted With Party

Little Tommy Clarke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Clarke, Jr., was host to a group of his little friends on the occasion of his fourth birthday recently.

The table was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif. Present were: Malcolm and Sandra Carter, Everett Jones, Donald and Arlene Brackeen, Walter Barbee, the three Rucker sisters, Ernest and Gloria J. Clarke, Eugene and Elaine Adams, the Pettibone sisters, Tommy Shears, Constance Slack, John Burnett, Myrna Carter and Helen Clarke, sisters of Tommy.

W. J. Wheaton Says . . .

thoughtful people of the nation will have to combat. That is the element that seeks to minimize the educational advantage of certain groups. To place barriers in the economic spheres of a decent standard of living and keep them in a condition of beggarly existence.

Yet, there is one silver streak in the dark sky. It is the trend of public opinion to relegate that element from public life. One of the darkest spots is the trend of some elements in organized labor to assume that racial supremacy attitude through the segregation of racial groups. Labor must recognize the fact, and it is a FACT, that there can be no progress where there is not unanimity.

Just as soon as LABOR walks shoulder to shoulder and allows the same opportunity for others that it would seek for itself, then, and not until then, will labor find its place in the sun and march on to a victorious end. Labor must realize that it cannot be successful when it seeks to ignore the potency of one-tenth of its group.

If the plea of that one-tenth for a full recognition of the rights of labor are ignored and labor insists on the Hitler idea that there is a racial supremacy. If that one-tenth is denied the right to apply their skill as artisans as well as the less skilled trades, and the protests of men, who fight for real citizenship, as well as the right to live, are denied them, labor can never hope to reach its goal.

And here is where universal military training will groove into the picture. Every youngster will have the opportunity of choosing that which will best fit into his future and make him a better citizen.

CHARACTER VS. REPUTATION

Reputation is what people think you are. Your character is what God knows about you. Reputation is what you are on the outside, your front, your display to others. Character is what you are on the inside.

Your reputation may be blackened but your character can never be touched. Little minds are watchful of their reputations. Great minds are mindful of their characters. Remember that reputation endures and is changeless. Reputation may rise on money but character rests on true worth.

E. E. Dear Sir: Your interesting letter received the other day and it found me pretty blue. But after I read your letter through my spirits began to rise. For you informed me of some very good news and it certainly cheered me up. I am looking for another of your good letters, for they help me shoulder this burden I have since my husband went into the service.

S. M. D. Does he love me?

Ans. A careful anaylsis of your question indicates the fact that your friends thinks a great deal of you and misses you very much. Dismiss your doubts and suspicions for he is indeed true to you.

G. M. T. What can I do to improve my condition?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate you're attaining the goal you have in mind regarding your school work. Do not become discouraged when things go wrong, for you have the ability to succeed in your endeavors, you just need to apply yourself a little more diligently.

M. T. Will I find my watch?

Ans. Probing into the matter I find that you dropped your watch sometime ago and I am sorry to say I don't vision your getting it back. You waited too long to trace it. The clasp was loose; be sure that the next one you wear has a safety-catch.

B McK Dear Sir: I certainly enjoy reading your column every week and would like for you to advise me regarding this matter: How many more children am I going to have?

Ans. Your question is a medical one, and I suggest your consulting your family doctor at your earliest convenience.

PUZZLED. What can I do to get out of this rut?

Ans. I find that you have never managed your finances properly. You continue to assume obligations that you know you cannot handle. Thus you get further and further in debt. To start the New Year off right, why not try and clear as many of these bills as you can, and then do not start any more until you have paid ALL of the old ones up.

C. W. J. Where did my stepson go? What caused him to leave? How will my business come out?

Ans. Only one question is answered in the column; if you write in for a private reply, I shall be glad to help you.

On the Sidewalk

by c. a. b.

More than ten years ago there was not a single Negro working for the Southern California Telephone Company in Los Angeles. "The California Eagle" in this column started the fight for recognition of qualified workers.

Three years after the problem was brought to the forefront nine Negroes were appointed in the janitorial dpartment. Following these appointments The Sidewalk continued to struggle, for I contended that none of these appointments were among the clerical force. However, a few years later the company established a branch office in the Central Avenue district where Negro women are employed in clerical positions.

Now that New York has set the example for the integration of Negroes in all departments of the service, The Sidewalk renews its contention that the Southern California Telephone Company may well fellow the example of New York and in the near future start training Negro girls as switchboard operators and Negro men in all departments in which they are qualified to serve.

The Southern California Telephone Company will learn, I hope, that many other industrial concerns have discovered, that there is no difference between the Negro and white worker when trained. Efficient continuous service cannot be guaranteed as long as the telephone companies do not make the best possible use of all available manpower. The white workers within the company must also learn that there lot will not be improved until their ranks are strengthened by workers from all walks of life.

IN MY OPINION THE subject of the redistricting of the city was made a political football by the City Council Quislings this week, and the discussion was not at all conducive to a solution of the problem.

No one is better able to say how the lines should be drawn than the property owners in the district who did not welcome outside interference, nor did we appreciate the statements of the San Fernando representative who referrd to the significance of the re-zoning to Central Avenue as incidental, so long as San Fernando remain as it is.

The matter was not at all treated with the gravity it deserves, nor do I feel that a clear understanding was reached as to the need for such redistricting. This question was of utmost importance to me, for I have long felt that the problems which confront the Negro people of Los Angeles

Calship Guard Held for Trial

Indicating through his attorney that he will offer self-defense as the reason for his slaying of Gerald B. Edwards at Calship last Nov. 9, Harry V. Mason, posted $5000 bond and was released until Dec. 27, following his arraignment before Judge William Byrne early this week.

Mason, who worked as a guard at the Calship yard, shot Edwards in what some witnesses say was deliberate anger, without provocation, after an argument over Edwards' attempt to leave the yard after securing his pay check.

Indignation ran high when it appeared that the guard would not be brought to trial, and only after Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., NAACP president brought pressure to bear, did District Attorney Howser order Mason to stand trial.

Howser's action followed the failure of the Grand Jury to act promptly in the case. Bail was allowed the guard since should he be convicted, sentence would be passed on a second degree murder charge.

HOPA Fights Restrictions

The Home Owners Protective Association met in the California Eagle building last Friday night with Charlotta A. Bass, president, presiding. Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., a member of the Association's legal committee addressed the meeting on the procedure for fighting housing restrictions, and he pointed out that in many instances, decisions were made on the manner of presentation of cases.

Attorneys Crispus Wright and Ben Margolies, also members of the legal committee were unable to attend, but will be present at the next meeting on December 29.

The Rev. Clayton D. Russell, pastor of the People's Independent Church, and an active supporter of the Association's efforts, urged his listeners to protect their rights by resisting every attempt to evict them from their homes on a racial basis.

Because of the holidays, there will not be a meeting of the association this week. The next meeting will be held on Friday night, December 29, at 8 p. m. in the California Eagle building.

Exonerated in Murder Case

Mrs. Pearlina Pullins, 1036 E. 33rd St., will not have to stand trial for the murder of Hattie Williams who lived at the same address and who met her death on Nov. 14th, 1944, in what has been popularly dubbed the "cold room murder." This much was made certain last Wednesday afternoon after her attorneys, Curtis C. Taylor and Ward Sulli-

PRINCIPALS IN U. P. DINING CAR WAITERS CASE

ABOVE ARE SHOWN shots taken in the Federal Building Monday morning at 11 a. m. as 75 waiters and two stewards of the Union Pacific Railroad were arraigned before Judge Ben Harrison in Room 6 on the second floor. The men are charged with conspiracy to steal money from the receipts of the diners. Top left is the prosecutor, U. S. Attorney Charles Carr, top right is pictured Judge Ben Harrison. Beneath from left to right are: Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., prominent barrister, who is handling the majority of the waiters cases, about 68, center shows Crispus A. Negro Troops In Gen. Patton's 3rd Army Drive

(Special from Eagle's War Correspondent)

WITH AMERICAN FORCES AT THE GERMAN BORDER—Negro transportation corps troops have backed up the drive of General Patton's Third Army from Aachen down the bloody road to Metz.

While the battle for Aachen was a daily serenade of big-gun salvos and the whole battlefront area a hell of exploding shells, Negro soldiers worked calmly on an installation at Herbersthal, just short of the German border, and 10 miles from No Man's Land.

Their task exposed them night and day to Luftwaffe attack. There was no possible manner of successfully camouflaging their work. It was done in defiance of anything the Germans could offer in the way of air attack.

Throughout Belgium, Negro trucking, rail and other units are lacing together the supply network which keeps the Third Army charging forward through the Siegfried line.

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

Charged with conspiracy to commit theft in interstate commerce, 75 waiters and two stewards of the Union Pacific Railroad were arraigned before Federal Judge Ben Harrison in Room 6 on the second floor of the Federal Building at 11 a. m. Monday morning. Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., brilliant young Negro attorney, represented approximately 68 of the waiters, Attorney Crispus A. Wright represented two, David Williams one, and Donald McKay, a white lawyer, one. Two stewards represented by Attorney Morris Levine also appeared for arraignment. One waiter stated that he had no attorney and intended to use no attorney.

The clerk of the court read the indictment and each defendant was asked as to what his plea was. Attorney Gordon, representing the large group of waiters, moved the court for additional time to consider the indictment before he allowed his clients to plead thereto. Other attorneys present joined in the said motion and the court did continue the plea on said indictment to December 26, at 11 a. m.

In a statement to the press, Gordon said that there are more than just two pleas to an indictment. Most people, he said,

Meeting of Housing Officials Is Switched to Avoid Jim Crow

Union Decision Won By Negro Railroad Men

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court Monday unanimously upheld a Negro railroader's contention that a union acting under the Railway Labor Act is duty-bound to represent minority Negro firemen impartially. The decision was hailed all over the nation by Negro railroad men.

In one opinion the court ruled in favor of Bester William Steele, a fireman on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad since 1910. He protested that he and other Negro firemen were discriminated against by an agreement between the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and 21 southeastern railroads.

In the second opinion the court held that a Negro locomotive fireman who complained he was forced from his job and replaced by a white man is entitled to protection under the act. The fireman in this case, Tom Tunstall, protested, like Steele, against the agreement between southeastern railroads and the brotherhood.

Phoenix Refuses Negro Delegates

The National Association of Housing Officials last week took a positive and commendable stand against Jimcrow when it switched its meeting December 13, from Phoenix, Arizona to Las Vegas,

MRS. J. L. TERRY

Nev., when it was learned that Phoenix would refuse accommodations to the Negro delegates.

The conference included representatives from California, Arizona, Nevada, and Utah. The situation at Las Vegas, Nevada was only a slight improvement over that at Phoenix in that while the organization was permitted to hold its sessions in

Business Woman Asks Separation

After twenty-five years of married life, Mrs. Mattie Williams of 702 E. 54th St., has filed suit against her husband Emile Williams, for separate maintenance on the ground of extreme cruelty. Mrs. Williams, who with her husband, operates a cleaning and pressing business at 5513 Central Avenue, charges in a complaint prepared through the offices of attorney Curtis C. Taylor, that her husband has transferred his affections to another woman.

She asks that the court grant her separate maintenance and that Mr. Williams be ordered to pay for her support without a divorce, and for an equitable distribution of the community property. The couple is well known in business circles, having conducted the business at the Central Avenue address for several years.

CHARLOTTA A. BASS TO HEAD CIVIL LIBERTIES DEPARTMENT

In recognition for her outstanding services in the field of civil liberties, Charlotta A. Bass, Editor and Publisher of "The California Eagle" was this week appointed as Local Directress of the Grand Temple Civil Liberties Department for one year. The appointment came from Washington, D. C., under the seal of the Grand Daughter Ruler, Elizabeth Ross Gordon.

The Civil Liberties Committees are set up locally to solicit funds to be used for aid in defending our Constitutional Rights. It is felt that Mrs. Bass will make a valuable contribution to this phase of the work of the Grand Temple.

NEGROES GERRYMANDERED OUT OF REPRESENTATION BY CITY COUNCIL

by V. G. Gores

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 20.—For several days prior to Wednesday, December 20th the Negroes of the city kept a large delegation on hand in the council chambers of the city law makers, where the important matter of redistricting the city for political representation was up for consideration and settlement.

Plenty of evidence had come to the surface to impress the colored citizens that plans were on foot to so draw the district lines as to prevent them ever to choose a representative of their own number or of their own choice; they were on hand daily to prevent just such unfair drawing of the lines. The unholy scheme provides that the district affected will not follow natural and obvious lines, but will meander in any sort of wild fashion to accomplish the main purpose to divide any set of votes desired to be divided.

This type of unnatural making of voting districts is known in political circles as gerrymandering and is considered as a cheating device. The vigilant delegation of citizens referred to above stayed on the job until the council had reached a de-

Courtmartial Convictions

SEATTLE, Wash.—Substituting convictions for rioting for the original charges of murder, three of the 27 soldiers convicted by general courtmartial here this week were sentenced to an aggregate of 52 years in prison.

The courtmartial grew out of an incident at Fort Lawton last August 14, when the soldiers tangled with an Italian service unit. The following morning the body of an Italian private was found hanging in a gully near the scene of the altercation.

Three of the soldiers, Corproal Luther Larkin, 23, of Helena, Ark., Pvt. William Jones, 20, Decatur, Ill., and Arthur J. Hurks, 22, Houston, Tex., were charged with the hanging. The trial cleared them of the murder charge, but they were sentenced to 25, 15 and 12 years respectively for rioting.

The remainder of the group were given prison sentences ranging from six months to one year, reduced to the lowest rank and dishonorably discharged from the army.

Negro, White Soldier Buddies in Hospital Together

(Special from the California Eagle War Correspondent)

A UNITED STATES ARMY STATION HOSPITAL IN FRANCE—The guys are buddies, inseparable as an '03 rifle and a sore shoulder.

Statistically, they add up about as follows: Corporal Frank C. Riley, 28, 18 Larch Street, Pawtucket, Rhode Island. Race: white.

And Pvt. First Class Edgar E. Zeno, 21, 1725 No. Tonti St., New Orleans, Louisiana. Race: Negro.

They came to the hospital about the same time, suffering with about the same ailments.

Riley's outfit is the famed Yankee Division, the 26th Infantry, which is spearheading the Third Army break-through at the northern end of our line. Riley himself is a code clerk, responsible for the highly important job of combat message decoding and message sending.

Zeno's an expert rigger in a port company.

The two aren't badly hurt, and that leaves them plenty of time to chew the fat. Turns out they've got a lot in common.

Riley's terrifically interested in Zeno's three years at sea as an able-bodied seaman. Zeno has memories of two torpedo-ings, of three days floating in the Caribbean, and there is a dimple on both sides of his jaw left by a German machine gun bullet fired from a submarine when America was still at peace, fired while Zeno stood on the deck of a U. S. merchant ship with the stars and stripes painted on her sides.

Part of the treatment that both these soldiers need is regular massaging. They do the job for each other.

They talk about home and the wives back there and the music of Jimmie Lunceford, and where they used to swim in the summer time, Riley in the little Pawtucket River, and Zeno in the New Orleans bayous.

They are both proud that the Yankee Division and the pioneer Negro combat tank unit in our Army are working closely together at the front.

They dread having to split up when they return to their respective units.

One of the rare good things that comes out of a war is making a buddy, a guy who will listen to the story of you and the girl you met one night when you were on furlough in Hoboken and how she fell for you right away like a ton of bricks. A buddy is a guy whose family and friends you hear about so much you feel a part of them. And no matter how many GI's you meet in your tour of service, the buddies you run into you can always count on the fingers of one hand.

That's Riley and Zeno.

A couple of buddies way up front where buddies come the hard way and the Siegfried line isn't the only barrier that's falling through.

could more easily be solved if this community had true representation in the City Council. I do not believe that the Council is averse to considering the problems of any group of residents of Los Angeles; I do feel, however, that the desultory manner in which these questions are considered is due to the fact that no one in the Council knows the problems in relation to the community affected.

When the city is redistricted, as proposed, the 13th Councilmanic District would be largely composed of Negro residents of Los Angeles whose problems will get the recognition deserved because they will be aptly presented in their proper significance by a representative chosen from this district.

Therefore, it was rather disheartening to note that such a change was not thoroughly understood and to see the many political tricks used to divert the attention from the main issue.

thought there were only two pleas—one "guilty" and the other "not guilty," but that an attorney could attack the indictment and claim it did not state a public offense. He might move to quash the indictment on many and numerous grounds or he might demur to the indictment and that before entering any pleas these acts should be carefully considered because once a defendant pleads "not guilty" it is too late to bring up these other objections to form. In the event that pleas are entered on December 26, the time and date of trial will then be set.

The defendants comprise one of the three groups of railroad workers totaling 135 who were indicted by a Federal grand jury. They are accused of stealing money in Union Pacific dining cars on the Challenger, by manipulation of meal checks, causing losses amounting to $200,000 a year. Pleas for another group arraigned a week ago were also set for Dec. 26. Approximately 30 additional defendants will be arraigned Dec. 26, according to Asst. U. S. Atty. Homer Bell.

cision with regards to the districts, one that was considered fair and satisfactory to all concerned; this plan was announced Tuesday to the council and interested delegations; everybody was happy and peace flowed like a river.

But that was Tuesday. Wednesday was another day; with no protesting delegation on hand, in fact with no Negroes at all present, save and except the writer, the council had a change of mind and a change of redistricting plans. One that did just exactly what the Negroes did not want done.

The story does not end there however. Together with Mr. Leon Washington, this representative of the California Eagle, went to several of the councilmen in their private offices and let them know that steps would be taken to reopen the matter so as to provide equitable and fair redistricting of Los Angeles, in such a way that every element of our population could select representatives of their own choosing to serve their particular needs and give attention to their particular problems, such as was intended under the representative form of government we pretend to have.

one of the city's best hotels with all delegates, white and Negro in attendance, the Negro delegates could neither eat or sleep in the hotel. This necessitated a daily trek from the hotel to the dormitories for all delegates, since the white delegates—as a protest—refused to accept the Jimcrow arrangements on the part of the hotel management and found refuge with the Negroes at the Housing Quarters.

Prior to the Las Vegas meeting the Los Angeles chapter went on record as unanimously adopting the following resolution: "That Chapter No. 1 go on record as recommending to the Regional Executive Committee that we receive assurance, prior to the selection of a place for future regional conferences, that equal housing and other facilities will be available for persons of all races."

This was the first resolution offered as a topic for discussion at the Regional Conference. The next resolution on the same subject followed:"

"Resolved that future conferences of Region III, National Association of Housing Officials, schedule official activities only in those housing projects, hotels, or restaurants, all facilities of which are open without discrimination to all delegates."

At this conference Mrs. Jessie L. Terry was elected to the Executive Council of Region VI of the National Association of Housing Officials for 1945. This is the first time a Negro has been elected to the Executive Committee. The other Negro delegates from Los Angeles attending the conference were Mrs. Faustina Johnson and Floyd C. Covington.

LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

HAIL AND FAREWELL—?

With the departure of State CIO Minorities Chairman Revels Cayton from the city to return to the craft from which he emerged to become a leading figure in the Califonia CIO, comes a number of confusing reports and rumors. According to Cayton, with whom I talked at the Council meeting last week, he has desired for a long time to get back to the waterfront and work with the men he represented so that he might re-orient his thinking according to the swiftly changing pattern of the times. He said then, that there would be many who would not understand how any man would want to take off a white collar, don dungarees and go to work—when he didn't have to. Evidently he spoke with more wisdom than he knew, for hardly had I left the meeting hall when persons, who though obviously as surprised and confused as I, presented to me an assortment of explanations regarding his retirement from the Council.

John M. Lee

Those explanations I shall leave to the classification and clarification of time. Presently, there is the question of the fate of the minorities program of the CIO. What can be expected of it in the future? Under Cayton, the program stood out among CIO activities. Can Cayton's retirement be construed to mean that minorities will be de-emphasized from now on, or does it indicate a broadening of the base with a view to building a more effective program?

That the latter is true can be presumed from the report that a five-man committee will be appointed throughout the state to handle the work which has been carried on chiefly by Cayton, with Matt Crawford of San Francisco assisting. One of the most repeated criticisms of Cayton's direction of the Minorities program is the charge that minorities to him meant the Negro, first last and always. That is a highly commendable fault, if true, but it is a fault that would eventually have proven more damaging than beneficial to the cause of the Negro.

Lately, the program has not been moving forward to any important degree. It is not a reflection on the ability of those handling the present set-up to say that it was inevitable that some change would have to be made in the light of the increasing tempo of the attacks on people of all minority groups. The integration of workers of all racial groups into its full program is the most important task confronting the CIO in the next period.

Cayton's departure leaves a noticeable gap in the local Council set-up. It is hoped that in due time a Negro, properly qualified, will be elevated to maintain the democratic hue of the local body. While Revels has not resigned as chairman of the Minorities Committee, nor has he stepped down as a vice president of the California CIO, his familiar face will be missed at the "Building," on Slauson and Avalon.

He has done a difficult job well. His work will make it possible for those who follow him to construct the greatest minorities program in the nation. He is, as Slim Connelley says, a labor man who fought and grew with the CIO. Wherever he goes, it can be known with certainty that Revels Cayton will be making a vital contribution to the cause of all laboring men and the CIO. Joining ours with the voices of his many friends, we say, "Farewell," to Revels as we hail the spirit to know more and to do better, which takes him to another post.

Attorneys Townsend and Miller Honored by National Bar Group

Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., who recently left the city to attend the National Bar Association Convention held in Chicago on December 1st and 2nd, and thereafter to visit relatives in the State of Arkansas and Memphis, Tenn., returned to the city this week, getting back to his office desk located at 4406½ South Central Avenue, on Thursday, December 14th.

Attorney Loren Miller, who also attended the convention, continued east to New York and has not as yet returned.

It is pleasing to note that although only two California attorneys attended the convention, our state captured double honors at its session. For when the convention closed on Saturday night, December 2nd, Attorney Miller had been elected a member of the National Executive Board at large and Attorney Townsend had been made the regional director of the National Bar Association for the Pacific Coast which comprises the states of Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona.

Attorney Townsend states that one of his first objectives as regional director is to have a 100 per cent active membership in the National Bar Association from this region before the next convention, and at least a 50 per cent attendance at its next session, which is to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, on the first Thursday, Friday and Saturday in December, 1945.

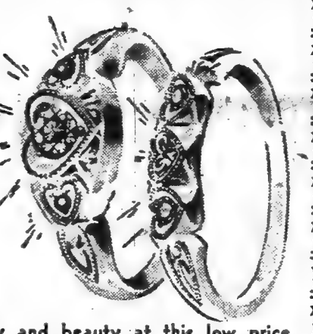
SOFT MUSIC

For some time, now, when we get to this point, we always have an inspired feeling. It begins with a telephone call which we have included in the many methods we have adopted to get this column written, and it ends on a sustained note like the conclusion of a beautiful symphony. Small wonder, then, that the words we write come out—almost poetry. It is a wonderful, fascinating world in which we live with our whole bodies, through which courses warm, red blood. Even when we realize that across the seas there are bodies that are not whole, which need blood if they are to again enjoy the freedom and peace for which they are sacrificing, we are not too unhappy, because we know that we—and you, can help make that alright by going to the Blood Bank and putting a pint on deposit every ten weeks.

Psychologist To Visit Here

Dr. George Anthony, eminent psychologist will make a return trip to the coast. Last year, Dr. Anthony, who is a student of law, visited California to study television. At the conclusion of his studies he returned to his winter home, a palatial $75,000 estate in Fort Meyer, Florida, reputedly one of the finest in the state.



Noted as a psychic and traveler, Dr. Anthony is also a capable lecturer on radio the stage and the screen. He will arrive on the 23rd, and will be the house guest of Mrs. Hazel Annette Raines at her home on North Garfield Drive in Pasadena.

Many social events have been planned to honor Dr. Anthony during his stay, and his many friends and acquaintances in Los Angeles and Pasadena are looking forward to his arrival. Mrs. Raines will handle public relations for him during his visit.

Building Bought On Central Ave.

Arthur Jarvis and Johnny Reeves, co-proprietors of the Margol Cafe, announced this week that they had purchased the building containing the business. Included in the property which is located at 5257, 5259 and 5259½ South Central, is a liquor store and beautiful apartments upstairs. There are also several garages.

The entire building is composed of brick. Mr. Jarvis stated that he and his partner intend to build additions to the property in the future. He did not disclose the price paid for the building.

● UNSOLVED MYSTERY ●

Mr. Harry P. Clark showed early signs of genius by graduating from Central elementary school, Marshall, Texas, one year earlier than the prescribed time.

In 1921, in competition with some 200 students of the Music Department of Tusegee, he won the Leo Strassberg prize for instrumental music; graduating from the commercial and literary departments the same year.

In 1923 in competition with some 150 students of the music department of Bishop College, Marshall, Texas, Mr. Clark was publicly proclaimed by Prof. John Talsott as the most talented student of the Music Department. He graduated from the Music Department in 1924 and the succeeding two years served as instructor; received his B.S. degree in 1926; his M.A. from Columbia University, New Yor City, in 1932. Mr. Clark has credits toward the Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and New York University.

After serving as a High School professor for two years, Mr. Clark was Professor of Philosophy and Social Science at Leland College, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. At two different intervals was on the faculty at Prairie View College.

Mr. Clark is a former member of the U.B.F.; the Knights of Pythias and a third degree Mason.

He also served as substitute teacher in the public school system of Los Angeles. Teaching at the Lafayette Junior and the Polytechnic High.

At present he conducts a music studio at 2201 Compton Ave., and is also connected with the Gray Conservatory of Music.

Women's Political Study Club Passes Important Resolutions

Resolutions requesting the Senate, Congress and the President of the U. S. A. to take immediate steps to end segregation in the Nation's Capitol, setting the example of democracy at home.

Resolution providing for a permanent State F. E. P. C., to be enacted in the Calif. Legislature which convenes in Jan. 1945.

Resolution requesting the Negro Press to stop enlarging on the Negro's short-comings and dwell more on his ability and achievements.

Preface—At this time when so much attention is directed on war and peace time needs affecting education, it seems of great importance that we consider some glaring and prevailing practices in our local schools-practices that tend to deny equal opportunities of learning and the proper educational conditions for all of our children.

zBe it resolved that the Board of Education go on record as supporters of the following resolutions:

That our local Board of Education consider at once the need of appointing more teachers per pupil in schools where there is lack of sufficient teachers to give more individual guidance and personal sympathetic consideration to the students in need of it, especially in those schools in the congested and blighted areas where the greater number of underprivileged or disprivileged children live.

That teachers in those schools be warned against the use of terminology which tends to stereotype or label their students, thus creating a patronizing and compromising relation between pupil and teacher. This is undemocratic, having a tendency to render the teacher's influence on her student less effective.

That teachers be discouraged from setting up educational material different from the accepted curriculum, unless such material has been carefully scrutinized and approved by those selected by the Board of Education to provide such material.

4,000,000 Eat School Lunches

WASHINGTON, D. C. — It makes a long-range difference whether or not a child has an adequate school lunch, according to specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. They point out that one year of right feeding in the life of a child is more important tahn 10 years of right feeding after one reaches the age of 40.

It is estimated that some four million children in 35,000 schools are having nourishing school lunches this year. The participation of Negro children averages about 13 percent.

The specialists point out that the school child needs a minimum of a quart of milk each day, two vegetables (one green, leafy or yellow), two fruits, one egg if possible, one serving of meat, fish, poultry or cheese; three servings of bread or cereals; butter or fortified margarine, and cod liver oil, preferably until the child is 14 years old.

● NAACP News ●

The local office of the NAACP recently received 82 memberships from the men in the 3105th Quartermaster Service Company which is overseas. These memberships were from $1.00 to $10.00 each and were secured through the efforts of Pvt. Alfonso E. Crawford and Pfc. Walter McCray members of the company.

The letter which accompanied the contributions said in part: "The members of this organization are very interested in the drive and send their best wishes for the advancement of the NAACP."

Many NAACP membership cards were sent from the National office to the local office recently because of incorrect address. Any persons who did not receive their membership cards from the last drive are asked to call at the office at 4272 S. Central Ave.

New Branch Office Open for Taxpayers

Announcement was made today by Collector of Internal Revenue Harry C. Westover that a temporary branch revenue office will be opened in the Southside Chamber of Commerce, 4918 South Figueroa Street, on January 2 and will stay open until January 15. Deputy collectors will be on duty to assist taxpayers with amended declarations of 1944 estimated tax on Form 1040-ES and with final 1944 tax returns on Form 1040.

The December 15 deadline for filing amended estimates was postponed until January 15, as was the deadline for the payment of fourth quarter installments of estimated tax.

The crowds that heard SHIFTY HENRY and his UPTOWN BAND Sunday nite at the UPTOWN BALLROOM proclaim them to be the swingiest band in the west!

DEFENSE ATTORNEY—Walter L. Gordon, Jr., above, appeared in federal court Monday morning in behalf of approximately 72 waiters who are charged along with a total of 135 railroad workers including stewards of the Union Pacific with theft of dining car receipts. The case was continued until Dec. 26th at 11 a.m. by Judge Ben Harrison at the request of Attorney Gordon to allow time for appeal.

WPSC Holds Its Installations

The Frederick Douglas Unit of the Women's Political Study Club held its Installation recently at the home of Mrs. Esther T. Greenly, 152 E. Thirty-sixth Place.

Atty. Ivan Johnson III installed the newly elected officers and commended the members for drafting the incumbent Mrs. Echo S. Robinson to serve her sixth term as their presiding officer even though she "did not choose to run."

At the instigation of the Club, Vice-Pres. Greenly made the presentation to Atty. Johnson of an all leather fitted case in token of his kindness and their keen appreciation, President Robinson also was the recipient of several lovely gifts of appreciation and Mrs. Marian Grayson-Byrd the outgoing secretary having recently become a bride, was presented with an exquisite percolator.

Among the many guests present were Mrs. Mable V. Gray, Mrs. Mamie V. Bivins, Miss Gladys Harris and friend from Pasadena, Tch. Cpl. Wilbur O. Goins (on furlough) Radioman 3rd Class, Widmon Butler and wife, Alice, of Philly, Pa.

Refreshments commensurate to the season were enjoyed by all. Frederick Douglas Unit and President Robinson extends to each and everyone a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year.

Dr. Kaufman Is Lauded For His Dependability

During the present epidemic of influenza, pneumonia and other illnesses said to result from colds, one doctor in this town stands out. He is Dr. Seymour Kaufman, who conducts his business in his building at First street and San Pedro, in the very heart of the Bronzeville district.

The stories told by his patients of what length he goes to give them attention, are almost fabulous, especially since we are continually hearing stories of just the opposite by people who are ill, or who have been ill but found it nigh impossible to receive treatment from doctors of our own race, here on the east side of town.

There is one woman and her husband who both had almost given up hope as to her recovery after numerous doctors told her that she suffered from an insurable case of cancer. It was then that a friend of the couple advised them to try Dr. Kaufman. They did so, they said, and the result was almost unbelievable. The doctor is said to have performed a minor operation, discovered she had no cancer, and in less than three days she was said to be completely well.

Then there was Samuel S. Bennett, a defense worker, who was suddenly attacked with pneumonia at four o'clock one Saturday morning. His fever rose to 103 degrees and pleas were made to local race doctors until midnight Saturday for a visit, since the family was afraid to move the sick man. The replies they received were discouraging.

MAN IS SAVED

By this time, Mr. Bennett's face had swollen beyond recognition and the fever still raged. It was then the family was reminded of the white doctor in Bronzeville, who advertised that he made personal visits during the day and night, or always saw to it that one of his staff members did respond. They called Dr. Kaufman and in less than an hour he visited the Bennett home, rushed the sick man to a private hospital and rendered the necessary treatments which resulted in Mr. Bennett's eventual recovery.

These are but two examples of the manner in which this doctor is taking care of persons in need of medical attention there. There are dozens of other cases. Dr. Kaufman is fast gaining a reputation as the most reliable physician now practicing medicine in Los Angeles.

Pvt. Helen Bradshaw

Pvt. Helen Bradshow of 1786 W. 35th Street, Los Angeles, is daily performing important duties as a member of the WAC in furthering training of B-24 Liberator bomber crews at Walla Walla Army Air Field, Wash., installation of the Fourth Air Force.

Pvt. Bradshaw, whose nearest relative, her aunt, Mrs. Ethel Williams, lives at 2908 Kenwood Avenue, Los Angeles, joined the Women's Army Corps in May, 1943, taking her basic training at Fort Des Moines, Iowa. She is now assigned as a general clerk with this AAF base.

Before joining the WAC she was employed as a clerk. She attended Manual Arts High School in Los Angeles.

Lt. Byars In Action

Lt. Abraham L. Byars of Los Angeles is one of the mixed group of officers of the 4089th Quartermaster Service Company which set up the all-important supply depot near the battered and blasted docks of the harbor of a port of liberated France, says a War Department release.

To accomplish the job, the men worked night and day, and ate only K-rations, while stray snipers and isolated German pillboxes continued to send hot lead spattering against the ancient walls of the town.

After completing the harbor work, the unit was then shifted to prisoner-guard duty, overseeing captured Germans working on American cemeteries.

With a feeling of pride and gratitude, we take this occasion to thank the Negro public for their support and patronage which enabled us to sell over 1000 new tires during the past year. We feel that we occupy a unique position in the business world since ours is the only Negro owned business of its kind, and the only Negro Good Year distributor agency west of the Rockies. Within the short space of one year we have expanded, and we now operate two stores, one at Adams and Hooper and one at 4075 South Central Avenue. It is our belief that in maintaining our established policy of only handling products that are nationally advertised, and by holding our prices at a level that compares favorably with our competitors, the public will continue to favor us with their support, which we appreciate and need if we are to develop our business to the fullest extent. At present we are giving employment to eleven persons, and we hope to employ many more as increased patronage helps our business to grow. We are looking forward eagerly to the post-war period when our stock will include such products as the Bendix Automatic Home Laundry, the Norge Refrigerator, RCA Radios, Eureka Vacuum Cleaners, Westinghouse Appliances and every accessory necessary for both the beauty and utility of the post-war automobile. Our hope, so appropriate to the season, is for a world in which Peace On Earth, Good Will Toward Men, will be the reigning spirit in the hearts and minds of all mankind.

Vacations With Pay Won by S. P. & W. P. Dining Car Men

Under the guidance of the Dining Car Employees Unions, Local 456 and 582, the waiters and cooks won a hard fought battle for the right to have vacations with pay. The Unions made demands in May, 1944, to establish the vacation plan on the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific Railroads, but with the influx of new employes who had little knowledge of unions and also failed to join up, the demands were weakened.

Under the leadership of General Chairman William E. Pollard, and an able negotiating committee, composed of Bernard Gravelli, Clarence Brown, E. L. Jackson, T. W. Anderson, and Claude McGuinn, who have worked for six months to complete negotiations to initiate a vacation plan for the workers they represent, satisfactory agreements were signed on December 1 and 5.

Since the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific are unable to grant vacations for 1944, it will result in approximately $75,000 back pay to the employees. Locals 456 and 582 have brought hundreds of thousands of dollars in back pay to Oakland and Los Angeles in the last several years.

Dining Car workers should take note and join these two organizations if they work under their jurisdiction because accomplishments such as these are a definite advancement to organized labor and the Negro race.

Not Many 'Ayes' On This Subject

DALLAS, Texas—Because Attorney George Clifton Edwards, white, described the imposition of the death penalty on a Negro here as, "judicial murder," in a speech before the Dallas Bar Association, an attempt was made to pass a motion to bar publishing of his remarks in the annual publication, "The Dallas Bar Speaks."

Edwards, who was addressing the lawyers on the subject, "Negro Progress and White Justice," created a furore with his remarks which were made in connection with the imposition of the death penalty on a Negro for killing a policeman.

Indignation rose to a high pitch with some lawyers contending that Edward's remarks could be construed to mean that a Negro couldn't get justice in the Texas courts. A motion to table broke up the argument.

Sgt. Ashford Writes

Sgt. Wilbur N. Ashford, former clerk of station K, writes that his company is quite busy getting the volume of Xmas mail to the boys in the European theatre of war.

An era in human history is the life of Jesus, and its immense influence for good leaves all the perversion and superstition that has accured almost harmless.—Emerson.

Beauty and Exercise

By Grace Fisher Atkins

It is comfonly considered that the individuals past thirty-five years of age must be sluggish, constipated, inactive and very often fat. This has been proven unnecessary and undesirable.

Children and young people appear to enjoy more adequate health than their older companions because they have more physical exercise. Runing, jumping, wrestling and other bodily exercise help the metabolic processes. These aid digestion and the general condition of health even if other factors of good living are not practiced.

Exercise alone will not offer the human organism the remedy for an inert body machine. It will help, however, and avoid to a degree the poorly poised slumped individual.

Walking, running, and skipping are ordinary exercises which will involve all of the muscles of the body. More detailed exercises will "tone" certain muscles that may require more attention. For instance, the sagging muscles of the lower back can be reduced and stimulated by a simple over-the-head exercise. Place the hands over the head closed together. Hold arms straight as far as possible into the air. Stand with back touching a clear wall space. Bend from side to side continuing to touch the wall. When perspiration arises the activity is benefiting the body.

Many decades ago the public school authorities realized the necessity for physical exercise. Therefore, in the elementary, junior and senior high schools, and the first two years of college physical education is an essential portion of the curriculum. Without body stimulation through exercise the individual cannot hope to react to any of life's situations.

The persons past the age of thirty-five will find much more joy in living if they attend to the problem of total physical exercise at least twice each week.

Farmers Advised To Branch Out

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. — To provide enough good farm jobs for returning farmer-soldiers, our farms will have to become processing plants more and more, in addition to being producers, Carroll P. Streeter of Philadelphia, managing editor of the Farm Journal magazine, declared in a General Electric Farm Forum address here.

"The only way to keep this country rural enough for its own well-being is to provide enough good jobs on farms and in country towns," Mr. Streeter pointed out.

Citing cases, Mr. Streeter mentioned the "tremendous business" in the extraction of vegetable oils. He said that until recently the farmers who raised the oil-bearing seeds owned no part of the business. In recent months, however, more than 30 small mills have sprung up in Iowa alone, according to Mr. Streeter.

Christmas Fun For Servicemen

For holiday at Avalon there will be a sensational week of fun and entertainment for the soldiers, sailors and marines of the Southern California area.

Noble Sissle, entertainment Chairman, for the Avalon U.S.O., will present the music and program for Saturday and Sunday, December 23rd and 24th. This Saturday and Sunday, December 16th and 17th, the Hammer Field Swingsters from Fresno will thrill the "G.I" Jitterbugs and Junior Hostesses, that will pack the Avalon U.S.O. dance floor.

The Benjamin J. Bowie Post of the American Legion will feature the Ontario Army Air Force Band on Thursday night, December 21, with Private Patterson and Thelma Brown of the Brown Sisters on th entertainment side of the "Legion Nite" Bill. All in all, the "G.I." will have a full bill of Xmas entertainment planned.

N. Y. Little Symphony Presents First Negro Soloist In Recital

By Gladys P. Graham

NEW YORK (C)—The first Negro ever to be presented in a debut recital with the famous New York Little Symphony (which presents outstanding young American artists), conducted by Joseph Barrone, eminent impressario, at Carnegie Hall, was the honor accorded William Bodkin, young Harlem baritone.

Bodkin, a pupil of Madame Grete Stueckgold, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera, is an accomplished musician, plays both organ and piano and composes. His program was varied. It included Handel, Beethoven, eVrdi and a group of Seven Satiric Songs by modern composers. He was best in his Italian numbers, the most notable being "The Walker," by Arturo Giovannitti. Bodkin sang with a directness and sincerity and has excellent diction.

It's at the UPTOWN where the town is jumping — with SHIFTY HENRY and his UPTOWN BAND — at 55th & Central. Every Friday, Saturday, and Sunday night. Admission ONLY 60c plus tax!

SCORES IN PIANO RECITAL—Miss Gloria Roberts, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Los Angeles, recently returned from a concert engagement at Oakland, where she was presented in recital under the auspices of the North Oakland YMCA for the benefit of the building fund. Miss Roberts played before a large and appreciative audience, and has been asked to return for other recitals in the Bay area next spring. The young artist is a junior at the University of Southern California where she won first prize in the music contest for soloists in a competition conducted annually by Mu Phi Epsilon, a national sorority.

Co-Ops Vote to Invest $150,000

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (CLNS)—Cooperatives in this section of the United States gave tangible evidence that they "mean business" when it comes to international cooperation by voting to invest $150,000 in the proposed International Cooperative Trading and Manufacturing Association. The action was taken by the Cooperative Refinery Association, during the meeting of the Consumers Cooperative Association here.

More than a thousand representatives of the 792 local cooperatives in nine mid-western states took part in the 16th annual meeting of the Consumers Cooperative Association and its three subsidiaries—the Cooperative Refinery Association, Cooperative Pipe Line Association and the Cooperative Oil Producing Association.

Health Mission Sent to Liberia

An all-Negro mission of eleven Americans, including physicians, engineers, entomologists and nurses, soon will launch a five-year health and sanitation program in Liberia, West Africa, the Public Health Service, of the Federal Security Agency, announced today. The mission was created by the Public Health Service in cooperation with the State and War Departments at the direction of President Roosevelt. The President, it was explained, acted at the request of the Liberian Government.

The head of the mission, Dr. John Baldwin West, senior surgeon in the Public Health Service, and two of his associates already are on the way to Monrovia, capital of the Liberian Republic, which was founded in 1822 by freed American slaves. Dr. West is a former major in the Medical Corps of the Army. Those accompanying him are Granville Writt Woodson, sanitary engineer, and John Paul Davies, Jr., maintenance superintendent. Mr. Davies will supervise the erection and operation of construction machinery being sent with the mission.

Corporals Entertain

EUROPEAN THEATER OF OPERATIONS, ENGLAND—Corporal George Freeny of 5217 Alba street, and Corporal James C. Wyrick of 1172 East 12th street, were among those taking part in the first of a series of weekly programs for wounded soldiers, on a recent Sunday, at the Great George American Red Cross Club in Bristol, England. Many high British and American Army officials and dignitaries attended the performance.

GUADALCANAL—Private Leon Valentine, brother of Miss Gladys Valentine, 1207½ 3rd Street, Sacramento, is now on duty here in a Medical Sanitary Company.

His organization is one of several in this theater which is assigned the task of eradicating the malaria-carrying mosquito.

Now, it has become an important part of the island's malaria control program, and operates under the supervision of the Island Malariologist.

His duty is that of a truck driver, transporting men and equipment to and from control projects throughout the island.

Pvt. Valentine fas formerly an employee of the Sacramento Sanitation Department and for more than three years, resided at the home of his sister.

Pilgrim House Provides Child Health Service

With an increase in the number of case fo diphtheria, it is important that children be protected against it by immunization. The Health Department provides such immunization free of charge.

Smallpox also can be checked by vaccination. Have your child vaccinated against smallpox. Smallpox vaccination will be given at Pilgrim House, 120 N. San Pedro St., January 17, 1944.

Chidren should bring a signed consent slip from their parents or be accompanied by parents, oherwise they can not get this valuable treatment. Forms to be signed by parents are available at Pilgrim House.

Jingle Bells Not Fire Bells

Chief John H. Alderson of the Los Angeles Fire Department has pointed out that the people of Los Angeles have bought 300,000 Christmas trees this season and that there will be many fires started in the highly inflammable little trees again this year unless everyone cooperates to make this Christmas not only a happy one, but also one that is safe from fire.

In order that we may still have our Christmas trees and yet remove their threat of fires, Chief Alderson makes these suggestions:

1. That no candles be used on Christmas trees.
2. That you be sure that the wiring of any Christmas tree lights is in excellent condition.
3. That no cellon, celluloid, or other highly inflammable ornaments be used on or under trees.
4. Place the base of your Christmas tree in a pan of water to keep it fresh and more fire retardant.
5. That package wrappings be disposed of a once, and the tree destroyed as soon as possible after Christmas.

For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given: and the government shall be upon his shoulder: and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counseller, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace. —Isaiah 9:6.

Eagle Staff Is Feted At Casa Blanca Club

Honoring the California Eagle and its Editor-Publisher, Charlotta A. Bass, upon the 65th anniversary of the paper, Al Austin and Joe White, genial proprietors of the Casa Blanca Club, 28th and So. San Pedro, put on a lavish steak dinner for the staff last Saturday night.

The table was decorated with gleaming red candles and with an overflowing bowl of fruit as a centerpiece. Pictures were shot by Charles Williams of those present at the time. The bandstand was decorated with a Xmas tree carrying out the holiday motif. The Flennoy Trio rendered pleasing music to make the occasion enjoyable. This trio is composed of Lorenzo Flennoy at the piano, Gene Phillips, guitarist (formerly with the Mills Bros.), and Robert Lewis, bass, (formerly with Ernie Fields Orchestra). Dan Grissom, a former soloist with Jimmie Lunceford's Orchestra, also sang several numbers.

Mrs. Bass was introduced by Mr. Austin to the crowd present. She wore a beautiful velvet dress of burnt orange.

Present and thoroughly enjoying themselves were: Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander, Mrs. Lena Edwards Lacefield, photographer in charge of the rotogravure section contained in the Eagle, Miss Odessa Floyd, circulation manager, Miss Lorraine Mathieu, staff member, George Jefferson, columnist, Ernest J. Botts, bookkeeper, John Lee, News Editor, and Eddie Burbridge, sports editor.

Messrs. Austin and White were perfect hosts to the party and the steak dinners served were delicious.

Jamaican Presents Bust of President at White House

Alvin T. Marriott (center), Jamaican sculptor who came to the United States last April to help cultivate and harvest war crops, is shown presenting to Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson a bust of President Roosevelt which he made in his spare time. The general received the bust for the President at the White House in the presence of important officials. Pictured, left to right are: Herbert G. Macdonald, chief liaison officer of the British West Indies Central Labour Organization; General Watson, Mr. Marriott, Brig. Gen. Philip G. Bruton, director of the Office of Labor of the War Food Administration; and William W. Harris of the Anglo-American Caribbean Commission.

NAACP NOTES

The Los Angeles Branch of the N.A.A.C.P. is mobilizing all of the religious, civic, fraternal, social and labor organizations to join in demanding that a thorough investigation be made into the circumstances surrounding the so-called mutiny of Negro seamen at Port Chicago.

Letters will be sent to President Roosevelt and the Secretary of the navy urging them to make an investigation into the recent trial and conviction of the 50 Negro seamen, and into the policy of segregation and discrimination which is practiced in the 12th Naval District.

Our men and women in the Armed Forces deserve the support of every citizen in securing for them fair and just treatment.

The Philosophic and Practical Basis of the Religion of the Aquarian Age of the World and of the Church Universal

"ONE OF THE EPOCH MAKING BOOKS OF THE CENTURY"

What is the Aquarian Age? The human race is today standing upon the cusp of the Piscean-Aquarian Age. Aquarius is an air sign and the New Age is already noted for remarkable inventions for the use of air, electricity, magnetism, etc. When the Aquarian Pres. Lincoln freed the slaves he sympolized in action the great Aquarian ideals of freedom and equality; it is the Aquarian Pres. Roosevelt, who has led us through this generation's crises of war, with its vision of a better, freer world for all men.

The Aquarian Age is preeminently a spiritual age, it represents the triumph of love over prejudice, hatred, superstition and all the limitations which retard men; so with much propriety this book is called "The Aquarian (or Spiritual) Gospel of Jesus the Christ."

Why was it called the Aquarian Gospel? Because it was not, and could not have been written until the opening of the world, the time referred to by Jesus when he said to his disciples: "I have many things to say unto you, but you cannot bear them now. Howbeit when she, the Spirit of Truth, is come she will guide you into all truth." John 16:12, 13.

• McCOY MEMORIAL •

Climaxing a year that has decidedly ben most victorious in Christian progress, and rejoicing in the fact that a most beautiful edifice has been erected and dedicated to the Shrine of the Almighty God, the McCoy Memorial Baptist Church is closing this year with a "States Home Coming Day."

Special seats will be designated for Texas and Louisianans, and if you hail from any other state you may sit with either group. Come and bring your family to greet old friends and make new ones, when Texas and Louisiana natives answer the "call to worship" at McCoy, Sunday, Dec. 24 at 11 o'clock.

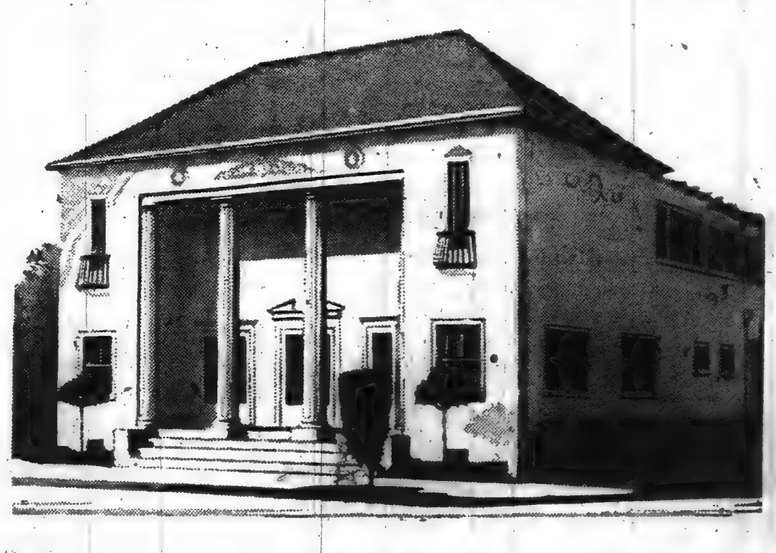
Rev. C. H. Walker, a dynamic minister of the gospel, of the Trinity Baptist Church, and Moderator of the Progressive Baptist Convention of Louisiana, will be the guest speaker.

Appropriately and befitting the occasion of the Yuletide, a program of songs has been arranged for the enjoyment of all. Old familiar hymns that bespeak the sentiment of all southern people will be sung, and real old fashioned worship is anticipated.

We especially invite our friends to visit us on this grand occasion when out of grateful hearts we will praise God for His unspeakable gift to this world—the celebration of the birthday of our King. A special invitation is extended to all servicemen to be our guests.

The officers and members of McCoy wish to thank the friends who have helped us contantly to carry on and extend to your our very best wishes for a most enjoyable Christmas, and may God smile upon you during the coming year. Rev. E. A. Anderson, minister, 802 E. 46th St.

In Memoriam



In loving memory of our Dear son, Paul Edward Simpson who died Dec. 24, 1943.

In our hearts your memory lingers, found and true.
There is not a day dear son, that we do not think of you.
We did not see you die, we only know you went away
And did not say good bye.
Your devoted mother and dad

THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new Introductory Course of 20 lessons, divided into two sections of 10 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

When a person is converted and joins the church, does that relieve him of responsibility of paying the bills he owes?—J. P., Los Angeles.

In Romans 13:8 we are admonished to "owe no man anything, but to love one another." Paul, the great missionary apostle, was very careful along this line. He believed in the dignity of labor. Rather than be a burden on his friends and rather than go in debt to any, he worked at his trade as tent maker.

The Bible command is, "Thou shalt not steal." Failure to pay just debts is stealing. Every genuine Christian will not hide from his just debts but will recognize and pay them as far as in him lies.

Many people make a mistake in trying to wait until they have the whole amount of an old debt before doing something about it. Go and see the one you owe, make a definite arrangement as to how much and when you are going to clear up the debt. By paying something regularly and promptly, your creditor sees that you are in earnest and honest in your efforts to pay.

If you owe for your subscription, close the year right by paying up your subscription to this paper.

Where do we get the present names of the week? I don't seem to be able to find the names of the days of the week i nthe Bible.—(Miss) A. C., San Diego, Calif.

In the first chapter of Genesis we find that the original week designated days by numbers rather than names. The days of the week as recorded in Genesis 1 and 2 are: First day, second day, third day, fourth day, fifth day, sixth day and seventh day. This day, the seventh, is also called the Sabbath day.

The sixth day, in Luke 23, is also given a name. It is called the preparation day. It was the day in which the worshipers of God prepared for the Sabbath.

Thus the only days of the week that are given names in the Bible are the sixth day (the preparation day) and the seventh day (the Sabbath).

The present names of the seven days of the week were derived by the Egyptians from the seven celestial bodies then known. The Romans, in their names for the days, observed the same order:

Sun's day (Sunday), Moon's day (Monday), Mars' day (Tuesday), Mercury's day (Wednesday), Jupiter's day (Thursday), Venus' day (Friday), Saturn's day (Saturday).

At a glance we can see the origin of our English names for the first, second and seventh days. The remaining four are named from Tiu, Woden, Thor, and Frigga, northern deities equivalent to Mars, Mercury, Jupiter, and Venus, in classical mythology.

ST. JOHN BAPTIST

The new St. John Baptist Church was organized October 29th, 1944, under the capable leadership of the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson. On November 5th, a small group of faithful Christians moved into the beautiful temple at 2727 E. First Street, which is now the home of the St. John Baptist Church.

In just five weeks this church has been thoroughly organized and set in good running order, showing the pastor to be a genius at organization. St. John now boasts a membership of nearly 200. During these five weeks, without any rallies or special efforts, on their own strength, the members have raised over $1500. Truly the Lord has done great things for us whereof we are glad.

The Sunday morning worship service at St. John is one of awe-inspiring reverence and spiritual fortitude. In this service, toils and care are forgotten in the blessed surcease of Holy exaltation. Come with us and we will do thee good.

St. John's motto is God's Storehouse, so at this season of giving, we are distributing Xmas baskets to the less fortunate of our Church, community and city. We sincerely believe that it is more blessed to give than to receive, consquently, all the needy who has been brought to our attention are being remembered in a most generous way. St. John's purpose is to help those who are unable to help themselves, not only at Xmas time but at any time that our help is needed—for this reason and this reason alone are we organized.

At this yuletide season, the Rev. J. Sydell Peterson and the entire congregation of St. John Church extend wishes for a Holy Xmas and a peaceful New Year.

1st St. Baptist

First Street Baptist Church, corner First and Central, formerly old Budhist Temple. Rev. L. B. Brown, pastor.

Children and their parents are invited to a free turkey dinner at our Xmas program, this coming Sunday, 2:30 p. m. to 6 p. m. New officers for 1945 will be installed and presentation and awards to teachers and pupils.

You and your friends are cordially invited.

Sally Martin Singers Will Be Heard Sunday

The Sally Martin Singers, radio quartet from Chicago, will be featured in a preliminary program, Sunday evening, 7:30 p. m., at the Sunset Avenue Church, corner of Sunset and Pepper, Pasadena.

"Let My People Live," sound moving picture with an all-colored cast, will be shown at 7:00 p. m. Also on the preliminary program will be Miss Alice Kratka, R. N., of the Pasadena Tuberculosis Association, who will give a brief health talk.

Rev. Owen A. Troy, pastor of the church, will give a lecture, "Christ and Christmas." This subject will be illustrated by beautiful screen pictures. These services are decidedly different from the usual type of service appeal to young as well as old.

1ST AME CHURCH

The three choirs of First A. M. E. Church, 801 Towne Avenue, under the able direction of a competant music staff will combine to present an impressive service of great beauty and unaffected charm, beginning at 11 p. m. Sunday night. For years the Eighth & Towne Mid-night Service has been one of the city's favorite Christmas Services, and this year will be no exception.

OTHER SERVICES

The Church School party for it's pupils will be held in the Social Hall Friday evening at 7 p. m. Sunday morning at 10:45 the Christmas Sermon will be delivered by Dr. R. S. Jenkins of Dallas, Texas, veteran pastor, presiding elder and distinguished Churchman.

At 5 p. m. the Church School will present a Vesper Service centering in a dramatic fantasy written by Mrs. Madeline Traylor and produced by the pupils of the school.

The Mid-night Service, beginning at 11 p. m., will conclude the service schedule for the day. The Christmas Spirit, however, will prevade the various Club Meetings throughout the season where gifts will be exchanged. The Church School has already sent gifts to all persons in Service from the church, both overseas and in continental U. S. A. The extending of Christmas cheer to the sick and shut-in at home has been in the hands of the Deaconess Board, the Here Am I Club and the Artishia W. Jorndan Missionary Society.

Services At Pilgrim Baptist

The spirit was high all day at Pilgrim Baptist Church Sunday as it always is. Our beloved Pastor, who has been sick the past week, came out Sunday morning and gave us a fine talk from the 5th chapter of Matthew and the 6th verse. "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness for they shall be filled." He was unable to be with us at the evening service. We are asking that you pray for Rev. Wade and Sister Wade, who is also sick. They are truly missed.

REV. B. W. WADE

The Junior Choir rendered their Christmas Musical at 6:30 p. m. and was enjoyed by all, you should hear these young people sing. Rev. R. E. Lee Cain delivered the message "On the Patience of Job."

Seven new members were added to the Church.

Next Sunday evening the Senior Choir will present The Christmas Masque, "The Holy Night." Don't miss this as it is somewhat different.

We invite you to worship with us Sunday all day. Sunday School, 9 o'clock; service, 10:15; B.T.U., 5:15 p. m., and service, 6:30.

Rev. B. W. Wade, pastor; Damon A. Wall, reporter.

CARVER MEMORIAL

The minister of the Carver Memorial Independent Church, Rev. Paul M. Marshall, has put forth much effort to make this year's annual Xmas party a great success. This will mark the twelfth annual Christmas Party to be sponsored through the efforts of the minister.

The servicemen and youth of the community are to be the guests of honor. Christmas carols will be sung by the Youth Choir and the Sunday School will present its Christmas program. Last year around two hundred persons participated in the gala affair. A hearty welcome is extended to the general public.

Sunday morning the minister will speak from the subject, 'What Think Ye of Christ."

PLEASANT HILL BAPTIST

The Pleasant Hill Baptist Church cordially invites the public to attend our Christmas Services that will be held all day Sunday and at 11:00 a. m. Christmas morning. In the evening there will be a very fine program at 8.

Our usual Christmas dinner, that is free to the public, will be Sunday morning after service. Sunday evening will close with a Candlelight service as in White gifts for King. At the same time the officers of the church will be installed in a Candlelight demonstration.

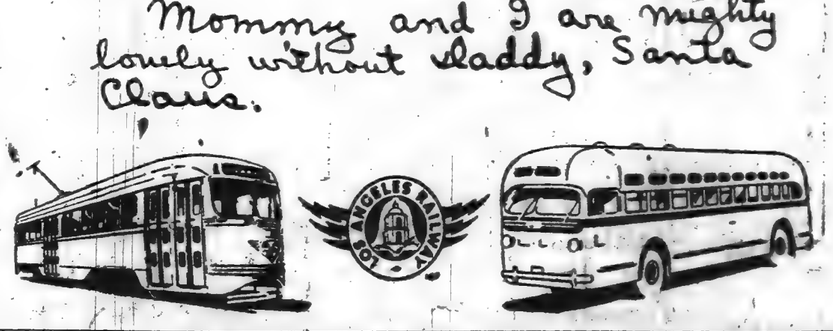
FIGHT HOUSING RESTRICTIONS



Dear Santy:

Next to my Mom and Daddy, you and Uncle Sam are the best friends I have in the world. My Daddy is fighting for Uncle Sam somewhere in the South Pacific, and all I want for Christmas is to have him come home, safe and sound, to Mommy and me.

I've never seen any pictures of you and Uncle Sam but my Daddy always told me you are both swell fellows. I'd sure like to see you and Daddy and Uncle Sam come marching right in our front door Christmas day.

Mommy and I are mighty lonely without Daddy, Santa Claus.

In Loving Memory of My Husband
Charles H. Dodge

Two years have passed dear,
Since the Angels took you away;
To be schooled in that city of God,
Where there is eternal day.
There were other worlds to explore,
In that great expanse above,
You joined that invisible host
To bask more deeply in God's love.
There all good will be understood,
Amid the Saints of spotless white,
There only there, are praises to him,
In the city of pure delight.
Music from the muffled ages come from the sea,
Mingled with the songs of birds, bring your love to me.

Mrs. Chas. H. Dodge & Son.

are your range ideas ahead of the times?

So are ours!

COOKING ADAPTABILITY? That's where the "CP" Gas Range shines! From low-temperature roasting to high-speed broiling ... from a slow simmer to a fast boil ... greater cooking adaptability is built in!

BEST FOR BROILING? None better! You get top speed instantly from the clean, live gas flame. Broiling that is broiling! The high radiant heat really browns and seals in more of the luscious, natural juices. And what a difference that makes!

AUTOMATIC OVEN HEAT CONTROL? Yes, of course! at low heat or high, a "CP" Gas Range assures you the utmost in constant, fully automatic temperature control ... perfection in all your baking and roasting operations; it's fuel-saving, too, because oven peeking is eliminated.

SUPER INSULATION? Your "CP" oven is heavily insulated to keep the heat in the oven where it belongs and out of the kitchen. No waste of heat or fuel here!

ECONOMY IN OPERATION? Nothing approaches the "CP" Gas Range for economy. Top burners and oven are controllable to the most minute degree. No wasteful "stored" heat. You use exactly what you need, no more.

(CP) means "Certified Performance" ... the mark of special quality on ranges made by all high grade manufacturers. 22 super-features ... Gas Industry laboratories are developing still further improvements for after the war. The finest in modern cooking ... the most practical ... will always be a "CP" Gas Range.

Special Christmas service at First A.M.E. Church at Pico and Paloma Streets. Sunday, December 24th, at 11:15, sermon by the Pastor, S. H. Marion.

All members and friends are requested to make a special Christmas gift offering to the church. The senior choir will have a musical concert beginning at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Prof. Gilbert F. Allen, minister of music. Saturday, Dec. 23rd, at 7:30, the Sunday School is having its program and Christmas tree.

Beginning with watch night meeting New Year's eve, we are having an old-fashioned revival meeting for one week only, and the preaching will be done by the pastor. Up to and from Jan. 1st to 7th each night at 8:15, song and praise service begins at 7:30 p. m. each night.

The general public is invited, as this revival meeting is for the saving of souls. All ministers and churches are invited.

The Friday afternoon utility club of First Church is having its annual Christmas party on Thursday night at 7:30 at the church. Rev. S. H. Marion, Pastor.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the many friends, clubs, the west side neighbors, the east side neighbors, choirs, usher boards, circles, chapters, the Interdenominational Stewards Union, the 1st A.M.E. Zion Church of Santa Monica, Cornerstone Baptist Church, Hamilton Church, Good Samaritan and Western King's Daughters Circle.

The Rev. L. E. Jordan, the Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, and the Rev. S. M. Beane for their flowers, cards, telegrams, and their kindness and comforting expressions shown us at the passing of our dearly beloved husband and father, Gideon A. Veil. Ada L. Veil, wife, William, Homer, Dallas, Ellis and Merlin Veil, sons, Jessie Veil, daughter.

Remembrance is a golden chain—
Death tries to break, but all in vain.
To have, to love and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.

$34,800 Raised For Wilberforce

WILBERFORCE, Ohio.—Declaring that the chains of Wilberforce University must be broken by freeing the institution of its debts, Bishop John A. Gregg announced a total collection of $34,800 at an educational mass meeting held at the Quinn Chapel A.M.E. Church in Chicago. This amount was a total collection from the Fourth Episcopal District presided over by Bishop John A. Gregg, former president of Wilberforce and now a member of the University Board of Trustees, under whose leadership the ministers of the A.M.E. churches in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, and the northwestern states, and the alumni of that region just completed a three months' vigorous campaign for their portion of the debt redemption of Wilberforce.

Montgomery-Ward in Limelight

Sewell Avery, chief executive of Montgomery Ward Co., who was carried out of his magnificent office several months ago for defying Uncle Sam, has a formula for fighting labor unions and the working people, which may bid fair to be worse than all the cudgels and bullets hired by former reactionaries in fighting organized labor.

Avery is probably the only man in the country who is the chief executive and biggest stockholder of two of the 200 biggest non-banking corporations: U. S. Gypsum and Montgomery Ward. He is intimately allied with J. P. Morgan & Co. He has an annual income of more than $570,000. This includes the $100,000 a year salary which he receives from Montgomery Ward, and the profit he makes from shares of stock in U. S. Gypsum and Montgomery Ward.

Avery is seventy years old. He is tall, slender, with thin features and deepset eyes, and looks a lot like Henry Ford. He is a business man with an outlook on life so reactionary that he sometimes frightens other business men. He is bitterly opposed to all labor unions, the New Deal, the income tax, and does not hesitate to say he is fighting laws which other men have accepted long ago as part of our government.

He has a formula with which he hopes to break labor unions entirely. It is a slick, smooth article. Its first plank is delay. By appealing and re-appealing, by going into the courts, then back to the Labor Board, he has managed to drag out a minor labor dispute which could have been settled within a few days, for four years.

His second plank is that of defiance. He will not obey any law or order of the government unless forced to do so.

His third plank is demagogy. He has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in a nation-wide campaign designed to put the employer in the position of the defender of traditional liberties. He will not hesitate to use deception nor defamation. He has brought libel suits against newspapers and labor unions that have told the truth about him, and although he has always lost, he will repeat the suits for the sake of their nuisance value and to wear out the unions and the newspapers financially unable to bear the expense of trials in court.

The danger of the Avery formula is that the infection is beginning to spread. Other business men are following his example—delay, defiance, false propaganda, deception, defamation, etc. Once more Chicago is becoming the center for a conspiracy of big business which extends far beyond the trade union field. Whither will it lead?

Negroes Should Be Included

Have you noticed that in the pictures on the screen of the war in both Europe and in the Pacific, you do not see any which portrays the part which Negro troops are taking in that war?

General Patton's success near Aachen was due largely to the Negro transportation corps troops, as well as the installation at Herkensthal of machinery, electrical equipment, and every kind of mechanical device. Had it not been for these Negro troops, General Patton himself said, the victories of the Allies would have been impossible.

These Negro transportation troops drive their jeeps through the mud and slush of rain-soaked France. They themselves are soaked with rain and they wade through mud to their knees many times repairing their broken-down jeeps, struggling through mountain-like difficulties to get supplies to the front.

For the boys at the front must have food, they must have ammunition, they must never for one moment be permitted to think, "Too little and too late."

And so our Negro boys toil on, uncomplainingly, knowing they are doing a good job, knowing they are doing their bit for democracy, for that better world which shall come out of this holacaust.

We give them all honor. We would not have them complain for one second. We would feel humiliated if they did. And yet—do you remember that old saying about giving even the devil his due?

We feel that in those motion pictures of our fighting fronts, the splendid work of the Negro soldiers should be given its due. They should be shown driving their trucks and jeeps through that sticky mud and slush. They should be shown doing their bit for victory.

Perhaps if enough of us suggested this to the managers of the motion picture theaters, they might relay it to the moguls who make the pictures? Let's try it next time we see a war picture with the Negroes left out.

Woman's Suffrages Faces the Same Fate As Negro Suffrage

The history of woman's suffrage and Negro suffrage in this nation are parallel. It was a long, bitter fight before women were granted full equal voting rights. Negroes in many cases and in many sections of the country are still denied equal citizenship rights.

Negroes were granted citizenship rights, full freedom, and equal voting rights by the thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth amendments to the United States Constitution.

But although the United States government fully intended that Negroes should enjoy every one of the privileges granted them in these amendments, to date none of these has been completely enjoyed by them. They were rights and privileges granted them on paper, and the Negroes then did not have the power to make those rights real.

Similarly it is said that 18,000,000 working women are wondering if they are going to gain equal rights when the war is over. American women have the vote under the Constitution, but not equal economic rights.

Today these 18,000,000 American citizens who have been denied their full Constitutional rights, have learned that they are fighting at home and abroad not only to gain their freedom from injustice in their own nation, but to make the whole world free from Nazi terrorism.

The dark people all over the world understand why this war is being waged, and they are willing to fight and will fight until victory and freedom are won for them and all the enslaved peoples of the world.

We Want Some of the Cream Not the Skimmed Milk

Governor Earl Warren's appointment of Norman Houston to the Boxing Commission is highly appreciated, but it is not altogether an answer to the people's request in the matter that they be represented in filling the Gordon McDonough vacancy caused by Mr. McDonough's election to Congress.

We contend that the Second Supervisorial District is homogenious, and that the Governor's choice for this position should be some one living in this district, and understanding the needs of the district.

The people living in this district had asked Governor Warren to select either Norman Houston or Frederick M. Roberts for supervisor to fill the vacancy left by Mr. McDonough. He replied to this request by appointing Mr. Houston a member of the Boxing Commission.

We fully appreciate the honor accorded Mr. Houston, and we feel sure Mr. Houston is also appreciative, but we also feel that Governor Warren has not fully complied with the request of the people of the Second Supervisorial District.

We asked for cream, Governor Warren. You have given us just a bit of skimmed milk. You can still make good, however. Even with Mr. Houston eliminated by virtue of the fact that he has been appointed a commissioner, we still have left Mr. Roberts and many others amply qualified to serve.

PUBLIC SUPPORT NEEDED TO SAVE FOLKES' LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—The people of the United States who are believers in justice, regardless of whether race, creed, color or national origin is involved, are called upon at thie eleventh hour by the Folkes' Defense Committee to either write or wire Governor Earl Snell of Oregon requesting a stay of execution and a commutation of sentence for Robert E. Lee Folkes, scheduled to die in the gas chamber in Oregon, January 5.

Known better as the "Lower 13" murder case, Folkes, who was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Martha Virginia James who was a passenger on the Southern Pacific West Coast Limited has up to this day maintained his innocence for the crime which the finger of guilt has according to the court records been pointed in other directions.

Convicted by a jury on which there was not a single Negro, it is the concensus of most Negro leaders throughout the country that the young dining car cook is a victim of circumstantial evidence which even in his case was not sufficient to warrant the death penalty.

From the records of the court, it is the opinion of Negroes that the marine who played an active part in an out of the Lower 13 compartment that ill-fated night in January 1943 was more than a mere "material" witness in the case.

If it were not for mass pressure, the Committee feels that the true facts in the Scottsboro and Sleepy Lagoon cases would never have come to light. The Committee, in behalf of American justice to all, regardless of their racial background, has issued a nation-wide appeal to the American people to request Governor Snell to commute the doomed man's sentence, thereby giving him a fighting chance to live with hopes of gaining his freedom for the crime which he maintains he did not commit.

The Committee calls to the attention of the nation, the celebrated case of Tom Mooney, who was sentenced to die for a crime which he did not commit. If Mooney's sentence had not been commuted he would not have lived to convince the world of his innocence. The Folkes' Committee in its last-minute appeal to the American people is only asking that the self-same opportunity be extended Robert E. Lee Folkes.

A Man's Home Is His Castle

Tee Davis, Negro tenant farmer of Edmonson, Arkansas, in March, 1943, took quite literally the Arkansas law which says a man's home is his castle, and as a result he is serving ten years in jail for alleged assault with intent to kill.

Davis was convicted because he fired a shotgun through his own door when it was being broken in at night by a man who, unknown to him, was a special deputy sheriff hunting for thieves.

There had been a complaint of thieving in Edmonson. Three deputies searched several homes without search warrants. Then one of them named Weaver went to Davis' house. Finding the door lockqed he began kicking it down, shouting: "Open up, you g—— black son——."

Davis, inside with his family, fired through the lower part of the door. No one was injured. Then Weaver fired back. No one was harmed either. But Davis was tried for assault with intent to kill, convicted, and sentenced to ten years in jail, despite his plea and the plea of his attorney that he was acting within his rights in defending his home.

A campaign is being staged now to secure a pardon for Tee Davis by Christmas. He may receive this as a Christmas gift, if enough people respond to the plea. Write or wire Governor Homer M. Adkins, Little Rock, Arkansas, urging a Christmas pardon for Tee Davis.

We Fight for World Peace

In this Christmas season of peace to men of good will, we want to call special attention again to those organizations which are doing all in their power to bring about that era of peace to all the world.

It requires a fighting spirit to do this, of fighting against all evil, all discrimination against all minority groups, including the Negroes, the Jews, the Chinese, the loyal Japanese—all mankind who wish peace upon earth.

We should join the various organizations who will lead us in that fight—the NAACP, the Jewish organizations who are giving their all to combat anti-Semitism, the League for Equal Justice, the Victory Committee, the International Labor Defense, etc.

These and similar organizations perhaps not so well known are fighting today in the true Christmas spirit—that we may in truth have peace on earth and good will toward men.

By Jeanette Cohen

Following is the text of a letter sent to me by the Lincoln-Douglas Club of the Communist Political Assn., with the notation: "Dear Miss Cohen: We know that your column is always open to people who are fighting for Democracy. We would like the people in Cadlifornia to know of some of the things we are doing in New York to help win the war."

"Meltonian, Ltd.,
Cricklewood, London, England.

"Gentlemen:

We have in our possession a bottle of your "Meltonian for Suede" shoe dressing. We are writing you, not to comment on the quality of your product, but because of a matter that concerns us Americans very vitally, and we hope when we are through this will concern you to the same degree.

A delegation from our Club recently purehased your shoe dressing in the Bloomingdale Dept. Store of this city. They chose a particular "shade," firstly because it aroused their curiosity and secondly and more important because the name of that "shade" is a deragatory term affecting the lives of some thirteen million Americans—and yes, even affecting the war effort.

"When we say that their curiosity was aroused, we mean that it is almost impossible for us to understand how you determine a shade 'nigger brown.' Do you come by this shade scientifically? We doubt that, because you see there are Negroes of every shade ranging from white to very black.

"Now, even if it were true that all Negroes were of one shade, and you cared to commercialize on that fact, may we inform you that the term "nigger" is by no means the proper one to use. A "nigger" of course can be any person, regardless of color. However, if you know American history, you will know that this term has been narrowed down as a means of attack upon the Negro people. It cuts deeply into the hearts of these people as well as those of other minorities who have also been given derogatory names in the process of persecution. We don't like to feel that in a Democracy like ours such things exist, but nevertheless it is true.

"It seems odd to us that we here, who comparatively have not even been touched by the war, should attempt to describe its meaning to you in England who have suffered the tortures of bombings and death. We are no less concerned with war however .So much so, that we are not only carrying on the military fight on the battlefronts, but are at the same time engaged in a struggle on the Home Front to wipe out any vestiges of the Fascist ideology of race supremacy. The word "nigger" in America is used by "race haters," just as there are derogatory terms used in your country by the same kind of people.

"As you are well aware today, just as in the First World War, Negro Americans are on your soil as well as they are all over the world fighting for Democracy. As far back as our history will go, Negroes have fought for and helped to build our Country. They were here long before many other Americans reached here. Your history shows that too!

"We would like you to know that our delegation, camposed of Negro and white Americans protested against the sale of your product on the counters of Bloomingdale Department Store as long as it carried the insulting term "nigger." The Floor Manager in that Store, an American, willing to help establish that Unity in our country that will help win this war against Fascism, and realizing that your product in that "shade" is not conducive to that kind of Unity, immediately removed from the counter and stopped the sale of "nigger brown Meltonian for Suede shoe dressing."

"We hold the highest regard for this American who is an honesty believer in Democracy. He is a true son of our Country. We compliment Bloomgdale's for their choice in this Floor Manager.

"We feel sure that you too will realize your mistake and do everything possible to remove from your product any trace of a name that is on the top of Hitler's list. Your country and ours are Allies and members of the United Nations. We must work together if we are to win the war.

"We would appreciate it very much if you would send us a reply to this letter stating your feelings in the matter.

"Yours for victory—LINCOLN-DOUGLES COMMUNITY CENTER COMMUNIST POLITICAL ASSOCIATION."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

LOS ANGELES CENTRAL LABOR COUNCIL
American Federation of Labor and the California State Federation Of Labor

The Editor,
The California Eagle
4075 So. Central
Los Angeles 11, California

Dear Editor: I wish to take this opportunity express the appreciation of the members of the American Federation of Labor for the valuable service you rendered toward the defeat of Proposition No. 12. The members of the American Federation of Labor fully appreciate the fact that legislative propositions are actually adopted or lost through the influence of the citizens who do not have union memberships.

Your contribution served to influence that portion of the citizens who are not reached through labor union activities without which we could not have defeated this vicious measure.

We are sincerely appreciative of this remarkable achievement which you have made.

Again expressing our appreciation and with best personal wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,
W. J. BASSETT,
Secretary.

Negro Newsboys In 140 Weeks Sell $670,822 In War Stamps

Newspaper boys of the Afro-American papers have sold 6,708,221 war stamps of the ten-cent denomination, totaling $670,822.10, in the 140 weeks that they have devoted to the task, the Department of the Treasury announced this week.

Harry W. Cullis, chief of the Newspaper Boys Section of the War Finance Division, who is making the appeal to the boys in order to give impetus to their efforts during the Sixth War Loan campaign, was scheduled to address groups in Washington on Monday and in Richmond on Wednesday. Last week he spoke in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Newark. In Philadelphia, the boys also have sold some $45,000.

Negro Handbook Ready for Local Distribution

Just off the press following unavoidable delay due to paper priorities, the New Negro Handbook of 1944 is ready for local distribution. Compiled and edited by Florence Murray, able New York journalist, it was published by Current Reference Publications of New York. Harry Levette, ANP representative, who wrote the complete, comprehensive and valuable moving pictures section, is to have charge of the local sales. He will accept orders from his address, 727 E. 24th street, and within the next few days, Louis V. Cole, widely konwn newsman and politician will handle the house-to-house field.

Being right up to date with activities and history of Negro armed forces, the new book is of vast importance both to citizens of all races and to business firms that possess or desire considerable Negro patronage. Complete statistics on every phase of Negro life is included such as population in various sections of the country, business, industry, housing, religion, health, the professions, crime statistics, civil rights, sports, politics, etc. Its 283 pages clearly printed, and well bound, the book sells for $3.50, and makes an unusual, valuable and instructive Christmas present. Besides the motion picture studios virtually every Chamber of Commerce where Negroes reside are expected to secure a copy before the first edition is exhausted.

WISHING YOU AND YOURS A MERRY, MERRY CHRISTMAS

This writer along with the other members of the staff of this newspaper wishes to extend to you and your family the best in the way of Christmas cheer. This writer sincerely means every word. Through this column we have earned a host of good friends. We cherish that friendship. We might add, that we can really celebrate Christmas this year, because we have so much to be thankful for. Los Angeles has been good to the fellow who in the spring of 1938 crossed the Rocky Mountains and the Great American and Mojave deserts to reach this city which stretches from the mountains to the sea. I was a stranger and ye took me in. Thank you, Los Angeles, and a most Merry Christmas to you and to your citizens.

We are not going to run a lotta names and tell Santa Claus to fill your stockings with this and that—we know that you have done so already. But we would like to point out to Otto Johnson and the members of his Theatre Guild how this year, unlike so many years in the past, that Santa Claus has not stolen the show nor received star billing over the Little Christ Child. When I was a little boy, I heard a great deal about Santa Claus, but only a little about why we actually celebrated Christmas. But today, the big stores have featured the natal day of Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ by displaying incidents in the birth of Christ.

Regardless of your religious denomination say a little prayer and thank God for such men as A. L. Wirin, Roger Baldwin, Ben Margolis and John Beardsley. These men are indeed the servants of God. They have stood guard like Guardian Angels to protect the rights of man.

Strange Fruit . . . Lillian Smith's fine novel objecting to the social customs of Georgia and the South in general, was sustained when that custom was dealt an ironic and tragic blow recently. Little white children aping the sadistic customs of grown-ups who resort to a repugnant, yet popular pastime, tied 9 year-old Ernest Bell with heavy ropes and 10 year-old Waytus Nixon set him afire. The child died within three hours. The tragedy was "whitewashed." "They were playing cowboys and Indians." Little Ernest was an Indian ? ? ? ?

County Peace Constable . . . R. Hardon, affectionately known as "Bob" and now top man in the County set-up as far as sepians are concern is in truth the Black Barometer, the Weather Vane. He and his unofficial "brain trust" make up the unofficial County Black Cabinet. Recently Bob Hardon and his wife were invited to luncheon with former Mayor Darby, of Inglewood and now a member of the L. A. County Board of Supervisors.

Dynamic Pat Patterson, the Sinatra of Ben Bowie Post of the American Legion and his committee put on a big time affair Thursday at the Avalon U.S.O. He did, just as though it was being broadcast to the nation. He had a quiz show and gave out prizes to the soldiers. You see Pat and I were on the same train in uniform. He got off in Texas to join a cavalry outfit, while I kept on until I reach South Carolina and an infantry unit. He knew what the boys wanted in the way of entertainment. He gave it to them.

Santon Special . . . G.I. Norman Phillips, who gave rise to being a restaurant magnate prior to "bring enough clothes to last three days" and subsequent promotion to a staff sergeant filed for a G. I. divorce from Mamie, his restaurant manager-wife, here in the Superior Court.

"Is You Is or Is You Ain't My Baby?" that is the tune that is being played for Charles Chaplin. Arthur McClanahan, who ran the gauntlet as a member of the Los Angeles Police for over a score of years and now one of Biscailuz's little boy, Friday, has been riding herd on the huge crowds attending the Chaplin trial. Big Mac was resplendent in the forest green uniform of the Sheriff's Department.

Mail Call . . . You have no idea how a G. I. greedily devours a letter from you. I know, I was there. Boys from Los Angeles are scattered all over the globe. So to start with I shall give you the names and addresses of a few of my former buddies, who unlike me, did not miss the boat. Woun't you drop them a line and make them feel fine.

They are: Pfc. Kelley Poole, Sr., U. S. M. C. 51st Def. Bn., Btry. B c/o Fleet Post, San Francisco, Calif.; 1st Lt. Everett M. Porter, 01319543, Hq. Co., 368th Inf., APO 93 c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.; Pfc. Nat Joseph 39576017 Co. A., 1311th Eng (GS) Regt., APO 928 c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif. First Sergeant Charles "Chuck" Owens, 39562087 593rd Port Co. APO 565 c/o P. M., San Francisco, Calif.; Pvt. William S. Glenn, 39729143, Co. H., 54th Eng. Tr. Bn., Eng. Tt., Sec. Fort Lewis, Washington.

Some of these boys are in New Guinea, Marianas and Guadacanal. Write them if you know them—write them if you don't. Become a pen pal to some soldier.

Democracy at Work . . . The Colored U.S.O. up in Tacoma, Washington has a personnel of about fifteen people. Only three are colored.

To those of you, who saw the gangling William Scott Glenn grow and blossom into a full fledged G. I. will be interested to know that he left here weighing 143 pounds. He now tips the scale at 168 pounds. His story is: at camp they served him plenty of fowl and dressing on Turkey day. With his belly full, he decided upon visiting the U.S.O. they filled him again with turkey—then he and a bunch of the boys later were invited to eat turkey. He says he now crows and gobbles at reville.

Judging from the many letters we received from all over the world, the boys had a good dinner overseas—so it looks like their Christmas dinner will be just as good as yours. The only thing wrong—you are not with them.

This is Earl J. Morris, pistol packing papa, who laid his rifle down.

Opening their booth for the Sixth War Loan drive, the Berkeley, California Unit of the Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps of America makes its first sale to Mrs. Irene Sims of Oakland, treasurer of the Golden State Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. BAY REGION NEWS

Final rites were held for Dr. O. Roy Busch, prominent Berkeleyan, recently. He passed after a very short illness at the family residence.

The simple rites were held at the Hudson Funeral Home, Oakland, where hours before the services began, an overflow audience had gathered in tribute to his memory.

A veteran of World War 1, he was an active member of the Col. Chas. Young Post, American Legion, and was buried with full military honors under the auspices of the Post.

He was also a member of the Adonis Masonic and American Woodmen Lodges. Soloists for the occasion were Mesdames Sadie Huggins, Justicia Scott and Mr. W. A. Deane.

Rev. Johnson of Parks Chapel A.M.E delivery the eulogy.

Following his graduation from Meharry Medical College Dr. Busch settled in Dallas, Tex., where he was co-partner of the Morgan-Busch sanitorium for six years.

He and Mrs. Busch, who survives him, came to Oakland, where he established a large practice. He shared for a number of years an office with Vernon Orviss, D.D., now of Fresno, Calif., who was present for the last rites, as were Dr. and Mrs. Wallace, also of Fresno.

Dr. Busch is survived by his widow, and only sister, Mrs. Rosa Butler, Oaklander; a stepmother, Mrs. Addie Small of Pasadena, and an aunt, Mrs. Florence Fisher of Los Angeles, who attended the funeral services.

Mrs. Roberta Lindsay, special friend of the family, also attended the rites.

Mrs. Kathleen Hutson, Chicagoan, has returned home following a delightful visit on the West Coast, during which she was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Cox, 886 32nd st., Oakland. Here, Mrs. Hutson was extensively feted.

Mrs. Pearl Blandin in Ward st., hostessed the Book Lovers Study Club of Berkeley last Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Minnie Oubre, president, was the speaker of the day. The program was directed by Mrs. Maggie Marshall.

At a previous meeting Attorney L. M. Hatch, guest speaker, gave a comprehensive analysis of a group of current books on Negro life.

Eugene Blandin, is reported much improved after an extended illness at the family residence in Ward st.

Mrs. Zelia Mae Tatum, 2015 King st., was hostess at a lavishly appointed bridge luncheon last Thursday, which was the occasion for assembling a score of modishly gowned matrons of Metropolitan Oakland.

Mrs. Tatum was lovely in a violet colored satin hostess gown. Prize awards were made to Mesdames Mable Foster, Marguerite Butcher and Marcita Lenear.

Mrs. Tatum was also hostess to the Bridgettes, Tuesday afternoon. Mesdames Ed Hogan and V. Covington were special guests.

Approximately 460,000,000,000 matches are expected to be produced next year, as compared with an average pre-war production of from 480,000,000,000 to 490,000,000,000.

News From San Bernardino

Cpl. Charles Beal, popular pianist of New York City and a native son of Redlands, with three buddies gave a surprise visit to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Phillips last week. Cpl. Beal is stationed with the 372nd at Ft. Huachuca.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowers and Mrs. R. Jones all of Los Angeles, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Muckelroy last week.

We are happy to note that Mr. J. M. Muchelroy, Mr. Davis, Mr. Perry Rolland, and Mrs. D. Coleman are recovering nicely from severe illnesses.

Rev. Criglar, pastor of St. Paul A. . E. Church, is now convalescing in Sawtelle Sanatorium. His assistant pastors conducted the services last Sunday.

Mrs. Roena Muckelroy Savage spent several days in Los Angeles last week.

Mrs. Alberta Lee, Mrs. Minnie Ruiz and Mrs. Ethel Stevenson spent a few days in Los Angeles last week Christmas shopping and being entertained by friends.

The Anna B. Garner Study Club devoted their social hour, at the last meeting, to Mrs. Alice Moss, who will soon be leaving our city. Many beautiful gifts were received. Home made cake and ice cream were served by Mrs. Marie Muckelroy. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Nancy Cook on J Street. Meetings have been changed from Tuesday nights to the second and fourth Friday nights. This change was made so that the members might cooperate with the U.S.O.

The Cosmos Club was entertained by Mrs. Lorraine Butler of 8th street. Aside from the club her guests were Mrs. Jackie Griffith and Mrs. N. Flowers. Mrs. Griffith won guest prize and Miss Dorothy Inghram the club prize. Mrs. Butler treated the ladies to a most delicious Chinese supper.

La Cercle Charmante was entertained by Mrs. Gussie Rucker of Spruce Street. Aside from the club, her guest was Mrs. Marghareitta Hocker. First club prize was won by Mrs. Josephine Blakely and second prize, by Mrs. Roena Savage. Mrs. Rucker gave the ladies a real fried chicken dinner with all the trimmings.

The Mothers Club was entertained by Mrs. Heles James of 9th Street. Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Rekow, public health nurse for this community. Mrs. Rekow talked to the mothers in an informal manner about the prevention of the common diseases and facilities offered by the clinic to citizens on the West side. Light, but delicious refreshments were served.

I believe the true road to preeminent success in any line is to make yourself master of that line. —Andrew Carnegie.

Bakersfield USO Notes

Both junior and senior hostesses have been busy during the past few weeks helping carry on the regular weekly program, wrapping Christmas packages, and filling three large gift boxes to be given to the Negro personnel stationed at Minter Field, Inyokern Naval Test Station, and the Muroc air base.

The junior hostesses will journey to the Inyokern Naval Test Station on Thursday, December 21, and the Muroc air base on Thursday, December 28. A gala time is anticipated by all concerned.

On Thursday afternoon, December 21, a kiddie party will be held at the club for all enlisted men's children. The Servicemens Wives Club is in charge of arrangements. The ladies will also entertain their husbands with a buffet dinner party on Friday evening, December 29.

On Sunday, December 24, pre-Christmas Vesper Services will be conducted at the club with Reverend H. A. Greene of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church as speaker. A Christmas musical pantomime will be presented, and the public is cordially invited.

Mrs. Towers Visits Here

Mrs. A. Orphues Towers, wife of Attorney William H. Towers, 5th term representative of the Kansas State Legislature, and Assistant City Attorney of Kansas City, returned to her home after a three weeks stay in our city with her sister, Mrs. C. Jane De Marsh, who is ill.

Mrs. Towers is very active in civic affairs, and is the state supervisor of Youth of the Baptist Convention. During her stay in the city, she was entertained by the following persons: Mr. and Mrs. Martin Smith, Mr. and Mrs. George Obie, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Corporal and Mrs. Odessa Brown and daughter, Mrs. Beulah Smith, Mrs. Juanita Jones, Mrs. Lola Miller, Mrs. Helen Powell and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. DeNard.

Spanish Classes Fete Xmas and Teacher's Birthday

A delightful evening was spent last Saturday by pupils of Prof. Archie J. Williams at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Octave Pavajeau, 1529 West 36th Street. The Get-Together Party was held in honor Prof. Williams' birthday, and its first Christmas celebration. Each member of the groups brought gifts with which to form a Grab-Bag for the visitors who had been invited. There were gifts galore. Refreshments were served after a program in Spanish had been presented, and after the program games were played.

Miss Vashti Anderson led the program with a paper "Our First Celebration." Mrs. Evangeline Spurlock gave the highlights of Humphrey Bogart's article which appears in the January, 1945 issue of the Photoplay, "Medal from Hitler." An old time spelling match was a cause of joy and laughter. Miss Vashti Anderson was selected Captain of group one, and Miss Marcela Monroe, Captain of group two. Mr. Leon Duplessis, an advanced pupil in Spanish gave out the words in that language. It was thought that one hundred words would be enough to sit both groups down, but six on each side were standing when the hundredth word was given, causing a tie.

The classes present were the 28th Street, the 35th Street, Mountain View and the 36th Street. There were many visitors at the party; all went home with their gifts and no one happier than Prof. Williams who received a beautiful birthday gift from the group.

Next SATURDAY nite is TEXAS NITE at the UP-TOWN BALLROOM! Everybody who hails from the Lone Star State will be presented with a free pass for a future dance date.

CELEBRATES SECOND BIRTHDAY—Pictured above is the group which attended the second birthday party celebration of Master Martinez J. Hewlett, Jr., on Sunday, December 10th. Baby Martinez is shown with his birthday cake. He is the son of Cpl. and Mrs. Martinez J. Hewlett of 1507 W. 37th Place. In the group above are: E. and J. Lumas, M. L. Bird, A. and G. Marvray, L. Clines, S. Lewis, C. and K. P. Johnson, J. A. Taylor, J. Ory, A. Armstone, A. Morris, E. Thornhill, Jr., G. Charbonnet, R. M. Smith, E. Thornhill, G. Taylor, D. and E. Coffee, P. Ory and Master Martinez Hewlett, the host.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Unknowing, they planted that cross in my heart
Which they set in Calvary's sod;
And there it remains, my charge and my chart—
Must I not tread where he trod?
He died on His Cross, my Lord Divine;
Made strong by His Love, let me bear mine.
—Frank P. Fletcher

Yes, the most beautiful season of the whole year rolls 'roun again, and we are reminded of a lowly manger in the lowly little town of Bethlehem of Judea, where many, many years ago one "Jesus," priest, prophet and king was born—born to bring new life and light to millions who were in darkness. The light He brought that day has never gone out. We must ever be mindful of Him, and His promise of peace and well-being to all who have faith in Him—and though we rejoice this holiday season; though we eat, drink and be merry—though we exchange our gifts and happy greetings—we must pause and think on the real meaning of "Christmas," and be strengthened thereby—else His coming to bless us another year has again been in vain. And so when we say "MERRY CHRISTMAS"—let us say it with a full appreciation of what that word means.

LAMPLIGHTERS' TEA

Fifteen charming young women, known as the Lamplighters, held their Introductory Tea on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Marie Cox, 1260 East 45th Street. There is an interesting story behind the Lamplighters—these young women were picked from 8th and Towne Church, by the pastor, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, to build a Circulating Library for that institution, in connection with the proposed expansion program of the church. They have enthusiastically answered the call and accepted the challenge. The tea was an elaborately beautiful affair. The members were all smartly attired, and each wore a red corsage. The table centerpiece was composed of red and white Chrysanthemums. The officers and members of the club are: Mrs. J. Fairchild, president; Mrs. Evelyn Harris, vice-president; Mrs. Maude White Foster, secretary; Mrs. Marie Cox, treasurer; Mrs. George Beaver, librarian, and Helen Sheffield, Dorothy Harris, Anne Snell, Ruth Frost, Linnie Petty, Ann Paxton, Mabel Miles, Ella Sevier, Louise Gilholm and Dorothy Patterson. Mrs. Genevieve Alexander is an associate member. The musical program was rendered by Robert Henry, pianist; Miss Amenda Haynes, Mr. Norris Stokes, Mr. Patterson and Miss Ann Hunter, soloists, and a group of piano selections were rendered by young Master John Herrod.

NEW TUNE RECORDED

Composer Joe Greene has written another tune, "Someone Over Here Loves Someone Over There," which is destined to become another song-hit. It has just been recorded by the Four Tones, and you ought to be hearing it on your juke boxes soon. Mr. Greene is leaving for Salt Lake City, this week, to spend Christmas with his wife and mother-in-law. Mrs. Greene, who has been out of the city for some time, visiting with her mother, who was ill, is expected to return with her husband after the holidays.

HERE AND THERE

Mrs. Preston Prince, of Santa Monica, and Mrs. John G. Selby, of South Gramercy Place, entertained with a formal party at the beautiful Casa Rafael on Saturday evening past. A most delightful time was enjoyed by scores of the Angel City's most fashionably dressed ladies and gentlemen.

Mildred Fegan, charming president of the Vogue Socialites, informs me that the club is sponsoring one of those "Blue Book" entry affairs at the Cafe Society, Christmas morning, from 8:00 until 12:00. Since the Vogue Socialites are giving the party, it is certain to be "on the beam" as the phrase goes.

It was a really fine gathering of folks at the Little Theatre Guild party held at the Villa Arlington Club on Saturday night. A good representation of all the people was present. Lively entertainment was furnished by several talented actors, singers and dancers throughout the evening. The lively offerings of Miss Anita Brown, talented singer, were enthusiastically received, and she succeeded in completely captivating her audience. Among those present, to mention a few, were Amos Reese, Kay Hartsfield, Leroy Antoine, Laura Bowman, Rex Ingram, Meredith Hatcher, Catherine Garcia, Earl Robinson, Harry Levette, Peggy Hawkins, Caleb Peterson, C. T. Tucker, Leon Hardwick, Vaino Hassan, and Sidney P. Dones.

Dr. C. W. Hill's newest enterprise, The Uptown, 55th and Central, opened up with a bang, this past Sunday evening. We expect this to become a popular spot for the younger set, and the part we like about it is that the entertainment is strictly "clean" and on the up and up. For an evening of good, wholesome fun, we recommend The Uptown.

With a good big wish to all of my friends, here and across the seas, for a VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR, I will sign off until this time next week. Cheerio.

"A TREE GROWS IN BROOKLYN"

A 20th Century Fox production starring James Dunn, Dorothy McGuire, Lloyd Nolan, Joan Blondell, and Peggy Ann Gardner.

Johnny Nolan (James Dunn) brings his nights wages home to his wife (Dorothy McGuire), and children.

Johnny's favorite bartender (Jimmy Gleason) listens with envy to Johnny tell about the wife and children.

Lloyd Nolan tells Dorothy McGuire not to worry about Johnny's drinking. Lloyd plays the cop on the beat.

On the Sets

By Dick Martin

Swords clashing, pirates swinging on ropes, dashing bucanners climbing from one ship to another, sailors being thrown overboard . . . this was the sight over on stage nine at R.K.O. They're making a rip roaring saga of the days when the skull and crossbones ruled the seas, and beautiful maiden fell under the charms of colorful pirate chiefs. All this happens in R.K.O.'s newest Technicolor picture, "Spanish Main." Frank Borzage is directing and "Breezy" Eason is handling the action shots. The picture stars Paul Henried and Maureen O'Hara and features Walter Slezak and Nancy Gates.

The set is made up of two large ships. One is the Spanish ship and the other is the "Barracuda," the pirate ship. Three of the walls have a backdrop of blue sky. It doesn't look like much with workmen sawing and hammering all over the ships, but when the lights are turned on and the mammoth wind machines are set in motion, the set takes on a realistic atmosphere. Real bombs are placed under boxes containing small pieces of balsa wood. When the director gives the cue for action and everyone on the ship is fighting, the bombs are set off. On the screen it will look like the ship has been hit. I don't think there was a person on the set who didn't get some of the flyin gbalsa.

"Breezy" is trying to get a shot of a fight centered at the rail of the Spanish ship. Mike Mazurki, who made such a hit in "Farewell My Lovely," is supposed to be attacked by three pirates, and at the same time Paul Henried's double is fighting off sailors with his sword. A rehersal is called and they run through it, and decide that it would be a good gag if Mike would start to throw Curt Bois overboard and at the last minute discover it's his friend. They try it and it looks good, so it stays in. After four or five rehearsals, they decide to take it. There can be only one take, because it takes a whole day to set up a shot like this. The lights go on, the wind machines begin to fill the sails on both ships, smoke is placed in front of the wind machines blowing smoke throughout the set. Everything is in readiness and the director gives the signal for action. There is a terrific explosion and before you know it the action is over and the huge doors are opened to clear the smoke. Everyone is satisfied, so the director yells "print it."

The story has Paul Henried as a Dutch sea captain, who turns to piracy after being attacked by the Spaniards. In one of his raids on Spanish ships he takes Maureen O'Hara prisoner. Her friends are saved only after she agrees to marry Henried. After much difficulty, she finally realizes that she loves him and they live happily ever after.

The crews of the ships are made up of stunt men under Harvey Perry. It's really a kick to see such rough and tumble men as "Stubby" Kruger, Paul Stater, Freddy Graham, and Kermit Maynard "playing" pirates.

Before I went on the set I had lunch in R.K.O.'s dining room with the unit man. Here we witnessed one of the strangest sights you could ever hope to see. If you can imagine four huge pirates, dressed in tattered clothes, beards, swords at their sides, and daggers in their belts, sitting around a table in the main dining room eating green salads and drinking milk, then you've got it.

SWIM SUIT PREVIEW

Cruise wear sun suits and bathing suits were shown to the fashion press in Hollywood this week by Catalina, designers and manufacturers of the famed California beachwear.

Although there are certainly no "cruises" to be had literally, the suits are indicative of next summer's beach wear and winter resort clothes for the warm states.

Among Hollywood's famous personalities, several acquired these brand new types of swimming wear, inasmuch as outdoor life in California prevails the year around. Dorothy Lamour, famous for her sarongs, added to her swim wardrobe an island print called the Hawaiian "Outrigger," a California hand-blocked type in a sort of poplin material. Margo chose a suit in color of sky blue, persimmon, violet and lime, which had a tie in the front of the shorts that adjust them as a half-skirt model or may be tied tight to give the daring sarong variation with the new brief "high thigh" cut. The fabric is a new one called Esta-Q. Constance Moore's selection was the "Rodeo" print, a beige and gold combination with brown bucking broncos cavorting across the background. Included with this suit is a matching beach towel, a fashion sure to catch on next season.

ICE BOX BEAUTY

"A hot looking face is not a pretty one," so declared Wally Westmore, Paramount studio make-up head. "Keep your beauty essentials in the refrigerator and use them as you always do to cleanse, soothe and refresh your skin."

Diana Lynn currently appearing in "And the Angels Sing" told us she tried to do this but there wasn't room in the ice box, so she chills her beauty preparations in a bowl of ice before giving herself a home treatment.

BELT & BARRETTE SET

In "Marriage Is a Private Affair" a new accessory combination is introduced by Irene, executive designer for MGM. It consists of a distinctive belt, matching an equally distinctive hair ornament.

In one scene Lana Turner, star of the picture, wears a brown gabardine slack suit belted with a wide band of leopard skin tied in a soft single bow. A barrette of the same fur holds Lana's long blonde tresses close to her head.

In the same film, Frances Gifford wears her hair tied with a large cerise satin bow which matches a bow that gives a bustle occupies the most prominent spot in Judy Garland's dressing room. It was presented to her by Major

A handkerchief in a silver frame Alexander Parrish, squadron commander of the 340th Bomber Group, each plane of which is named "Lady Judy."

The young officer met Judy at the studio. He explained that the hankie was of parachute silk made

Ginger Rogers, looking very lovely, is seen to be seen in R.K.O's new picture, "The Gibson Girl." She is now making "I'll Be Seeing You" with Joseph Cotten at the same studio.

Soon as Paramount releases Frenchmen's Creek, it will show Joan Fontaine in one of her finest roles to date.

"Meet Me In St. Louis"

All set within the year 1903, the Smith family is presented in the four seasons, Summer-Fall-Winter-Spring, just like a natural slice of life. The result is real, sock entertainment in every way—with the infrequent song interpolations serving as grand garnish.

The production values are in the usual accustomed MGM manner, lavish and rich in detail. Technicolor again adds its mighty touch. The melodies befit the situations—the lingering and popular type—with the film title number the theme song.

But the main attribute is the smooth, human screenplay that makes every individual of the cast an important part of the natural procedings. It moves you right into the Smith family and you become a part of the story.

You can pick your own part of the mirror. There are the parents portrayed by Leon Ames (his best break to date) and Mary Astor. There are four sisters and a brother—Judy Garland, Margaret O'Brien, Lucille Bremer, Agnes Smith and Henry Daniels, Jr. Then there's grandpa Harry Davenport, to say nothing of the very important Smith servant, Marjorie Main.

The real trials and tribulations of the family reach a peak when father comes home one night and announces they are to move from St. Louis to New York. Shattered are the romantic dreams of Judy and Lucille. Little Margaret's heart is broken when she realizes she must leave her snow-men. Mother, Grandpa and maid Marjorie stick up for the children.

The big moment is when father relents, cancels his promotion and turns down the New York assignment so that everyone can be happy. The climax is their big trip to the world's fair right "in their own backyard"—in St. Louis.

Contrary to what may be expected, it is far from being a musical in any sense of the word. It is homeopathic to the extreme. And the songs do not disturb the story enough to matter.

Judy Garland does one of her finest performances. Margaret O'Brien again proves her supreme moppet artistry as the family pivot. They are the real stars, with Mary Astor, Marjorie Main and Harry Davenport the only outstanding names in support. But the entire supporting cast has been excellently selected and given great benefit of near perfect performance by script and excellent direction.

For example, Tom Drake as Judy's boyfriend next door rises to new fandom heights with his natural portrait of teenage amour. And Leon Ames, who has appeared in scores of other properties never had the opportunity to stand out as he does in the head of the Smith family.

Summing it up, there is enough wholesome entertainment here—done on such a high scale—that it can easily be termed . . .

A large sized package of click screenfare that will help toward general world composure.

"COMBAT AMERICA"

Official Combat Footage secured by the U. S. 8th Air Force (mainly the continental runs of the 151st Bombardment Group out of England), assembled and edited by Major Clark Gable who operated as director of a Combat Camera Crew. Made for the AAF, but available for theatre and civilian showings upon request. Time, 60-MIN.

As thrilling and as exciting as it is hot boxoffice through the Clark Gable reference, this special AAF film is one of the most vivid of authentic properties to come out of the war. It devotes itself exclusively to aerial battles—the dangerous and devastating raids of the B-17s over Germany and France—and to the rigid training and lives of the flyers, preparatory and between raids.

Briefing, flight patterns and the like are more than usually interesting but the spectacular action through fighter patrols and flack is the lead-up to the real excitement.

Much of the real thing was shot through the portholes and bombays of the big ships right when things were hottest. Cleverly edited and narrated by Major Gable, it becomes deadly real. It is in color and, although all of it was blown up from 16mm. film, it is exceptionally clear and professional.

Many of the individual pilots and gunners are traced through the story to give it emotional punch—and Gable, himself, is seen quite frequently interviewing pilots around the field.

Audiences kept breathless watch with anxiety during the air action over a German target when the 151st Bomber Group waded right through approximately 20 Messerschmitts and Focke-Wolfes—showing American casualties as well as the many Nazi kills.

This striking combat feature was designed primarily for instructive purposes, but packs a wallop for any American audience as a theatre attraction. It is available to theatres upon request.

Behind the Scenes

By JOYCE OLSON

Melody Jones is Gary Cooper's character in "Along Came Jones" and the lanky producer-star lives up to his name by singing for the first time on the screen. Cooper's principal song is "Old Joe Clark" a folktune of the early west, a ditty with a simple, haunting melody and more than a hundred four line verses. Many of them are without rhyme or reason, yet typical of the songs of the American cowboy and his most colorful times.

The authorship of "Old Joe Clark" is unknown. Possibly 50 cowboys added their own lyrics to the melody which one authority, B. A. Botkin, editor of American Folklore, says was first sung by a plainsman tenor, Clayton Black, on a ranch near Nobel, Cleveland county, Oklahoma, before the turn of the century.

Cowboy songs, like Topsy, 'jes grew', according to most authorities on Western music. It is believed however, that a song like "Old Joe Clark," was brought to this country by Irish immigrants who used to create verses for songs and chants while throwing darts in Irish beer halls where men to and from the ships gathered to drink and swap tall stories of distant lands.

In preparation for his characterization in "Along Came Jones," Cooper memorized 25 verses of "Old Joe Clark." Loretta Young stars with Cooper in the new film.

Through the filming of Shirley Temple's last two pictures, "Since You Went Away" and I'll Be Seeing You," she has gained a reputation with her friends in the service of being a prompt and copious correspondent.

Through many scenes, both pictures called for Shirley as a teen-ager of the present day to write letters to servicemen. So, Shirley, a stickler for a realistic performance, wrote letters to servicemen.

Now, with release of "Since You Went Away" and I'll Be Seeing You" completed, Shirley is wondering how to find enough hours in a day to keep up with her voluminous correspondence when she has to do it on her own time.

The only answer she can figure is to hurry and make another picture in which she is cast as a young lady writing letters to servicemen.

At Universal Studio Albert Dekker and David Bruce were rehearsing a duel for a scene in Walter Wanger's "Salome—Where She Danced" when it happened.

Following Dekker's thrust to the chest, Bruce seemed to be in extreme pain.

Tension eased when Bruce, in dismay, shouted, "You've ruined the only package of cigarettes I've been able to get this week."

By the time you read this, the Rita Hayworth-Orson Welles baby will have arrived.

Inside Hollywood

MONTAGE: With Irwin Allen

Melvyn Douglas, the former motion picture star now under exclusive contract to Uncle Sam as a major, has not been heard from by his family in more than two months. Fear has been expressed that he has either been wounded, missing or on his way home . . . The illness of Rosalind Russell has been much more serious than either her studio or her family will admit. The actress suffered a complete breakdown several months back and then had a relapse following too short a stay at the hospital. Her studio canceled the filming of her new picture until sometime after the first of the year, which would indicate serious complications . . . The importance of motion pictures as an ambassador of international good will is only too well known by the British government. Latest proof of such an attitude is the disclosure that several English-made films are getting triple "A" priorities. Construction of motion picture sets is on equal priority with the rebuilding of London's bombed homes and workmen building these same sets are getting fifty per cent more pay than if they were constructing blitzed buildings . . . The French motion picture star, Sacha Guitry, has been released from jail by the allies. He had been suspected as a calaborationist but evidently has been given a clean bill of health . . . The Jack Oakies are back together again. Their on and off marriage is set for another try . . . Mickey Rooney has been reported somewhere overseas. The former actor, has sent his mother an APO address and a new bride . . . Dave Rose is at the Santa Ana Army Air Base hospital awaiting discharge from the army. The former composer-conductor-arranger has suffered from a nervous breakdown and will be a civilian soon. Rose is the former husband of Judy Garland . . . Bob Hope has been placed on suspension by Paramount studios. The battle royale was caused by the comedian's anxiety to spend more time over-seas entertaining Uncle Sam's favorite nephews in kakki and blue. On the other hand, the studio is insisting, that he start work on another picture immediately . . . John Sutton has filed suit for divorce from the former Charlotte Barret.. The charge is "extreme cruelty without cause" . . .

DOUBLE FEATURE:

If you dream in color, you're one of a minority of 14 per cent. If you dream in color oftener than four times each month you're crazy. At least, that's what Salvador Dali says.

All of this came to light during the filming of the dream sequence in "Spellbound"; based on Sigmund Freud's "Interpretation of Dreams." Salvador Dali designed this sequence. Gregory Peck is the amnesia victim, and Ingrid Bergman is his psychiatrist.

To achieve audience identification, Director Alfred Hitchcock wanted this dream as the greatest number of persons might have experienced it. The research department of the Selznick studio conducted a survey and this is what they discovered: 32 per cent of the persons queried dream in black and; 20 per cent aren't sure, think they dream ir black and white; 14 per cent dream in color; 11 per cent don't dream and 23 per cent can't remember how they dream.

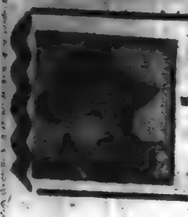
Don't look now, but a quart of ice cream and a half dozen dill pickles just before bedtime will guarantee a technicolor explosion!

Now we've seen everything. They've bleached a bear, given a cow the glamour treatment and fitted roller skates to a penquin for cinematic purposes, but when they put a toupee on a canary the absolute end has been reached.

Several scenes shared by Claudette Colbert, Fred MacMurray and Rosemary De Camp in, "Practically Yours," take place in what passes for a small New York apartment. For a honey touch the set dresser spotted a bird cage complete with warbler in a corner where the three players converse at length. The bird was the kind of pale yellow canary that has a dark topnot.

A week elapsed between the first and second scenes filmed in this set. During the interim, the canary molted noticeably, particularly on top of its head. So, before the second scene was shot, a makeup man cut out a tiny toupee of dark crepe hair and adjusted it to the bird. Nothing stops Hollywood. Not even balding canaries.

RETAKE:



Margaret O'Brien and Jimmy Durante are "engaged." The seven-year-old M-G-M actress lost her ring, set with a chip diamond, which had been given her on her last birthday. Jimmy learned of it while they were working together in "Music for Millions." This week he presented her with a new ring—with a larger sparkler.

"I'm mortified," says clown Durante. "I told her I'd wait until she grew up so she could be my girl, and what happens? She still calls me "Uncle Jimmy!"

Here is what the smart young M.G.M starlet wears swimming, according to Frances Rafferty, who is just that!

GIPSONETTE

Because we quarrelled foolishly
I vowed that you would be,

The one to put his pride aside
That you should come to me.

Each night I played a little game,
That it would be tomorrow

And every bright and lovely dawn,
I bravely hid my sorrow.

But now when Autumn paints the hills,
With flashing, crimson hue

I am no longer brave and proud,
I'll take my heart to you.

"JUS' DATA! BUT WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH DATA?"

In New York City last week the telephone company hired twenty-six Negro switchboard operators, well, we knew it could be done, but again we want to know what is the matter with Los Angeles, why and what are you waiting for? We have already approached you before on this matter, we have already sent you qualified Negro operators, what other technicalities do you have to offer now? New York led the way (but they didn't have to) so how about some action for Los Angeles. . . . At last we understand that something is to be done about the sanitation of these "hot dog stands" as well as regular restaurants, don't misquote me, I am not saying that all of these stands and restaurants are unsanitary but you would really be surprised at the great number that are. In some of these places, food is handled without any provision whatsoever for handlers to even wash their hands. In other places, food is placed where it can come in contact with all kinds of filth and dirt, so as a result (fortunately), revision of the food sanitation section of the municipal code to give the City Health Department control over all of these stands as well as regular restaurants has been requested, and here's hoping it gets granted. . . . No, no it just don't work, several well-known fighters were suspended for quite some time up north last week by the Calif. State Comm. for what is known or rather called "fixing" of boxing matches by gambling interests. Two of the fighters who were suspended for six months were Cecil Hudson and The Coco Kid. Incidentally this writer would like to know why the athletic commission won't sit in on a fight at the Olympic some Tuesday nite.

Leonard Reed to Serve As the Auctioneer At Orchids Benefit

The winter social lull was discarded the other weekend, judging from the trend of things at the gala benefit dance sponsored by the "Orchids." It has been many a moon since Los Angeles society has seen as festive and large a party as that one, which included an afternoon of dancing and delightful entertainment enjoyed by all. Among the numerous grand surprises appearing on the program was a charity auction of cigarettes. Mr. Leonard Reed, well-known and popular M.C. with his clever ingenuity and wit did a remarkable and outstanding piece of work as auctioneer. He opened the bidding by auctioning the first carton of cigarettes for $3.00 and climaxed with $22.00 per carton. The following persons were participants in this charity auction: Dexter Baker, 1142¾ Kingsley Dr., $3.00; James Rogers, 2005 18th St., Santa Monica, $12.25; Bertha Lamb, 1067 E. 53rd St., $15.00; Dewey Davidson, University Dress Shop, $10.75; Louise Harris, 204½ E. Santa Barbara Ave., $3.75; Jake Collied, 310 N. Orange Grove Ave., Pasadena, $6.75; Lessie Harper, 1569 E. 46th St., $5.00; Gilbert Dixon, $10.50; M.C. Leonard Reed paid $10.00 for an empty carton box, and Bubber Pollard, 3626 S. Normandie Ave., $27.00.

The names of other generous donors unfortunately were not obtained, but were highly appreciated by the Orchids. So, eager was our Auctioneer Leonard Reed to do his bit for sweet charity and to swell the auction fund that he made an offer to the highest bidder on a single carton of cigarettes to bring their party, and spend a night at Shepps Play House as his guest. The highest bidder and lucky one was Bubber Pollard, who paid $22.00 for a single carton of cigarettes.

The Orchids wish to thank their many friends and patrons for the success of this mammoth affair. They also extend thanks and are grateful to the Camellia Girls who did a splendid job of selling tickets. This newly-organized body of young girls united to become an active part of this worthwhile movement.

This benefit was one of a series of benefits to be given by a group of the city's leading organizations who are pooling their money together to make a single contribution to this community. The first project will be a league and club house for teen age girls to help curb youth delinquency. Watch for the dates of benefits now being planned for this worthy cause by the Camellia Girls Club, and the Town and Gown Club.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

Good morning folks, well I am sorry that my column was missing last week, I don't know if it was my mistake by not having it in the mail soon enough or if it was overlooked by our sports editor, nevertheless here it is for this week. As you all know that Hollywood Park just closed with the biggest meeting in the history of California, and to think that on the last day more than three million dollars passed thru the mutuels. Over a million dollars of war bonds were sold at the track, and charity organizations will receive up into the millions. That public bet thousands like they were pennies. From Central Ave. to Hollywood. Never in the history has the people bet so much on horse races. It is the most popular sport of the world. Every day was over a million dollars going thru the mutuels. Now one will ask what will Santa Anita be? Well this writer who has been on the turf for the last thirty five years predicts that Santa Anita will have more two million dollars day than Hollywood had one million dollar days. And that Santa Anita may have a four million dollar day before the meeting closes. Which will break all world's records. The foot-hill track is larger and they are are more betting accommodations. So filks you can look forward to see records go tumbling when the track below Mt. Wilson opens December 30th. It will run fifty five days. The feature race will be the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap at one mile and a quarter and also the secondary feature will be the derby. More about Santa Anita next week. Well now about Auga Caliente, well no racing at the border track last Sunday. The fight is now on to see who will be the next owner, Caliente had been the track of trials and turmoils for it's different owners since it was built. The supreme court of Mexico City handed down a decision giving the land to the Arguellos heirs who had had the case in court for nearly fifteen years. At this writing James Crofton who built the track claims that he will reopen it December 31st with a two day meeting. In the meanwhile the fight still go on with Eddie Nealis who has operated Caliente since May 1943 claims he will still be the generalissimo.

Swank 'Samba', Classic Nitery Will Open Saturday, Dec. 23rd

Opening of the "Samba," 705-709 East 5th Street, Saturday night, December 23, was announced this week by Al Trice and Irvin Costin Enterprise. According to the two partners, the building represent five store fronts and an investment of $86,000 of which $36,000 has been invested in the "Samba" and grill.

Since Mr. Trice is no newcomer into the field of entertainment promotions, local patrons naturally are eager to witness his newest effort. Several years ago with the opening of the unique "Rum-Runner" and "Classic" clubs, he pioneered the entree of the Club Alabam on the Eastside. Like his former ventures the "Samba" will prove as sensational in both setting and clientel.

Entertainment, fine food and drink will be stressed. Such steller performers as Dick Barrow, singer and dancer, and Stenis Ousley, pianist, who recently arrived here from the East will be featured. Both artists have appeared in the better clubs of America.

A beautiful horseshoe bar attended by mixologists with many years of experience will be maintained to accurately prepare your drinks with the finest blends of Scotch and bourbons. Chefs Cass and Lynn, well-known for their culinary accomplishments, will be in charge of the kitchen. Reservations may be obtained by telephoning Madison 6913.

3 Bands to Play Continuous Music for Dancing Ten Hours

A grand Xmas Jamboree is scheduled for Christmas Day, December 25th, at the beautiful Lincoln Auditorium or Ballroom, 2039 Lincoln Park Avenue at Mission Road, it was announced last week by Leon Heflin, one of the managers of the spacious dance palace.

Lincoln Ballroom will be THE place for your Xmas enjoyment to the fullest. For you who love dancing there will be three bands on the stand that day and there will be continuous dancing from 3 p. m. until 1 a. m., in other words, ten hours of tripping the light fantastic.

The three bands will be the popular Gerald Wilson and his 15-piece orchestra, from 3 p. m. to 6:30 p. m.; Big Six Reeves and his band from 6:30 p. m. to 9 p. m., and Bobbie Gold and his band from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m.

Who could ask for anything more? One of the features of this incomparable entertainment spot is the 100-foot bar where you may be refreshed between dance numbers. There is also a luxurious upstairs loungs where you may sit comfortably with the boy or girl friend for a chat.

Don't forget the Xmas Jamboree while planning for your Christmas Day fun, three bands, ten hours of continuous dancing. On New Year's Day, January 1, 1945, the Lincoln Ballroom management will again feature three bands and 10 hours of dancing from 3 p. m. to 1 a. m. Plan to spend Xmas and New Year's Day at this beautiful new dance spot.

Associated with Mr. Leon Heflin in the management of the Auditorium is William Heflin and Joe Morales.

Shepp's Playhouse Cagers Win Over Avalon Center '5'

Playing before one of the largest crowds of the current season, Shepp's Playhouse, playing the Avalon Community Center Team, stole the spotlight in a basketball game last Friday at the 28th Street Branch Y.M.C.A. winning by a score of 44 to 43.

In two other games played during the evening, the 2Y8 Varsity won from the Lincoln Congregational Church Comets, 37 to 33, and the Challenger Girls battled their way to victory over the Iowa Auxiliary Girls to the tune of 19 to 10.

Four of these same teams will tangle again on New Year's Day during the Open House activities at the 29th Street Y.M.C.A.

Camp Ross Cagers Enjoying Success

WILMINGTON, Calif. — The basketball team at Camp Ross Los Angeles Port of Embarkation, with seven victories in nine games played so far, is looking forward to a successful season, and hopes to enter the Ninth Service Command tournament next March with a presentable record of wins and losses.

Etta Moten Honored By Kansas University With Alumni Award

LAWRENCE, Kan. (ANP)—Miss Etta Moten, widely known concert, stage, film and radio personality, achieved the crowning ambition of every Kansas university student, when at a reception given in her honor at Memorial Union building here recently. She was presented with the "Alumni citation" or distinguished service and in recognition of the distinction which she has gained in her field.

The deans of the various schools in the university, faculty members, students and a dozen invited guests from the cast of "Porgy and Bess" in which Miss Moten is starring and in which she appeared at the university that night, saw Chancellor Deane W. Malott and Charles B. Holmes, president of the alumni association, make the presentation.

The citation read: "For achieving national acclaim as a singer on the concert stage, in motion pictures and in the field of musical drama, and for displaying through all her career as a student and artist the personal qualities of integrity, perseverance and fine character that mark a true leader in any field, the Alumni Association of the University of Kansas cites Etta Moton Barnett, of the fine arts class of 1931, distinguished performer in 'Porgy and Bess' which we are privileged to have on our campus tonight."

Fred B. Ellsworth, secretary of the alumni association, presented Miss Moten with a lifetime certificate of membership. Miss Moten gave a short speech of acceptance and recited a poem, "Dreams," which she said was representative of her feeling.

Refreshments were served following the presentation. Mrs. Deane W. Mallett, wife of the chancellor, served. Bettie Bixby, chairman of the Union Activities committee, was in charge.

That night, two student girl ushers, one white and one Negro, with 3,500 people in the university auditorium, took down the aisle a huge basket of flowers fro mthe alumni. The cast gathered about Miss Moten as she received an ovation from the audience.

Golden West Bridge Association

Bridge, business, food and fun spelled a most pleasant week-end for Golden West Bridge Association members, December 9th and 10th at 1054-56 E. 5th Street, where and when the G.W.B.A. held its fourth annual mixed pair regional and election of officers.

The bridge, two sessions, 80 boards, was won by Lewis Woods who talks a marvelous game and whats more is equally adept in playing it, and his protege and apt bridge student, also talkative, Margaret Hale. In second place, 25 points behind were Henry Denton-Ester Sanford. Third, J. D. Dunn and Beatrice Reeves, fourth, Earl T. McMillan and May Denton, fifth, Mr. and Mrs. Herman K. Barnett. A new movement to G.W.B.A.'rs McKenny Baldwin was a great hit with all contestants.

The election was won by Clarence Ennis, popular real estate dealer. Re-elected for 2nd term as president, May Denton. Re-elected vice-president, Margaret Hale. Elected secretary, Clara Andrews. Elected assistant secretary, J. D. Dunn. Elected treasurer, Ellis L. Veil. Re-elected tournament director and reporter, Edna Crain, assisted in directing tournament.

Cakes were donated by Capitola Robinson and Julya Ashery. All A.B.A. memberships expire Dec. 31. Renew your membership now. The new fee is $2.50 per member per year.

A merry Christmas and prosperity in 1945 for all G.W.B.A. members from your association.

Negro Appointed to State Athletic Commission

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

DOWN THE TRAIL—The appointment of Norman O. Houston by Gov. Earl Warren to succeed Jules Covey on the State Athletic Commission can be viewed from two angle. First: we're glad that a Negro has been appointed on the commission, it means progress in the State and probably also means that Negro boxers performing in California rings will get a better deal in the future. Secondly, however, we know of no background in Houston's life that will seat him on a boxing board with the necessary qualifications. Has Mr. Houston ever been a boxer, has he ever refereed a boxing match, has he ever been a physical education instructor, has he ever been a fight manager or a fight trainer? With no intention to belittle Mr. Houston, whom we think a model business man and a man of sound character, we nevertheless think that a man who has had some measure of experience in the field of boxing should have been appointed. We can think of a few. There is Henry Armstreng, who would probably give up the management of fighters and boxing himself if appointed, although there is no salary attached to the job. Hank has proven himself intelligent, he has good diction and he certainly knows the game and knows boxers. We think that if a fight was being thrown and he was seated at ringside, he could detect it easily. There is George Tolson, a trainer of fighters, who is a college graduate and who knows fights and fighters. There is George Moore who has been in the game as a manager and promoter for many years. There is Halley Harding, a sportswriter, who has associated himself with boxing and boxers over a period of years. There are others. We sincerely congratulate Mr. Houston on his appointment but he will have to be on his toes. It is for the entire race that we speak. If Houston fails there may not be another Negro appointed to the commission when his term expires. He has a big task on his hands and we hope he comes through.

DID YA KNOW?—Racing has been suspended at the Agua Caliente Race Track in Mexico pending the settlement of litigation involving the race track and its properties. . . . Jeff High has been losing some tough cage games by one and two point margins. However, they might have a successful season yet, if they get the breaks in future contests. . . . We do not think that Cleo Shans should have been held responsible when Mike Delia's stalling last Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium caused Abe Roth to stop the bout and declare it "no contest." Roth did recommend that Shans be given his purse because he seemed to be making an honest effort. However, we think that Shans should have had his hand raised as the winner when the fight was halted in the seventh. That is where Roth erred. . . . While on the subject of Hollywood Legion Stadium we think that it needs a little cleaning up. Negro boxers NEVER get a square deal there. Unless they march into the ring each bearing an axe and proceed to attempt the slaughter of each other, when two members of the race fight, the fans yell blue murder and want the boys thrown out of the ring. It was that way when Charley Burley met Holman Williams out there. They were thrown out of the ring and from where I sat they were putting up as good a fight as any I've seen there. If a Negro fighter is fighting a white boy in Hollywood, unless he kayoes his opponent, if the bout is anywhere close, the Negro drops a decision. Don't tell me I'm wrong or that I'm prejudiced. I've watched it too many times, brother, and I know. Yes, the place definitely needs an airing.

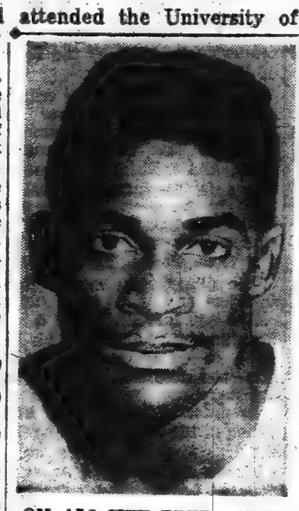
Gov. Earl Warren Selects Norman Houston for Post

SACRAMENTO—From the capitol of the state last Friday, Gov. Earl Warren announced that he plans to appoint Norman O. Houston, Los Angeles, an executive of the Golden State Life Insurance Company, to the State Athletic Commission on January 1st.



Mr. Houston was born in San Jose, California, and attended the University of California. He served as a lieutenant in World War I.

Jules J. Covey of Hollywood, the present chairman of the commission, will be succeeded by Mr. Houston. The term of Mr. Covey expires on the first day of the new year. No salary is attached to the job of the commission, which administers boxing affairs in the state. Five men make up the boxing body.

Many Negro fighters are now doing their chores in California rings and it is fitting that a Negro should be placed on the commission to represent them.

APPOINTED — It was announced by Gov. Earl Warren from Sacramento last Friday that NORMAN O. HOUSTON, above, an executive of the Golden State Insurance Company of Los Angeles, would be appointed a member of the State Athletic Commission on Jan. 1, succeeding Jules J. Covey, present chairman of the commission, whose term expires on that date.

ON ALL-CITY PREP — Willie Lightsy of Jefferson High School, a brilliant end on the Democrats football team, was the only Negro named to a position on the first team of the All-City Prep Grid Team. He is a Senior at Jeff.

BOXING BRIEFS

A 10-ROUND non-title match on December 26 between Jack Chase, newly-crowned State light heavyweight champ, and Fitzy Fitzpatrick, hard-hitting Virginian, is in the making for the Olympic Auditorium, according to Matchmaker Babe McCoy.

Zorrita, Robleto Win At Olympic

By Eddie Burbridge

In two 10-round main events at the Olympic Tuesday night, Leon Zorrita, 160, scored an impressive victory over Vicente Villavicencio, 160, which looked to this writer like a masterful display of stalling. I've seen better worouts in the gym. In the other scheduled ten Joe Robleto, 128, scored a TKO over Dave Arrios, 128, in 1:29 of the fourth heat.

In the top four-round bout Sonny Hill, 134, scored a second round kayo over Abel Lucero, 133. Other fours found Al Williams, 160, nodding Art Santelli, 165, and Eddie Jackson, 203, pounding out a popular decision over Steve Ludman, 190.

Baby Joe Gans Conducts Gym In Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE—Baby Joe Gans, former boxing great, now conducts a gymnasium at the Milwaukee Urban League where he trains youngsters in the manly art of self defense.

Under Mr. Gans the gym has done a wonderful job. Besides teaching the children how to build their bodies he also advocates clean living and habits.

Someday, Gans stated, he hopes to conduct a gym of his own in Los Angeles.

Shans, Delia Bout Called "No Contest"

The Cleo Shans, 133½, and Mike Delia, 134, fight was halted by Referee Abe Roth last Friday night in the seventh round of their scheduled 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium when it was claimed that Delia wasn't giving his best efforts. No decision was rendered.

Roth recommended that Shans, the 2-1 underdog, be given his purse because he seemed to be trying to make a fight of it. Delia, however, after being warned repeatedly by the referee to fight or else failed to do any fighting after the third round.

In the semi-windup scheduled for six rounds, Ralph Lara, 130, cored a 3-round TKO over Manual Zurita, 127½.

In the fours Rebel Ryan, 163, beat Larry Martin, 159; Henry Zamora, 1394, decisioned Lou Bernal, y34; Elmer Lewis, 144, noded Tommy Hodges, 150, and Benny Black, 147, drew with Wilbur Scott, 141½.

The San Diego Bombers meet the Hollywood Rangers in a pro grid game Sunday at Gilmore Stadium. Both are undefeated.

Democrats Bow in Exciting Cage Game To Roosevelt Hi

In an exciting overtime basketball game last Thursday, Roosevelt's Roughrider eked out a 49-47 win over the visiting Jefferson High Democrats in a Southern League tilt.

When the regular playing time was up the two teams were tied up, 47-47. Sub Eddie Sera sank one in for two points and the game. Sol Meisel, Roughrider guard, scored high-point honors for the day by registering 24 points.

Washington (4)	G.	Nathan

Half-time score: Jefferson, 29; Roosevelt, 20.
Roosevelt scoring sub: Sera (4).
B score: Jefferson, 31; Roosevelt, 20.

Kansas City Royals Win Doubleheader

Chet Brewer and his Kansas City Royals took a twin bill over Irish Meusel's United States Navy Dry Docks at Wrigley Field last Sunday by scores of 3-1 and 2-0.

In the opener the Royals jumped on Hurler Ed Williams for all three runs. Hits by Smith, Sorrell and Wright, accompanied by an error, supplied the tally trio.

Nate Moreland, in the box for the winners, held the losers under control with five safeties.

In the seven-inning nightcap Pitcher-Manager Brewer curbed the Meusel swingers with a single bingle, while he himself crossed the plate with each of the two winning markers.

Kenny Washington Stars In Pro Game

The American League Allstars and Hollywood Rangers pro grid teams battled to a thrilling 14-14 tie in the Shrine bowl game last Sunday at Gilmore Stadium before 14,000 fans.

Kenny Washington led the Allstars offensive by throwing a sensational pass of 60 yards to Lowel Wagner who scored. Kenny also ran the ball over the goal for his team's second touchdown. He was materially aided by Jackie Robinson and Big Ezzrett Anderson, sepia stars.

Castillo, Olivera At Legion Stadium

Luis Castillo and Tony Olivera box the 10-round main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. On Friday night, December 29th, Bobby Yeager and Nick Moran ring down the curtain for 1944 with their ten-round bout.

In the semi-final Friday Ike Blair faces Rene DeLeon.

Willie Lightsy of Jeff Places On 1st Team of All-City "11"

Willie Lightsy, star end of Jefferson High's Democrats, whose pass snagging and brilliant running stood out during the recent grid season, was selected on the first team of the L. A. Prep All-City Football Team, the only Negro to make the coveted eleven.

Although playing on a losing club Lightsy made four touchdown runs of more than 40 yards during the season. He is a Senior at Jeff. Although there were three teams chosen Lightsy was the only player Jeff placed on any team.

Beneath is the complete first team:

Cecil Hudson Is Thrown Out of Ring By Referee

OAKLAND, — Referee Billie Burke last Wednesday night called the scheduled 10-round main event here "on contest" in the sixth round and charged Cecil Hudson, 145, Los Angeles, with attempting to throw the fight to Freddie Dixon, 145, Phoenix, Ariz. Early this week it was announced by the California Athletic Commission that Hudson's purse had been forfeited and he had been suspended for six months.

In the 6th heat Hudson went down for no count from a left to the jaw, regained his feet, was knocked down again with a right to the jaw. The referee refused to count as he lay upon the canvas.

TO ALL ON-SALE APPLICANTS

Section 21 of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act provides in part as follows:

"All applicants for on-sale licenses shall, within five (5) days after filing their application with the Board, cause a notice of such application giving the name or names of the applicant and the premises where the business is to be conducted, to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city in which such premises are situated, or if such premises are not in a city then such publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation nearest the premises where the business is to be conducted. The form of such notice shall be prescribed by the Board. Affidavit of publication shall be filed with the Board prior to the issuance of any license."

Your particular attention is called to the fact that the newspaper in which notice of intention is published must qualify as a NEWSPAPER OF GENERAL CIRCULATION AS DEFINED IN SECTION 4460 of the Political Code of California.

The form of notice prescribed by the Board is as follows:

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ENGAGE IN THE SALE OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES
November 24, 1944

To whom it may concern:

Notice is hereby given that fifteen days after the above date, the undersigned proposes to sell alcoholic beverages at these premises, described as follows: 3228 South Central Ave., Los Angeles, 11.

Pursuant to such intention, the undersigned is applying to the State Board of Equalization for issuance of an alcoholic beverage license (or licenses) for these premises as follows: On sale beer only.

Anyone desiring to protest the issuance of such license may file a verified protest with the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, California, stating grounds for denial as provided by law.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles will receive bids for furnishing all labor and material for the following work:

Kind of Work and Name of School—Repairing, cleaning, and flameproofing of combustible material in the auditorium at John Adams Junior High School, and repairing, cleaning, and flameproofing of combustible material in the assembly hall at Thomas Jefferson High School.

Date of Bid Opening—January 4, 1945.

Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the Architectural Section of the Business Division of said Board, 1425 So. San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, California. Prospective bidders may secure copies of said drawings and specifications at the office of said Architectural Section, upon the posting of a guarantee deposit, or deposits, of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars for each set, which deposits will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

Pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Education has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contracts which will be awarded the successful bidders; and these prevailing rates are contained in said specifications adopted by the Board, and are as follows:

CLASSIFICATION

Foremen — All foremen not herein separately classified, shall be paid not less than $1.00 per day more than the journeyman rate for the craft involved.

Apprentices — May be employed in conformity with section 1777.5 of the California Labor Code.

CLASSIFICATION	Hourly Wage Rate
Carpenters—
Carpenter	$1.35
Laborers—
General or Construction, including all laborers not herein separately classified, on all types of construction..	.875
Painters—
Painter	1.25

The rates of per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be the hereinbefore set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work; it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day, the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to eight (8) hours.

The overtime rule establishing the rates of wages for overtime and holiday work shall be in accordance with the following:

Where a single shift is worked, eight hours of continuous employment, except for lunch periods, shall constitute a day's work beginning on Monday and through Friday of each week. Where work is required in excess of eight hours in any one day or during the interval from 5:00 P. M. Friday and 7:00 A. M. Monday, or on holidays, such work shall be paid for at 1½ times the basic rate of wages.

The rates of wages including overtime and holiday rates above specified are subject to the effect, if applicable thereto, of executive orders of the President of the United States, and to any modification thereof and to any and all lawful orders of the President or any other authorized Federal officer or agency, in so far as the same may be applicable to this contract. In case of any inconsistency, the rates fixed by any such applicable Federal Order, whether higher or lower, shall govern.

Holidays as herein referred to shall be deemed to be New Year's Day, Decoration Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom a contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him, to pay not less than said general prevailing wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids, a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall be made out on forms to be obtained at said Architectural Section of the Board of Education; must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond (issued by a surety company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles; shall be sealed and filed with the Purchasing Agent of the Board of Education, Room 200, 1425 South San Pedro Street, on or before 2:00 P. M. on the dates shown above and will be opened and read aloud in public at, or about, said time and in the public hall, second floor, of the above address.

The above-mentioned check or bidder's bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract if awarded the work, or any part thereof, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Education.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish labor and material bonds in an amount equal to 75% of the contract price, and faithful performance bonds in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a surety company or companies satisfactory to the Board of Education.

The oBard reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and/or waive any informality on a bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening therof.

By order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles.

A FAIR QUESTION
HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

PROF. HERMAN The Astrologer
TO ASSIST YOU IN MAKING WISE DECISIONS

FREE: Your question will be answered in this column only when a clipping of this feature is enclosed with your question, your full name, birthdate and correct address. For private reply, send 25 cents in coin and stamped envelope for my Astrology Reading and receive by return mail my free opinions on any three questions. Address all communications to Prof. Herman, the Astrologer, care of The California EAGLE.

Let us Pray, that we will not have to spend another Christmas in war. Let us Pray, that our boys and girls, no matter where they are, may be able to enjoy some of the Yuletide Spirit regardless.

Xmas has a different meaning this year for so many of us that we must try to overlook some of our own pleasures and selfish interests by bringing some joy and sunshine to others. Especially the lonely parents and wives that have been left to shoulder responsibilities and carry on while the man of the house is on some foreign soil.

Let us Pray, during this Sacred time of the year, so that hearts of men all over the world will be opened and they will realize that WAR is not a means to an end, but will only bring destruction and sadness as it goes along.

Dear Prof. Herman: I wish to send you the Happiest greetings and a heart full of goodwill for the coming year. You have done many things to help me find the happiness I now enjoy and I wish to thank you.

M.C.J. What is wrong with her?

Ans. It seems to me that you are having trouble understanding your daughter, but it is only because teen-age children are sometimes quite a problem. Don't worry, understanding will develop as you go along. I would be glad to advise you further, if you will write in for a private reply.

M.C.C.L. Will I marry the soldier?

Ans. I do vision marriage for you in the near future and I feel that you will find the happiness you so justly deserve. Just be patient a little longer.

M.E. Will I be successful in doing what I have in mind?

Ans. Asscording to your Lucky Stars and Guilding Planet I vision your plans concerning the hospital coming true. But I advise you to not worry about it.

N.E. Dear Prof. Herman: I have been wearing the Hindu Charm Bag for quite sometime and it has helped me quite a lot. I wish to thank you for all the help you have been to me and am telling my many friends about you.

Mrs. X. Should I marry the older or younger man?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that the older man is more settled and certainly more reliable. You would find that which you seek with him, but the rest depends upon you. For you should marry the man you love.

A.F.P. What happened to the dress?

Ans. I vision the dress as having been stolen out of your car. That is a very bad place to leave anything, especially when it can be seen so well.

L.W.S. Please give me a little light on my future.

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals many changes in your life that will enable you to find the peace and contentment your life has missed recently. You and your wife will also reach an understanding and get along much better.

by c. a. b.

THE news gleaned here, there, and all along the line makes us know that while Hitler's influence is decreasing in Germany it appears to be on the increase here.

There is a man in our midst whose name is Carleton Dye. You have heard of him before because I have even stunk up my column with him.

Well! Mr. Dye and his group of race baiters have gone into a hitherto peaceful community to establish their Home Owners Organization. They met Tuesday night, December 19, at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Headquarters, 7510 Compton Ave.

I don't know how far back Mr. Dye is able to trace his ancestry in this country, but I do know that in either case, long or short, he should be considered an enemy alien and be driven out.

As on other occasions Dye's opening remarks to his twenty persons present was his usual scare talk about the menace of non-Caucasians. He said it was difficult to get judges to give the right kind of decisions, but that "his" or their organization will finally get their cases before the right kind of judges."

At the end of this race-baiting talk, as per custom, the dishonorable Dye turned his attention to fund raising. He made a plea for funds on the basis of the present court cases and need for a state-wide organization to protect mall Home Owners' interests.

Among the 20 persons present there were those who did not subscribe to his philosophy of life and did not hesitate to express their opinion, and pandemonium broke loose in a flood of race-baiting by Chairman Dye and a Mr. Thompson who freely quoted the Bible to prove that Negroes were inferior—hardly human.

Mr. Watkins, familiar in the community as a peddler of "Protocols of Zion" and other anti-Semitic and pro-Nazi pamphlets, gave a long discourse on American history which was supposed to prove that the Negroes are working on a plot to make America brown.

Fired by the support given his argument by Mr.

Four Union Pacific Waiters Draw Fines in Judge Harrison's Court

Attorney Crispus Wright Scores Partial Victory for Defendants

Through the fine legal efforts of Attorney Crispus A. Wright, representing two of four waiters tried in the courtroom of Federal Judge Ben Harrison at 11 a.m. Tuesday morning, a partial victory was hailed as the four men drew fines of $250 apiece, were given a suspended jail sentence of 60 days and were put on an 18 months probationary period during which time their fines must be paid. Arrangements to pay the fines must be made before 60 days has elapsed. Albert Flannigan and Frank Woodson were represented by Attorney Wright. About 16 stewards and assistant stewards who were also tried drew $500 fines and one year suspended jail sentences.

The outcome of Tuesday's trial was deemed extremely encouraging for the majority of the waiters who have yet to face trial.

The defendants, among a group of 135 accused of stealing $500,000 yearly on the U. P.'s Challenger alone. were fined a total of $9250. Judge Harrison ruled further that none of the defendants could return to dining car employment during the 18 months of probation.

Pleas of about 68 waiters being defended by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., were continued until Tuesday, January 2nd.

The men whose cases were completed Tuesday pleaded nolo contender to charges of theft of money in interstate commerce.

First Lieutenant William R. Melton, a veteran of many combat hours in the Mediterranean Theatre of Operations, was recently reassigned to the Tuskegee Army Air Field.

HOPA MEETS

This Friday evening the HOPA will meet in the California Eagle offices to continue its fight against housing restrictions. Come out and help.

Senators and Congressmen To Work Hard to Put Bill Through

A highly successful educational campaign for a permanent FEPC is being conducted by the National Council which has resulted in the winning of many new congressional and senatorial friends. In the new Senate which convenes January 3, forty Senators have definitely promised to vote and work for a permanent FEPC. In the House of Representatives, eighty Congressmen have also promised their support.

It is tactfly agreed to wait until the new Congress, the 79th convenes to do anything further for this permanent Committee. the bill will have to be introduced in both the Senate and the House of Representatives again, but it is agreed that it will be rushed through this time with all speed possible. There will be a permanent FEPC by May 1, when the present FEPC expires, all progressives agree.

From California those who have pledged themselves to vote and work for a permanent FEPC are: Sheridan Downey, D. U. S. Senate; Frank C. Havenner, D. Richard J. Welch, R, George E. Outland, D, Jerry Voorhis, D, Helen Gahagan Douglas, D, and Ned R. Healy, D, members of Congress.

Bias Aainst Latin-Americans In Texas, Investigated By FEPC

HOUSTON, Tex. — Complaints of discrimination against Latin-American workers by the Shell Oil Company at its Houston (Texas) refinery and by Local 367 of the Oil Workers International Union (CIO) were heard before A. Bruce Hunt, hearing commissioner of the President's Committee, in this city on Fair Employment Wednesday, Malcolm Ross, chairma nof the committee, announced.

Th hearing was ordered by the committee after attempts to settle the case by the Dallas office of the agency were unsuccessful.

The statement of charges served on the company and the union alleges that the labor agreement at the plant confines Latin-American and Negro workers to common labor jobs and "dead-ends" their ungrading to jobs as janitors and gardeners, despite individual qualifications for jobs of higher skill. Refusal to hire or to promote because of national origin or color constitutes a violation of executive order.

The union was joined as a party to the proceedings because it is a party to an agreemen with the company that sets out the discriminatory ungrading procedures, Mr. Ross said. The complaint alleges such practices hinder the war effort by restricting the full use of manpower.

"The need for manpower, emphasized so recently by the Army Service Forces, Mr. Ross said, "makes it imperative that these restrictions to the full utilization of available workers be removed. In addition, the morale of 3,000,000 American citizens of Latin-American ancestry depends on fair treatment."

Price Control In Puerto Rico

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Office of Price Administration is doing a remarkably thorough job in controlling prices in the Territory of Puerto Rico, according to an OPA report to Chester Bowles, Price Administrator. The Puerto Ricans are grateful for price control, and they practice it, the report adds.

Through a network of more than 5,000 persons, everybody on the island has been contacted and are aware of their responsibilities, which they meet enthusiastically. The community service member of each of the 88 local boards represents the executive officer of the consumer committee in her municipality. As each central committee is formed and put on a working basis, it is given the responsibility of organizing sub-committees in each of the 792 "barrios," or settlements in the municipalities. In this way the OPA has built its organization to a total of 5,000 paid and volunteer workers.

Negro Soldier Showing Friday

The public is invited to attend a special showing of the "Negro Soldier" film depicting the Negro's support of the war effort which will be held on Friday evening, December 29th at the Berendo Junior High School under the auspices of the Pico Hights Community Club of the Communist Political Association.

LABOR ON THE MARCH Is On Page 7

RELAXING — Seamah Lindley Williams who has seen two years of service in the US Navy is enjoying a furlough which he is spending at the home of his aunt on Santa Barbara Ave. Seaman Williams has been in action in New Guinea, Guam and at other points in the Pacific. He has been wounded and is entitled to wear the Purple Heart Medal.

GI Promoted

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Corporal Lionel G. McQuillion, of Los Angeles, has been promoted to that rank from private first class, it was announced recently by the public relations office at Jackson Barracks, New Orleans, where he has been on duty.

AAF, PACIFIC OCEAN AREAS, CENTRAL PACIFIC — Two Californians are among the ammunition technicians, members of an aviation ordnance company, pictured above as they move 4,000-pound block-buster bombs at an army air base in the Pacific area. These men are trained to perform their important duties under combat conditions. The big block-busters generally are moved by a crane but when one is not available a bomb service truck as shown here can do the job.

32 Negro Leaders Among Signers Of Human Rights Declaration

Thirty-two Negro leaders are among the 1326 signers of a Declaration of Human Rights urging an International Bill of Rights guaranteeing to all persons throughout the world the same religious and individual rights as are granted to American citizens by the Bill of Rights to the United States Constitution.

The Declaration, approved by President Roosevelt and signed by Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Vice-president Wallace, was made public by Judge M. Proskauer, president of the American Jewish Committee, with whom it originated.

The six points of the Declaration of Human Rights are:

1. An International Bill of Rights, "to guarantee for every man, woman, and child, of every race and creed and in every country, the fundamental rights of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

2. A world in which the rights of national sovereignty do not permit any nation to deprive those within its borders of fundamental human rights "on the claim that these are matters of internal concern."

3. A recognition of the fact that bigotry and persecution by a barbarous nation "is a matter of internation concern" because it eventually "thows upon the peace-loving nations the burden of relief and redress."

4. A policy of "fair redress" for those "who have suffered under the Hitler regime because of race, creed, or national origin."

5. A plan for repatriation, with their rights unaffected, for those who have been driven from their homes.

6. An international machinery whereby new homes will be found "in other parts of the world" for "those who wander the earth unable or unwilling to return to the scenes of unforgettable horror" from which they fled

Newsboys Xmas Party

A Joint Christmas tree celebration will be held Friday afternoon, December 29th at 3209 Griffith Ave. beginning at 3:00 p.m. Participating will be the newsboys of the California Eagle of which Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass is the editor-publisher, the Universal Institutional Church of which Mrs. Bessie Simons is the head, and the Economic Relief Association of which Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Reeves are the heads.

The full spirit of Christmas will be present with a Santa Claus and seasonal refreshments on hand to add to the gaiety of the occasion.

Dr. Nix Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—One of the most noted members of the education profession, Dr. Nelson C. Nix, died early this week. Dr. Nix stood eminently among educators in the nation, and had earned distinction as the result of his service as dean of South Carolina State College. He was considered the leading Negro educator in the country.

"Workingman's Book"

"The Workingman's Book," a significant and factual account that should be read by everyone interested in the welfare of his neighbors, is on sale at the offices of the California Eagle. In the near future, a premium offer of a copy of "The Workingman's Book" and a one-year subscription to The California Eagle will be made. A single copy sells for $1.25. Capt. Faulkner Dies in Action Over Australia

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—The War Department announced this week that Capt. William J. Faulkner, 25 year-old son of the Dean of Fisk University, and one of the first Negro officers to be commissioned in the Army Air Forces, died in action over Austria on Nev. 7.

The holder of the Air Medal with four Oak Leaf Clusters, young Faulkner has completed 56 missions as a fighter pilot, and had been many tmies mentioned in dispatches from the front for his bravery and efficiency.

Captain Faulkner was well known in Los Angeles where he was employed at the Lockheed-Vega aircraft corporation prior to his induction in Auguest 1942. He was a graduate of Morehouse Colege in Atlanta, Georgia.

Capt. Dreyfus Speaks Here

Captain Pierre Dreyfus, son of Albert Dreyfus, famed French martyr of 50 years ago, will be principal speaker at a dramatic mass meeting at the Philharmonic Auditorium, January 10th, to celebrate the liberation of France, according to an announcement by Rabbi Max Nussbaum, president of the American Jewish Congress in Los Angeles which will sponsor the event.

Dreyfus, who will make his only public appearance in the Southland at the Philharmonic meeting, is vice-president of the French Representative Committee of the World Jewish Congress and a distinguished member of the French Army.

Superior Judge Stanley Mosk is chairman of the program committee for the mass meeting, and serving with him are Harry Bauman, Mrs. Fred Pollock, Mrs. Ruth Dorsen, Peter M. Kahn, Jr., and Aeron Riche.

A Happy New Year From The California Eagle

On the Sidewalk

Thompson, Mr. Dye took the floor again to prove that only the Caucasian race is fit to rule anywhere. He said there are two million non-Caucasians in California.

Mr. Dye was followed by Mr. Watkins who announced that a bill would be introduced in the next Congress to ship all Negroes to Africa. He urged those present to get to Senator Downey and their Congressman King and urge them to support the bill.

Mr. Oquis, local businessman, told how he was successfully raising money by threatening other businessmen that their property and business investments would drop 50 per cent on the dollar if Negroes came into the community. So far he said they had raised $115.

The Home Owners Protective Association which I organized some months ago to fight the Dyes and other such rackets will meet these distorters of the President's Good Neighbor Policy half way.

And when Mr. Dye starts us on the African journey we promise to drop him off in Berlin.

Beavers Is Acquitted

A very welcome Christmas present in the form of an acquittal of felony charges involving Sec. 480 of the Motor Vehicle Code, was received last Friday afternoon by William Beavers, 5732 Fortuna St. Beavers, who is the father of Louise Beavers, famed motion picture star, was arrested on Oct. 17th at the intersection of Jefferson and Hope Streets after he had assertedly run down and injured a pedestrian and continued to drive without stopping to give aid. At the trial Beavers produced proof that he did stop and attempt to give aid, although his car was not the one that actually hit the pedestrian, but someone had mistakenly secured his license number after he left the scene after giving what aid he could, and turned it in to police headquarters which resulted in his arrest. Attorney Curtis C. Taylor, representing Beavers, after resting his case informed the court that he would waive argument and submit the case on the facts. Judg Walter S. Gates, who was the trial judge, after listening carefully to Beavers' story, said that he believed the man's testimony, and anyway opined the judge, he found it very difficult to convict a man at a date so close to Christmas, and ordered Beavers released from custody.

REMEMBER THIS FIRST
When Common Headache, Muscle Aches, or Colds' painful miseries strike

The first choice of millions at the very first warning of common headache pain, muscular aches and pains or colds' painful miseries is St. Joseph Aspirin. You can count on its friendly aid when these miseries strike. Yes, it goes right to work to relieve their aching misery. When gargled St. Joseph Aspirin's pain relieving action eases soreness of colds' sore throat too. Keep St. Joseph Aspirin handy, instantly ready to relieve these painful troubles. Judged as your doctor judges aspirin—clinically—no aspirin can do more for you. No wonder St. Joseph Aspirin is the world's largest seller at 10c. And you get the big 100 tablet bottle for only 35c. Quality, strength and purity are guaranteed by the makers. You'll find genuine, pure St. Joseph Aspirin a big value at little cost. You can't get better aspirin, so why ever pay more. Look for the name on each box. Be sure it says St. Joseph Aspirin.

Berkeley Notes

A well attended mass meeting was held Dec. 17 at Taylor Memorial Methodist Church, Oakland, with the Rev. Charles Warren, minister, assisting, under the auspices of the California State Association of Colored Women and the Inter-denominational Ministerial Alliance of which the Rev. Edw. Stovall is president.

Edgar Brown, director of the Negro National Council of Washington, D. C., was the speaker in behalf of the release of the recently convicted 50 Negro seamen charged with mutiny at Port Chicago, Calif.

Mrs. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, who heads the California association, was mistress of ceremonies. A petition was circulated and funds solicited on behalf of the movement, both of which received a hearty response.

Mr. Brown also spoke at Richmond, Calif., on the evening of the 17th, where Edmond Burke was master of ceremonies.

Mr. Brown was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. McAdoo in King St., while on his lecture tur in this area prior to his departure for Seattle Wash., Dec. 18.

The doll show sponsored by the Northern California section of the federated club women, Dec. 20, at the Fannie Wall Children's Home and Day Nursery, was also well supported and a particularly picturesque affair.

The Berkeley unit of the Women's Ambulance and Defense Corps, under the leadership of Capt. Vivian Osborne-Marsh, reports 800 Christmas packages distributed to service men at Benicia Arsenal. They sponsored two shows for the entertainment of the men, under the direction of Pvt. Ethel Terrell, during the Yule season. Members are all smiles over the bond drive recently concluded, during which they sold a $5,000.00 bond purchased by the Boilermakers' Auxiliary No. 36, of which Mahlon H. Roles is secretary- treasurer.

Mrs. Marsh, Grand Worthy Matron O.E.S., entrained for Los Angeles Dec. 21, where she was the installing officer for a group of O.E.S. chapters of that city. On her return trip, Sgt. George Jones accompanied her home to spend the holidays, the guest of the Marsh household.

The Needle Art Guild, popular federated unit, of which Mrs. Gertrude Martin is president, met at the Berkeley U.S.O., recently.

Following business routine, a delightful musical program was presented and dinner served to a large group of service men. Among the participants on the program were Mrs. Martha Hilliard, Mrs. M. Brooks, little Charlotte Rucker, with Mrs. Hicks, mistress of ceremonies.

Mrs. Frances Albrier, well known Berkeleyan, installed the officers elected at a previous meeting. Those in the official lineup include Mrs. G. Martin, president; Mrs. Lillie Hale, vice president; Mrs. Pecot, financial secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Iantha Villa, corresponding secretary and chairman of education and literature; Mrs. Ida Pleasant, recording secretary; Mrs. Dightman, chairman of U.S.O.; Mesdames Grandison and Jackson, chairmen of entertainment, and Mrs. Hicks, program chairman.

Thursday afternoon, Dec. 14, Mrs. Sadie Springs of Ward St., was hostess at a gay pre-holiday bridge luncheon. Sharing in the festive occasion were 24 members of the socially prominet. Prize awards were made to Mesdames Lucille Hurd, Mabel Foster and Ida Terry.

Mrs. Sara Hodge, Oaklander, was hostess at a bridge luncheon, an elaborate affair, at her home in 41st St., Dec. 17, when a score of the Bay Area's fashionables were brought together.

Prize winners were Mesdames Cassie Thomas, Pearl Baranco and Ida Terry.

Mrs. F. E. Allen was chairman of the Sunday evening worship at McGee Avenue Baptist Church, Dec. 17, at which time the services were held under the auspices of the December Club of the church, comprising members whose birthday anniversaries occur during the month.

The Rev. William C. Dixon of Chicago, house guest of Rev. J. D. Wilson, pastor of the church, was the guest speaker.

Miss Annabel Jones, pianist, and Mrs. Bessie A. Mack, dramatic reader, supplemented the program.

The morning worship was dedicated to Rev. W. M. Dixon, retired former pastor of the church. Rev. Wilson delivered the message.

Final rites were held for lovely June Lodwood, Wednesday, Dec. 20, at the St. Paul A.M.E. Church, of which she was a very faithful member, having united with the organization during its missionhood, under the pastorate of Rev. A. A. Moore, who assisted in the rites.

The beautiful florals, resolutions and other expressions of sympathy to the bereaved family were eloquent testimonials of the esteem in which the deceased was held in the community at large.

Miss Logwood, who was just a slip of a girl a few years ago, was identified with every department of the church, having been editor of the church bulletin since the inception of the church in 1934.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Miss Lodwood made her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Harris, and Great Aunt, Mrs. Mittie Ann Gottrell, 1337 Ashby. Stricken at Oakland Army Base, where she was employed in a supervisory capacity in the clerical department, Dec. 13, she passed on a few hours later.

Rev. M. L. Hawkins, pastor of the church, delivered the eulogy. Assisting also with the rites was the Rev. A. W. Johnson, pastor of Parks Chapter A.M.E. Church, Oakland.

Surviving the deceased are her parents, George and Mrs. Kathleen Logwood of Denver, Colo., and Los Angeles, respectively; brother, George Logwood, station at Keslar Field, Miss., where he is instructor in chemical gas squadron; an aunt, Mrs. James Logwood of Los Angeles, all of whom were present for the rites; another brother, James Logwood; a sister, Gloria Logwood, and an uncle, James Logwood.

Washington, D. C.—A veteran flier of the 99th Pursuit Squadron, a prisoner of the Germans after his plane was forced down over Bulgaria, addressed 3,000 government workers at three midnight war bond rallies sponsored by the Public Buildings Administration, Federal Works Agency, in Washington, D. C., during the Sixth War Loan. He is Lieut. Henry A. Wise, Jr., 24, of Cape Charles, Virginia. The Russian advance in Bulgaria freed the allies fliers, but 3500 American airmen and 350 aircraft had been lost while bombing the Ploesti oil field and refineries. The young flier told of visiting one hospital overseas in which only amputation cases were handled. "After you've seen that," he declared, "you wonder whether you're doing enough with your two good hands and your two good legs to win this war and you know that buying an extra bond or stamps is the least you can do." All War Bonds sold to December 31st count towards the 6th War Loan E Bond quota.

Clear Heads Are Needed

Removal by the United States Army of all restrictions of reentry into the Western Defense Area by citizens of Japanese origin means that many of our former residents may choose to return here. Others who formerly lived here have already relocated elsewhere. Some others will choose to relocate in rural areas and cities of the metropolitan area. For those who do return to Los Angeles the greatest immediate problem will no doubt be housing. Practical means must be found to accommodate present housing to this new load in a manner which will minimize dislocations affecting war workers and others directly concerned.

We all recognize that it is the duty of government to protect its citizens, and that it is the duty of ciizens to observe the law. Both the government and the people respect the Constitutional guarantees of equalities of citizens. We all wish to preserve civil liberties and to protect the rights of every individual, whatever his race, color or racial origin.

Nonetheless, problems will arise which stir deep feelings among many of our people. This is a time for clear heads, cool thinking and careful planning with an absence of emotion. The American people have been called upon to make stupendous adjustments to meet the war crisis and in every instance have come through gloriously. This new problem will also be met and will also be solved in our traditional, democratic, law-abiding fashion.

Tax Values Are Going Up

The $2,907,953,250 taxable value of property in Los Angeles County for 1944-45 is up 17 per cent from the $2,485,965,560 assessed value of property in the county for 1940-41, California Taxpayers' association stated today, making public its analysis of assessed valuations in California counties since the United States entered the war.

Property values in the county this year are as follows:

Land, $1,042,132,695; improvements on land, $1,272,014,145; and personal property and money, $680,472,205. Exemptions, which have been deducted from these valuations, total $86,665,795.

"In every community where taxable valuations are up, the amount each cent of property tax rate will raise is up accordingly," the Taxpayers' organization stated.

Mrs. Herman Simson and Mrs. J. B. Cox of Los Angeles were the guests of Mrs. Alfred at 975-6th street last week end.

San Bernardino Notes

Miss Lula Mae Brown of San Antonio, Texas, has been the guest of Mrs. Marie Muckelroy, her aunt, of 6th Street. Miss Brown left last week to enroll in the Frank Wiggins Trade School in Los Angeles.

St. Paul A.M.E. Church was well attended at all services Sunday. The Rev. Criglar preached on the subject "Jonah Tries to Escape Duty." The choir was at it's best with Mrs. Gussie Ruckner as soloist. The regular board meeting is on Monday Night, Prayer Meeting, Wednesday Night and choir practice Thursday night for both choirs. Everyone worked hard on the rally in the form of a "Trip to Los Angeles" where tickets are sold for one dollar a mile. No tickets were sold after December 7.

Of the many family gatherings on Christmas Day was the Muckelroy family dinner. It was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wainwright Muckelroy of Spruce Street. Guests of the family were Mr. Ralph Johnson and Mr. William Macintosh. The evening was spent at Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Muckelroy's home on 6th street. The guests were entertained with games and light refreshments.

340th Army Service Force At Fort Bragg Has Added A Band

FORT BRAGG, N. C.—The 340th Army Service Forces Band, directed by Warrant Officer Rutherford Strider, native of Lexington, Ky., is the latest addition to musical organizations stationed at Fort Bragg.

The band now is appearing at ASF functions at Fort Bragg. On the regular schedule of the unit are weekly concerts at the hospitals, a series of programs which already has won the organization many compliments and friends at Fort Bragg.

A dance orchestra, the "Aristocrats," has been formed within the band. This unit is being featured at dances and parties at Fort Bragg service clubs and events for military personnel in nearby cities.

Members of the band come from numerous states. They are Tech. Sgt. Clarence L. Nellems, Cleveland, Ohio; Staff Sgt. Harry P. Rustin, Baltimore, Md.; Tec. 5 Elijah Lyons, Sanford, Fla.; Tec. 5 Harold W. Culbertson, Johnson City, Tenn.; Pfc. James Drake, Miami, Fla.; Tec. 5 Otis Bridges, Muskogee, Okla.; Tec. 4 Milton Wiggins, Baltimore, Md.; Pfc. Hugh A. Wright, Malden, Mass.; Aec. 5 James W. Golden, Gary, Ind.; Tec. 4 Alexander Luton, South Bend, Ind.; Tec. 5 Caesar F. Jones, Pittsburg, Pa.; Pfc. Eugene Hudson, Chester, Pa.; Tec. 4 Arthur L. Tillery, Rocky Mount, N. C.; Tec. 4 Luther R. Willis, Birmingham, Ala.; Tec. 5 James Collier, Jackson, Tenn.; Pfc. Colton K. Bolton, Key West, Fla.; Tec. 4 George E. Ramsey, Hartford, Conn.; Tec. 4 Frank F. Jarman, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Tec. 5 James Thompson, Charleston, S. C.; Pfc. Vernice Wilford, Chicago, Ill.; Tec. 5 Willie E. Lusain, Birmingham, Ala.; Pfc. Willie J. Lusain, Birmingham, Ala.; Tec. 5 Robert Moody, Youngstown, Ohio, and Pfc. Woodrow Belton, Sanford, N. C.

Mr. Strider, former director of music at Alabama Agriculture and Industrial College, Huntsville, Ala., was graduated from Fisk University and received a Master's Degree from Fisk in 1935. After graduation he worked with the schools of Covington, Ky., and in 1939 conducted a musical program for the Cincinnati, Ohio, Boys' Club. Upon entering the Army he was assigned to Courtland Army Air Field, Cincinnati, and then was selected for the Army Music School, Fort Myer, Va., from which he was graduated in July, 1944. He has written several compositions, including such selections as "Lord, Give Us Faith" and "America's Sons."

If I do not keep step with others, it is because I hear a different drummer. Let a man step to the music which he hears, however measured and however far away —Henry Thoreau

REV. G. E. ANDERSON

Above is pictured the pastor of Third Baptist Church. Last Sunday was a high day with Dr. E. C. Hicks from Europe preaching the 11 a. m. sermon from Isaiah 9:6. There were five additions to the church. Sunday at 6 p. m. there was a Christmas program sponsored by Mrs. J. L. Davis. At 8 p. m. Dr. Bumpers of Louisiana preached a wonderful sermon. Sunday, Dec. 31st, the Junior Church will be in charge all day. From 9 to 12 Sunday night there will be a musical program conducted by the Chosen Four from St. Louis, Mo. The church is located at 1210 E. 41st St. Rev. G. E. Anderson, Pastor, Sister Juanita James, Reporter.

36th Street P. T. A.

The Christmas meeting of the 36th St. School P.T.A. was held Dec. 13 in the school auditorium.

Guest speaker, Charles L. Eason, listed home, school, motion pictures, and church as sources from which one may draw to help in spiritual growth.

The children of Miss Birdielee Bright's A5 class put on a Christmas play entitled, "The Shoemaker and the Elves." The children were very enthusiastic little actors, and gave a grand performance.

After the singing of "Silent Night" the meeting adjourned to the cafeteria for the social hour.

Your sole contribution to the sum of things is yourself. —Frank Crane

Golden West Bridge Association

. Joint installation of officers for the coming year will be held Saturday, Dec. 30th, at the club rooms, 1054-56 E. 54th Street, by the Golden West Bridge Association and the Contract Bridge Club. All members are asked to be present. A grand time is planned for you, refreshments and dancing.

The accomplishments of the A. B. A.'s most popular unit, the G. W. B. A., in 1944 were numerous and great, to name just a few of our accomplishments, the G. W. B. A. was the largest A. B. A. unia, our players earned approximately 60 Master Point Certificates at the Nationals in New Orleans. Our sectional and regionals were attended in greater numbers, etc., etc. We offer for your enjoyment and pleasure in 1945 better plays, better players (lessons are given), and better conducted plays. Knowing something about the conducting and scoring of the game you play, instruction free to those who care to learn, starting Tuesday, Jan. 2nd.

Dr. Darthula Matthews won the Clarence Ennis trophy for the third and last time in October.

May Denton, G. W. B. A. Vice President, re-elected, and Margaret Hale, G. W. B. A. Secretary elect, won the Friday December series of plays.

We urge all old-timers at the club room to be present immediately after the holidays to help formulate an interesting program for 1945. Business meeting Jan. 3rd.

The judges will be: A. I. Bezerides, novelist, short story writer, screenplay writer; James R. Caldwell, essayist, Associate Professor of English, University of California; C. S. Forester, novelist, short story writer; Ring Lardner, Jr., screnplay writer; Albert Maltz, novelist, short story writer and teacher; and Dalton Trumbo, novelist, short story writer, screnplay writer.

EXTENDS GREETINGS—Dr. Brandon A. T. Bowlin, prominent physician and surgeon, takes this occasion to wish a New Year of growing peace and security to his many friends and patrons. Dr. Bowlin is a staunch friend of the California Eagle, and felicitates that publication on the occasion of its 65th Anniversary celebration.

Saving By Sewing

In spite of the economy of large scale production the housewife can still improve upon the construction costs of the family clothing problem. For an instance, three pairs of men's shorts can be made at home for the costs of one pair in the department store.

The housewife has the added advantage of making whatever she wishes for her faimly to fit the individuals for which they are desired without a single fitting or try-on. At the Jefersen Evening High School the clothing department provides the information and assistance necessary.

If the housewife so desires she may choose any commercial pattern for the part of general style and design and alter this pattern to fit the individual person without fittings. A photograph is snapped in the classroom of individuals in two views or individual measurements are taken, or the student can take such measurements of the members of her family herself. However the individuality is attained any article of clothing can be produced without a single try-on.

Designing the garment is of value and can be simply done provided the craftsman is willing to visualize and imagine the total problem involved. After all designing is merely seeing things as a whole. The configuration is the basis for all artistic production.

Some of the most beautifully decorated homes are products of untrained persons who are capable of vivid imagination. He who sees in the particular is incapable of art production. Mode and animation can only be expresed when the entire result is anticipated. The learning of a poef is a specific example of this.

Unless a poem is learned as a whole it is merely rotely learned and mechanically recited. By this method the whole the though and interpretation is missed.

The home and family can be greatly benefited if the homemaker adopt the simple basis of considering all the elements involved such as furniture arrangement or costume construction, and imagine the appearance of the final product.

Honored

The Second Baptist Missionary Society will be honored with Mrs. Blanch Carter, state president, as their guest speaker on Sunday, December 31, 1944, at 4 o'clock. Special feature on program will be the Mission Sextett, a youth group, under the direction of Mrs. M. E. Everett. An excellent musical program has been planned, with Mrs. Margarett Pett, L. Browning, and Esther Griffith singing solos. Mrs. Marie W. Williams, state devotional chairman will lead in prayer. All are welcome to the program, which will be presided over by Mrs. A. M. Brown, president. Reverend J. Raymond Henderson, pastor.

NOTICE

Among the many gifts received by Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher from her son Harold N. Fisher, of Seattle, Washington, was a box of the choicest and largest Delicious apples from that great apple growing state.

While Walter Brennan was working in the principal male suporting role in Warner Bros.' "To Have and Have Not," starring Humphrey Bogart, his daughter, Ruth Brennan, was appearing in "Janie" it the same studio.

The Bishop Broadcast

By Richard Horton

President Rhoads has accepted an invitation to deliver the spiritual message to the students and faculty of Wiley College, Sunday, January 28th at 11 o'clock. The Religious Activities Committee of Bishop have requested that the faculty, students, graduates and friends of Bishop attend the services.

The college family was grieved to hear of the death of Mr. R. B. H. Yates of Houston. Mr. Yates was one of the early graduates of Bishop. We extend words of condolence to the family.

Dean Jesse Jai McNeil of the Department of Religion delivered the Christmas message in the college chapel Friday, December 15th. He spoke on "Who Are Wise Men?"

Members of the Bishop College Sunday School enjoyed a pre-Christmas gathering in the college chapel Tuesday, Dec. 19, marked by an impressive program and the exchange of best wishes and small gifts. The Library Club gave a going away party in the College Cooperative Sunday, December 17, in honor of Mrs. R. A. Hudson, assistant librarian, who is leaving to matriculate in the University of Denver.

Cpl. H. C. Titus, former student, visited the campus this week. Pvt. Walter Sutton, graduate of '41, has been reported wounded in action in the European theater of war.

Mr. Ovid Bledsoe, Jr., graduate, and now senior at Meharry Medical College, is spending the Yuletide season at home in Marshall. Mrs. Martha Brown, graduate, is visiting her family in Marshall. She now resides in California. Mrs. Berline Burley, graduate, left this week to spend the season with her soldier husband now stationed in California.

Mr. J. V. Anderson, business manager, and Mr. Harry Carson, athletic coach, attended the annual winter meeting of the Southwestern Athletic Conference in Houston, Texas, where Mr. Anderson was re-elected to serve a fourth term as president of the conference.

The Homemaking Education majors of the Senior Women's Council entertained the seniors in Finney House on Dec. 17th. The participants were Misses Malissa Collins, Shreveport, La., Norva L. Snoddy and Marian Settles, Longview, Evelyn Bell, Austin, Parthenia Tatum, Carthage, Margaret Johnson and Addie Adkins, Marshall.

Y. M. C. A. NEWS

Featuring the motion pictures, "Negro Soldier" and "Men of Tomorrow," two top flight basketball games, swimming demonstrations and lobby activities, the 28th Street Y.M.C.A. this week makes public final details for the first annual open house program which will be held Monday, January 1st, 1945 from 7 to 11:30 p.m. at the YMCA building, located at 1006 East 28th Street.

The program which is open to all YMCA members and the general public will begin at 7 p.m. with lobby games of table tennis and billards. At 7:30 a basketball game between the Y-Bombers and El-Santa Nino Community center will be played. Following this game, the Y-Varsity men will play a service team from Roosevelt Naval Base at San Pedro.

Mrs. Ann Marquess, formerly Health Education Director of the Philadelphia YWCA and recently added to the local Y staff, will have charge of a swimming and water safety demonstration program in the swimming pool, beginning at 8 p.m. She will have assisting her, some of the advanced pupils of the Y swimming classes.

At 9 p.m. in the second floor club rooms, the feature motion pictures will be shown. The first film "Men of Tomorrow" is a YMCA Centennial picture, depicting the development of the YMCA for the past 100 years. The movie hour will close with the film, "The Negro Soldier."

Throughout the evening, refreshments will be served in the Men's lobby. Various musical selections will be played during the refreshment hour.

Members from the Y Board of Managers and the entire staff will be on hand to welcome all members and friends.

Local Author's Book Accepted By New York Public Library

Deaderick F. Jenkins, author and publisher of the powerful novel, "It Was Not My World," has been informed by the New York public library that his much discussed book has been accepted there and will be available to its readers.

The response of the New York library was encouraging to Mr. Jenkins, whose book has been banned by the public library in Los Angeles which evidently considered the book too controversial.

Commenting on the attitude of the library here, Mr. Jenkins scored the institution, accused the officials of being prejudiced against writers who contend for a free society and real democracy in America. Said he: "Our public libraries do not smile too favorably upon those who denounce too openly our American Hitlers."

He stated further that two or three thousand letters addressed to City Librarian Althea Warren of the Los Angeles Public Library might change her mind. Young Jenkins believes more young writers should have the courage to compose and produce their own works rather than write sentiments which appeal to white publishers. Jenkins resides at 1464 Central Avenue of this city and is well known to newspaper readers of this city.

SWA Gears For Spring

A program to raise funds to finance Labor's Political Action in the Spring Councilmanic and Mayoralty campaigns was initiated on December 16, when the State, County and Municipal Workers of America, Local 246, presented George Roberts, Regional Director of the CIO PAC with a check for $151.18, to be turned over by him to the Los Angeles CIO Council.

This money was paid from small voluntary donations by members of the local and friends of the Union who wanted to contribute to the CIO political program.

"S.C.M.W.A. 246 has been potive out of all proportion to its membership, and it is again demonstratihg its political leadership by bringing to the attention of all Unions in the area the need for planning now for the election in the Spring," Roberts said in accepting the Union's contribution.

Man's primary allegiance is to his vision of truth, and he is under obligation to affirm it. —Jane Addams

What's Doing—

In The Younger Set

Jessie Mae Brown

The fourth war time Christmas has come and gone, with definite reminders of the present day situation, and bits of the old pre-war yuletide spirit. During Sunday and Christmas day, beautiful church programs were held with emphasis on the service men, reflecting the Christmas spirit and sincere feelings of the masses who are patiently awaiting a winning peace. Many of the gents were home for Christmas and the many parties which took place served as moral builders for the furloughing G. I.'s who knew L.A. before the war.

Seaman first class Hoyt Brown made his entry from Port Chicago on a 16 day leave, Sgt. Oscar Little enjoyed two days, Cadet LeRoy Soldiers traveled from Tuskegee, Cpl. Edward Mouton, from Florida, Paul Beck, back in the states from Australia and New Guinea, Lt. Charles Boswell's furlough lasted until after Christmas, as did David Cunninghams' and Buddy Dunns. Service Mens clubs, USO's, Hospitals and Canteens were the center of attraction for the different social and charity clubs who believe in doing their bits at Christmas time.

PARTIES GALORE

The three day holiday was definitely enjoyed by all, starting with informal gatherings and ending with practically every type of fun making. The Alpha Phrateries of City College, took over the Villa Arlington Wednesday night and entertained some one or two hundred guests with an informal gathering. The affair was a perfect starter offer for the seasonal functions. The glamour debs of the City College organization were introduced by their advisors as they gracefully tipped down the stair way of the Arlington. Jerry Stewart, prexy, took her stand as did Orchid Oliver, Irma Brown, Ruth Smith, Regenia Mingleton, Mildred Guthier, Wilma and Lois Fox, Heroldine Browning Wrenna Clarke, Faye Thompson and some 15 or 16 other lovelies looking their best in the latest garb. The party was a top knotcher, with the many guests on hand heartily in on the merry making . . . .

Friday night found the UCLA University Club taking over the spot light with a very clever Christmas party with a bit of old fashionedness to it. The kids joined in playing games, and exchanging gifts. Sam Marlowe was at his best impersonating the one and only "Pig Meat" in a quick imitation of the Lincoln Amateur hour. Arther Lewis played a bit of the Boogie Woogie, while Ernie Mae Maxey and Leola Beavers came on with the dramatics . . . More fun . . .

The highlight partying of the week, however, took place Christmas eve, when everything was on the rolling ball at the Phidelphians annual affair. All, or practically all of the gang was on hand enjoying the fun. Took note of Arthur Toppsil and the Mrs. whom I haven't seen out in ages, Lou Gross jittering to King Cole's "Make Believe," Melonee Temple with Chuck Boswell, and of course T. L. Kirk who makes all the jumps, Jessel Ried and Hayward doing a bit of light tripping, Gloria Roberts chatting with old friends, Pauliette Coleman and Jane Criner in fur coats, Phylippa Jones with mistletoe in hand, Nita Hippard, Idell Moore, Flo Nukes, Helen Jane Ford, Glamour Bobby Lambert, and, wellI could go on and on, for the party was crowded till the wee hours, with members of the gang making the regular Christmas Eve rounds. Bob Edwards also entertained with dancing and refreshments, at his Gramercy Place abode . . . . Had more fun breakfasting and dancing the rumba at the Monroes. They had a real Spanish playing guitarist and food a plenty. From then on, "open house" parties took over, lasting till the wee hours of December 26th. Yes indeed, it's been a merry Christmas.

NEW YEAR HIGHLIGHTS

The big Alpha Kappa Alpha formal scheduled for the 30th of December is the definite highlight for the New Year celebrating. Many before and after parties have been planned as the expected guests make ready for the grand occasion. The graduate chapter of the sorority are hostessing the affair which takes place on the first floor of the Elks Hall.

The Manual Arts Girl Reserves are staging their Semi at the Riverside Breakfast Club. Some five hundred couples will be expected at the affair from ten till two January first . . . . Joyce and Jerry Stewart will be hostessing one of the finest house parties of the old year when they have their friends over Friday night for an early spaghetti feed and dancing.

BAY AREA BETS

Up Berkeley way, everything seems to be in jump speed, received bits of info via the postman concerning the fashionable December wedding of Oakland's Electra Smith, who became the bride of a Camp Knight Corporal. The Cal coed made a beautiful bride in white satin with flowing veil. The event was strictly military, with armed guard and all. Peggy Prince was maid of honor, and Cpl. Ed Allen, best man. Congrats to the Mr. and Mrs. . . . . Peggy Prince, by the way, has been enjoying Christmas vacation round L.A., before hitting the books for the final months of the semester. Local boy Howard Grant was also back in L.A. and brought a friend who is also attending school on the Berkeley campus. By the way, the popular Beckford brothers from up that way, are quite busy playing the parts of men round town. They were recently A-number one hosts at a gala party which I hear turned into a natural balling affair. Most of the Calites will journey back to school following the AKA formal scheduled for Saturday night . . . .

WELL! WELL! WELL!

Wesleen Foster is no longer dancing with La Dunham, for the local whirl wind is now doing her bit in the New York production of Carmen Jones. By the way, a month or two from now, she will return to the city with the cast of the popular show . . . . When Jack Terry 20th it was with hopes of spending Christmas in New York. Jack is headed for the Eighth National Alpha Convention being held in Atlanta. Before returning to L.A., he plans to make a quick jaunt into Washington in order to visit Potsie Dejole on Howards campus and then to Tuskegee where his brother Bill will be receiving his wings . . . . By the way, Tuskegee must have been full of Angelinos during the holiday. Latest heading for that destination was popular Alma Peak, who, as dame rumor has it, may take a few wedding vows. Her one and only John Laymen is stationed down that way . . . .

Well, Christmas day found Rosalia Saffold Smith the proud mother of a bouncing baby girl . . . Quite a Christmas present, no kidding . . . . speaking of infants, Rise and Arbazine Walder's new addition is a boy . . . Carlo and Marge were also blessed with their fourth bundle . . . . Congrats to all you proud parents . . . . In town on a gay week-end, or shall I say appearing on the local scene were Edith and Ed Boyd, who spent one day in Riverside, and one in L.A., before returning fo Oakland . . . . Bette and Johnnie Alston spent Christmas in their long awaited for apartment. Bette is the happiest bride yet since she has been able to actually look at her many wedding presents . . . . A few weeks back found Ann and Joe Johnson celebrating their first wedding anniversary . . . . Joe is somewhere in Italy . . . Congrats kiddos . . . Leslie Stewart spent his first G. I. Christmas in New Orleans where he has been assigned to the Transportation division . . . The dashing eye full, Rachell Isom was right on hand to watch Jackie Robinson play, at that last pro football game. Certain that Dame rumor is wondering just how the engagement stands, last reports had it called off . . .

Received news of the death of Lt. Magellian Mars. Condolences go out to his wife Ruth, and family . . . Would like to bring this last Younger Set Column of 1944 to a close with sincerest hopes that next year will find the world at peace . . . . New Years greetings to you all.

Alpha Bowling Club Opens Soon

Owing to the recent fire in the clubhouse which necessitated extensive repairs, the Alpha Bowling Club has announced that the gala year-end dance scheduled for New Year's Eve will have to be cancelled. While the physical part of the alterations are up to schedule, it has not been possible to complete the decorations in time.

There will be an announcement made soon regarding the opening dance to be held as soon as the final touches are put on the popular West Side Clubrooms. The management regrets having to cancel the dance, but extends its best wishes for a Happy New Year to its many friends and patrons.

GI Xmas Dinner

AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND DEPOT IN ENGLAND—Sgt. William Williams, brother of Horace Williams, 230 E. 31st St., Long Beach, Calif., helped his buddies celebrate Christmas with a wing, a drumsttick and a Yuletide prayer.

He is a member of the mess hall staff at an Air Service Command depot in Britain which is planning a Christmas dinner to compete with Mom's.

Before entering the Air Forces in April, 1941, he was employed as a cook by the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Rho Chapter, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inaugurates Its Fall Season

With its new cabinet recently installed, RHO Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority entered its fall season on the University of California at Berkeley Campus with a series of successful rush parties, culminating in the reception of 18 new members to the Ivy Leaf Club, pledge club of A.K.A. sorority.

The first big event of the season was an all campus get-together given by members of the Ivy Leaf Club under the sponsorship of PHO chapter members.

The party was purely a social one and for the purpose of getting all new Negro students acquainted with other members of the student body. In a speech by the President of RHO, Miss Eddie Mae Armstrong, they were urged to begin immediate participation in campus activities to assure others and themselves that the Negro student is ready, willing and able to contribute his part to the maintenance of school spirit and honor.

Several other successful affairs have been completed and PHO chapter has planned for a big spring season in ye ole Berkeley. Among those listed are:

Founder's day event—Jan.

Entertainment for Miss Marian Anderson—Feb.

Entertainment for Negro war Veterans Hospital—Feb.

On the lighter side:

1. AKA Charm School, education project for Negro public.
2. Inter-racial—Campus Scavenger Hunt and Party.
3. Series of Sunday morning skating parties.
4. Season ends with AWA Spring Formal.
5. Also surprise events planned for public.

FURLOUGH FUN

AN AIR FORCE SERVICE COMMAND STATION (Somewhere in England)—Pvt. Genoa Thompson of 2322 Hooper Ave., Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Thompson of 510 E. Faulkner St., El Dorado, Ark., and husband of Thelma Thompson, 246 16th Street, San Diego, was a visitor at the London entertainment certer of England during his furlough recently.

He is serving in the European theater of operations with the Combat Support Wing, one of the largest trucking organizations in the Army Air Forces.

Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. George Black entertained at a dinner party on Christmas Eve honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Compton. Guests were Mrs. Maggie Crain, Mr. John Wyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Winford Eckley of Pasadena, Mr. and Mrs. Rob Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Comodore Wynn, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wims, Mrs. Elizabeth Epperson, Mrs. Chas. King, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson from Colton. A beautiful 7 course plate dinner was served. A lovely evening was enjoyed with dancing and cocktails.

Anniversary Celebrated

The beautiful home of Mrs. Gladys Beasley at 9611 Zamora Ave. was the setting for the celebration of the second anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel James, Jr., recently. Mrs. James is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Turner, former Chicago residents now living in Los Angeles, and she is well known for her social work.

Mr. James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James of Los Angeles. The highlight of the evening was the toast offered in honor of Seaman 1C Wilbur Beckham of the U. S. Navy, who is now on overseas duty.

Among those present were Mr. William Moore, Mrs. Gladys Beasley, Mr. Nola Williams, Miss Opal Cronkite, Miss Fannie Anderson, Mrs. Lagran Parker, Mrs. Bessie James, Miss Lillian James, Mr. and Mrs. Asbury Peuden, Mr. James Turner, prizefighter, of Chicago, and Miss Wilett Howard.

Housewives Attention!!

An appeal for housewives and other consumers to cooperate with their grocers and food merchants in an anti-inflation program to prevent prices was issued today by the Food and Nutrition Committee of the Los Angeles City War Council in cooperation with state and national nutrition authorities.

Two-fifths of the total income of many families is now going for food, while an even higher percentage must be spent by others to properly fed.

Grocers everywhere are making a special effort to display ceiling price posters and every consumer should make sure he pays no more than these ceiling prices for food, as his share in the anti-inflation campaign, the nutrition committee urged.

Junior Police Anniversary

Climaxing a year of action for one of the West's fastest growing youth organizations, the Deputy Auxiliary olice junior civilian defense group under the guidance of the Police Department, will stage its big year-end program at the Los Angeles Coliseum on Saturday, December 30, beginning at 1 p.m.

A parade of 1200 uniform boys and girls will begin the ceremonies, to be followed by a review and inspection by Mayor Bowman, Chief of olice C. B. Horrall, Deputy Police Chief H. S. Eaton, and high ranking Army and Navy officers.

The Coliseum program will be held in connection with finals of the city-wide touch football tournament sponsored by the City Recreation Department, Police Department, and Chamber of Commerce, in which the four best boy teams will decide the all-city championships.

Social Activities

HI G. I. JOE!
By BETTINA HUDSON

It's probably been a long time since you, and a hundred others just like you, Joe, danced with me, and a hundred others just like me, at the Elks ballroom — laughed and admired the pretties in and out of the local spots—yes, and laid on the grass on SC campus between classes—worked a shift at Lockheed—chatted on the corner after 11 o'clock church services on Sunday. I know wherever you are over this big world, your thoughts remain right here at home in Los Angeles. Well, Joe, our thoughts go with you. And life moves on here, too. Each week I'm going to write it all down and send it along straight to you, Joe. I hope it makes you happy, but keep your head down in those foxholes!

First Lieut. Cato Robinson, in Italy with the 92nd, writes friends in the States he's all but given his heart to a beautiful Italian girl! She's wearing his class ring. Cadet Tommy Long finished his special studies with the Quartermaster school and has been reassigned. You remember pretty, golden brown Gladyce Childress, who is so well known for her piano artistry? Well, she's the talk of Juilliard Conservatory in New York, with her genius. She's East this year on a Rosenwald Fellowship. She's too busy for romance but I know she has to keep those smooth Eastern wolves away.

Prettier than Lena Horne is gorgeous Ardette Norvell, who is en route to Los Angeles next month from New Orleans. She will enroll at SC, and keep house for her physician brother who is coming with her. He isn't so well. If you want to se a truly PRETTY girl, write me for her pin-up. She'd be too glad to send them along to you, Joe. Duke Ellington's sister, Ruth, happened to mention to friends in the East she's like to spend the winter here with her 2-year-old son. Right away the rumor got out she'll be here. But she won't. Business (she's head of a music publishing house) keeps her home. Remember the gay time she spent here one year, guest of Bea De Vaughn? Pretty Rita Christiani (I remember, Joe, how you drooled over her when she danced with Dunham's company!) now lives in cold New York, wishing she hadn't left sunny Cal.

Lionel Hampton's wife left here with her trunks of fur coats, one for every day in the week, and sable for Sunday. How can any woman not envy her! That grand actress, Laura Bowman, is happy. Her brain child, the Little Theater Guild, is making strides. Their goal is a house of their own and a workshop. Sticking to your music lessons evidently DOES pay, Joe! Billy Strayhorn, ace arranger-composer (he turned out "Take the A Train") who arrives here next month, just gave his mother a 10-room house in Pittsburgh. They gave a prize to the best-dressed teacher in Washington, D. C., the other day. I wish they'd give one here to Nancy Harris. She's lovely.

Remember Evelyn Ebberson Archer? She's doing chemical research for her Uncle Sam at the Phila. Navy Yard. Well, she writes her club members here that she attended the Army-Navy game in Baltimore and saw columnist Bill Smallwood with a beautiful girl in honest-to-goodness mink. She ran into them at a party that night and Bill introduced her as his wife!! I'll keep you posted, Joe.

Remember, I'll do my darndest to get pin-ups for you and the boys. Let me know. Oh yes, your favorite band leader, Cab Calloway, will be 36 on Xmas day. A fightin' Happy New Year to you, Joe, and hurry home.

Mu-So-Lit Club Gives Banquet

On Thursday, December 21 the Mu-So-Lit club held its annual banquet in the beautiful home of Mrs. Eleanor Harrol, cousin of Mrs. Nellie V. Connor at 1937 S. Hobart Ave., on Sugar Hill. All the members wore blue and gold badges and a gardenia, the club flower.

The banquest table was beautifully decorated with poinsettias and blue and gold candles. In a corner of a spacious living room was a beautiful Xmas tree. Mrs. Mary Palms Terr was mistress of ceremony. At ten o'clock the party assembled in the dining room and enjoyed a sumptuous turkey dinner.

A very interesting program was rendered. Rev. Thomas Neal sang a solo and offered up a prayer for the boys and girls in the armed forces. Mrs. Amanda Woods furnished music for the occasion.

Visitors were: Mmes. Zola Leavelle, Amanda Woods, Lucy White, Mamie Young, Hazel Carter, Ruby Young, Mamie Taylor, Arabella Hudson, Dorothy S. McDonald, Cora Dillingham, Messrs. Henry L. Mobiley, J. W. Freeman, W. C. Allen, Wm. Terry, Wm. Beason, J. Louis Johnson, David Sommerville, and Rev. Thomas Neal. Prof. C. R. Jackson is sonpsor for this group. The officers are Gladys Terry, president; Vendora Smith, vice-president; Stella Morrell, treasurer; Laura Randall, recording secretary and reporter; Ella Kay, financial secretary; Ida Moore, corresponding secretary; Mary Terry, parliamentarian. Other members are Mmes. Corine Corine Thompson, Lottie Mays, Lena J. Maxey and Alva Smith.

East Side War Chest

One of the proudest accomplishments of the year just closing, is the outstanding return made by Eastside citizens in the recent War Chest appeal for "our boys, our homes and our Allies."

Late reports made to Mrs. E. W. Rakestraw, chairman, show that 1890 contributions were made here, totaling $17,571.00, 175 per cent of quota, the highest proportion of giving in the city as figured against the amount asked of this community.

Since the date of the final report meeting on November 14, hundreds of citizens made hitherto unreported contributions.

Visits Here

Mr. Edgar Barnett of Beaumont, Texas, arrived in our city, Thursday, December 21. Mr. Barnett is the father of Mr. Roland Jones, manager of the Bill Robinson Theater, one of the City's noted flickers.

Mr. Barnett will spend the holidays with his wife. Mr. Jones' mother has been visiting our fair city for the past two months and would like to make the fair city her home. They are spending their time seeing the many things California has to show.

NEW YORK CITY (Calvin's News Service).—New York's hundreds of beauticians as well as many others throughout the country are all agog over the coming Town Hall debut of one of their former co-workers, Bettye Voorhees, contralto, and talented concert artist of New York City, pictured above.

Miss Voorhees, a young singer of great possibilities, has been gradually gaining recognition in the music world and will make her initial appearance at the famous auditorium on February 4, 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ramsey Served Cocktails Xmas Eve Afternoon

The cozy cottage home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ramsey on S. Serrano was the setting for a gay Christmas cocktail party last Sunday afternoon from 3 to 7 p. m. The hostess lent charm to the occasion as she received her guests in a velvet creation that set her off like an old-fashioned cameo, while the host added informality to the afternoon by serving as bartender.

Tasty hors d'ouvres and snacks that were appetizing and painstakingly prepared, complimented the variety of holiday drinks served. Among those present yere: Mr. and Mrs. Bocci Vann, he of the U. S. Navy, Darby Jones, California Eagle circulation manager, Annabelle Freiberg, Betty Babcock, Herb Ward, Glen Neilson, Sunny Water, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Keyes, Andrew Johnson, Robert Willis, Maceo Sheffield, Eunice Boswell and John M. Lee, California Eagle news editor, and Mr. and Mrs. Wimmer Lewis.

Christmas night, the Ramseys were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blankfort at their Hollywood home ,as were Mrs. Bocci Vann, Glenn Neilson, Eunice Boswell and John M. Lee.

Holiday Visitors

Mrs. Frances Howard, prominent in business, social and fraternal circles of Phoenix Arizona, in Company with her husband, Thomas Lewis, former pioneer resident of Los Angeles, are holiday visitors in the city.

At present the Lewises are making their home at Hanford, State of Washington, where Mr. Lewis is in the employment of the government. While in the city, the Lewises are the house and sister-in-law, Earl and Mary Lewis.

Segregation is no longer an excuse for not donating blood.

Bishop Hilton Dinner Guest

Bishop Hilton, founder and organizer of "The Tabernacle of the Holy Spirit, Inc.," and managing editor of "The Spotlight Newspaper," and his wife, Bishop O. Hilton, were among the dinner guests of the Rt. Bishop Sutton Ryan and her husband, Rev. G. Ryan, given Christmas day, in their beautiful home.

A beautiful Christmas tree and presents and delicious food truly made this afafir one of the season's grand affairs.

Visits Aunt

Miss Charlotte Smith, a student in the Graduate School of Social work at the University of Southern California, spent a pleasant holiday recess with her mother, Mrs. Margaret Smith. When in the city, Miss Smith makes her home with Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass.

Miss Smith is hoping to get her Master's degree in Medical Social work in February. She has a Red Cross scholarship at present and when she graduates will be sent to Fort Huachuca.

Boyish-looking Staff Sergeant Thomas J. Wilcox, Jr., 20, of Route 1, Blunt Road, Baton Rouge, La., is probably the youngest acting battalion sergeant major in the Marine Corps.

Farewell Given McDonough

Although County Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough was the guest of honor at a farewell party tendered him Tuesday by County officials, his grandson, Richard Leo Miller, Jr., son of Lt. and Mrs. Richard Miller, McDonough's Field Secretary and daughter, respectively, stole a great part of the show being much in evidence to the delight of the assemblage.

The occasion was a part of the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors when McDonough was present for the last time prior to assumption of his new duties as the representative in Congress from the 15th district. His resignation as County Supervisor after eleven years becomes effective December 31st.

After paying a tribute to the work of Supervisor McDonough, Supervisor W. A. Smith, Chairman of the Board, called a number of County Department heads for short talks. All told of the years they had worked with the Supervisor from the Second District and predicted success for him in continued service to the County in his new endeavor.

Among the speakers were Coroner Frank Nance, Assessor John Quinn, Treasurer Howard Byram, Recorder Mame Beatty and Auditor Joseph Lowery. Many citizens were present at the farewell party and a number of them also spoke on their relationship with the departing Supervisor. These included John D. Home of the American Legion, Mrs. Betty Hill of the Women's Political Study Club, Mrs. Josie Fehner of the Democratic State Central Committee, Bishop Jessie D. Hill, active in church circles and Mrs. Katherine Lammert, Clubwoman.

Supervisor McDonough said that it was with regret that he was leaving the service of the County. He thanked the Department heads for the cooperation they had accorded him during his years of service and praised them for their efficient work. He asserted that the Los Angeles County government was an example of good government followed by all counties of the nation. During his service as Congressman in Washington, McDonough promised to be ever elert to the needs of his home County and to strive constantly for its welfare in the higher legislative body.

Before his departure as a County Supervisor, Gordon L. McDonough took steps to assure continued official interest in the development of the Los Angeles River Freeway project which he sponsored and actively advocated for several years.

At Tuesday's session of the Board of Supervisors, McDonough moved, and his motion was adopted, that all the records and data collected by him and his office staff relative to this project be turned over to the County Road Commissioner for checking and for completion.

Dr. and Mrs. Fearonce Entertain For Mr. and Mrs. A. Chipchase

SALLY MARTIN SINGERS

The Sallie Martin Singers will appear at the Wesley Center, 1029 E. Vernon Ave., Sunday, December 31st, at 3 p. m. under the auspices of Hamilton Methodist Church. The Martin Singers need no introduction, nor words of commendation for they have introduced themselves to Los Angeles audiences in such a way that when you hear them once you will want to hear them again. So bring your friends with you when you come Sunday to Wesley Center to hear them, for great crowds hear them always.

Father Moore Is Guest At Dinner

Sunday, December 24th, Mrs. Madye Andrews of 4127 Zamora, entertained a bevy of friends at an elaborate dinner honoring Mesdames Viola Pollock, Mary Everett, Mable Currence, and Father H. Randolph Moore, whose birthdays occur in December.

The hostess and honored guests are valued members of St. Philips Episcopal Church, of which Father Moore is Priest.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chipchase of Chicago are holiday visitors in the home of Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Fearonce at 1032 E. 49th Place. They came as a surprise to Los Angeles; they are also paying a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Steward. Mrs. Steward and Dr. Fearonce are the sister and brother of Mrs. Chipchase. The Chipchases met here Mrs. Emma Chappelle, another sister visiting here from Texarkana, Texas.

A LOVELY DINNER PARTY

Christmas day saw a very happy Christmas party gathered around the well-laden table of Dr. and Mrs. N. A. Fearonce. The party took on the color mostly of a family affair. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Steward, Mrs. Emily Chappell of Texarkana, Texas; Mrs. Alma Wilson, Forrester Ferrell, a sailor form Wilmington; Harry Harris, another sailor from San Pedro; Robert Foster, a member of the Navy from Fallbrook; V. G. Goree and, of course, the host and hostess, Dr. and Mrs. Fearonce.

Later in the day many friends came to pay respects and to have Christmas egg-nog. They were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse McIntyre, Mrs. Gladys Hunter, Mrs. Arzola Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hall, Miss Dovie Hopkins, Mr. Earl Leonard, M. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Franklin, and Mrs. Mabel Blackburn.

The Gay Side

By Bernice Cook

Listen to the song of our togetherness
Night, as soft as black velvet,
And wind moving muffled through the leaves,
And you and I—together.
Sun, brilliant dancer on the waves of the water,
And giant clouds rolling slowly across blue sky,
And you and I—together.

—Gordon B. Playman

Christmas has come and gone—and we look forward now to the New Year with hopeful hearts. What will the year 1945 bring? Much of it will be up to each individual heart. Let us resolve to see to it, personally, that our very best efforts, our very highest and noblest thoughts, are put into the spiritual fight now being launched by peace-loving men and women everywhere, for the dawn of a better day.

GAY XMAS PARTIES

Many small social gatherings at various homes marked the Xmas celebration this year. Xmas Eve eggnog parties were enjoyed by many friends in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Ray Grubbs of 190 East 48th Street, and Mr. and Mrs. Saul Jural in East 18th Street. A pre-Xmas celebration on Saturday afternoon was also enjoyed by the office staff, associate attorneys and their office staffs, and friends, of Attorney Walter Gordon, Jr., in his swank new offices at 41st and Central Avenue.

Attorney and Mrs. Crispus A. Wright, Vivian and Sollie Wilson, were a happy foursome at Shepp's Playhouse on Christmas Eve night. That same afternoon, Attorney Wright was guest speaker at Hamilton Methodist Church, 18th and Naomi Streets, of which Rev. S. M. Beane is minister. The occasion was a special Christmas program in honor of the servicemen.

VOGUE SOCIALITES ENTERTAIN AT CAFE SOCIETY

On Christmas morning, a unique Christmas Party was enjoyed by some eighty-five or ninety guests at the Cafe Society on San Pedro. The party was very informal, with dancing and cocktails and much gay chatter. Spotted among the crowd were Leon Washington, Jr., Christopher Jones, Dr. A. Thomas King, Diane Bidell, Doria Turner, Vernon Straight. The officers and lovely hostesses of the Vogue Socialites were President, Mildred Fegan; vice president, Hester Jones; business manager, Lena Burleson; secretary, Volue Foster, assistant secretary, Birdezell Bailey; treasurer, Tillie Bell; reporter, Clazelle Morris, and critic, Abbie Healy. A brightly decorated Xmas tree bore upon it many beautiful gifts for the club members and their guests. An enjoyable time was spent by all.

MISS HORNE HAILED ON TOUR

The popularity of the lovely Lena Horne seems to be ever on the increase. This, no doubt, is due to her very sweet, "down to earth" attitude and the way she has of making her friends feel at home with her. A letter from one of my WAC friends in Fort Knox, Kentucky, this week, was full of raves of Miss Horne's visit to their base, and how all the girls went wild with enthusiasm over her. Lena, say the girls, is "regular," and had endeared herself to every man and woman in the area. We must all admit that Miss Horne is doing a great job of helping to build the morale of our girls and boys in the service and so we say, "Orchids to you—Miss Horne."

ILLINOIS JACQUET FEATURED AT UPTOWN

On New Year's Eve night, the famous musician Illinois Jacquet and his Swing-club Orchestra will take over at Dr. C. W. Hill's Uptown ballroom at 55th and Central. All of the hepcats and hepchicks will want to be on hand for somereal, groovy music, and a good time is promised for all. Many enthusiastic crowds have been coming to the Uptown since its opening a few days ago, and it seems that the Uptown is sure to take its rightful place in the ecommunity. For an enjoyable evening of music and dancing, to some of the nation's best music, go to the Uptown New Year's Eve and listen to Illinois Jacquet and his band.

Expressing my appreciation for all the lovely Xmas greetings received from friends all over the world, and wishing for all the most prosperous New Year you have ever known, I am . . . Yours Truly . . . BC.

Testimonial To Ike Adams

A special committee, headed by John M. Lee of the California Eagle and Miss Dolores Anderson of the Youth Council, is busily engaged in working out the details of a testimonial for Ike Adams President of the Youth Council who is resigning because of the age limit under Adams Administration the council has enjoyed its most successful year from the standpoint of membership and finance.

Many of the community's most prominent leaders heartily endorse this move which is intended to serve as an inspiration to all young people interested in social uplift, interracial goodwill and understanding. Watch the next issue of the Eagle for names of the sponsoring committee, the date, place, and tentative program. All Council members are urged to meet at the 28th Street Y. M. C. A. Friday night, December 30th at 8 o'clock p.m.

Marine Private James E. Lewis, 20, son of Mrs. Pearlean E. Lewis, of 1024 North Durham Street, Baltimore, Md., probably has done as many sketches of officers and enlisted men overseas as any other Marine artist in the Pacific.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE—The DeGammo Charity Club mixed charity with pleasure recently when they held a dance at Joe Morris' newly-renovated Plantation Club in South Los Angeles. Notably an organization dedicated to the unselfish service of others, the DeGammo's had a profitable evening. Shown left to right are, Joe Morris, genial proprietor of the Plantation Club; Mrs. V. Wright, business manager of the DeGammos; Mrs. Margaret Car; Mrs. Bertha Reed, secretary; Mrs. W. H. Chambers, president; Mrs. M. Morgan, treasurer; Mrs. P. Vernice, and Mrs. Ilma Perkins, reporter.

Wilshire Lodge

Exactly one year ago on Dec. 19, "Mr. and Mrs. Wilshire Lodge" gave birth to a group of bouncing boys. Yes, December 19, 1943 was the occasion for the institution of the Wilshire Aleph Club of A. Z. A., beginning the first lap in creating an ever increasing Wilshire family, composed of the junior organizations of B'nai B'rith.

One year later on December 19, 1944, in commenoration of the first anniversary of the Wilshire Aleph Club, the chapter, together with the newest child of the Wilshire B'nai B'rith Girls, held a joint installation of officers.

The scene was enclosed by the gay atmosphere of the Allan Rudack Dance Studio; the girls, looking very lovely in their formals and the boys very "sheik" in their dark suits, made an impressive picture going through the ritualistic ceremony of installation.

Following the escort of the guest dignitaries into the room, the ceremony commenced with the opening ritual conducted by Bea Reiss, outgoing president of the Wilshire B. B. G. Regina Steier, President of Governing Conference of the B'nai B'rith Girls, District No. 4, and Jules L. Sampson, Southern Regional Director of District No. 4 of the A. Z. A., were introduced as the installing officers of the evening.

They in turn appointed as the installing marshals of the evening, Herb Glazer, Grand Aleph S'gan of A. Z. A. and Cecilia Ross, President of the Southern Conference of B. B. G. The officers were then duly installed. Jerry Josepsson, outgoing Alep Godol was presented with a PAG pin and Bea Reiss was presented with a past president's pin following the proceedings. A dance and refreshements followed.

Our heartiest congratulations to the newly elected and installed officers and our best wishes for good luck to them all. May they be a source of guidance and inspiration to the members of their respective chapters. Best of luck to you all.

California Servicemen Get Promotions and Conduct Awards

Relatives and friends of the boys listed here will be interested in knowing that they have been promoted in the army to the ranks set opposite their names. All are California boys.

We Take Our Bow Out and Make Our Salute to the New Year

Sixty-five years of working and fighting for the cause of the Negro is not a small job. Yet that has been the life's work of The California Eagle, and of all the readers and friends of The California Eagle.

And while we have not done all we would have liked to do, we are sure nevertheless we have done some good. We have made known to the community and to the world the fact that the Negro has deserved by his efforts a place in that community, and we have aroused in ourselves and in our friends the desire to be worthy of that place.

Now we are going to roll up our sleeves and go to work harder than ever in this New Year of 1945. There are many things we need to do, things we have already begun that need to be finished, and new aspirations, new hopes, new desires that need to be fostered.

Foremost among the new business on the agenda of the year 1945 is the education of the Negro people to recognize the necessity of our integration into the labor movement. The labor movement is our salvation. Through organized labor, CIO and AFL, we as an integral part of those organizations can face our enemies a thousand fold armed for the conflict. Alone we shall meet only defeat. United with our friends both white and black we shall go forward and win in this greatest battle of our time—a moral and spiritual battle that will tax all the moral, mental, and spiritual efforts of each and all welded together in an organization as one.

United, our first objective is to fight Jimcrowism in the army, the navy, in private industry, in the government, everywhere.

We must fight residential restrictions, which is a form of Jimcrowism. We fought valiantly during the past year. But our enemies, too, have been aroused and are on the alert, eager to catch us off our guard and trip us unawares. We shall have to watch.

We shall have to work and fight for full employment for every one, regardless of race, creed, color, or national origin. Here again we must unite with others for this privilege of American citizenship.

We must insist that our representatives in the United States Congress make the FEPC a permanent feature of our government. Our friends, the progressives of both political parties, have pledged themselves to vote and work for this desirable objective. We must encouraged them and insist that they keep their pledge.

A bigger and a better N.A.A.C.P. is one of the prime objects of 1945. More members, more interest, more of the giving of one self to the purpose of the N.A.A.C.P.

We shall work for the recognition of the worth of the Negro in all industrial and civic organizations. Our talents as Negroes are needed to make our city a better place in which to live. Our efforts are needed to curb crime, to lessen juvenile delinquency, to establish better housing conditions, to arouse the patriotism of the children in our schools and of our young people everywhere—to help every one realize the value of the four freedoms we are fighting for and the new world we are striving to create.

This in a small measure was our task in 1944. This in a greater measure shall be our task in 1945 — to continue the work we have already begun and to bring it nearer to fruition.

"WE RESOLVE TO STICK TO OUR JOB!"

The Negro Church Denounces Jim Crow

Calling attention to the Negro soldiers' heroic role in many war theatres, Dr. W. H. Jernagan of the Bureau, Fraternal Council of Negro Churches, voiced the sentiment of the Negro people all over the nation in a public statement last week.

The statement called attention to irritating prejudice and injustice continuing to subject Negro soldiers to narrow Jimcrow limitations and mistreatment in the army, the navy, and even in some of the government plants where instruments of war with which to defeat the enemy are being manufactured.

It is alarming to notice how systematically the Jimcrow pattern of the deep South has been adopted. Hitler and Nazi believers in the doctrine of master racism must take courage in the support they are getting from some of our army officials who encourage separation, not so much of races but of colors, skin colors in the army.

We know that our commander-in-chief in and outside of Continental United States has had cause for great embarrassment in our Post-war conscription campaign, based on the same untenable premise of Jim Crowism which is increasing the length of the war and adding to unrest and confusion in many conquered nations.

Too often we hear muttering about the spread of Communism in our nation and how it seeks to destroy our present form of government. It is not Communism that is the termite chewing at the foundation of our government. It is that element within the government who deny to some of the citizens the rights and privileges they themselves hold as their heritage.

Some American soldiers who are helping to administer the crushing blow to Hitler, realize that when the battle cry becomes a murmur, or a memory, and the homeward trek begins, they will be marching back to a reward of persecution—to their homeland, the home of Abraham Lincoln and Frederick Douglas, Lovejoy, and all of those who loved liberty better than life.

But they will know, too, that while Hitler has been defeated on one side of the world, his agents seek to establish him here.

We, however, are determined that we shall not have fought in vain.

We are fighting to conquer Nazism in Europe and America. We have abiding faith in Franklin Delano Roosevelt. We believe that his position as head of this nation at this time is God's decree, and that while the victory may be slow in coming we are nevertheless on the highway to that victory.

While there is no actual physical struggle in the United States, as of now, there is a seething battle against racial strife and bitterness that must be won completely. And this must be done before we sit down at the peace table

Worth Repeating

THE FRENCH-SOVIET PACT is praised by Walter Lippmann in his column, appearing in the New York Herald Tribune of Dec. 21, as a major contribution to the future peace of the world: The fact of the matter is that the main structure of a European settlement has now taken shape. It will be, as it was bound to be, an organization of Europe specifically directed to preventing a renewal of German aggression in the coming generation. This is the intent and substance of the Franco-Soviet pact. It is a firm agreement for at least 20 years by the two strongest immediate neighbors of Germany. The conclusion of this agreement will be followed soon by an agreement between Great Britain and France, by a settlement of the Polish question, and by the adherence of Belgium and the Netherlands, of Poland and Czechoslovakia, to this system of security.

Far from deploring this development, we should regard it as promising the fulfillment of our chief war aim in Europe, and as putting a solid foundation under the Dumbarton Oaks proposals.

Has anyone who is wringing his hands and beating his breast about these developments any better plan for winning the peace than one which enlists the principal nations of Europe as the primary guardians of German disarmament?

THE VAIN CRY FOR PEACE

By A. V. GOREE

The present season finds us celebrating the coming to this earth The Prince of Peace. It is a sad comment that it finds the world He came to save to the ways of peace, torn from end to end and crosswise with strife and the madness of war. At first glance it seems strange that this murderous madness can take place in spite of the fact man claims he is diligently seeking the peace the Son of God came to bring Considering, however, man's inhumanity to man, the hell we have on hand is not so strange after all. Where injustices are heaped by one nation or group upon another nation or group the cry for peace will always be in vain. One nation sets itself up over another nation or group to plunder its natural resources, to exploit the ignorance or helpless condition of its people, to make one group work hard so another group can live easy on the labor of the exploited people; they do all these things and more then expect peace; there can be no peace.

One group takes advantage of its superior numbers and material equipment to rob another group of its economic independence. Here in our own country the white man asks the black man to bend down to do the dirty work of the world while he dances on his bare and bleeding back, and expects him to be satisfied, but he isn't.

By arrogance and stupid vainity one race decides it is superior to another race or to all races and by brutality attempts to force his warped notion of superiority upon the race or races picked to impose upon. Crying for peace under such conditions is absurd and certainly vain.

There is one sure foundation for peace and only one,—it is JUSTICE. Accord to every nation and every people economic justice, political justice and social justice and wars will be over. If there is difficulty in determing just what justice is under any circumstances the problem can be easily solved by applying the golden rule. Incidentally, the Christ whose birth we are now celebrating laid down the following formula for peace: As ye would that men should do unto you do ye even so to them. Simple isn't it? But it works.

For instance what man would be satisfied to have another deny him the right to work and make a living for himself and family doing any honest work he knows how to do? Yet he will impose this kind of injustice on another and expects him to be tranquil about it. Is there any who would think he was getting a fair deal if he was called upon to pay taxes, bear arms and offer his life to maintain his government and to defend his country and then be denied a voice in that government and forced to live without the protection of that government. Many millions of Americans are called upon to do just that. In some sections they are called upon to pay a poll tax before they can vote and then by law or custom or both are pushed aside and not permitted to vote. These are the kind of things out of which war is made.

When men and nations reach the place they are willing to deal out to other men and other nations only that which they are willing to have dealt to themselves abiding peace will come to make its home among the people of the earth. When all men are accorded by their fellows justice in economic, matter, justice in political, justice in social matters, justice in all these matters as each would decide was such that he would be satisfied with for himself, cause for strife will be completely done away with and men will have found the great day of peace which they long have sought and mourned because they found it not.

Recy Taylor Committee Plans Determined Fight for Justice

NEW YORK, N. Y.—With the same sure, swift strokes that distinguished its actions at its first meeting at the Hotel Theresa, Nov. 25, to consider the case of Mrs. Recy Taylor, Negro, raped by six white youths in Alabama last Sept. 3, the provision committee formed then met again Wednesday night, this time to expand and to organize itself into a permanent body with a program.

Seventy-five persons, most of them delegates from the 37 trade union and other organizations represented there, voted unanimously to resolve the provisional group into the permanent Committee for Equal Justice for Mrs. Recy Taylor, with a working executive committee almost as large as the total attendance and a steering committee of five.

The meeting witnessed the unusual spectacle of delegates rising and nominating themselves for the executive committee, which had been designated, time after time, as the body which would do the "hard work." Their spontaneous action backed up their pointed retorts that "We expect to work" and "That's why we came here."

MEMBERS

The executive committee includes Margaret Baker, United Electrical Workers, District 4; Earl Conrad, PM; Jeannette Cohen, California Eagle; Thelma Dale, National Negro Congress; Ruth Bergman, Chatham Square Music School; Fritz Moorehead, Furniture Workers Union; Frederick Woods, Local 13, Marine and Shipbuilders Union; Glenda Sullivan, IL.D.; James Ford and Eugene Gordon, Daily Worker and Worker; Ruth Jett, Southern Negro Youth Congress; Clarina Michelson, Furniture Workers; Eric Strong, Shoe Workers; Sid Locker, Newark CIO; Helen Underhill, State, County and Municipal Workers; Winifred Norman, American Youth for Democracy; Mrs. Ada Jackson, Brooklyn Interracial Assembly; Morris Doswell, Local 65; Mrs. Oliver H. B. Smith, St. Phillips Church; Frances Williams, National Federation for Constitutional Liberties; John Lawrence, National Maritime Union; Rose Gaulden, Joint Committee of Nurses; Hulan Jack, New York State Assembly; Doxey Wilkerson, Peoples Voice; Samuel Neuburger, IL.D.

Dale, Ford, Gordon, Newburger, Michelson and Sullivan form the steering committee.

Miss Henrietta Buckmaster, author of Deep River, a novel of the pre-Civil War South, and the Rev. B. C. Robeson, pastor of the Mother AME Zion Church, were elected co-chairmen of the permanent committee. Assemblyman Jack, elected treasurer, took charge of the more than $300 collected at this meeting.

GORDON SPEAKS

Miss Buckmaster, introducing Eugene Gordon as the main speaker, said:

"The South suffers from a great many diseases, one of the most virulent being the Cult of the White Woman. This cult has been the basis of considerable lynch legislation. The effect has been the complete degradation of the Southern white woman's dignity. She is beginning to resent and to hate the crimes that are committed in her name."

Miss Buckmaster added that if the white woman suffers thus from this "cult," one could readily imagine the burden it places upon the Negro woman.

Gordon recounted his experiences as investigator for the committee and for the Daily Worker and The Worker in getting to see Mrs. Taylor and the witness of her abduction in Abeville. He related also some of the conversation he had with Gov. Chauncy Sparks of Alabama.

Answering a question whether increased pressure on Alabama authorities would endanger Mrs. Taylor, Gordon said that the greater the pressure—"which is a way of letting the Governor know that the eyes of the world were upon him"—the less likely that danger would befall Mrs. Taylor.

The committee plans to syncronize all its work in Mrs. Taylor's behalf with the Southern Conference for Human Welfare and with other progressive Southern bodies.

Looking Backward

By Rev. Archie Williams

Tell me, did you see the California Eagle's sheet,
Well, we'll say—some thirty-three years ago?
If you didn't . . . I did, and said it couldn't be beat . . .
Of course, that was then—not now, you know.

When I saw and read the Christmas issue of today,
And remembered the copy of Christmas years ago . . .
It did not appear that the Eagle was on its way,
Not to die, but like our fair city . . . to grow.

We are certainly proud of those who through the years,
Have toiled to make this one of our best . . .
Ke readers wish to offer three hearty cheers,
And may you ever keep pace with all the rest.

We looked to the Eagle in the past for information,
We look now though you've had many good and bad years,
Our desire is, that you will keep up its reputation . . .
And like Los Angeles itself . . . Grow! Grow! . . . Three cheers!

AS I SEE IT!

By Jeanette Cohen

This column is addressed primarily to Women—Negro Women, white women, Jewish women, Gentile Women—AMERICAN WOMEN take heed!

THERE IS WORK TO BE DONE IN THE NEW YEAR! THERE IS THE KIND OF WORK TO BE DONE THAT WILL BRING US THE KIND OF PEACE WE ARE ALL STRIVING FOR!

Mr. Eugene Gordon, reporter for the Daily Worker, delegated by the newly-formed Committee for Equal Justice for Mrs. Recy Taylor to investigate all the facts in the case of this American wife of an American Soldier who was raped by six white hoodlums in Abbeville, Ala., some three months ago, brought back his report this week. Mr. Gordon brought back the plea from Mrs. Taylor that every woman in these United States must hear—every woman must be ready to answer Mrs. Taylor when she cries:

"I HOPE AND TRUST GOD SOMETHING WILL BE DONE ABOUT IT. I CAN'T DO ANYTHING ABOUT IT."

I don't intend to leave the men out of this job to be done — I just know that since we women are carrying the main burden of the fight on the Home Front—and so far have been doing a wonderful job of it—if we will take up the fight against such brutality against Negro women in the South or anyelse—the men will fall right in line.

If Mrs. Recy Taylor was attacked and raped—it is an attack on all American Womanhood. That's why we must be in the forefront of this fight.

Women! Read again that heart-rending plea: "I HOPE AND TRUST GOD SOMETHING WILL BE DONE ABOUT IT. I CAN'T DO ANYTHING ABOUT IT." Read that again and again. Doesn't that make your blood boil in rage against such atrocities? Well it does mine too!

I don't have to go into the details of a case like this in the South. It has happened before —and Mr. Gordon told a conference at which 72 delegates from 37 different organizations prepared to fight this case, that he received first-hand reports of these same acts of brutality against Negro women happening very often in that same territory. BUT ARE WE GOING TO LET IT HAPPEN AGAIN?

Of course we have all heard or read about the Negro in the South who is mistreated. Some of us say: "It's no different in Los Angeles or New York." Some of us say: "To hell with the South, I'm out of it and don't care what happens anymore. There's going to be lynching and there's going to be raping of Negro women. What can I do about it."

If you have these thoughts in your mind, think again: Mrs. Recy Taylor prays: "I hope and trust God something will be done about it. I can't do anything about it." Mrs. Taylor looks to you for help!

Governor Chauncy Sparks and Attorney-General William N. McQueen of Alabama gave Mr. Gordon their word that the case of Mrs. Taylor will be dealt with according to "Alabama law." That's fine! We're not doubting their word! We only want to help them keep it!

I know that my conscience would not be clear on this eve of a new year, if I were to say to Mrs. Taylor: "That's your business, Sister." I can't believe that anyone who reads this column will pass over this case without some help.

There are many ways you can lend your support. It takes money to fight the case—even though there are lawyers in New York, members of the International Labor Defense willing to give their services to bring justice to Mrs. Taylor. I'm not saying "if you can spare it"—I'm saying "it is necessary" that you help. You may send your contribution to the Committee for Equal Justice for Mrs. Recy Taylor, c/o Assemblyman Hulan Jack, Treas., Room 204, 112 East 19th Street, New York, N. Y.

As your first New Year's resolution, pledge your support to Mrs. Recy Taylor. She is the wife of a Soldier—an American wearing the uniform of the United States Army—an American who may pay with his life before this war is over—so that we may be able to live in a country where even that little Democracy still exists that permits us to fight for Justice!

Write immediately to Gov. Sparks, State Capitol, Montgomery, Alabama! Write for the sake of Mrs. Taylor—for your own sake—and for the sake of unity and equal justice!

★ LABOR on the March

By JOHN M. LEE

NEW HORIZONS

Even as the forces of war gather to wreak greater destruction upon the already ravished lands of a world that seems to grow narrower and closer every day, we are privileged to witness the dawning of new horizons. The brotherhood of the men and women who work is today, more than ever, the strongest, most genuine joining of people to build a better world that has yet evolved out of the hopes and plans of men of broad and liberal mind. On February 6, every progressive labor organization in the world trade union conference in London. The AFL and John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers will not participate. William Green and Lewis are opposed to the conference for many asserted reasons, which, when added up, indicate that they are opposed to the CIO.

John M. Lee

There might have been a time when competition between labor organizations was a healthy condition, but if that time ever was, it most certainly is not now. Any organization that exists to thwart the purpose for which it avowedly stands, will not long endure the wrath of the awakened consciousness of the people. It cannot be repeated too often that the leadership of both the AFL and the Mine Workers is marked for judgment.

Were we to infer from the refusal of these two great labor organizations to meet and plan with their brother workers from other great nations of the world, that millions of American workers are opposed to global unity for post-war building, it would be a dark picture indeed. That, however is not the case. The rank and file of the AFL and the Mine Workers are as much a part of the coming conference, though they have not one delegate in attendance, as it is possible to be, for the decisions that are made will effect them as it will the millions of workers who are not members of any labor organization.

Regrettably, those who are at the head of both the AFL and the United Mine Workers have failed to keep pace with the changing tempo of the times. For their short-sightedness, a vast army of workers must endure a momentary setback. But that setback can be translated into gainful action if the members are willing to throw off the yoke of bitter, dominating leadership and assert themselves.

In the midst of war, we prepare for peace, but there cannot be an enduring peace until the men who work learn first, not to destroy their future, and secondly, not to destroy their brothers.

LIP SERVICE

Labor, more than any other force, will be effected by the return of the loyal Japanese-Americans and Nationals. The army has said that they may come back, and the Interior Department says they will come back with the full force of the courts behind them. That is as it should be. Mayor Bowron has a gloomy outlook to offer as his contribution to the picture. He thinks in terms of "Little Tokyo," and the displacement of many Negro families to make room for the former internees. He fears that there may be trouble—racial trouble, if the Japanese try to take over their property in that area.

Not many months ago, the Mayor, fearing for the health of the Negro families, in some instances crowded like cattle in uninhabitable relics, swooped down and moved dozens of families into more desireable quarters. He recognized then that housing was the problem; housing is also the problem today. Not skin colors or race. The Mayor's thoughts and words were not wisely selected. It is hoped that organized labor will show greater wisdom when it decides to speak out on this vital question.

Contrast the Mayor's statement on the returning Japanese with this from his Christmas message: . . . "we may yet strive to understand as Christ would have had us understand, that all men are indeed brothers."

ANOTHER MILESTONE

Standing on the threshold of a new year, we recognize those things which we ought not to have done, and we resolve to do those things which we ought to have done. We resolve strongly, and promptly forget. However, this years must be different. Most of us will have to resolve to go to the blood bank every ten weeks and make it stick, or we will face many years of deep regret.

FAITHFUL CENTRAL

I admonish the young ministers who have just entered into the pastorate and also those who are studying and preparing to enter. Now is the time to make the sacrifice and pay the price for such preparation. The people whom you are going to serve want information and explanation. The Apostle's advice to Timothy was this: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." To do this necessitates hard study, prolonged study, prayerfully and conscientiously. I appeal to you to know the Book, that is the bible, and be able to give the true exposition and interpretation of the scripture. Be sure that you know the doctrines.

I here give this wholesome advice; get a copy of Pendle's doctrine, and on the preparation and delivery of sermon by Paterson, a copy of Thealogy by Booth, also get the book on Pastorial Thealogy. You should know the pality of the Baptist Church. You must know your English, for it is the vehicle of thought. The present age is calling for a dynamic and symmetricle education, a balance education.

For such subjects named above, I am saying that our class will be available after New Years at 321 E. 36th St., in fact you can get all that you are able to master. The class will start Jan. 7, 1945 at 7 p.m.

RAISE $2,000

PEOPLES INDEPENDENT CHURCH

The People's Independent Church of Christ East 18th and Paloma, will continue its celebration of the Christmas season with the Music Department rendering two special services on Christmas eve, Sunday December 24.

Following the presentation of Handel's oratorio "The Messiah" by the Cathedral Choir in the sanctuary last Sunday, the regular Sunday morning broadcast "The Visitor," over Radio Station KFOX at 10:15 A.M., will consist of selected choruses from the oratorio "Messiah." The following will be included: And the glory of the Lord; Glory to God; O Thou that tellest good tidings of joy; For unto us a Child is born; and the Hallelujah Chorus.

The final Christmas service will be a candlelight service of carols Sunday evening, December 24th at 6:30 P.M., in which the Cathedral choir, Gospel choir, and the Choir of Youth will render in combined participation, a series of traditional Christmas Carols.

These programs will be under the direction of the Minister of Music, Albert McNeil, in cooperation with Fannie Evelyn Benjamin, efficient organist at the historic church.

The Music Department wishes to express to the community its most profuse appreciation for the enthusiastic response which was given to the rendition of the "Messiah" on last Sunday afternoon.

CHRISTMAS SPEAKER—The Rev. Charles M. Toney, field secretary of the Los Angeles District Association of the Western Baptist Convention, had charge of the services at the 2nd Baptist Church in Alhambra on Sunday, December 24. He spoke at the morning service from St. Luke 2:10. His subject was "A True Sign." The Rev. C. A. Miller is the pastor and Moderator of the L. A. Dist.

WADSWORTH

Sunday night a very unusually interesting soul satisfying service will be held at Wadsworth Seventh-day Adventist Church on Sunday night, Dec. 31. The world needs a Saviour, Who will it Be? There is one who is able. Hear about him from Evangelist Peterson. Both senior and junior choirs will sing and the sermon will be illustrated on the screen. The first report of a $25,000 post-war church fund will also be given. Come and worship with us on the last Sunday night in 1944. A thrilling motion picture will be part of the preliminary service beginning at 7:30.

Pilgrim Baptist

If you were not present at Pilgrim Sunday you really missed a treat. The children had a wonderful program at Sunday School.

Rev. Lewis delivered the morning message which was full of the spirit and was enjoyed by all. His text was found in the 11th chapter of Hebrews and the 1st verse, subject "Faith In God."

Sunday evening the Senior Choir presented the Masque "The Holy Night," which was wonderful. Christmas morning at 11 o'clock our beloved Pastor delivered the message subject "The World Needs a Saviour" Isa. 9th chapter, part of the 6th verse. He really spoke from the depths of his soul. 12 new members were added to the church, 2 for baptism.

We invite you to attend our services. Tuesday evening at 7:30, Bible Class; Wednesday evening, old fashion Prayer Meeting, 7:30; Thursday morning, 11 a.m. Mission meeting; Friday evening, 7:30, Teachers Meeting; Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, Sunday School; Morning service, 10:15; B. T. U., 5:15; Eveninv service, 6:30.

Tuesday evening The Gospel Choir will present THE SALLIE MARTIN SINGERS, come early to get a good seat. We will be looking for you January 2, 1945.

WE WISH EACH AND EVERY ONE A HAPPY PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR.

Pilgrim Baptist Church,
Rev. B. W. Wade, Pastor,

HEROIC CHAPLAIN—Chaplain (Captain) Thomas A. Jenkins of Charlotte, N. C., recipient of the Silver Star for gallantry in action with the Fifth Army in Italy, is in the United States on leave. Assigned to a Quartermaster truck group in Italy, Chaplain Jenkins' citation states that "In an area lit by brilliant flares, under heavy enemy fire and bombing, (he) administered to the dying, assisted in the evacuation of the wounded to points of safety and helped in the identification of the dead. Throughout the enemy bombing and strafing, his cool courage and disregard for his own safety . . . inspired the officers and men." U. S. Army Photo from BPR.)

"HAPPY NEW YEAR" From the Second Baptist Church

The EAGLE BIBLE QUESTION CORNER

Conducted by
The Sweet Chariot Hour Bible Correspondence School
Address All Questions to Eagle Question Corner 4075 S. Central Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

The CALIFORNIA EAGLE offers all its readers the choice of two Free Correspondence Courses of study in the Bible, with no fees collected and no postage charges made. The new introductory Course of 20 lessons, divided into two sections of 10 lessons each, has been prepared especially to meet the needs of those beginning for the first time the systematic study of the Bible. Also there is the standard course of 30 lessons which many of our readers have taken or are taking. The only text book needed for either of these courses is the Holy Bible. A Certificate is issued upon completion of either of these courses. When you write be sure to state which course you desire. Address a card or letter to the California Eagle.

Where can I find the verse, "When in Rome, do as the Romans do"?—Mrs. K. A.

You will not find that statement in the Bible. The original quotation seems to go back to St. Ambrose who gave the following advice to the younger St. Augustine: "When I am here (at Milan) I do not fast on Saturday; when I am at Rome, I fast on a Saturday." This has been variously quoted, until today it has been summed up, "In Rome do as the Romans do."

I get confused when I read about several of the feasts recorded in the Bible. What were the Feast of Tabernacles, Feast of Trumpets, the Passover Feast? —T. J., Oakland, Calif.

Amongt he ancient Israelites it was required that three times a year all males appear before Jehovah at the following feasts: Passover, Pentecost, Tabernacles. In addition to these required feasts there were eFast of Trumpers and the Day of Atonement. These feasts were instituted to keep God in the thought of the people. They also promoted national unity. These feasts serevd not only religious endsb ut also social.

The Passover Feast, also known as the eFast of Unleavened Bread, lasted seven days. It was observed as a memorial of the Exodus out of Egypt. While it bore witness to deliverance from Egyptian bondage, it pointed forward to the coming of the Great Deliverer.

Pentecost occurred fifty days after the Passover. It is sometimes called the Feast of Harvest, thanksgiving for the grain harvest, which was then completed. At this time the first-fruits of the harvest were presented to God. So this feast is also called the Feast of First-Fruits.. It commemorated the promulgation of the Law, which was given 50 days after the departure from Egypt. The Feast of Trumpets marked the beginning of the Civil year. Each new year was ushered in with trumpet blasts. The Jewish calendar had what is known as a Sacred year and a Civil year. The Sacred year began in the spring while the Civil year began in the fall. The first day of the seventh Sacred month marked the beginning of the first Civil month.

I just learned the ohter day that God's name is not mentioned in the entire book of Esther. I read the book through, and I do not find his name there. Can you explain this?—Mrs. L. M., Los Angeles.

It is true that the name of God is nowhere mentioned in the book of Esther. It is probable that this book was taken from the Persian records. Yet in no book will you find God's providential care for his people more evident.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christian Science" will be the subject of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. This declaration from II Peter is the Golden Text: "The prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost."

"Rise up, and stand forth in the midst," said Jesus to the man with the withered hand, according to a selection from Luke. The account continues, "And he arose and stood forth. Then said Jesus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it? And . . . he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other."

Mary Baker Eddy writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures:" "Christian Science is dawning upon a material age." "Many years ago the author made a spiritual discovery, the scientific evidence of which has accumulated to prove that the divine Mind produces in man health, harmony, and immortality."

"I would say that 98 per cent of Americans want to keep the capitalistic system. We have a long way to go."—Earl Browder, testifying as Communist leader.

HOLY LIGHT TEMPLE

Beautiful services were held throughout the day on Sunday, December 24, by the pastor, Rev. Chas. Burke. A high spiritual sermon, alternation was held at 8:00 P.M., officiated by Rev. M. Mitchell.

We wish to thank each and every one for his cooperation in the building drive.

The Temple of Holy Light thanks the California Eagle for its services throughout 1944, and wishes Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass luck, success, health and happiness on the occasion of the California Eagle's 65th Anniversary.

CARVER MEMORIAL

The minister of the Carver Memorial Zion Church extends a cordial invitation to the general public to worship at 11 a.m. Sunday morning. The minister has chosen for his subject "An Old Guide and a New Path." There will be special music by the Youth Choir.

There will be special candle light watch meeting services at 11 p.m. Come.—Paul M. Marshall, Minister.

Lockhart Native Passed Recently

LOCKHART, Texas — Mrs. Sophia Bloodworth, the daughter of the late Mrs. Betty Maynard, passed away here recently at the age of 87. The deceased had lived here all of her life time except for a few years which she spent with her daughter in San Antonio. She was a highly-respected and widely-loved citizen of the community.

Surviving are one daughter, three sons, nine grandchildren, five great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends who mourn her passing.

8th AND TOWNE CHURCH

At 10:30 P.M. Sunday, December 31st, a traditional Watch Night Service with opportunity for individual testimony and congregational singing, will begin. The Rev. H. M. Davis recently appointed Presiding Elder of the Los Angeles District of the Southern California Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, will preach the sermon. Dr. Davis comes to Los Angeles from the pastorate of Benton Avenue A.M.E. Church of Springfield Missouri, where he led the congregation in a successful mortgage paying campaign to remove an indebtedness of many years standing. The service will also feature Gospel Songs led by Mrs. Idella Hutcherson and Mrs. Mary Woodard of the J. E. Edwards Choir, under the direction of Miss Pauline Whitaker.

"THE SHADOW OF THE UNFINISHED"

In announcing the above subject for the sermon at First A.M.E. Church at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Frederick D. Jordan, suggested that the development of the message would include both personal and social issues of real significance. The famous Senior Choir, which under the direction of Miss Robert V. Edwards, is winning new laurels, is expecting to be its best, with the accomplishment and beloved soloist Miss Josephine Cooper as guest.

THE JORDANS "AT HOME"

Church will be "At Home" to the members and friends of the congregation at the beautiful church personage, 1277 West 25th Street, from 2 to 7 p.m. on New Year's Day. The parsonage is conveniently reached by the "A" car at 24th and Ellendale, the "U" car from 24th and Hoover and the "V" car from 24th and Vermont. Mrs. Fedora Prather, Chairman of the Committee on arrangements is being assisted by Mesdames Florence Carter, Gussie Bacon, Maggie Buckner, Cornelia Scott and Misses Alfred Jackson and Willie Mae Moore. The Clubs and Organizations of the church will furnish hostesses. In the receiving line will be pioneer members of the church including Mesdames Eliza Warner, Cora Fanner, Pearl Johnson, Amanda Jones, Minnie Bate, Emily P. Burnett, Emma Taylor, Messrs S. C. Johnson, William Bowers, H. F. Posey and others.

1st A.ME. Church

Sunday morning, December 17, the Rev. Jonathan A. Dames preached his farewell sermon in First A.M.E. Church of Pasadena and boarded the train for Detroit, Michigan, on the same day, where he has been appointed to the pastorate of historic Bethel Church where the late Dr. William H. Peck pastored for sixteen years.

The members, friends and ministers of the city regretted very much the leaving of the Rev. Mr. Dames. Never before have we witnessed such a beautiful demonstration of appreciation and affection as was shown Rev. and Mrs. Dames as when the entire congregation walked down to the altar and bade him goodbye and gave them a love offering of $325.00. We are praying for his continued success and hope the people in Detroit will realize the type of man they are getting for a pastor.

We predict for him that in years to come he will attain the highest office the A.M.E. Connection has to offer.—Emma Ratliff, reporter.

God has endowed man with inalienable rights, among which are self-government, reason, and conscience.

Dr. Charles Satchell Morris Installed As Pastor In Florida

With the commodious and beautiful basement of the historic 106-year-old Bethel Baptist Institutional church (mother parish among Negroes of Florida of any denomination) transformed into a veritable tropical garden of palms, ferns and the choicest flowers, the formal installation services extending over a period of nine days inducting the Rev. Charles Satchell Morris, II, into office at the seventh pastor of the magnificent church came to a dramatic close on Tuesday evening at one of the most pretentious and colorful banquets ever witnessed in Florida.

Dr. William H. Gray, Jr., president of the Florida A. and M. College, Tallahassee — and former student of Dr. Morris at Bluefield—was the toastmaster. The principal address was delivered by Dr. J. H. Jackson renowned pastor of the huge Olivet Baptist church, Chicago, Ill.

Dr. Morris himself preached the opening sermon in the installation series on Sunday, while on Monday night the Baptist Brotherhood was in charge.

Congratulatory messages were received by Dr. and Mrs. Morris from all over the country.

St. Paul Baptist

Sunday, December 24, was a great day in St. Paul Baptist Church, Rev. John L. Branham, preached in both the morning and evening services At the close of the Christmas sermon, in the evening service, the people were so filled with the fervor until they were on their tip-toes, so to speak, and kept shouting, preach on, Branham, preach on, he seemed to be charged with the Holy Ghost, and was at his best.

At the close of the sermon and other features of the service the church unanimously to forward $500.00 to the Foreign Mission Board, on behalf of starving and dieing Africa, this $500.00, however, is one half of the $1000.00 we are to pay for Foreign Missions this year.

The Last Sunday in this year promises to be one of the bigest days we've had during the year 1944, two services will be held at the same time, one in the Bible Temple and the other in the main auditorium. We are forced to use this method of service to accomodate the large crowds who now packing St. Paul Sunday to Sunday.

Rev. J. L. Branham and the Scientific choir will be in charge of the service in the Bible Temple, and the Rev. H. B. Charles and the Evangelistie Choir will be in charge of the services in the main auditorium and the preaching service will begin promptly at 11:00 a.m.

Last Wednesday evening, a new setup was inaugerated by Pastor Williams for the Bible Movement, which will consist of for the time being, two classes, with prescribed courses, one a class in Evangelism, will be taught by Rev. J. L. Branham, the other a class in Sociology, will be taught by Rev. H. B. Charles. The Movement will meet Wendesday evening at 7:30 o'clock for devotionals, then the classes will repair to their respective rooms for the study period, after which they will reassemble in the Bible Temple for a program period, after which Pastor Williams will bring a special bibical exposition. The Movement will close promptly at 9:30.

This invocation bids fair to be the greatest incentive we have realized for some time in increasing the attendance on the Wednesday evening Bible Movement.

S. W. Williams, Pastor.

Lonely Doctor Seeks a Mate

I am lonely and want to come out of the hospital but at this time have no place to go. I am looking for a lady friend who will appreciate what I have to offer. She must be Christian, brown skin or light, not oxer 40 years of age, weight not to exceed 150. Can see me at Veteran's Hospital in San Fernando, California, every day from 3:00 to 5:30 p. m. If interested would like to see yor photo. My income is around $250 monthly. I am dark brown skin, hair mingling gray, 49 years of age; 6 feet 2 inches tall and weigh 185. I am willing to make some one happy when I leave this world. She can have what I own if she is willing to make me happy. She must be clean and neat and some one who has not had much chance in life. I want to leave some one happy.

and the address will be given by Mrs. Roberta Walkins. Everybody is invited to attend, and take part in this SPECIAL service. Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Marion are now nicely and comfortably located in the Parsonage at 1217 Paloma St, and there Members and friends are welcome.

★ THE LETTER BOX

Editor, California Eagle,
Los Angeles, California
Dear Madame:

Just a short note to bring you Holiday Greetings and to thank you for your interest in us during the past year.

Sincerely,
Kathryn Wolf,

Dear Editor:

On December 11 we noted a press release on the number of Negroes serving in the U. S. Army. These figures were broken down to indicate the numbers in the various services of which 247 were nurses.

The National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses is deeply concerned lest the public misunderstand the reason for the small numbers of Negro nurses. We do not want the impression given that in a crisis and at a time when nursing service is vital to the needs of the military, the Negro nurse had failed her country. We believe it is necessary that we place the case of the Negro nurse before the public.

Although the assistant secretary of war, the Hon. Robert P. Patterson, has stated that there never has been any limitations in the admission of Negro nurses to the corps, we, however, have not found this to be the case. Negro nurses, as you see by the figures, are still being accepted in very small numbers and are still restricted primarily to the care of Negro troops and war prisoners. None have been accepted into the Navy.

At this time when we are continually hearing through the daily press and the radio of the urgent need for nurses in both the Army and Navy, it is difficult to understand these limitations.

A large number of civilian hospitals throughout the country, both public and private, are using Negro nurses satisfactorily. These nurses are caring for patients regardless of race, color, creed or national origin. If the need is as great as we are told, then the Army and Navy might well follow the example which has been set by these civilian hospitals.

Sincerely yours,
MABEL K. STAUPERS, R. N.

The New Year calls us to stiffen our courage for sterner measures, greater sacrifices and a more steadfast faith in a just God. The heroic progress of America's armed forces on all fronts cheers us to hope that war's ruthless destruction of human life and trial of men's souls soon will be ended.

May history's pages never again be smeared with the blood of innocents, at the mercy of conscienceless tyrants.

May America emerge from this torment of strife, stalwart, true and worthy, before God, to take its place as the first nation among all nations.

AME Zion Sequi-Centennial Scheduled to Begin Jan. 10

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 20. —Dr. A. Huntingdon Hatwood, business manager of the A.M.E. Zion Sesqui-Centennial Celebration, announced from Commission Headquarters here this week the banquet scheduled for January 10 in Knoxville, Tennessee, when more than 500 A.M.E. Zion leaders from all sections of the country will gather to launch the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Zion Methodist in 1946.

Led by the chairman, Bishop William Jacob Walls of Chicago, the Sesqui-Centennial Commission will inaugurate the committees apopinted to implement the many-sided program planned for each month in 1945 and to culminate at Mother Zion Church in New York City in August 1946.

The Knoxville banquet, which is to take place in Logan Temple, of which Dr. Solomon Snowden Seay is pastor, will bring together the bishops, general officers, leading ministers and laymen from every conference of the A.M.E. Zion Church in the continental United States. Goals will be stressed and objectives specified, which include the evangelization of 500,000 additional members and the raising of two million dollars to promote the commitments of the denomination in the areas of education, home missions and church extension and missions in the fatherland.

All the bishops of the Zion Church, besides Bishop Walls, chairman of the commission, Paris Arthur Wallace, Brooklyn, New York; Benjamin Garland Shaw, Birmingham, Alabama; John William Martin, Chicago, Illinois; Cameron Chesterfield Alleyne, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania; William Walter Matthews, Washington, D. C.; Elijah Lovett Madison, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; William Cornelius Brown, Los Angeles, California; William Walter Slade and Buford Franklin Gordon, Charlotte, North Carolina; Frank Wesley Alstork, Washington, D. C., and Edgar Benton Watson, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, are Executive Vice Presidents of the Sesqui-Centennial Commission clothed with full authority to carry out the provisions of the celebration in their respective areas of supervision.

Bishop Madison of Pittsburgh is Chairman of the important Ways and Means Committee. The Program Committee is headed by Dr. James W. Eichelberger of Chicago. Responsibility for the first objective of the celebration is lodged with the Committee on Evangelism whose chairman is Bishop Benjamin Garland Shaw of Birmingham. The Committee on Young People's Work is led by Dr. J. Van Catledge, Jr., of the Livingstone College faculty, Salisbury, North Carolina. Mrs. Andrades Lindsay Brown of Brooklyn, New York, heads the Committee on Pageants, which committee will play a large part in promoting the histrionic - visual educational program of the Celebration. The History and Literature Committee has for its chairman President Rufus Sarly Clement of Atlanta University. The Committeen on Philanthropy is headed by Dr. Victor Julius Tulane of the Howard University faculty, Washington, D. C. Bishop Paris Arthur Wallace of Brooklyn, New York, is in charge of the Committee on Departments, and Mrs. M. Anna Hauser, president of the powerful Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society is chairman of the Committee on Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Auxiliary. The Committee on Missions, which includes Home and Foreign Missions, is led by the veteran secretary of Foreign Missions, Dr. Hampton Thomas Medford of Washington, D. C.

A part of the program includes escuring a building for the permanent headquarters of the A.M.E. Zion Church; the committee charged with this responsibility is led by Bishop Cameron Chesterfield Alleyne of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Ola M. Martin of Chicago heads the Committee on Contests, the duties of which embrace the competitive phases of exhibits, personal and objective. And Dr. Stephen Gill Spottswood, minister of the denomination's National Church, is chairman of the Publicity Committee. Bishop Buford Franklin Gordon of Charlotte, North Carolina, is the Secretary of the Commission and Dr. Herbert Bell Shaw of Wilmington, North Carolina, Secretary of Home Missions, Relief and Pension Service, is its Treasurer.

These functioning committee chairmen and the personnel of their committees will gather at Knoxville January 10th to discuss the respective plans of the committees, to correlate their work and to engage the specific tasks of each committee member.

Ten-dollar plates will be the order of the day at the Knoxville banquet, and proceeds are calculated to finance the initial work of the Commission.

HARRY P. CLARK

A BRILLIANT ACHIEVEMENT RECORD—Mr. Harry P. Clark showed early signs of genius by graduating from Central elementary school, Marshal, Texas, one year earlier than the prescribed time.

In 1921, in competition with some 200 students of the Music Department of Tuskegee, he won the Leo Strassberg prize for instrumental music; graduating from the commercial and literary departments the same year.

In 1923 in competition with some 150 students of the music department of Bishop College, Marshall, Texas, Mr. Clark was publicly proclaimed by Prof. John Talsott as the most talented student of the Music Department. He graduated from the Music Department in 1924 and the succeeding two years served as instructor; received his B.S. degree in 1926; his M.A. from Columbia University, New York City, in 1932. Mr. Clark has credits toward the Ph.D. from the University of Chicago and New York University.

After serving as a High School profeessor for two years, Mr. Clark was Professor of Philosophy and Social Science at Leland College, Baton Rouge, Louisiana. At two different intervals was on the faculty at Prairie View College.

Mr. Clark is a former member of the U.B.F.; the Knifts of Pythias and a third degree Mason.

He also served as substitute teacher in the public school system of Los Angeles. Teaching at the Lafayette Junior and the Polytechnic High.

At present he conducts a music studio at 2201 Compton avenue, and is also connected with the Gray Conservatory of Music.

Fined $2,000

A $2,000 fine was assessed against Martin Spellman, of 3340 Florence avenue, Los Angeles, Calif., service station operator, in U. S. District Court today for illegal possession and transfer of counterfeit gasoline coupons.

Judge Ben Harrison, who set the fine, also sentenced Spellman to serve six months in jail o neach of three other criminal information counts. The jail sentences were suspended. Spellman was convicted of having disposed of counterfeit gasoline coupons totaling several thousand gallons at 10 cents per gallon.

Four of the eight counts against Spellman, originally filed by OPA enforcement attorney Willam U. Handy, were dismissed.

Head Put on Wine by OPA

Uniform ceiling prices on California wines, which in many cases will roll back retail prices now being charged, were set in an OPA price order issued today, effective December 21.

Typical maximum prices announced by Leonard M. Kearns, OPA food price chief, are: Red table wine, 73 cents per one-fifth gallon bottle; white table wine, 78 cents, and sweet or dessert wine, $1.05 per fifth bottle. State sales tax may be added.

These prices, Kearns said, are based on an average $90 per ton price for California wine grapes. Recently wine grapes, which are not under price ceilings, have sold as high as $140 per ton.

Vintners who bottle special vintages or wine blends have 30 days time, under today's order, to file applications for permission to continue charging higher prices for high quality wines.

Prices set under the new order will bring retail prices in line with those charged in 1942, with allowance made for tax increases since that date, Kearns said. The new order also set ceilings for neutral brandy and neutral spirits made from grapes and for kosher or sacramental wines.

Promoted

Chaplain Rufus A. Cooper of the 513 Port Bn. in France, has been promoted to the rank of Captain. Chaplain Cooper is a former pastor of Logan Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church of San Diego, Calif. His wife, Mrs. Margaret Cooper, resides in San Diego, Calif. Chaplain Cooper came to San Diego seven years ago from San Mateo, Calif., and attended the State College at San Diego.

Capt. Rufus Cooper

Cooper loved the church and the people whom he served. He was never too busy or too tired to help his people whom he loved and served, but he felt a greater need for his services in the armed ofrces. Therefore he resigned from the pastorate at Logan Chapel A.M.E. Zion Church and volunteered his services to the United States Army. As Chaplain Cooper goes, our earnest and sincere prayers go with him.

FIJIAN GETS HIGH AWARD

LONDON, England.—The first Victoria Cross to be won in this war by a non-European soldier, and the first to be won by a non-white colonial, has been awarded posthumously to a Fijian corporal who deliberately sacrificed his life to save his comrades in action on Bougainville, Solomon Islands, according to the London Gazette of recent date.

He was Sefanaia Sukanaivalu, of the Third Battalion of the Fiji Infantry Regiment. His surname with tragic irony, means "Returned From the War," for he was born in 1919 when men of the Fiji Labor Corps returned after serving in the last war in France and Italy.

The Fiji Military Forces, composed solely of volunteers from the British Fiji Islands, have many times before won high praise for their gallantry and skill. The American forces, with whom they are now fighting, have paid tribute to them on many occasions.

City Council Goes Into Reverse In Considering Redistricting

By V. G. Goree

Los Angeles—In a stormy session of the city council Thursday of last week a vote was passed to restore seven precincts running along the north side of Adams street to the 7th district. These voting precints are largely populated by Negroes and they are desired to be held in the seventh district because they will give the Negroes a voting strength which will some day permit them to elect one of their own race to represent them in the city council and possibly give California a colored congressman to join the other colored congressmen from New York and Chicago in the national capitol.

Just the day before the council had voted to put these seven precincts in the 10th district, thereby so dividing the Negro vote as to render them powerless to elect a representative of their own. When they did so they were charged with violating a promise made to a number of Negroes the day before. The vote taken Thursday reversed the council's action taken Wednesday and was favorable to the Negroes. The fact is no one is trying to hide the purposes of the Negro leaders who make it plain they want a Negro to represent them. It is greatly in our favor that most all if not all of the members of the council are broad enough to admit the justice and appropriateness of this desire on the part of the Negroes.

Before a vote was taken on the matter of redistricting on motion of Councilman Allen 20 minutes were given to hear from a delegation of Negroes. B. B. Bratton made the protest, also among those present were Rev. Clayton Russell, Leon Washington, V. G. Goree.

Councilman Rassmussen made bitter charges against Councilman Bennett over the matter and of course Councilman returned in kind. Rassmussen also made an attack on the Negro press and predicted they were going to score him for the speech he was then making. The speech was to the effect that he favored having a Negro represent Negroes provided a new district is created in which there would only be Negroes living; he indicated he was not favorable to a Negro representing the seventh district now represented by him, for the reason the district has a large number of whites residing in it, and while he thinks it is quite alright to have a white man represent Negroes he thinks it is not alright to have a colored person represent white citizens; in so many words he said "turnabout" was not a fair game in this case.

When it came time to adopt the whole plan of redistricting the city the 13 aldermen present voted 12 to adopt and one dissented. By questioning some of the councilmen we learned that this will have the effect of keeping this matter open for another week. So taking for granted the old say "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" is true, the Negroes will have to maintain their daily lobby about the city hall until the question has come to a final vote. Probably due to the holidays the council failed to muster a quorum Tuesday of the present week.

INCOME TAX COURSE

A course in Income Tax, consisting of ten metings on Tuesday evenings from 6 to 9 o'clock, will open on January 2 at Metropolitan Evening School of Business, 234 Venice Boulevard (corner of Olive Street).

The class is open to all adults interested in the current tax law and procedure to be fololwed in completing income tax returns.

It's Sgt. Now

CAMP LEE, Va.—Alfred R. Green of 2215 South Harvard Boulevard, Los Angeles, California, has been promoted from corporal to sergeant at the Army Service Forces Training Center, Camp Lee. He is a member of Headquarters Detachment of the ASFTC on duty as a theory instructor in the Service and Salvage Schools.

Prior to his induction into the Army on December 21, 1943, Sgt. Grene was employed as a clerk at the U. S. Post Office in Los Angeles. He was educated at the University of California at Los Angeles and is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

Sgt. Green is a son of Mrs. Georgia Green Smith, 612 East 28th Street, Los Angeles. His wife, the former Miss Senola Dolly Maxwell of Los Angeles, resides at the South Harvard Boulevard address.

At Camp Lee, Sgt. Green is part of the training force which is turning out thousands of soldiers skilled in many fields of technical specialization for duty in the vast service and supply network of the Quartermaster Corps.

Marine Injured Reach Frisco

First casualties of the U. S. Merchant Marine, wounded in the Philippines invasion, have reached San Francisco, bringing tales of active participation in the fighting by the civilian crews, the War Shipping Administration announced today.

A convoy of Liberty ships, bearing troops and invasion supplies, steamed into the harbor as dawn broke on invasion day and was subjected to such heavy enemy fire from the beaches, where our troops weer just getting a foothold, that very little unloading was possible until nightfall, according to two injured crewmen of a C-1 ship which sailed from San Francisco in August and was one of the first to reach the beachhead.

Japanese planes attacked continually, day and night, aiming directly at the merchant ships massing along the beaches, keeping the merchant seamen so continually at their guns for eight days they weer unable to help in unloading their cargoes, reported Walter A. Lowe, Junior Engineer, whose home is 2230 Spring Street, Paso Robles, California, and who is now undergoing treatment at the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco for shrapnel wounds. Injured on his first trip with the Merchant Marine, Robert Wilson, colored member of the ship's steward department, age 28, born in Los Angeles, where his wife and child live at 2803 Trinity Street, is also hospitalized with shrapnel wounds and a nearly severed hand, received when a low-flying Japanese plane fired a shell completely through the ship. Many holes were blown in the ship, above the water line, by shore mortar fire and bombs from Jap planes, the injured men declared. Jap planes were thick over the merchant ships and many planes were shot down by merchant seamen and Navy gun crews.

Two crew members of a Merchant Marine Liberty ship, which sailed from San Francisco in June, are also hospitalized for shrapnel wounds. Roy P. Coster, 19, able-bodied seaman, whose address is Route 2, Petaluma, California, and Claude E. Jones, Radio Operator, 686 Catherine St., Atlanta, Georgia, were knocked out of action by shrapnel bursting on the deck. Coster was on a deck gun when the Jap plane strafed the deck and he got in seven hits, deflecting the plane and averting a suicide crash drive, before he fell from his wounds. Shells tore holes in the Liberty and burst in the hatches during unloading. A number of merchant seamen were injured and treated at battlefield hospitals. The merchant crewmen were enthusiastic in their praise of the medical care aboard the hospital ship on which they were evacuated, although they all ruefully remember some bad hours as the big ship full of wounded men was tossed about in a typhoon.

9 Months for Chee On Song

Nine months in the county jail was the sentence handed down to Chee On Song, owner of Chee Appliances, 2925 South Vermont Avenue, Los Angeles, today in U. S. District Court for OPA ceiling price violations outlined in two criminal information counts.

The stiff penalty ordered by Judge Ben Harrison followed a warning from Assistant U. S. Attorney Ray Kinnison that the public mus be protected against black market operations even if criminal information counts must be filed against all violators. Kennison presented the case in court.

The Chinese was convicted of having sold defective household equipment at exhorbitant prices with full knowledge that the machines would not work, according to the complaints filed against him by OPA enforcement attorney William U. Handy.

Urban Decay Is Discussed

NEW YORK, N.Y. — Should municipalities be given greater power to plan and initiate redevelopment schemes? Is that the best way to combat urban decay —which some pessimists predict may lead to the decentralization of large cities?

These questions are posed in a discussion of proposed urban redevelopment legislation in California in the current issue of TOMORROW'S TOWN, publication of the National Committee on Housing, of which Mrs. Samuel I. Rosenman is chairman.

Pointing out that the spread of city blight has meant expanding slums, huge loss of property values and decreased revenue for

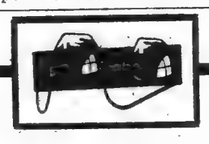
Hollywood Writers Pledge Aid To Workers In French Industry

A pledge of cooperation from the Hollywood film workers to the men and women of the French motion picture industry was formally extended last night at a meeting sponsored by the Hollywood Writers Mobilization and the Hollywood Council of Guilds and Unions to welcome Pierre Blancher, President of the French Committee of Liberation for motion pictures.

Individual unions and guilds presented messages of greeting to Blancher and through him to the French film workers who carried on through the Nazi occupation of France and who made a documentary film record of the occupation.

At the meeting, which was held at the Marquis theater, the uncut version of the film showing the liberation of Paris and the events leading up to it was shown.

Speakers included Charles Boyer, Pierre Blanchar, Vladimar Pozner and Simon Schiffrin. Emmet Lavery, Chairman of the Hollywood Writers Mobilization and President of the Screen Writers Guild, presided.



Kingsley To Speak

Harold M. Kingsley, eminent Negro leader who was brought to Los Angeles to direct the community center in the district formerly known as Little Tokyo, will be the principal speaker at the forum meeting of the Sunday Evening Club on December 31 at 8:15 p.m. He will speak on "The Negro Problem in Los Angeles" and the lecture, held in the First Congregational Church, Sixth and Commonwealth streets, is open to the public without admission charge.

Kingsley has served as a member of the inter-racial commission of the Federal Council of Churches and of the Illinois Inter-racial Commission which prepared a special report on the Detroit race riot.

Under his direction, Pilgrim House has in force a liberal social community program including a forum for inter-racial contacts.

★★ CANDID COMMENTS ★★

(Sec. Melrose Pinch Hits for GIP)

Gipsonette

They find fault with the editor
The stuff we print is rot
The paper is as peppy
As a cemetery lot.
The rag shows rotten management
The jokes, they say are stale
The lower folks they holler,
The upper folks they wail.
But when the paper's issued
(We say it with a smile)
If someone doesn't get one
You can hear his yell a mile.

SCANNIN' THE NEWS TICKER TAPE

Well, folks, the Gip has asked me to pinch hit for him this week sorta unexpectedly. That guy has a mind like a railroad timetable, subject to change without notice, but then, the Gip kinda knows he can always depend on his faithful Sec-Melrose. . . So Xmas is over and yet we can still find the gayety of the Christmas spirit in the air. . . . Caught glimpses of many of the brown skin lovelies strolling down the stem in those Fisher-body dresses—with those hour-glass figures—ow!!! But sportsman J. B. Brown says that every day is Xmas with him and as he strolled into one of the lounges a group of pretties were overheard saying "My gawd, isn't he wonderful?" . . . Now at the reopening of the Club Plantation, which has been closed due to alterations, is Lucky Millinder with an all-star show . . . you can usually judge a good show by the attendance recorded nitely and so far the show has been well attended, along with Lucky Millinder and band is (of course) T. Bone Walker, Snooky Marsh, The Two Shades of Tan and that "terrific" comedy team, "Pot, Pan and Skillet. ' ' ' She's found a new love "says Bettie Jean George" and he's tall, dark and handsome. . . . Wedding bells chirped Sunday last for a coupla swell kinds, Doris Jackson and David Dupree. . . . Well, well, could be a new twosome Barry Baines and lovely starlet Louise (Bo) Franklin. . . . I must say friend Ernest Forest really has a taste for beauty, took note of him with a "brand new doll" Hm-mmm not bad at all!! . . . She oughta be in pitchas. . . .

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE

Grant never took Richmond like the King Cole Trio are taking the eastern states. . . . The trio dips their instruments in rhythm and walk away with all honors in their one-nitely appearances. What makes this trio different from any other of the present-day crop of trios, is the fact they dish out torrid tempos in a swing vein; they play gut-bucket jazz; they play it sweet, hot or anyway the customer calls for and then there's the singing of Nat Cole, which alone is worth shouting about. . . . The trio is tops in their field and their field is swing! . . . The Eleven and One Club has reorganized and now have several new members. . . . Gladys (baby-face's spouse) was feted with a surprise birthday party by the club Tues. last. . . . Lloyd Reese, that well-known, well-like ex-musicion who was with Les Hite for a number of years, has established quite a name for himself as a music instrutor, now coaching many of the local musicians ond according to all reports he's good too. . . . We promised a lovely debutante we wouldn't publish the news of her secret marriage to a man-about-town, but wasn't it listed in "Intentions to wed" col'm the other evng? . . . May I give you a one-word comment on Frank Sinatra's singing? "Pew." . . . Sorry to hear that it won't be a baby in the Hattie McDaniels home; it was a misconception. . . . I would like my readers, friends, etc., to know I received the many Xmas cards and thanks loads. . . . Snappy Comeback—Coming out of the barber shop with his hair freshly "gassed," a corner-lounger said to Boyd Pinkston: "A fly would light on your head and break its neck." . . . "Fly ain't got no business up there!" was the retort wonderful. . . .

NOTES FROM A NEWSBOY'S NOTEBOOK!

Giving credit where credit is due, the ole lid is doffed to Curtis Mosbey on the fine appearance of the "Last Word." It can really be described as "swanky" in the true sense of the word (Hollywood ain't got nothin' on this place) also some very fine entertainment with the "Flennoy Trio" and their snappy ditties. . . . A coupla "kept" chorines will be cut from their "sugar daddy's" pay rolls. They're talking too much in the nite spots. One of the alleged "suckers" is a famed medico. His name for the usual reasons will be withheld (you're welcome, Doc!) . . . Florence Elliot has a smile as contagious as a yawn. . . . Will Leonard McClain, the bailsbondman, contact this column, please. . . . If that handsome Military Policeman doesn't refrain from molesting shapely femme passersby (in the vicinity of Vernon and Central) we'll expose his name to his superiors. A girl complained and turned his name over to this column. This is our first and only warning. If he isn't lucky enough to see this warning here his goose (as the saying goes) will be cooked. . . . From all reports the all-Amer. band under the direction of Bardu Alli now at the Lincoln theater is really something to hear. . . . Quite a hushed-up rumpus in one of the early ayem spots the other two in the morning. A prizefighter slugged a dope for making risgay remarks to a lady. . . . The cute little doll Ruth Shelton was telling us "If you wish to lower yourself in a person's favor, one good way is to tell his story over again the way you heard it. . . . Well, this brings us to a close for now and I'm gonna join in with the GIP and also wish to you, our faithful readers, a new year that's chock full of HEALTH, PROSPERITY and HAPPINESS.

Count Basie Ends Engagement In Hotel Lincoln Blue Room

NEW YORK—In one of the most auspicious musical events of the year, Count Basie, the "Jump King of Swing," opened an eight yeek engagement last Wednsday (Dec. 20) in the Blue Room of Maria Kramer's Hotel Lincoln.

Despite the fact that there were three other openings at Manhattan smart sports in competition, Basie drew an overflow crowd in to the Blue Room to eclipse the opening night record he established last April.

The Count will have a total of eight broadcasts weekly via the coast-to-coast CBS and MUTUAL networks from the Lincoln in addition to nightly local broadcasts via New York's WINS outlet. The "Jump King" was featured on the CBS Mildred Bailey show Friday night (Dec. 22) and will soon begin a series of guest shots on the Kate Smith Hour.

Rudolph Dunbar A Sensation in Liberated Paris

By Verna Arvey

(Calvin's News Service... Programs and newspaper clippings have just reached the United States concerning the sensation caused by Rudolph Dunbar, famous Negro journalist and musician, when he conducted the Pasdeloup Symphony Orchestra in the Salle Gaveau in liberated Paris on November 19th of this year. The house was completely sold out, the French musicians agreed unanimously that the whole performance was unique in the musical history of Paris, and the "Afro American Symphony" by William Grant Still, which was featured on the program, drew shouts of approbation and vigorous stamps from the enthusiastic French audience. Even the men in the orchestra, which played magnificently, cheered lustily after they had finished playing the work. The other compositions of Dunbar's program were Lalo's "Symphonie Espagnole" and Dvorak's Symphony, "From the New World."

Band Duel New Year's Day With 8 Hours of Dancing

Illinois Jacquet Band to Play Here New Year's Night

★ SEEIN' STARS— ★

By Dolores Calvin

NEW YORK CITY (Calvin's News Service)—WHAT'S WRONG WITH OUR COMEDY? Last week at the Apollo Theatre, on the Eddie Heywood bill, three comedians gave a pitiful performance which they, and a few dull-witted Harlemites, thought hilariously funny. . . . The comedians were Joe Eryd and Tiny Dixon. . . . The straight man—Al Wilson. . . . They play the Apollo often. . . . Comedy is good as long as the audience gets a laugh but when it becomes embarrassing and disgusting for the race, it's funny no longer. . . . We were amazed that those Negro comedians, dressed up in blackface, would stoop to such low gags to pack 'em in; we would've rather they had been left out entirely. . . . The story consisted of two friends, really bums, on the street corner trying to be thrown in jail so they could eat and sleep for the night. . . . Each thing they tried, breaknig windows, turning in a false alarm, the policeman (Al Wilson) passed them up. . . . When they molested a woman, the cop actually kicked her on the stage! What a blow to decent women in the audience. . . . And if that wasn't enough, the skit changed from lousy to impossible. . . .

Finding their material at loose ends, they resorted to one of the lowest forms of comical writing. . . . The policeman did one of those "girlie stunts," waved a handkerchief over one in blackface and they tripped off together, shaking hips and calling boys in high-ptiched voices. The third dangled the hanky in front of himself and skipped off after the "girls"! . . . All this was so ridiculous and shameful in front of a packed house with both white and colored looking on. . . . Comedy can be good, clean fun. . . . But what's wrong with OUR comedy? Plenty—and we can start the New Year right by mopping up vulgar gags right now in every city, town or country—wherever we find them. . . .

THE ROVING REPORTER: Lionel Hampton at the Strand with new gold plated $3,500 vibraharp. . . . George Hirliman may produce "Paradise Road" with all-Negro cast. . . . Dean Dixon and his American Youth Orchestra were pleased with rave notices. . . . Mary Lou Williams featured in a NY Post profile. . . . Eddie Heywood and his knockout arrangement of "Begin the Beguine"—a real song find of 1944, at Loew's State. . . . Earl Wilson says Bill Robinson danced at bank when teller wanted identification to cash his Zanzibar weekly check in four figures. . . . Wilson (NY Post) adds Bill left "looking for a crap game" . . . Katherine Dunham and Muriel Rahn in town. . . . Miss Rhapsody, famed blues songstress, will break out with a southern tour in February. . . . Watch young, shy Mabel Fairbanks who promises to be a 1945 star as first Negro ice skater to break the ice and racial lines in her profession!

We Welcome Waffles

By Frances Lee Barton

WE all wisely welcome waffles whether served at morn or night.

Hot or cold, it makes no diff'rence, Well-made waffles are all right. Try the recipe below, fair lady When in "blackouts" these are "light".

Crisp Waffles

2 cups sifted cake flour; 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; ½ teaspoon salt; 2 egg yolks, well beaten; 1 cup milk; ½ cup melted butter or other shortening; 2 egg whites.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Combine egg yolks, milk, and butter; add to flour, beating until smooth. Beat egg whites until they will hold up in moist peaks. Stir quickly but thoroughly into batter. Bake in hot waffle iron. Makes four 4-section waffles.

Crisp Cheese Waffles. Add 1 cup grated American cheese before adding egg whites in above recipe.

To Organize National Negro Florist Service

By Gladys P. Graham

NEW YORK (Calvin's News Service)—Jess Howard and Harvey Ford, co-owners of the Amsterdam Florist, one of the largest Negro-owned flower shops in Harlem, reported this week that plans are underway by their firm to establish a national "flowers to all the world by wire service," for the use of Negro florists everywhere, in order to fulfill promptly orders from civilians and service men.

According to the shop owners, as far as they have been able to ascertain, Negroes are not admitted to membership in the Florist Telegraph Delivery Association (FDT) which telegraphs through the members of its association flowers to customers anywhere. This works an unusual hardship they said on race firms, and their business is compelled to suffer from the point of contact and organization.

Ford and Howard have decided to do something to alleviate this condition and are making plans, along with members of their committee, to take care of Negro florists, and to enable them to telegraph orders for cut flowers and floral pieces through for delivery. They have requested that all florists interested in the plan, write them at 2003 Amsterdam Ave. This is another step on the part of alert leaders to break down racial discrimination and to give service to the masses.

ILLINOIS JACQUET, above, will bring his famous Hollywood Swing Club Orchestra into the new UPTOWN BALLROOM, 10603 East 55th street, for his first appearance on the east side, New Year's night from 9 p. m. until early morning.

Harmonaires Give Concert

The "Harmonaires," a group of 13 Negro singers from the Curtiss-Wright Corporation's Columbus (Ohio) plant, were in Washington, D. C., over the week end entertaining members of the armed forces. They sang for the wounded soldiers at the Walter Reed Hospital Friday afternoon; gave a radio broadcast Saturday morning, and appeared before audiences at Forest Glenn Hospital and the National Press Club in the afternoon. Saturday night, they were featured on the Curtiss-Wright night program at the Stage Door Canteen.

War workers in six different departments of the plant that builds the Curtiss Helldiver bomber for the U. S. Navy by day, these singers have spent their spare time during the last three years perfecting one of the most popular and expert singing groups in Columbus.

Exponents of spirituals and syncopation, they have made more than 200 appearances since they were organized. They have sung for Curtiss-Wright events, religious and civic groups, campaigns for War Chests, the Red Cross and War Bonds. They give a regular Sunday evening broadcast over Station WHKC in Columbus, and have made a national broadcast for the War Man power Commission. On March 26, 1944, they received a citation from the Music War Council of America for "their inspiring use of music to aid the national war effort."

At the Curtiss-Wright plant there are several good singing groups, but whenever the Harmonaires appear, they steal the show; no other singers are greeted by the Helldiver builders with as much applause and honest enthusiasm, plant officials report.

The three organizers of the Harmonaires, who were among the first Negroes hired at the Columbus plant, had this purpose in mind when they started to form a quartet in November, 1941. They hoped, they say, to establish themselves as a credit to "their race, their community and to Curtiss-Wright." George A. Boswell and Fugate Foster Page had come from Pittsburgh, where they had sung with local fraternal organizations. Lawrence McGhee had ben at Wilberforce University in Ohio. For their fourth member, they picked Walter H. Willis, Columbus bass singer.

Later they added others: David Newlin, tenor; Edward Richey, 280-pound "sweet tenor"; J. Calvin Ward, bass; and J. Leroy Bowen, who had been featured with the Cotton Top Quartet. For director, they enlisted Raglan R. Reid, graduate of Wilberforce and the Ohio State University School of Law. At Wilberforce he had been in the school quartet, whose other three members later became the famous Southernaires, heard weekly on national radio hookups.

The last to join the group were Harris Steel, bass; Ray Redman, tenor; Charles Rickman, tenor, and Harold (Hum) Clark, pianist.

To Be Featured on Bandstand Of the New Uptown Ballroom

In keeping with a poliey of presenting outstanding name attractions, the new Uptown Ballroom, 1063 East 55th Street (corner 55th and Central Ave.) will feature Illinois Jacquet and his Hollywood Swing Club orchestra New Year's night from 9 o'clock until late, their first appearance on the eastside.

Former Lionel Hampton and Cab Calloway band ace, Jacquet is considered one of the nation's top ranking tenor sax men. His torrid recording of "Flying' Home" with Hampton's aggregation netted better than 100,000 sales and became a juke box favorite. He has also been the featured artist on Philharmonic and jazz concerts and network radio shows.

Co-featured with Jacquet in the band is lovely Alice Lindsay, vocalist and Russell, his brother who blows a red hot trumpet. Miss Lindsay, a newcomer to the coast, came west as a mempearance marks their first showber of Hampton's band and decided to remain.

Organized less than a year ago, the sensational rise of Jacquet's orchestra has been nothing short of Phenomenal.

During their twelve weeks stay at the Swing Club, they have smashed every known house record for attendance. Movie stars and celebs galore are among those who crowd the place nightly to enjoy the combo.

Under the directorshop of Dr. C. W. Hill, prominent businessman, the newly opened ballroom bids fair to fill a community need for clean and wholesome entertainment. Non-alcoholic beverages and refreshments are available at reasonable prices. Perfect order is maintained at all times. Servicemen are particularly welcome.

Nash Singers in Program for G.I.'s

The Nash Singers, under the direction of Mrs. Luvenia Nash, spent Christmas eve singing for the soldiers in the Red Cross hospital in Torrance. The first part of the program consisted of carols sung in the auditorium; the singers then visited the wards with their songs for the benefit of those who were unable to leave their beds.

Returning then to the auditorium, Christmas stockings filled with goodies were given to the soldiers and singers. The second part of the program consisted of more carols, spirituals, and ended with the popular Hallelujah Chorus. On returning to Los Angeles the group enjoyed their own Christmas party, where gifts were exchanged.

On the preceding Wednesday the singers were presented in a program of spirituals and carols for the employes of the North American Aircraft company during their lunch hour.

In the afternoon the group will make the first of a series of appearances in concerts; this one will be in the Jewish Center in Beverly Hills.

Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, left early this month for a trip to the Pacific as war corresponded for the NEW YORK POST. His itinerary will include specifically the China-Burma-India theater, and Russia. He expects to visit all areas where Negro troops are centered. He expects to write a book dealing with the racial problems in this war. He will return sometime in early spring.

HAPPY NEW YEAR
HERE'S TO PEACE AND PROSPERITY

This writer is most sincere when he wishes you and yours a "Happy New Year" and that Peace may come this year and our boys begin to return to their families. Of course, a great many of us have fallen into the habit of greeting each other, simply because it is the polite thing to do. Many will say "Happy New Year" from the head and not the heart. We have just finished paying homage to the natal day of Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. Many of us seem to forget that He left a deligh for living. It was based upon love, justice and forgiveness.

The Bible is replete with stories expressing love, charity, faith, justice, which are concrete examples for us to follow in our daily lives. Love for our fellow man is the theme. We must practice it every day in the year and not simply on Sundays. Oftimes, when we go to church, we find persons sitting on the edge of the pew, who will not budge, who are so impolite that they force people to squeeze and squirm to get a seat. Then, too, we realize it takes quite a sum of money to run our churches. In some churches, collections are taken about five times and in others a box or basket is passed among the congregation with signs painted on, reading: "SEATS 10 Cents."

Let's turn over a new leaf this year. Let's be kind to our neighbor. Let your light shine, it is written, "By their fruits, shall ye know them."

Jodie, the Wolf

Too Hot to Handle . . . Columnists receive all sorts of letters. These letters touch on all subjects. A recent one harped upon the alleged wartime rise of lesbians. Whenever we do not understand anything we are prone to condemn. We seldom approach delicate problems from a rational standpoint. From the standpoint of G.I. Joe, there are many schools of thought. Many army psycho cases are the result of Jodie, the Wolf and Sugar Stealing Stephanie. Most of the G.I.'s love for their spouse is based upon a higher level, one which transcends the physical or animal plane. Theirs is a spiritual affinity. They expect spiritual fidelity. It is also written, "Judge ye not, lest ye be judged." And "Let him without sin, cast the first stone."

The Nude Deal . . . While on delicate subjects: Plans are being drafted to be introduced into legislation against nudist camps in California.

The Lady Eve certainly started something back in the Garden of Eden, when she disobeyed God and draped a fig leaf around Adam and herself. We have accepted the wisdom of Eve and the Fig Leaf has grown and grown, until the art of draping ourselves has become big business.

But despite Eve, and the followers of Lady Eve, down through the centuries, God still send people to this earth draped only in their birthday suits.

Screwy Social Order . . . Man does not like to change, but time marches on. The celebrated Carey McWilliams, national authority on Racial Relations, who has several books on the market based upon this subject, at a recent confab cited, "The ridiculous efforts to carry out racial segregational policies in Missouri to get around the Supreme Court ruling on "equal, but separate accommodations" have set up a law school with only seven Negro students!" Some day, the people of Dixie are going to kick out the politicians, who impose double taxation on them on the theory of "white supremacy." The people of the South pay taxes on two schools, one black, one white. Two drinking fountains, etc.

BIG TOWN DRAMA WITH GEORGE RANDOL

A man man be down—but not out. Many have wondered what has happened to George Randol, who a few years ago shouted to the world that he was God's gift to Black Hollywood. Randol is a firm believer if at first you do not succeed, try, try again and again. Randol came to Hollywood as a member of the stage and screen version of "The Green Pastures." He was bitten by the movie bug and became a producer.

He and Attorney Curtis C. Taylor formed a motion picture producing unit — floated stocks. In true Hollywood fashion, with much fanfare, George Randol imported an unknown girl here by plane. I was among those who welcomed this new discovery to Hollywood. He enjoyed the spotlight and hit the bottom with a terrific thud. He had a tin can filled with floperoo. He stole out of town with the stockholders on his neck. Most men would have been through. They would have become despondent. But not our George Randol.

With a little theatre group, similar to one here in Los Angeles headed by Noble Sissle, Laura Bowman and Otto J. Johnson, Randol and his group produced a play in Harlem. The play had Polish characters, they Harlemized the characters and made the locale Harlem. It was a hit. The show was dressed up and presented on Broadway. The play was a sensation. The name "Anna Lucasta' 'is rated as good theatre by the best critics in New York. George Randol donned grease paints and portrayed the role of Joe Lucasta, the father. George Randol is back in the chips and had a photo-spread in "Life" magazine. Which also brings to our mind that ancient bit of wisdom, "Never kick a man when he is down. He may get up and * * *"

Street Scene . . . First and Main streets . . . One of the sideshows of the Los Angeles circus . . . Stringbeaned shoe shine boy, garbed in a black striped red silk shirt, red bellboy trousers, and an oversized black derby hat, Gene Kruping on a pair of shoes with a juke box as an accompanist.

This is Earl J. Morris, Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz's Number One Boy, who boogie-woogies on an ink piano in a recital presented by City Editor John Lee under the auspices of Charlotta A. Bass.

Sugar may be scarce at your home these days. Perhaps your supply of other "sweets" is hardly worth mentioning. But the family still has a sweet tooth and you hear a constant call for dessert.

Necessity is the mother of invention. Prove your own inventive ability during war days by locating substitutes for many of your old food favorites.

Here's a dessert that should please. No sugar is needed. The rennet-custard is already sweetened and the crushed peppermint stick candy does its bit toward catering to that "sweet tooth".

And a dessert of this kind furnishes liberal quantities of milk to those tiny tots who refuse to drink plain milk, yet need this food so much.

Chocolate Sundae Rennet-Custard

2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package vanilla rennet powder
Chocolate sauce
Peppermint stick candy

Set out 4 or 5 sherbet glasses. Warm the milk until just lukewarm (110° F.), not hot. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. Remove from heat and immediately stir in the rennet powder until dissolved — not more than 1 minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into the sherbet glasses and let stand at room temperature, without moving, for about 10 minutes, or until firm. Then place in refrigerator to chill.

Prepare a chocolate sauce by melting sweet milk chocolate in a double boiler and blending with enough cream to make a thick sauce consistency (about ¼ cup cream to 3 ounces chocolate). Cool, and just before serving, pour a pool of chocolate sauce into the center of each rennet-custard. Then sprinkle crushed peppermint stick candy over the chocolate sauce, and serve immediately. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

The New Century
By George Jefferson

One of the easiest ways to arouse a white southerner's ire, is to question his treatment of the Negro. He is quick to reply, the Negro is the South's own problem and the Damyankee should let the south handle the Negro in its own way. Since they say, it is the southern white people who must live with the Negro, and it is they who know him and understand him best. Their handling of the people they claim to understand so perfectly is too well known to be repeated here, but their success can be measured by the increased fear and hatred most of them show at the steady advancing of the Negro.

A newer trend of though advances the argument that since so many Negroes have left the south and settled in other parts of the country, new conditions are created; that new the Negro problem has became a national one. This also is a good solution, as far as it goes, but neither of these approaches take into consideration the idea that the Negro is not really a problem in the strictest sense, but a question. The Negro problem was solved over seventy years ago. It is only a question now of whether this country is to accept its own solution to a great problem, and abide by it.

Eight years ago the slaves were a moral and ethical problem, and more important, an economic hindrance to the progress of the land these same elements of conflict are present today, but in a newer form.

Today, that mangled and warped social being, the Negro, should not be called a problem. It is a series of questions; individual, national, international. Shall any individual through fear of security and mis-guided racial bigotry fertilize the very conditions he hates? The Negro asks the nation, can you with one hand press me down, and with the other pluck the bright apple from the branch. There is this question. How long will the nation allow the few southern states to rule the country through fraud and political circumvent?

There is the big blazing question, giving this war a precedent of what we can accomplish when unity is only half achieved, will America continue to shackle itself the Negro, or release him, and attempt together a united hundred and thirty million people, the forward progress of this nation?

HAPPY NEW YEAR — To BERT LEWIS and GEORGE TOLSON, managers of John Thomas, Bobby Yeager, Louis Wise, Kenny Watkins and other good boys. They had a fine year during 1944 and climaxed it with Juan Zurita's (he's the world's lightweight champ) name inked for the defense of his title on February 27, 1945, against John Thomas . . . To HENRY "BIG" SMITH, trainer and manager of the 43rd St. Gym. He's still in there pitching with all he has in the development of boxers . . . To BENNY CONYERS, trainer. A little loud at times but sincere and a good conditioner . . . To CHARLES KELSON, trainer, one of the best by test . . . To HENRY ARMSTRONG. His cafe is diverting his mind from fighting, which is the best thing that could happen . . . To AILEEN LeBELL, Business Manager of the Olympic. She was pretty swell to the press during 1944 . . . To CAL EATON, Olympic Promoter. We congratulate him upon what we think was a banner year for the Grand Avenue Punch Palace . . . To BABE McCOY, Matchmaker of the Olympic. His heart is as big as he is and Brother, he's plenty big . . . To CLIFF BERNARD, Treasurer of the Olympic. He stayed on the beam during the entire year . . . To DAN TOBEY, Announcer. We are really glad he has recovered. We missed him . . . To boxers, JOHN THOMAS, BOBBY YEAGER, WATSON JONES, JIMMY BROOKS, TURKEY THOMPSON, LOUIS WISE, KENNY WATKINS, ROY MILLER (who has gone home to Kansas City for the holidays), JACK CHASE, AL HART, CECIL HUDSON (despite his suspension), LOUIS "KID" COCOA (despite his suspension), JOE LOUIS, RAY "SUGAR" ROBINSON and to all others that I may have overlooked . . . To DR. EARL GOULD, closely identified with the fight game. We battled during the year but everything is okay again . . . To MR. SHYER, fight fan from Rhodes Jewelers. A good guy to know . . . To my fellow Sport Scribes . . . ABIE ROBINSON, HALLEY HARDING (we also battled during the year but reached an understanding), F. P. WALLER, JR., newly-christened sportswriter. The best of luck . . . A HAPPY NEW YEAR to all of you, my friends in the sports world and a particularly Happy New Year to persons who rate themselves as my enemies. This is no time of the year for petty differences.

WHAT'S GONE BY . . . During the past year Sepia athletes proved themselves proficient in many fields of sports. We proudly salute Claude (Buddy) Young of Illinois who tore up the cinder paths during the track season to set new world marks and then came on like gang busters during the grid season to tie the record of the great "Red" Grange at Illini for touchdowns scored . . . Kenny Washington, for his amazing feats on the football field as a pro with the San Francisco Clippers . . . Joe Louis, who travelled the battlefronts entertaining servicemen overseas and then came back home to put on several exhibition bouts that proved that he was far from rusty . . . Ray "Sugar" Robinson, who is sparkling again as the greatest welterweight in the world. He doesn't hold the title yet simply because he hasn't met Freddie "Red" Cochrane, the champion, who took extreme pains to avoid defending his crown, frozen for the duration while "Red" is in the service. However, when peace comes he will probably be compelled to give Robinson his long-awaited chance. If he does—that's all, Brother! . . . Willie Lightsy, from our own Jefferson High in L.A. Willie stood out like a "sore thumb" during the entire football season among the preppers. After it was all over he was selected as an end on the All-City Prep Eleven, a real honor . . . There were many others who should be mentioned but space does not permit. Nevertheless the above orchids are for them also.

INDOOR SPORTS—Sorry to steal a little thunder from the theatrical pages but I'd like to give our advertisers a little break here, so hold on to your seats; Shepp's Playhouse, a stick of dynamite waiting for you and your gang to touch it off. A fine floor show emceed by Leonard Reed, delicious food and expertly mixed drinks. . . . Plantation Club, Joe Morris has T-Bone Walker backed by Lucky Millinder, his great orchestra a solid floor show, tasty food, superb mixed drinks and fast service. . . . Lincoln Ballroom, New Year's Day, continuous dancing for ten hours, three bands, a 100-foot bar. We'll see you there. . . . Alpha Bowling Social Club, New Year's Eve party all night long, cocktails, food and two floor shows. . . . Casa Blanca Club, excellent food, the Flennoy Trio, Dan Grissom ao entertain you. An after hours spot, come late, stay until early morn. . . . Pig'n the Pit, "The Home of Good Barbecue." There'll be some mighty fine specials for New Year's Day. . . . The Fawn, why kill yourself cooking. Eat your New Year's Day dinner at this spot served in distinctive style. . . . Margol Cafe, good food, beer and wine. Proprietors Arthur Jarvis and Pohnny Reeves wish all their patrons and friends a Happy and Prosperous New Year. Their slogan is, "You'll always keep fat, saucy and bold, if you stuff yourself at the old Margol." . . . Elks Ballroom, dancing sublime, strictly on time during the holidays. . . . Dink Johnson's Restaurant, if you like barbecue then you're due at Dink's, buddy, for an exciting experience in eating real barbecue. . . . Turf Liquor Store, get your holiday liquors here. All kinds, reasonable prices.

Clayton Worlds Defeats Al Hart

By Eddie Burbridge

Scoring a decided upset as the curtain rang down on Olympic boxing for the year, Clayton Worlds, 197½, won a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Hart, 220, Tuesday night before a crowd of 6000 fans.

The bout was exciting due to the fact that Worlds wasn't supposed to have a Chinaman's chance to defeat the favored Hart. However, the tall heavy used a rapier-like left effectively to stop Hart's rushes and occasionally shook up his opponent with stiff right crosses to the head. Every time that Hart tried to put over his famed left hook Worlds cleverly slid under the punch and tied Al up in knots.

In the 6-round semi-final, Abel Lucero, 135, beat Torpedo Reed, 136, who gave a very convincing demonstration on "how not to fight."

In other bouts Will Jones, 144, decisioned Wilbur Scott, 139; Alonzo Williams, 154½, decisioned Al Williams, 157; Al Brooks, 173, decisioned Leonard Nix, 174; Augie Rodriguez, 117, decisioned Mickey Romo, 119.

Texas Steers And A.T. Aggies In Flower Bowl Game

The Texas Steers, Co-Champion of the Southwestern conference and a national contender for the crown in Sepia football will tangle with the strong A and T Aggies of Greensboro, N. C., from the CIAA conference in Jacksonville, Florida on January 1st., 1945 for national honors.

Wiley Set For New Year's Tilt

MARSHALL, Texas—The Wiley Wildcats are favored to turn back the prairie View Panthers when the ancient rivals square off in the New Year's Classic in Houston on January 1. The Wiley entry has just completed one of its best seasons since they were crowned mythical national champions in 1932.

WADE BEATEN

SAN FRANCISCO—Charley Catos, 159, Oakland, gained a hard-fought 10-round decision over Leroy Wade, 161, San Francisco, last Friday night after a furious slugging match.

BOBBY YEAGER, above, classy lightweight protegé of Bert Lewis and George Tolson, will attempt to erase a previous knockout defeat at the hands of Nicholas Moran when he again meets that fighter over the 10-round route at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night.

Will Try To Avenge Kayo

Once more the pride of the eastside, Bobby Yeager, will go to the post against Nicholas Moran, the Mexican with the Irish name, probably remembering his first tragic meeting with the boy from over the border. In this scrap Moran knocked Bobby out in the first heat of a schedule 10-round main event.

Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium Bobby will attempt to erase the blot against his record placed there by Moran when the two meet again in the ten-round main event before a holiday crowd of fight fans.

Experts are saying that Bobby was a little off his feed and that Nick caught him cold. They are also confident that Nick cannot turn the trick again. As for Bobby he has trained hard and is ready for the effort of his life. He feels that in order to start the New Year off right he must strike the defeat by Moran off the slate and the strenuous training he has been under-going seems to bear out the fact that he will be in great condition Friday night. His managers, Bert Lewis and George Tolson, are confident that Yeager will make the grade Friday night and have stated that if Bobby gets over Moran he is in line for some big fights in 1945.

The Hollywood Rangers pro football team defeated the San Diego Bombers, 42-7, at Gilmore Stadium last Sunday.

BOXING BRIEFS

THE STATE ATHLETIC COMMISSION in a meeting held at Sacramento last weekend announced the following suspensions of boxers: J. D. Turner, San Diego, 30 days, for unbecoming conduct; Cocoa Kid, New Haven, Conn., six months, unsatisfactory performance; Cecil Hudson, Los Angeles, six months, unsatisfactory performance.

NORMAN SAUNDERS, trainer of Henry Armstrong, sends a Happy New Year to all of his friends here in Los Angeles. Norman is in Washington, D. C. He is managing Yancey Henry, L. A. heavyweight, who is scoring quite a hit in the east. In his last bout Henry put up a great battle against Lee Q. Murray.

PLEASED WITH TEST RUN AT SEA

The skipper of the mighty French battleship Richelieu, (name not supplied) chats with the British and American Liaison officers aboard his reconditioned vessel during a recent test run at sea. The ship, damaged in battle at Dakar, now is back in place at the head of the Free French Fleet fighting with the Allies. She was repaired at a U. S. port and her fire power is bigger than before.

Extension of old-age and survivors' insurance coverage to farm workers and domestics, categories in which hundreds of thousands of Negro workers are employed, was urged by Paul V. McNutt, Federal Security Administor, as the Social Security Board began recently to pay off on its millionth monthly insurance benefit in force.

Tennessee State Favored To Beat Tuskegee Tigers

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Tuskegee Institute, despite All-American Tabor, the best T-quarterback in the nation, will be the underdog when Coach Cleve L. Abbott,s Golden Tigers challenge Coach Henry Arthur Kean's 1944 Midwest Conference champions, the Tennessee State Bulldogs of Nashville, Tenn.

Tuskegee landed three men on the 1944 All-American Pick of the Pittsburg Courier, with Tennessee matching that number. However, Tabor was the only among the sextet to acquire a position on the first team. Second team berths went to Thomas Hornburger, fullback and Charles Perry, end, of Tuskegee and Bill Bass, halfback and Israel Jones, guard, of Tennessee. Shannon Little, Tennessee tackle, appeared on the third team.

What gives Tennessee the edge is its granite line which has yield but two touchdowns all the past season. The Bulldogs have superior reserves. The Kean men can match the Abbott men in offensive power.

Birmingham has a deep interest in the game this year because two local boys, Robert Drummona, tackle and Wiley Leonard, end, are in the Bulldog starting lineup. Drummond and Leonard were star football players on the Fairfield Industrial High School team here.

Holman Williams And Carter Draw

NEW ORLEANS — Holman Williams, 162, Detroit, and Joe Carter, 157½, Rome, N. Y., battled to a 10-round draw in the main event here at the Coliseum Arena last Friday night before a large crowd of spectators.

SGT. JOE REFEREES

NEW YORK . . . (C) . . . Sgt. Joe Louis shared the referee spotlight with Sgt. Joe DiMaggio and Lt. Comdr. Benny Leonard when he supervised the weekly boxing card in Bodwitch Hall, U.S.S. Maritime Station, Sheepshead Bay. Sixteen of the station's best conditioned trainees were evenly paired ff in eight contests.

Sgt. Al Hoosman, Great Local Fighter, on Overseas Leave

Sgt. Al Hoosman, 1247½ N. Virgil, 1939 winner of the Examiner's Golden Gloves Championship in the heavyweight division, is in Los Angeles after a 34 months hitch in the Southwest Pacific. He is back for 21 days via the rotation system. However on January 5, 1945, Sgt. Hoosman will be on his way again.

This fine heavyweight prospect had three professional fights before entering the Army in November of 1940. In these fights he won all by kayoes. After entering the Army he had two more fights, winning one by a knockout and one by decision. Sgt. Hoosman is managed by Clarence Moore, well-known Eastside business man.

While overseas in the Southwest Pacific Sgt. Hoosman won the Heavyweight boxing championship of that area in an Army Tourney refereed by Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight champion.

His greatest accomplishment was knocking out Herb Narvo, the Australian heavyweight champion, twice, once in the ninth and again in the seventh heat. He immediately became a claimant of the Australian heavyweight crown due to this feat.

All in all Sgt. Hoosman had seven bouts in Australia, winning six by knockouts and one by decision. He decisioned the Alabama Kid, American Negro, well-known and highly-ranked by the N.B.A. among the middleweights here in the U. S.

The popular Sergeant bearing this remarkable record was a visitor to the California Eagle office Tuesday.

ON THE TURF

By Geo. A. Ramsey

AUGA CALIENTE, Mexico — Well, folks, by now the entire world knows that racing goes on a vacation, being suspended all over the U. S. for how long? Well, only the boss knows, as Col. Matt Winn called the President of the United States. A billion dollar industry will be idle for some time to come unless things change for the best on all war fronts. Although it will work great hardships on all connected with the sport of kings from the swipe to the leading jockeys and trainers, even the great breeding establishments will find no market for their horses until things change, but all were willing to abide by the orders of the boss. We do hope that the real object will have its bearings and will speed up victory if this was holding it back. California would have had the biggest meeting in its history with many of the charity organizations as well as war reliefs receiving great benefits. At least over three million dollars worth of bonds would have been sold at the track in the fifty-five days in which Santa Anita was to run. The only question is, what will become of the horses and all the employes that are unable to do anything else?. With the fight still going on down Mexico way as to who will have the Mexican oval, James N. Crofton, one of the builders of the race course, announced that he is in possession and will stage racing December 31st and on New Year's Day. If racing is resumed on these two days then the lovers of the sport of kings can look for future announcements in this paper for racing dates, also our big ad which will follow. As this is written we have just been informed that races will be conducted on December 31st and New eYar's Day, ten or more races each day. So there you have it, folks, news from the turf. Until next week, permit me to wish you all a Very Happy New Year. Buy more bonds. We have a war to win. So-long.—George.

Fitzie Fitzpatrick is booked to fight a good Mexican heavyweight in the 10-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium next Tuesday night.

It is rumored that Sgt. Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, will be honorably discharged from the Army soon after New Year's.

Olivera Nods Luis Castillo

Knocked down with a short left hook in the first heat for no count, Tony Olivera, 121, the 9-10 favorite, came up from the floor to gain a unanimous 10-round decision over Luis Castillo, 118½, in the main event at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night.

In the eight-round semi-wind-up, Rene DeLeon, 147, nodded Ike Blair, 147, after a fast battle.

The four-round prelims found Bob Ferris, 149, decisioning Russ Long, 158, Al Williams, 165, gaining a handy victory over Frenchy Valdez, 161, and Benny Cousins, 116, nodding Augie Rodrigues, 118, in the curtain raiser.

Sports Tabloid To Make Debut

A new Negro publication will soon make its debut, it was announced recently. It is The Negro Sporting News, a semi-monthly tabloid with offices at 1934 Eleventh Street, N. W. Washington, D. C. Andrew Jackson is the managing editor of the first publication of its kind, specializing exclusively in news about the Negro in sports. Short factual stories of as few as 100 words, and pictures, are wanted.

"Sugar" Robinson In TKO Victory

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles will receive bids for furnishing all labor and material for the following work:

Kind of Work and Name of School—Repairing, cleaning, and flameproofing of combustible material in the auditorium at John Adams Junior High School, and repairing, cleaning, and flameproofing of combustible material in the assembly hall at Thomas Jefferson High School.

Date of Bid Opening—January 4, 1945.

Each bid shall be in accordance with drawings, specifications and other contract documents now on file in the Architectural Section of the Business Division of said Board, 1425 So. San Pedro Street, Los Angeles, California. Prospective bidders may secure copies of said drawings and specifications at the office of said Architectural Section, upon the posting of a guarantee deposit, or deposits, of Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars for each set, which deposits will be refunded upon the return of such copies in good condition within five days after the bids are opened.

Pursuant to the Labor Code of the State of California, the Board of Education has ascertained the general prevailing rate of per diem wages for each craft or type of workman needed to execute the contracts which will be awarded the successful bidders; and these prevailing rates are contained in said specifications adopted by the Board, and are as follows:

CLASSIFICATION

Foremen — All foremen not herein separately classified, shall be paid not less than $1.00 per day more than the journeyman rate for the craft involved.

Apprentices — May be employed in conformity with section 1777.5 of the California Labor Code.

CLASSIFICATION	Hourly Wage Rate
Carpenters—
Carpenter	$1.35
Laborers—
General or Construction, including all laborers not herein separately classified, on all types of construction..	.875
Painters—
Painter	1.25

The rates of per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be the hereinbefore set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work; it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day, the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to eight (8) hours.

The overtime rule establishing the rates of wages for overtime and holiday work shall be in accordance with the following:

Where a single shift is worked, eight hours of continuous employment, except for lunch periods, shall constitute a day's work beginning on Monday and through Friday of each week. Where work is required in excess of eight hours in any one day or during the interval from 5:00 P. M. Friday and 7:00 A. M. Monday, or on holidays, such work shall be paid for at 1½ times the basic rate of wages.

The rates of wages including overtime and holiday rates above specified are subject to the effect, if applicable thereto, of executive orders of the President of the United States, and to any modification thereof and to any and all lawful orders of the President or any other authorized Federal officer or agency, in so far as the same may be applicable to this contract. In case of any inconsistency, the rates fixed by any such applicable Federal Order, whether higher or lower, shall govern.

Holidays as herein referred to shall be deemed to be New Year's Day, Decoration Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom a contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him, to pay not less than said general prevailing wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids, a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall be made out on forms to be obtained at said Architectural Section of the Board of Education; must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond (issued by a surety company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles; shall be sealed and filed with the Purchasing Agent of the Board of Education, Room 200, 1425 South San Pedro Street, on or before 2:00 P. M. on the dates shown above and will be opened and read aloud in public at, or about, said time and in the public hall, second floor, of the above address.

The above-mentioned check or bidder's bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract if awarded the work, or any part thereof, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Education.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish labor and material bonds in an amount equal to 75% of the contract price, and faithful performance bonds in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a surety company or companies satisfactory to the Board of Education.

The oBard reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and/or waive any informality on a bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening therof.

By order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles.

Address all communications to Prof. Herman, the Astrologer, care of The California EAGLE.

As we launch out into this glorious New Year what are our plans? This coming year more than ever, we must learn to understand each oother and live together in perfect harmony. There is entirely too much friction between the people who are NOT on the battle lines, but here on the home front.

It should be upper-most in everyone's mind to try to make this a happy and peaceful world in which to live. Soon we hope, our boys and girls will be coming home and it should to our earnest prayer at this season to not only win the war but WIN THE PEACE AS WELL.

Dear Prof. Herman: Your helpful suggestions were the cause of me having a very nice Christmas and may I wish you the happiest and most successful New Year you have ever had. Sincerely yours, T. N.

T. P. Does he still go with this lady?

Ans. It appears to me that your friend was merely an acquaintance of this person. And your suspicions were unfounded. You must try to overcome this habit of yours if you wish to find hapiness with anyone.

I.L.B. What does this friend have in mind?

Ans. A careful analysis of your question indicates the fact that your friend intends to ask you to marry him in the very near future. I vision happinness and success coming into your life in the very near future.

WORRIED. What shall I do?

Ans. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate many things and I feel that you are worrying unnecessarily and should stop doing this at once. Many pleasant moments are a head of you and I suggest you look forward to them.

W. D. Dear Sir: I am a constant reader of your column and find it very interesting and helpful. May ask you this question, does my wife love me?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your wife as loving you dearly. But she is not the type to display her love outher heart and would do anything in the world for you.

J. B. I met a young man this summer whom I liked very much. He promised to write me but never did, did he mean what he said?

Ans. It seems that this young man has been called into the service and failed to receive your letter. Perhaps he will write you or try to contact you thru friends in the very near future.

M. H. What is this boy's plans after he returns from war?

Ans. If there are no changes in his plans, he intends to marry you when he returns. But he can't make any definite plans now as you understand. But he is very fond of you.

J.M.L.B. Did I lose my money or was it stolen?

Ans. Concentrating upon your question I find that you lost your money thru carelessness. I suggest that you refrain from carrying large sums of money on your and this will not happen again.

Prominent Woman Visits Bakersfield

BAKERSFIELD — Mrs. M. A. Fuller, President of the Womens' Auxiliary of the National Baptist Convention of America, was guest of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church on Tuesday, December 5.

Upon arriving in the city, Mrs. Fuller was escorted from the Southern Pacific Railway Station by a large delegation of members of the church, friends, and two traffic officers. Following the jant around the city, a delicious dinner, prepared by the Senior Missionary Society, awaited the group.

The evening was turned over to Mrs. Fuller, who spoke to a large and appreciative audience. Preceding Mrs. Fuller's address, she was welcomed to the city by the following representatives of the auxiliaries of the church:

Mrs. Georgia Jackson, President of the Senior Mission, Miss Mary Moore, President of the Y.W.C.A., Mrs. Lillie Esters, President of the Junior Mission, and Mrs. Bogans, Secretary of the Star Light Band. A well planned program was also presented.

On Wednesday, December 6, a beautiful luncheon was given by Junior Mission of the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, at the spacious home of Mrs. Lillie Esters on California Avenue.

Those attending besides the members were: Reverend and Mrs. R. A. Greene, Mrs. Ella Upshaw, Mrs. A. M. Lyons, Mrs. T. B. Yarbo, Mrs. E. N. Austin, and Mrs. Georgia Jackson.

And will grow with like or similar management. Living quarters go with the business. Stock to be invoiced at sale. Full price is $6500. It will pay you to investigate this.

See this—a five (5) room house with a two (2) room at the rear, located on East 40th Place among good neighbors near High School. Double garage, beautiful rear yard, some fruit trees. Room for chickens. IMMEDIATE POSSESSION. Full price is $5250. With $1750 down, balance $50 per month. Handy for cars, churches, schools, and a fine playground. See it and you will buy it. Ready to move in. Can set in another on this lot. Large one.

Nice four (4) bedroom house on 32nd St., near Morgan avenue. Immediate possession. Full price is $5000 with just $2000 down; balance at $50 per month. Furniture goes with deal, but at an invoiced price, but reasonable. Income at $160 per month. This is a dandy buy, and a good chance to make some money.

Five (5) room modern house with three (3) garages, side driveway. All in nice shape on the West-side. Price is $5500. With $2500 down.

Twelve (12) room house with eight (8) bedrooms, several garages. Located west of Avalon Blvd. Price $8000, with $3000 down, best terms.

Fine corner, with three (3) stores, stucco, and facing the boulevard. With duplex with four (4) rooms each facing side street. Contains garages. Pays 15% on the investment. Price is $8000, with $3000, balance easy. See this at once.

THE HOPA MEETS FRIDAY

A FAIR QUESTION

HOW MUCH FURNITURE WILL $6.50 BUY?

Well, see here, just suppose you should put $6.50 in a fire insurance policy, and that too, this policy is good for $1,000 in real money; if you should have a fire and also it would run in full force for three long years. If you have a fire in that time, you would collect $1,000. And too, if you should pay $13.00 to me, you then could collect $2,000—in good hard cash—money to replace the furniture, draperies, floor coverings and other household good—all brand new and still be out of debt. This is wisely placing your war money. Buy this insurance and buy War Bonds.

The Philosophic and Practical Basis of the Religion of the Aquarian Age of the World and of the Church Universal

What is the Aquarian Age? The human race is today standing upon the cusp of the Piscean-Aquarian Age. Aquarius is an anr sign and the New Age is already noted for remarkable inventions for the use of air, electricity, magnetism, etc. When the Aquarian Pres. Lincoln freed the slaves he sympolized in action the great Aquarian ideals of freedom and equality; it is the Aquarian Pres. Roosevelt, who has led us through this generation's crises of war, with its vision of a better, freer world for all men.

The Aquarian Age is preeminently a spiritual age, it represents the triumph of love over prejudice, hatred, superstition and all the limitations which retard men; so with much propriety this book is called "The Aquarian (or Spiritual) Gospel of Jesus. the Christ."

"ONE OF THE EPOCH MAKING BOOKS OF THE CENTURY"

Why was it called the Aquarian Gospel? Because it was not, and could not have been written until the opening of the Aquarian Age of the world, the time referred to by Jesus when he said to his disciples: "I have many things to say unto you, but you cannot bear them now. Howbeit when she, the Spirit of Truth, is come she will guide you into all truth." John 16:12, 13.

SENIOR NEGRO AIR OFFICER RETURNS TO COMBAT

Released by U. S. War Department, Bureau of Public Relations

Colonel Benjamin O. Davis, Jr., commanding officer of the all-Negro 332nd Fighter Group of the 15th Air Force in Italy, is pictured here with Mrs. Davis, shortly before he left to rejoin his command. The 332nd has flown more than 100 missions and has established itself as an efficient, hard-hitting outfit. Credited with the destruction of 75 Nazi planes in the air, the Group's victories include twice that number shot to pieces on the ground. (Army Air Forces Photo from BPR.)
